DEANS DEMAND COOPERATION OF DRAMATIC CIRQUE

Faculty Advisor Must Exercise More Authority Over Organization STROLLER PRESIDENT DENIES FALSE RUMOR Group Intends to Function As In Past, Fahey Asserts In Statement

More authority must be exercised by the faculty advisor of Strollers, in order for the dramatic organization to function under the approval of the University, according to the deans of the University. This was the decision reached at a meeting of the Stroller officers and the deans on October 18, in Miss Blanding's office. "The Strollers have been instructed to map out their plans for the year and present them for approval to the deans of the University. If the Strollers are to continue to go on as in the past, they must have a competent faculty advisor. The deans are willing to back the Stroller, if they are willing to cooperate with the deans and put forth the proper effort," said Dean Blanding to a Kerkhoff reporter yesterday. In an interview with James Fahey, president of Strollers, who took over the office recently after the resignation of S. Hollingsworth, Fahey expressed the intention of coming to terms with the deans in the near future. He stated that he had no intention of disbanding the organization. "I feel that the organization is a part of the University and that it should be worked out that will allow a continuation of the organization as an undergraduate dramatic circle," he said. "The deans of the University have been asked if the Dramatic circle had any idea of disbanding. "Any rumor to the fact that the Strollers are considering the breaking up of that organization is absolutely false, and out of question. Strollers have never entertained such an idea, since I have been president of the organization. The organization intends to continue as in the past, with a wider scope of activities than in the past." The organization intends to continue as in the past, with a wider scope of activities than in the past.

ALUMNUS WINS '32 NOBEL PRIZE

Thomas Hunt Morgan, Class Of 1886, Receives Honor For Research Work In Medicine AWARD WORTH $46,000

One of the highest honors ever to be given a graduate of the University in Lexington, known as the Nobel prize for medicine to Dr. Thomas Hunt Morgan, international biologist, was conferred on him at Stockholm, Sweden, last week. The award was made in recognition of his discoveries concerning the eugenic functions of chromosomes. Born in a house on the northwest corner of Mill and Second streets in Lexington, known as the Gen. John Hunt Morgan home, in 1866, Doctor Morgan attended the University, and was graduated in the Phi Beta Kappa class in 1889 to receive an honorary doctor's degree. Announcement of the award came on the eve of the commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite, and originator of the prize. No exact cash value of the prize has yet been released, but it is expected to be at least $46,500, the value of the prize in 1930. Doctor Morgan joined the University in 1888. Doctor Morgan began a long teaching career at Bryn Mawr and Columbia colleges, which terminated when he became director of the William C. Kerchoff laboratory of biological sciences at the California Institute of Technology in 1928. He received his masters and doctor degrees from Johns Hopkins University. Doctor Morgan has established a reputation which extends over two continents. Some of his special researches have been upon chromosomes and genes, during which he has discovered the laws of heredity and the secret of life itself. A few of his (Continued on Page Four)

W. & L. GENERALS WIN OVER 'CATS BY 7-0 COUNT

Big Blue Is Conspicuous by Lack of Coordinate Play And Blocking W. & L. MAKES 94 YARD DRIVE FOR ONLY SCORE

Better Form Is Expected For Annual Duke Battle Next Saturday BY JAY LUCIAN Number 13 proved to be unlucky in actuality for the Wildcats, leaders of the Washington and Lee conference, as they lost a 7 to 0 decision, Saturday afternoon in the Washington and Lee Generals in the 13th football contest between the two schools. When they did come to life, the Generals rushed the sluggish, lacking huster Wildcats from the beginning of the fray and played at top speed throughout the contest, scoring one touchdown and successfully repulsing the attempts of the Kentuckians when they did come to life. Kentucky was woefully conspicuous by its lack of coordinate play and blocking. Perhaps it was the effect of three hard games in a row, for they appeared to be an overworked team from the one that took the field and wrested victory from the powerful team of Orange Tech. two weeks ago. Although the Wildcats gained more first downs, the game was fairly even throughout, except in the third quarter when the Generals, led by Seaton and Sawyer, drove 94 yards for a touchdown. The Wildcats were held for several times close to the Big Blue goal line. Kercheval again was outstanding in his defensive play. Kentucky's most consistent ground gainer was Pritchard who carried the ball nine times for an average of five yards on each run. Rupert, James, and Joe Lockwood were also conspicuous.

Y. W. WILL HAVE GROUP MEETINGS

Activities for This Week Will Include Several Student Assemblies for Organized Discussion

Y. W. C. A. activities for the week include the World Fellowship group and the Social Service group meetings Wednesday afternoon, and Freshman group meetings Wednesday afternoon and Thursday night. Miss Hilda Capablanca, graduate student from Havana, Cuba, will address the World Fellowship group at 3 p. m. Wednesday in the Women's building. She will discuss the present political situation in Cuba with special emphasis on the part that students are taking in the government. The World Fellowship group under the direction of Mary Caroline Terrell, meets bi-weekly to study international student problems. The next problem to be studied is the question of Jewish persecution in Germany. All members of the group are invited to attend the meetings. "Why the Depression" will be the subject of a talk given by Dr. Esmeralda, who is presently in the department, Wednesday at 4 p. m. in the Women's building before the members of the Social Service group. Dr. Cole will give a background for the study of social welfare work for the unemployed, which is being held at 4 p. m. Wednesday in the Women's building. The subject for discussion Wednesday will be "How to Dress to Sell your Type Most Economically."

