VOLUME XL

Orchestra To Present This Sunday's Musicales

Program Is Set For Memorial Hall

By Joe Cole
The University Symphony Orchestra will present the next to closing performance in the music department series of musicales Sunday at 4 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

The second part of the program will feature Kenneth Wright, instructor in the music department and concertmaster of the orchestra, in a concerto for violin and orchestra.

The first part of this Sunday's presentation will be the "Overture to Coriolan," Opus 62 by Beethoven. The overture was written in 1807, not for Shakespeare's tragedy of which it is reminiscent in some parts, but for a drama of an obscure poet, Heinrich von Collin. Beethoven used elements of the play in building up his monumental conception of the stern Roman general.

Wright is soloist
Part two will consist of "Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in D minor, No. 2, Opus 22" by the Polish violinist, Wieniawski. The concerto is divided into two movements which are "Romanic; Adante non troppo," and "Allegro; moderato." It is Zingars, Mr. Wright will play the solo violin part.

"Extricate from Act IV of 'Khorvantschina' by Moussorgsky will be offered in part three of the program. "Khorvantschina" is a "musical drama" whose here is the Russian people. Left unfinished when Moussorgsky died, it was completed by Rimsky-Korsakov, who also orchestrated the whole piece.

"Overture in the Major of Comus" by Arne will be given in Part IV. This is the music for Dr. Elroy's adaptation of "Milton's 'Comus'" which was produced at the DeLo's Theatre in England.
Part V of the presentation will consist of "Second Indian Suite, Opus 46" by MacDowell. Only the fourth portion of the suite, "Dirge," will be given. The thematic material of the suite has been suggested for the most part by melodies of the North American Indian. The "Dirge" is a known woman's mourning song. MacDowell was an American composer who wrote during the latter part of the nineteenth century. He was a composer, teacher, and concert pianist.

Glee Club fishes
Instead of a glee wallpaper for the set walls a special stenciled design will be used. In contrast to the contents of the set will include a grandstand valued at $500.

The last performance by University musicians will be the Youth Society orchestra, under the direction of Howard Pence, in an after-dinner concert April 30.

Best Book Design Exhibit Is On Display In Library

Three books designed by University of Kentucky graduates P. J. Conkright are featured in the "Fifty Best Books of 1949" exhibit now on display in the lower foyer of the Margaret I. King Library.
The exhibit, selected by a jury of outstanding men in the book-printing and designing world, has been touring university and city libraries for the past year.
Sponsored by the American Institute of Graphic Arts under the auspices of the American Federation of Art, the exhibit consists of books judged the best-designed, best-printed, and best-manufactured.

Making up the selection jury were book-designer Merle Armitage, chairman; E. M. Kuffer, artist and designer; Gyorgy Kepes, professor of visual design at Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and James Hendrickson, designer, typographer, and printer.
In selecting the exhibit, the jury followed the principal of judging the entries on their merits as media of communication. Taken into consideration were these factors: type centered and design, choice of paper and type face, workmanship, legibility and attractiveness of page use of color and illustration, if any, and finally, the register and impression. Out of 725 entries 10 were chosen.

Books included
Item 26, "The British Post Office, 1840-1940," by R. S. Sayers, and item 31, "Shelley's Major Poems," were designed by Mr. Conkright, Class of '28, with Helen Van Zandt. Mr. Conkright is now head of the Princeton University Press.
Also shown with the exhibit is a collection of typographical broadsheet designs by Miss Conkright, who is a member of the typographers whose work is represented in the exhibit.
The exhibit will remain open to the public through April 23.

Martha Swafford, president of Mortar Board, said that the cancer campaign is educational as well as financial. Doctors will talk at Jewell, Boyd, and Patterson Hall house meetings. Informational pamphlets

'Two Blind Mice,' Satire On Government, Opens At Guignol Theater Monday Night

By Bill Mansfield
"Two Blind Mice," a political satire on Washington bureaucracy, will be presented by the Guignol Theater Monday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

The play, which tells of two elderly ladies named Letitia and Cecylia, who are running a supposedly liquidated government bureau called the Office of Medical Herbs, will have a set in keeping with its many puns.
Even the problem of finding something to fill the rows of herb jars with such tags as "plurisy root," "peppesava, and camomille failed to stop the stage managers who filled every jar with something different. The jars contain almost everything that even faintly resembles a herb, gravel, and lespedeza donated by the agriculture department.

Design Is Stenciled
Instead of a glee wallpaper for the set walls a special stenciled design will be used. In contrast to the contents of the set will include a grandstand valued at $500.

Music Festival Trials Of Barter Players Were Many In Early Days

By Holt Mastin
Friday and Saturday nights but tramped neighboring towns where furniture, silver, tin, and other items were traded for food and shelter.

