

Kentucky Kernel

Vol. XCV No. 61

Established 1894

University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky

Independent since 1971

Monday, November 23, 1992

CROWDED TYPE

Nursing senior Sherri McMillin works on a community nursing project yesterday in the Margaret I. King Micro Lab. Student consultant Brian Hoffman said use of the lab has increased since the implementation of a 24-hour schedule.

Faculty trustee says she will not run for re-election to board

By Brian Bennett
Senior Staff Writer

Carolyn Bratt, a staunch promoter of faculty views on the UK Board of Trustees, has announced she will not seek re-election to the board this year.

Bratt, a College of Law professor, cited a desire to devote more time to teaching and research.

"For four or five years, I've been involved in every major issue the University has confronted, and now I think it's time to go back and refocus my energies on the things that I came here to do, and that's teaching research and my service," Bratt said.

Bratt's term expires June 30, 1993.

Since going on the board in 1990, Bratt has been outspoken in representing the views of the faculty and has often criticized the administration.

She was one of only three trustees to vote against Charles Wethington in the 1990 presidential search. She also was a vocal critic of the search process — in which Wethington, the interim president, was allowed to apply for the permanent position.

Bratt also headed a University Senate committee on the status of women at UK. The committee re-

BRATT

Two months ago, Bratt addressed the University Senate and called for performance review of high-level administrators, including the president. She also demanded more faculty representation in the restructuring and realignment process. Though neither proposal reached the board, Bratt said she is pleased with the progress the administration is making in those areas.

Despite facing some roadblocks in what she attempted to accomplish, Bratt said she believes she has fulfilled her duty as faculty trustee.

"To the extent that I have been able to make the University aware of the faculty's position on a number of issues, I think I have been quite effective," she said. "I think I have been able to articulate how the faculty feels on a whole host of issues."

ported in October 1990 that women had been discriminated against and had little chance for advancement into administrative positions.

See BRATT, Back Page

UK defeats Tennessee in annual blood drive

By Lance Williams
Staff Writer

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — The University of Tennessee crushed UK in Saturday's football matchup, but UK gained a measure of respect in the business of saving lives.

The school's students, faculty, staff and fans donated a record 2,350 pints of blood during last week's Big Blue Crush, beating Tennessee by 373 pints in the fifth-annual blood drive competition.

Kathryn Wells, chief administrative officer for the Central Kentucky Blood Center, said an unusually strong turn out this year helped UK and the blood center win the drive's traveling trophy, which was presented at halftime of the UK-Tennessee game.

She speculated that more people gave blood in Lexington this year because they wanted to improve over last year's performance, when UK tied Tennessee with 1,916 pints. The score between the schools now stands at 2-2-1.

Wells also said the decision to have greek organizations included in this drive helped push up the total. In previous years, greeks held a blood drive earlier in the semester, which made them ineligible to give during Big Blue Crush.

She said the support from students on campus helped UK surpass its goal of 2,200 pints.

"We appreciate all the support we got from everybody," she said. "Community and campus support was great."

Support from UK fans in Flemingsburg, Mt. Sterling, Jackson and Irvine also contributed to this year's victory, she added. She said residents in these areas have been supportive every year the blood drive has been held, helping to increase the blood supply over the holidays.

"Competition is fun, but the bottom line is getting enough blood to get us into the Christmas holidays," Wells said. She said the blood would be enough to "definitely get us through Thanksgiving."

BIG BLUE CRUSH

Thursday was a big day for the drive, as the Central Kentucky Blood Center collected 584 pints, setting the all-time, single-day record.

Dentistry college seeks to survive threat of elimination from CHE

By Nicole Heumphreus
Staff Writer

When the state Council on Higher Education announced earlier this month that it was considering scaling back dental colleges at both UK and the University of Louisville, UK officials were quick to calm the fears of dental faculty and students.

"I reassured faculty and students about the continuing existence of UK's College of Dentistry," said Dr. David A. Nash, dean of the college. "I reminded them that both of the schools are extremely important to the oral health and the economy of Kentucky."

Recent cuts in the budgets of the state universities have higher education officials looking for ways to eliminate duplication within the system. One possible example are the dental schools at UK and U of L.

Nash said that, although the college supports almost 50 percent of its own budget through grants and

I reassured faculty ... that both of the schools are extremely important to the oral health and the economy of Kentucky.

— Dr. David A. Nash,
Dean, College of Dentistry

contracts, the state provided $7 million of the college's $13 million budget this fiscal year. But Nash said the $7 million is a worthwhile investment for the state.

"That $7 million represents an investment of the future of over 200 dental students and residents who will open successful businesses and contribute significantly to the revenue of the state," he said.

Nash compared the $7 million spent in one year on UK's College of Dentistry to the $4 million spent daily on Medicare.

The college accepts 40 Kentucky students each year and six to eight students from out of state.

Nash said the best way for the state to save money would be to tell UK and U of L to not accept as many students.

Alex Cassinelli, a third-year dental student, agrees with Nash's solution of not accepting as many students.

"The Council doesn't want to close the college, but I understand that they want to watch taxpayers' money," said Cassinelli, a delegate to the American Association of

See DENTAL, Back Page

INSIDE:

SPORTS MONDAY:
Wildcats close out football season the way they have the past five weeks — with a loss. Story and Column, Page 4.
NCAA cross country championships are today at Bloomington, Ind. Story, Page 4.

DIVERSIONS:
Daf Lappard proves worth the 45-minute wait. Review, Page 6.

WEATHER:
Mostly cloudy and cooler today; high 50 to 55. Mostly cloudy tonight; low around 40. Cloudy with a 30 percent chance of rain late tomorrow afternoon; high near 60.

CORRECTION:
Because of a photographer's error, Anna Bolling, assistant dean of students, was misidentified in a column in the Nov. 13 edition of the Kentucky Kernel.

INDEX:
Sports Monday 4
Diversion 6
Classifieds 7

Computer center director finalist in Florida search

By Brian Bennett
Senior Staff Writer

A UK administrator is among the finalists in the hunt for a top position at the University of Florida.

John Connolly, director of the Center for Computational Sciences, is one of six candidates being considered for Florida's combined positions of vice president of research and dean of the graduate school.

The Florida search committee chose Connolly and the other finalists from a list of about 120 applicants. The candidates will interview and make a campus visit in December, and the position will be filled shortly thereafter.

Connolly, who received his doctorate in physics and worked for eight years at the University of Florida, said he was asked to apply for the post. He said he doesn't know many details about the job yet.

"I think Florida has a slightly larger research commitment than UK," he said. "But I really haven't looked into it."

A native of Canada, Connolly received his undergraduate degree at the University of Toronto. He was on the faculty at Florida from 1970 to '78. After working in Washington, D.C., he came to UK in 1987.

When the search committee met to pare down the candidates from 11 to six earlier this month, Connolly was praised highly by committee chairman Yngvie Ohrn.

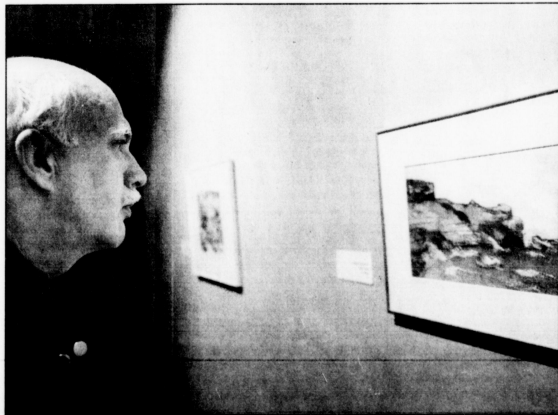

Ohrn worked in the same department as Connolly when Connolly was on the UF faculty.

"I wouldn't say we were best friends," Connolly said of Ohrn. "I'd say we were colleagues. I knew him at the time."

According to the student newspaper, The Alligator, the finalist who received the most votes of approval by the committee, however, was insider candidate Donald Price.

Price currently is interim vice president of research/dean of graduate school and has been at Florida for the past 12 years.

