Well, All We've Got To Say Is...

To the Editor of The Kernel: Will some people never learn to look up the facts before they break loose with letters to the Editor? Don't students realize that nothing makes them look so ridiculous as going off "half cooked"?

the best, to think that we have such childish students at the University. P. S. I noticed that the other letter written last week took a much more mature view of the situation and did not just blow off steam. He offered his opinion in a sane manner that showed he was fortunate at the co-ed, not the unfortunate new editor.

and buy war bonds with the money derived therefrom? I'm a co-ed, too, but I don't go around saying, "I'd be in the war in a minute if I had just had the chance." I don't say this 'cause I know I, just like several million teen-age kids, wouldn't, if I could. Reminds me of people always saying what they'd do if they were president - saying it because they know they never will. BETTY.

COLONEL Of The Week

C. Edwin Barnes

This week's "Colonel of the Week" goes to C. Edwin Barnes, popular Arts and Sciences junior from Louisville.

Ed is secretary of Lances, honorary junior fraternity; house manager for Guigold productions; former staff sergeant of Pershing Rifles; and member of The Kentucky staff.

He is also social chairman of the Sigma Chi fraternity; a member of the Forum committee; sergeant of the Color Guard; and a member of the Glee Club.

To show our appreciation of these achievements, we want to invite you to come in and enjoy any two of our delicious dinners.

It's As Cold As Blue Blazes

It undoubtedly turned colder Tuesday night than it ever did in one night before. We didn't even dare look at the thermometer, for fear that it would make us colder than we already were.

winter coats played the same tricks that skirts do when they are attacked by a March wind. But March never had a wind like this.

Guess every year some one says this is the coldest winter we ever had, or the hardest winter since back in the '80s. This may not be the coldest, but so far it is looking cold enough, and that snow that was covering the ground Wednesday was the hard dry kind that couldn't by any stretch of the imagination be called soft white rain.

While we were contemplating this surprising occurrence, Big Train Akers dropped in to say the K club wanted some publicity on the game with Darnall hospital Saturday night. You see, it will cost students 10 cents plus their student tickets to get into the game, and the K club gets the profits. We have been wondering if Akers' work as publicity agent for the club is official, or whether he just took it on his shoulders because no one else wanted it.

And that wind was blowing hard enough out in the open spaces, but when it came whistling through those funnels made by adjacent buildings, it was a corker. Sitting in Spanish class down in the basement of Miller hall, we could not decide whether the snow was descending or ascending. Just when we would come to the conclusion that it was snowing in the accepted manner, a gust of wind would send the snow already on the ground swirling skyward.

Although we gather that the money derived from the admissions will be used for a worthy cause, we are not so much interested in that as we are in the fact that we hope the students will go to the game to give the team a boost here right at the first of the season. Nothing can discourage a team so much as not having anyone come out to watch them get all hot and tired for the glory of the Alma Mater. No one is worrying about exams yet, so why not relax at a ball game Saturday night. There is more room there than in a crowded theater, anyway.

Kentucky May Be Proud of Barkley

THE FREE LANCE—by Bob Walth. Kentucky has a man of whom it may justly be proud. Senator Alben Barkley wasn't feeling last June when he declared his intention to leave his home address at the University that no one should be denied the right to vote for failure to pay a poll tax.

As all who are familiar with the famous American institution of the United States Senate is the only legislative body in the world where a small group of dunderheads — or far-seeing statesmen, as the case may be—can effectively hamstring majority action whenever expedi-ence, as it so often does, becomes the better part of common intelligence. Perhaps, then, the "system" and not the Senators are at fault, for Senators have to eat just as we do; and even Southern Congressmen, while they sport by now few indications of anything but wholesome feeble-mindedness, know which side of the cornbread their peanut butter is on.

As for Miss Pugh's joining the WAAACS, please look at the offending article. That paragraph is included with a group of quotations. It is enclosed within quotation marks, or are you mature enough to know that those little things men that someone besides the writer is speaking? Or should she have written "she said" every three words?

Senator Barkley was defeated in his fight for the anti-poll tax bill, but we hope that the principle he fought for was not. He was instrumental in focusing national, and even international, attention on an issue which, though insignificant in itself, could well be chosen as the pivot point between winning or losing the peace which is to follow this war. If the orthodox mentality and partisan self-interest displayed by the filibustering Southern Senators is to rule at the peace table also, we may as well begin laying plans in advance for World War II.

Many liberals who rent the air with lusty howls of impotent rage at the tenacity of the filibuster at the present time missed completely this deeper significance of the action, naively assuming that its success merely postponed the day when Negroes and poor whites in the South would be enfranchised — or, actually the abolition of the poll tax, even if held constitutional, would not have entitled a single Negro to vote in any of the eight Southern states where this feudal device of class prejudice is still enforced. To expect otherwise would be to sadly underestimate the inhumanity of Southern lawmakers who have the grandfather clauses and property, employment, understanding, and educational qualifications as additional safeguards to

WHICH would you vote "most likely to succeed?"

