

Crowning Of Queen To Highlight Military Ball

The University of Kentucky's future officers take time off from their drill field duties tomorrow night for a little foot-stompin' at the annual Military Ball.

The event is sponsored jointly by the Army and Air Force ROTC units. All students may attend. Attire is semi-formal, but those students enrolled in ROTC courses are expected to wear their uniforms. Time of the dance is from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Highlight of the Ball will be the crowning of the queen at 10:30 p.m. The queen will be selected from a bevy of 13 beauties chosen as finalists by the ROTC units. These finalists are:

AFROTIC:
Jan Thomas, Squadron "A," (KAT); Eli Runyon, Squadron "B" (ADP); Muff Van Ness, Squadron "C"

(KKG); Kathy Hancock Dickey, Squadron "D" (AGD); Randi Richards, Squadron "E" (KAT); and Jody Nichols, Squadron "F" (AXID).

Army ROTC:
Carol Lee Axton, Company "A" (KAT); Gaye Evans, Company "B" (DDD); Margaret Futrell, Company "C" (DD); Anna Owen, Company "E"; Carol Lee Anderson, Company "G" (XO); Charlene Scheibel, Company "F" (KD).

The 13th queen candidate is Margaret Combs (KD), representing Scabbard and Blade.

The queen will be presented by Dan Woodward, Arnold Air Society Captain. Two attendants will be named; one will be presented by Richard Craft, Captain of Pershing Rifles, and the other by James Deacon, Captain of Scabbard and Blade.

The reception line will consist of the three senior cadre officers in the Army and the Air Force (all are ROTC instructors at UK) and their ladies; Dean of Men Leslie L. Martin and Mrs. Martin; Dean M. M. White of the College of Arts and Sciences and Mrs. White, and Dean of Women Sarah B. Holmes.

The officers will include Col. Robert S. Larson, Lt. Col. Albert H. Hutchinson, Jr., and Maj. Milton Rowlofs of the Air Force; and Colonel William E. Grubbs, Major Olaf W. Christopher, and Maj. Elden E. Evans of the Army.

Tickets will be available today and tomorrow at Barker Hall and also from all members of Arnold Air Society, Scabbard and Blade, and Pershing Rifles. Tickets will also be available at the door. Admission is $2.00 a couple.

Queen Candidates

Pulitzer Winner Will Speak Here

Harrison Salisbury, Pulitzer Prize-winning correspondent for the New York Times, will speak in the Central Kentucky Concert and Lecture Series at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday, April 3 in Memorial Coliseum.

Salisbury won the Pulitzer Prize in 1954 for his "excellence in foreign reporting." The prize was awarded for a series of articles called "Russia Re-Viewed."

The articles were written following an extensive trip to Soviet Asia in 1953. He visited Karganada, the home of prison labor; Alma, Ata, capital of Kazakhstan; Frunze, capital of Kirghizia; Tashkent, capital of Uzbekistan; Samarkand, Bokhara, Fergana and Stalinabad, capital of Tadzhikistan.

This was the first trip ever made by any American correspondent to all of these cities and the most extensive ever made in modern times by any foreigner to this area. Salisbury gave an eye-witness report of the tremendous industrial area which the Communists are building in "forbidden" Central Asia.

Salisbury was editor of the University of Minnesota daily during his undergraduate days, until he was fired "for smoking a cigarette in the University library."

He covered the tail-end of the Chicago gang wars for the United Press and the income tax evasion trial of Al Capone. He later became Washington editor for the UP.

During World War II he was London manager of the United Press and director of European

Stars In The Night Program Honors Outstanding Coeds

About 287 UK women were recognized at the annual "Stars in the Night" program Wednesday. Seven organizations were recognized at the ceremonies in Memorial Hall.

The program opened with a skit written by Jo Ann Burdick, Nancy McKinley, Marcia Wilder, Jo Ann Fisher, Frances Edney, Sue Davenport and Julie Fitch.

The cast included: Betty Jo Fritz, Tracy Walden, Frances House, Linda Hamilton, Nancy Quinn, Tau Sigma members, and the SAE quartet. The master of ceremonies was Betty Jo Fritz.

About 70 coeds received awards at the program. The awards, recipients and sponsors follow:

YWCA was named the outstanding woman's organization on campus by ADP; Panhellenic recognized the Chi Omega sorority for having the highest pledge class standing, Kappa Kappa Gamma for the highest sorority house standing, and Hamilton House for having the highest small residence house standing. The Panhellenic foreign student scholarship was presented to Ayhan Aydogdu of Bursa, Turkey.

The Fayette AAUW Scholarship was presented to Margaret Marie Sweeney. The McVey Scholarships were presented to Carole Ann McDaniel and Carolyn Conrath Williams.

The program recognized 32 women for having 40 standings. They are:

College of Arts and Sciences—Patricia Edwards, Ellen Flippo, Faye Gibson, Maxine Gottesman, Lois

Cammack Hall, Julie Hawkins, Virginia Johnson, Shirley Ann Lewis, Sara J. Riley, Barbara J. Roberts, Donalene Sapp, Carol Scott, Helen Stephens, Evangeline Taylor, and Janice Turner.

Economics — Carol Calderwood, Sandra Cowgill, Carol Riddell, and Ernestine Williams.

College of Commerce — Anne Armstrong, Helen Fannin, and Martha Jean Lockhart.

College of Education — Eileen Bailey, Betty Combs, Margaret Ehlen, E. Nadine Heyerford, Alice Jackson, Kathryn Johnson, Suzanne Jones, Alice Martin, Jeannine Massey and Shirley Vanderpool.

Delta Delta Scholarship awards were presented to Anna Sue Chandler and Ernestine Williams.

Joan Stadelman was named outstanding sophomore woman by Owens.

Kappa Delta's outstanding senior woman was Sonia Shine.

Mattie Levon Cooksey was named by the Home Economics Club as the "Girl of the Year."

Barbara Jean Roberts was presented with the Alpha Lambda Delta award to the senior girl who attained the highest Alpha Lambda Delta standing for four years.

The following were recognized for maintaining the Alpha Lambda Delta standing for four years: Lois Mae Allen, Betty Jo Fritz, Barbara Jean Roberts, Theda Frances McKinney, Elynor Fortune

Derby Policies Cause Conflict

By JOE GOODMAN

Complaints regarding policies governing the forthcoming Little Kentucky Derby were expressed Tuesday by several persons connected with the men's residence halls.

According to Robert Blakemen, director of the residence halls, "some of the members of the dorm council and several dorm monitors felt that the requirements for entering the Derby had been misrepresented."

The complaints arose when the dorms received their official applications for the Derby. Contained in these applications was a clause stipulating a $10 entry fee, and another which specified that participants would be held responsible for the bicycles they used.

These stipulations, the dorm representatives said, had not been mentioned when they were first approached by a member of the Student Alumni Foundation, with the Little Derby proposal.

The Little Derby is sponsored by the Student Alumni Foundation, in co-operation with the UK Alumni Association.

Willis Haws, president of the men's residence halls governing council, said that Pete Perlman, a member of the Foundation, "came to me around the first of February and asked to speak to the council."

Haws said that "Perlman urged all council members to try to get up teams from their respective floors to participate in the Derby; and that the entries would be due in the next three days."

"At that time, Perlman said there would be no financial obligation on our part and that the bicycles would be furnished," Haws said.

Bob Seay, a dorm monitor, said "Perlman said I could get up a

Sunday Library

In order to ascertain the need for Sunday evening library service, the King Library will be open from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. on 7, 14, 28 April and 5 and 12 May. The periodical, Reserve, and Reference Rooms will be open, but there will be no service at the Loan Desk.

The Library Staff is conducting this experiment over and above its regular duties, and it has been emphasized that Sunday evening hours cannot be continued—if they prove to be needed—unless budgetary adjustments are made.

Peak Will Resign To Run For Judge

Bart Peak, YMCA secretary, will resign April 1 to enter the race for Fayette County Judge.

Due to a University ruling, which says no employee may run for public office, Peak must resign his position to enter the race. He cannot file for the Democratic primary which will be held May 28 until he has resigned from the University.

Should Peak win the Democratic primary he would possibly oppose Dan Fowler, the present Fayette County Judge, in the general election in November.

In 1952, Peak received a leave of absence from the University and represented Fayette County's 49th District in the State House of Representatives. Peak lost a congressional primary race to John Watts in 1952, and lost the primary race for county judge to W. E. Nichols in 1953.

Peak graduated from the University of Kentucky College of Law in 1931 and has been YMCA secretary for 37 years.

Kenneth Harper, currently working on his Ph.D. in the College of Education, will become acting YMCA secretary. Harper is also working under Dean of Men L. L. Martin.

Peak is a member of many civic organizations. He is a member of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children and was appointed by Governor Chandler last year as a member of the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission.

He has been past president of the Traveler's Aid Society, West End Foundation and the Lexington Rotary Club.

Peak teaches a Bible class in the First Methodist Church and is a member of the Board of Stewards and the Board of Trustees of the church.

Polio Shots

"Get your polio vaccine shots now," Mrs. Marion Brown, Infantile Paralysis Foundation, advises.

The National Foundation is conducting an all-out campaign to promote the use of the Salk vaccine to fight polio she said.

Salk vaccine may be obtained at the UK infirmary.

'Career Week' Will End Today

Approximately 675 girls were expected at "Career Week," which closes today.

On Monday, 168 girls attended; 133 came on Tuesday. In past years, Career Day was held on Saturday with very few attending. Lois Summers, Home Economics Club president. Last year, it was held on Friday and 500 girls came, she said.

"The Home Economics Club feels it reached more high school girls by extending Career Day to Career Week. It gave them an opportunity to attend the day best suited for them," Miss Summers said.

Appointed guides stayed with a group of about 15 girls all day. They visited classrooms, had lunch, and toured the campus and dorms. Some of the classes in session were costume design, nutrition classes, foods, consumer problems, special problems in clothing, and interior decorating projects.

Each afternoon at 2 p.m. a speaker gave a short talk on one of the various fields in Home Economics.

"A few of the schools left as early as one o'clock in the morning to get here. The scheduled time for arrival was 9:30 a.m.," she stated.

Questionnaires will be sent out to teachers to see how they reacted to Career Week, she said.

Today Dr. George P. Summers; Mrs. Betty D. Eastin, interior decorator; and Mrs. Elizabeth Tyson, commercial demonstrator will speak.

A hand-screened drapery fabric display was exhibited during the week. Material used was borrowed from the Elenhank Designer Company in Chicago to be used in decorating classes and "Career Week."

The program was conducted on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and today. It was sponsored by the Home Economics Club.

Men's Ping Pong Set For April 8

The Mens Doubles Ping Pong Tournament will begin Monday, April 8 in the Student Union Game Room.

Interested students must sign-up in the Game Room before Friday, April 5.

Trophies will be awarded and there is an entrance fee of 25 cents. The tournament is open to all students except those on probation.

Students may contact the Program Director's office, Room 122 in the Student Union Building for additional information.

Blue Marlins' Water Show Ends Tonight

Fifty bathing beauties will present their last Blue Marlin water show tonight at the Memorial Coliseum pool.

The Blue Marlin show, Frangrances of the Deep, which started last night and ends tonight, will consist of synchronized swimming and acrobatic diving. The show will begin at 8 p.m.

Tickets for tonight's show are on sale in the Student Union Building from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tickets may also be purchased at the pool tonight. Miss Jane Bell directs the all-girl show.

Governmental securities of Turkey and Russia are known as consols.

Election Of Officers To Be Held By YMCA

The YMCA will elect officers for the 1957-58 school year March 27 through April 2.

Each YMCA member has been mailed a ballot and they must be returned to the YMCA office by Tuesday, April 2.

The candidates for president are: Elliott Netherton, Commerce senior; Pete Perlman, Arts and Sciences sophomore; and Frank Spragens, Arts and Sciences junior. The person with the second highest number of votes for president will automatically become vice president.

The candidates for secretary are: John Bridwell, Engineering sophomore; and Fred Strache, Agriculture and Home Economics sophomore.

The candidates for treasurer are:

Speech Festival To Be April 8-10

The State Speech Festival will be held on the campus April 8-10.