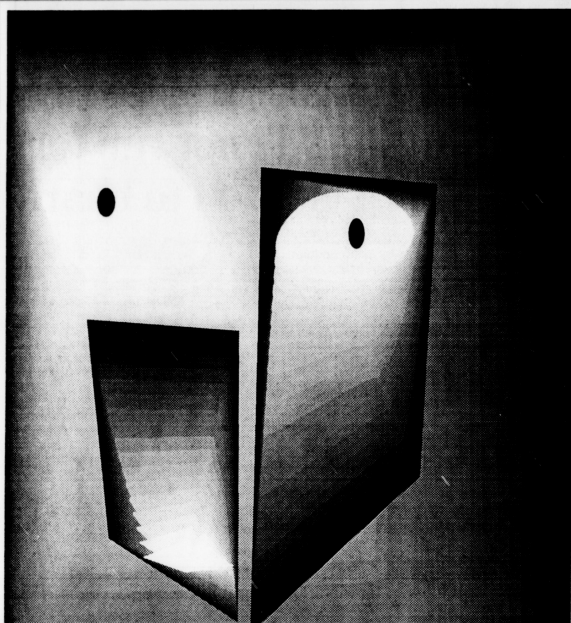

SEASIDE

UK graduate Larry Stanley, of Lexington, views works from the UK Art Museum exhibit Painting Portugal yesterday in the Otis A. Singletary Center for the Arts.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

The Campus Calendar appears in the Monday edition of the Kentucky Kernel. All organizations wishing to publish meetings, lectures, special events, and sporting events, must have all information to SAB in room 203 of the Student Center 1 week prior to publication.

'AWAKE'
LECTURE SERIES
Tuesday, December 1
6:00-10:30pm

An Explosive course in Afri-centricity

ART & MOVIES

Monday 11/23
• TICKETS ON SALE!! Tickets for Spotlight Jazz individual shows are on sale at TicketMaster; general public, students, faculty and administration; call 257-8427.
• TICKETS ON SALE!! Tickets for the Next Stage Series are on sale at TicketMaster; general public, students, faculty and administration; call 257-8427.
• Exhibition: Directors' Choice; Headley-Whitney Museum; thru 11/29; call 255-6653.
• Exhibition: With Joy and Wonder; Ante-Bellum Taste in the Bluegrass; UK Art Museum; thru 11/29; call 257-5716.
• Exhibit: Frederic Thurz; A Tribute, UK Art Museum; thru 12/20.
• Exhibit: Sheldon Tapley, Recent Landscapes; The Galbreath Gallery; thru 11/92.
• Exhibit: Lexington Creative Camera Club; Rasdall Gallery.
• Performance: UK Percussion Ensemble; free; SCFA Concert Hall; 8pm; call 257-4929.

Tuesday 11/24
• SAB movie: Torrents of Spring; free; Student Center, Center Theater; 7:30pm.
• Performance: UK Wind Ensemble; free; SCFA Concert Hall; 8pm; call 257-4929.

SPORTS

Tuesday 11/24
• UK Basketball: Wildcats vs Ukraine National - exhibition game; Rupp Arena; call 257-1818.

Sunday 11/29
• Ticket Distribution Begins: Wildcat Basketball vs Wright State; Memorial Coliseum; call 257-6867.

MEETINGS & LECTURES

Monday 11/23
• Classes: Akido Beginner Classes; 8:30pm; Alumni Gym Loft; call 269-4035.
• Lecture: "Changing Management in the National Forests: A Forest Service Perspective"; Cooper Bldg., room 113; 3pm.

Tuesday 11/24
Monty Ross
Filmmaking Seminar
Worsham Theater
7:30 p.m.

• Meeting: Water Ski Team and Club Meetings (Weekly meetings); 8:30pm; Student Center, room 106; call 255-1268.

• Bible Study: Black Campus Ministry, Bible Study (Weekly meetings); free; 7pm; Student Center, room 205; call 254-1811.
• Workshop: Writer's Bloc Weekly Workshop; Old Student Center, room 119; 5-7pm.
• Lecture: "Styrofoam in Food Services: Dart Co. Proposal"; Student Center, Room 359; 6pm; call 257-6156.

Wednesday 11/25
• Classes: Akido Beginner Classes; 8:30pm; Alumni Gym Loft; call 269-4035.
• Meeting: Encounter (Religious); Student Center, room 359; 7pm; call 276-2362.

Thursday 11/26
• Meeting: CN2 - Catholic Newman Center Night; Newman Center, 320 Rose Lane; 7:30-8:30pm; call 255-8566.

Saturday 11/28
• Mass: Catholic Mass; 320 Rose Lane, Newman Center; 6pm; call 255-8566.

Sunday 11/29
• Classes: Akido Beginner Classes; 1pm; Alumni Gym Loft; call 269-4035.
• Mass: Catholic Mass; 320 Rose Lane, Newman Center; 9:00am, 11:30am; 5:00pm, 8:30pm; call 255-8566.

COULD it SOUND a little MORE purple

JAY KENNEDY

FREE LECTURE
Tuesday, Nov., 24, 12:30 Recital Hall
Singletary Center for the Arts

CAMPUS BRIEFS

AIDS project launched at medical college

The UK College of Medicine's Department of Preventive Medicine and Environmental Health has been awarded a $70,000, one-year contract to research information networks about AIDS and HIV disease among physicians, dentists and other health-care professionals.

The project involves the educational programs and publications of the 17 federally funded AIDS Education and Training Centers. UK has participated in one such center, the East Central AETC, since 1987. It serves Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Tennessee.

Under the grant, UK will review how individual ATECs are collecting and distributing HIV/AIDS information. The project also will produce a number of directories and guides to the educational products and programs about AIDS and HIV diseases that currently are available to health-care professionals.

Judy Stephenson, project coordinator of the East Center AETC, and Dr. Terence Collins, professor of preventive medicine and environmental health, will co-direct the contract.

Stephenson said the contract is the first attempt by a federal agency to study how HIV/AIDS information for health-care professionals is being collected and distributed across the United States, Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

"We are working to improve the transfer of information from federally funded agencies to health-care practitioners in the field," she said. "Information about HIV disease undergoes frequent and rapid change. It is important that health-care professionals have the most current information to treat and care for patients with HIV disease."

The project is funded by the Health Resources and Services Administration of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

POLICE LOG

ARRESTS BY UK POLICE

Nov. 17:
• Walls, Richard; 27; 105 Grosser; Nicholasville, Ky.; alcohol intoxication.

Nov. 18:
• Pass, Danette Kim; 34; 1036 Taylor Rd.; Danville, Ky., possession of marijuana, less than eight ounces.

Nov. 19:
• Owen, Jason; 20; 2113 Kirwan Tower; alcohol intoxication.

Nov. 20:
• Brown, Hulon D.; 40; 420 S. Wilshood St.; Nashville, Tenn.; driving under the influence of intoxicants; driving on a suspended operator's license; possession of marijuana.

COMPLAINTS FILED WITH UK POLICE

Nov. 6:
• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300 (misdemeanor); Kentucky Clinic information desk; items not listed removed; Ron Loveless, complainant.

Nov. 8:
• Theft by unlawful taking, more than $300 (felony); 229 Blanding IV; bicycle removed from rack; Lisa Taylor, complainant.
• Theft by unlawful taking, more than $300; 146 Seaton Center; items not listed removed; Chon H. Goh, complainant.

Nov. 9:
• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; Kirwan III laundry room; items not listed removed; UK, complainant.

Nov. 12:
• Theft by unlawful taking, more than $300; Kirwan III; bicycle removed from rack; Charles B. Barton, complainant.
• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; UK Hospital, second-floor hallway; items not listed removed; John M. Perkins, complainant.

nant.
• Theft by unlawful taking, undetermined amount; 476 Rose St.; items not listed removed; Janice Austin, complainant.
• Theft by unlawful taking, more than $300; Kirwan Tower; bicycle removed from rack; Catherine W. Hughes, complainant.

Nov. 14:
• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; UK Hospital; bicycle removed from rack; Joseph Bennett, complainant.
• Theft by unlawful taking, undetermined amount; UK Hospital; purse removed from ground-floor locker; Geraldine Perry, complainant.
• Assault, fourth degree; Euclid and Woodland avenues; complainant, Allen B. Burch said he was attacked by two white males, suffering a broken jaw that required surgery.

• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; 1110 Blanding Tower; items not listed removed; Mary Weston, complainant.
• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; 1110 Blanding Tower; items not listed removed; Jennifer Johnson, complainant.
• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; A27 Cooperstown Apartments; items not listed removed; Jennifer Ball, complainant.

Nov. 15:
• Menacing; Huguelt Drive; suspect threatened pedestrians with a hand gun; Valerie Renee McGaughey, complainant.
• Menacing; Huguelt Drive; suspect threatened pedestrian with a hand gun; Tyler Andrews Dingle, complainant.

