Campus Wheels In Low Gear

Campus politics is a fascinating game, perhaps even more so than "kick-the-can" or "red rover."

Many a would-be "wheel," past and present, has traded in his freshman cap for an eager smile and a glad hand in the grill.

But the most fun can be had by playing behind-the-scenes manipulation.

After some weeks of "you vote for my man and I'll swing the entire vote of something or other," the real entertainment begins. The nominating committees sit down in somewhat smoke-filled rooms and decide whose turn it is to be put up.

Platforms are then carefully composed. An occasional concrete thought may creep into such programs, but by and large they advocate greater power for SGA, revitalization of SGA, cooperation between students and faculty, and love of God and country.

After all this there are still the strenuous campaign activities to be endured. Is it any wonder that most candidates are so tired after being elected that they can only sit and relax quietly in SGA meetings for the rest of the year?

Students who are really interested in campus activities cannot be classified as campus politicians. But campus politicians must have their little hooby, and successful candidates must have their activity points.

Another SGA election is upon us, and with the present trend toward a single party on campus, nominating groups become increasingly important.

Of all the phases of democratic action to imitate, the Senator Phlogbound tradition is perhaps least "big-time." But these "big-time" operators don't think so, and they go on politicking for the sake of politicking, because it's such an entertaining game.

It's just the same old case of the little monkeys imitating the big apes.

Happy Day

Happy Day is only one day off for Thanksgiving, but there's a whole week's vacation for the Kernel staff.

Happy Thanksgiving—for us, anyway.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir: I wish to commend the foresight of the university authorities in the erection of a fence around President Donovan's home. Such precaution will prevent student trespassers. However, does such foresight pertain only to the beauty of the campus, and President Donovan's home? Surely, just ordinary foresight could have been used in erecting a fence around the top of the stadium. Whiskey bottles, etc., will inevitably fall from the stadium, someone will eventually be hit, and the result may be fatal.

I want President Donovan to have a fence around his home. I want the University authorities to make his property safe from trespassers. But I also want them to look out for my fellow students and my own welfare. I want a fence around the stadium.

The Ashbury Collegian brought forth a heavily opinionated article this past week that will no doubt heavily influence the world. It's a moot point whether it will or not, but here goes:

"Why is a duck?" Answer: "A duck is because pignons aren't."

"Because if it weren't for ducks that would water roll off the backs of?"

"A duck is because he forgot to?"

"A duck is because of the aqua." "A duck is because we should be kind to our web-footed friends, for a duck may be somebody's mother!"

"A duck is so that you will have something to do when you see a rolling pin coming!"

"The difference between a duck is one leg is both the same." "A duck is in order to produce wise quacks."

Now that we all know why a duck is because, on to other matters.

Madam Editor: This is not a letter written in bad feeling or poor sportsmanship. It is the result of puzzlement and the desire for information. The subject is the recent homecoming decorations award and the information wanted is—on what grounds are such awards made?

Is originality desired? Two of the top three of this year's selections dealt with most grinders being turned by huge cats. The only difference was the size of the cat and grinder and the colors used. Is it the number of themes used by each organization? If it is a contest seeing who can get the most different ideas in the smallest space, let that be a contest in itself.

Is any consideration given to the time and labor devoted by the organization to the display? Possibly a difficult thing to determine unless it is staring you in the face. Is it the fact that the display was made within the fraternity by the members' own hands used in making the decision? In other intramural activities professional or outside help is considered unqualified. Why should it not be so in this activity?

Next year there will be another of student knowledge regarding SGA. The party favored reviving student discussion groups to determine what is wrong with SGA and how to improve it. It advocates more power for the Student Government Association...

Also favored were creation of an activity bureau where pertinent data on all campus organizations would be on file, and the promotion of student spirit through campus-wide projects. The party also favored better coordination and cooperation between the administration and the student body.