Judges for this year's Festival are all qualified speech teachers—holding at least one degree in the field.

Marine Corps League Post To Be Established Here

Break out those combat boots and dust off those old dress blues—the Marine Corps League is coming to Lexington! Bill Downey, ex-Marine, and now a student at UK, has received authorization from the national headquarters of the Marine Corps League to establish a league post in Lexington.

Persons eligible to join the league—and, in the process become charter members of the Lexington Post—include all Marines now on active duty; all ex-Marines who received an honorable discharge from the service; and all persons who are serving or have served not less than 90 consecutive days of active duty in the Marine Corps Reserve, including the Marine Corps Women's Reserve. Also eligible are naval personnel who served with Marine Corps units and whose names appeared on Marine Corps muster rolls (such as corpsmen).

Downey said that tentative plans call for the Lexington Post to receive a national charter sometime within the next two weeks. An organizational meeting will be held at this time, he added.

In the meantime, Downey asked team of monitors." "In addition to saying there would be no entry cost to us, and that everything would be furnished, he (Perliman) said that a downtown merchant was to contribute $100 for building a float with a woman's group on campus that had not yet been picked," Seay added.

Haws said that some "8 to 10 teams from the men's dorms had been formed, following Perliman's talk, with the idea of entering the Derby."

"The teams could not have entered officially at the time, since entry blanks for the Derby were not sent out until the latter part of last week, and this week."

When contacted, Perliman said "What I said at the time I meant; but at a later meeting of the Foundation I heard about the $10 entry fee. I then went on record as believing that the dorm teams couldn't raise the fee and would probably drop out."

Carolyn Collier, chairman of the Student Alumni Foundation, said, referring to Perliman's talk to the dorm governing council, "The steering committee told Pete Perliman to canvass the men's dorms to see how many teams could be formed."

"It's just a general misunderstanding," Miss Collier, who also serves as chairman of the Little Derby Committee, said.

Haws said he was sure "No team from the men's dorms would enter the Derby if they had to pay a $10 entry fee."

University Is A Public Concern

An open letter to the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees, the Hon. A. B. Chandler, chairman.

Gentlemen:

For some time now we have harbored an idea which we would like to see you transform into a reality—an idea which we believe will benefit you, will benefit us, and most important, will benefit the University of Kentucky.

Now, only four days away from your last full board meeting this semester, is, we believe, the most appropriate time to approach you with our idea.

Briefly, gentlemen, we would like to see you open your meetings to the press.

Admittedly, our idea is no new one. It has been a controversial issue for quite a few years, not only at the University of Kentucky, but at colleges and universities throughout the land. But this does not detract from the worthiness of the proposal—if anything, it emphasizes it.

We would, first of all, assure you that you would in no way be breaking a nation-wide taboo were you to change your present policy of closed meetings. You would be in good company—approximately one-half of the nation's land-grant universities now have open meetings.

This, in itself, of course proves nothing. But there are other, more valid, reasons why we feel the meetings should be open.

First, we are sure that you must realize that, in these days, when suspicion seems to be the byword of the times many people, when told of closed meetings, are certain that nothing short of a liaison with the Devil must be transpiring inside.

Those of us who are close to the University feel sure that, in your case this is a false conception—but the fact remains that, in the minds of many, it does exist.

But perhaps the greatest good that would result from open meetings is that understanding would be gained. Many newsmen, members of the Kernel included, have a vague picture of the Board of Trustees as a somewhat unapproachable, austere group of individuals who meet in smoke-filled rooms and debate high-level policy matters. Inevitably, the readers must receive the same picture and, in so doing, associate this picture with the University of Kentucky.

Were the press to be allowed into your meetings, we would get to know you—you, in turn, would get to know us. Understanding would surely follow—an understanding which would aid us all in achieving our mutual goal of a better University.

A trustee, is, by definition, "a person . . . to whom something is entrusted; one trusted to keep or administer something."

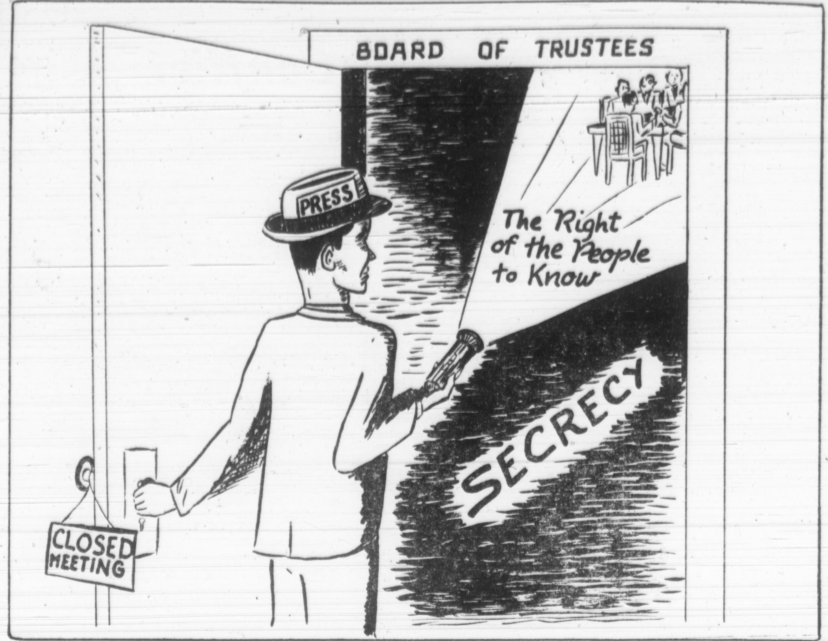

The "something" which you are administering is a public institution of the state of Kentucky. The people who support the institution—who are affected by the institution (and this category should include all Kentuckians)—have the right to know what transpires in the meetings of the persons in whom they have invested their trust.

Admittedly, we receive copies of your agenda before you meet; we are given the opportunity to consult with UK President Frank Dickey to discuss events of the meeting after the meeting; we are given copies of the minutes of the meeting—some two weeks after the meeting.

But, too often, a practice such as this results in only one side of the story being told. Whether this happens in your case, we have no way of knowing—we have never been to one of your meetings. But were we allowed to attend your meetings, the question would be removed—and all concerned would benefit.

Your answer to this proposal—if any—will, we feel sure, be that occasionally matters are discussed which the public should not have access to (such as the discussion of candidates for appointments to offices). None of us, I feel sure, would dispute your right to confer in private about such matters.

But we feel very strongly that all matters concerning public finances, and public business—which, we reiterate, affect each person in the state of Kentucky—should be dealt with in open meetings.

Let There Be Light

Letters From The Readers

Who Is Gym For?

To the Editor:

I believe that something should be done about the Alumni Gym situation. I am under the impression, which could be wrong, that the gym is for the use of University of Kentucky students only.

Lately every afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock (after all classes have finished in the gym) there have been 50 to 80 boys there playing and waiting to play basketball. There are only three goals that can be used, since one has been removed to allow the Troupers to jump around on one-quarter of the gym's area.

To make the situation worse, outsiders from Transylvania, other schools, and even no schools are there playing, thus depriving use of the floor to U. of Ky. students, many of whom have paid $2.50 for lockers in Alumni Gym, just so they could play basketball there.

Ernie Coyle

Tribute To Stahr

To the Editor:

I love to see Kentuckians do well. But it is always a keen disappointment to me to see a young man like Elvis Stahr leave the state of Kentucky. Many of us feared that when he failed to realize his ambition to be president of his own university that the job that he had would not hold him.

He has a grand opportunity in this new position where the physical plant has been greatly enlarged for a career that will satisfy his great ambition.

He may not have talents of a first order at this time but if he continues to work hard he will develop such capacities. This is perhaps the stepping stone to a university presidency or maybe something much larger.

We shall pray for this brilliant Kentuckian and hope that he can do much for his new home and city.

Sincerely,
James W. Jewell

'Hostess' Is Not

To the Editor:

I have put off writing this letter for several months, but I can remain silent no longer.

I don't mind too much risking my life to get across Limestone Street, dodging cars going 50 miles an hour. It doesn't peeve me greatly when I have to wait 15 minutes to get a coke in the Grill. Even the fact that I can't park my car within two blocks of the campus doesn't upset me too much. Perhaps these things are unavoidable. At any rate, we can't have everything. But the Student Union Cafeteria situation is something that I find hard to reconcile myself to.

The food is usually fit to eat. No complaint there.

They should be covered by reporters.

For, after all, gentlemen, you must realize that members of the press are also trustees—trustees of the people, and trustees of the principle of responsibility, upon which the pillar of Freedom of the Press rests.

We have always respected your trust. You should not deny us ours.

But when I pay more for supper in the cafeteria than I do downtown, and when I have to wait the best part of an hour to get it, and when they practically count out my butterbeans before they serve them, I feel that's too much!

The University of Kentucky is not a profit making organization! It is supported by the people of Kentucky, and its primary purpose is to serve those people. But why is food more expensive there than in some of Lexington's public restaurants? Should we have to pay more for less?

At night the cafeteria is invaded by literally hundreds of townspeople who don't want to cook at home. To these people, service is excellent. They get plenty of food, the women in the serving line are pleasant, and the cafeteria "hostess" sees that they are well taken care of. But such treatment is not extended to the lowly students. The servers grudgingly take orders, as if they themselves were paying for the food, and the ill-mannered "hostess" creeps around with a sour look on her face, apparently trying to find something to gripe about.

Is it necessary for us to wait longer, get less, and pay more? Should we have to put up with the discourtesies of the serving line, or the bickering of the Hostess With The Leastest? I think not. These complaints are all in the better interests of the students. How about a break in our favor?

Too Many Alarms

To the Editor:

Has the folly of false alarms had any real effect on the safety of students? Apparently, yes.

The fire alarm turned in at Donovan Hall last week was real, yet only a handful of the several hundred residents came outside. Many of the students inside didn't even get out of bed. Most of those in the yard only came out to see the fire trucks and watch the fun.

Very few people even thought to check if it was a real alarm. Most of them just took it for granted that it was only another practical joke. Even a Kernel reporter reported it as a false alarm.

The alarm signal was set off automatically by an overheated boiler in the basement. Had the danger been more serious, the loss of a minute through the students' indifference or the firemen's natural skepticism may have had deadly consequences.

The director of the dorms has warned students to leave the building whenever the fire alarm is sounded.

Runner Presents Awards To Outstanding Performers

By JOHN MARCUS

Once again, time has arrived for the Roadrunner to present the annual Academy Awards of the University of Kentucky. (Fanfare, man, fanfare!) This year the little statues, known fondly as Monsters (or as Gordon Hathaway would say, Monsterino's), go to: (Fanfare, Jack, fanfare)

Best Performance by an Actor: Adolph Rupp, for his performance in "The Man in the Brown Flannel Suit." The scene where he struggled with himself to keep from choking Max Macon, was a tear jerker!

Best Performance by an Actress: The lady in the lunch room for her delivery of the line, "Go back and sit in the grill, there's plenty of room in there!"

Best Performance by an Actress in a Supporting Role: Miss Harriet Hart for her supporting role of Dean Holmes in "Lights Out At Ten!"

Best Performance by an Actor in a Supporting Role: Mr. Gerry Calvert for his performance in the "Bold and the Bruised." Mr. Calvert threw himself lustily upon the floor two or three times a game, then rose to sink badly needed foul shots.

Best Motion Picture: "The King and Me," by Mrs. Leslie Martin.

Best Scoring of a Musical Picture: The University Police for scoring heavily in "The Best Things in Life Are Fees."

Best Achievement in Directing: Mr. Peterson for his Friendly Persuasion in "Night Grill, Nuts!"

Best Music Score in Comedy: The Pep Band at the ball games, giving George Shearing a very hairy, playing "Lullaby of Birdland."

Best Song: "Written on the Wall," by the University Placement Bureau.

Best Achievement in Costume Design: The ROTC boys in "War and Beasts," for their new pea green uniforms.

Just call him "Kars", please . . .

Dr. Milo G. Karsner of the Physical Education Department, believes physical training should begin at an early age. "Kars" prefers his nickname to his titles.