Nov. 16:
• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; 33 Dickey Hall; items not listed removed; Charles Reedy, complainant.
• Theft by unlawful taking, more than $300; 124 Seaton Center; items not listed removed; Nancy Jo Bowers, complainant.
• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; H304 UK Hospital; wallet removed from purse; Patricia X. Bolanos, complainant.

• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; University of Kentucky Bookstore; items not listed removed; Meg O'Connor, complainant.

Nov. 17:
• Theft by unlawful taking, more than $300; MN246 UK Hospital; items not listed removed; Elmar T. Schmeisser, complainant.

• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; Kirwan I; items not listed removed; Jennifer Hugenberg, complainant.

• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; 202 Oswald Building; items not listed removed; Susette Robinson, complainant.

• Burglary, third degree; 002 Pence Hall; items not listed removed; Cathy E. Jones, complainant.

Nov. 18:
• Theft by unlawful taking, more than $300; Kirwan I; bicycle removed from rack; Nathan Smith, complainant.

• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; 117 Pence Hall; items not listed removed; Mary Mathes, complainant.

• Theft by unlawful taking, less than $300; Margaret I. King Library South; items not listed removed; Kimberly Brook Bowman, complainant.

Nov. 19:
• Theft by unlawful taking, more than $300; UK Hospital; Automated Teller Machine card used without permission; Karen J. Moss, complainant.

• Theft by unlawful taking, more than $300; 390 Chemistry-Physics Building; items not listed removed; Cecil D. Garrett, complainant.

HELP THE KIDS

Med. Center Deli
Nov. 24 8-1

New system saves time on college applications

By Sonya Ross
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Jerry Paxton watched for four months as his son labored over one handwritten college application after another. Then Jerry hit on an idea:

A computer network that allows students to fill out a single application and funnel it electronically to several colleges at once.

So he created College Link, a year-old service based in Concord, Mass., that is plugging about 1,000 college applicants into the admissions offices of 400 schools, shortening the application process to a few hours.

"I asked myself, 'Isn't there possibly a better way?'" said Paxton, a former executive for a computer manufacturing company. "It's been a popular concept with the colleges."

College Link works like this: students send for a $30 software package and load the software onto personal computers, or those at school. After writing essays and figuring out what information they plan to send, they enter the data into the computer as outlined by a list of instructions.

Students can use the process for applications to up to 12 of the 400 colleges, about a dozen of which waive application fees for College Link users.

The students store the information on a computer diskette and mail the diskette to a processing center, which forwards the information it contains to the students' chosen colleges.

The service waives its $30 fee for students who can't afford it. Between 10 percent and 15 percent of College Link users were granted waivers, Paxton said.

"It clearly should be available to everyone," Paxton said. "We found nearly half the kids actually did it in their high schools. It's encouraged by many schools."

A broad range of colleges participate in College Link: large, small, public, private, all-male, all-female, liberal arts, technological.

Julia Mark, 16, of Reading, Mass., applied to five colleges through Paxton's service. It took 1 1/2 hours. Another college to which she applied, Brown University, is not on Paxton's service; that application took two weeks, Mark said.

"It was a real lifesaver," said Mark, who wants to major in chemistry. "A lot of my friends are still worrying about finishing their nine or 10 applications by hand, and I've finished mine."

Charles Nolan, director of admissions for Babson College in Wellesley, Mass., said College Link helps his office efficiently handle a last-minute rush of applications for the business management college, which enrolls about 2,200 full-time students.

"Our fax machine is smoking right around the deadline date," Nolan said. "This is a very natural thing for contemporary students. If you'd asked me five years ago if this was possible, I would say only in one's mind."

After his son Greg's January-to-April application marathon, Paxton used his own service last year for daughter Ashley's applications. Greg "basically ended up attending the last college he applied to," while Ashley "knew by December 15th where she was going."

"When a student is doing six to eight applications, the latter ones tend to diminish in quality," Paxton said.

ACLU official: MTV ban tip of censorship iceberg

Associated Press

FRANKFORT, Ky.—A decision to remove MTV from a city-run cable television system is part of a larger effort to impose fundamentalist views on society, an American Civil Liberties Union official warned.

"The MTV controversy here in Frankfort is only the tip of the iceberg," Kentucky ACLU Director Everett Hoffman told about 45 people who gathered Saturday to demonstrate against censorship and rally behind MTV.

Hoffman said the removal of MTV from the cable system is linked with a national effort "to erase barriers between church and state."

The gathering listened to live music, speeches and book readings at a rally organized after the Frankfort Electric and Water Plant Board decided earlier this month to take MTV, VH-1 and Nickelodeon off the air.

The board based its MTV decision on moral grounds, expressing concern about the affect of sex and violence in some of the videos on unsupervised children. The other two networks will be dropped for financial reasons.

Most people at the rally were young, a contrast to those who attended a public meeting on the MTV controversy last Thursday that drew people of all ages.

Former gubernatorial candidate Gatewood Galbraith started the rally by saying the plant board's decision is censorship.

Galbraith, a Lexington attorney, said MTV "is a political channel as much as an entertainment channel." He suggested that plant board members disagreed with the channel's political content.

British leaders quibble over who will pay for castle

Associated Press

LONDON — As firefighters guarded Windsor Castle from further flames yesterday, opposition lawmakers questioned why taxpayers might have to pay to repair the queen's weekend residence.

Newspapers also speculated whether the fire was a clarion call to Britons doubting the relevance of their monarchy, or whether it underlined how rundown Britain has become.

Friday's fire, which took more than nine hours to contain, severely damaged several historic rooms in the northwest corner of the castle, including St. George's Hall, the ornate banquet hall for visiting heads of state.

"It's a nightmare, and I keep hoping to wake up," Prince Charles told spectators after attending church near another royal estate, Sandringham, in eastern England. "The whole family was devastated."

Queen Elizabeth II has not presented a bill to Parliament for repairs to the 11th century castle.

The cause of the fire were still unknown, Dickie Arbiter, a spokesman for Buckingham Palace, said it also was not known what items in the castle's rich art collection may have been lost.

"There will be a lot of cross-cataloging to do before we will know the answers. One person who will know is her majesty. The queen knows everything in the castle, and if it's missing she'll know," Arbiter said.

Soldiers of the Household Cavalry returned rescued valuables to the castle yesterday.

Normal Sunday services were held at St. George's Chapel, and visitors were allowed back on the castle grounds, although well away from the devastated area.

Eighteen firefighters were on duty overnight at the hilltop castle, 20 miles west of London.

William the Conqueror began building Windsor Castle about 1070. It was greatly expanded and altered in the following centuries, and the queen spends most weekends there. About 630,000 tourists visited the grounds last year.

The castle contains works by Holbein, Rembrandt, Rubens, Van Dyck, Canaletto and Leonardo da Vinci, tapestries, books and collections of furniture and porcelain.

Heritage Secretary Peter Brooke said Saturday that the government would pay for the reconstruction, but there were plenty of dissenting voices.

The Sunday Mirror ran an editorial headlined: "The bill's yours, Ma'am."

"When people say the taxpayer will pay for this, is that another cut in expenditure on the homeless and those on social security, or is it additional expenditure?" opposition Labor party lawmaker Tony Benn told The Sunday Times.

Alan Williams, another Labor lawmaker, told BBC radio: "We have an anomalous situation where the taxpayer picks the bills for disasters and for losses, but the royals don't return the financial favor."

SAY HI!
IN THE KERNEL

NOW OPEN

ARCATTIC

10% discount to those holding valid college I.D.

Hours: Mon-Fri 10-6 Sat 10-5

ARCAttic is a non-profit retail store selling "Upscale Basics" clothing, vintage clothing and accessories. Consignments are welcomed by appointment. Call Sharon Calhoun at (606) 233-7423. Proceeds from ARCAttic support the programs for the Association for Retarded Citizens.

1496 Leestown Road, Lexington, (606) 233-7423

CONCORD CUSTOM CLEANERS

UK DISCOUNT COUPON

Present this coupon to receive 20% OFF any regular-priced dry cleaning order.

—ALSO—

SHIRTS 99¢—Laundered on hangers

PRESENT COUPON WITH INCOMING ORDER

Not valid with any other coupon or discount. Coupon valid Monday-Saturday, Nov. 23-28

14 LEXINGTON LOCATIONS TO SERVE YOU

Nearest UK location: 881 E. High 269-9213

Across from Rite Aid

Same Day Service • Drive Thru Convenience

Solutions from your Apple Campus Reseller:
The Apple Computer Loan.

