KENTUCKY BASKETBALL IS NOT JUST BASKETBALL

In Kentucky, sport has always been more than playing a game. Here, sport means tradition. It means pride.

That's why we support this publication with pride. Pride in the University of Kentucky. Pride in its athletic programs. And special pride in the student athletes who honor us all with their commitment to always doing their best.

At Valvoline, we believe

that always doing your best is an attitude that extends beyond the playing field. Just as basketball is not just basketball at Kentucky, motor oil is not just motor oil at Valvoline. With pride and tradition, we make motor oils precisely formulated to meet your car's special needs.

Coach Sharon Fanning Begins New Era at UK

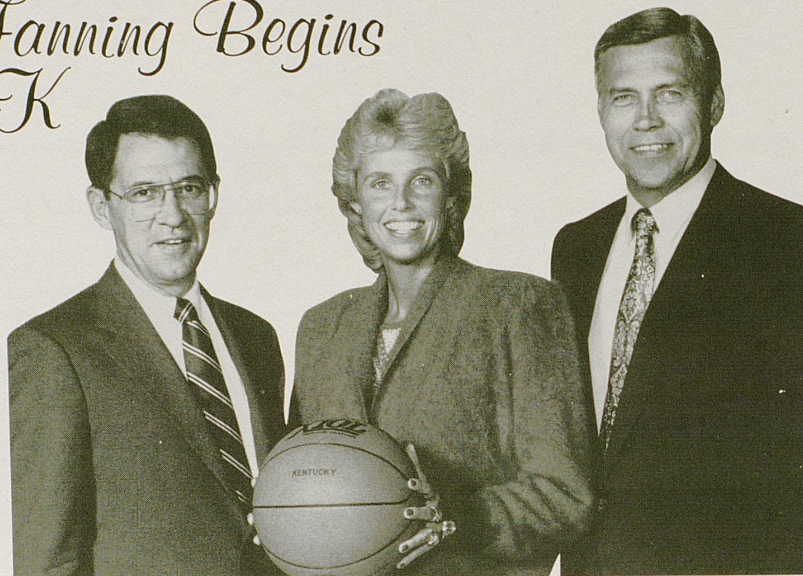

Sharon Fanning brings to Kentucky not only an exceptional record, but also a national reputation as an outstanding coach, recruiter and motivator. In 11 memorable seasons at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, Fanning's squads compiled a 189-129 mark, including five straight Southern Conference championships from 1982-1986. In 1984, the Lady Mocs went 26-5 and were runners-up in the National Women's Invitational Tournament.

And while her teams were reaping glory for the school, Coach Fanning was receiving personal honors as well. She was named Southern Conference Coach of the Year in 1984 and 1985 and was nominated for Kodak's national Coach of the Year honors in 1984. In 1986 she was coach of the North squad in the U.S. Olympic Festival and last summer she was named to the staff of the USA Select team competing in Seoul, Korea in August.

"We are thrilled to have Coach

This summer, Coach Fanning gave instructions at a basketball clinic in Jackson, Ky.

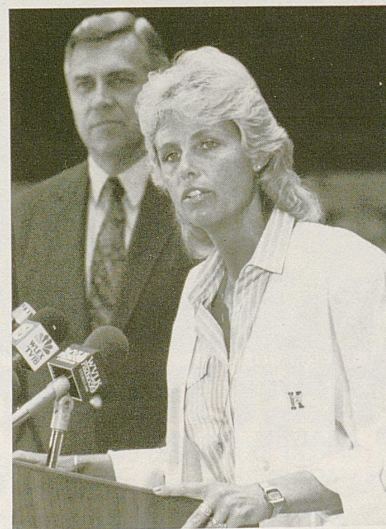

Coach Fanning is flanked by University President Dr. David Roselle and Athletics Director Cliff Hagan. Below, Fanning addresses the news media after being named new coach by Hagan.

Fanning join us," UK Athletics Director Cliff Hagan says. "She has all the qualities we were looking for to fill this position. She is not only an outstanding coach, but she is also a fine person who will be a good role model for our young athletes. We believe that her personality and drive will give this program the boost it needs right now."

The 33-year-old Fanning, a native of Chattanooga, completed her undergraduate degree at UTC in 1975 while competing in both basketball and volleyball. She received her masters degree in 1976 from the University of Tennessee, where she served as a graduate assistant coach to Pat Head Summitt for one year before returning home to build a program at her alma mater.

A noted speaker who is very active in civic affairs, Fanning also served as Coordinator of Women's Athletics at UTC since 1978. She is a current member of the National Women's Basketball Coaches Association Board of Directors.

Andy Barnes

Andy begins his first year at Kentucky after serving as an assistant to Coach Susan Yow at Drake University last season. At UK, he will focus primarily on recruiting. A native of Johnson City, Tenn., and a 1980 graduate of East Tennessee State, Andy taught and coached at the high school level for six years before joining the staff at Drake. From 1980 to 1984, he was assistant boys' basketball coach and head golf coach at Daniel Boone High School in Gray, Tenn. He then taught for one year at Sun Valley High School in Monroe, N.C., before returning to his native state to teach and assist in boys' basketball at Unicoi County High School in Erwin. He is married to Marsha Barnes.

