Jurists Are Speakers At Legal Forum Friday

Current Problems Will Be Discussed

The third annual Legal Forum, sponsored by Phi Delta Phi, international legal fraternity, and the College of Law, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Moore Courtroom in the Caffery Hall, Dean Elvin J. Stahr has announced.

Leading jurists and legal scholars will discuss contemporary legal problems. The subject of the Forum will be "Modernization of the Administration of Justice."

Featured speakers will be the Hon. Watson Clay, commissioner of the Kentucky Court of Appeals; Donald O. Taylor, Louisville attorney; John R. Bullock, Cincinnati attorney; and A. C. Russell, dean of the University of Louisville College of Law. Dean Stahr will act as moderator of the Forum.

Commissioner Clay is a graduate of the University of Michigan and practiced law with the firm of Coe, Taylor, Galphin and Street, Louisville, before becoming a member of the Court of Appeals.

Taylor, a member of the firm of Deoban, Hahn, Stiles & Wood, Louisville, is a graduate of the University of Virginia. He is also a commissioner of the Kentucky State Bar Association.

Bullock is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and Yale Law School. He is president of the Kentucky Alumni Association. Bullock is a member of the firm of Tait, Strickland and Hollister, Louisville.

Dean Russell is a graduate of Belmont College and Yale Law School. He was a member of the Bureau of Investigation in the Department of Justice before he began to teach. He is also the compiler of Russell's Revision to the Kentucky Code of Practice.

Director Of Folger Library To Speak In English Series

By Kathryn Whitmer

Louis Booker Wright, director of the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington, D. C., will speak on "Rare Book Libraries and the Advancement of Scholarship" at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Laboratory Theater in the Fine Arts Building.

Dr. Wright has been research professor at the Henry E. Huntington Library, San Marino, California, since 1932 and is visiting professor at the University of California at Los Angeles. He has been director of the Folger Shakespeare Library since 1948.

While Dr. Wright was professor of English at the University of North Carolina, his publications were primarily studies of the life of the average man in the Shakespearean period. He wrote "Middle Class Culture in Elizabethan England."

He helped edit two volumes of "The Secret Diary of William Byrd of Westover." These were written in an old form of shorthand and now constitute one of the main sources of information concerning the daily life of the wealthy eighteenth century Virginia planter.

Dr. Wright is probably our best student of cultural life in old Virginia. Dr. Herman Spivey, head of the Department of English, said.

Dr. Wright also wrote "The First Southern Gentleman of Virginia," "The Atlantic Frontier," "The Reading of Plays During the Puritan Revolution," and "An Essay Upon the Government of the English Plantations."

Born in Greenwood County, South Carolina in 1899, Dr. Wright is a graduate of Wake Forest College and the University of North Carolina. He was a Johnson research scholar at Johns Hopkins University in 1927 and 1928 and was a Guggenheim research fellow in England and Italy from 1928 to 1930.

He is now sponsored by the University Libraries and the Department of English. The next speaker in this series will be Jesse Stuart who will be on campus May 17 and 18.

Commerce Group Will Re-activate

Eta chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, international commerce professional fraternity, will be re-activated on the campus at ceremonies to be conducted at the Phoenix Hotel tomorrow.

The group was first organized on the campus in 1920, but became inactive in 1939.

Twenty-one students will be initiated into the organization. They are Glenn Wills, Robert McCowan, Harry B. Scott, Malcolm B. Sautter, Frank K. Taylor, Edwin V. Imman, William, William, William, William, Jesse Bollinger, George Cannon, Arthur Lee Miles, Anthony Dallas Roberts, Samuel Swope, Carl Turner, Robert S. Griffith, Jack Boyd, Robert Allen, George McCullough, Ralph Turner, Samuel Swope, Carl Turner, Hermann Kessler, and Bill Don Gots.

J. D. Thompson, assistant grand secretary, and 15 members of the fraternity at the University of Cincinnati will participate in the ceremony.

Principal speaker will be Leroy Miles, vice president of the First National Bank and Trust Company of Lexington. Other speakers on the program will be Dr. Charles E. Carpenter of the College of Commerce; Glenn Wills, headmaster of the University of Cincinnati; and Mr. Thompson.