"Why should I wait in line at the computer lab when I can own a Macintosh for $15 a month?"

Kevin Campbell
Aerospace Engineering Major

What allowed Kevin to own an Apple® Macintosh® PowerBook® 145 computer for such a low monthly payment? The Apple Computer Loan. Kevin knew that owning the power and portability of a Macintosh PowerBook for his full course load and his work in the Civil Air Patrol was a smart thing to do. And the Apple Computer Loan was the smart way to do it: easy application, fast turnaround and low, flexible payment terms. So Kevin went to the only place that offers the Apple Computer Loan, his Apple Campus Reseller.

Macintosh. It's more than a present, it's a future.

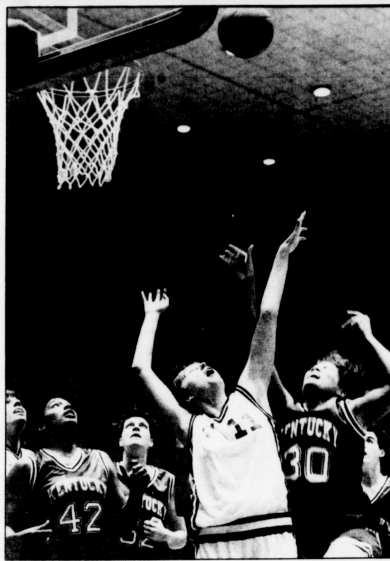

For all of your computer needs visit
PC Sales

Room 107 of the Student Center
Monday thru Friday 8:00am-4:30pm
257-6320

© 1992 Apple Computer, Inc. Apple, the Apple logo and Macintosh are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc. PowerBook is a trademark of Apple Computer, Inc. Based on Kevin Campbell's Apple Computer Loan of $2,542.40. His monthly payment was $15 (interest only) as of 10/12/92. Principal payments may be deferred up to a year. The interest rate is variable, and is based on the average of the higher of the 30-day or 90-day commercial paper rates as reported in the Wall Street Journal, plus a spread of 5.95% (not to exceed 6%). The term of the loan is 60 months with no pre-payment penalty. The total finance charge on every $1,000 borrowed will be $543.98. Each applicant pays a $35.00 non-refundable application fee. Approved borrowers will be charged a 4% loan origination fee. The loan origination fee will be added to the required loan amount and repaid over the life of the loan. For the month of October 1992, the interest rate was 7.24% with an APR of 8.63%.

SPORTS MONDAY

NCAA Cross Country Championships

DANIEL VAN DALSEM/Kernal Staff

A handful of Lady Kats have all eyes on the ball during UK's 73-70 win over MTK Budapest Tuesday.

Lady Kats exhibition tonight at coliseum

Staff reports

Two former Lady Kats will return to their old stomping ground tonight.

Kristi Cushmanberry and Rebekah Reasor play for the Kentucky Sports Crusaders, a group of former collegiate basketball players participating in exhibition games against college squads.

Memorial Coliseum and a date with the Lady Kats basketball team is their next stop. The Lady Kats and Crusaders tip off at 7:30 p.m.

Reasor and Cushmanberry were co-captains, along with Stacy McIntyre, for the Lady Kats last season.

Cushmanberry was second in scoring, averaging 10.7 points a game. As a four-year starter, she ended her career sixth on the Lady Kats all-time scoring list with 1,358 points.

Reasor was a former walk-on who served as a role player for the Lady Kats. Reasor played just more than four minutes a game.

UK is coming off a 73-70 victory over MTK Budapest Tuesday night.

NEIL CROUSE Senior Borden, Ill.
GEORGE YIANNELIS Senior Athens
VADIM NEMAD Sophomore Skokie, Ill.
JIM KAISER Senior New Albany, Ind.
KEVIN HEDEBERG Senior Schaumburg, Ill.
RASHID DERRICKS Junior Louisville, Ky.
JOHN RHODUS Senior Lexington

Finished third in UK's first meet of the season against Eastern Kentucky...Was the first Wildcat to finish at the competitive Indiana Invitational.

Earned the second consecutive All-SEC honor at the SEC Championships in Lexington...All-district at District III meet.

Had an outstanding, but struggled a bit in his races this season...Was the individual champion at EKU...All-District at District III meet.

Missed most of the season due to calf strain...Helped UK qualify for nationals with a 27th-place finish at 31:20.

Second UK finisher at Kentucky Intercollegiate in 12th place...Finished 40th in the SEC meet in Lexington.

UK's second finisher at Kentucky Intercollegiate...Ran in both SEC and District meets...Finished 15th at EKU.

UK must improve on 'best ever'

By Lance Williams
Staff Writer

As the UK cross country team takes to the Bloomington, Ind., course for the NCAA Cross Country Championships today at noon, it will try to follow what coach Don Weber called the "best cross-country race we've ever run as a team."

The race he was talking about with the NCAA District III Meet in Greenville, S.C., where the Wildcats solidified a spot in today's race with a second-place finish. They finished the meet with 121 points, two points behind winner East Tennessee State.

Senior George Yiannellis was the top finisher for UK with a time of 30 minutes, 33 seconds.

And when Weber says "best ever," he means best ever. "I'm not talking about the best race we have ever run, definately, since I've been here in 1978," Weber said. "Looking through past results, that it is the best race we've ever run, period."

"I think what's more encouraging is that just that everybody knows that we can run better than that too," Weber said.

With sophomore Vadim Nemad being knocked down and scraping his hip during the race, and Neil Crouse still recovering from an illness, Weber is confident that the team can improve from its race in the District III Meet.

Both will run today. Add to that the return of senior Jim A. Kaiser, who missed the bulk of the season with a calf strain, and UK has experience to complement its talent.

Nemad is the youngest runner competing today. Five of the seven UK runners are seniors.

Weber is still surprised UK's season isn't over.

"It surprised a lot of people that we qualified," he said. "I don't think it was a surprise to any of us, because during the season, we knew we could be a great team and we were pointing toward the end of the season."

"I can't honestly say it was a big goal that we talked about at the beginning of the year and line out that this is what we are going to do, or this is what we want to do. It was in the back of everybody's mind. It was something that we wanted to do."

In fact, Weber said that the team's preseason goal focused on the conference meet.

"After that, then the NCAA," Weber said. "My guess is that the guys on the team thought about the NCAA more than I did."

Weber said that injuries have proved to be one of the most frustrating problems this season, but, surprisingly, they may prove to be a blessing as well.

"I think over the long haul it's going to work in our favor, because we've got some guys that are still very eager to run. "I think it probably delayed our development, which is good if you can make it to the NCAA's," Weber said.

Weber said that he doesn't stress the importance of winning the championship to his team.

"What it is I want them to focus on is the process of doing well, what it's going to take to prepare themselves prior to the race and then what it's going to take during the race to do well, rather than the outcome," Weber said.

However, Weber says, don't believe that they aren't going out with a championship on their mind.

"We are going to take the go-for-it-all approach," Weber said. "We're going to race to win. All we are going to concern ourselves with is doing the best we can, and what other people do is secondary."

Tennessee tames, shames Cats

Game summary

UK	0	7	6	0	-13
Tennessee	14	10	3	7	-34

Scoring
 UT—Shuler 4 run (Backsvoort kick); UT—Garner 2 run (Backsvoort kick); UT—Backsvoort 30 FG; UK—O'Ferral 3 run (Philly kick); UT—Sawyer 60 pass from Shuler (Backsvoort kick); UT—Backsvoort 31 FG; UK—Santorum 1 run (kick blocked); UT—Shuler 12 run (Backsvoort kick).

Team Statistics	UK	UT
First Downs	23	22
Rushes	51	51
Yards	348	353
Comp-Att-Int	8-22-4	10-17-1
Passing Yards	111	181
Punt-Average	3-10	2-35
Fumbles-Lost	3-1	2-0
Penalties-Yards	3-25	7-55
Time of Possession	32:13	27:47

Individual Statistics
 Running—UK, Razzi 9-109; O'Ferral 10-75 (1 TD); UT, Garner 21-158 (1 TD), Phillips 6-66, Shuler 6-66.
 Passing—UK, Jones 2-8-0-30; O'Ferral 14-3-14; Hockman 9-10-4-1; UT, Shuler 9-15-1-185.
 Receiving—UK, Johnson 2-30; Calvert 2-29; UT, Davis 2-52; Fleming 2-26.

By Jimmy Yates
Contributing Writer

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — There was nothing fancy about it. The 20th-ranked Tennessee Volunteers simply had their way with UK Saturday.

