Wesleyan Unable to Resist the "Wild Cats"

On last Saturday about two hundred and twenty-five State supporters accompanied the teams to Winchester in hopes of seeing a game of foot ball. With all due credit to Wesleyan, they furnished very little entertainment as our men simply "walked all over them." The game last Saturday demonstrated that Kentucky has, with the exception of possibly Central no worthy opponent in the State, who can furnish a good game of foot ball. The men at Wesleyan must be given credit for being able to accomplish what they do, as they are given very little encouragement, and being handicapped by not having a place to practice, do remarkably well. The work of the officials was of the highest type, and no decision was questioned by either team. The game was too one-sided to warrant the discussion of the game in detail.

First Quarter.

Giltner kicked off to Wesleyan on their 5-yard line. After several attempts at line bucks Wesleyan was forced to punt, to Giltner. From here Kentucky took the ball and by end runs and line bucks took the ball to Wesleyan's 15-yard line, where Bryan Shanklin went through left tackle for the first touch down, failing in the kick at goal, score Kentucky 5, Wesleyan, 0. After a series of line bucks the "Blue and White" carried the ball down the field for the second touch down made by Threlkeld. Score: Kentucky, 10—Wesleyan, 0. After exchange of punts, time was called with ball in State's possession on the 30-yard line.

Second Quarter.

Entire second team goes in for State. Line bucks by Hart scored the third touch down. Score, K., 15; W., 0. After some good work by the second team Hart was sent over for the fourth touch down. Sullivan failed at goal. Score, K., 20; W., 0. Several forward passes failed and Wesleyan succeeded in getting the ball on Kentucky's 10-yard line, when time was called.

Third Quarter.

Kentucky kicks off to Wesleyan on the 5-yard line. With the aid of Hart and Barnett the ball was worked into Wesleyan territory, and Kimbro was sent over for the fifth touchdown. Barnett kicked goal. Score: Kentucky, 26; Wesleyan, 0. The ball was again worked into Wesleyan's territory and after several attempts Dabney succeeded in scoring a drop kick from the 25-yard line. Score—K., 29; W., 0. On the punt out State exchanged and one of Wesleyan's players recovered a blocked punt scoring a safety. Score: Kentucky, 31; Wesleyan, 0. After several end runs by Barnett, time was called with ball in Kentucky's possession on their 50-yard line.

Fourth Quarter.

The second team was taken out and the varsity went in for State. Play began by Threlkeld making a forward pass to Bryan Shanklin for a gain of 20 yards. Shanklin goes around left end for sixth touchdown. Webb kicked goal. Score: K., 37; W., 0. Play began to drag and after several line plunges Threlkeld was sent across for the last touch down, Shanklin failed to kick goal. Score: Kentucky, 42; Wesleyan, 0.

Summary.

Kentucky so far out-classed Wesleyan that no star plays were needed, credit must be given Giltner and Shanklin, while Watkins, still seems to hesitate in executing his end runs. Lane did the best playing for Wesleyan and with a good running mate, should prove dangerous.

GEORGETOWN SATURDAY.

On Saturday, next, Kentucky plays her first game for State Championship against Georgetown College. Coach Hinton has always turned out a strong team and has always given our team a hard tussle. Last year the score at the end of the first half was against us and only by superior and supreme efforts did we grab the long end of the score. Although Georgetown has lost some of last year's material, the new men are coming up to all expectations and present a formidable combination. Our men are spurred on to greater efforts, if such a thing is possible, by the game Central put up Monday and a good hard game can be looked for.

Georgetown will be accompanied by the majority of her students, in addition to the fair ones of Rucker Hall, and this alone ought to bring out some of those whose interest in foot ball, et cetra, is lagging.

"DOPE."

How We Stand.

About seventy-five "State" people journeyed to Louisville, Monday, to see Central University play Sewanee and from reports, it was a game worth going to see.