Cindy Noble Hauserman

Cindy's experience as a great player at all levels of competition made her an exciting addition to the Lady Kats staff. A two-time Olympian, Cindy joined the University of Kentucky for her first coaching job in August, 1985.

A native of Clarksburg, Ohio, Cindy began an outstanding playing career at Frankfort-

Adena High School, where she earned All-America honors and was named the Outstanding Athlete in Ohio. She went on to similar glory at the University of Tennessee, where she earned Kodak All-America honors before graduating in 1983.

In the meantime, she was also establishing herself as a great international competitor. She was selected to the 1979 World University squad, the 1980 Olympic team, the 1983 Pan American team and the 1984 Olympic squad. She also played professional basketball for one year in Italy and for two years in Japan.

Cindy, who was inducted into the National High School Hall of Fame last year, is married to Mark Hauserman.

Sue Stanley

Sue joined the UK training staff in 1982 after serving for one year as Co-Ordinator of Sports Medicine for the Department of Intramural/Recreational Services at East Carolina University. Sue graduated from Ohio State University, where she earned a degree in Physical Education in 1979 after serving for four years as a student trainer. She was graduate assistant at Purdue University, where she earned her Masters Degree in Physical Fitness and Exercise Physiology in 1981.

A native of Smithville, Ohio, Sue serves on the Board of Directors for the National Athletics Trainers Association.

Lee Reedy

Lee joined the Lady Kat staff in December, 1983. She was previously employed by Bartholomew County Welfare Department and Columbus East High School in Columbus, Indiana. A native of Whitesburg, Ky., Lee is married to Bob Reedy and has two children.

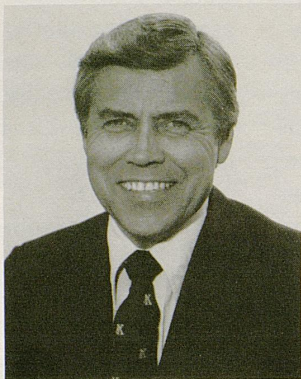

Lee Youster

Lee has been assistant strength coach at Kentucky for three years. A 1980 graduate of Yankton College, he remained at his alma mater for two years as football and strength coach. He then served as a graduate assistant strength coach for two years at South Carolina and as an assistant strength coach at Oklahoma for one year before coming to Kentucky. Lee is 29 years old and single.

CLIFF HAGAN Director of Athletics

As Cliff Hagan enters his 12th year as its director, the University of Kentucky Athletics Association is undergoing an era of unprecedented growth.

Recently-completed projects include the $6 million E.J. Nutter Football Training Facility, the Hilary J. Boone Indoor Tennis Center, the lighting of the Shively Baseball Field and the resurfacing and seating expansion of the Shively Track. In addition, the $5.5 million Harry C. Lancaster Aquatics Center is nearing completion, bringing the total expenditures in capital expansion projects to nearly $15 million.

This past July, the UK Athletics Association Board of Directors approved a record $9.3 million budget for the 1987-88 fiscal year. In a time when many athletic departments are facing budget crises, UKAA continues to be totally self-supporting, with no tax dollars from the University's general funds.

Hagan, a native of Owensboro, replaced the late Harry C. Lancaster as athletics director on July 1, 1975. Since then, UK athletics has enjoyed a tremendous amount of success, both on the playing field and in the classroom.

Hagan has seen UK basketball teams win an NCAA championship, an NIT championship and make another appearance in the Final Four. The football Wildcats have appeared in three bowl games. Last season, six UK teams appeared in their respective NCAA championship events.

Academically, Hagan helped establish the Center for Academic and Tutorial Services (CATS). The University of Kentucky was the first university in the nation to open an academic center for student-athletes. The efforts have paid off, as UK led the Southeastern Conference last year in the number of student-athletes named to the league's various Academic Honor Rolls.

Hagan's involvement in college athletics extends beyond the University of Kentucky. He serves on the Executive Committee of the Southeastern Conference and is also on the Executive Committee of the NCAA Division 1A Athletics Directors Association.

A two-time All-American basketball center at UK (1952, 54), Hagan helped the Wildcats win 86 of 91 games during his career. Included in his career is a 1951 national championship under legendary coach Adolph Rupp.

As a senior, Hagan helped lead UK to a perfect 25-0 record and the Southeastern Conference title. That season, Hagan averaged 29 points per game and led the nation in rebounding (13.5 rpg).

After graduating from UK in 1954 and serving two years at Andrews Air Force Base as a commissioned officer, Hagan began a highly successful National Basketball Association career with the St. Louis Hawks. In 10 seasons, he posted 12,433 career points in 672 games (18.5 ppg) and played in five NBA All-Star games.

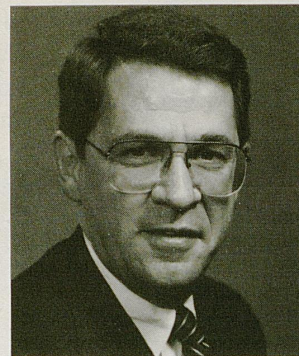

Hagan played on St. Louis teams which claimed six division titles. In 1958, Hagan helped lead the Hawks to the World Championship by defeating the Boston Celtics. He also set a NBA single game record for most field goals in a quarter (12). Hagan was voted All-Pro from 1957-62.