A crowd of 94,110 at Neyland Stadium saw the Vols' offense run through the UK defense for 534 total yards and on to a 34-13 victory.

"Tennessee was able to grind it out against us consistently," UK coach Bill Curry said. "They are a tremendous team, and they deserved to win."

The Cats did have several opportunities to stay in the game. The offense moved the ball at times but gave up five turnovers, including four interceptions.

"It was a game with a lot of opportunities for us, but we did not cash them in," Curry said.

The Tennessee offense fired on all cylinders throughout most of the game. It certainly needed no time to get warmed up.

On their first offensive series, the Vols marched down the field at will, collecting huge chunks of yardage on the ground. Only four minutes into the contest, quarterback Heath Shuler scored on a 4-yard option run.

After UK's offense stalled on its first possession, Tennessee got the ball back and quickly drove 81 yards for another touchdown by running back Charlie Garner. Garner led all rushers with 138 yards on the day. The Cats suddenly saw themselves down 14-0.

The Vols stretched the lead to 17-0 on a 32-yard field goal by John Backsvoort.

DANIEL VAN DALSEM/Kernal Staff

Wingback Matt Razzi breaks away for a long run during UK's 35-14 loss to Tennessee Saturday in Knoxville, Tenn. Razzi led UK with 109 yards rushing.

See FOOTBALL, Page 5

Bright spots totally snuffed out as reality sets in

It was the best of teams. It was the worst of teams. UT vs. UK.

As expected, UK was the worst of teams. The Cats got the Dickens beaten out of them, 34-13, by a stronger Tennessee team.

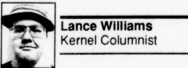

The 94,110 fans who filled Neyland Stadium witnessed the annihilation of the UK defense, which gave up 374 yards in the first half alone.

Fullback Mose Phillips and tailback Charlie Garner each took turns slicing and dicing the Cats. UK was unable to stop anything up the middle in the first quarter, given the fact that UT was able to gain over 100 yards in the middle of the field in that quarter alone.

Garner for eight yards. Phillips for 37 yards. Garner for eight yards. Garner for 18 yards. Phillips for 39 yards. Stop me if you've heard this before.

"You shouldn't be able to run up the middle against (UK's) defense consistently, but they just blocked us. They whipped us," UK coach Bill Curry said.

At halftime, UT led 24-7, but it wasn't even that close.

Lance Williams
Kernel Columnist

"We were hitting the backs, but we weren't wrapping up. You hit 'em, and they just bounce off and rebound."

To be fair, there were a few bright spots in this game, but they were quickly snuffed out by quick and painful doses of reality.

Bright Spot: Pookie Jones breaks the record for most yards in a season with 1,766 yards. Bill Randsell held the old record of 1,720 yards.

Reality: Jones re-injures his knee in the second quarter and is sidelined for the rest of the game.

Bright Spot: Dean Wells takes sole possession of the UK single-season sack record with 10.

Reality: UT amassed 534 yards of total offense. UK's defense came up with a dozen sacks short in this game.

Bright Spot: Kurt Johnson broke the kickoff return yardage record for one season.

Reality: It didn't matter. UK just found a way to lose the ball anyway.

Bright Spot: Wingback Matt Razzi rushes for 109 yards, including a 51-yarder, and added a 16-yard catch for good measure. The walk-off played his heart out.

Reality: UK has a habit of breaking hearts.

Bright Spot: Antonio "Oh, no, he's going to throw it" O'Ferral came in after Jones was injured and rushed for 74 yards and a touchdown.

Reality: He was 1-for-4 in passing attempts. The other three were interceptions.

"It was a game with a lot of opportunities for us. We had a lot of opportunities to make big plays, but we didn't cash in," Curry said.

Curry's statement is easy to agree with. Take a look at the stats: 416 total yards, nine of 13 on third down conversions, and an average 5.7 yards a play.

They look like good stats, but remember who you're dealing with. The UK team has an annoying habit of not only forgetting to cash in, but also forgetting where the bank is. Some would say that the great game by Tennessee was out of inspiration and admiration for Johnny Majors, who coached his last game as UT's head coach on Saturday.

The truth of the matter is that UT would have won even if it just had been the last game for its mascot, Smokey the Dog.

So now they come to the end of the road, finishing at 4-7, a far cry from the time this team stood at 4-2 looking down the road at a winning record — and possibly even a bowl game.

Gone. All gone. These Cats faded with every passing yard. Zero-and-five is a hard way to finish out a season.

All that is out the window now. Now all this is left is a long year ahead filled with what ifs and how comes.

A season that started with promise just ended in disgust. Another UK season without a purpose. Why does it happen year after year?

Perhaps Matt Razzi summed it up best. "It's like we find a way to screw up."

Staff Writer Lance Williams is a journalism freshman and a Kentucky Kernel columnist.

DANIEL VAN DALSEM/Kernal Staff

Senior quarterback Ryan Hockman had one more chance to lead the Cats after starter Pookie Jones was injured.

Florida, Bama to face off in first conference title game

Gators, Tide fight for Sugar Bowl invitation

By Ed Shearer
Associated Press

The field is set for college football's first Division I-A playoff game.

On Dec. 5, the meeting in Birmingham, Ala., between the No. 2 Alabama Crimson Tide and No. 6 Florida Gators for the Southeastern Conference championship and a Sugar Bowl berth will make college football history.

The Gators completed the field Saturday with a 41-21 victory at Vanderbilt, winning in Nashville, Tenn., for the first time since 1966 and snapping a four-game losing streak on artificial turf.

"That was our goal at the beginning of the season, to go to Birmingham, and we've accomplished that," Shane Matthews said after throwing for 343 yards and three touchdowns.

"This means a lot," Matthews said. "We were 1-2 and basically at the bottom of the division, and we worked our way back to the top."

Florida (8-2 overall, 6-2 SEC) gained a share of the Eastern Division title with No. 9 Georgia, which was idle Saturday, but advances to the title game by virtue of its victory over the Bulldogs last month.

In other SEC action on Saturday, South Carolina upset Clemson 24-13, Southern Methodist upset Arkansas 24-19 and Louisiana State beat Tulane 24-12 to snap a seven-game losing streak, longest in school history.

Both Alabama and Florida face season-ending games this week against archrivals.

Alabama taking on Auburn in Birmingham on Thanksgiving Day and Florida visiting No. 3 Florida State on Saturday.

"This was a year we were extremely fortunate," Florida coach Steve Spurrier said. "We only had to win one out of three road games. We managed to win one of them and to win the division championship."

It was the seventh victory in a row for the Gators, who got 104 yards and a touchdown from Errict Rhett. Marcus Wilson passed for 232 yards and one score and rushed for 68 yards and another to lead the Commodores (4-6, 2-5).

At Clemson, Steve Tanneyhill passed for 296 yards and two touchdowns as the Gamecocks ended their four-game losing streak in the cross-state rivalry. The loss left both teams with 5-6 records, Clemson's first losing season since 1976.

"I think it's been about 1,369 days since we were hired, and we've done something every day to work for this victory," Carolina coach Sparky Woods said.

Drew Randall's 20-yard return of a fumbled punt by Orlando Waters iced SMU's victory over Arkansas at Little Rock, Ark. SMU finished 5-6 and the Razorbacks fell to 2-7-1, going to 0-5 in games played in Arkansas this season.

Chad Loup, demoted to third team on Sept. 12, passed for 85 yards and a touchdown as LSU (2-8) beat Tulane (2-9) in a sloppily played game in Baton Rouge, La. Tulane had five turnovers.

Besides Alabama-Auburn and Florida-FSU, this week's schedule has LSU at Arkansas on Friday and the Saturday action has Georgia Tech at Georgia, No. 16 Mississippi State at No. 24 Mississippi and Tennessee at Vanderbilt.

KERNEL FILE PHOTO

Tailback Errict Rhett tore UK's defense apart when the Wildcats travelled to Gainesville, Fla., the second week of the season. Since then, he has helped lead the Gators into a tie with Georgia for the Eastern Division title in the Southeastern Conference. Florida's victory over the Bulldogs last month broke the tie and sends Florida and Rhett to the first-ever SEC Championship Game Dec. 5 at Legion Field in Birmingham, Ala.

Football

Continued from Page 4

UK reserve quarterback Antonio O'Ferral entered the game on the Cat's next possession and provided a much needed spark. O'Ferral got loose on a 34-yard run to set up a first-and-goal at the 8-yard line. On fourth and goal from the three, he scored on a keeper to give UK its first points.