Top Student Library Will Be Selected

Students To Enter Private Collections

A student library competition is now open to all graduate and undergraduate students of the University having their own personal book collections. The contest was made possible by a term of money wired to the University by the late Judge Samuel M. Wilson.

Each entrant in the contest must present three copies of a typewritten list giving author, title, place, publisher, and date of publication to each reviewer. No books may be included that are not the student's personal property or that were received as gifts from another student's library after April 20, 1950.

The lists will be judged by Miss Margaret I. King, Prof. George K. Brady, and Prof. H. Alex Romantowicz, chairman. They must be presented to the chairman of the committee not later than 5 p.m. May 28. The award will be announced on or before June 1.

250 Musicians Expected Here For Festival

An estimated 2500 Kentucky high school students are expected to attend the State High School Music Festival to be held today and tomorrow on campus.

The program includes band and orchestra competitions and solo and small ensemble events. Highlights will include a massed band concert Saturday afternoon in Alumni Gymnasium and a baton twirling contest Saturday morning.

Judges for the Festival will be Frank Simon, conductor of the Ames Concert Band; Manley Whitcomb, director of bands at Ohio State University; David VanVater, University of Tennessee; Jack Bryden of Transylvania College; and Frank J. Smith, Kenneth Wright, Edward Hornowski, and Gordon Kipp, all of the UK music faculty.

All sessions of the Festival will be open to the public. Programs may be obtained from the Information Desk in the Student Union today and Saturday.

Seniors Must Register For Degrees By May 5

Seniors and graduate students who will complete their requirements for graduation in June must make application for degrees in room 15 of the Administration Building by Friday, May 5. Graduation fees must be paid by Monday, May 29.

Candidates for the bachelor's degree will be charged a graduation fee of $9. This will cover the cost of cap and gown, diploma fee, the Kentucky fee, and other necessary expenses. Candidates for the master's degree, other than the doctorate, will be charged a fee of $20, which will cover the cost of the hood to be presented at the degree and in addition, the cost of the doctorate is $35.00. No student will be considered for graduation who has not filed an application.

Horse Show Entries Must Be In May 10

Entries for entrants to the annual Block and Bridle Horse Show, to be held May 29 at the Lexington Trotting Track, is May 10, according to Dick Crafton, president.

Entries received after May 10 will not appear on the program although post entries will be accepted.

Ilan Swift, physics; Kenneth Toomey, political science; and Nick C. Wallen, political science.

Tau Sigma Spring Concert To Be Presented Next Week

Program Planned For May 3, 4, 5

Tau Sigma, the modern dance society, will present their annual spring concert May 3, 4, and 5 at 8 p.m. in the Guignol Theater. The concert, composed of eight sections, will be presented by over 40 men and women students under the direction of Miss Helen Lipscomb of Lexington composed the score for "The Masque of the Red Death," a story by Edgar Allan Poe. This section will be presented by eight different sections. It opens with an ensemble dancing the Introduction. This is followed by "The Green Hill" and the "Royal Quadrille," both group dances.

The fourth section is the dance of the "White Princess," performed by Beverly Brown. Joseph Marks, another solo in the Harlequin dance. The "Green Hill" follows, performed by the entire group. The dance of the "Violent Lament" and the dance of the "Red Death" concludes the story.

Choreographed by Student "The God of the World on a String," a dance choreographed by Eunice Stille will open the evening's program. The entire group will be directed by Eunice Stille. This section is called "Land of the Pastoral Plains."

In addition to Dr. Donovan, 15 UK students were inducted into the Henry Clay chapter of the fraternity.

The students are Fred Coplin, Joseph Curran, James Dixon, Guy Duerson, Jr., John Duncan, William Flahback, Goodloe McDowell, Ben Furman, Richard Gutz, Robert Guillette, Andrew Palmer Jr., Shelby Eberhard, Joseph Schoepf, David Whites Jr., and Donald Wood Jr.

Following the ceremony members of the fraternity and their guests attended a banquet at the Hotel Southern. Principal speaker was Joe Leary, Frankfort attorney, and Charles K. O'Connell, clerk of the Court of Appeals, served as toastmaster. Guests were judges and members of the Court of Appeals, and E. A. Taylor of Kansas City.

Both the baccalaureate and commencement programs, the first of any kind to be held in the 15,000-capacity auditorium, will be open to the public. Admission tickets will be required.

