Contributors: Colleen Holmes, Peggy Lewis, Rebekah Harleston (editor), Faith Harders, Paul Willis.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT THE MARGARET I. KING LIBRARY, UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY, LEXINGTON, KY. 40506

ABOUT THE LIBRARY

The ACTS nominating committee will immediately begin to consider candidates for office in that organization. If you are willing to serve in an elective capacity, let Lynn Shrewsbury know.

Fine Books

"An exhibition of 50 of the most important books in the history of Religion and Philosophy, Fine Arts, Science, History and Travel, and Literature drawn from the rare book collection in the Department of Special Collections, University of Kentucky Libraries."

An illustrated catalog is available for $2.50. The books in the exhibit were selected and described by David Farrell.

The story of "Freedom of the Press" is as alive today as it was when John Milton wrote Aeropogitica in 1644 (no. 47 in the exhibit)

ERIC Wants You

The ERIC/IR Clearinghouse is actively engaged in acquiring materials for entering into the ERIC data base. The Clearinghouse on Information Resources is seeking materials in its field, and that field is widely interpreted. For further information about the Clearinghouse and its purposes, types of publications accepted by the ERIC system, see Mr. Willis.

Lunch Time Can Be Fun Time

Remember the Summer Noontime Film Festival of Classic Films, July 9-10 at the Student Center.

Venture farther afield for "brown bag" lunch in the Park at Cheapside, with a musical background.