HERE'S Energy FOR YOU!

FOLKS who pull a steady stroke in everything they do usually favor that natural energy food, Shredded Wheat.

Here's why. Shredded Wheat is made only of whole wheat—nothing added, nothing taken away. And whole wheat is packed with natural energy elements . . . proteins, vitamins, minerals, carbohydrates and bran. Get enough of these, and your days will be brighter. For these are the vital elements that put a snappy spring in your step. Try it, for at least ten days. Just order "Shredded Wheat." It's ready cooked, ready to eat. Pour on plenty of milk or cream. Top with your favorite fruit. And sail into the finest-tasting energy food a few pennies ever bought.

I keep coming back to that word "balanced" on the back of the Chesterfield package

YOU often hear the word balance—something is out of balance—top-heavy, not on an "even keel."

What you read, "Chesterfield Cigarettes are a balanced blend," means that the right amounts of the right kinds of tobacco are welded together; that is, home-grown tobaccos, the right kind, the right quantity—are blended and cross-blended with tobaccos from Turkey and Greece.

When these tobaccos are balanced one against the other, then you have a mild cigarette. When they are in balance, then you have a better-tasting cigarette.

May we ask you to read again the statement on the back of the Chesterfield package? May we ask you to try Chesterfield?

Having realized that the readers of this paper have become tired of my line of hokey, I have asked a most talented gentleman to write this column today. J. B. Wells, who has shown his fitness as a sports writer, is undertaking for the first time the duties of a columnist. Now J. B. will see that to write a bunch of stuff twice a week for a bunch of critical readers is not as easy as it would appear. Here it is, folks.

By JOHN BRITTON WELLS
 Taking my seat in the proverbial pressbox for the first time, I believe that the Wildcats are a very temperamental football team. As the old saying goes: "When they're up they're up, and when they're down they're down." When the Big Blue met the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets we witnessed in our opinion the greatest football game ever played on Stoll field; we decided that the end of the season would see Kentucky undefeated and ready for that long-awaited trip to the Rose Bowl, but since that time the same team for which our fond hopes soared so high has been in one of its temperamental moods.

In their first showing of the year the Kittens showed that Coach Fribble has not been loafing on the job, and that those high school stars of which we have been hearing so much are really all that they are "cracked up to." The most outstanding ball carrier of the day was "Old Train," Bert Johnson of Ashland high school fame. The most outstanding play of the game, however, came when Frank Walker leaped into the air and took a pass out of the hands of an opposing halfback who had the ball in his hands at the time.

Little has been said about the way the game came out at Roanoke Saturday, but the 'Cats expect to have something to say after the battle with Wallace Wade's Duke aggregation here Saturday. It may be that the bold threat that "A Kentucky team will never beat me" made by Wade several years ago will be proved correct, if the Big Blue recuperates from that moodiness which has pervaded for the past two weeks. The twelve games with "Wade-bull" teams Kentucky has lost every one, and by the law of averages it is bound high time that the Wildcats came through with a victory.

JOHNSON LEADS KITTENS TO 19-6 WIN

By NORMAN GARLING
 Led by Johnson, Kouns and Farris, all former Ashland stars, the University of Kentucky Kittens avenged themselves last Saturday when they defeated the Vanderbilt Rats by a one-sided score of 19 to 6.

Johnson made the score decisive in the last quarter when, with the beautiful blocking of Kouns, he ran 44 yards around left end for a touchdown.

Vanderbilt kicked off to Kouns, who received the ball on his own 10-yard line and ran it back for the 32-yard line. Johnson brought the ball to Vanderbilt's 11-yard line in five attempts. The Kittens penalized 25 yards, but on the next play Johnson took the ball to Vanderbilt's 2-yard line. Farris crashed through the center of the line for a touchdown, and Kouns' place-kick for the extra point was good.

Kentucky kicked off to Vanderbilt and Peebles kicked it back to his own 40-yard line. The Kittens were penalized 25 yards. Trull lost 20 yards on an attempted end run. Vanderbilt punted to Kentucky's 40-yard line. Johnson smashed through tackle for two yards, and on the next play he took the ball around right end for 20 yards. Johnson made three yards through left tackle, and Farris made a yard through center. Vanderbilt punted on first down; Johnson took the ball on Vanderbilt's 40-yard line and returned it 15 yards. Walker gained 15 yards around left end as the quarter ended.

Kouns' pass to Farris was incomplete. Kouns passed and it was intercepted by Plisman, who ran it back 20-yards. On the next play Brown passed to Plisman for a touchdown, but the try for extra point was blocked. The remainder of the quarter was taken up with an exchange of punts.