Past Record Reviewed
Russell pointed out that, in the past, the Constitutionalists had favored creation of the transportation pool and issued cards for hitchhikers. He said the party had also worked out the plan for filling vacancies in the SGA assembly by which names of competent students are submitted, regardless of party affiliation.

The SGA committee members in charge of arrangements for the election are Ridgely Parke and Willie Edgeworth, co-chairmen; Katherine Greenwood, Bob Coleman, Jim Graham, Marshall McCann, and Bob Deen.

The Spice Of Life

By Ruben Graham and Jobie Anderson

Well, here it is again—the great production since the event in Buckingham Palace Sunday night! Homecoming was a big success, especially for the hats around town. Congratulations to the Zetas who were expecting, and to the Kay Sig butchers. The SAE's sure did eat some delicious Gatorburgers too.

El Jackson had a date for the game with a real live alligator. Wonder what the Lydia Brown girls thought about that?

Shelly Thompson deserves a big fat "A" for her success in carrying out a reform program at the Phi Kappa House. She's starting with the officers.

Jim Blair would like to know what Joan Specht thinks a man is. Why is "Ebbie" Walker called "No Report" now?

Mike Carmichael is working as a cook in his spare time. Do you think his cowboy hat makes a sanitary soup pot?

The campus policemen took a pot shot at a certain well-known manhood-campus Saturday night. What was he doing looking in Boyd Hall windows?

The Alpha Sig party boy, Ray Schlicher, has eloped and headed for sunny California.

Rumored: Al Terhune is jewelry store window-shopping.

It's been a long time since we've reported on the folks of our Kernel editor. (And it will be a long time till you do, too.)

Bob DePue's girls all got pinned! Monk Siewert got pinned to a Centre Beta an hour after she left the Cottage with Bob Wednesday afternoon. His date for the formal Friday night got pinned over breakfast at the Horseshoe Saturday morning. And she was wearing his orchid too!

Speaking of the Phi Tau formal, we hear the guys got a bit "catty"—the fellows we're speaking of? And "Sitty" makes a mighty cute "Dream Girl."

Mike Mills had a good reason for calling Bluegrass Field Saturday night. Her plane came in, but she's still in the clouds.

Dick Womack has another cute suggestion—Miss Nancy Richards this time.

Fred Nichols has a filing index to keep his girls straight—what do you think of that, Edith?

There are two Shirley Parters, on campus. We get embarrassed, too.

Rubba Robertson ought to quit going home on weekends. Someone is sure beating his time with Judith Leitgart.

"Sweet-tweet" Byrd created havoc at the Phi Delta function Friday night.

Judy Bredendish went to the game with Bill Brown but took time out in the third quarter with Tommy Richey.

Charlie Hawley is jealous of Jim Braunmetz. (Charlie Hawley, Charlie Hawley, Charlie Hawley. Now don't say your name hasn't been in here, Charlie.)

Motion pictures of prominent music personalities were the highlight of the evening's program. The films, which were shown by the president, John Kuiper, were a combined educational-recreational feature of the program, and featured famous vocalists, string ensembles, and pianists. A March of Time feature on the development of modern swing was also shown.

Chess Lessons To Start

Chess lessons will be conducted in room 304 of the Student Union Building from 3-5 p.m. on Thursdays. For advanced players of the group openings, middle game and end game principles will be stressed. Library Is Destroyed

Plans for such a building have been completed and await action of the State Legislature. The building would house the physics and chemistry departments. The cause of the fire has not been determined. Loss, estimated at $200,000 by Comptroller Frank D. Peterson, included a 200-year-old botanical collection more than 100 years old, most of the equipment belonging to the botany department, and the Geological Survey, and all the laboratory equipment and records of the Department of Mines and Minerals.