However, the Vols wasted no time in answering. Tennessee was faced with a first-and-35 after a holding penalty and a 15-yard personal foul.

On the next play, Shuler connected with running back James Stewart on a 60-yard touchdown pass. The play was typical of the way the afternoon went for the Cats.

The Vols went into the locker room at halftime with a comfortable 24-7 lead.

UK came out anxious in the second half.

On the first play from scrimmage, running back Matt Ruzzi darted 51 yards deep into Tennessee territory. That momentum was stopped on the next play when O'Ferral was intercepted by defensive back DeRon Jenkins.

Tennessee took advantage of the miscue and turned it into a 31-yard field goal by Becksvort.

The Cats scored their final touchdown late in the third quarter on a 1-yard run by Terry Samuels. The score capped off an impressive 94-yard drive and cut the Tennessee lead to 27-13 after senior Doug Pelfrey's extra point attempt was blocked.

Tennessee again stormed right back and put the game out of reach — thanks to a 13-yard run by Shuler.

It was his 11th touchdown run of the season, the most by any Tennessee quarterback.

"I think a major factor in our win was the offensive line," Shuler said. "They did a great job blocking and made running easy."

The victory pushed the Vols' record to 7-3 and drew compliments from UT coach Johnny Majors, who coached his final home game for Tennessee.

"I was very pleased we won in the fashion we did because you never take anything for granted when you play Kentucky," Majors said. "I don't know any area that did not contribute to the victory. I am extremely happy for our young men."

UK ended the 4-7 season on a disappointing five-game losing streak. UK senior defensive back Brad Armstead said it was not the way he wanted to end his college career.

"It was a disappointing game. This has been an up and down season with a lot of highs and lows," Armstead said.

"We had the talent to make a bowl game, but we just did not do it."

"After the game, Curry expressed how proud of the team he was."

"I love them. I respect them. I admire them and thank them for their effort this season," Curry said. "We are close to being a good football team. We just need to learn how to do things consistently with the same intensity all the time."

SEC standings

Eastern Division
Team	SEC	Overall
Florida	6-2	8-2
Georgia	6-2	8-2
Tennessee	4-3	7-3
South Carolina	3-5	5-6
Vanderbilt	2-5	4-6
UK	2-6	4-7

Western Division
Team	SEC	Overall
Alabama	7-0	10-0
Mississippi State	4-3	7-3
Ole Miss	4-3	7-3
Auburn	2-4-1	5-4-1
Arkansas	2-4-1	2-7-1
LSU	1-6	1-6

Saturday's Game
South Carolina 24, Clemson 13
Tennessee 56, UK 19
Florida 41, Vanderbilt 21
SMU 24, Arkansas 19
LSU 24, Tulane 12

Northwestern tops UK swim teams

Staff reports

EVANSTON, Ill. — UK's men's and women's swimming and diving teams lost to Northwestern Saturday at Norris Aquatics Center.

Northwestern outscored the men's squad 141-102. The UK women lost 146.5-96.5.

JOE BOLOGNA'S
FINE ITALIAN FOOD
120 W. MAXWELL ST.
252-4933

MONDAY ONLY
1/2 OFF ANY SIZE PIZZA
Most present ad
Expires 11/23/92

MOVIE WAREHOUSE
Chevy Chase • 722 Euclid Ave.
269-6605
Get Any New Release
$2.50
(one day rental)
Not valid with any other offer.
Limit one coupon per person per day.
Expires Dec. 2, 1992

plasma alliance

Thanksgiving Celebration Giveaway!!
"It's All About Giving"

Earn up to $144 in a month while giving to others.

COME DONATE AND BE ELIGIBLE TO WIN ONE OF OUR HOLIDAY BASKETS.

NEW PAYMENT PLAN: OPEN Thanksgiving Day (26th)
 $20—1st DONATION
 $20—2nd "
 $15—3rd "
 $15—4th "
 $25—5th "

$95 Within 3 Weeks

Hours:
Mon-Thurs 7am to 3pm
Fri-Sat to 6pm
Sat & Sun 8:30am to 3:30pm

Call or come by for details
2043 Oxford Circle
Lexington
254-8047

HAPPY THANKSGIVING

CAWOOD LEDFORD

TUESDAY, NOV. 24TH

FROM 11:30AM-1PM

BOOK SIGNING

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY BOOKSTORE

Student Center Annex

HELLO EVERYBODY,
This is Cawood Ledford

HELLO EVERYBODY,
THIS IS CAWOOD LEDFORD
The story of a Kentucky legend, as told to Billy Reed

"On the court, Cawood Ledford is the most professional man I've ever witnessed. And off the court, he stands with more class than any person I've ever encountered."
Rick Pitino, UK Basketball

HOST CREATIVE COMMUNICATIONS • $21.95

WE OFFER FREE SPECIAL ORDERING

DIVERSIONS

Jewison thinks passion important in pictures

By Nina Davidson
Staff Writer

Acclaimed film director Norman Jewison visited Lexington Friday night as part of the Canadian Film Festival sponsored by the Kentucky Theatre.

Jewison, a Toronto native, is the director of many well-known films: "In the Heat of the Night" (1967), "Fiddler on the Roof" (1970), "A Soldier's Story" (1984), "Moonstruck" (1988), "In Country" (1989) and "Other People's Money" (1991).

"In Country" is the film adaptation of Kentucky novelist Bobbie Ann Mason's book about the impact of the Vietnam War on a Kentucky family.

Jewison praised Mason's work, saying "I think it's a very moving, touching story. ... I love the simplicity of it."

"In Country," starring Bruce Willis and Emily Lloyd, was shot on location in Mayfield, Ky.

Jewison said he would definitely return to Kentucky if given the chance. "I enjoyed working here very much. The people were just great. The people around Mayfield and Paducah, they really supported us, ... it was a joy working here."

Although "In the Heat of the Night" won an Academy Award for best picture in 1967, he confessed the highlight of his career was directing "A Soldier's Story" in 1984.

"A Soldier's Story" depicts the experiences of a black soldier in the Civil War. The film won critical acclaim, although it did not achieve popular success.

"Moonstruck," a romantic comedy about an Italian family in New York City, won popular success in addition to two Academy Awards. Cher won for best actress, while Olympia Dukakis won for best supporting actress.

Jewison also developed a screenplay about Malcolm X, but stepped aside for Spike Lee's adaptation of the slain civil rights leader's life. Jewison said, "Spike Lee came along — I've got the passion for it, I've got the juice for it. Step aside."

Jewison revealed that passion is the criterion he uses for selecting the movies he directs. "You look for something that really touches you personally, that you have a lot of passion for, ... a good story.

"I like to tell stories. I'm looking for a story that has some meaning for me (and) some meaning for the audience, hopefully."

He also confessed, "Making films is something very personal." Asked if any of his films were autobiographical, he replied, "I think there's a little bit of every director in (their) films."

Jewison's next film, titled "Bo-gus," and is about a little boy and his imaginary friend. The film is scheduled for release in spring 1993.

VICTORIA MOYER/KERNEL STAFF

Director Norman Jewison visited the Kentucky Theatre as part of the theater's Canadian Film Festival.

Def Leppard adrenalizes Freedom Hall with rock

By Brian Manley
Staff Critic

The crowd began to grow restless as the clock showed 8:30 p.m. and Def Leppard had not yet taken the stage.

The amp stacks suspended above the band's circular "in-the-round" stage, located in the middle of Freedom Hall, had already blared an entire Black Crowes album, and many people were beginning to wonder if they were at a Guns 'N' Roses concert.

Finally, 45 minutes later than the show time, the lights went down and the crowd roared in anticipation.

Def Leppard's show proved to be worth the delay. The British quintet jolted out two and a half hours of corporate metal as they brought their "Seven Days a Weekend Tour" to an enthusiastic audience Saturday night in Louisville, Ky.

The crowd rejoiced in the repertoire of songs the band delivered as they were bathed in a shower of fog and interchanging shades of purple, green and red lights.

Def Leppard has mastered the ability to create catchy songs that are easy to sing to. This was proven as the crowd chanted the lyrics to such tunes as "Animal" and "Foolin'."

As far as stage presence, the band came off as the friendliest group of guys in the world — after Elliot apologized for the delay, blaming it on a problem with the PA system that could have resulted in a cancelled show.

At times, while the rest of the band hid somewhere under the stage, Elliot would chat with the crowd about such topics as making of Adrenalize and the death of guitarist Steve Clark last year.

