

January 28, 1936.

Glo, Kentucky.

Be It Known:

That John E. Jenkins, Principal, of the Glo Grade School never did call a political meeting in the school before or after the November Election.

Trustee, J. S. Hampton did call a political meeting of the teachers in The Glo Grade School at noon hour a few days before the November election.

The following words or words to that effect are stated here:

MR HAMPTON:

We, as you teachers know are about to enter a school election and I am interested in Mr. Guy Childers and Mr. Bailey who if elected will give me a new school room here next year. I know that Mr. Hall will help these two men carry out their promise to me, when he becomes our county superintendent.

You have a right to support who ever you want to: it will have no effect upon you getting your job here next year. How ever this election is costing me time and money and if you can't be on my side I would appreciate your being quite and not taking sides or an active part againsts me. As you all know if your side wins it very nice: If your side loses you ofcourse relize the position you place your-self in.

MR. JENKINS, PRINCIPAL

Mr. Hampton, and teachers; I am of the opinion that the administration should be supported by every teacher in the county.