Between basketball seasons at St. Louis, Hagan earned his M.S. degree from Washington University in 1958.

He also had a stint as player-coach of the Dallas Chaparrals during his professional basketball days. In fact, Hagan was chosen as the Texas Professional Coach of the Year in 1968. His record at Dallas was 109-90. In 1975, Hagan was named to the Kentucky Athletic Hall of Fame. Three years later, he became the first UK player inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Hagan is married to the former Martha Milton of Owensboro. They have four children — Mrs. Lisa Thaxton, Mrs. Laurie Hill, Mrs. Amy Burdette and Kip, a recent graduate of Transylvania University.

PRESIDENT DAVID P. ROSELLE

Dr. David P. Roselle was named the ninth president of the University of Kentucky in March 1987.

Dr. Roselle comes to UK from Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Va., where he served as provost four years. The position of provost at Virginia Tech is the number two administrative position at the university, which has more than 22,000 students.

A native of Pennsylvania, Dr. Roselle has a Ph.D. in mathematics from Duke University. He has been a mathematics professor and researcher at the University of Maryland and Louisiana State University. He became a professor of mathematics at Virginia Tech in 1974 and held that faculty appointment during his entire tenure there.

He also served as dean of Virginia Tech's graduate school and dean of research and graduate studies.

Dr. Roselle is known as an innovator. At Virginia Tech he implemented a university-wide core curriculum, helped secure increased support for sponsored research and was recognized nationally for his initiatives in computing and information systems.

In 1978, he was recognized by Virginia Tech for his teaching excellence.

Dr. Roselle has held a variety of leadership positions in national mathematics organizations and served as executive secretary of the Mathematical Association of America for nine years.

He has made numerous invited addresses in his field and is widely published as a mathematics scholar. He has been editor of two books and was on the editorial board of a third.

Dr. Roselle is married to the former Louise Dowling of Manhasset, N.Y., and they have a son, Arthur, 16, and a daughter, Cynthia, 15.

Meet the Players

Bebe Croley

One of the most talented players in Lady Kat history, Bebe is expected to be one of the top players in the Southeastern Conference this season and should be a strong contender for All-America honors. She led the Lady Kats in scoring last season with an average of 17.7 points a game, which ranked her fourth in that category among SEC players. She was also fourth in the SEC in free throw percentage (78.6), sixth in steals per game (2.6) and ninth in rebounding (7.1).

Bebe is 14th on the all-time Lady Kats scoring list with 937 career points, and if she keeps up her current pace, she should easily finish as one of UK's top five all-time scorers.

A first-team Parade All-America as a senior at Henry Clay High School in Lexington, Bebe suffered a stress fracture as a freshman and played in only half of the games in her first year. But as a sophomore, she started in 22 of 27 games and was the fourth-leading scorer on the team.

Last year she began her junior season by being named the first unanimous MVP in the 10-year history of the Lady Kats Invitational tournament. She excelled in every phase throughout the season, starting in all 28 contests and scoring in double figures in all but three. During a two-game homecourt stint she hit 13-of-17 from the field and finished with a career-high 32 points against Alabama, and then scored 30 points on 14-for-17 from the field in the next game against Florida.

Bebe has twice represented the University and the USA in international competition. In 1985, she played for the U.S. in the Jones Cup competition in Taiwan and in 1986 she was a member of the USA Select team that competed in the Canadian Invitational.

As one of three seniors on the team, Michele's experience and athletic ability should be an advantage for the Lady Kats. She can run the floor, shoots well and is a very good passer. Michele is an unselfish player and wants the team to do well. We expect leadership from our seniors and expect Michele to play a big part in this year's success.

—Coach Fanning

After struggling with a severe knee problem as a freshman and sophomore, Michele finally enjoyed her first full season last year as a junior. She played in 24 of the team's 28 games and, although she never received a starting assignment, finished as the Kats' fifth-leading scorer with an average of 4.6 points per contest.

Her outstanding high school career at Clearwater Central Catholic ended tragically when Michele tore the anterior cruciate ligament of her left knee in the semifinals of the Florida state championship. She underwent extensive knee surgery before coming to Kentucky, and has necessitated arthroscopic surgery twice since.

A versatile player who could help at either guard or forward, Michele will be relied on for her exceptional scoring and passing ability this year.

Monique Tarantini

Monique possesses all the skills necessary to be a standout player at both ends of the court. Although she was recognized for her great scoring ability in high school, she has excelled more as a defensive player at Kentucky, displaying good speed, quickness and intensity.

Still, she can be an explosive scorer, and has hit double figures several times even though she has never appeared as a starter at Kentucky. Her career free throw percentage of 88.8 is a good indication of her shooting touch. She is a classic zone buster when her shot is "on."

Monique is regarded as one of the all-time great players in West Virginia high school history. As a senior at St. Francis High School, she was honored as West Virginia Player of the Year and was named to Parade magazine's fourth team All-America list. Her 2,835 career points in high school are the most ever scored by any male or female in that state. Her jersey, No. 14, has been retired at St. Francis.

Jodie Whitaker

A good junior season could bring Jodie SEC honors as well as national recognition. Last season, she was second on the team in assists and her 12.1 scoring average ranked her 20th in the SEC. She started in all 28 Lady Kats games and scored in double figures 19 times. A good outside shooter, she is expected to be an even better scoring threat with the new three-point goal this season.