Elliot then introduced Clark's replacement, Vivian Campbell, describing him as "a full-fledged member of our family."

Most of the songs the band selected came from their newest album and Hysteria; Crowd favorites included "Four Some Sugar On Me" and the current hit, "Have You Ever Needed Someone So Bad."

During "Rocket," the band was barraged with an array of lights and fog. The song's bridge featured bassist Rick Savage and drummer Rick Allen thumping out a thunderous rhythm while exalted on top of Allen's raised drum riser.

Guitarists Campbell and Phil Collen continuously ran around the stage locked in a war of guitar screams, coupled with Elliot's ritualistic chantings, including a few verses of Led Zepplin's "Black Dog." The whole effect was appropriate, since the song is a tribute to the band's musical influences.

At one point, Elliot strapped on his own guitar, while the others donned acoustics, and the band presented its version of MTV's "Unplugged."

They teased the crowd with opening licks of songs like AC/DC's "Back In Black" and Metallica's "Enter Sandman." Finally, the band played an acoustic version of its first hit, "Bringin' On the Heartbreak."

Vince makes Rupp crowd forget about Springsteen

By Dave Lavender
Arts Editor

The talk rising from the sidewalks was about the southside Jersey street poet turned stadium rocker who pulled a George "No Show" Jones on 15,000 of his most loyal Lexington fans. But that was before the Sunday matinee show at Rupp Arena that featured the reigning Country Music vocalists of the year, Vince Gill and Mary Chapin-Carpenter.

The two-time Grammy winner swooned the near capacity crowd with his sweet ballads, rocked them with rare takes of "Rita Ballou" and "Ridin' The Rodeo," and coaxed the crowd into singing his No. 1 single "I Still Believe in You."

White, who is recognizable from his days with Grammy Award-winning bluegrass artist Alison Krauss and Union Station, provided a beautiful blanket of low harmony and supple acoustic picking that complimented the electric lead of Gill, who is perhaps, with all due respect to Ricky Skaggs and Steve Wariner, the best front man/lead guitarist in country and one of the best in music period: Ask Mark Knopfler.

"guru" of steel guitarists, cut loose during a set of ballads in the middle of his show, which featured "When I Call Your Name," his breakthrough song.

Hughey and Gill also swung the audience Oklahoma style with "back-sliding, barrel-riding" stomping licks of his up-tempo tune including "Rita Ballou," and the crowd's favorite: "Liza Jane."

Gill also introduced a new back-up vocalist, Dawn Sears, who tore through the harmonies (not a small task because Reba McEntire and Patty Loveless often sing back or duet with Gill on his records).

She also sang a searing version of "Good Goodbyes," her first single, with Gill and fellow harmony vocalist Tim White providing harmony.

Aided by the presence of the legendary steel guitarist John Hughey, whom Gill set up with an introduction that closely resembled what Bruce Springsteen used to do with the big man in the E-Street band; Clarence Clemons, Gill softly and tenderly treaded on the notes of such weepers as "Look at Us," which Gill dedicated to his wife of 12 years, Janis, and "Never Knew Lonely."

Hughey, who Gill called the

For the Latest Coverage of U.K Sports Clubs...
RUGBY LACROSSE
READ THE KERNEL SPORTS!
ULTIMATE FRISBEE

Logan's
ROADHOUSE RESTAURANT
The Best: Steaks, Seafood, Ribs, Chicken
Happy Hour
4 P.M.-7 P.M. 75¢ Drafts
10 P.M.-Close $1.50 Longnecks
Daily and World Famous
Hillbilly Tea
RoadHouse Style
1224 Harrodsburg Road
252-4307
GOOD LUCK TO THE CATS!

AIR HIGH
1993 BSN Students
Enter the Air Force immediately after graduation — without waiting for the results of your State Boards. You can earn great benefits as an Air Force nurse officer. And if selected during your senior year, you may qualify for a five-month internship at a major Air Force medical facility. To apply, you'll need an overall 2.50 GPA. Serve your country while you serve your career.
USAF HEALTH PROFESSIONS
TOLL FREE
1-800-423-USAF
AIR FORCE

Spirits
TOP TEN REASONS UK STUDENTS MISS MONDAY P.M. FOOTBALL IN SPIRITS AT THE RADISSON
10. Cheese sauce for the free nachos sticks in your braces
9. Firm belief that you should pay more than $1.50 for a Miller Genuine Draft Longneck
8. Feel that 1/2 time lingerie show is subversive and doesn't promote family values of bygone Bush era.
7. Complimentary hot dogs are NOT kosher.
6. Buying $1 lottery tickets from scantily clad models not the best investment for hard earned work study dollars.
5. After all these years of watching football action on small black & white its hard to make adjustment to 12' color TV.
4. Boycotting all football games until American football league gets the respect they deserve.
3. Didn't make it to Kennedy's in time to sell sociology book for beer money
2. Might miss important McGeever rerun.
1. Three words: "no Bryant Gumbell".
WASHINGTON AT NEW ORLEANS
THIS WEEK USE THIS AD FOR 2-FOR-1 WELL DRINKS OR DRAFT BEER

LECTURE & FILM MAKING SEMINAR
WORSHAM THEATER
UK Student Center
featuring MONTY ROSS
Tuesday, November 24, 7:30 p.m.
Monty Ross, co-producer and partner of Spike Lee will talk about experiences in the making of such films as, SHE'S GOTTA HAVE IT, DO THE RIGHT THING, JUNGLE FEVER, and the upcoming release, MALCOLM X.
SPONSORS - KING CULTURAL CENTER, SAB & SGA

TELEVISION
COMEDY ON BROADWAY
CONCERT SERIES
WELCOMES
The Voice of Roger Rabbit!
As seen in the movies:
• Dick Tracy • Straight Talk
• Back to the Future II • Night Shift • Gross Anatomy • Who Framed Roger Rabbit • A Nightmare On Elm Street
And on television:
• HBO's One Night Stand • The Arsenio Hall Show (FOX) • Late Night w/David Letterman (NBC) • Hill Street Blues • Tonight Show w/Johnny Carson (NBC) multiple appearances • Welcome Back Kotter (ABC) series regular • Laverne & Shirley (ABC) series regular • WKRP Cincinnati • The Original Laugh In • Death of Richie (MoW- NBC)
2 NIGHTS ONLY THE MON TUE AFTER THANKSGIVING
(Mon) (Tues)
Nov 30 & Dec 1 254-JOKE

'Malcolm X' co-producer to speak here

Staff reports

Monty Ross, creative partner of Spike Lee, will speak on campus tomorrow about his career and the problems of black filmmakers.

Ross, co-producer of the films "Do the Right Thing," "Jungle Fever" and the new release "Malcolm X," also will discuss secrets on how to get attention in Hollywood.

Ross is president of Simone Nisan Films and has co-produced six major motion pictures with Lee. As co-producer, he was chiefly responsible for budgeting.

Throughout his career, Ross has acquired a wide range of relationships with actors, filmmakers and studio executives. He continues to work in conjunction with major studios, including Columbia Pictures and Warner Bros. Studios.

Independently, Ross' work has continued to grow, as well. His credits now include producer, writer and director. He has developed several national commercial campaigns, including Nike's Air-Jordan series and spots for Levi's 501 Jeans and Diet Coke.

He also has produced music videos for Grammy-winning artists like Anita Baker and Prince.

Ross now is spending time on his own full-length film.

The speech, sponsored by the Martin Luther King Jr. Cultural Center, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Worsham Theater. Admission is $2 at the door. A reception will follow.

Bratt

Continued from Page 1

Wethington described Bratt as an "outsoken individual" and said he has had a "good working relationship" with her.

"She always considered it her job to represent the concerns of the faculty, and I think she's done that," he said.

After her term expires, Bratt said she will not seek other administrative positions immediately. She said that includes dean of the law school, which will be vacant when Bratt steps down.

"I'm very much committed to the law school doing a nationwide search for a new dean, one who has not been educated at nor employed by (UK)," she said. "So, I'm not a candidate for the position."

Bratt said she feels safe that her replacement will continue to carry the torch for the faculty.

"I spent a lot of time talking with my friends and colleagues, and I came to the conclusion that there are other faculty members that can effectively represent the faculty," she said.

Senate Chairman John Piccolo said a faculty election will narrow the field to six and then another election by the end of next semester will determine the next trustee.

