

Beat Tennessee--Take Monday Off

Laughing Boy

"I don't feel like smiling," says Smoky, the blue tick hound who has been visiting the UK campus for the past week. He made the comment after being told that he must be returned to the Tennessee campus.

Said Smoky, "I surely do like Kentucky. You folks have been mighty nice to me." Well Smoky, we've certainly enjoyed having you and hope to see you again soon.

Shave, Buddy?

Three Pi Kappa Alpha pledges ventured to Vol-land Tuesday evening in hopes of a little fun. The three found it. For it seems Tennessee students also go in for this idea of fun. Some persons feel that before the weekend is over, there may be some big K's seen upon the domes of fun-loving Tennesseans.

Complete Dognap Story Revealed For First Time

By SECRET AGENT X-9

This story began two years ago in the wake of the disastrous keg raid. A small determined band of UK patriots met late one foggy night at a little known wine shop. Here they swore an oath of eternal vengeance against the Vols. It was from this pact that the dognap idea was born.

It was a bold and extremely dangerous plot. Because of this, it had to be planned to the minutest detail, carefully rehearsed, and carried out without a single slip up. Originally the attack was set for last year. The broad outlines of strategy were drawn up, but our intelligence failed to penetrate Tennessee's tight security ring. It had to be postponed for a year.

Early this fall Operation Smoky was re-activated. Reconnaissance patrols revealed one highly interesting fact. A former Tennessee student was attending graduate school at UK. The man was approached, and after delicate negotiations he agreed to supply certain valuable technical information. With this information now available Operation Smoky went into high gear. An intelligence contact in Knoxville was set up to feed back day by day reports on the enemy.

Five hand-picked men were chosen to form the raiding party. A car with Tennessee license

Sock Hop To Be Held In Coliseum Tonight

UK boosters can literally kick off their shoes and howl after the pep rally and parade tonight.

There will be a five piece combo in the middle of the basketball floor playing rock 'n roll, jazz, and boogie from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m.

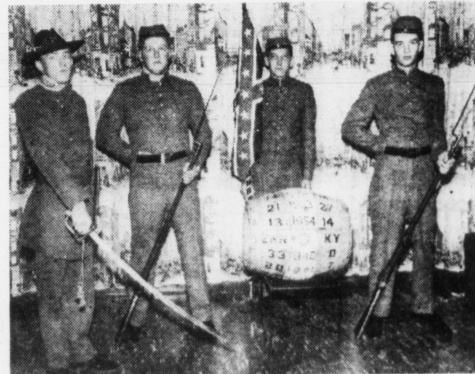

Students and UK fans will be invited to take off their shoes and make use of the huge court as a dance floor. There will be no admission charges.

The combo is being sponsored by the Student Government Association University social program committee. The committee was formed by SGA last week "to investigate the possibilities of having more University social functions."

Suky is working with the SGA group in holding the pep rally tonight. University of Tennessee students staying in Lexington for the game are invited.

The social program committee, in planning the combo dance, conferred with Dean Sarah Holmes, Dean L. L. Martin, Dr. Frank Peterson, and representatives of Keeneland Hall, Men's Student Council, and Omicron Delta Kappa. The group originally planned to have the admission-free dance in the Wildcat Grill. Because of the large crowd expected at the pep rally, however, permission was granted to have a "sock hop" in the Coliseum.

Heavily Guarded Trophy

The traditional beer keg, which goes each year to the winner of the UK-UT football encounter, is now located in Lexington after UK's win of last year. Anticipating attempts of thievery, UK's Pershing Rifles Confederate Squad has placed a steady guard around the prized trophy, on exhibit in the SUB from 2 to 4 today.

Biggest Pep Rally In Many Years Scheduled Tonight

Smoky, Collier, Band Head Attractions

By ELLIS EASTERLY
Kernel Feature Editor

"Smoky", the stolen hound-dog mascot from the University of Tennessee, will be the main attraction at what promises to be the biggest pep rally in years at Memorial Coliseum tonight.

Sharing the spotlight with the much-publicized canine will be Lieutenant Governor-elect Harry Lee Waterfield, Coach Blanton Collier, the UK band and football team co-captains, Bob Hardy, and Howard Schnellenburger.

This extravagant showing, beginning at 6:45 p.m., will be preceded by a torchlight parade starting at 6:15 from the Coliseum. There will be approximately 300 torches available.

The parade, led by a truck carrying musical entertainment, will go up Euclid Avenue to Rose Street and from there to the men's dorms. After picking up the male dormitory population, it will proceed by Washington Avenue to Limestone and then to the women's dorms to add to its ranks.

Crossing over to Harrison, it will continue up Maxwell to collect the Greeks located there, take a right on Rose, and head back to the Coliseum and the rally.

The band will be playing at the Coliseum all the while the parade is winding around the campus.

A smart uniform is already in the process of being made for Smoky. He will wear a blue felt coat with a large white "K" on it for his first stage appearance in front of the Lexington populace.

The Confederate Squad of Pershing Rifles and the freshman football team will be on hand to guard both the dog and the traditional beer keg, which has all the earlier scores painted on it.

During the rally, co-captains Bob Hardy and Howard Schnellenburger will make speeches, along with Waterfield and Collier. The cheerleaders will also be on hand to lead the crowd in a few spirited yells.

Maxine Thompson, president of Suky, said that she expects "at least 4,000 people". She urges all the fraternities and sororities to bring their flags and emblems and sit in groups during the rally.

Lincoln And The Bluegrass Promoted By Denbo, Clark

A promotion program for William H. Townsend's latest historical book, "Lincoln and the Bluegrass," was carried on in Chicago this week by two UK representatives.

The book was published recently by the University of Kentucky Press.

Bruce F. Denbo, University of Kentucky Press director, and Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the History Department, appeared on TV and radio programs featuring Townsend's book.

While in Chicago, both men spoke before the Civil War Round Table and a Civil War Book Club meeting. "Lincoln and the Bluegrass" was selected by the Civil War Book Club as its November Book-of-the-Month.

The two representatives took with them a special five-minute film, prepared by the Radio Arts Department, featuring Townsend's collection of Lincolniana. Townsend has one of the largest private collections concerning Lincoln.

Previous plans had called for Townsend to make the trip to Chicago, but illness prevented it. Denbo and Dr. Clark were selected to appear in the author's place during the promotion program.

Goff, Wilson Receive Awards

Henry D. Goff, a sophomore in the College of Commerce and Charles A. Wilson, an agriculture senior have been presented the Secretary of the Air Force Rifle Match Award, the Air Science Department has announced.

The award was made to the two AFROTC cadets on Oct. 19 by Col. Robert S. Larson, professor of air science. The award was made "in recognition of outstanding performance on the AFROTC rifle team of the University of Kentucky during the 1955 Secretary of the Air Force Rifle Match."

As a result of the "abilities and efforts" of the two cadets the University placed "third in the United States in competition with 204 teams," Maj. Robert T. Palmer, associate professor of air science, said.