For 10 years before the war, Robert Porterfield's Barter Theater at Abingdon, Virginia, where the practice of produce exchange held sway, won fame as something of an entertainment freak. It got its start in a most unusual way.
During the height of the depression in 1932, Robert Porterfield was just another actor in New York without money or a job. Times Square faced its worst season in history. He gathered a group of 21 actors, who followed him more from hunger than courage, and led them across the Mason and Dixon Line to the town of Abingdon, first town established west of the Alleghenies.

TIBB'S FLOODERS
By Elizabeth Peck

"Tibb's Flooders" is about a thirteen-year-old mountain girl who wanted to do her part in helping the refugees of the terrible 1937 flood that ravaged the Ohio River valley.

In the mythical Kentucky mountain hamlet of Hubben, the residents had heard of the flood, but no one dreamed that their village would be host to 20 homeless Louisianians.

That is, not until this little girl named Tibb pleaded her cause to the Red Cross pertaining to Hubben's willingness to aid the homeless.

Everyone prepared for the arrival of the 20 people in a most hospitable way. But... it was learned that they were all Negroes. In the mountain regions of Kentucky there is in some instances a prejudice toward the colored. Hubben was none the different. However, with the arrival and stay of the 20 colored flood victims Hubben learned a new lesson in life.

The remainder of the story deals with the life of the flooders and the experiences they had.

Elizabeth Peck, a teacher at Berea College since 1912, handles this story in all the ray-checked reality of the Kentucky hills. Its simplicity is stirring and refreshing. It depicts life at it really was in the Kentucky mountains during the '30's. The old placed beside the new and mountain legends and sayings from past generations are unfolded in a humorous and relaxing manner.

This is the kind of book that readers will take a personal interest in. The characters become alive.

The 224-page book was published in 1941 by the House of Field, Inc., of New York. The selection of type gives it excellent readability.

All Campus Sing Draws Plaudits From ten Hour

We'd like to lift an excerpt from the open letter printed elsewhere on this page. Dean Marten ten Hour, Dean of the University of Alabama and national president of Omicron Delta Kappa, wrote:

"The campus sing at which I had the honor and pleasure of officiating as one of the three judges was one of the most stirring and satisfying affairs that I ever attended in the realm of extracurricular activities. The performance of the groups astonished me. The enthusiasm and the spirit of participants and audience demonstrated that everybody had his heart in what he was doing. The University of Kentucky and particularly the participating groups and sponsoring organizations deserve warm congratulations on this splendid project."

Dean ten Hour is one of many persons who have, to our knowledge, been very pleasantly surprised by our All-Campus Sing. Having been rather active last year in helping to obtain and entertain judges for the event, we heard many such comments.

The calibre of the judges has been kept on a very high level. Persons of advanced musical training, having served once, are always more than willing to return if possible. Practically every one of them is, as was Dean ten Hour, astonished at the excellent performances.

This activity is one of which every student in the University can justly be proud. It is completely organized and participated in by students. It is one of a few strictly student activities wholeheartedly entered into by the students.

We'd like to join Dean ten Hour in hearty congratulations to all participating groups and to the sponsoring organizations.

Improvement Is Needed For Prosperity In Bolivia

(This is the second of three articles written by a U.S. student, Manuel Mercedes F., about his native land of Bolivia—Ed.)

Until prosperity and stability is assured, Bolivia will always be in the hands of a few individuals who are usually unscrupulous and uneducated. Internal improvement is our first necessity and it will be almost an impossibility for others who can afford it.

Bolivia's agricultural future is of limitless possibilities. In the Orinoco where 150,000 square miles of arable land is in the hands of small and poor farmers and most of them are uneducated, production in large scale is assured, and only 2% of this land is cultivated.

Education and social standing is also a matter of study and development.

Tharja are excellent for eating, but the raising, increasing agricultural knowledge and creation of newer farming areas. Oil production is also assured in the Southern part of the country. Millions of barrels per actual condition have already been discovered and possibly waiting to be refined and used.

Bolivia's largest metal production goes along without the co-operation of others who can afford it.

The diversification and amplification of her industry is vital in most of its aspects and most of them are in their infancy.

Education and social standing is also a matter of study and development.

Loris F. DeRosier was named as the winner of last week's Letters to the Editor contest by the Kernel editorial board. His letter, "Comments on Progress," was judged the most interesting of the three.

Also there must be at least two student letters published in this issue to be eligible for the Chesterfield prize.

Open Letter
Dear President Donovan:
I want to say something more officially and formally than I said to you informally at the Omicron Delta Kappa luncheon on Saturday. The campus sing at which I had the honor and pleasure of officiating as one of the three judges was one of the most stirring and satisfying affairs that I ever attended in the realm of extracurricular activities. The performance of the groups astonished me. The enthusiasm and the spirit of participants and audience demonstrated that everybody had his heart in what he was doing. The University of Kentucky and particularly the participating groups and sponsoring organizations deserve warm congratulations on this splendid project.