NO ROOMMATE NECESSARY

- *Large 1 bedroom
- *Ceiling Fan
- *Mini Blinds
- *Only minutes from UK
- *Small Intimate Community
- *Only $299 Per Month

WOODVIEW 277-0131

SUBWAY

2 for 1 Tuesdays
Buy one 6" sub and a medium drink and get second 6" sub FREE
(After 4 pm only)

*Second 6" sub must be of equal or lesser price. Limit one. Not good with any other offer. No coupon necessary.

325 S. Lime 233-7811 (Next to Two Keys)

Stress can be dealt with, but just do not ignore it

COUNSELOR'S CORNER

Dear Counselor,
I have lots of problems in my life, and it's getting on my nerves trying to deal with them. I'm also busy with school, work and my new girlfriend.

I'd like to practice some of the relaxation techniques I've read about, but I just don't have time. Could you suggest some quick steps for reducing stress before things really get out of control?

I want an exciting life, but not Excedrin headache No. 12 every day!

Mike Z.
Engineering sophomore

Dear Mike,
Actually you've already taken the first step by being aware that stress can have negative consequences in your life. Most people are all too willing to tolerate day-to-day stress.

By the time it's serious, they're saying, "I can't concentrate. I lash out at people. I'm all ways frustrated. And I never get any rest."

The second step is identifying your personal symptoms of stress.

Hans Selye, a Canadian physician, describes stress reactions in four areas: physical, behavioral, emotional, and thinking.

Where your stress occurs will give you clues on effective ways of managing it.

Let's spend a little more time on Step Two. Carry a small notebook — call it SAM, your Stress Awareness Monitor. Every time you feel stressed, write down the date, time, stress-producing incident, your physical, behavioral, emotional or thinking reaction; and how you attempted to relieve your stress.

Rate your reaction on a one-to-10 scale — 10 being most stressful. Review your entries in a week or two. You'll notice patterns in your stressors and your responses.

For example, if every Tuesday morning you get up late, run to campus, arrive late for class and get called down by the professor, your "stress" will be obvious.

If you follow this class with a mid-morning coffee date with your girlfriend, your residual anger could soon sour an otherwise pleasant relationship.

Such realizations are painful to record, but they'll become the basis for a personal stress reduction program.

The third step is developing your stress management program. I'm not suggesting hours of meditation, exercises or counseling. Instead, let me offer some options for dealing with stress you can easily incorporate into a busy life.32

Set limits on what you do and learn to say no. Regularly examine the commitments and promises you make to others (as well as yourself).

If your goals are too ambitious or you're overextended on projects, look for ways to cut back.

One approach that has worked for me is to not give a "yes" or "no" immediately when asked to do something. I tell the other person I need to think about it and get back to them in 10 minutes (or a couple of days).

This allows me to think about the trade-offs.

Start by "valuing" what you want from life. Goals give purpose to life and proper goal setting ultimately reduces stress.

Setting short range goals or breaking larger projects into smaller pieces allows us to set priorities, make plans and schedule time realistically so we can achieve the "valuable" goals we've identified for ourselves.

Don't forget to reward yourself for achieving small goals along the way.

Keep work and play separate. You'll be more productive and have more fun.

Vent your feelings. While you can't lash out at every person with whom you feel frustrated, long-term repression of negative feelings will cast a dark shadow on your interactions, sap your energy and increase stress in relationships.

Learn to communicate your feelings to others. If you have difficulty, you may wish to see a counselor or learn communication skills for maintaining healthy relationships.

A good physical workout seems to allow the mind to let go — at least temporarily — of its worries and problems.

I can't end a list of stress management techniques without mentioning relaxation techniques, but to do them justice would require another column.

These stress management techniques can be beneficial, Mike, and your stress reduction program doesn't have to become another stressor in your life. Begin with the techniques that appeal to you now and add the others as needed.

Stress is manageable; we can insulate ourselves against its negative effects and still have exciting lives!

Students who wish to address these issues can come by the UK Counseling and Testing Center, 301 Frazer Hall, or call 257-8701.

Take the Buffalo home for Thanksgiving

Our Buffalo may not have landed on Plymouth Rock or attended the first Thanksgiving. But, he does like get-togethers and holiday parties. So, this Thanksgiving take the Buffalo home and treat your friends and relatives to bw-3 chicken wings.

bw-3 THANKSGIVING TRAVEL pack 80 WINGS for only $17.50

Valid only w/ coupon. Not valid w/ other Specials. Expires 1/30/93

bw-3 & Sudsy's

290 S. Limestone (corner of Limestone & Maxwell)

233-BWWW (2999)

Buffalo Wild Wings & Weck

Small fire put out in UK Hospital

By Dale Greer
Executive Editor

UK Hospital officials moved more than 20 patients from their rooms yesterday after a small fire tripped an automatic sprinkler system, spreading water to three floors.

The fire, which began about 6 a.m. in a trash chute between the first and ground floors, was extinguished immediately by a water sprinkler in the chute; hospital spokeswoman Mary Margaret Collier said.

But the fire also activated sprinklers on the fifth and first floors, causing water to fill patients' rooms on the southeast end of the fifth floor and seep through the ceiling of the fourth floor.

Collier said 13 adult patients and eight pediatric patients from the two floors were moved to another part of the hospital. She also said two patients on the sixth floor were moved because of a smoky odor.

None of the patients' medical conditions was worsened by the move, and Collier said they "were never in any danger."

She praised hospital staff for responding quickly to the situation, saying it demonstrated their preparedness for emergencies.

"The Physical Plant (Division) and housekeeping came in, and the nursing staff was on top of things. It really worked out well for what could have been a dangerous situation.

"Things were moving very well by about 9 or 10 a.m."

Collier did not have an estimate last night on the amount of water damage sustained. The cause of the fire is under investigation.

UK's fire prevention coordinator, Gary Beach, could not be reached for comment.

"Some people suspect that someone may have thrown a cigarette down the chute," Collier said. "There's a lot of people passing through there."

The Boss bows out at last minute

Staff reports

Rupp Arena planned a weekend to surpass all weekends — the mother of all week-ending festivities to inhabit the 24,000 seat abode.

Invited were the world's most well-known magician David Copperfield for Friday; Bruce Springsteen, the king of blue-collar rock "n" roll, on Saturday; and Vince

Gill and Mary Chapin-Carpenter, the Country Music Association's male and female vocalists of the year, yesterday.

Perhaps it was an entertainment overdose because the man who took rock "n" roll from the backstreets of Asbury Park, N.J., to arenas around the world called Lexington Saturday afternoon. He was home.

Whether he was alone in under-estimated, but his band was in Lexington.

ton. The roadies were here. The fans, many arriving from out-of-state, were here.

But Springsteen, known for his marathon concerts that last well over three hours, not counting intermission, called off the show around 2 p.m. on Saturday, deciding he was too sick for the rigors of performance.

The show has been rescheduled for Thursday, Dec. 17, which is during finals week.

Dental

Continued from Page 1

Dental Schools.

Cassinelli came to UK from Ohio because of the school's reputation in the dental field.

He said he believes the council will not close UK's College of Dentistry because it is highly ranked nationally.

"I have had the opportunity to travel and represent UK and discovered through talking to other students that some schools aren't as good as UK," Cassinelli said.

Students at the college are optimistic the college will remain open for years to come, said Carol Perkowski, president of the Student Advisory Council.

"Most students feel assured that they'll graduate here and that we'll be having our reunions at UK," Perkowski said.

EDDIE MURPHY

FROM CON MAN TO CONGRESSMAN

THE Distinguished GENTLEMAN

HOLLYWOOD PICTURES PRESENTS A TOUCHWOOD PICTURES PRODUCTION A LEONARD GOLDBERG FILM JONATHAN LYNN EDGAR WINTERS STARRING EDDIE MURPHY LANE SMITH SHERYL LEE RALPH WIE DON BAKER VICTORIA ROWELL GRANT SHALD KEITH CHARLES S DUTTON RANDY EDELMAN TONY LONGARDO LESLIE DOLLEY GABRIEL BERNSTEIN MARTY KARLAN LEONARD GOLDBERG MICHAEL PEISER JONATHAN LYNN

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY
SAP
STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 23 8:00 PM
WORSHAM THEATRE
sponsored by
STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD
UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY, LEXINGTON
Passes are available at Worsham Theatre Information Desk with valid student or faculty ID. Seating is limited to 500.

COMPLIMENTARY SNEAK PREVIEW brought to you courtesy of Sprint
THE 1-4-U

Free Poster to the first 50 students with completed Sprint application.