Names of the entire 9333 Kentucky dead have been inscribed on memorial plaques and will be permanently installed in recessed wall panels along the Coliseum entry ramps prior to the dedication services. The baccalaureate-dedication program will be held in the Coliseum on June 2.

Cooper is a former U. S. senator and is now special foreign policy advisor to Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

A baccalaureate program, set for 10 a.m. May 29, will also serve as a formal dedication service. The new coliseum will be dedicated to the memory of 9333 Kentuckians who lost their lives in World War II. Families of all the men have been invited to attend the exercises.

Principal speaker at the combination dedicatory-baccalaureate program will be Dr. Daniel A. Poling of New York, clergyman who serves as president of the World's Christian Endeavor Union and editor of the Christian Herald.

Members of the Sucky May Day committee are Gene Stevens and Fryburn Wesley, general program chairman; Glenn Wills, Evelyn Butler, and Ruth Treff, group committee; Zell Sluiter, Richard Crafton, Anne Williams, and Nancy West, Sucky float committee.

Bruce Cotton, Ann O'Bannon, and Betty White, publicity committee; Ed Strohbe, judges and trophy committee; and Jean Sherman and Tommy Radson, parade committee.

John S. Cooper Will Address Largest UK Graduating Class

John Sherman Cooper has been chosen as commencement speaker and will speak before approximately 1700 graduating seniors, largest class in the school's 85-year history, during exercises to be held in Memorial Coliseum on June 2.

Cooper is a former U. S. senator and is now special foreign policy advisor to Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Youth Orchestra Gives Season's Final Musicales

Pence Is Director Of 60-Piece Unit

By Joe Coyle

The 1949-50 series of University musicales will close Sunday with a program by the Central Kentucky Youth Music Society Orchestra at 4 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

The program will be directed by Howard Pence, a graduate of Union College in Barbourville, and violinist for several years with the UK Symphony Orchestra.

The orchestra Mr. Pence founded in the summer of 1947 has now grown into a full orchestra of 60 pieces. It was started as a means of treating interest among the youth of Central Kentucky in good music. The group is composed primarily of Fayette County boys and girls, but include several from surrounding counties.

Members of the orchestra are as follows: First violins - Olin Spiver, Ann Chaikas, Jerry Day, Tommy Amey, Robert Lancaster, Nancy McFarland, Betty Jo Brunfield, Pauline Allen, Guyse Brunfield, Maxine House, Betty Hays, Sally Ann Callahan, Susan Darnell, Winona Williams, Jackie Todd, and Alice Callahan. Second violins - Charles Ford, Wayne Crain, and Nancy Burklow. Cellos - Allen Wertz, Dorothy J.

THE CAMERA CATCHES several modern dancers as they practice their leaps for the Tau Sigma spring concert to be held May 3, 4, and 5 in the Guignol Theater. The program is composed of eight dances originally choreographed under the direction of Miss Revell Estill Shaw.

'Two Blind Mice' Rated Good Guignol Comedy

Consistent Acting Is Play's Feature

By Holt Mastin

The play itself, which seemed to go through many comedies, had a slow beginning, gained some momentum in the second act, and lost its effect in the final act as the characters made a frantic attempt to solve their problems and allow for a "happy ending."

The story concerns two elderly ladies called Letitia and Crystal who jointly operate a liquidated government bureau watching the Office of Seeds and Standards, or the Office of Medicinal Herbs. Newspaperman Tommy Thurston discovers their true, his ex-wife arrives with her new fiancé, but instead, just poor publicity which is thoroughly enjoyed by the Office of Seeds and Standards.

Charles Drew is impressive as the overly stimulated Tommy Thurston, Jane Batchelor and Maxine Perrine fit well in their roles as the stern Letitia Turnbull and the naive Crystal Flower. As Karen, the ex-wife, Minna Bloomfield has the difficult task of sustaining anger throughout the entire play.

Laurels go to minor Kenneth Smith for his role as the somewhat clueless Journalist, Robert Tuttle, but instead, just poor publicity which is thoroughly enjoyed by the Office of Seeds and Standards.

A good percentage of the seats were vacant during the week-long performance. We hope this is not a lagging interest in Guignol but instead, just poor publicity which is thoroughly enjoyed by the Office of Seeds and Standards.