A good athlete with great instincts for the game, Jodie began her college career in impressive fashion, being named to the Lady Kat Invitational all-tournament team only three games into her first season. She scored a career-high 29 points against Dayton that year and was ninth in the SEC in assists while averaging 10.9 points. In the summer of 1986, she played on the Gold medal-winning South squad in the U.S. Olympic Festival. This summer she played on the USA Junior Pro team that competed in the Jones Cup tournament in Taiwan.

At Austin High School, she became the all-time leading scorer in Indiana state girls' basketball history with 2,095 career points. She also holds the state record for points in a single season, with 789, which she scored during her senior season. She was named Indiana's "Miss Basketball" for 1985.

Dee has a great deal of ability, and after playing behind two seniors last year, she is ready to step in and accept responsibility now. She is very mobile in that she can post up or face the bucket. Her jumping ability and quickness should really boost our inside game. With the confidence and determination she seems to have, we expect her to be a big surprise ♫

The tallest player on the squad this season, Dee's hard work over the summer resulted in a loss of weight and an increase in strength. Those factors, combined with a year of experience, should make her contribution much bigger this season. A very physical athlete, she could help at center or forward.

As a freshman, she played in only 10 games and averaged less than four minutes of playing time. She averaged 1.6 points and 1.2 rebounds a game.

Dee averaged 23 points and 14 rebounds as a senior at Kirby High in Memphis. She was named to the All-Metro team, the district and regional all-tournament teams, and was honorable mention all-state.

Kris Miller

The 1986 "Miss Basketball" in Kentucky, Kris had to practice patience as a freshman, playing behind four-year starter Sandy Harding, who was All-Southeastern Conference and the SEC's assists leader at point guard last year. But a year of playing with Sandy should pay off for Kris, who proved in high school her exceptional ability as an athlete.

A good scorer, passer and defensive player, Kris averaged 25.5 points while hitting 52 percent of her shots as a senior at Owensboro Catholic. She scored 30 or more points 10 times in her high school career, with a career high of 48 points, and once hit 34 consecutive free throws.

LADY KATS FACE FOE WITH SIMILAR WOES

If the Lady Kats have a sense of deja vu tonight when they take the court against Virginia Tech, it won't be because they see familiar faces. The two teams have never played each other before.

But when the 7:30 tipoff arrives Kentucky might discover a blurry reflection of itself: a team that is trying to push its program above mediocrity, but seems to take a step back for every one forward. Kentucky is now 12-14 after an exciting 76-68 win over highly-regarded Middle Tennessee Thursday night. Virginia Tech is coming off a big win, too, blasting Florida State 97-81 on Feb. 20. But the Lady Hokies are 12-13 on the season.

This marks the final regular-season game for both squads. Kentucky travels to Albany, Ga., for the Southeastern Conference Tournament March 4-7. The Lady Kats will take on Vanderbilt in first-round action Friday at 9 p.m. Tech goes to Tallahassee, Fla., for the Metro Conference tournament March 10-11.

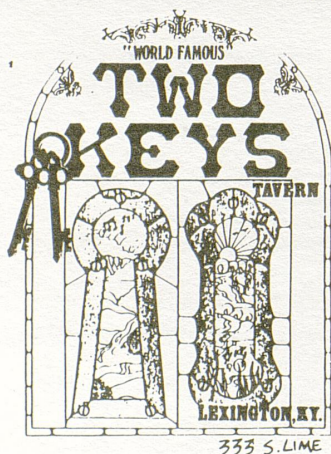

Kentucky got a big boost in against MTSU when senior forward Bebe Croley returned from a severe ankle sprain to contribute 18 points and nine rebounds to the win. She had missed three games with the injury. The 5-10 Lexington native is averaging 17.6 points and 8.4 rebounds. The fifth all-time leading scorer in Lady Kat history with 1,289 points, Croley and fellow seniors Monique Tarantini and Michele Pennie will be honored in a brief ceremony prior to tipoff of their final game in Memorial Coliseum.

Tarantini, who has started in all but one contest this season, averages 7.5 points and 3.3 rebounds and scored a career-high 18 points against Middle Tennessee. Pennie, who has been plagued by knee problems throughout her four years at UK, saw her career end when she tore her anterior cruciate ligament in her right knee against Marshall on Jan. 10. She was in the starting lineup at the time and was averaging 4.1 points and 2.4 rebounds.

Also bidding farewell to the home fans will be head manager Sharon McCauley, a Lexington native who has been an important part of the program for three seasons.

Virginia Tech, which has won three of its last four games, also relies heavily on a senior front-line player, 6-4 center Michelle Bain. Bain averages 16.6 points and 7.1 rebounds, leading the Lady Hokies in both categories. No other Lady Hokie averages double figures.

BEBE, MONIQUE, MICHELE AND SHARON BOW OUT TONIGHT

When the buzzer sounds at the end of tonight's game against Virginia Tech, it will signal the end to three more basketball careers in this historic Memorial Coliseum. But more than that, it will mean goodbye for four young ladies who have made an impact, not only on the Kentucky Lady Kats basketball program, but also on the lives of many people they associated with in their four years at Kentucky.

