LETTER OF APPRECIATION FOR THE KENTUCKY REVIEW

Mr. Bradley O. Grissom
Editor, The Kentucky Review
University of Kentucky Library
Lexington, Ky. 40506

Dear Mr. Grissom:

Some months ago this Library acquired, at my suggestion, a copy of The Kentucky Review, IV, no. 1 (1982), that is devoted to the W. Hugh Peal Collection. Not having been notified of its arrival, I did not have an opportunity to examine it until today. The issue is such a valuable bibliographical reference tool that I wish to buy a personal copy of it, and I enclose my check for $3.50 to that end.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely,

Donald H. Reiman, Editor

LIL BLACKBURN COMPLETES UK STAFF TRAINING PROGRAM

Lil Blackburn has completed the University of Kentucky staff training program "What Every Supervisor Should Know," sponsored by the Personnel Division, Lexington Campus. This program involved over 60 hours of classroom instruction and was designed to increase skills in managing people, to develop a positive and proper attitude, and to help the participants effectively perform their jobs.

NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL LIBRARY TO SPONSOR WORKSHOP AT UK

The National Agricultural Library will sponsor several intensive level AGRICOLA, CRIS, and CALS workshops in 1983. These workshops are designed to train librarians and information specialists in the efficient use of NAL information systems and services. One of the workshops will be held at the University of Kentucky, August 1-5, 1983.

Each workshop will emphasize online access to the CRIS (current research information) and AGRICOLA (agricultural literature) data bases, as well as the provision of CALS (current awareness service). The seminars are designed to provide an overview of NAL services and an introduction to information retrieval through the AGRICOLA, CRIS, and CALS.

Twenty persons will be accepted for each workshop, with preference being given to individuals within the USDA community, the land-grant or agricultural universities, and other cooperating institutions. Individuals wishing to attend the seminar should submit their request on letterhead stationery to: Educational Resources Staff, National Agricultural Library, Room 1402, ATTN: D. Hoyt, Beltsville, Maryland 20705. Requests for enrollment must be received at least 2 weeks prior to the workshop date.

NEW JOURNAL SOLICITING MANUSCRIPTS

Wilson Luquire, Editor-in-Chief of RESIN, Resource Sharing and Information Networks, invites you to submit articles for publication in this new journal. The editorial address is 2737 Krishire Drive, Charleston, Illinois 61920, phone (217) 345-5140.

INFORMATION FROM THE PRESERVATION COMMITTEE

Fluctuations in temperatures are undesirable because many library materials are made up of several component materials that absorb heat and expand at different rates.

Heat is a treacherous agent of deterioration. We cannot see library materials expanding and contracting nor can we see chemical reactions occurring. The results, however, are all too obvious--brittle paper, cracked and warped leather bindings and flaking photographic images.

The rate of deterioration can significantly be reduced by lowering temperatures. Library materials stored at 70° F will deteriorate approximately half as fast as library materials stored at 79° F.