Now let's look at a little dope. We have beaten North Carolina, Central has beaten Sewanee, and if we beat Central, we have a clear title to "Southern Champions." If Sewanee beats Vanderbilt, all the better. From the style of game put up by Central, Monday, the Thanksgiving game will outdo anything yet seen around these parts. The men are working hard, the injured members are rapidly convalescing, and all State supporters can be assured of getting everything the men have, on the gridiron.

CENTRAL-SEWANEE GAME.

Kentuckians Win.

About forty fellows, including Prof. Wilson, journeyed to Louisville, Monday, to see Central lick Sewanee and they saw what they went after.

Last year's Southern Champions were completely outclassed by the husky bunch of Kentuckians representing the Danville school. The Sewanee team seemed badly coached and lacked the vim, spirit, ginger and ability to come back, that characterizes a Kentucky team, and as a result the score was 19 to 0 in favor of Coach Banks' men.

Big Faulkenberry, at L. T., for Sewanee, was the star of the Sewanee bunch. He was practically the whole show, tackling as many men as the rest of the team combined, backing up the line at all times, blocking punts and showing by his all around playing, splendid physique and untiring activity that he justly deserves to be all Southern tackle. Brown, the little 124 quarter of the Sewanee team, made several nice gains, but as he was no interference, these gains were necessarily few, owing to Brown's lightness. In punning only did Sewanee excel, completely outclassing Central at this. Sewanee's punts averaged over fifty yards.

For Central, Duffy, Louis Seelbach, Wings, center, and Clark, quarter, starred. Duffy's returning of punts, going down on punts and end runs were worthy of notice. Louis Seelbach played his usual star game. He received a forward pass and crossed the line for a touch down, carrying 2 Sewanee men on his back for ten yards without being downed, blocked a punt that resulted in a touchdown, gained through Sewanee's line at will, backed up Central's line in a manner that made it practically impregnable and played an all around star game.

Clark, at quarter for C. U., played a great game and ran the team well. His returning of punts and end running were 'n a class with Duffy, if not better. He made forty yards on an end run for a touchdown through the entire Sewanee team. He is a great little player.

Wings, at center, for Central, played a great game, breaking through Sewanee's line almost at will, blocking punts, tackling behind the line and doing damage in general.

Central outweighed Sewanee and were playing in a climate to which they were accustomed, but without a shadow of doubt, they outclassed Sewanee in every department of the game except punting.

MECHANICAL NOTES.

The Seniors are looking forward with pleasure to a trip to High Bridge. The new bridge is rapidly nearing completion and Prof. Anderson has promised them a trip down there within the next week or ten days. These trips are of great practical value to the student and form a unique feature of this course. The fourth, Wednesday, is being devoted to a review of the technical magazines that come to the department. Each Senior is given an article in some journal and discusses this article before the class.

Wednesday is now known as magazine day and is becoming quite popular with the fellows. It is another unique feature of the course. Besides being instructive at the present time, they are led to cultivate a habit of studying the engineering magazines, which is invaluable to successful engineers. The Mechanical Engineers' Club of Kentucky State University, affiliated with the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, has been organized. It is composed of the members of the Senior class and its object is to stimulate interest in the activities and proceedings of the engineering world. The following officers were elected:

G. C. Mills, Chairman.
V. L. Downing, Vice-President.
Lee Moore, Secretary.
G. B. Shanklin, Secretary.
Governing Committee.
R. S. Webb.
W. W. Stevenson.
W. A. Lurty.

Much interest is being shown in the excursions of Prof. Miller's Geology class. Last Saturday, the trip was to High Bridge and everyone had a pleasant as well as a beautiful time.

THE UNION LITERARY SOCIETY.

The meeting of the society on last Saturday night was characterized by more than usual interest as well as by diversity of literary treats.

The society was addressed by Lieut. Kelly, his subject being, "The Attitude That the Citizens of the Country Should Assume Towards the Militia." He dealt with all phases of his subject in a masterly and learned way. His address was highly entertaining and instructive and enjoyed by a large number of the members.