Belitta Croley, Monique Tarantini, Michele Pennie and head manager Sharon McCauley are more than cogs in the Lady Kat basketball wheel. They are our friends, and we will miss them very much.

Knowing Bebe, Monique and Michele as people, means being able to bear the realization that none of their basketball careers ever seemed to reach fruition. All three came to Kentucky as much-heralded high school stars who had visions of taking the Lady Kats to the top of the women's basketball world. Although those dreams were not realized, it can never be said that it was due to a lack of effort from any of these young women. No won-loss record can be an indicator of the true success that all of them are.

The three seniors posed after the win over Middle Tennessee last Thursday.

BEBE CROLEY, a Lexington native and one of the most beloved athletes to ever attend this university, has been held back by injuries that have been well documented. Although she has missed 20 games due to injury and played in many more despite injury, Bebe will still bow out tonight as the Lady Kats' fifth all-time leading scorer with 1,298 career points. She is fourth on the all-time list for steals with 177, and if the Lady Kats advance in tournament play, she could conceivably overtake Valerie Still's third-place total of 199.

A first-team All-America player out of Henry Clay High School, Bebe will leave with memories of many highlights as a Lady Kat. One of those came last season, when she began the year by becoming the first player to ever be named a unanimous Most Valuable Player of the Lady Kats Invitational Tournament.

Earlier this season, Bebe was honored when she became the 12th UK player to score 1,000 points. She had a personal high of 40 points and 15 rebounds against Morehead State on December 20. The 40 was only two points shy of Valerie Still's all-time record of 42 points scored in a single game, and stands as the most points scored by any SEC player this season.

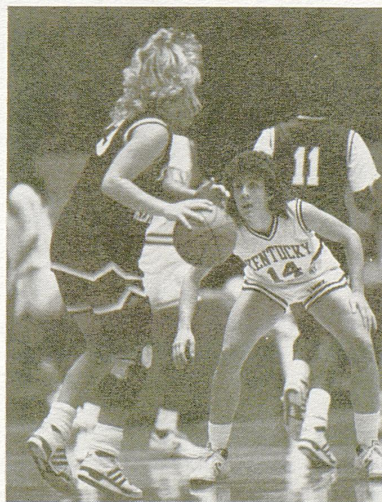

Currently, Bebe is third in the conference in scoring with an average of 17.6 points a game and third in rebounding with an average of 8.4. She ranks sixth in free throw percentage at 76.5

Bebe will also be remembered for her achievements at the national level, where she represented the United States in international competition in 1985, on the U.S. Jones Cup team, and in 1986, on the USA Select Team.

But perhaps the greatest individual tribute to Bebe came yesterday, when she was named to the Nashville Tennessean's All-Southeastern Conference team despite Kentucky's last-place finish in the league and despite the fact that she missed three of Kentucky's SEC games. Apparently, the 10 SEC coaches who voted already knew what Kentucky fans have known all along: That Bebe is one of the best!

MONIQUE TARANTINI is ending her career with a flourish. In the Lady Kats' most recent game, a 76-68 win over Middle Tennessee Thursday night, she scored a career-high 18 points to boost her season average to 7.5 points a game, along with a 3.3 rebounding average. An excellent free throw shooter, she is third on the team at 74.4 percent (29-of-39).

A fourth-team Parade All-America, Monique dazzled basketball observers throughout the state of West Virginia while playing for St. Francis High School in Westover, W.Va. That school retired her jersey, No. 14, after she surpassed Jerry West and other all-time greats to become the state's most prolific high school scorer ever with 2,835 career points.

Monique became a star defensive player.

At Kentucky, however, Monique has been noted more as a defensive specialist, and is typically assigned to the opponent's toughest offensive player. She is fourth on the team in steals with 32, although only seven steals separate her from Jodie Whitaker's team-leading 39.

Monique never started a game until this season, and now has started in 25 of Kentucky's 26 contests. In consecutive games now, she has back-to-back personal highs (17 points against LSU last Tuesday, and then the 18 against MTSU on Thursday). The 5-8 guard is happy to finally have gotten a chance, but now Kentucky fans thinking: "What if she had gotten an earlier start?"

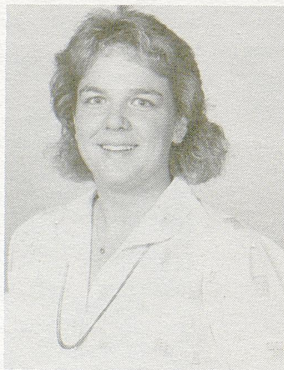

MICHELE PENNIE came to Kentucky as a brilliant athlete out of Clearwater Central Catholic High School in Florida. But unfortunately, she will be remembered more as a friend than a player because of two bad knees.

The victim of two torn anterior cruciate ligaments, Michele never was able to play a complete season. Last year was the closest she came, appearing in 24 of the 28 contests, but only averaging 4.6 points. This season, after she had finally broken into the starting lineup, she injured her "good knee" and her career ended just when she was playing her best.

So tonight fans will see that familiar sight as Michele takes the Memorial Coliseum floor for the last time: Crutches, not a uniform, will make her stand out. But just like Monique and Bebe, she is a part of the team that fans and players will all remember fondly.