UK Professor Wants To Be Called 'Kars'

By RALPH BASHFORD

"I don't like to be called 'Doctor' or 'Professor.' I want to be called 'Kars' if anything at all."

And that's the way most students address Dr. Milo G. Karsner, director of the service curriculum in the Department of Physical Education.

While his classes are in session, it's difficult to distinguish the youthful looking instructor from his students. "Kars" is 42, but the way he burns up energy on the badminton court, you would never realize it.

A graduate of Lexington Henry Clay, Karsner entered UK in 1931. His coach at Henry Clay, John Heber, had a great deal of influence on his becoming a physical education teacher. "Heber was rough and tough," says Kars, "but he interested in boys and his sincerity and fairness had quite an effect on my life."

After getting his M.S. degree in 1937, Karsner became a full time instructor in the department. He's been on the staff since then except for a 5 1/2 year hitch in the Army, where he was in charge of what he called a "dodo outfit" (illiterate, mentally deficient, and non-English speaking soldiers). He also spent one year and three summers at the University of Iowa getting his doctor's degree.

During this time Karsner had many unusual experiences. "One time we were holding an archery class on the lot where Keeneland Hall is now located," he recalled. "A fellow named Stamonis was shooting and I was looking at the targets. Apparently, he shot so high I never did see the arrow, for I was still waiting for him to shoot when I noticed the housemother of Hamilton House had stepped out the back door and was giving us about the meanest look I've ever seen. Stamonis had scored a bullseye through one of the back windows."

Karsner was quick to point out that in spite of this incident, there has never been an injury of any kind during archery instructions. One of the better students that Karsner had was Emory Horn. In 1940, while Horn was still a student, he and Kars won the state doubles in badminton. Horn later went on to a rating of fourth in doubles in the United States.

"In physical education classes you learn to do things that will last a lifetime and that will serve as an emotional outlet for many of the problems that come up in later life," he said. "It also has social value. You learn how to meet and mix with people. In a sports contest, you can learn the real character of your friends, something you can't do in a classroom."

And when does Kars think is the best time to start a physical education program?

"Parents should start training their children in the basic skills of running, climbing, throwing, and handling objects when they are two years old," he asserted. "Exercise stimulates bodily functions and the results will be a much healthier child. A certain amount of vigorous exercise each day will result in a fuller life and will go a long way toward increasing the life span."

Dean Martin's Secretary

Pictured at her desk in the office of the Dean of Men is Mrs. Ila O'Dell, whose duties range from taking dictation to solving the minor problems of U.K.'s male population.

Duties Of Secretary Are Many And Varied

By FRANK C. STRUNK

Ever been "busy as a bird dog?" If you have dropped in at the dean of men's office lately, you have seen someone who is.

It isn't the dean himself (he probably has his own private expression), but his secretary, Mrs. Ila O'Dell.

Mrs. O'Dell has been secretary to Dean L. L. Martin for about a year and a half, and, when she had finished enumerating her official duties, the "bird dog" expression took on some meaning.

First, she takes Dean Martin's dictation and answers his letters. Then she takes applications and makes assignments for Cooperstown and Hilltop students' housing.

She is also a kind of "buffer" who stands between the dean and the students. Since time obviously would not permit Dean Martin to personally take care of all the problems of the University's men, Mrs. O'Dell or one of the dean's other assistants tries to solve all minor problems.

Of course, if one of them doesn't know the right answer, the student with a problem is sent on to the dean.

Mrs. O'Dell's duties also include making payrolls for the men's dormitories, the dean's office, Cooperstown, and the fraternity housemothers.

On the personal side, Mrs. O'Dell, who lives at Cooperstown with husband Bill, an engineering senior, looks and acts like our idea of an ideal secretary. She is young, attractive, pleasant, and efficient.

She attended UK for three years, working on a degree in radio. She then worked for radio station WLW in Cincinnati in the radio, TV and music departments. Later she worked for a large advertising agency there.

Mrs. O'Dell plans to finish the requirements for her degree soon. This probably means that then she will be "busier than a bird dog."

Year Drags; Column Lags

By PHIL MCINTOSH

If you are a "right-thinker" you will remember to put away your books, and to shape up and ship out to the Iroquois Hunt Point-To-Point races tomorrow. Admission is only one dollar; first race at 2 p.m.

Alright you people. Library hours have been extended. We refer you to the "box" on the front page for hours and dates. All we care to say here is that if you are in favor of these new hours, make use of this trial period.

You may or may not have noticed, but the school year of 1956-57, is now on its last legs. One foot is in the grave and the other is losing its hold.

Most of the drastic proposals and world shaking events have crawled off into the world of regret. And campus organizations are settling down for the final drag. There is too little time to start new reforms.

We are acutely aware of this situation since the vigorous activities of the earlier part of the year furnished us with most of our material for comment. And now, filled with remorse but honest to the end, we must say that you should have stopped reading this week's column way up the page.

However, we shall circulate more thoroughly, ask more questions, make more enemies, and give you a real column next week, or there shall be no column. AND THAT'S IT!

The Kernel Was There

By BILL HAMMONS

Five Years Ago

(March 28, 1952)

The overall academic average for UK students for the first semester was 1.43. All-men's average was 1.35. All-fraternity mark was 1.25. A Kernel feature writer nominated Neville Hall for "the best collegiate firetrap in the United States."

Kentucky lost in the second round of the NCAA tournament to St. John's 64-57, although Cliff Hagan scored 22 points. The night before, UK walloped Penn State 82-54, as Hagan's 20 were high. SAE won the fraternity league basketball championship over Pi Kappa Alpha, 31-25.

Ten Years Ago

(March 28, 1947)

Utah upset Kentucky, 49-45, to win the National Invitational title. Jim Line and Alex Groza each scored 12. The Cats reached the final by slipping past North Carolina State, 60-42, as Ralph Beard made 15 points.

Forty Years Ago

(March 29, 1917)

A four-year course in military science and a Reserve Officers' Training Corps were established at the University.

Society Editor Views Wedding Stories

Are you a society page reader? If so you have, more than likely, received a few chuckles from some of the small town wedding write-ups. That is if your sense of humor is up to par. For those soon to delve into this blissful state here is a typical item by a typical society editor.

Miss Gladys Gertrude Gladgirlie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Gladgirlie, of East Podunk, became the glorious bride of I. C. Trouble in a simple but charming ceremony at 6:53 Saturday morning.

The modest bride ran down the aisle followed in a close second by her hysterical father. She wore a pearl white silk taffeta tennis skirt with a matching windbreaker. Appliqued panels of the lace extended down the front, sides and back of the flaring skirt, which fell to her knees. Her triple tiered veil of illusion was held by a shallow golf cap. She carried a spray of pink morning glories tinted to match her shining eyes.

The attendants which included the shy bride's Uncle Ned, were gowned in spring green peddle-pushers and wore matching sneakers on their dainty feet. The blouses were designed with square necklines, no sleeves, and sashes which fell from bows in streamers from the back of the neck. Each wore a wide matching hairbraided hat and carried a bouquet of red and purple posies.

The reception was held at Pop's Soda Shop, Pop also being a relative of the radiant bride.

After a honeymoon on the Big Sandy the couple will reside atop Hopeless Hill.

The community wishes to extend felicitations to the happy couple and may they enjoy a long and peaceful life. The close of day found all in a gay mood with the exception of the bride's father who sadly shook his head and said, "I can't believe she's finally gone."

A bit of congratulations is in order for the new SAE initiates. They are Robert Begley, Robert Broadbent, Smith Broadbent, Dean Finney, Coleman Gray, Olaf Hougen, Richard Hills, James Kelly, Alan Lips, William Martin, Mac McDade, Frank McElwain, James McKee, William Nichols, James Nichols, Henry Pepper, George Rupert, A. ## Students Party Set Date Of Convention

Plans for a convention to nominate candidates for SGA president and vice president were announced this week by Dan Millott, chairman of the Students Party. The convention will be held in Memorial Hall on April 11-12 and will function like those of the national political parties which are held prior to each presidential election.

Millott stated that this is the first attempt to nominate candidates for SGA office through regular convention processes. This convention is designed to stimulate more interest in SGA by allowing a greater number of students to participate in the actual nomination of candidates, he said. The official party platform for the spring SGA elections will be presented and adopted at the convention.

Since the convention will be for the purpose of nominating candidates, persons interested in running for SGA office will have to solicit support prior to the convention. Millott suggested that all candidates arrange to meet with groups whose support they desire before the convention, since no campaigning will be done on the floor of the convention itself.

Screening of prospective candidates will be done by the executive committee of the Students Party, and all screening will be by appointment. Millott urged that all persons interested in running for either office contact him as soon as possible for an appointment for screening. He emphasized that only those persons who have been screened will be eligible for nomination. Independents interested in becoming delegates to the convention should also contact Millott.

Grawemeyer To Hurl In UK Baseball Opener

By DON LESSLEY
Left-hander Phil "Cookie" Grawemeyer will oppose Florida for the Wildcat ballers this afternoon as the Cats open their 1957 season. The game is scheduled for 3 p.m. on Stoll Field.

Tomorrow afternoon there is a double-header on tap for 1 p.m. Jim Host and Joe Dawson, freshmen aces last year, are the coaches' choices for starters.
Grawemeyer, because of his basketball duties, did not get into pitching form until late in the year last season and ended with a two won and four loss record. Starting lineups for the game this afternoon have been decided except for two positions. Besides Grawemeyer, the starters are Frank Namath or Jim Morris as catcher. Namath has just returned from spring football practice, and because of an ankle injury is a doubtful starter. Melvin Kouns will start at first base, Bill Willard at second base, Leslie Lambert will begin at shortstop, and Gene Smith will be on third base.

Left field will be patrolled by Franklin Brown. Lavon Lewis has been assigned center field and right field is a undecided position. Morris, Bobby Nayles, and Charles Wallace are the candidates. "We're going to have a good team," said Coach Harry Lancaster. "Our outfield is sound, but we don't know about the infield." He continued, "Bill Willard, who played outfield and infield for us last year, is the only returning letterman around the bases. We've got a bunch of boys who want to win."

Over the past weekend, Georgia Tech took two from the Gators in Gainesville. Aside from this, there is little known about the team except that they are defending Division champions. The Tech-Florida series opened the SEC season for both teams and on the basis of the outcome Tech stands as the pre-season favorite.

Kentucky plays 24 games this season, 18 of which are against conference teams. Two of the conference tilts are against Vanderbilt and will not count on Kentucky's SEC standing.

Kentucky Baseball Roster

Bad Weather Hurts
Baseball, Track Squads
In Preps For Openers

By SCOOP WHITE, Sports Editor

Beginning this weekend, SPRING SPORTS of the Kentucky athletic program makes its debut. From the start, the men in blue will be at a disadvantage in their openers. Why? Because of the weather.

When Florida's Gators help the Wildcat nine inaugurate the baseball season tomorrow afternoon, the visitors will be playing their SEVENTH game of the young season. Giving them this early start is the ideal weather down south. The Gators, last year's SEC champions, have been working out since the first of January. Of course, the local nine held workouts last fall, but due to the bad breaks from Mr. Weather Man this spring, they have only had some three weeks to prepare for the opening tilt.

Baseball is a warm weather game. The players, to be at their best, must practice in ideal conditions. Last year, Coach Harry Lancaster took his team to the southlands and played their opening games down there. The trip was mainly used for conditioning. Next weekend, the Cats take their first southern trip to Atlanta for a meeting with Georgia Tech. These trips are especially helpful for the pitchers, who face the problem of getting sore arms in this cold Kentucky weather.

What has just been said about the baseballers can also be said of DR. DON CASH SEATON's track team. The thinies head for Gainesville and the competitive Florida Relays. Any relays that can attract Duke's DAVE SIME will have plenty of talent. It should be good experience for the Cats. If they don't score many points the Florida weather will help get them into top-flight condition.

Just how many points the Cat runners will earn depends on DAVE FRANTA. This sensational pole-vaulter was recovering from a broken leg, and now his ankle is becoming a problem for him. If he should be able to participate in his specialty, he'll rank high in the meet.