Mr. Bowden gave an excellent address which displayed a marked ability in the historic art. He was followed by M. Weaver, who in "Echoes from the Cliffs," paid an earnest and eloquent tribute to the people of the Kentucky mountains.

The society has decided to have its usual declamatory contest early in the season and with the assurance of a number of eager aspirants entering, who speak "beautifully and well," the contest will certainly give Old Union a good "kick off" for the literary game of the year.

Besides having back with us, this year, nearly all the old "stand-bys," the society is developing a number of the best new men that have ever entered the University. It is entirely probable that the success of the society this year, will not only be phenomenal, but will exceed the most sanguine hopes of its ardent supporters.

CAMPUS CLUB ORGANIZES.

Elect Officers.

The Campus Club met around the campus last Wednesday and organized for the coming year. Mr. J. L. Crosthwaite, last year's president, presided and after a short address, called for the election of officers.

The election was as follows: R. B. Pogue, President; F. Baker, Vice-President; H. Claggett, Treasurer; Miss Netheron, Secretary.

Mr. Pogue took the chair and in a neat, appropriate speech thanked the attending members for the unexpected (?) honor. The Club then voted Mr. E. (Squirrel) McCoy, and F. L. Marx, honorary members, their term of membership having expired.

Last year's By-laws and Constitution were voted on and accepted for the coming year.

The Club is a purely Democratic one, not in a political sense, and anyone wishing to join see any of the officers as to the requirements.

The Club after talking over the prospects of the coming year adjourned until next meeting.

FIRE IN CHEMISTRY BUILDING.

On last Saturday night fire broke out in the Chemistry building. Had it not been for "Cap," the nightwatchman, and Mr. Humble, who rooms in the building, the fire would have done great damage. The origin of the fire was due to the breaking of a bottle containing phosphorus. The fire did no damage, only the loss of phosphorus. The financial loss will not exceed fifteen dollars. The damage done was by the firemen, who were afraid to enter the building on account of the fume that was escaping.

Dr. Maxin arrived shortly after the fire department, rushing into the building, he threw out the phosphorus and in that way saved what would have been damaged had the firemen attempted to check the fire by water. Had the fire gotten a start and reached some other chemicals in the store-room the building would have been ruined.

INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATING ASSOCIATION.

At a meeting of the committee-men from the four colleges forming the Inter-Collegiate Debating Association, the following officers were elected:

Hunshell, from Georgetown, President of the Association.

Quisenberry, from Central, Vice-President.

Hubbard, from Georgetown, Secretary-Treasurer.

State and Central will debate this year, Central to submit the question and judges and the debate to be held in State University Chapel. Transylvania and Georgetown will debate at Georgetown. It was not decided which team should submit the question and judges.

State defeated Georgetown last April by a unanimous vote of five judges. C. U. defeated Georgetown by a majority of votes. The winning teams will fight this year for the Championship of the State.

This Association was formed in 1905 by the four colleges named above. In the five years State has been defeated but once, which was in 1909 by Transylvania. State's team, last year was composed of O. E. Baird, H. A. Babb and W. H. Townsend. The team is yet to be selected to meet Central University.

The Debating Association is controlled by an executive committee, consisting of two representatives from each institution. W. H. Townsend and O. E. Baird are the representatives from State University.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

The engineers of the freshman class should begin to look forward to the Tau Beta Pi Society. That is the ideal of all your work here, if you really contemplate success. A diploma is not to be made your goal in the University. Most of them get diplomas, but a very few get membership to the honor society.

Consider the time and purpose of the course you take. We must get ready to take up the burden of science and statesmanship. This period of four years is merely a preliminary to the fight in life. You have been accused of having no life, of being dead and inactive. Wake up and shake off that sleepy feeling and take up the responsibility of being a class. Whatever may be your struggles always remember that the professor or the institution cannot teach you but that your fate in life depends upon the individual you are.

GLEE CLUB PRACTICE.

Practice for the Glee Club will be held Monday and Thursday evenings, at 7 o'clock in Professor Wheeler's studio.