Michele may not be remembered as a statistical leader, but if there was a record book for invoking smiles and warm memories, she would be among the all-time leaders.

SHARON MCCAULEY, affectionately called Shay-Shay by the players, will be missed as much as any player. A dedicated member of the program for three years, Sharon's easy-going ways and dependability have won her a permanent place in the hearts of the players and staff. A Lexington native and a graduate of Lexington Catholic High School, Shay-Shay will join her three "teammates" tonight at midcourt. And those who have had the pleasure of working with her at UK will probably notice a tightness in their throat and a tear in their eyes. But, just as will be the case when the names of Bebe, Michele and Monique are called, there will also be a smile on their faces.

Memorial Coliseum is the proud home of one of the richest basketball traditions in the world. The historic old Coliseum was the host site for 24 Wildcat basketball teams that yielded two national champions and 16 Southeastern Conference champions.

Since the Wildcats moved downtown to 23,000-seat Rupp Arena in 1976, the Coliseum has been the exclusive home of the Lady Kats. Throughout their 12 seasons in Memorial Coliseum, the Lady Kats have added an SEC title of their own and compiled a 148-47 record there.

The highlight of the Lady Kats' era in Memorial Coliseum came on Feb. 5, 1983. On that cold Saturday night, 10,622 enthusiastic fans filed into the 11,500-seat gymnasium to watch Kentucky upset fifth-ranked Old Dominion. That crowd constituted the largest crowd to have ever watched a women's college basketball game in America. Iowa broke the record last season with an amazing attendance of 22,000, but Kentuckians will long remember the excitement of that evening. The Lady Kats were ranked fourth nationally after the Old Dominion victory, and in their three remaining home games that season they averaged 7,600 fans.

Just as their male counterparts did before them, the Lady Kats have made Memorial Coliseum the home of a winning high-class program. Among their many wins is included a 31-game home-court victory streak in 1981-82.

Plans for construction of the Coliseum began in 1941, when Dr. H. L. Donovan became president of the University and recommended a building "that will properly take care of our athletics, our health services, our physical education and our recreation."

The Coliseum was completed in 1950 at a cost of $3,995,000. The huge building was dedicated to serve as a memorial to the nearly 10,000 Kentuckians who lost their lives in World War II and the Korean conflict. The Coliseum covers an entire city block and has as much space as a seven-story office building.

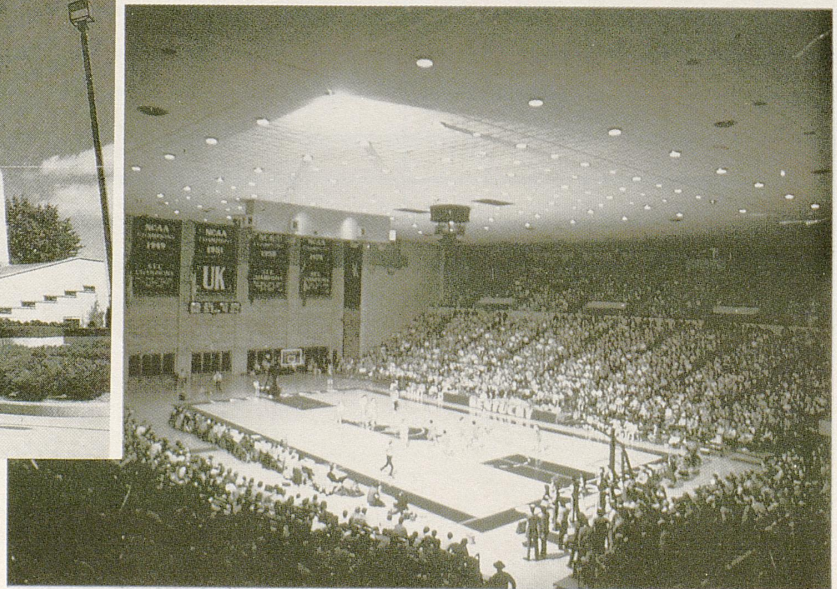

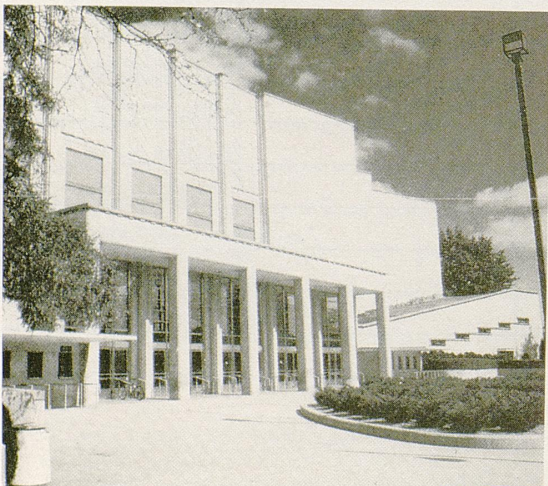

Situated along the Avenue of Champions, Memorial Coliseum is used primarily for basketball games and Athletic Department offices, but also serves as the site of other sporting events, as well as concerts and lectures.

Kentucky — the heart of Ashland's America

Ashland Oil's presence in Kentucky is everywhere.

If a road is "black top," for example, it probably was paved with Ashland asphalt.