There's been a confused picture as to who is captain of the track team. Well, here's the story. TOM JONES was elected at the end of last season, but was ruled ineligible because of a questioning of transferring from another school. Dr. Seaton then appointed DAYTON MATLICK. Never giving up, Jones wrote to the commissioner and sent him an eligibility blank. Later he received that blank stating he was eligible again. So then the two were named co-captains of the team. Jones is a pole-vaulter and Matlick, a versatile performer, is best at the broad jump.

ED BECK was paid a fitting tribute when he was named Honorary State Chairman for the 1957 Cancer Drive. He received the first donation Wednesday from Governor A. B. Chandler. Ed knows the terrible toll such a disease takes.

SPORT SHORTS . . . It was good to see Allen Felch, former UK grid star who broke his neck in a swimming accident two years ago, at the Blue-White game. Allen was viewing the game from a station wagon with Gene Donaldson and Frank Fuller, also ex-football stars here. . . . Don't forget Frank's wrestling clinic this Tuesday and Thursday. . . . Coach Blanton Collier might have another Blue-White game this Saturday or early next week since he prefers to spend his final two days of spring practice in game conditions. This would greatly help the freshmen and sophomores.

Gerry Calvert has been invited to play with the College All-Stars in their cross-country tour with the Harlem Globe-trotters.

Track-Cats Open Saturday In Tough Florida Relays

By BOB SMITH

The Kentucky Track-Cats, varsity and freshmen, will make their maiden outing of the season tomorrow when they tangle with a host of the toughest track teams in the south at the Florida Relays in Gainesville.

Among the stellar competition for UK will be Duke's sensational sprint wizard, Dave Sime, one of the few humans who has been able to accomplish the 100' dash in 9.3. Sime's record is not officially recognized and he may make an effort to repeat this feat.

Kentucky Coach Don Cash Seaton, aiming for a highly successful cinder season, will outfit eight men for the meet. Dave Franta, UK's pole vaulting magician, is expected to compete over the cross bars, but is unlikely that he will be at his best due to the re-aggravation of a foot injury he sustained during the winter.

Other varsity men for the Wildcats in competition on the Florida oval will be Ray Blasingsame, who will scale the high-hurdles, and enter into the shot-put and discus toss. Billy Lawson, will be in the 100' dash and the broad jump, Captain Dayton Matlick, running broad jump.

The freshmen making their first appearance in the blue and white of UK are Buddy Gum, former Henry Clay star who will run the 880 section of the sprint medley. Mike LeMaster, is in the 220 of the same event, Bill Brashear and Bill Strawbridge, will run the 440 in the medley.

Duke, with Dave Sime, heads the list of probable entrants in the important test of Southern track prowess. Other schools expected to compete are: Maryland, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Clemson. From the SEC, L.S.U., Auburn, Florida, Tennessee, and Georgia Tech will round out the opposition Kentucky must face.

After the concluding event, the Kearney-Rayburn Memorial Trophy, established in 1947 by the host Florida Gators, will be awarded to the outstanding individual athlete of the meet. Last year, Sime was the recipient on the basis of his 9.5 winning effort in the 100' dash.

Prep Teams Battle For Swim Title

Approximately 18 prep swim teams are scheduled to enter the twelfth annual Kentucky High School Athletic Association Swimming Championships which will be held in two sections for the first time in the Memorial Coliseum Pool.

Class B and C competition will get underway tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, as the representatives of 13 schools with enrollment below 750 and 300 respectively vie for the two crowns. Class A championships are slated to begin Saturday morning, April 6.

Defending Class B champions from Highlands High School of Northern Kentucky are odds-on favorites to repeat their 1956 victory, while the Class C halo is up for grabs between the co-favorites Beechwood and Bellevue, also from the Northern Kentucky region. Beechwood captured the crown last year.

St. Xavier of Louisville, perennial champions in Class A competition, having annexed 10 titles, will again be the favorites this year. Led by sensational Martin O'Toole, who set the state record in the 100-yard breaststroke in 1955 and bettered the mark twice in the 1956 meet, St. Xavier will have competition from Lexington Lafayette and Louisville Atherton.

UK Swim Coach Algie Reece, who serves as meet director, expects this year's championships to be one of the best ever held at the Coliseum. "The quality of competition is getting better every year in Kentucky, and we should have a top-notch meet each weekend," Reece said.

Versatile Thinly

Ray Blasingsame will be one of the varsity thinies competing in the Florida Relays Saturday at Gainesville. Blasingsame will be entered in the high hurdles, shot-put, and discus events.

Complete Or Incomplete?

In Saturday's Blue-White game, this pass thrown by White quarterback Jerry Eisaman to Tom Donlon (81) was knocked down by Lowell Hughes (23-Blue) in the end zone. Helping in the defense is Glenn Shaw (17), and backing up the play is Tony Booth (12). Blues won, 25-20.

Collier Pleased Over Play Of Cat Gridders

By LARRY VAN HOOSE

Kentucky's grid Wildcats have two more spring practice sessions before the football togs are shelved until next September.

Head Coach Blanton Collier says his team is "eager, but inexperienced." "We have almost 50 freshmen and our biggest problem is to teach them enough football to go with their desire," said Collier.

"This team next year may make mistakes, but they will give a good account of themselves. The other SEC teams might beat us, but we'll give it a lot of fight. I think we are rated in about the middle of the conference, but it is too early to predict anything about the season coming up," Coach Collier added.

The former Cleveland Browns'

1957 MODEL—(And I don't mean your chariot) I am speaking of the University 3-button sport coat by "College Hall" made of crisp, luxurious cotton with a soft gloss finish that gives it the appearance of silk. This coat can be worn just about anytime—anywhere—the "Pi Kappa Alpha" quartet was decked out in matching coats like this at the "sing" the other night and smooth they were. While on this subject, I would like to say—so I'll say it—congratulations to the "Delta Tau Delta's Men's Chorus" and also to the "Baptist Student Union Quartet" on your wins.

TAKE—Light weight wool—add an equal amount of dacron and you have one of the nicest summer suits on the market (I know—I have one). "Palm Beach" has produced a beauty this year called "Sunfrost" which is of the aforementioned blend and tailored with authentic Ivy lines. The deep, deep shades make them very outstanding and very, very handsome. If you are bothered with wrinkles in your average summer attire—slip one of these suits on and be "wrinkle-free."

SUCCESS—Our new college shop "The Highland" on our second floor, has met with approval by all the fellows that have paid it a visit—they liked the styles and they also liked the prices. If you haven't paid "The Highland Shop" a visit as of yet—consider this as an invitation to do so!

assistant coach fields his first completely Collier-trained team in September. "We have to count heavily on this freshman bunch since we lost seven boys who started in the Tennessee game. That is the reason we have dismissed most of the veterans from the spring drills so the first-year men can get some experience and at the same time we can get a look at what each one can do under game conditions," said Collier.

Looking back on the Blue-White game of last Saturday, Coach Collier stated that he was well pleased with both quarterbacks, Lowell Hughes and Jerry Eisaman. He praised their unusual poise, although both are freshmen. Hughes passed for three touchdowns while Eisaman had tough luck in the first half, but ended up with a record of eight completions out of 18 attempts, two good for touchdowns. Hughes' Blue-clad team won 25-20.

KS Bowls Highest Score; 20 Attend Wrestling Clinic

By KENNY HILL

KS bowled a two game total of 1,359 pins this week to win the top score honors in the intramural bowling league. Undeclared ASM, of the independent division, had 1,257 for second high.

KS, playing in the third fraternity division, ran up the high score against SX. SAE won two games by defeating ZBT and PKT. FH also won two as they beat ASP and PKT. In the other game SX beat ASP in a close match.

Second division play saw both DTD and PDT win two games. DTD edged past SPE, 1078-1073, and also beat TKE. PDT won over AGR and SPE for its two wins. PSK walloped AGR, but lost to TKE.

Triangle led the first division the past week with two wins. They beat SN and then squeezed past PKA, 1070-1029. PKA bounced back from that loss to defeat ATO. In their other game the ATO's won over LXA. KA lost both to LXA and SN.

ASM, of the second independent division, defeated the Newman Club in a high scoring contest, 1257-1221. BSU beat CE by three pins, 1067-1064. The Men's Dorms had the third highest score with 1,234 pins in its win over SN (2).

DTD (2) and LXA (2) won two games in the first division of the independent league. DTD beat ATO and BSU (2). In their games, the LXA's won over KS (2) and SPE (2). In the other games the ATO's beat SPE and BSU walloped KS (2).

It was incorrectly reported last week that ASM lost to KS (3). The loser was the Men's Dorms.

I-M Wrestling

Twenty boys attended the first sessions of the wrestling clinic this week. Frank Fuller, former UK football star now with the Los Angeles Rams, is the instructor at the clinic.

Fuller, also a pro wrestler, demonstrates and gives instructions on wrestling holds and techniques at the meetings. All students interested are invited to attend the next sessions, from 7-9 p.m., on Tuesday, April 2 and Thursday, April 4.

The deadline for the intramural wrestling tournament has been moved up a week to April 8. Weigh-in on that date will be from 3-6 p.m. PKT and DTD tied for the team wrestling title last year. Eight weight classes are listed for the coming tournament for the eager matmen.

Weightlifting Championships Set For Alumni Gym Sunday

By DAVE STEWART

The biggest weightlifting event ever to be held in the Bluegrass will take place Sunday in Alumni Gym.

The event is the Ohio Valley Weightlifting Championships, in which the top lifters of Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Kentucky will be competing against each other.

The meet will be held in two sessions, with the first one starting at 2 p.m. and the second one beginning at 7 p.m. Tickets are .50 for one session or .75 for both sessions.

The bantamweight, lightweight, light-heavyweight, heavyweight, super-heavyweight classes will be run off at the first session. The second session will feature the featherweight, middleweight, and middle-heavyweight classes.

UK student Don Brewer, heavyweight champion of Kentucky, will represent the Blue Grass Health & Athletic Club of Lexington in the heavyweight class. Allan Nickell, UK's All-American weightlifter, will not lift in the contest because of a knee injury.

Former student Spec Lacy will be lifting in the middle-heavyweight class for the Blue Grass team. Spec is the present middle-heavyweight champion of Kentucky and holder of many notable titles including Mr. Kentucky of 1955, and second to Mr. America last year.

The Blue Grass Health & Athletic Club will be competing for the team championship against seven other teams. The teams are: Olympic Health Club, Raymond A.C., Akron YMCA, Dave's Barbell Club, Twin City Boys' Club, Apollo Health Club, and Malick's Gym.

The winning team will be awarded a plaque. Individual trophies will be given to the top three lifters in the contest, and medals will be awarded to the top three lifters in each class. The first place winners of each class will receive jackets and the second place winners will receive sweaters. The meet is being sponsored by the Wildcat Barbell Club.

Beck, Calvert Honored At Annual Cage Banquet

Ed Beck and Gerry Calvert were named honorary co-captains of the 1956-57 Wildcat basketball team. They also picked up a trophy apiece.

Beck was honored with the WVLK Trophy given in honor of Gov. A. B. Chandler and Calvert was awarded the Jerome A. Lederer "Most Valuable Player" trophy at the annual cage banquet last Monday.

Penrose Ecton was the main speaker of the evening and he spoke on "It's been a great year." Coach Adolph Rupp gave a review of the season.

Fourteen members of the varsity received letter awards. They were seniors, who also were presented watches, Calvert, John Brewer and Ray Mills, Juniors Earl Adkins, Beck, John Crigler, Lincoln Collinsworth, Harold Ross, Adrian Smith, Vernon Hatton, Bill Cassidy, and Bill Smith, Sophomores Johnny Cox and Dick Howe, Ken Leikamp, senior manager, received a watch and a letter award, Jay Atkerson, junior manager, was also awarded a letter. Nine freshman and two freshman managers received numerals.

On his comments about the past season, Coach Rupp said "the team would never have been as close as it was if it had not been for that little girl down in Georgia," referring to Mrs. Ed Beck, who died last Saturday.

