Dear Brother      Hunters Hill June 1st 1857

I received your letter few days ago and would of answered it the same day But had no way of getting it to the post Office. I am farming of it to myself and have but one Horse and that is as blind as a Bat and I am almost afraid to ride him so I concluded to wait untill to day so as to kill two Birds with one rock mail the letter and be at court too, I But seldom go to court now and in fact this is the first court I have been to since January court and nothing brought me here to day but to mail this letter myself so as to keep from getting another such soold as you give me in your last letter which was very severe, I shall not offer much apology as I needed some of it. But I hope by this time my last letter has come to hand and then I think you will say I did not deserve all of it, I say the next time I wait as long before writing to you you must fire away and as the saying is give me Gals. Well enough of my fool talk as you wished to know something in regard to other matters Well the first thing you wished to know of was if I was married and settled for life