Alongside those roads are full-service Ashland brand stations and a growing number of SuperAmerica stores. SA couples economical self-service gasoline with a variety of consumer and grocery goods.

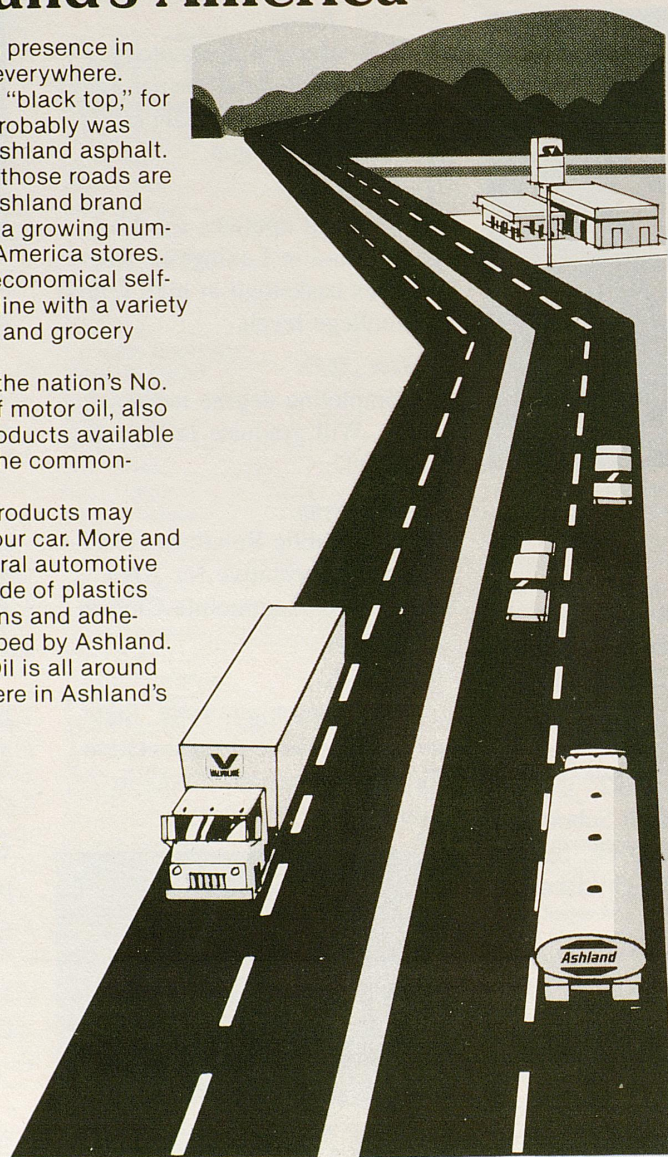

Valvoline, the nation's No. 3 marketer of motor oil, also has many products available throughout the commonwealth.

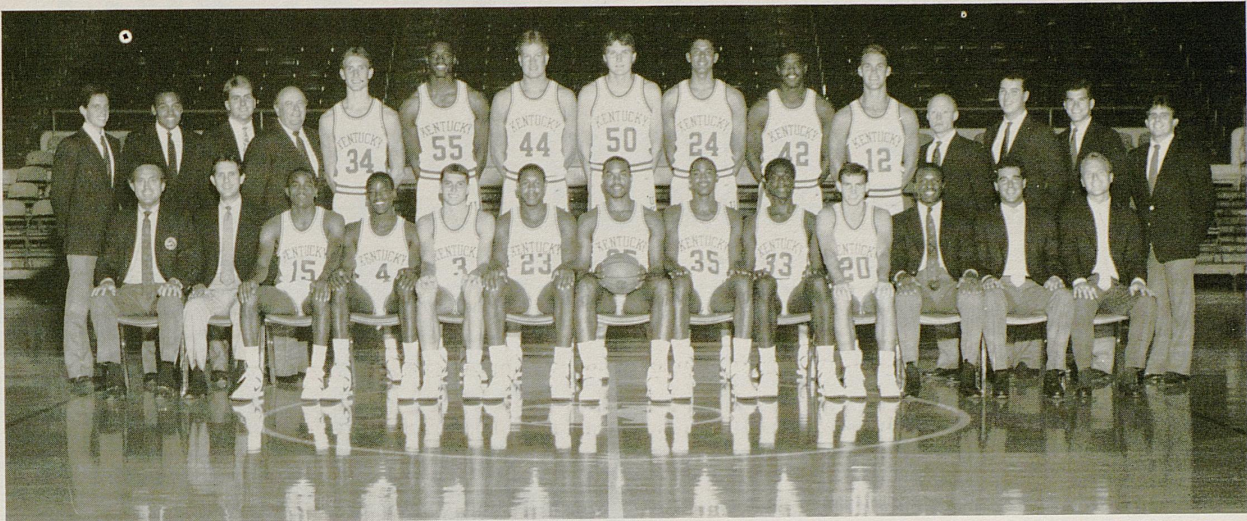

Ashland products may even be in your car. More and more structural automotive parts are made of plastics that use resins and adhesives developed by Ashland.

Ashland Oil is all around you. Right here in Ashland's America.

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

— A Continuing Commitment to Excellence

From its modest beginnings in 1865, when it was known as State College, the University of Kentucky has grown into one of the nation's most outstanding institutions of higher learning.

