ABOUT THE LIBRARIES:

Annual Christmas Crafts Show:

The third Christmas crafts show will be displayed in the Art Library during November and December. Members of the Libraries' staff are invited to exhibit their handicrafts during the holiday season. Those interested should contact Karin Sandvik or submit to her their work by 15 November.

King Graphics:

Volunteers are needed to help us carry on the graphic sign work within M.I. King Library. Anyone willing to lend their time and talent please contact John Gray (Administrative Services - 7-1949). Arrangements will be made with department heads to allow interested persons Library time to work on this project.

Coffee:

For those units with coffee drinkers - an Office Coffee Systems representative would very much like the opportunity to sell you on their service. If anyone is interested or would like more information contact John Gray (7-1949).

Library publicity in the Kernel:

A member of the staff of the Kentucky Kernel is making a weekly call at the Libraries for news to publicize. If you have anything to publicize--important acquisitions or visitors, new services, or any library-related event--David Farrell will arrange an appointment with the Kernel reporter.

AIDS Update:

Over 200 students used the AIDS Center during September, requesting information on everything from campus tutoring services to movies. A series of ads and stories have appeared in the Kernel and Communi-K. Next Monday 300 colored posters, designed by the Office of Instructional Resources and the Kernel staff, will be distributed throughout the campus. AIDS offers academic information as well as free tutoring in English, history, and reading, writing and study skills.

Professional Meeting:

The Professional Activities and Staff Development Committee would like to thank Rhoda Channing, John Gray, Tag Frye, Cheryl Jones, Gerry Webb, Kay Saillard, Bill James, Jane White, Gail Kennedy, Evelyn Evans and Judy Sackett for their assistance in the program.

Comments on the program plus suggestions for next year are welcome; please send them to Faith Harders.

The Committee would also like to thank Bob Sandrock who has shown all our films for us.

A TOLL-FREE NUMBER FOR NEXUS

The NEXUS information network of the American Association for Higher Education now has a toll-free number: (800) 424-9775. NEXUS serves as a national clearinghouse of information related to the field of post-secondary education, including such library-related topics as personnel evaluation, tenure and its alternatives, goal-setting, orientation programs, collective bargaining, self-studies, field experience education, faculty development, women in higher education, and interinstitutional cooperation.

BOOK REVIEWS AT THE HUMAN RELATIONS CENTER

A book review series begins October 20 and is open to all members of the University community. Scheduled for review in the President's Room, Student Center, are: Them, by Joyce Carol Oates, 20 October, noon to 1 PM; Fountainhead, by Ayn Rand, 17 November, 11:00-12 noon; Diaries of Anais Nin, 1 December, 12:30-1:30 PM.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Exhibit at Transy:

The Transylvania University Library is currently showing a display of informal photographic portraits of some of the faculty and staff of Transy as well as a collection of publications from the private press of J. Hill Hamon. Mr. Hamon, a professor of biology at the University, is proprietor of the Whippoorwill Press. Through October during regular library hours.

Library opening:

The staff of the Libraries is invited to the opening and dedication of the Josephine Staples Emrath Memorial Library, the new branch of the Lexington Public Library, on Sunday, 10 October, at the Lansdowne Shopping Center, 3-5:00 PM.

Symposia at North Carolina:

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is sponsoring two symposia in honor of the 100th birthday of Louis Round Wilson, former Librarian at Chapel Hill and Dean at Chicago's School of Library Science. The symposia, to be held 2 December, from 9:30-4:30, will focus on academic libraries and library education.

Library management program:

The eleventh annual Library Administrators Development Program will be conducted 8-20 May, 1977, at the College of Library and Information Services, University of Maryland. The two-week resident program will offer seminars in leadership, motivation, communication, personnel policies, decision-making, problem solving, financial planning and control, performance appraisal, the impact of technology, and planning for change. Further information from Mrs. Effie T. Knight, College of Library and Information Services, U. Maryland, College Park, MD 20742.

PERSONNEL

Gerry Webb is moving to Interlibrary Loans as acting head of the department while Vivian McQuown is on sick leave.

The professional vacancy in GPD will be filled on a temporary basis by Paul Logsdon. Mr. Logsdon has his MLS from the University of Kentucky and worked as a student at the reference desk for two years.

Payroll meeting:

There will be a brief, but important payroll meeting on Wednesday, October 13 at 9 AM in the Gallery. Each person who does payroll for his/her department should attend. Thank you.

Faith Harders

Opening: LT I CSR