Structure To Be Razed

The remaining structure of Norwood Hall will be torn down and buried away. The excavation will be filled and the site graded over, according to Dr. H. L. Donovan, University president. Dr. Donovan said that at present there are no plans to reconstruct a building on this site. He did, however, express a hope that a new science building would be constructed on the campus. He said that that the student elected Honor Council will have to be free from outside and local politics; that there must be a definite plan, well-organized in advance—all of this is necessary in order that the Honor System will not become a farce, either because the students are not informed as to what is expected of them or because of the lack of judicial processes to handle the individual cases.

Mr. des Cognets does not think that the honor system would work here because this is a large, state institution, yet he acknowledges that it does work at the University of Virginia.

The truth of the matter is that not only the University of Virginia, but the Universities of North Carolina, Florida, and of California, to name a few large state-owned institutions, abide by the honor system. In addition, there are many universities in the West and South which have the honor system, not to mention the traditional "eastern schools."

The basic problem is not the size of the school, or whether privately or publicly owned, but rather whether there are a few men and women on the campus who would give part of their time to study of the system and the formulation of a workable plan, and the indoctrination of the student body to the system.

The motorists who abide by the traffic signals, though not under the direct supervision of a policeman, are as numerous in Kentucky as in any other state.

And there are no more nickels missing from the newspaper coin container in front of our Union Building than there are from the change container at Washington and Lee, a small and privately owned institution, where the famous honor system was recently exemplified in the newspaper by a picture of unguarded coins and books.

them all, but because we know anarchy, such as exists in the exam room, is dangerous to all of us. In closing, the words that come rushing to my mind are "this above all to thine own self be true, or surely does not each one of us want to be 'A man of truth; lord of his own actions, and expressing this lordship in his behavior; in other words, a gentleman.'"

JOHN ANGELIS

Editor of the Kernel:

Having been rather active in campus affairs during the past two years, and being away from the University now, I enjoy following developments in the still ad-swamped pages of the Kernel.

Most hopeful note I read: SGA affiliation with National Student Association. Congratulations to the SGA Assembly and president. Student government at UK may now have a chance.

Most discouraging note: the noisiness of campus Democrats and their dark confusion. Is there anyone around who might enlighten them?

Most disturbing note: the increasing lack of sympathetic relations between students and administration. What profiteth it an institution if it gain the whole Bluegrass and lose its own soul?

Most cryptic note: the letters of Miss Glines Pearl McPah. Probably a follower of some obscure ideology like existentialism (Bluegrass version) or more likely someone who read a Max Schulman High School Primer once too many times.

Carry on for good and great journalism! The Kernel is turning out expert advertising managers at least.

Cordially yours,

Charles O. Boops, Esq.

Sigma Chi Wins IM Gridiron Title

By Tom Spillman and Claude Spillman
Sigma Chi won the IM touch football championship from Delta Tau Delta 6-0 Tuesday night on Stoll Field.

Most of the game was played in rain, which made the footing of the tennis-shed players uncertain. A crowd estimated at 600 by Bill McCubbish, IM Director, watched Halfback Bill Branch score SX's lone touchdown. The tally was set up by a 25 yard pass to Halfback Jack Moon from Branch to retain the UK championship.

The game was played for the most part in the middle of the field with neither team able to move fast in the mud. One player, Jack Guttermuth of DTD, was injured and taken to the infirmary. After examination was completed, it was announced that he suffered mostly body bruises. Trophies were presented to both the winner and runner-up after the game.

The starting line-ups of the title game were:
DTD: George Vander-LE, Barkley weyden, Roger Lowery, LG, Ray Meyers, John Waidball, C, Jess McKinney, Bill Vorhees, RG, Dave Silbrup, Jack Thorpe, RE, John Heitz, Jack Guttermuth.
SX: QB Gordon Meane, John Kaster, LH, Bill Branch, Tom Burke, FB, Harry Gorman.

