ISI WORKSHOP

ISI will be presenting a workshop sponsored by CEKOUG on October 6 at UK. The workshop will be held from 9:00 to 4:00 in Room 104-B of King Library South. It is a revised full-day session that will update searchers on new fields and features of the ISI data bases.

The session will cover SciSearch, Current Contents Search, Arts and Humanities Search, and Social SciSearch on Dialog. Topics covered include cost effective searching techniques, with particular emphasis on cited reference searches. Each attendee will receive a copy of the presentation, quick reference search aids, a User Guide, and will have hands-on practice at the site. Knowledge of Dialog commands is needed for the session.

The regular registration fee for the ISI workshop is $65.00. You may pay by check, credit card, or choose to be billed. Call 1-800-523-1850, ext. 1401 to pre-register. The registration deadline is ten business days before the workshop date. You will be asked which workshop you wish to attend, choice of user guide, and method of payment. A confirmation letter will be sent from ISI with site details approximately two weeks before the workshop is to be given. If you have any questions regarding the workshop call Mary Vass at 606-257-1351.

The first ten CEKOUG members who register for this workshop will receive a $10.00 discount from the regular fee. If you are eligible for this discount now or would like to become a CEKOUG member ($7.00), please contact Mary Vass, Education Library, 205 Dickey Hall, University of Kentucky, Lexington, KY 40506 (phone 606-257-1351) before registering directly with ISI. The executive committee hopes to offer similar discounts on other CEKOUG workshops.

The assistantships may be held in any of the humanities disciplines and in other fields where the research is directed to humanistic inquiry.

Faculty members wishing to apply are requested to submit a brief statement including: a. a definition of the project (250-500 words), b. the role of, and benefits to, the undergraduate assistant, c. the name of the student being considered, if known, and the reasons for that choice. Applications must be delivered no later than September 25, 1989 to Undergraduate Assistantship, Gains Center, 232 East Maxwell St., CAMPUS 0344.