The Mandolin Club will have their meeting in the same place at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

THE BROOKS CIVIL ENGINEERING SOCIETY.

The Brooks Civil Engineers have recently reorganized. The meeting was called to order by Prof. Rowe, who delivered a very instructive lecture upon the Commission Form of Government.

After the address by Prof. Rowe, the following officers were elected:

- O. H. Taylor, President.
- T. E. Earle, Vice-President.
- George Shauckland, Secretary.
- F. R. Naylor, Treasurer.

Following the election of officers Prof. Terrell told of the Transit and the work it is intended to accomplish. Prof. Terrell's address was listened to with much interest and enthusiasm. Upon the conclusion of his remarks, it was unanimously voted to continue the publication of the Transit, and the following officers were elected to the Staff:

- W. A. Harn, Editor-in-Chief.
- G. B. Merchant, Business Manager.
- W. S. Penny, Senior Representative.
- A. L. Atwill, Junior Representative.
- E. A. Humphreys, Sophomore Representative.
- E. B. Walker, Freshman Representative.

The Epworth League of the Park Avenue Methodist Church will give a book social Friday Evening, October 21st, at the home of Miss Ruth Rush, on East Maxwell street. All students of the University are cordially invited.

The Philosophian Literary Society will hold its meetings this year on Friday, at Chapel hour. We expect Dean Hamilton to talk to us this week and would be glad to welcome all the new girls.

EDITORIAL.

All French students will be glad to note that Prof. Zembrod is to conduct a class in French conversation. It will meet, without books, to gain practical experience in speaking the language. No credit will be given for the work but this only tends to make it the more interesting and more profitable, for those who then enter the class will be attracted to it by real, live interest in the work itself. This is an excellent opportunity to add to your knowledge of the French language and to acquire a more ready use of it.

The usual restraint of the classroom will be given up and the students will meet in somewhat of a social way. They will listen to some of Prof. Zembrod's excellent anecdotes and will take up among themselves topics of ordinary discussion. In this way the various difficulties of speech will be brought out and overcome by continual drill and practice on the part of the students.

Now all the French students join the class and co-operate with Prof. Zembrod to make it a permanent one in the Department of Modern Languages. We need the work and now we have a chance to show that we appreciate the effort to help us. The students in general, fail to regard the work of the Faculty for them as they should. They look upon it as something required of them for graduation and thus miss the purpose of it all. This should not be. Let us all wake up and give to our work the importance that is due it. Let us make our classes not mere objects of drill and mechanical drudgery, but let us put into our studies the best that is in us and remember that after our college days we will have to study in all earnestness and will then be thankful for the training we may have gotten here. Whatever we are studying now is only a means to an end. It is to teach us how to lead out for ourselves and to forget primarily the solutions of the little things for the greater and real problems that we must encounter.

TRIBUTE TO MY COUNTY.

Crittenden, dear old Crittenden,
My heart goes out to thee,
Thy wealthful hills, and rustic rills,
And maidens fair to see:
Place of my birth, dearest spot on earth,
Crittenden, dear old Crittenden.

Marion, dear old Marion,
Capital city within thy realm,
Thy shady retreats, and cottaged streets,
And virtue at thy helm:
Town most sublime, for thee I sadly pine,
Marion, dear old Marion.

Kentucky, dear old Kentucky,
I've loved thee from a child,
Thy "Purchase" part, and "Blue Grass" heart,
And fertile "Pennyrile":
But in thy west, there, I love best,
Crittenden, dear old Crittenden.
—H. A. B. '11.

NEW ORGANIZATION.

Who said "There is no place like home?" Well, there certainly is not; and although everyone loves all other wearers of the "Blue and White," still it does one good to corner some one from home and gossip in the same old way. Perhaps this accounts for the organization of several local clubs in our midst. The Louisville Club, organized last year, is having pronounced success; the Davies County Club has a good enrollment and this week the students of Jackson Purchase elected officers as follows: Floyd Nailer, Pres.; Ruth McChesney, Vice-Pres.; Annabel Acker, Sec.; Guy Jouett, Treas. May this love for our various Kentucky homes, thus displayed, only strengthen our love for our Alma Mater.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES.