Substitutions: Delta Tau Delta: Bill Usher, Jim Moksas, Jerry Ingram, Paul Nuckols, John Locke, Don Sherlock, Dave Catron, Al Weisman, and Dick Combs.
Sigma Chi: George Lawson, Gene Stokes, Jack Moon, Gardner Combs, Gene Franz, Bill Pritchard, Clip Downing, Andy Mout, and Dave Phillips.

The officials for the game were: Referee, John Crowhwater; Time Keeper, John Lewis; Field Judge, Robert Thomas; Head Linesman, Claude Spillman.

To gain a berth in the finals, SX defeated ATO 14-0, on Nov. 11. The passing team of Halfback Branch to Halfback Harry Gorman was the determining factor. Two touchdowns were scored, and Blamer of ATO was downed behind ATO's goal line for a safety.

Pass Defense Stressed
Pass defense has stressed this week in the Wildcat grid camp. The Lexington Lynxmen are expected to be bombarded by Frazier and Littleford aerials if the weather is reasonably dry Saturday afternoon.

The UK squad is in good condition. However, Jim Howe is out for the season because of a broken collar-bone received in the Florida game and is certain to be missed in the Tennessee battle. Fullback Lee Truman is still bothered somewhat by his ankle and, as a result, is used mostly on the defense.

Norm Klein and Dick Martin will fill in for Howe. In addition, Bobby Brooks and Johnny Melhaus, a pair of swift backs, will see considerable action tomorrow according to Coach Bryant.

Starting Backs Uncertain
Quarterback George Blanda will bear the brunt of the Cats' attack. Ralph Genito is expected to start at fullback on offense. Bill Bolter will probably open at left half, while either Norm Klein or Dick Martin will be at the right halfback berth.

Shurly Jefferson might be utilized at both right and left halfback. He will be used much on the defense.

The line will probably be: Wah Jones and Ben Zaranke, ends; Bob Cain and Lloyd McDermott, tackles; Dick Hobay and Ray Porter or Pat James, guards; and Harry Ulinski, center.

Cats Whip Florida 34-15, For 4th Win

By Kent Hollingsworth
Quarterback George Blanda passed Florida with a wave of his arm Saturday as he threw Kentucky out of the SEC cellar.

Completing 11 out of 13 passes, the Wildcat signal caller made the supposedly wise old druggie strategists all look like peanuts, as he guided Kentucky to a 34-15 triumph over the Gators.

Blanda tossed three touchdown passes; a 23-yard blower that Wah Jones caught as easily as a three-year-old does snuffles; a long 30-yard pass that only Dick Martin, of the 41-yard pass to reserve End Al Bruno.

Florida QB Doug Belden, no slouch himself when it comes to football flinging, connected 14 times in 21 tries, but the breaks just weren't with him, for three times he passed the ball down to the Kentucky goal, where Cain, Hobay, Ulinski and Company wouldn't let him score.

While on had breaks, Jim Howe broke his collar bone again. Howe, along with Blanda and three or four good ends, paced the Cat attack. Howe got his hands on the ball ten times, intercepted the only pass for Kentucky, hopped 23-yard for a score, caught the three passes thrown his way, and stepped off a total of 112 yards.

Player Of The Week: George Blanda

By Dudley Saunders
This week the Kernel honors the "Man Down Under," Quarterback George Blanda. For his stellar passing against Florida, George has won "Player of the Week" honors and the right to captain the Wildcats against Tennessee tomorrow.

Honorable mention goes to Kentucky's All-SEC nominee, Tackle Bob Cain. Center Harry Ulinski, Halfbacks Dick Martin and Jim Howe.

At one stage in the Gator game, Cain made three consecutive tackles within the Kentucky ten-yard line, practically halting a Florida scoring threat single-handedly. Big Harry caught many thrusts through the center of the line. Besides scoring on a great catch, Martin was probably Kentucky's outstanding defensive back. Howe caught three passes, and scored on a 23-yard broken field run. Jim gained 3 yards on five rushing attempts, an average of 0.6 per try.