CONN-COX 'UNS

By Earl Conn and Bob Cox

Spring is really here if you can go by the weather we had during the early part of the week. Of course we all know that spring allows the girls to show off their sweaters and nice vests. That's probably one of the big reasons why spring is everybody's favorite season. And so we're on our way again. How about this one?

A freshman is a person who thinks that a college is run for the benefit of the student.

He was an American. She was French. He was in New York on business for his store in Tulsa. He met her on an elevator. She looked good to him. He looked good to her. He took out a pad and pencil and drew a picture of a hansom with a question mark after it. She nodded yes. They went for a ride in the park. He drew a picture of a restaurant. She nodded yes. They ate. He drew a picture of some designers. She nodded yes. They danced. Then she asked for the pad and pencil. She drew a picture of a four-poster bed. Now what he is trying to figure out is how she knew he was in the furniture business.

Charlie: That was a nice looking hansom I saw you walking through the gardens. What did you do down there?

Johnny: Aw, we just talked about the weather.

Charlie: The weather?

Definition: A professor is the man whose job is to tell students how to solve the problems of life which he has tried to avoid by becoming a professor.

Charlie: Stop fidgeting that grape.

Last: One lead pencil. By blonde brown eyes, height, five feet, five inches, weight 115, 20, very good dancer. Reward if returned. Call Tri-D House.

In the old days, when a fellow told a girl a naughty story, she blushed at it. Today she tells him the new version.

"How do you feel this morning?"

"Fine."

"I guess I have the wrong number."

Perfume salegirl to brunette: Just a word of advice, honey. Don't use this stuff if you're only bluffing.

Men have been tried and found wanting—all wanting the same thing.

Joe: I just brought home a skunk.

Roommate: Where ya gonna keep him?
Joe: I'm gonna tie him under the bed.
Roommate: What about the smell?
Joe: He'll have to get used to it like I did.

"Where've ya been for the last two hours?"
"Talking to the girl at the cigar counter."
"What did she say?"
"No."

Professor (after final exam): Well, what did you think of the course?
Student: I thought it was a very inclusive course. Everything that wasn't covered during the year was covered on the final exam.

Clem and Zeke had been friends for 40 years. Walking along the road one day, Clem finally got the courage to say what was on his mind. "Zeke," he said, "I ain't exactly meanin' to pry but hows come you and Sary ain't got no kids?"
Zeke considered the question awhile and finally answered, "Well, I'll tell yeh, Clem. A couple of nights before we were married I made a suggestion—well, she made such a darned fuss that ain't never had the nerve to bring up the subject again."

"Hello, Coach."
Zeke: I thought I told you not to drink while in training.
"What makes you think I've been drinking, Coach?"
"I'm not the coach."

Then there was the trapeze artist who caught his wife in the act.

Two English gentlemen were standing waiting for someone to come from the powder room. A moment later two women walked out.

The first Englishman said, "Oh, I say, what do you know about that, here comes my wife with my mistress."

"By jove, old boy," the second exclaimed, "you took the words right out of my mouth."

A rather conceited bachelor was invited to dinner by a lady of his acquaintance, but did not accept.

A few days later, seeing her on the street, he said in his best manner, "I believe you asked me to dine with you last week."
"Why yes, I believe I did," she answered brightly, "and did you come?"

Enough is enough.

After a virtual disappearance lasting nearly half a century, the rare and scarce spool now is returning by the hundreds to old nesting grounds in the U. S. Gulf coast region.

Job Outlook Appears Good For Some, Bad For Others

Surveys of the employment outlook in fields of law, engineering, teaching, and dietetics has been released by the U. S. Department of Labor.

In reference to dietetics the report shows that at present there is a need for dietitians throughout the country. The main source of employment is in hospitals, the report states.

Statistics show that dietitians receive an average of from $2800 to $3900 a year with many of the jobs paying much higher.

Engineering graduates, the report says, will face tighter competition for jobs although the outlook is still good for the future. According to the survey, both the field of engineering and the need for engineers are growing at a steady rate.

Engineering Requirements
Minimum requirements for engineering jobs are being gradually raised and the Department of Labor advises the student to get as much training as possible while still in school.

The need for teachers at the elementary level is still critical, the survey states. The teaching profession has filled all the vacancies created during the war and excesses created during the war and in excess of the need for elementary teachers.