All students of the University interested in the advancement of Agriculture,—listen!

The Kentucky Corn Growers' Association will hold a corn show at the College of Agriculture, January 3-6, 1910. Each exhibit will consist of ten ears, and the five best samples in the various classes will be eligible for exhibit at the National Corn Show. No corn will be admitted to this great show unless it has been exhibited at the State show.

Kentucky is one of the ten great corn growing states of the Union. It has the most favorable soil and climatic conditions, and yet ranks only fifth in production. The average yield of this state is about 29.6 bushels per acre when it should be 60 bushels per acre. Last year Kentucky did not have enough corn at the National show to take all the premiums offered for this state.

Every exhibitor is required to take membership in the Kentucky State Corn Growers' Association and pay a membership fee of fifty cents. Let every farmer's son urge his father and brothers to become members, and make an exhibit. Any boy under eighteen years of age may exhibit free of charge.

If you are interested, send your father's name and address to Prof. George Roberts, Secretary, College of Agriculture, Lexington, Ky.

In the last few years Kentucky has become famous for another breed of live stock—Jersey cattle. Within a radius of a few miles of Shelbyville are more fine Jerseys than any other locality in America. Shelby county has been justly called the Jersey Island of America.

On October 15th, the judging team, composed of Oosthizen, Reutt, and Worthington, accompanied by Dr. Scovell and Prof. Hooper, visited this renowned region and inspected the imported Jersey herds of Mr. Middleton, Dr. Rodman, Mrs. Henning, and W. R. Spann. The team left for Chicago Tuesday night accompanied by Prof. J. J. Hooper. The first two days before the show were spent looking over two fine herds of Germany and Ayrshire cattle, at Elkhorn, Ill. and Edison Park, Ill.

Dr. Scovell, a dairy cattle judge of national reputation, complimented the work of the team very much in judging the herds at Shelbyville, and says that they have a most promising outlook for winning one of the trophies and one of the scholarships offered by the National Dairy Show.

This is the first team of its kind that has ever left the University. The boys have worked hard; and Dr. Scovell, and Prof. Hooper have left no part of the training undone. Let's call them now a winning team and cheer them on as we do our athletic teams; and encourage other teams of this kind so that the name, Kentucky State University, will be carried North in the various competitions in Agriculture as well as in athletics.

But, nevertheless, a multitude assembled and they filled the spacious halls and the halls resounded with the sounds of merry laughter, and on that evening a most enjoyable program was rendered by the following talented young ladies and the refrains will remain forever in the hearts of sundry youths who left their cards (?) that night.

GLEE CLUB MEMBERS.

On last Thursday evening Professor Wheeler selected the members who are to compose this year's club.

First Term—Ralf Skiff, '12, Civil; E. H. Smith, '14, Civil; E. L. Becker, '11, Civil.

Second Term—Wm. S. Thiesing, '12, Mining; V. Y. Moore, '11, Law; Baritone, H. Tyler Watts, '13, Mechanical; H. A. Kohnhorst, 12, Mining. Bass is composed of V. P. Ligon, 13, Mechanical, and Paul Francis, 11, Mining.

After some further discussion the following officers were elected for the Glee and Mandolin Clubs:

Ernest L. Becker, a member of the Senior class in Civil Engineering, was chosen manager, and Ed. H. Smith, Freshman class, librarian.

Mr. Becker needs no introduction to the student body, and the club should have a prosperous year under his leadership.

ANOTHER CHANCE

All students who wish to remove conditions in History, Economics, and Sociology may do so, Saturday, Oct. 29th, at 8:30 p. m., Room no. 7, Educational Building.

This is merely an accommodation on the part of Dr. Tutthill, and all those who have conditions should consider it in that manner, and apply for the examinations on that day.