Cat Golfers Open Season

The Kentucky linksmen will be slamming the little white pellet all over the Idle Hour Country Club Monday when they face Xavier in their second match of the season.

The Cats opened at home yesterday against Bellarmine, and ably coached by Johnny Owens, the stickmen will be striving to improve on the 6-9 won-loss record compiled last year.

Coach Owens has named five freshmen to play against Xavier. They are: Wilbur Heinz and Gene Spragens, returnees from last season; law student John Brown, army veteran Jack Kloecker and Mike Prunty. A sixth man has not been designated.

Coach Owens is expecting only a "fair" team this year, as four strokers from last season's squad failed to return to UK this semester. Owens said "The weather has been hurting our practice and we are starting a bit slow."

Correction

In the story on fraternity standings last week the Kernel said, Delta Tau Delta's pledges were the only ones who rated higher than 2.21. The pledges to Kappa Sigma also made their scholastic standing with an average of 2.24.

SGA Will Attempt To Move Office

SGA will attempt to move its office from the Administration Building by next September.

This was part of a three-point motion introduced by Terry Kuester at the Assembly's last meeting on March 18. He also proposed:

1. That SGA give compensation to its president and chairman of the judiciary committee.

2. That the association sponsor a dance on Homecoming day.

Kuester suggested the SGA office be relocated in the Student Union Building or wherever accommodations can be found. Vice President Dave Ravencraft said it would mean more to the students and the prestige of SGA to have an office in the Student Union Building. The motion was passed unanimously.

Dean of Men L. L. Martin requested a committee be set up to study the administrative procedures in moving. Dick Lehman, SGA president, named Pete Perlman chairman of the committee consisting of Dave Becker, John Johnson and Dave Ravencraft.

SGA currently shares an office with the dean of men. The committee will make a study to see if conditions are favorable for the move.

The proposal to give a salary to two SGA officers was referred to a committee headed by Henry Jagers. He will be assisted by Kuester, Harry Conley and Ray Trout.

Dick Vimont, president of Alma Magna Mater, said that organization was negotiating for a dance on Homecoming Day. He welcomed assistance from SGA on the project and, following Kuester's motion, SGA's social committee was named to work with Alma Magna Mater.

Wife Of Kentucky Cager Ed Beck Dies In Georgia After Long Illness

A long and courageous fight for life ended at 12:30 p.m. Saturday for Mrs. Billie Ray Beck, wife of Kentucky basketball center Ed Beck, when she died of Hodgkin's Disease at Fort Valley, Ga.

Married a year and a half ago, Beck and Mrs. Beck were informed of her illness shortly afterwards. All during her illness Mrs. Beck urged her husband to remain in school and play basketball. When her condition became critical, her main hope was still to have Ed remain and help the UK cage team. For this inspiration, Coaches Adolph Rupp and Harry Lancaster have consistently commented that Beck and Mrs. Beck were the main reasons this year's team was so "closely knit together."

The day after her death, some 350 people attended the funeral services at the Fort Valley Methodist Church and then the burial services at Fort Valley's Oaklawn cemetery. Among those in attendance were UK Coach Adolph Rupp and Athletic Director Bernie A. Shively.

Helping the Rev. G. N. Rainey of Fort Valley officiate in the services was the Rev. Clarence M. Yates, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church in Lexington. Mrs. Beck attended that church while in Lexington.

Beck, who was expected to return to school this week, was honored Monday night at the annual alumni banquet for the basketball team. He was named as one of the honorary co-captains for the past season along with Gerry Calvert. Also, Beck was awarded the WVLC trophy in the name of Gov. A. B. Chandler, given annually to the player best exemplifying the qualities of leadership, scholarship, character, and ability. (See story on sports page.)

Chi O, DTD, BSU Win In All-Campus Sing

Korean Vets

Korean veterans on the GI Bill of Rights must sign for their March checks before Saturday, April 6.

The Veterans Administration announced that signing dates for the checks would be from Monday through Friday. Times are from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 1:30 p.m. until 5 p.m. each day.

VA officials reminded students that if they fail to sign for their checks on time, they will have to wait until the next month to receive these checks.

Chi Omega sorority took top honors in the women's division of the All-Campus Sing Saturday night.

In the men's competition, Delta Tau Delta was first in the chorus division, and the Baptist Student Union won the quartet award.

Runner-up awards were given to the Good Samaritan nurses in the women's division, Delta Tau Delta in the quartet contest and Phi Sigma Kappa in the men's chorus.

Chi Omega outsang three other finalist groups with "The Green Cathedral" and "The Syncopated Clock."

The BSU quartet sang "Babylon's Fallin'," "Hush," and "Clancy Lowered The Boom," to outrank two other groups.

The Delta Tau Delta chorus won with "Widerspruch," "Dry Bones," "Delta Shelter," and "Delt Marching Song," to beat the other two finalist choruses.

Boyd Hall and Kappa Kappa Gamma were the other finalists in the women's division, Sigma Alpha Epsilon was the third finalist in the men's chorus, and Pi Kappa Alpha was the third finalist in the men's quartet contest.

Finalists were selected in the qualifying competitions Thursday and Friday.

The All-Campus Sing was sponsored by Phi Beta, Phi Mu Alpha, Mortar Board, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Pictures of contest winners are on page 2.

Henry Clay Paper Wins SDX Award

The Lexington Henry Clay Hi-Times was named Friday as the winner of the first annual Sigma Delta Chi award for excellence in Kentucky High School newspapers.

The award was instigated this year by the UK chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity. Presentation of the award was made at the close of the annual Scholastic Publications Clinic, sponsored by the UK School of Journalism and the Kentucky High School Press Association.

In winning the award, the Hi-Times was in competition with more than 30 other high school newspapers submitted to Sigma Delta Chi for judging.

Approximately 463 high school students and advisers attended the Clinic, which is aimed at providing instruction in all phases of journalism.

During the day, achievement contests in various divisions were also held. Winners of those contests were:

Vocabulary—Leisla Sansom, Campbell County High School, first; David York, Louisville Male and Girls High School, second; Graham E. Beard, Breckinridge

County High School, third; Allan Pribble, Holmes High School (Covington), fourth; and Janet Porter, Garth High School (Georgetown), fifth.

Current Events—Graham E. Beard, Breckinridge County High School, first; Barkley Moore, Oneida Institute, second; Phyllis Irvine, Valley High School, third; Linda Riley, Lafayette High School, fourth; and Mike Burke, Lexington Catholic High School, fifth.

Lambda Chi To Sponsor Cart Derby

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity will present its 5th annual Push Cart Derby on Saturday, April 6.

Highlight of this year's Derby Day will be a downtown parade, based on "Life In The Bluegrass." Kentucky bands, color guards, military displays, clowns and Pershing Rifle teams will participate.

The parade, scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m. will travel out Limestone Street to the UK campus. The push cart races will then be held around the circle in front of the Administration Building.

Athletic Director Bernie Shively will preside over the three sorority and four fraternity races. A four-man relay team will represent each organization in these preliminary events.

The actual derby will include the winner and runner-up of the previous races.

During the races, the Derby queen will be crowned and the winner of push cart originality announced.

The Push Cart Derby is a tradition of many Lambda Chi chapters throughout the nation.

Plans Are Being Made For 'Career Carnival'

Plans are being made for a "Career Carnival" at the University, Oct. 28-30, according to Mrs. Kitty Kemper, Director of the University Placement Service. About 600 companies will be invited to bring exhibits and programs.

All types of careers including government, teaching, insurance, retailing, accounting positions and others will be included.

Mrs. Kemper said that the program was being planned with all students in mind, not just seniors. Actually the "Career Carnival" is to have a three-fold purpose.

Students will have a chance to acquaint themselves with various fields of employment and at the same time it will give the faculty insight into what requirements employers have for choosing employees. It will also give business a look at the University.

According to Mrs. Kemper the "Carnival" is to be held at this time, despite the conflict with rush week, in order to prepare the students for job openings appearing around the first of October.

The heaviest recruiting periods fall on the first of April and the first of October, though calls are heavy all year round. "In fact," said Mrs. Kemper, "We don't fill anywhere near the number of jobs we have calls for."

For anyone who desires information, the Placement Office keeps on hand a variety of career materials.

Senior Tea

The last in a series of senior teas at Maxwell Place, home of President and Mrs. Frank G. Dickey, will be given today from 4 to 6 p.m. Today's tea will be in honor of seniors in the College of Arts and Sciences. All A & S seniors and faculty members are invited. The tea will be informal.

UK Police Defended By Seth Taylor

Seth Taylor, UK chief of services, said he would like to hear from persons who think they have been mistreated by UK police.

Taylor made this statement in reference to a letter titled "Traffic Snarl" which appeared on the editorial page of the Mar. 15 Kernel. The writer complained of the belligerent attitude of UK policemen in two different instances.

Taylor remarked that this was the first time he had heard of anything of this nature. He said there are two sides to a situation. He would like to hear both versions of the story.

"We want to do everything in the world we can to correct things like this and keep them from happening," he added. Taylor said the UK police have been schooled in all types of police work and that courtesy is one of the main points stressed in the schooling.

He explained that everyone in Maintenance and Operations feels that if it were not for the students, no one would have a job. We have rules and regulations to go by and we have to enforce them, he said.

E. B. Farris, chief engineer of the Division of Maintenance and Operations, said, "We do want our policemen to be courteous and we feel that they are courteous."

Dr. Cowling Awarded Contract For $7,700

Dr. Vincent F. Cowling, UK professor of mathematics, has been awarded a $7,700 contract by the National Science Foundation.

He earned the award for basic research on certain types of mathematical operations. He will direct a one-year study on "summability and analytic continuation."

Based upon research results and publications of a similar study last year, the Foundation made the present grant in anticipation of further findings.

Announcement of the renewal of the grant was made jointly Sunday by Dr. M. M. White, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and Dr. Merl Baker, director of the Kentucky Research Foundation. The contract will be administered by the research foundation.

John Bond Wells, Lexington, and Joseph E. Cornelison, Berea, Ph.D. candidates in the department of mathematics, will assist Dr. Cowling.

"We will study ways and means of assigning values to certain types of mathematical operations," Dr. Cowling said. "Problems of this sort arise naturally in basic investigations in the physical sciences."

Dr. Cowling has been on the UK faculty since September, 1951. Before joining UK, he taught at Rice, Ohio State, and Lehigh.

The boundary line between the United States and Canada is 3,898 miles long.

Sullivan Speaks At Coffee Chat

Claude Sullivan, WVLC sports announcer, spoke at a Coffee Chat program last week in the Student Union Music Room.

The talk will be on the trip he made to Russia last August and is entitled "Russia Today." Sullivan also showed colored slides of his trip.

The trip took him to all parts of Russia and was sponsored by WVLC, Pan-American Airways and the American Tourist Bureau. Sullivan and his wife plan to take another trip in June.

Three Federal Aid Bills Introduced In Congress

Three bills have been introduced in Congress recently to provide Federal assistance in the field of higher education.

1. The Senate bill would make available 50,000 scholarships a year for students in good standing at accredited institutions of higher learning. It is sponsored by Senators Joseph S. Clark (D.-Pa.) and Wayne Morse (D.-Ore.).

2. Representative Melvin Price (D.-Ill.) has introduced legislation in the House providing for a Federal scholarship of $500 to all high school seniors who successfully complete an examination in mathematics, at the college entrance level.

The bill provides for an additional grant of $500 to all first year college students who pass an examination in calculus at the end of their freshman year.

3. Congresswoman Coya Knutson of Minnesota re-entered the Student Loan Bill of last year. Under this plan, the student pays no interest until one year following graduation. Then, with 3% interest, the payments are based on the size of the individual income minus family and other expenses.

G.I. Benefits Bill May Be Revived

Revival of the GI Bill of Rights, terminated January 31, 1955, has been proposed in a bill introduced by Senator Richard L. Neuberger (D.-Ore.).

Neuberger proposed the bill to "add to the nation's human resources the full capabilities of many of the gifted young men and women who might otherwise be permanently lost to the college classroom."

The bill is now awaiting consideration by the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

One of Neuberger's arguments for renewal of GI benefits was that "it is neither safer nor more pleasant to be a GI in 1957 than to have served at some base here in the United States during World War II."