The targets were fired at the University and were sent to a central grading point where they were scored by persons appointed by the Secretary of the Air Force.

Both Wilson and Goff are members of the University rifle team.

South American Songs To Be Given At Club

The Cosmopolitan Club will have a South American program at 7 p.m. tonight in the Social Room in the SUB. Students from the Dominion Republic, Columbia, Cuba, Bolivia, Argentina, and El Salvador will present a program of South American songs and films.

Cost of the combos will be paid for by SGA, residence halls, campus honoraries, and other groups.

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance — cellulose — found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich; satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip . . . and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette . . . that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

THE TRUE AND TRAGICAL TALE OF HAPPY JACK SIGAFOOS

Who would have thought that Happy Jack Sigafoos, the boy the sky never rained on, would ever teeter on the edge of a life of crime?

Certainly there was no sign of it in his boyhood. His home life was most tranquil and uplifting. His mother was a nice plump lady who hummed a lot and gave baskets to the poor. His father was a highly respected citizen who could imitate more than four hundred bird calls and once saved an elderly widow from drowning in his good suit. (That is, Mr. Sigafoos was in his good suit; the elderly widow was in swimming trunks.)

Happy Jack's life was nothing short of idyllic—until he went off to college.

In college Happy Jack quickly became a typical freshman—tweedy, seedy, and needy. He learned the joys of rounding out his personality, and he learned the cost. His allowance vanished like dew before the morning sun. There were times, it grieves me to report, when he didn't even have enough for a pack of Philip Morris—and you know how miserable that can be! To be deprived of Philip Morris's gentle flavor, its subtly blended tastiness, its trauma-repairing mildness, its ineffable excellence—why, it is a prospect to break the heart in twain!

Happy Jack tried to get more money from home. He wrote piteous and impassioned letters pointing out that the modern large-capacity girl simply could not be maintained on his meagre allowance. But all Jack got from home were tiresome homilies about thrift and prudence.

Then one day a sinister sophomore came up to Jack and said, "I know how you can get more money from home." Jack said, "How?" and the sinister sophomore handed him a sheet of paper. "For one dollar," said the sinister sophomore, "I will sell you this list of fiendishly clever lies to tell your father when you need extra money."

- Jack read the list of fiendishly clever lies:
1. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a new house for the Dean of Men.
 2. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy a headstone for Rover, our late, beloved dormitory watchdog.
 3. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to buy the college a new fullback.
 4. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to endow a chair of fine arts.
 5. A bunch of us fellows are getting together to build our own space satellite.

For a moment, poor Jack was tempted; surely his father could not but support all these worthy causes. Then Jack's good upbringing came to the fore. He turned to the sinister sophomore and said, "No, thank you. I could not deceive my aged parent so. And as for you, sir, I can only say—Fie!"

Upon hearing this, the sinister sophomore broke into a huge grin. He whipped off his black hat and pasty face—and who do you think it was? None other than Mr. Sigafoos, Happy Jack's father, that's who!

"Good lad," cried Mr. Sigafoos. "You have passed your test brilliantly." With that he gave Happy Jack a check for a half million dollars and a red convertible containing four nubile maidens.

Crime does not pay!

The makers of Philip Morris, sponsors of this column, could not agree more. But we'll tell you what does pay—smoking America's gentle cigarette . . . new Philip Morris, of course!

No Vandalism

The infantile destruction of property Wednesday night is graphic proof of how a few misguided students can ruin a good situation.

Rivalry between Kentucky and Tennessee has always been keen, with or without thefts of hounds or kegs. The mysterious "disappearance" of items such as these, however, only adds to the spirit of friendly competition.

Puncturing of tires and general stripping of automobile parts can hardly be called "friendly rivalry." It is nothing but wanton destruction.

Unfortunately all UK students take the blame for what a few senseless ones bring about. In this case the University of Tennessee students are left with the impression that UK is inhabited by so many hoods.

The UT students who invaded the campus Wednesday night were not bent on tearing up the University of Kentucky. They had, undoubtedly, come to play pranks—but certainly not to ruin and deface private property.

What the vandals proved, or thought they proved, in ripping the Tennessee students' car is nebulous. But what they accomplished is quite clear.

The feeling of friendly rivalry was sacrificed on the altar of vandalism. Even though it only involved a few, the incident points an accusing finger at the entire UK student body.

The "clever" students who tore apart the Tennesseans' car Wednesday night have probably had much to boast about this week. Theirs is the bravado of the feeble minded.

But along with 99 per cent of the students at UK, the Kernel states positively that Tennessee is the best rival in the nation. It is just unfortunate that a few have to destroy what others spend years building up.

Praises SGA

Student Government tackled a new field of endeavor in the social program for the University—but it has handled it extremely well.

Less than a week after the group was formed by SGA the University social program committee arranged a free student dance. The dance, which is scheduled tonight, is imaginative as well as progressive.

A combo in the Coliseum is certainly a unique idea. The Tennessee game weekend, traditionally a "big" one for students, had no scheduled social events sponsored on a University wide basis.

It would seem at first glance that social activity should be handled by groups other than SGA. Ostensibly SGA is a law-making body, not a social organization.

However it is the very departure from the ordinary that makes the SGA action so commendable. The recent Leadership Conference brought out the problem of not enough UK-sponsored social activities. SGA made a wise and admirable move by forming a committee to solve the problem.

Robot Team

Dear Sir:

The recent editorial in the Kernel concerning the lack of school spirit and lack of support for the football team is very true. I have never attended a pep rally, and I admit that my school spirit is rather nil when it comes to football and basketball as played here and in most colleges, but I cannot feel that it is entirely my fault. I like a spontaneously played and enthusiastically enjoyed game played because the participants enjoy playing, and with winning a desired reward of an enjoyed game, not a demanded end within itself. Here, and in most places, if they didn't win, they might as well not have played. They aren't playing for the game, they're playing for the win and the game is incidental.

I would just as soon watch a bunch of robots play as watch college football. When anyone practices as much, and puts as much time into the "game" as the players do, you have a right to expect them to be good. I just read in the Courier Journal of a coach who sent in second team substitutes who scored after the first team had worked up to it, and that the first team players tried to wave their substitutes away. That might have been good strategy, but I don't think anyone will insist that those players enjoyed that game.

"It is the coach who makes the team". I don't believe for a minute you could have a ball team without someone to organize, direct and hold the players together, but when any sport becomes such an organized business that the participants make it their profession, and the coach becomes such an indispensable part as to be procured with more care than a corporation official, and who then must produce wins or else, I'm just not a customer.

Luther Raine

Maybe it's just coincidence, but have you noticed the flurry of activity by the campus political parties since an editorial prodded their indifference last week? Both parties have stated that they have been constantly active. This could be true—but until recently few students realized it.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"I KNOW SOMEONE FLUNKING IN EVERY ONE OF MY COURSES — ME."