But to return once more to the feats of Blanda, it should be said, that the brave Perryman has been the outstanding offensive claw for the Wildcats all year. He has completed 83 out of 99 tosses, good for 670 yards and 11 touchdowns. That 670 yards constitutes better than 80 percent of Kentucky's aerial gain, and more than one-third of the yardage gained by passing and rushing for the entire team. Oddly enough, the man who is indirectly the team's leading scorer has scored only one point himself, that on a conversion.

HI 11 In 13 Saturday
Against Florida, George broadened the needle 11 times in 13 attempts for 224 yards and three touchdowns. One of Kentucky's other scores was set up by his passing, and two were called back by penalties.

Blanda came here from Youngwood, Pa., where he had gained quite a reputation as a punter and hard-running halfback. He played only two years of high school ball and in his senior year he scored 10 touchdowns.

Blanda's powerful extremities, his passing arm and kicking leg, and we might add, the head that calls the plays, have been paramount in Kentucky's gridiron success the past two years. Coach Bryant estimates that George has thrown 300,000 passes since coming to Kentucky.

Game Captains
George Blanda and Harry Ulinski will serve as co-captains for the Cats in the Tennessee game. Blanda captained Kentucky to a win over Xavier in the first game of the season. Ulinski was co-captain in the Villanova game along with Dick Martin.

His booming punts average 55 and 60 yards when he isn't aiming out of bounds for short distances.

One of George's most ardent drum-beaters on the UK squad was Tackle Wash Sertini, now playing for Ball. Big Wash watched the husky freshman throwing long passes in 1945 and immediately offered to wage anyone and everyone that George could hurt the picketa from one goal line to the other.

Wash agreed to try, cocked his arm and let fly with a mighty heave that fell just a few lines short of the mark. Sertini gave him a warm hug and said, "That's all right, George, the wind was against you. George hopes to play pro ball after graduation, but as yet hasn't been approached.

The way things stand right now, he says he'll remember Kentucky's 26-0 victory over Georgia last year longer than any other incident during his collegiate career, but hopes to get his greatest thrill tomorrow against Tennessee.

Since football made its debut at Tennessee in 1896, the Volts have been inactive on the gridiron only four seasons, 1898, 1917, 1918, and 1943—all war years.

Kentucky's greatest scoring spree against Tennessee was in 1896, when the Wildcats ran up a 56-0 victory.

Tennessee's biggest victory margin over the Wildcats was in 1938, when the undefeated Vols took a 46-0 decision. Only 16 points were scored against the Vols that year.

FENCING

During the week the fencing team continued on their drills with the foil, saber and epee. The team, thus far, is progressing to the satisfaction of the coach, Scott Breckinridge, and he is now completing negotiations for fencing matches with the University of Louisville and Vanderbilt.

Littleford Top Tennessee Star; Powell Outstanding

Five of Tennessee's top players are shown above. The most outstanding is probably little HAL LITTLEFORD, who scored the winning touchdowns against Kentucky and Vanderbilt at the close of last season.

Littleford is 5' 10", 165-pounds, and a junior from Bristol, Tennessee. Referred to as the "Bristol Blizzard" or "Mr. Swivel Hips" around Eastern Tennessee. A triple-threat tailback, who is making a strong bid for All-Conference.

Against Georgia Tech, Littleford played 58 minutes of the game. One sportswriter described his play in this contest as follows: "His long, booming punts put the Vols' offense in a hole time after time. His hard, dashing running paced the Vols' offense, and his third-quarter pass to Bob Lund gave Tennessee a 13-0 lead before the Engineers could get their offense clicking."

No. 2 star might be 6' 1", 186-pound JIM POWELL, captain of the eleven. He hails from Miami, Fla., and ranked ninth in the nation in 1947 for pass receiving. Powell led the team in scoring last season. He was a member of the 1942 Sugar Bowl and the 1946 Orange Bowl teams of Tennessee. Last week against Ole Miss, Powell caught 10 of the 14 completed Vols aerials, which was good for 124 yards. Said to be one of the greatest offensive ends in recent years.