As a comprehensive, land-grant university, UK offers an educational experience that cannot be matched anywhere in the Commonwealth. In fact, only a small number of institutions across the nation can offer the wealth of opportunities that await students at UK.

At Kentucky, the emphasis is on excellence. Did you know that:

- UK EDUCATES ONE-THIRD OF THE COLLEGE STUDENTS IN KENTUCKY

Enrollment on the University's campus in Lexington is 21,000, while 29,300 attend UK's 14 Community Colleges throughout the Commonwealth. That represents about one-third of all students attending public or private colleges, business schools and universities.

- INCOMING FRESHMEN ARE BEST IN STATE

The average ACT score of enrolled freshmen in the fall of 1987 was 22.4, the highest for any public university in the state and three points higher than the national average.

- FRESHMAN CLASS INCLUDES MERIT SCHOLARS AND VALEDICTORIANS

The 1987 freshman class includes twelve National Merit Scholars and 72 high school valedictorians. The class also includes eleven Singletary Scholars, whose average ACT score is 31.3 and one of whom had a 34 on the ACT. There are 384 freshmen this year who have ACT scores of 27 or higher — ranking them among the top 10 percent of freshmen in the nation.

- UK STUDENTS ARE WINNING NATIONAL HONORS

UK debaters won the 1986 national championship. The student newspaper, The Kentucky Kernel, was voted one of the top four collegiate newspapers in the nation. Two architecture students placed first and second in a national design competition sponsored by the Institute for Architecture Education. These are just a few of the many areas in which UK students are excelling.

- ACADEMIC SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM IS GROWING

The University's academic scholarship program has grown from $70,000 a year in 1983 to an amazing $850,000 in 1987.

- UK HAS REACHED TOP CATEGORY OF RESEARCH UNIVERSITIES

The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching classifies UK as a "Research I" institution, the only such institution in Kentucky and one of only 45 in the nation.

- UK HAS ENTERED THE WORLD OF SUPERCOMPUTERS

The University is now one of only 17 universities in the nation to acquire a "supercomputer." UK's IBM 300E supercomputer should be operational in early 1988. The new equipment, which will attract much more research funding and grants, will also be made available to undergraduate students, a rarity at any university.

- UK FEATURES SOME OF THE BEST FACULTY IN NATION

Some examples:

DAVID KAO, a member of the Civil Engineering faculty, was recently named one of the nation's Top 100 researchers by Science Digest Magazine.

JACQUELINE NOONAN, a pediatrician, was selected by a national publication as one of the country's foremost physicians.

JOSEPH KUC, a member of the plant pathology faculty, is internationally known for his highly promising work in the immunization of plants against disease.

GUY DAVENPORT, an English professor who is a Rhodes Scholar and the author of many scholarly books, has been called, "the smartest man in the world today," by a newspaper columnist.

GLENN COLLINS, a member of the Agronomy faculty, is the winner of the top award presented by the Crop Science Society of America for his work in plant genetics.

- THE FACULTY AT UK ARE AN IMPORTANT STATE "INDUSTRY"

UK faculty brought to the University and the state last year more than $51 million in research grants and sponsored programs — a valuable resource to the economic development of the Commonwealth. UK ranks among the Top 100 research universities in federal research funding, the only one so-ranked in the state.

- UK HAS SOME OF THE MOST OUTSTANDING PROGRAMS IN THE NATION

- The sociology department received the American Sociological Association's annual award for teaching, the first time this prize has gone to an entire department.

- The College of Education's reading program faculty was judged one of the nation's ten best.

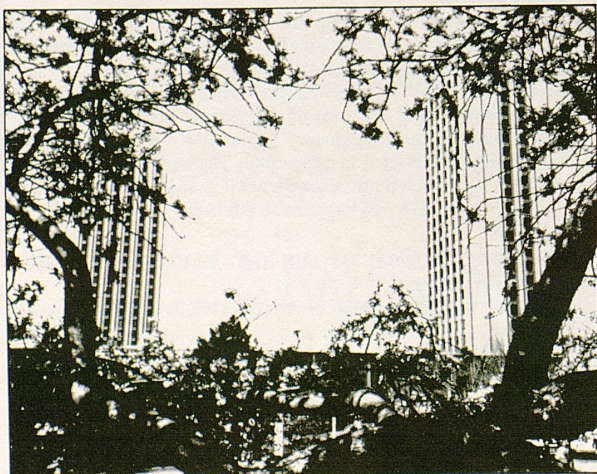

- The cancer research program at UK has been further enhanced by two new modern facilities for treatment and research.

- The Equine Research program, for a long time a research hallmark at UK, has one of the top research facilities in the world, the new Maxwell Gluck Equine Research Center.

- The College of Agriculture is noted world-wide for its development of burley tobacco varieties resistant to the five major diseases affecting that crop, for its research in no-till farming and just recently for the development of Johnstone Fescue, a grass that may save farmers hundreds of millions of dollars annually.

- UK HAS IMPRESSIVE LIST OF ALUMNI

Included in The University of Kentucky's long list of 106,000 alumni are seven governors, two Nobel Prize winners, one astronaut and several Chief Executive Officers of national corporations.