Back Talk

Dear Sir:

In reference to the editorial "Lazy Politics" appearing in the Kernel on November 11, 1955 the Constitutionalist Party deems it necessary to inform the entire student body as to the scope and activities of the party as an integral part of student government.

The scope of the Constitutionalist Party which acts as the representatives of the student body on the campus of the University of Kentucky is to help solve the problems of the students in co-operation with the administration.

Since the second week of the fall semester the Constitutionalist Party has accomplished the following specific things:

1. Held regular weekly meetings on Tuesday at 4 p.m.
2. Held election of officers.
3. Interviewed candidates for the December election.
4. Have presented 6 planks in our spring platform in SGA thus far this fall.
5. Discussed topics for our representatives to bring up in SGA.
6. Have sponsored the "Hello Walk" to promote tradition, which is a plank of the party's platform.

These concrete actions performed, this fall, by the Constitutionalist Party completely cover the purposes of any political party.

Sincerely,
The Constitutionalist Party
Dan Woodward, President.

Criticism

Dear Sir:

Sometimes I wonder just how low the standards of a newspaper can sink. Especially a college newspaper, the pages of which are not bespattered with crime, vice, political treachery, or other types of news that could lead to a special kind of unethical treatment. This makes the sins of your paper doubly worse:

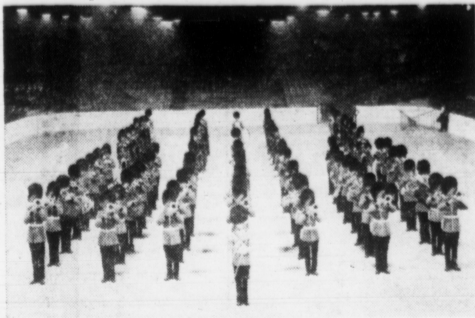

Doubly worse because you have taken the ordinary events or situations on our campus and transformed some of them into lewd, undignified portrayals. Special parts of your paper are devoted to what you probably call a "take off" on a person or organization, but what the rest of us call catty, snide, and unfair.

One of the things that myself and every other clean-minded decent person in the University have a right to object to is your treatment of pictures of girls on campus, especially queens. I'm referring to those photographs of the Lances queen candidates in the October 21 issue on, believe it or not, the front page. Now I am a fairly broadminded person, and I'm sure the majority of the college is also. But to subject us, and not to mention the poor girls involved, to that sort of near-pornography is an insult to our intelligence.

When tight sweaters and short shorts are used by a newspaper to try to create reader interest by semi-sensationalism, it is time to fold up the operations. Or else hire a new staff.

Either Mr. Easterly is half-way insane, or else he is wreaking personal vengeance on people or groups who have crossed him at one time or another. I don't know what his problem is. But at any rate it is hurting the Kentucky Kernel.

Almost Royalty!

The Scots Guard Band which will be on the UK campus Nov. 21 are known throughout the world for their colorful appearances before the Queen of England. This group will be remembered by many as the group that was televised during the coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

Scots Guards Band, Dancers Appear Monday In Coliseum

Queen Elizabeth's Household Troops, the Scots Guard Band with Massed Pipers and Dancers, which include 108 members, will appear at Memorial Coliseum at 8:15 p.m. Monday, Nov. 21, on The Central Kentucky Community Concert Series.

Included in the cast of Scots Guards are 60 bandsmen and 40 pipers under the commandership of Col. C. I. H. Dunbar. The group is touring America and Canada for two months under the management of S. Hurok. The English-Speaking Union is sponsoring the visit in the interest of Anglo-American amity.

While the Regimental Band is clothed in the scarlet tunic with bearskin bonnets, the pipers wear traditional highland attire. They don kilts of the Royal Stuart Tartan, and doublets of blue. They also carry the claymore or highland sword. Silken banners, emblazoned with the crests of the different companies of the regiment, wave from the bagpipes.

Officially known as Her Majesty's Scots Regiment of Foot Guards, the Scots Guards came into existence in 1642, when King Charles I commissioned the Marquis of Argyll to raise a regiment of personal guards in Scotland. Since that date, the Scots Guards have formed part of the Household Troops of the Sovereign.

When stationed at home, the Scots Guards share in all the duties traditionally associated with the Guards, mounting guard at Her Majesty's palaces, trooping the color on Her Majesty's birthday, and other historic ceremonies.

During wartime, they have served with distinction in almost every major engagement fought by the British Army. In World War II they fought shoulder to shoulder with U.S. Army units at Salerno, Anzio, and other battlefields.

The Band of the Scots Guards was founded in 1685, when King James II ordered 12 oboes to be added to each of his Regiments of Guards. Other instruments were added later, including horns and bassoons in 1716 and clarinets in 1749.

The band is normally stationed in London, where it marches at the head of the Queen's Guard on state occasions like a coronation. The band is removed from the capital only for such functions as the Edinburgh Festival, where it takes part in the famous Edinburgh Tattoo, climax of the Festival.

The pipers of the Scots Guards are first and foremost fighting soldiers who accompany the Battalions of the Regiment wherever they may be. In peacetime, the pipers have the privilege of playing around the dinner table when Her Majesty the Queen gives a state banquet. The pipe majors are appointed household pipers to Her Majesty.

The Workshop

Anti-Tennessee Proprietor Interviews Blue Tick Hound

By RAY HORNBACK

For a week now, all I've heard is Smoky. No longer is national news of any importance. Even Mr. Chandler has taken a back seat to the escapades of Smoky. And the widely read funny pages of the downtown dailies seem to have fallen into a sleepless abandon upon the arrival of Smoky.

Who is Smoky and where did he come from? For you poor uninformed persons who have escaped the diluge of publicity which has been heaped upon Smoky, he happens to be a droopy-eared, long-tongued, sad looking blue tick hound dog. And if that isn't bad enough, he's from Tennessee.

The flea haven is "visiting" the UK campus until tomorrow's game with arch-rival Tennessee, at which time he will head back for the "Volunteer" state and resume his duties as the Tennessee mascot.

After reading and hearing about Smoky and his travels, the attempts of Tennessee students to retrieve their odoriferous hound, and the big plans in store for the mutt tonight, I decided there was something missing in the widespread coverage Smoky has received in the newspapers, on radio and over the TV waves.

And that something is the personal touch . . . an interview with the old boy himself.

So with pencil and paper in hand, I asked Tennessee's smelly pride and joy, "How're the Kentuckians treating you Smoky?"

"Well," he replied, "things aren't too ruff. I've had plenty to eat and I certainly haven't lacked for attention."

After several minutes of discussion with Smoky, I realized I was not talking to an ordinary hound. Here was an extremely intelligent and sensitive dog. I soon decided he was a much more interesting personality than any of his associates I had met from the Tennessee campus.

With this in mind, I asked him just how he became the Tennessee mascot.

"Well," he said, "it's a pretty strange story. As you know, the UT fellows go under the monicker of 'Volunteers.' I reckon that dates back to the Civil War when all the males from three on up stopped killing bears and decided to go to war."