Proctor To Powell

Top passer of the Vols is J. B. PROCTOR, a 5' 11" junior from Nashville. He is the throwing half of the famous Proctor-Powell combination. Last season, he completed 24 out of 34 passes in the final three games against Boston College, UK, and Vanderbilt. He is also an excellent runner.

"Probably the roughest, most rugged man on the squad" is the way in which the Tennessee publicity man describes 25-year-old AL RUSSELL, a 6' 7", 200-pound huskie from Providence, R. I. He has played at right end and at center for the Vols this campaign.

A vicious blocker and a tough defensive man, Russas will probably be backing up the line against Kentucky Saturday.

Wingback BOB LUND, like Littleford, is a triple-threat grinder. He is 5' 10", 185-pounds, 21 years of age, a senior and comes from Knoxville. Lund is outstanding on the defense. He caught a Littleford pass in the game with Tech, ran 30 yards, and scored what proved to be the winning TD against the Engineers.

UK Basketeers Open Season In 10 Days

By Kent Hollingsworth

The Champion Kentucky Wildcats start their 1948-49 basketball season against Indiana Central in Alumni Gymnasium Monday, Nov. 29.

With the opener only 10 days off, the team as a whole is beginning to get into shape. Offensive drills against the freshmen, and foul shots, made up most of the practice this week. Scrimmages were held Tuesday and Thursday but did little more than help the boys get into condition.

Lefty Jim Line, although plagued by a back injury early this year rebounds better than ever before, and is working on his right handed crisp shot. Cliff Barker in his own casual way, intercepted passes and picked up a loose ball now and then, lead scorers in a short scrimmage last week. Alex Grom, guarded by several root-scratching freshmen, still dominates the rebounds, hits his pivot shots. Ralph Beard is in fine shape, hits the basket consistently from all over the court. Dale Barnstable can run as long as Beard can, hops the defensive rebounds.

Wait Hinch plays center during live drills, handles the ball well. Spec Thomas, noted for his hustle and drive, drove right into the wall and hurt his knee last week. Roger Day is proving to be one of the most accurate long shots on the team. Johnny Stough is particularly outstanding on offensive drills; he's fast and a sure ball handler, tops defensively.

Rupp Speaks

Coach Rupp and Alex Grom journeyed to Richmond, Indiana, Monday where the Baron gave a talk on the importance of amble recreation facilities for youngsters, before the local businessmen's club. Floyd Baker, Grom's high school coach in 1924, arranged for the banquet.

15 Fresh Cagers To Make Trip To Winchester

By Tom Spillman

Coach Harry Lancaster will take 15 freshman basketball players to Winchester Monday night to play the Wesleyan College freshman squad.

They will leave Alumni Gym about 6:30 p.m., in private automobiles.

Although little is known of Wesleyan's first year team, it is understood that they have several big men and will be no push-over.

Perhaps an even tougher game for the charges of Coach Lancaster will be on the night of Nov. 29. As a preliminary to the varsity game with Indiana Central, the freshmen meet Cumberland Junior College at 6:00 p.m. in Alumni Gym.

Cumberland Junior College, located at Williamsburg, Ky., was Southeastern Junior College champion last year, as well as Kentucky Junior college champion.

During the course of the year, Cumberland lost only two games while winning about 30 tilts. From this squad, all have reported back for action but two, which should make the visitors hard to beat.

Hall Is Manager

The fellow with the big job of head freshman manager of UK's frosh team is Edward Hall. He takes care of uniforms, equipment, issues towels and soap, cleans basketballs, referees scrimmages and is in general errand boy.

However, Ed has three capable assistants in the persons of Bob Moore, David Lewis, and Bill Rice.
