January 8th, 1909.

Walter S. Harkins, Esq.,

Prestonsburg, Ky.

Dear Sir:

I hold the note of Mrs. N. B. D. May for $2133.75, dated on the 16th day of December, 1905, and payable two years after its date, with interest from its date. This note was executed to Henry & Graham, as you remember, for our fee in the suit contesting the will of the late Colonel A. J. May, and for expenditures made by us in that case, and the note was transferred to me by the firm.

Mrs. May paid some interest on this note about a year ago. I am not sure whether she paid one years interest or two years interest; the check which she sent me will show.

I am very much in need of this money, and I have written to Mrs. May several times recently, asking her to pay it, but she pays no attention whatever to my letters. I therefore take the liberty of writing to you and asking that you will call her attention to it, as you are her counsel and kinsman.

I repeat, that I would not be urgent about this matter if I was not greatly pressed for money. I have some engagements to meet at once, and I cannot meet them unless