"They went to war," Smoky continued, "but not too many returned. In fact, when noses were counted, UT could round up only 10 men fit for football duty."

"So they called on me. And did I make a flashy tailback. My specialty was running around my own end . . . and if you don't think that's not a task, just try it sometime."

(We might interject here a piece of information given us by a sweet little English major which seems to qualify Smoky as a Volunteer. She informed us that quite often a dog whose father is unknown is labeled a Volunteer. And this in turn makes us wonder how the UT student body acquired its label of Volunteer?)

But back to Smoky.

He continued, "That year we had a dog-gone good season. We seemed to take a new leash on life after losing the first game, and ran through the next six opponents with apparent ease. But then came the final game of the season with UK."

"That game saw us use the unbalanced line, and I'm telling you most of those boys were unbalanced. We made good use of the famous Tennessee belly play until our star got knocked on his button. We also had planned to use the now famous Vol naked reverse, but moral codes in those days were somewhat more stringent than today."

"But the boner of the day was pulled by yours truly. It was in the final minutes of the game with the score tied at six all. A Kentucky halfback broke into the clear. I was the only thing between him and paydirt."

"Then it happened. Out of the corner of my eye, I spotted a fireplug. You can imagine the temptation. I yielded. Kentucky won. Never again did I play football."

"But my love for the game prodded me into asking officials to keep me on as mascot. And besides, I figured I would always be near the fireplug."

People are just like chickens. They do their best when they have to scratch for it.

Vols Mascot Stolen, Signs Painted Tennessee Game Is Really Here

What a weekend this is going to be! Even last Monday morning sparks were flying all over campus about the UK students "dognapping" Tennessee's hound-dog mascot "Smoky", and keeping him under lock and chain. Since then Tennessee has been on the road back and forth several times attempting to recapture their pooch—but with no luck so far.

There's only one regret, and that is that it had to rain—seems as though a few people did an excellent job of painting here and there all over the campus (in the dark of night), but neglected to use permanent paint.

Vols Want Revenge
It's for sure that the Vols are out to get revenge on the Wildcats this year, in more ways than one. Kentucky has beaten them for the last two years in hair-raising games, and tomorrow afternoon certainly isn't going to be any easy time of it. Here's hoping . . .

Suky Pep Rally
A torchlight parade will be held tonight at the Coliseum and is sponsored by Suky. A huge pep rally will take place before with cheerleaders, the co-captains of the team and several speakers on the agenda for helping to make it one of the best student turnouts they have had this year.

Jokl Writes Article On Heart Strain

"The assertion that the heart of the child, the heart of the adolescent, the heart of the woman, and the heart of old people is vulnerable to the stress of exercise is wrong . . ." says Dr. Ernst Jokl, director of the Kentucky Rehabilitation Center, in an article published this month.

The article appeared in the November issue of the Journal of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The rehabilitation center is located at the UK Memorial Coliseum and supported by state and various health association funds.

In the writing "Advances in Physiology of Exercise—Part III. The Heart of the Athlete", Dr. Jokl further stated that the normal heart is invulnerable to the demands and stresses of physical exercise and athletic training.

The rehabilitation center recently received a grant from the Fayette County chapter of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children.

Commerce Honorary Elects New Members

Beta Gamma Sigma, national commerce honorary society, elected to membership recently four UK students. They are Olin E. Dunbar, Elynor Newman, Theda McKinney, all juniors, and Martha Bloom, 1955 graduate.

To be eligible for membership in Beta Gamma Sigma a student must be in the upper 10 per cent of the senior class in commerce, or in the upper three per cent of the junior class in commerce.

Officers recently elected are Miss Margaret Bell Humphries, president; R. D. McIntyre, vice president; and Wendell Beals, secretary-treasurer.

To those interested in advanced academic study while associated with important research and development in industry, Hughes offers two separate, practical programs:

HUGHES

COOPERATIVE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

FOR MASTER OF SCIENCE DEGREES

This program is designed to enable outstanding graduates in Electrical Engineering, Mechanical Engineering or Physics to obtain the Master of Science degree while acquiring experience in an industrial research and development environment. The program is comprised of full-time summer employment at Hughes under the guidance of experienced scientists and engineers, and part-time work at Hughes during the regular school year arranged to permit the student to maintain a half-time university schedule of graduate study.

Tuition, books and fees will be provided by Hughes. The income provided will enable the participant to enjoy a reasonable standard of living while pursuing his advanced studies. Travel allowances will be made to those living outside the area.

Applicants must be able to meet the entrance requirements for graduate study at the University of California at Los Angeles, the University of Southern California, or the University of Arizona. Because of the classified nature of the work at Hughes, applicants must be U. S. citizens for whom appropriate security clearance can be obtained. As many as 150 awards will be made.

Application forms and instructions may be obtained by writing to Committee for Graduate Study.

THE HOWARD HUGHES FELLOWSHIPS

IN SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

Eligible for these awards are U.S. citizens who have completed one year of graduate work in Engineering or Physics and who can qualify for graduate standing at the California Institute of Technology for study toward the degree of Doctor of Philosophy or post-doctoral work. Each fellowship covers a twelve-month period which includes a ten-week advanced development project carried out during the summer at Hughes Research & Development Laboratories, followed by a full-time program of study and research at California Institute of Technology.

Each appointment provides a cash award of not less than $2,000, a salary of not less than $2,500, plus $1,500 for tuition and research expenses. In case of financial responsibilities that might preclude participation in the program, suitable adjustment may be made. Moving and transportation expenses are provided for those living outside of Southern California.

For application forms and complete information, address correspondence to the Howard Hughes Fellowship Committee.

OFFICE OF SCIENTIFIC STAFF RELATIONS

Around The Turntable

By JOHN ALEXANDER

They borrowed one from Arturo Toscanini, they did! Then they put him in an Air Force Band, to work under a gent named Miller. We're speaking, of course, of George Ockner, first violinist with the Glenn Miller Air Force Band, who bespeaks the quality of that organization.

The outstanding dance band of all-time, many experts agree—and the album is of the same quality. But how could either miss, featuring such side-men as Ray McKinley, Jim Priddy, Mel Powell, Jerry Gray, Peanuts Hucko, Carmen Mastren, with the vocals ably handled by Johnny Desmond, referred to as "The Creamer," and the Crew Chiefs.

The music is taken from the NBC series, "I Sustain the Wings," a weekly broadcast featuring this top-notch organization.

Perhaps a word about this group is in order. It is almost double the size of Miller's original dance band. The most outstanding addition is that of a string section, which, as one good listen will prove, is an added attraction, rather than a handicap.

With the strings furnishing a full background (and at times a beautiful lead) the sweet tunes are even sweeter, and the swiny ones want to leap off the record.

And speaking of the music in the album, there are memories in store for many: "What Do You Do In The Infantry?", "The G.I. Jive," "Peggy, The Pin-up Girl," "Mission to Moscow," "I'll Be Around," "Poinciana," "I Love You," "Begin the Beguine," "Speak Low," and the evergreen "St. Louis Blues March."