Prospects at the secondary level are not as good as those at the elementary level, the report says. With few exceptions the shortage of secondary level teachers is now confined to the rural areas and in special fields of study such as home economics.

Employment Increase In 1952
The report advises students to get their master's degree before trying for a job in a high school. After 1952, employment will probably increase because of the increase in enrollment.

Prospects at all fields covered in the report is that of law. The number of law graduates is increasing because of the increase in the number of law schools. In other vocations, the chances for employment are to be found in the smaller communities.

Prospects will be forced to turn to fields other than law to seek employment. Legal training is becoming essential for many types of business, for administrative positions in government, and to people seeking public offices, the report said.

Dean M. M. White of the College of Arts and Sciences gave a welcoming address and introduced Dean Romney at the morning session. The remainder of the conference consisted of group discussions on various phases, in the organization and maintenance of community recreation projects.

University members serving as consultants were John Givin, director of the U. S. Bureau of Community Service; Ralph Ramsey, field agent in rural sociology; Layman V. Gieger, director of the University Training School; Carl Jones, field agent in "I" work; Bernard Johnson, instructor in physical education; and Miss Chloé Gifford, assistant in University extension.

Home Ec Teachers To Attend Workshop
Miss Helen Wilmore and Mrs. Polly Preek, members of the home economics faculty at the University, will attend the annual meeting of the Province VI Home Economics Club Workshop to be held at Purdue University today and tomorrow.

Miss Wilmore is state advisor to all Home Economics Clubs in Kentucky, while Mrs. Preek is advisor-elect of the University club.

Jerrell Dean Ellis and Leta Payne Cooper, incoming president and treasurer, respectively, of the University Home Economics Club will also attend the meeting.

Other states represented will be Ohio, Indiana, and West Virginia.

A check by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed a count of an estimated 400,000 ducks and geese in Tennessee. The service said the estimate was "at least 50 per cent higher than last year."

Faith Is Nominated For High Math Post

Carl C. Faith, senior mathematics major, has been nominated for membership in the Mathematics Association of America by the UK department of mathematics.

Faith is president of Lambda Chi Alpha, social fraternity; a member of Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity; Lances, junior men's honorary; Kappa, sophomores' honorary; White Math Club, SGA, and Interfraternity Council.

The association recently established the policy of allowing mathematics departments to select a student each year who has done outstanding work in mathematics for nomination to membership in the association.

Recreationists Map Program

One of the chief problems to be met by the nation's recreational leaders is a revolt by the average American against the recreation plant which his enforced idleness is making of him.

Dr. Romney said there was a noted increasing demand by Americans for more things to do with their hands and increasing interest in scientific hobbies. He urged recreational leaders mapping programs for their home communities to take these facts into consideration.

Approximately 100 community recreation advocates from throughout Kentucky attended the conference which was sponsored by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Dean M. M. White of the College of Arts and Sciences gave a welcoming address and introduced Dean Romney at the morning session. The remainder of the conference consisted of group discussions on various phases, in the organization and maintenance of community recreation projects.

'Belvedere's' Back In Town Along With Italians, Cowboys

By Bob Cox

Belvedere's back and wild as ever! That is the best description possible for the new show at the Kentucky Theater this week, for Clifton "Mr. Belvedere" Webb is back in a rollicking comedy entitled "Cheaper By The Dozen."

Webb is just about as funny as ever and this time he has a supporting cast that surpasses all others in quantity if not quality. It consists of his wife, Myrna Loy and twelve count 'em, twelve little Webbs. How they and their most prolific pater perform to produce one of the best comedies in some time is a sight to behold. As Webb so aptly puts it, "Twelve of them and hardly an idiot in the bunch."

If there's a story it ran off and hid somewhere for it is no place to be found, it is some rare humor, though, and this is a show that should be enjoyed by most everyone.

SGA Committee To Study Better Seating At Games

Plans to investigate the possibilities of a better seating arrangement at Still Field this fall will be arranged by the football seating committee of SGA, according to Don Rogers, member of the committee.

Previous plans to eliminate the problem by opening the center section of the north stands were turned down by Barrie Shively, head of the athletic department.