Vanderbilt kicked off to Kentucky, and the Kittens started a march down the field that did not stop until they had crossed the goal line for their second touchdown. Kouns' try for the extra point was low.

Vanderbilt's attempts at the line were so small and they punted to Greenwell who returned it 15 yards. The Kittens started another march down the field with Johnson made 10 yards through center, followed by Farris who made 5 yards through the same hole. Johnson passed and it was intercepted by Vanderbilt. Vanderbilt punted to his own 45-yard line. Johnson made 15 yards through left tackle, and followed this with a spectacular 44-yard run around left end, while Kouns paved the way with perfect blocking. Johnson's kick for the extra point failed.

Scandal Snickerings

By CAMERON COFFMAN

"There isn't much to tell... that is, we toured off to Roanoke with the expectation of picking up a few choice morsels, but for as we know, nothing much happened besides the football game that we had misfortune to have. Fribble and Davis was sent to Virginia to lead cheers for the Wildcat fans... all he needed for a cheering section was some Wildcat fans... so Red was assigned to the "chain gang"... he chased the ten-yard chain up and down the field all afternoon. Lamb-dinky Ralph Salyers and Sartor Stewart were seen several times. Kappas Ann Payne Perry and Mary Ford Offutt journeyed to the Virginia city to witness the Kentucky team in action and visit their "Alma Mammy" Hollins College... Kappa's Carolyn Quigley and Georgia Turnipseed were seen lounging about the lobby of the Patrick Henry Hotel... Oh yes, 'tis rumored that Carolyn has a "beau lover" on the General's team at W. & L... his name is Bailey... Jack is the first name of the football player, too... Dellaw O. B. Coffman and S.P.E. John St. John came in as the general manager of the football player. Chambers was very anxious to make the trip... What's his name, Scotty? Kadee pleb, Sarah Kinney also expressed her desire to go to the game.

Co-Educational, huh?
 One of the do-nothing papers carried a news item on the campus election in which it said that Anna Jones, a member of Delta Tau Delta, was elected as vice-president.

Whattakin Goodness
 Several days ago someone intercepted a note from Tridell Marjorie Fieber's college paper... It reads thus:

Mr. Robinson, please don't let Joe G come in here when I'm taking a quiz because he makes me in such a twit. I can't remember anything.

Kay Joe Goodson does have technique with the feminine sex... How do you do it, Joe?

Go West, Young Man, Go West!
 We just saw an account in the paper where Gov. Ruby Laffoon has added Mae West to his ever-growing list of Kentucky Colonels... The Governor received a telegram of thanks from "The West"... She told his governorship to "Come up and see her most anytime."

While visiting in Lewisburg, W. Va., last week-end we saw Harry Rhoads, former kick pleb, and freshman football player of last year, who is attending a military school in that town... he sends his regards to all of his friends.

A Break for You, Freshman Ettles!
 The benefit tag day, the proceeds of which will go to the Student Union building fund, will enable the fair ones to get the campus big game to put their autographs on their "Beat Duke" tag... the sum is a meager five cents... No introduction is necessary... just step up... and ask Gordon "Babe" Burns, George Vogel, Wes Carter, Dutch Kreuter, or Ralph Kennerly, or any of the other campus celebrities... They'll be glad to sign one for you.

works are: "The Development of the Frog's Egg," "Regeneration," "Evolution and Heredity and Sex," "Critique of the Theory of Evolution," "The Physical Basis of Heredity" and various other biological papers and monographs. He has been president of many leading scientific societies in the United States and a member of several famous societies in England, France, Ireland, and Belgium.

Congratulations have been sent to Doctor Morgan by Pres. Frank L. McVey, in behalf of the University and Miss Betty Hulet, secretary of the Alumni association, in behalf of that body. Doctor McVey's telegram was as follows: "The University of Kentucky extends congratulations to its distinguished alumnus upon whom has been conferred a most signal honor, the Nobel prize. The University is honored by your great services as a scientist, philosopher and gentleman. May you have many happy years." Miss Hulet's message said: "The Alumni association is proud of your success. Wish to extend heartfelt congratulations for your splendid work which has earned recognition you have received."

INTRAMURAL

The intramural department will hold physical examinations for the contestants in the annual intramural cross-country race at 3 o'clock in the Alumni gymnasium, Tuesday, October 24. It is very important that every man be there to take the examination since there will be several teams of five each entered, and it is important that every man be examined before the race.

The date of the race is Friday, October 27. The course has been changed and staked off, and the entries must run the new course at least five times to be eligible for the final contest.

Tennis, golf, and horse shoes singles and doubles are in their last stages, and the winners will soon be announced. Due to bad weather the contests have not been played off in the time that they should have been, and several extensions of time have been given. By this time last year the winners had been announced.

a thought

Did you ever stop to think that Mother and Dad would like to read The Kernel? They are as much interested in what is happening at U. of K. as you are. It is impossible for you to tell them of all the interesting events in that weekly letter. By sending them The Kernel you can restrict your letter to the more personal things and leave the rest to us.

Call University 74, drop in the Business Office, or write us a letter, and we will send The Kernel anywhere for $1.00 a semester.