The last selection mentioned above, "St. Louis Blues March," is the one which caused a minor revolution in AAF marching music. The anecdote is told of an officer complaining to Miller about the changes, that his group in training for World War I marched fairly well to the tried and true Sousa marches. To which Miller's wit replied, "But Sir, you're not using the same planes you used in the last war, are you?"

For a brief look at the top ten tunes as reported by Billboard, here goes: "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing," 4 Aces; "Autumn Leaves," David Rose; "Yellow Rose," M. Miller; "Moments to Remember," 4 Lads; "Shifting Sands," Billy Vaughn; "Suddenly There's A Valley," Cogi Grant; "He," Al Hibbler; "Only You," Hilltoppers; "Seventeen," Boyd Bennett; "I Hear You Knockin'," Gale Storm.

All Kentucky Chorus To Be Held Here

The annual All Kentucky High School Chorus will be held on the University campus, it was announced by Miss Jean McConnell, head of the music division of the College of Adult and Extension Education. The chorus will be here Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Nov. 28, 29, and 30, with the final concert to be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Memorial Coliseum.

One thousand boys and girls from 75 Kentucky high schools will participate in the chorus which will be conducted by George Krueger, University of Indiana. Registration and try outs for the chorus will be held on Monday morning in the Coliseum, with the first rehearsal scheduled for 12:30 p.m. the same day.

The Central Kentucky Youth Symphony has been invited to participate on the Wednesday night program with the chorus. The program will be open to the public and University students. The organization of the chorus activity is under the sponsorship of the Kentucky Music Educators Association, assisted by the College of Adult and Extension Education.

Running concurrently with the chorus is the State Vocal Clinic for teachers of choral and vocal music. Dr. Irvin Cooper from Florida State University is the guest demonstrator and lecturer. He will work with three complete classrooms of junior high boys and girls, spending his time on problems concerned with the changing boy voice in the junior high music program. Junior high glee clubs from Lexington Junior, Bryan Station, Highland Junior, Lafayette Junior, Gallatin County, Butler

Junior, and Fern Creek will take part on the program. The clinic is scheduled for Nov. 29 and 30 in the Fine Arts Building.

In Friendly Hands?

Several Tennessee students journeyed to the UK campus earlier this week to see their loveable hound, Smoky, Smoky's abductors arranged a heavily guarded meeting. The UT students were gratified to see Smoky in such good condition. As for Smoky . . . he seemed indifferent upon seeing the "brave" Tennessee lads.

Pep Rally

the townspeople, the "K" Club is holding a drawing and giving away two free tickets to children under 15 years of age. The downtown stores have also promised to cooperate by putting up window displays and signs to arouse more enthusiasm. In addition, personal letters have been sent to all alumni from Helen King, Alumni Secretary, urging them to come for the weekend.

"Our aim is personal contact with every student," Miss Thompson said. "We have had 1,000 handbills, 150 posters, and 12,000 "Beat Tennessee" tags printed. We want every student to have one of these tags at both the pep rally and the game Saturday."

She added that altogether 15 organizations, including the "K" Club, the band, and Alma Magna Mater are helping out in trying to make this rally the biggest one ever. Their hope is, she said, to "make this rally so magnetic that the spirit will carry over into Saturday afternoon."

Marching 100 Ends Season Tomorrow

UK's "Marching 100" will make its last football field appearance of the season with the half-time show at tomorrow's game.

The band will form in the east end zone and play "1955 Fanfare". Then they will come downfield doing a number of intricate marching steps and playing "Pride of the Illini".

At midfield they will go into a series of precision drills and play "Robinson's Grand Entry". Then they will form a large "K" on the field, and go into a reverse version of the "K" while playing "On, On U of K". While still in this formation they will play the UK "Alma Mater".

Next the band will spell out "Music" and play a concert arrangement of "Tenderly" featuring Ray Rector of Lexington as trumpet soloist. At the conclusion of this number the band will present a dancing version of "September In The Rain".

To climax the show the "Marching 100" will execute the block countermarch and then go into the nationally famous "Marching Cats" and play "Dixie". The audience is then invited to join the band.

Press Club Accepted By Sigma Delta Chi

The Henry Watterson Press Club of the School of Journalism has been given permission to recharter as an undergraduate chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Permission was granted by the Executive Council of Sigma Delta Chi at the fraternity's national convention held in Chicago Nov. 9-12. The group will receive its charter in the near future.

Ellis Easterly, Bill Henry, and Ray Hornback were members of the Press Club who attended the convention at the Sheridan Hotel. Principal speaker at the convention was Herbert Brownell, Attorney General of the United States. Other speakers were Paul Smith, editor-in-chief of Collier's magazine, and Dr. Felix von Eckardt, West German Observer to the United Nations. Such subjects as "Can College Train Journalists" and "Freedom of the Press on the College Campus" were discussed.

The Henry Watterson Press Club began in 1914 when the Department of Journalism was established. In 1928 the Press Club became a charter member of Sigma Delta Chi. For nearly ten years the chapter was a vital part of journalistic instruction and activities at the University of Kentucky.

During the depression years the chapter requested an inactive status in the fraternity and resumed the original name, the Henry Watterson Press Club.

In the spring of 1955, Sigma Delta Chi and the Press Club were again closely associated when the Louisville Professional Chapter of the fraternity brought to the campus a series of 13 SDX lecturers. Since that time the Louisville chapter and the School of Journalism faculty have supported the Press Club members in their efforts to recharter.

Turkey Run Scheduled For Tuesday

The annual Cross-Country Turkey Run is scheduled for 11:45 a.m. Tuesday, Nov. 22.

The race will be run over a course that is approximately one and a half miles long. Both team and individual awards will be presented.

A team will consist of the first five men to cross the finish line for that organization with the lowest number of points.

A team may enter ten men. The winning team will be given a cup and the first place individual award will be a live turkey.

Last place prize is a goose egg.

Students who are not on probation, who have not received letters or numerals in track this year, been out for the cross country team, or who are not on athletic grant-in-aids may enter the competition.

All entries must have a physical examination before they can participate.

Suky Announces Plans For Keg

Maxine Thompson, president of Suky, student pep organization, today revealed a plan which has been submitted to the Tennessee student government body for the repainting of the traditional beer keg.

The plans are to paint over the oldest score on the barrel with the newest one. The old score would then be painted in a much smaller size on the end of the barrel, which are free of writing.

"Although they (Tennessee) have not answered," Miss Thompson said, "we feel that they will accept our proposal."

UK To Defend Speech Title

Kentucky will be defending champion at the Tau Kappa Alpha Regional Speech Tournament to be held at Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, Saturday, Nov. 19.

Two schools from Kentucky, Berea and UK, and 10 Ohio colleges will participate in the debates and discussion. Last year UK won 11 out of 12 debates.