"The athletic department made a survey of the Southeastern Conference and Southern Conference schools seating plans," Shively said. "The athletic board drew up a plan that is better than most and can be copied by some of these schools."

An executive committee meeting of SGA Monday night plans were made to carry out more of the campaign promises of both parties, Rogers said. "The committee plans to set in motion some of the more pressing items before the end of the semester," he said.

To get student ideas on these issues and other student problems, the members of SGA elected by the Arts and Sciences College beginning May 4 will hold weekly sessions at 4 p.m. on Thursdays in the Student Union. The room number will be announced next week.

All students in the College of Arts and Sciences are invited to attend the sessions, Rogers said.

Permit Unnecessary To Park On Campus After 2:50 P.M.

Beginning Monday, the campus will be open for student parking without permits after 2:50 p.m. The regulation was passed at a recent meeting of the SGA judicial committee.

L. G. Smith, chairman of the judicial committee, said that the action was taken in an effort to relieve some of the hardships caused by inadequate parking space on the campus. Surveys have indicated that the spaces available after 1 o'clock classes are sufficient to accommodate all students wanting to park on the campus for the rest of the afternoon.

Smith warned that if people with permits have difficulty in finding a place to park after that hour, and if congestion results, the open parking will be voided.

Students who have suggestions to make regarding the parking problem may appear before the judicial committee at 4 p.m. each Thursday in the Dean of Men's office, Smith said. Written suggestions are also accepted.

Phi Beta To Observe 25th Year

The Kappa chapter of Phi Beta, women's professional music, speech, and dance fraternity, will observe their 25th anniversary on the University campus at the annual initiation banquet tonight. The dinner will be held in the Fireside room of the Phoenix Hotel.

Mrs. T. E. Carnahan, national secretary-treasurer of Phi Beta, will be the guest of honor. Mrs. Lolo Robinson, past national president, will serve as toastmistress. Dinner music will be furnished by Mary Carolyn Carver, pianist; Ruth White, cellist; and Mary Anne Good, violinist.

Awards will be presented to the winners and runners-up in the short story and poetry divisions of the Kentucky High School Composition contest. The contest was

Jon Whitcomb Seeks New Magazine Model

A search for new models for magazine illustrations is being conducted by Jon Whitcomb, a noted illustrator. The contest will end May 1 and the winners will be announced in July.

Any girl may enter the contest by filling out an application blank obtained at local jewelers, sorority houses, or women's dormitories, and mailing it with a picture to the board of judges, headed by Whitcomb.

The jewelers are Rita Jewelry and Luggage, Rosenberg's, Jay's, Jewell Box, Villenot, and Bogert's.

The reward if chosen as a "Whitcomb Girl" is an all-expense-paid, week-long trip to New York, modeling fees of $100 a day for three days, $100 for incidental expenditures, and the original of the Whitcomb painting.

Tri-Delts To Give Informal Tea Dance

An informal tea dance will be given by Delta Delta Delta sorority at the Lexington Country Club from 2-5 p.m. today.

Joan Pfeiffer, the social chairman, has selected "April Showers" as the theme for the spring dance. Dave Parry and his orchestra will furnish the music for the dance.

Hatchett To Pitch Today In Opener Against Tech

By Bob Gorham

Catch Neal Moseley has nominated Bob Hatchett as his starting pitcher for this afternoon when the Wildcats collide with the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets at 3 p. m. in the first of a two game series on Still Field.

The Cats will be out for the seventh win in a row, their seventh of the season, and their third straight victory over the Yellow Jackets. They opened their season by dropping a pair of tilts to Georgia's Bulldogs, but since then they have posted six consecutive wins. Included in the six-game string are two decisions over the Yellow Jackets, 10-6 and 14-9, in Atlanta earlier this month.

Students will be admitted to today's game on their athletic ticket books. Game time today is 3 p. m., while tomorrow's game will begin at 2 p. m. C. M. Newton will be on the mound for UK tomorrow. In their last start, the Wildcats had to have some nifty relief hurling by C. M. Newton, to go along with the big bat of Allen Hamilton to salvage a 5-3 victory over the Centre Colonels at Danville.

Hamilton started Kentucky off in the first frame with a towering two-run homer that carried about 400 feet. The Cats counted two more runs in the second on a walk, Bob Parilla's double and Bill Smithers' single, and wound up their scoring for the afternoon when singles by Dom Fucci and Johnny Stroup accounted for another tally in the third.