"The Aircraft Warning Service gives a single plane on ground alert the equivalent striking power of 16 planes on air patrol." This startling statement comes from England. Our country's Aircraft Warning Service—quite similar to England's—keeps a constant check on the flight of all aircraft. Should the need arise, it is prepared to send fighter planes aloft, to mobilize and direct ground defense forces, to warn endangered areas. Every step in its operation requires the fast, accurate communication of the telephone.

This is just one of the many wartime jobs that are keeping telephone lines busier than ever before. To help us be first clear for vital military and industrial calls, please avoid using Long Distance to war activity centers unless the call is urgent. And please keep all your telephone calls as brief as you can. Thank you.

What kind of Future should a man prepare for?

One thing is certain. The future is going to be very different. Now, as you finish your training, many of you with your war participation fully determined, the future of peacetime seems very remote. It is a bridge we're all going to have to cross when we come to it. Nobody knows exactly what it will look like. But we do know that what lies on the other side will be largely what all of us together make it. Even now, responsible men in industry are thinking how to make jobs for the men coming back from the services, and for the men now in war applications. It will be done by dreaming up new things to make, and new ways to make old things better. This is being done by a combination of imagination and engineering, industry by

Blue Basketeers Open Season With Exhibition Tilt Saturday

K Club Benefits From Game With Darnall Hospital

For the benefit of the K-Club, Coach Adolph Rupp's varsity basketeers will meet the Darnall General hospital five of Danville at 8 o'clock Saturday night in Alumni gym. Saturday's exhibition will be the first public showing of the season for the Wildcats—regarded as a question mark in Southeastern Conference circles.

The Baron's boys triumphed in a tough loop tourney in Louisville in February, but have lost most of the manpower that enabled them to regain the SEC diadem. From last year's quintet only "three regulars remain. These are Milt Teco, forward, Mel Brewer, center, and Marvin Akers, guard.

Team May Develop
 From a wealth of freshman and sophomore prospects Coach Rupp has fashioned a not combine that he predicts will "develop into a pretty good team." According to the Baron, "They're working hard, and coming along nicely." And when the Baron waxed enthusiastic there's trouble brewing.

These three holdovers will be on the starting lineup Saturday night, and rounding out the outfit will be sophomores Kenneth Rollins and Mulford Davis. Davis and Teco will start at forwards, Brewer at center, and Akers and Rollins at guards.

Pat Noel, Ed Lander, Jimmy Weber, Clyde Parker, and Bill Barlowe will also see plenty of action, says Coach Rupp, who sees a win Saturday night, but doesn't forecast a runaway. Only scrimmage against outsiders held by the Wildcats so far was a 69-23 rout of Transylvania, but the boys aren't cocky over this success.

Admission to the Darnall game is 10 cents to students, 50 cents to outsiders. All net proceeds go to the K-Club, an organization of intermen in major sports.—B. M.

Sports Activity Slows Up; Kappas, W AAs Lead Bowlers

By ALICE WATKINS
 Women's Sports Reporter

With thoughts of exams first and foremost in the minds of everyone, there seems to be somewhat of a lull, and sports are playing second fiddle. However, promises are for big "doins" after vacation.

Still in progress are the bowling seasons, and there is quite a bit of competition among the contenders. Leaders after two weeks of rolling are the Kappas and W. A. A. teams, with the Chios and the Jewell ball group close on their heels.

The hockey season is over for the girls of the Women's Athletic Association, but most of them are still so enthusiastic about the game that they're ready for one final blast of it. Last word from Lucille Clark, who along with Agnes Smith manages the hockey team of the W. A. A., was that there would be a big session on Thursday at the athletic field behind the Union building to Lida Belle Howe, Armina Roberts, Wilma Salmon, Agnes Smith, and Jean Williams.

 Those receiving rifle "K's" were Austelle Beaton, Peggy Howard, Marjorie Johnson, and Bonnie Miller.
 Special W. A. A. gold pins given for 600 points were given to Betty Dew, Armina Roberts, and Mary Searcy. Engraved arrows were awarded Virginia Wesley and Callie Anne Morrison.

EAST-WEST TILT SET SATURDAY ON STOLL FIELD

The East-West game—the Shriners' annual grid fiesta between Kentucky's high school standouts—is scheduled for Saturday afternoon on Stoll field. A preliminary between the Chevy Chase and Strathmore Midgets will get the day's offering under way at 2 o'clock. Net proceeds will be given to the brace fund of the Shriners' Crippled Children's hospital.

Each squad's roster includes 25 senior players that starred in high school competition during the season, just completed. Three of four games have ended in ties since the series started in 1938. The lone win was achieved by the East in 1940, 11-7.

"Hopper" Kennedy of Lynch is head mentor of the East forces, and is assisted by John Heber of Lexington's Henry Clay, and Capt. J. W. Rees of Millersburg Military Institute. Central Kentucky has seven boys on the roster, three of them being from Henry Clay. Sectionally speaking, northern Kentucky has four, the far eastern part seven and Cumberland valley four on the East roster.