The question to be debated is "Resolved that the non-agricultural industry should guarantee employees an annual wage."

Members of the team debating the affirmative side of the question are James Dundon, Charles English, Nancy Johnson, and Gayle Hood. Debaters for the negative side are Tom Schmidt, Eddie Lovelace, Robert Beale, and Marguerite Olofson.

Kickbacks

by TOM PRESTON
KERNEL SPORTS EDITOR

THEY open with Georgia Tech September 22 here in Lexington and don't have a rest until their season ends.

The Kentucky Wildcats certainly face a bumpy football schedule for 1956. Following the Tech tilt they play Ole Miss, Florida, Auburn, LSU, Georgia, Maryland, Vanderbilt, Xavier, and Tennessee. Can you spot one breather on the list?

Five of the games are on the road compared to this season's three contests away from Stoll Field.

HAPPY Chandler isn't going to show up for the pep rally in Memorial Coliseum at 6:45 this evening.

He first told UK officials that he would be available but has now sent word that there'll be no Happy. Lt. Governor elect, Harry Lee Waterfield will stand in for Mr. Chandler. Actually, Mr. Waterfield has more interest in this grid outfit than Happy. Bob Hardy is his son-in-law.

THE All-SEC backfield of 1955 hasn't been released yet but a bit of information kicked this way says that Eagle Day beat UK's Bob Hardy out of the quarterback slot. Vandy's Charlie Horton and Tennessee's John Majors also hit the star list. The fourth position, I couldn't find out.

MAJORS

EAGLE Day is great. There's little doubt about that. My opinion is though, that Eagle had a much better line in front of him than Hardy. If the tip is true the SEC has a fine representative for the signal calling slot. But if there was a slip-up on the information, let's say that Hardy would be a credit to any selection for a star quarterback. Charlie Horton needs no introduction to UK. He killed the Cats at Vandy. And we'll get a pretty good look at Majors this weekend. But Majors has another mate that rates attention. Fullback Tom Bronson is claimed to be a more powerful runner than Kentucky's Bob Dougherty.

BRONSON

HARRY Lancaster's frosh basketball team has a seven game schedule outlined for them. They meet Lees Junior College, Cumberland Junior College, and Campbellsville Junior College, all twice. Sue Bennett Junior College rounds out the group.

Lancaster claims that he doesn't have much of a yearling squad. Well, what can you expect from only four scholarship men? A few freshmen football players may add to the undermanned hoopsters. The outlook will probably take on a new light when the entire team gets into full swing.

Cindermen Seek More Enthusiasm

St. Joseph Prep School of Bardstown swept to the state high school cross-country championship Saturday.

With individual winner, Press Whelan, leading the way, the boys from Bardstown accumulated a low total of 56 points.

Defending champion Trimble County High was second and Valley High School of Jefferson County came in third.

The meet, the fifth annual one staged in Lexington, was sponsored by the Kentucky High School Athletic Association and conducted by the Spiked Shoe Society.

The Spiked Shoe Society is an organization whose sole purpose is the furthering of interest in track in Kentucky.

The UK chapter was granted its charter in 1948, and up until last year, had been one of the most active chapters in the SEC. Last season, due to a general lack of interest, the chapter became somewhat inactive.

This year, there has been a concerted effort on the part of society members and their faculty advisor, Track Coach Dr. Don Cash Seaton, to arouse interest in the Society again.

Dr. Seaton states the society has been directly responsible for two annual track meets in Kentucky.

One is the cross-country meet just concluded and the other is the Spiked Shoe Relays, held each spring in Lexington with state high schools competing.

The Spiked Shoe Society consists of four types of members.

Active membership is limited to varsity trackmen; the pledge class is composed of members of the freshman track team; associate membership is extended to students or others with an interest in track; and distinguished alumni are accorded the status of honorary members.

Officers of the Society, elected for the current school year are Charles Tye, president; Tom Jones, vice president; William Thomas, secretary; Jim Ingram, treasurer.

New pledges include Jasper Creech, Larry Pratt, Hugh Roberts, Guernsey Norman, Dave Franta, Roger Woeste, and Don Hopper.

Complete Dognap Story

plates was secured, and last minute briefings were held. Jump off time was scheduled for 1 a.m. Saturday, November 12. A cloak of complete secrecy was thrown over the project.

The men shook hands nervously with their friends and left. The trip down was uneventful. The car ran beautifully. At approximately 6 a.m. the raiders crossed the city limits of Knoxville. Here the die was cast, and the point of no return reached.

Briefly the plan called for two of the raiders to make the final assault on the dog's headquarters five miles south of Knoxville. All vital information was well known—name of pep club, name of president of pep club, name of school paper, and name of editor of paper. The Kentuckians also had a detailed map of the dog's hideout, and the name of the man who kept him, Rev. Willie Brooks.

One raider would pose as a member of the pep club, and the other as a photographer for the school paper. They had to convince Brooks that the club was presenting Smoky with a new sweater, and that they were there to take the dog back to school for an hour or so for the presentation.

Brooks was called and an appointment to see Smoky was set within the hour. When the raiders got to Brooks' farm, the caretaker became suspicious and checked the car. Tennessee license plates threw him off the scent. He told the raiders that he was afraid UK students would steal the dog.

The raiders agreed with Brooks and outlined a plan for protecting the dog from Kentuckians. Brooks delayed giving Smoky to the raiders. They became slightly frightened. Brooks could have easily tipped off Tennessee students and was delaying until UT boys got to the farm.

However, the whole plan had been committed to action. There was no turning back now. The raiders kept talking. One of them took a picture of Brooks with Smoky with the press camera brought along by the raiders. Finally Brooks gave up the dog, and raiders picked up the other three members of the party downtown and headed for Kentucky. Brooks did not miss Smoky until the raiders were safely back in the Bluegrass State.

This is the inside story on the dognapping.

Cats Need Last Half Punch To Rout State

By MARNEY BEARD

After a closely-contested first half, Kentucky's Wildcats erupted for four touchdowns after intermission to overpower Memphis State 41-7.

After going to the dressing room with only a 14-7 lead, Kentucky took the second half kickoff and drove 79 yards in 11 plays to register their third touchdown.

Bob Hardy, who completed five of six passes during this drive, tossed for the TD, a ten-yarder to Howie Schnellenberger.

Kentucky's first score resulted when Bill Wheeler recovered a Tiger fumble on their 19.

Hardy carried twice for a 15 yard total and a first down on the Memphis State four yard line.

On the next play, Hardy smashed over guard for the score and then converted the seventh point.

Memphis State retaliated immediately after the second quarter opened.

Cotton Clifford recovered a Bob Daugherty fumble on the Cats' 11 yard line. Three runs brought the ball to the one-foot line, and from there Bobby Brooks drove across for the score on his second try.

Bubba Leonard converted and the game was all tied up 7-7.

After a fumble recovery by Lou

Michaels on the Tiger 38, runs by Billy Mitchell and Dick Moloney took the ball down to the 24.