Newton relieved Al MacLeod with one out in the eighth inning after the Colonels had scored for the third time to narrow the Kentucky lead. He retired the last five men in order to receive credit for his second win of the campaign.

Centerfielder Benny Zaranka, banged out two hits in three times at bat and stole three bases to lead the Wildcat attack.

Score by innings: R H E
 Kentucky.....221 000 003-5 8
 Centre.....000 110 010-3 6 1
 Batteries: Wiseman, MacLeod (5), Newton (4) and Fucci, Turner (5), Cummins (3); Carrayannis and Ramsey.

1. Name of racing: Omaha, Man O'War, or Count Fleet?
 2. Which well-known ballplayer of yesterday jumped from Baylor University to the big league for a long successful career: Mel Ott, Ted Lyons, or George Goulet?
 3. Has the Notre Dame football team ever been to the Rose Bowl?
 4. When did the St. Louis Cardinals and the St. Louis Browns meet in the World Series?
 5. Are the Kentucky Derby, the Belmont Stakes and the Preakness the Triple Crown run at the same distance? If not, what are the distances?
 6. Was Pee Wee Reese born in Louisville, Lewisport, Ekron or St. Matthews?
 7. Which grid teams compete for the famed "Old Oaks Bucket"—Furdor-Indiana, Ohio State-Illinois, or Slippery Rock-Stinkmore??
 8. Give the city locations of the following colleges: UCLA, Baylor, North Texas State?
 9. Name three of the famous Four Horsemen of Notre Dame?
 10. What year did Johnny Vander Meer pitch his two consecutive no-hit ball games?

Cats Face UL

By Fred T. Lawson

The University of Louisville Cardinals will be here tomorrow afternoon to face Kentucky's tennis team. The matches are scheduled for the U-High courts at 2 p. m.

Tennessee swept six singles and three doubles matches to take a 9-0 decision over the Kentucky tennis team on the U-High courts last Saturday.

The Volunteers won all the matches in straight sets. It was the fourth straight defeat for Kentucky.

Only Charles Holland gave the Vols any trouble. He lost to Nathan Smith, Tennessee, 6-1, 8-6.

John Cullum, Tennessee, downed Omar Tatum, 6-2, 6-3.

Summary:
 Singles: Bill Davis defeated David Eppley, 6-1, 6-1; Nathan Smith defeated Charles Holland, 6-1, 8-6; Gavin Gentry defeated Ben Kematzar, 6-1, 6-2; John Cullum defeated Oscar Tatum, 6-2, 6-3; W. G. Currie defeated Ralph Tatum, 6-1, 6-0, and Tom Bartlett defeated Ted Englehardt, 6-0, 6-1.

Doubles: Smith-Davis defeated Holland-Kematzar, 6-2, 6-1; Gentry-Cullum defeated O. Tatum-Eppley, 6-2, 6-0; Currie-Bartlett defeated R. Tatum-Englehardt, 6-0, 6-0.

SPORTS QUIZ

The winner of last week's sports quiz was Carter Class, UK Post Office Box 3831, who answered nine of the ten questions correctly.

He missed by only one-tenth of a second in having a perfect score, guessing at 9.7 for Paul Biehn 1948 record for the Conference 100-yard dash. Tulane's Biehn covered the distance in only 9.5 in the SEC track meet two years ago.

The other correct answers were:
 1. Hirsch is captain of the basketballers.
 2. Marion went to Georgia Tech.
 3. Johnny Minger, now at Army, preceded Rupp here and remained three seasons.
 4. UK's last win over Tennessee in football was in 1928.
 5. Harold Reese; Harold Reiser; George Tebbetts; Paul Trout; Harold Lowery; and Vernal Jones.
 6. Dave Rogan has the two SEC track records for UK. He won the mile in 4:18.3, a snafu that still stands as well as taking the 880-yard run in 1:34. Both records were made in 1937.
 7. The answer was Bernie Armstrong Shively, 8, 7's 9.6.
 8. Phelps will play with the Cleveland Browns; McDermott with the Philadelphia Eagles.
 9. Hack Wilson, of the Chicago Cubs, holds the home run record for the National League for one season with 56. Kimer's high is 54.