Citing the number of doctors, nurses, scientists, engineers and skilled mechanics and technicians trained under the former GI Bill, Neuberger said, "requirements of our national security program and our domestic needs dictate the necessity of utilizing the natural abilities of the nation's youth."

Anthropology Exhibit

Shown above is a 3,500-year-old wood figurine of an animal found by Dr. Douglas Schwartz. The figurines are believed to have been used in Indian hunting rituals in prehistoric times. Schwartz found about 100 such artifacts.

Grand Canyon Figurines Diagnosed 3500 Years Old

Figurines found high in the walls of the Grand Canyon by Dr. Douglas Schwartz, director of the UK Anthropology Museum, are about 3500 years old according to a report by the University of Arizona.

The museum director announced that he received a report of radio-active carbon tests, run by the University of Arizona which, verified an earlier report by the University of Michigan.

The figurines are small replicas of animals made from twigs. Schwartz has advanced the belief that the articles were used in Indian hunting rituals in prehistoric times. He cites, as the basis of his belief, the presence of small spears in some of the animals.

Schwartz said he found about 100 of the figurines during the summer of 1955. Several figurines had been found in the Southwest before, but never before so many of them and in one place.

Since the caves are rather inaccessible, the director said he believed they were used for religious rites. No signs of human residence were present, he stated.

He said he has submitted a paper on the figurines to the American Archaeology Magazine, a professional journal, for future publication.

The figurines are on display in the Exhibit of the Month case in the Anthropology Museum in the Carnegie Building.

A hunk of human hair was found suspended from the ceiling of one cave. Dr. Schwartz said he has not been able to determine if the hair is connected with the rituals.

In 1841 the Brook Farm experiment was a socialistic community founded at West Roxbury, Mass.

Parliament Party members in the English Civil War of the 17th century were called "roundheads" because they wore their hair clipped close.

Louisvillian Will Speak To Lawyers

Louisville attorney Gordon B. Davidson has been selected as speaker for Law Day, acting law college dean William L. Matthews announced recently.

The Law Day Program, originally scheduled for May, will be observed on April 5 this year in order that retired Supreme Court Justice Stanley Reed can attend.

Davidson, who is connected with the law firm of Wyatt, Grafton and Grafton, Louisville, is one of 19 attorneys who has served with Justice Reed in the capacity of law clerk.

These men have recently made plans to present a book fund to the UK Law College in Justice Reed's name, and have selected Davidson to make the presentation.

Davidson is a graduate of Centre College, the University of Louisville and the Yale Law College. He served as law clerk with Justice Reed in the 1954 Supreme Court session.

Also included on the Law Day program will be a luncheon, demonstration murder trial and an explanation of the legal curriculum for students who plan to enroll in the UK College of Law.

Comic Drawings In King Library

By BOB HARMON

Campus folk who are among the 80 million people who celebrated the 60th birthday of newspaper comic strips recently will be interested in learning that UK's own Margaret I. King Library has a valuable collection of original drawings by several great comic strip artists.

Among its originals is a strip about a character called Pogo, the favorite possum on campus as well as in Okefenokee. It is personally autographed by Walt Kelly to Frances Dugan, associate archivist of the library.

Two Rusty Riley strips and drawings of its many characters were sent to the library in 1949 by Frank Godwin. They are of special interest to the library because much of the action in the Rusty Riley strips has had the Lexington area as a setting.

For Kentuckians, probably the most prized drawing in the collection is one by Al Capp. It was drawn for the Lexington Leader when they celebrated their 50th anniversary in 1938. In it, Lil' Abner and his Mammy and Pappy are pictured with a caption which says, "Greetings from Folks at Dogpatch, Ky."

Nowadays it is harder to get Capp to admit Dogpatch's location. But unless they've changed the state boundaries since 1938, all good Kentuckians can snub their proud noses at all cotton-pickin' claimjumper.

General John J. Pershing is credited with having said, "Lafayette, we are here."

Delta Sigma Pi Pledges 20 Men

The following men were pledged to Eta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi on Tuesday, March 19.

Clifford N. Dobyns, Howard Erwin, George G. Rupert, Charles M. Moore, Brad Clark, Daniel W. Sheppard, Berk Worster, David Becker, Richard A. McDonald, John M. Broome, Fred G. Shirley, Alben A. Flott, Ralph Beals, Robert Burns, Robert E. Gray, Thomas Hall, Robert L. Steinneker, Richard Handmaker, Loyd G. Jasper, and David Page.

Delta Sigma Pi is a national commerce fraternity dedicated to bringing commerce students and members of the commercial world closer together through sponsoring professional programs, conducting business tours, and promoting better scholarship. Eta Chapter was installed on the University campus November 27, 1920.

Pres. Dickey Named To Education Group

UK President Frank G. Dickey has been appointed to serve on the Southern Regional Conference of Education Beyond the High School.

He is one of six Kentuckians appointed by Gov. A. B. Chandler to represent Kentucky at the conference.

The six-member official Kentucky delegation consists of the following: Dickey, James L. Miller, executive director of the Council on Public Higher Education, Frankfort; James L. Patton, head of the Kentucky Bureau of Vocational Education; William C. Embry, chairman of the education committee of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce; Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, and Sen. E. W. Richmond, Owensboro.

The conference on post-high school education will be held in Louisville April 23-25. Sponsor of the southwide meeting is the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School, established in 1955 with a $150,000 grant from Congress. Devereux Josephs, chairman of the board of the New York Life Insurance Co., is chairman.

Governors of the 16 Southern states have been asked to appoint 96 of the 250 participants, six from each state. The rest will be appointed by the President's committee.

Similar conferences are being held in the West, New England,

YMCA To Hold State-Wide Meet

YMCA Secretary Bart Peak has announced a state-wide meeting of college students will be held in Louisville, May 11-12.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the work of the YMCA on the college campus and present the YMCA as a profession. The problem of human relations in regard to desegregation will also be discussed.

Dr. James W. Gladden, on leave of absence from the University of Kentucky, will be co-ordinator of the conference.

UK Press To Exhibit Four Books

The UK Press will publish and exhibit four books this spring.

"The German Language Press In America" by Carl Wittke will be exhibited tomorrow in the main foyer of the Margaret I. King Library. "Children of the Levee" by Lafcadio Hearn will be exhibited Sunday. "Milton's Ontology, Cosmogony, and Physics" by Walter Clyde Curry, retired head of the English Department at Vanderbilt University, will be exhibited on April 22. "Southeast Asia Among The World Powers" by Amry Vandenbosch and Richard A. Butwell will be exhibited about May 20.

Dr. Vandenbosch is head of the Department of Political Science at UK, and Richard Butwell, a graduate of Puffs College and Indiana University, was a Fulbright Scholar at Oxford University, Asia, as they see it, is a power vacuum with strong outside pressures converging upon it. In their book they analyze recent developments in Burma, Malaya, Thailand, Laos, Vietnam, the Philippines and Indonesia.

Carl Wittke, professor of history and dean of the Graduate School at Western Reserve University, is known for his books on German-American immigration. In "The German Language Press In America," he has analyzed the editorial opinion of the German-language press on the public issues of the day. He has told how World War I resulted in a sharp reduction of the number of German-American publications, so that today, with little new immigration to revive it, the once-numerous German-American press includes hardly more than two dozen survivors.

"Children of the Levee" is a collection of stories and sketches written by Lafcadio Hearn when he was a young reporter in Cincinnati during the 1870's. Hearn was drawn to the Ohio River by his interest in the Negro levee life. He was fascinated by the Negroes' physical beauty and animal existence, and by their speech, song, and superstition. This book is illustrated by William K. Hubbell, UK staff artist.

Grand President To Address AGR

Harold D. White, grand president of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity will be the guest speaker at the annual Founders Day Banquet to be held by Omicron Chapter Monday.

The event will be held in the Football Room of the Student Union Building at 6 p.m.

White, a graduate of University of Georgia School of Engineering, is a member of the Faculty of Agricultural Engineering at that school. He has held various offices in Alpha Gamma Rho, and was elected to the presidency at the 34th National Convention held in Stillwater, Oklahoma, Sept., 1956.

Student Tours to EUROPE

The summer of 1957 offers numerous college student tours to Europe . . . all jam-packed with fun.

Carefully planned itineraries give you most for your travel dollar. Escorted by trained educational conductors, you'll see everything that is worthwhile in Europe.

For example—leaving New York on June 20, 58-days, visit England, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Australia, Italy and France. The cost $1175 tourist class.

ALL-EXPENSE features include ocean and European transportation, ALL meals, hotels, tips and taxes, sightseeing, transfers and baggage charges.

And there are the regular high-value tours to choose from. You can sail on the superb Queen Mary on June 5 or 19, 28-days, visit England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and France, $887.50 comfortable tourist class accommodations. Ask for further details—no obligation, of course.

Education Survey Planned For Mt. Sterling Schools

Representatives of the University of Kentucky College of Education and the State Department of Education met recently with Mt. Sterling School Superintendent Leonard Taylor to map out plans for a survey of the Mt. Sterling school system.

Dr. A. D. Albright, chairman of the UK Division of School services, said the study would involve three areas. They are: population projection in the next 12 years; availability and utilization of the school plant, and an analysis of the instructional program.

The population phase is expected to reveal the number of students in different school age brackets, the rate of failures and the number of dropouts that can be anticipated by 1969. The group also will analyze the present amount of classroom space, lighting, heating, the condition of the buildings and the amount of land available.

In addition to Dr. Albright, who will direct the study, the survey group will be composed of professional people from the State Department of Education, UK graduate students and lay leaders in Montgomery County. They will report their findings to the Mt. Sterling Board of Education by June 1.

At the meeting yesterday were Dr. Albright; Dr. Howard Eckel, University associate professor of education; Don Sale, director of the state Bureau of Instruction, and Taylor.

Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon surveyed the boundary line between Pennsylvania and Maryland which came to be known as the Mason-Dixon Line.

Tau Beta Pi Initiates 39

Initiation ceremonies for 39 new members of Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary, will be held Monday, in the Student Union Building.

The main speaker at the initiation banquet will be UK President Frank G. Dickey. Dr. D. V. Terrell, dean of the School of Engineering, and Prof. J. S. Horner, professor of engineering drawing, will be special guests.

The new initiates are R. H. Adams, J. W. Alcorn, F. W. Bennett, R. G. Brown, D.D.-H Cheng, A. E. Coomes, J. E. Corrin, G. DeW. Cyrus, R. D. Dasenbrock, B. F. Dennison, B. G. Drake, J. R. Du-rall, T. W. Caddie, R. E. Good-paster, H. C. Hanson.

Adult Institute Will End Today

The two-day Adult Education Institute will end today with a discussion of communications through the press, radio and television by qualified men in their fields.

The Institute opened yesterday on the UK campus. It was jointly sponsored by the University and the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

The basic objectives of this institute, said Mrs. W. C. Cruse Jr., president of KFWC, are to develop a more intelligent citizenry, to develop leadership and to encourage research on the part of organizational leaders who are desirous of becoming better informed on vital issues of the day.

The program was highlighted by an international relations dinner and program last night. Dr. Philip Davidson, president of the University of Louisville, spoke on "Kentuckians and Their Interest in Foreign Policies" at the meeting.

The program for today includes a panel on such subjects as parliamentary uses and abuses, club ethics, duties and requirements of club presidents, chairmen and district or regional governors. The panel will begin at 9 a.m. and last until 11. The communications program will begin at 11 a.m.

ADVICE ON ADVISORS

Recently I made an extensive tour of American campuses, interviewing students and selling mechanical dogs, and one of the most frequent complaints I heard from undergraduates was, "My faculty advisor doesn't really care about me."

Everywhere I went I heard this same cry. (Indeed, at one university I found 15,000 students jammed in the field house chanting it a cappella.) But I am bound to say, dear friends, that you are wrong. Your faculty advisor does care about you. The trouble is, he doesn't know you. And no wonder! How do you expect him to know you when you see him once or so a semester?

Get to be friends with your faculty advisor—like, for example, Alpine R. Sigafoos, a sophomore in timothy and silage at Texas A. & M.