Hardy then lobbed a 22 yard pass to end Roger Pack, who was stopped on the two. The quarterback plunged for the score, his second of the day, kicked the PAT, and Kentucky led 14-7.

In the fourth quarter, Memphis State's undermanned squad tired visibly, and Kentucky struck for three touchdowns, with reserves leading the way.

Dick Moloney scored on the opening play of the fourth quarter from one yard out. Lou Michaels added the point, and Kentucky led 28-7.

Minutes later, Billy Mitchell returned a Memphis State punt 37 yards to their 17 yard line. Woody Herzog advanced the ball to the eight on two carries, and Mitchell went over from there, sweeping right end for the score.

Hughes kicked the extra point, his 11th without a miss this year, and the Cats had a commanding 35-7 advantage.

Oh, We Don't Give A Damn . . .

Anything Goes As UK Meets The Orangemen

By BILL HENRY

A vastly improved band of Volunteers, minus one hound dog, arrives here tomorrow to thrash it out with Kentucky, minus one stuffed Wildcat.

The Vols, as of old, invade Lexington with a team that features terrific blocking, crushing tackling, and zippy, elusive running.

Bowden Wyatt's lads in the orange and white are currently ranked 17th in the nation and sixth in the SEC for total team offense.

This year's outfit is led by a sensational tailback, John Majors.

He is currently the number two man in total offense for the SEC. The flashy number 45 owns a total of 879 yards—551 by passing and 328 in rushing.

Last week the highly touted Florida Gators were rudely clobbered as the Vols scored a comparatively easy 20-0 victory over them in their own back yard.

Most sports writers throughout the South had previously predicted a Florida conquest.

This stunning victory was in the old Vol tradition of win the big one.

The Orange and White came out of the Florida tilt in fairly good physical condition.

The main injury was to first-string center Lamar Leachman. He suffered a twisted knee in the Gator game but was released Tuesday from the infirmary.

However, team trainer Mickey O'Brien said he was on the "doubtful list" for the UK game.

O'Brien added that if sophomore center Dave Stottlemeyer continues to improve, he has an excellent chance of playing this week.

Stottlemeyer's knee was hurt three weeks ago against North Carolina.

Two injured Vols that have previously been out, but are back in the lineup, are tackle Charlie Kader and end Landon Darty.

In an attempt to bottle up the broken field running of Majors, the Wildcats spent considerable time yesterday working on kickoff returns.

The drills were designed especially to break up any type of long run on a punt or kickoff.

Although the Wildcats rank high in the nation on pass defense and Tennessee has not thrown the ball often this fall the defensive unit also has spent considerable work on pass defense.

Last week Tennessee threw the pigskin only six times but hit on three, one of them going for a touchdown.

Throughout the entire week the Vols have gone through full scale drills sharpening their offensive punch.

Coach Wyatt also worked his lads on defensive fundamentals and pass defense in long after-nessee its first victory over the dark sessions aimed at giving Ten- Blue and White since 1951.

Wild Activities Set Stage For Saturday

By TOM PRESTON
Kernel Sports Editor

Snow for Saturday's game certainly would climax one week of hectic and nerve-racking experiences.

Since a small band of Deltas slipped into Tennessee and whisked away the Vol mascot there hasn't been a peaceful minute on either school's campus.

Retaliation by Tennessee was swift when the Vols came to UK in hopes of taking Smoky home with them. All they got was a stuffed bobcat.

Head shaving by Volunteer supporters on three UK students last Tuesday night kept the tension on an up-grade, especially when a six man, orange capped party from southern way was intercepted by an SAE scouting corp the following night.

Bob Smith, driver of the Tennessee car, said that he and his buddies were visiting Kentucky on a strictly personal nature with the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity. Smith added that his Pi Kap fraternity at UT was in a battle with another UT frat and they were hoping to join with the Pi Kaps at UK for a "mission" against the rival organization when some of their members come up for the UK-UT game.

A gang of from 200-300 UK students couldn't see that side of the story though. They wanted the UT students scalps just as the Vols took from UK's poor mistreated survivors of the Tuesday war. Lexington police arrived at the scene (the Sigma Chi house) but stayed in the background letting the excited, blood thirsty UK mob have their fun. Nothing at that time got out of hand.

Finally, the shaking and shivering Tennessee lads were taken to the Pi Kap house on fraternity row, where the population increased. Dean Martin was called in to handle the situation. Calm and collected, Martin surveyed the course and set forth his plan in an upstairs bedroom of the frat house.

Meanwhile, downstairs, UK students were beginning to feel slighted. Only a few were able to witness the upstairs episode and many below sought action. They wanted K's cut into the intruders' hair. Dean Martin said, "I am going to uphold their right of personal privacy." He would not allow the hair to be cut.

During the upstairs caucus, someone pulled a master light switch. Finally, under law protection the Vol backers were taken to the Police station.

Then, to ruin a great night of school fun, spirit, and pep, some jokers made a stupid move. They painted Martin's car, poured oil paint on the UT auto, and fouled up the engine.

Seems like someone should feel mighty low.

PKT, CE's Begin Defense Of Crown In I-M Cage Play

By SCOOP WHITE

PKT again looks like the team to beat in Intramural basketball as the defending champions easily captured their first two games over ASP 56-20 and DTD 44-23.

Gene Neff led the PKT attack against ASP with 21 points. He was closely followed by Joe Bondurant, who had 17. PKT's romp over DTD was also headed by Neff with 17 points. Wes Johnson was second high scorer with 12.

PKT has captured the fraternity championship the last two years. Civil Engineers, last year's independent champs, started their season off with a 37-29 victory over BSU II. Stephen Logan scored 13 points for CE, but had to relinquish high scoring honors to Phil Phillips of BSU, who tallied 18.

KA showed good teamwork as they opened their season with a 39-26 win over last year's fraternity runner-up, AGR. Jim Flynn led the winners with 17 points.

SAE, after a slow start, showed good potential in defeating FH 49-35. Bennie Coffman, Don Frazier, and Don Crutcher scored 18, 15, and 14 points respectively for SAE.

PSK pulled one out of the fire by edging DTD 26-24 in a thriller. Bill White's 12 points gave SX an easy 43-26 victory over PKA. In their second game, SX barely squeezed by PSK, 28-24. Dwight Price tallied 11 for SX.

SN, led by Ray Leist, handed KS a 34-24 loss. Leist tallied 10 points. Wendell Cherry scored 12 for KS.

PDT split in their two games this week. They opened with a 37-30 win over TRI. Gerald Denney led PDT with 12 points.

LXA handed PDT their initial loss by winning 35-30 with Otto and John Gartin both scoring nine points to lead LXA. John Bunting scored 11 for PDT.

AGR broke into the win column by defeating ATO 53-32. SPE and FH won forfeits over the Barristers, eliminating them from further competition. PKA won by forfeit over ASP.