CIVIL NOTES.

A party of Junior Civil Engineering students went to High Bridge Saturday, October 15, and gauged the Kentucky river with the current meter.

The following men composed the party: H. N. Claggett, J. M. Lewis, E. F. Schimpeler, H. L. Nogel, and J. D. McMurtrey.

The Junior Civil Engineering students are making a topographical map of a portion of the campus based upon Olmstead Brothers' specifications for landscape garden purposes.

THE HENRY CLAY SOCIETY.

The Henry Clay Literary Society of the Law Department, will hold its first meeting of the year, on Wednesday evening.

This society was organized by the first class of the Department and has been very prosperous in the past sessions. It was not established to perform the work usually done by the Patterson and Union Societies, but for the purpose of discussing legal subjects of particular and special interest to students of the College of Law. Many of the members of the Henry Clay Society are enrolled in the other literary societies of the University. One can obtain valuable information upon various topics in the other societies, but upon matters of a legal nature, knowledge and training can be secured only in the Henry Clay.

Meetings are held every Wednesday night in the court rooms of the Law Department.

SCIENCE.

During the beautiful weeks of the Fall Term Professor A. M. Miller always takes his Geology class on excursions to various parts of the surrounding country. His purpose is to familiarize his students with as many geological formations as possible. These are very beneficial trips, for the student gets a chance to apply his knowledge of the subject.

These excursions, are not only sources of information, but they are sources of pleasure as well. A beautiful dinner is usually spread among the wild and majestic haunts of nature. There the rule of 11.25 or 0 is forgotten in one genuine good time. Such a commingling of instruction and pleasure was enjoyed by the present class on last Saturday. They were also joined by many of the entomology students and their instructor, Miss McCann.

Miss McCann has been quite hysterical for several days over the loss of her Ayclops. The janitor destroyed them not knowing how precious they were to her. The official bug catcher and said janitor are spending all these beautiful afternoons on the quiet banks of Judge Mulligan's pond angling for some more to take their place. We wish them success, and hope that their catch will be satisfactory to Miss McCann as were the former ones.

A CORRECTION.

In the Patterson Literary Society notes of last week's issue, there occurred quite an unfortunate error.

By some almost inconceivable mistake, the name of Slocum S. Prisse appeared as Secretary of the Patterson Society. We desire to correct this error. It should have been Silvy S. Prisse instead of Slocum.

Mr. Silvy Prisse is an able and efficient officer of the society and it is to be hoped that this explanation will do much toward soothing his somewhat perturbed mind and lacerated feelings.

Members of the Alumnae this paper is edited partly for you, and we wish you to show your love for your Alma Matre by sending the above blank correctly fitted out with your name and address. The Idea this year is the official paper of the University of Kentucky, and by the loyal support of the Alumnae will be the greatest paper in the South. No paper can be a success without a good circulation, an able and hustling staff, and plenty sources for news. The first condition is not yet what it should be on the part of the Alumnae, the other conditions cannot be improved upon.

THE HIPPODROME.

Idalene Cotton and Nick Long in their offering, entitled "The Banker and the Thief," written by Ullie Apers-town, is not a sketch but is a play abounding in intense but natural situations and is handled in such a manner by these capable artists as to leave a lasting impression on the audience.

The Musical Le Nomes did not arrive in time for the Monday afternoon performance, but certainly made good at both regular performances.

Dick May, the "German Governor," has a monologue that is hard to beat, and kept the audience in a continuous roar of laughter from start to finish.

Johnny Margles, "The Boy and the Hoops," is a wonder and seems to be able to make the hoops do everything but talk.

A comedy picture by the Hipposcope rounds out a performance that will be hard to beat.

There has been a change made in the orchestra, the management having secured the services of Miss Haley, of the Plaza Theater, Washington, D. C., as pianist. Miss Haley has been with the Plaza for several years and is perfectly familiar with the style of music played in vaudeville houses. She comes highly recommended and well sustained the reputation that preceded her at the performances this week.