Alpine R. Sigafoos appeared one night in the living quarters of his faculty advisor (whose name, by a curious coincidence, was also Alpine R. Sigafoos).

"Good evening, sir," said Student Sigafoos. "I am come so that you may get to know me better and thus help me solve the vexing problems that trouble me."

"What are those three packages?"

"And what are those three packages you are carrying?" asked Advisor Sigafoos.

"This," said Student Sigafoos, holding up the first of the three packages, "is a carton of Philip Morris Cigarettes, which come in long size or regular, and without which I never stir. It is, sir, a smoke beyond compare—full of fresh, natural, unfiltered flavor that delights the taste, saves the soul, and turns the whole world into one long vista of peace and greenery. Try one, sir."

"Thank you," said Advisor Sigafoos, lighting a Philip Morris Cigarette. He puffed appreciatively for an hour or two and then said, "And what is in the other packages you are carrying?"

"I am rather a complex fellow," said Student Sigafoos, "and I don't expect that you will get to know me in a hurry. So," he said, holding up his second package, "I have brought my bed-roll."

"I see," said Advisor Sigafoos, not entirely pleased. "And what is this third package?"

"Well sir, I know that occasionally you will be busy with other matters and will therefore be unable to spend time with me. So I have brought along my gin rummy partner, Walter M. Handzlik."

In the next two years Advisor Sigafoos, living cheek-by-jowl with Student Sigafoos, got to know all of the lad's personality traits, his hopes, his fears, his drives, his quirks, his aspirations. At the end of that time, armed with true understanding, Advisor Sigafoos concluded that Student Sigafoos's basic trouble was that he was not really college material.

So Advisor Sigafoos got Student Sigafoos a job with the North Star Hockey Puck Corporation where today he is head of the puck-packing department and a happy man.

Advisor Sigafoos is happy too. He has time again to pursue his studies of Trichobatrachus robustus, the hairy frog. At night he plays gin rummy with Walter M. Handzlik.

Panhellenic Has Election Of Officers

Three new officers have been elected to Panhellenic. Officers elected were: vice president, Jane Foley; secretary, Nancy Quinn; and treasurer, Joan Stahdelman.

At a meeting composed of both new and outgoing members, plans were discussed for an officers workshop to be held March 30. Ten members from each sorority will have an opportunity to attend. Each sorority was assigned a section of town to canvass for funds for the Red Cross drive.

Two new rush week proposals were approved by the organization. A registration system will be set up in which each rushee will sign up for parties individually with the sorority. In the old system, a sorority had no control over distribution of rushees attending the three nightly parties. This will allow the sorority to close a party before it becomes too crowded. The other proposal is a counseling service for those girls needing advice with rushing problems.

Twenty-one teams and 186 individuals entered the match, held at Ohio State University. They were from Michigan, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia, West Virginia, and Kentucky.

Harmon's 286/300 gave him fourth place in the individual competition and a medal. Shooting as a UK team member, he made 288/300.

Scores of other UK team members were: Henry D. Goff, 287; Wesley N. Sims, 285; Douglas P. Searcy, 281; and Marvin C. Goff, Jr., 275.

First place silver medals went to the University of Michigan team for its 1433/1500, and bronze medals were given to the UK team. The inscriptions read: "1957 National Rifle Association, Intercollegiate Team".

UK team captain Sims received a "captain" bar on his award, and Fugua got a "coach" bar.

A member of the Southern Ohio Intercollegiate Rifle League, the UK team is now in third place.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION AT IBM?"

Two years ago, Robert Everett asked himself this question. Today, as Administrative Assistant to the Divisional Controller, Bob reviews his experience at IBM and gives some pointers that may be helpful to you in taking the first, most important step in your business career.

"What's it like to work for a big, expanding company like IBM? What would I be asked to do? Would I get ahead fast?" These were some of the questions that filled Bob Everett's mind as he faced up to the big problem, "How can I put my M.B.A. training to the best possible use?"

Bob came directly to IBM from Cornell in July, 1955, with an M.B.A. in finance. He was immediately assigned, with twenty-nine other M.B.A.'s, to a Business Administration training program. This six months' program comprised general orientation in the entire IBM organization, a six weeks' field trip to the

Developing a new system

Syracuse branch office and several months at the Poughkeepsie manufacturing facilities. There he gained a functional knowledge of IBM machines, particularly the 700 series of giant electronic computers.

His training completed by January, 1956, Bob was assigned to the Methods Department as a Methods Analyst at IBM World Headquarters in New York City. Here, with the cooperation of operating department personnel, he worked on the development of systems and procedures for the various Division areas. In addition to normal methods techniques used in developing systems and procedures, he studied these projects in terms of possible machine application for either IBM high-speed giant computers or conventional accounting equipment. One project was the study of the Machine Ordering procedure with the objective of simplifying and mechanizing it and at the same time improving the source information to provide for a more complete analysis of sales and production backlog.

Filtering out the "hot" projects

Promoted the same year

By December of the same year, Bob was promoted to his present job—Administrative Assistant to the Controller of the Data Processing Division. "The first function of an Administrative Assistant," says Bob, "is to filter out the 'hot' projects from those that can be handled later. You follow through on projects assigned by the controller and keep him posted on their progress." Bob's new position affords a pleasant diversification of work: charting divisional responsibilities of the controller's function... plans for decentralization... costs of regionalization... summarizing key financial and statistical information for presentation to top management.

Bob points out that there are many areas in Business Administration at IBM for men with an M.B.A. or a B.S. in accounting: corporate, general, and factory accounting; internal audit; methods; payroll and taxes. Administrative and management positions constantly open up at World Headquarters, IBM's 188 branch offices, many plants and laboratories.

Why Bob picked IBM

Bob made a careful study of existing opportunities before selecting IBM for his career. He had a dozen campus interviews; took nine company tours. IBM's M.B.A. program interested him—because, as he says, "It gave me a chance to review the entire company before starting an actual line assignment." He was intrigued by the increasing use of data processing equipment in finance and he knew that IBM was a leader in this field. Salary-wise, he found IBM better than many, but it was company growth potential that motivated his choice. "Opportunity certainly exists at IBM," he says. "Growth factors alone will account for many new executive positions. A second factor is the trend toward decentralization, which also creates new jobs. These factors, plus IBM's 'promote-from-within' policy, add up to real opportunity."

"Opportunity certainly exists at IBM"

IBM hopes that this message will help to give you some idea of what it's like to be in Business Administration at IBM. There are equal opportunities for E.E.'s, M.E.'s, physicists, mathematicians and Liberal Arts majors in IBM's many divisions—Research, Product Development, Manufacturing Engineering, Sales and Sales Assistance. Why not drop in and discuss IBM with your Placement Director? He can supply our latest brochure and tell you when IBM will next interview on your campus. Meanwhile, our Manager of College Relations, Mr. P. H. Bradley, will be happy to answer your questions. Write him at IBM, Room 10002, 690 Madison Ave., New York 22, N. Y.

Supernatural Charms Aid Husbandless Coeds

By WILLIAM EPPERSON

Husband hunting, usually a problem, is a sure thing for the superstitious coed. There is a variety of charms designed to help the coed learn the identity of her future husband.

If an enterprising and hopeful young coed hangs a wishbone over her door, the first man to pass under it is her future husband.

If she eats a well-salted egg before going to bed she will dream that a man comes to her bringing a drink of water. The face of this man is the face of her future spouse.

Another method is to have her roommate name the four corners of the room in which they sleep. The corner she is facing when she wakes the next morning bears the name of her husband-to-be.

She can, however, put the names of several boys on separate pieces of paper and place them under her pillow. During the night she throws one out. In the morning she retrieves it. The name on it is that of the man who will take her in wedlock.

Several girls have been known to carry "buckeyes" to make doubt ly sure nothing will mar their happiness.

If all else fails, a rabbit's foot carried in the garter is sure to bring good luck.

If a young maid is out strolling and finds a four-leaf clover, she picks it up and puts it in her left shoe. Thereafter, the first man she meets is her future breadwinner.

When looking at the moon she chants:

"Bright moon, clear moon, bright and fair."
"Lift up your foot and there will be a hair" and sure enough when she lifts her right foot, there will be a hair of the same color as that of the boy she will marry.

Some girls, in an effort to increase luck, have been known to make a charm bracelet of buttons from men's garments, either found or pilfered from boyfriend's coats on dates or at parties.

A well-educated coed will never let anyone sweep under her feet. If this happens, she is doomed to go through life as an old maid.

The mumbo-jumbo girls go through daily would make voodoo worship seem like a lecture in logic.

It seems, however, that when they combine these fate-inducing measures with the more modernistic methods of man-catching, such as the very potent offensive weapon, the sweater, they, like the Mounties, "always get their man."

Head Nurse Kept Busy By Classes

By ED BLACKWELL

Aside from her duties as head nurse at the UK infirmary, Faye Montgomery is attending classes on the campus to obtain a degree in public health.

After getting her degree she would like to teach in a nurse's training home, but admits that "marriage would be a better goal."

Her duties at the infirmary consist of the nursing care of all patients, making rounds with doctors, ordering supplies, and, in her own words, being shock absorber for complaints.

Miss Montgomery confesses that she enjoys working with the students and likes her job because the illnesses here are not as tragic as the ones you find in the hospitals. She says the majority of the people have been co-operative and that she has enjoyed her contacts at the University.

She has been at UK since August, 1955. She is 26 and a graduate nurse of the Good Samaritan Hospital. Her family lives in Danville, but she attended high school at Junction City. She is one of six children and her brother, Gordon, plays forward on the Georgetown College basketball team, and one sister is a student nurse at Good Samaritan.

As for hobbies, she collects bird prints, scenic prints, and milk glass. She enjoys reading in her spare time.

She is a member of the American Nurses Association and the Kentucky State Association of Registered Nurses. She holds offices on state and district levels.

Tolliver Receives Chemistry Award

James W. Tolliver has been named recipient of the annual Freshman Chemistry Achievement Award sponsored by the Chemical Rubber Company.

The award is made on the basis of the most outstanding progress in the first semester of chemistry by a chemistry major at UK. Tolliver, who hails from Nepton, Ky., will receive a Handbook of Chemistry and Physics from the Chemical Rubber Company.

A regional contest for winners at various schools will be held. Winners receive a certificate of merit award and the department attended by the winner receives $100.00 in scientific books.

Housekeepers To Be On Campus In July

The Executive Housekeepers Institute will be conducted on the campus July 29-31. It will be the first meeting of its type in Kentucky.

Executive housekeepers are those persons who manage the housekeeping chores for hotels, hospitals, and other public institutions.

While at UK they will study problems relating to administrative procedures, budgeting, cleaning procedures and mechanical equipment.

The institute, to be conducted by the College of Adult and Extension Education, will be staffed by UK personnel.

Romulus and Remus, founders of Rome, were said to have been adopted by a she-wolf.

Marriage Preparation Lectures Scheduled

The Lexington-Fayette County Council on Family Relations is sponsoring a second teen-age lecture series on marriage preparation.

The series of four lectures will be given in the University High School auditorium. Each lecture is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. and last until 9 p.m.

Date and program schedule follows:

April 16, Dr. Evelyn Duvall, author, lecturer and marriage counselor, will speak on "How to be Attractive to the Opposite Sex."

April 23, Dr. Edward Rydman, executive director of the Planned Parenthood Association, will speak on "Going Steady."

On April 30, marriage counselor Edward Thornton is scheduled to lecture on "The Art of Lasting Love."

The final program in the series is planned for May 7. It will be a panel discussion entitled "Grown Up." Members of the panel will be UK sociologist Dr. James Gladden, Dr. Robert Strauss of the UK Medical School, Rabbi Joseph Rosenbloom of Temple Adath Israel and UK Dean of Women Sarah B. Holmes.

Dr. John Christianson, UK rural sociologist, will act as moderator of the panel.

Each program will be divided into two parts: half devoted to lecturing and the other half to answering questions.

Student memberships for the entire series cost $1, and individual lecture tickets will be sold at $2.50 for students and $7.50 for adults.