Independent Cats showed sharp ball-handling by easily capturing two games this week. They scored their initial victory over Mechanical Engineers 47-40. Jerry Rexroat's 13 points led the Cats. They again used good teamwork as an advantage in their 49-29 victory over Dorm I.

Clifton Cats, last year's independent runner-up, defeated BSU I, 49-21 and YMCA, 35-28. In the BSU I game T. T. Evans with 21 and Dave Cousins with 11 led the Cats. Cousins' 12 points was high for the Cats against YMCA.

Sharpshooters played like their name indicates in romping over Basement Hy-Jacks, 30-23. They registered their second victory by defeating YMCA, 36-31. Stan Lea and Tom Hampton both had 12 points for the Sharpshooters.

Canterbury scored their second and third wins over BSU III, 35-26 and Newman Club II, 45-22. Marvin Pilketon led Electrical Engineers to wins over Basement Hy-Jacks, 25-23 and Dorm II, 41-30. He tallied 16 against the Hy-Jacks and 18 against Dorm II. Dorm I edged Newman Club II, 29-28 with Bert Johnson's 11 points leading the way. Cool HA's captured victory No. 2 when they easily won over the Freshman AC, 42-24. Newman Club I won two games to make their record stand 3-0.

Doctor Eaton Named Distinguished Professor

Dr. Clement Eaton, history professor, was selected "Distinguished Professor of the Year" recently by faculty members of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Eaton is the 12th member of the college to receive the award since it was established in 1944 as a means of recognizing outstanding academic achievement.

Faculty members winning this honor are given a semester free of teaching duties to conduct research of their own choosing and to prepare the annual Arts and Sciences lecture.

Eligible for the award are faculty members in the College of Arts and Sciences who hold the rank of assistant professor or higher. Each year the choice is made by secret vote of the faculty.

Dr. Eaton will deliver the Arts and Sciences lecture next spring at the University and it is expected that he will discuss some phase of the South, a subject on which he is now doing research.

He is among specialists in various fields being employed to re-write the entire history of the United States in the New American Statesman series. His work will be one of approximately 30 volumes in the series, which supersedes the Old American Bushnell Series, edited by Albert Bushnell Hart and published about 50 years ago.

Dr. Eaton is currently writing a life of Henry Clay which will be published next year. It will be one of the volumes in the Library of American Biography.

Earlier this year, Dr. Eaton was elected president of the newly-formed Tennessee-Kentucky chapter of the American Studies Association. The association is aimed at the integration of different disciplines of learning such as history, literature, architecture, painting, economics, and philosophy.

He was winner of the Sheldon Traveling Fellowship in Europe from Harvard University, 1928; Guggenheim Traveling Fellowship, 1945-46, and Duke University Press award of $1,500 for the best manuscript in American social history, 1938. This manuscript was published in 1940 as "Freedom of Thought in the Old South."

DR. CLEMENT EATON

His teaching experience includes 13 years as professor and head of the Department of History at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa. Prior to that time he taught for brief periods at Whitman College, Harvard University, and Clark University. He has been a member of the UK faculty since 1946.

A native of Winston-Salem, N. C., the distinguished professor holds both A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of North Carolina. He received the Ph.D. degree from Harvard in 1929.

Social Science Adops Reading Requirements

"Patterns of Culture", by Ruth Bededict, has recently been adopted as an extra reading requirement by the Social Science Division.

At a recent meeting, the division chose this as the first book in a series that will bridge the various social sciences. Dr. F. J. Essene, anthropology, reviewed the subject matter before the group.

Next semester another book will be chosen for courses that meet the lower level requirements.

Then And Now

Maj. Donald D. Braden, of Los Angeles, Calif., has been assigned to the staff of the department of history at the United States Air Force Academy.

Major Braden holds the A.B. degree from UK, earned in 1932, and the M.A., received in 1933, and is a native of New York. He holds the Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Southern California and has done post-doctoral work at Claremont Graduate School at the School of Foreign Service in Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.

Maj. Braden was a member of the social science department at John Muir College, Pasadena, Calif., from 1947 to 1949. From 1949 to 1950 he was assistant professor of political science at Chico State College, Calif., and was director of counseling and guidance at Mt. San Antonio College, Pomona, Calif., from 1951 to 1952.

During World War II he saw service with the U.S. Army Air Forces, serving overseas in the Philippines, Guam and Hawaii. He was recalled to active duty in the Air Force during the Korean War, and was assigned to Intelligence, serving in this capacity on various bases and in Washington, D. C.

Maj. Braden is the author of several books and articles. He is a member of the American Political Science Association, the American Academy of Political Science and the American Association for the Advance of Science.

1950

Dr. William C. Simpson, who holds the M.S. degree from the University of Kentucky, has been named assistant professor of physics at Georgia Institute of Technology. His home is at Chateau, Ala.

1952

Miss Nell Sue Cheatham, of Pine Grove, Ky., who holds the M.S. degree from UK, has been named instructor in mathematics and physics at Morehead State College.

1953

PFC Victor C. Jones, of Maysville, a 1953 graduate of UK, is stationed with the 65th Engineering Battalion of the U.S. Army in Hawaii, and has been the surveyor on a new road at Hilo.

1954

William Glenn Bullock, of Mayfield, Ky., a 1954 graduate in civil engineering at UK, has been appointed an instructor in engineering drawing at Georgia Institute of Technology.

1955

Mrs. Anne L. Hale, of Louisville, who holds the M.S. degree from UK, obtained in 1955, has been named resident instructor in home management at Morehead State College this year.

John Marshall Prewitt, LL.B. '55, of Mt. Sterling, has opened law offices in his home town.

Mr. Prewitt was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1944 and served on a destroyer in the Pacific during World War II. In 1949 he was graduated from the submarine school at New London, Conn., and was on a sub until 1951 when he was appointed Naval ROTC instructor at the University of Louisville. In 1953 he resigned his commission as lieutenant, senior grade, and entered the UK Law School from which he was graduated last June.

We never permit our son to do as he pleases. He just does it without our permission.

Robert Frost New Party To Lecture To Form

Robert Frost, four time Pulitzer Prize winner for poetry, will read his poems and present a lecture at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 22 in Memorial Hall. The lecturer is being brought to the UK campus by the English Department.

Frost won the Pulitzer Prize in Poetry in 1924, 1931, 1937, and 1943. Some of his best known poems are "Death of the Hired Man", "Birches", and "Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening".

Dr. W. S. Ward, of the English Department said that without doubt, Frost is regarded as one of the most outstanding poets of our time.

The formation of a third party to compete for representation in SGA has been announced by a group of UK students this week. The joint chairman of the new party, The Progressive Student Party, are Al Brooks, Harvey Hall, and Phil Ransdell.

In a letter to the Kernel this week, the chairmen said, "Due to past inefficiency and ineptness of the SGA, a number of University students feel that the formation of a third party, composed of interested and progressive members, would be to the benefit of the student body as a whole."

The Progressive Student Party will enter a slate of candidates and have a party platform in the SGA election to be held.