Sports Review

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

SEVERAL moons ago, the veteran Red Drew, head football coach at the University of Alabama, named four teams which he figures will fight it out for the Southeastern Conference grid championship this autumn.

THE QUARTET were Tulane, Tennessee, Georgia and Kentucky.

POSTUNATELY the Wildcats will have most of the key players from last season's Orange Bowl aggregation returning next fall, including three potential All-Americans in Tackle Bob Gain, Fullback Bill Leskovar and Quarterback Babe Parilli.

A TOTAL of 37 sophomores were used in last Friday's Blue-White game and many showed signs of developing into good varsity players.

GENE DONALDSON, 5-9, 205-pound guard from East Chicago, Ind., is almost certain to be of considerable assistance. Donaldson was sought after by many colleges, particularly Notre Dame. When UK can take prospects from the latter institution, it strongly suggests that Kentucky is getting some pretty high class material.

DON KING, a 200-pound tackle from Leon Hart's hometown of Turtle Creek, Penn., is slated for much duty this fall as a running mate with Bob Gain. He's rated as another diamond in the rough.

THE JONES brothers, Harry and Larry, who look more like a pair of English majors rather than college footballers, were probably the biggest surprise in last week's game. The 160-pound twins turned in excellent performances, particularly Harry. If these two, plus 150-pound Johnny Cron and 135-pound Bill Daniels, a couple more swift soph halfbacks, prove durable enough for the tough varsity play next fall, the Cats will have quite a backfield.

Fullbacks John Brainerd and Ed Koslowki displayed signs of running ability. Both are 5-9, 160-pound sophomore candidates.

R. B. Hodge, a 6-3, 220-pound center from Blytheville, Ark., is rated as an excellent prospect and will very likely get in much playing time come October and November.

The only position that Kentucky might be weak at next fall is the ends. Back will be Ben Zaraska, Al Bruno, John Netoskie and Charlie McClendon. These gridgers will be strengthened with the addition of Bob Fry, 6-3 wingman from Cincinnati; Bill Johnson, of Louisville; John Griegs, 6-2 lad from Morganfield; Bob Robinson, of Lempco, Calif.; Vito Casabonova, from Brooklyn and a few others. Good defensive ends might be shalove even with McClendon.

Bill Farley, Herb Hunt, Bill Ballzall and Larry Jones are the new quarterbacks moving on. Should one of these come through sufficiently enough to help Parilli in the big games, our Wildcats will probably make Coach Drew's prediction book good.

The Cats should be a strong contender for the SEC crown. Coach Paul Bryant and his coaching staff have done an excellent job in bringing to UK some brilliant prospects.

ALLEN HAMILTON'S home run was a big factor in Kentucky's 5-3 win over Centre College at Danville last Saturday afternoon.

HAMILTON, a 5-10, 175-pound freshman, the 5-10, 175-pound halfback will not be eligible for the varsity until 1951.

All in all, it adds up to a bright season for Kentucky fans next fall and for a few years thereafter. Who knows, we might even beat Tennessee in 50 or 51!

The present Southeastern Conference was formed in 1932. It consisted of the present 12 member schools along with Sewanee of Tennessee, which dropped out in 1940.

The other way we checked through the official SEC sports record book to find out which schools have taken the most championships in the various sports.

Here is what we found: BASKETBALL: The University of KENTUCKY is easily the class in this sport, having won 12 tournaments in the 17 which have been held. In 1935, no tourney was staged, but UK's Cats were recognized as the champs. So actually, Rupp's teams have held the title 13 of the 18 years for the SEC.

FOOTBALL: Tennessee (you might know) and Alabama have been the standouts in this sport, each having held the crown four years in the 17 seasons of SEC history.

BASEBALL: Again it's Alabama. The Crimson Tide diamond teams have copied the title eight of the 15 years. From 1934 through 1942, the Red Elephants of Tuscaloosa won the crown seven times.

TRACK: LSU wins this by a heavy majority. The Baton Rouge institution has taken this championship 15 of the 17 years and has been runners-up in the other four seasons for a remarkable record. Tech, who won it in 1949, is next with just three titles.

TENNIS: Tulane University of New Orleans is the best at tennis, having been champs eight times in the 11 seasons, including 1947, 1948 and 1949. Tech has won it twice