Exhibition Given By Rebel Squad

The Confederate Squad of Pershing Rifles gave a drill exhibition last week for members of the Central Kentucky Reserve Officers Association.

The event was in the Buell armory in Barker Hall. The commander was Robert A. Bates. The riflemen were Donald Harmon, Kenneth R. Hixson, George A. Isham, Ralph B. Javins, William J. Moore, and Joslyn V. Portmann. Carroll C. Cinnamond is the bugler.

The PR Confederate Squad wears the official infantry uniform of the Confederacy and carries the authentic breech or muzzle-loading muskets of that era. The manual of arms and the marching maneuvers are taken from Southern drill manuals also.

A whiffletree is the movable, horizontal crossbar to which the traces are hitched on a horse-drawn vehicle.

UK Press To Publish Prize Books

The Mississippi Valley Historical Association is offering a series of $1,000 prizes for studies in American history. The first five of the prize books will be published by the University of Kentucky Press.

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, president of the association and head of the UK History Department, announced the new series.

Competition for the annual $1,000 award will be open to all historians. Selection of the first manuscript, which will be made by a committee including Dr. J. Norton England of UK.

Purpose of the competition, said Dr. Clark is to stimulate research and writing in American history by offering what will be one of the largest awards of this kind for unpublished manuscripts.

D. V. Terrell Fund Now Set Up Here

The D. V. Terrell Fund for Engineering has been established at the University of Kentucky for the purpose of improving the quality of instruction in the College of Engineering.

The new fund is being initiated by the Kentucky Utilities Company, in cooperation with the Kentucky Research Foundation, in recognition of Engineering Dean D. V. Terrell's contributions to the engineering profession.

Announcement of the fund was made jointly Tuesday by Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, UK vice president and president of the Research Foundation, and Robert M. Watt, president of the Kentucky Utilities Company. The Kentucky Utilities Company has made the initial grant to the fund.

The spokesman said that funds will be used to supplement the salaries of the College of Engineering faculty members so that outstanding men may be retained and others may be attracted.

Dean Terrell, who has served as dean of the College of Engineering since 1946, will be placed on change-of-work assignment on July 1, 1957. The fund will honor "his outstanding contribution to the engineering profession and in particular to the College of Engineering."

Plans for the fund were developed by William H. Skinner, vice president of the Kentucky Utilities Company, and Dr. Merl Baker, director of the Kentucky Research Foundation. The program evolved from a previous grant provided by the Kentucky Utilities Company, devoted to the Department of Electrical Engineering and initiated by Dr. H. A. Romanowitz, head of that department.

KU officials are particularly interested in strengthening the University's program in electric power generation and transmission.

The Kentucky Research Foundation will extend an invitation to other industries to honor Dean Terrell and aid engineering education by making an annual grant to the fund. All grants will be administered by the Foundation.

Dean Terrell's career was climaxed in 1954 by his election as president of the American Society of Civil Engineers. Through his leadership, Future Engineers clubs have been formed in Kentucky, and he established and developed the UK Engineering Experiment Station.

He has served as president of the Southeastern Section of the American Society of Engineering Educators and has promoted ASEE activities in various ways.

At present, Dean Terrell is directing in the College of Engineering a program devoted to improved teaching. In 1956 he established the first College of Engineering-Industrial Conference at UK.

He has promoted research by serving as a member of the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Research Foundation, and has directed the development of a program of basic and applied research in every department of the College of Engineering.

In recognition of his contributions, District 9, American Society of Civil Engineers, established the D. V. Terrell Award given each year to a junior member in the district. He has personally supervised the guidance program in the College of Engineering and he has played a major part in the development of the scholarship program at UK.

The University dean was selected as one of two consultants for the San Francisco Bay Bridge, and he served as a member of the six-man committee selecting the Seven Wonders of Civil Engineering. He also assumed major responsibility for the creation of the Kentucky Society of Professional Engineers.

He is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, chairman of the Committee on Coordination of Professional Activities, contact member of both the Committee on Engineering Education and the Committee on Student Chapters, and a member of the Kentucky State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and the State Board of Architects.

He is chairman of the Kentucky Division of the Engineering Manpower Commission of E.J.C., and holds membership in the American Society for Engineering Education, Kentucky Society of Professional Engineers, Tau Beta Pi, Society of Sigma Xi, American Society for Testing Materials, Newcomen Society of North America, Lexington Rotary Club, Masonic Lodge, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

UK Receives Money Gifts Of $139,300

Gifts of money totaling $139,300 and several miscellaneous contributions have been accepted for the University of Kentucky by the executive committee of the Board of Trustees.

Donors and their gifts include: Distillers Feed Research Council, $3,000; Yeager, Ford and Warren, Louisville, $50; Henry Fischer Packing Co., Louisville, $10,000; Shell Chemical Corp., $1,500; Foundry Educational Foundation, $1,000; Kentucky Utilities Co., $10,000; National Science Foundation, $35,000; Brown-Forman Distillers Corp., $2,500; Carbide and Carbon Chemical Co., $500; Commonwealth Fund, $73,400.

Gifts to be administered by the Kentucky Research Foundation include:

Mrs. William S. Taylor, $100; Western Kentucky Mining Institute, $250; Blue Diamond Coal Co., Knoxville, $1,530; anonymous, $300; American Broadcasting Corp., $200.

Miscellaneous gifts accepted follow:

Anonymous, nine-passenger 1957 Chevrolet station wagon; law clerks of justice Stanley Reed, $1,250; Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Knight, 33 polled Hereford cattle valued at $33,000, and 100 calves.

Regional Conference Attended By Four KDP Representatives

Four representatives from the UK chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, attended the Regional Conference at Ohio University, March 16.

Those attending were: Mary Ellen Perrine, Mrs. Katherine Dick-ey, Olive Barrett and Mrs. Jessie Fugett, president of the UK chapter.

Of the 11 schools participating in the conference, UK and Morehead College were the only Kentucky schools represented.

Results of the Kappa Delta Pi elections on campus have recently been announced and are as follows: Mrs. Jessie Fugett, president; Olive Barrett, vice-president; Imogene Wells, secretary; Fan Dalzell, treasurer; and Martha Shipman, historian-recorder.

The group's new members will be announced later.

The shoe is on the other foot

Soon you will decide on the kind of company in which you want to invest the knowledge you have acquired through engineering education.

You will probably have more companies to consider than those who graduated before you... many more than the men who collected their sheepskins before 1950. While the number of engineering graduates once exceeded the number of openings, today there are more good opportunities than there are capable young men to pick up the pay checks. In short, the shoe is on the other foot—YOUR FOOT!

Although we recognize that fact, we cannot relax our standards. We still want only those who have the creative spark, the imagination, the talent to make important contributions in our organization. No doubt you will understand why... when you read our booklet. It tells about the exciting progress of helicopters and indicates something of the part Sikorsky has played and will play in their development.

This informative booklet is yours for the writing, no strings attached. Should you be considering Sikorsky as a company where you might like to get started, then tell us, too, a little about yourself. Address your letter to Mr. Richard Auten at our Bridgeport Personnel Department.

Apartment Seeker Is Soon Disillusioned

By GERALD E. MORRIS

"Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home." But a rented room is not home, and no amount of "fixing" and arranging can make it so. Thus, some students with small means and a yen for domesticity conceive the idea of finding an apartment.

At first this seems a brilliant idea. The novice apartment-seeker starts out optimistically, perhaps clutching the "want-ad" section of the paper and even a map of the city. The paper contains fascinating possibilities, and the whole thing appears to be a big adventure.

A sample ad may read, "Two-room apartment, superb view, excellent location (near everything!), private bath, entrance, sun porch, maid service and linens furnished." And all this for only $10 per week.

Well, our homeless friend can hardly drag out his map fast enough. He finds the street away up in the corner of the map, under "13-Z." Then, with trusty compass in tow, he's started what may be quite a search—for some elegant-sounding place named "Rosestrewn Boulevard," or "Parliament Place." At last, if he finds it at all, the apartment-seeker stumbles up a flight of dark stairs in a gloomy, Charles Adams-sort of house. Chances are good that it's on a dead-end street in a section known to the initiated as "Lonesome Valley," "Alcoholic Alley," or the like.

If timid knocking fails, a few yells and some pounding (our boy is learning!) may bring forth signs of human habitation. Enter the landlady; but, then, are landladies human? At any rate, to be completely in character, she must be wearing a blousey kimono and flapping carpet slippers.

Providing the place hasn't already been rented, this venerable soul may consent to reveal its glories. Five will get you ten that the sun porch is nonexistent; the location is indeed near everything, including a city dump; and the private bath is best left unmentioned.

But—lo!—there is a private entrance, if you don't mind crawling up a fire escape, across a couple of rooftops, and through a rather small window.

About that window: There is, unfortunately, only one, and it resembles one of those slits in the watchtower of a medieval castle. However, there is indeed a gorgeous view . . . of a flashing neon sign reading: "Joe's Chili Parlor, Open 24 Hours."

Although the rent has mysteriously gone up to $80 per month, a big advantage, as the proprietress hastens to point out, is that the linens are furnished—for a small additional fee.

The moral? Put yourself out for adoption; or go home to Podunk minus that diploma; or just trudge wearily back to that rented room.

July Seminar Is Planned For Utilities

A committee is currently planning a Utilities Management Seminar, which will be sponsored jointly by the College of Adult and Extension Education's Department of Workshops and Conferences and the College of Commerce. The seminar will be conducted on the campus July 8-17.

It will bring junior level executives of private utility companies in Kentucky to UK's campus. They will study corporate organization, enterprise economy, financial administration, and government regulations for utilities.

The teaching staff will include UK faculty members and national leaders in public utilities and finance.

Members of the committee to plan the seminar are: Prof. W. E. Beals, College of Commerce; Keller Dunn, College of Adult and Extension Education; Ralph Kesinger, industrial relations consultant, General Telephone Co. of Kentucky; and A. Clay Stewart, vice president, Kentucky Utilities Company.

Squadron A Wins

Cadet 1st Lt. James G. Ingram's Flight 2 of Squadron A won the recent flight competition in AFROTC drill. The flight was given the title "Honor Flight" at special ceremonies.

The AFROTC unit at UK has a new wing commander, Jay V. Paxton. He succeeds William R. Sims.

Panhellenic Will Have Workshop

The annual Panhellenic workshop and luncheon for housemothers and new sorority officers will be held tomorrow in the Student Union Building.

Individual discussion groups will meet from 9 to 1:30 a.m. in different rooms on the first and second floors of the SUB. Each of the eight groups, which include sorority presidents, pledge trainers, rush chairmen, house presidents and housemothers, Panhellenic representatives, treasurers, social chairmen and scholarship chairmen, will have a speaker.

The luncheon will begin at 12 o'clock in the Football Room. Mrs. Tariton Combs Carroll will speak to the group, after which Miss Jane Haselden, University assistant dean of women and Panhellenic sponsor, will announce scholarship ratings.

Directors Meeting Attended By Wetzel

Prof. H. E. Wetzel, head of the Department of Social Work, recently attended a meeting of the board of directors of the Kentucky Welfare Association in Frankfort.

The main business of the meeting was the discussion of plans for the state conference of KWA which will meet in Lexington in November.

The meet alternates between Lexington and Louisville.

THE grades this gentleman is making have to be good because America's largest construction project, the St. Lawrence Seaway, depends on them. When it is finished in 1959, America will have a fourth coastline 8,000 miles long. Ships will sail 2,300 miles into the nation's industrial heart. Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo will be seaports.

To get the job done, 3,000 bulldozers, power shovels, draglines, dredges and trucks must rip 180 million tons of earth and rock from the valley floor. This takes machines with guts. And that's why most of these huge machines use Timken tapered roller bearings. Timken bearings roll the terrific loads, keep wheels and shafts moving day-in, day out, in steady, friction-free rhythm.

Keeping these machines rolling smoothly is just one way the Timken Company keeps America on the go. We're working hand-in-hand with all industry to make machines go faster with more precision, fewer break-

This desire for continued progress made us a leader—the world's largest manufacturer of tapered roller bearings and removable rock bits. And a leading producer of fine alloy steel.