This is also to thank you for your personal interest in the Province Conference and the time you took to give us a personally conducted tour of your magnificent coliseum-auditorium. I came away envious most fundamental is the sense of responsibility that professionals owe to society in general, and on the other side, the determination to change the methods and antiquated principles of our forefathers to the modern.

Comedy And Two Dramas Offered At Movie Houses

There is not much more to be said for a picture that has received such wide acclaim as "All The King's Men." This is truly one of the all-time greats in Hollywood production. It has received accolades from top movie critics and reviewers from coast to coast and was the recipient of two Academy Awards. The screen seems to have found the power of the novel, which was written by Kentuckian Robert Penn Warren, and which won the Pulitzer Prize in 1947.

This is the story of corrupt politics and a crude, ruthless politician who stops at nothing to please his vanity. It is acknowledged to be the story of Huey Long, and the beauty of the story lies in its success in capturing such a brutal aspect of life and making it seem real and plausible.

Broderick Crawford is outstanding in his role as Willie Stark, the political boss. He is backed by an excellent supporting cast headed by Joanne Dru, John Ireland, John Derek, and Mercedes McCambridge.

"Excellent" seems to be the precise word for this masterpiece which

CONN-COX 'UNS

By Earl Conn and Bob Cox

What with the work rapidly piling up, etc., there doesn't appear to be too much to laugh about. However, the sun is usually shining, the birds are usually singing these days, and all of that kind of stuff, so here we go again with our weekly effort. So don't stop us if you've heard this one—

A romantic couple were in the throes of silence as they strolled smoothly along an enchanted woodland path, when the young girl broke the spell:

"John, dear," she asked softly, "can you drive with one hand?"

"Yes, my sweet," he cooed in ecstacy of anticipation.

"Then," said the lovely one, "would't better wipe your nose. It's raining."

Joe: I see by the paper that nine professors and a student were killed in a car wreck last night.

Moe: Poor chap.

"Really, you should wait more than four months after your husband's death before marrying again."

"But you forget, Reverend, that he was paralyzed for eight months before he died."

She: I only look an hour to read this book. Someone underlined all of the good parts.

Doc: I'd like to try that dress on in the window.

Clark: I'm sorry, miss, but you'll have to use the dressing room.

The professor who is late is rare—in fact, he's in a class all by himself.

If the entire staff of the Kentucky Kernel were laid end to end, a steam roller would come in handy.

A newly married couple were sleeping soundly when the wife suddenly awoke in her sleep, "Good Lord, my husband."

The husband, waking suddenly, jumped out the window.

The dam burst and the raging flood water forced the town's people to flee to the hills. As they gazed at their homes, they saw a straw hat float downstream for 50 feet, and then flow slowly upstream against the raging water. After 50 feet, it turned and moved downstream again.

"Say," said one of the townsfolk, "what makes that hat act so funny?"

"Well, I ain't sure," a youth spoke up, "but last night I heard Grandpa swear—come hell or high water he was gonna' mow the lawn today."

Her form—petite
Her smile—so sweet
Her lips—just made for kissing
Her style—for grace
Her pretty face—a mask
The brain is missing.

C. M. Patrick: My girl says that if I don't give up poker, she'll quit me.

Bobby: That's tough.

C. M.: Yeh, I'll miss her.

SAB: Do you know what good chess fun is?

PDT: No, what good is it?

Employer: You're making big pay for a man with no experience.

1950 Graduate: Well, the work is harder when you don't know anything about it.

Monkeys have such a good time because there are so many of them, and there's so many of them because they have such a good time.

They call themselves the Sluggers and maybe they know what they're talking about. People will string along with them until they know they were around a basketball court.

Their Bill Spivey, Bobby Watson, and company were talking about. They're now a softball team in the intramural league and they're out to do the other teams in softball what CCNY did to them in basketball.

The Sluggers roster reads almost like the Big Blue basketball roster will read next year. At first base is big Bill Spivey, who scratches double with the bases loaded was a decisive factor in the Sluggers victory. On around the horn are Arlan King, second base, who homered in the contest, Bobby Watson at shortstop and Len Pearson looking down the hot corner. Pearson had not played softball until he came to UK. He gained most of his experience with Alex Gross's barnstorming softball aggregation last summer.

Ramesy All-Stater Lindie Castle, Dick Bowman, Roger Layne, and Lou Taboropolis are patrolling the outfield. Lanky Lou made a running catch in the Arlyle game which had the fans agog. Behind the plate is Frank Ramsey, an all-state man in baseball while at Madisonville High School. Ramsey is catching the slants of Shesley Linville, whose pitching arm may determine the final standing of the team. Dick Pickens and Brad Morgan are also on the squad. The Sluggers' Arlyle contest was one of several close games this week. The winners stuffed out a rally in the last inning to hold their lead. Joe Spuchek and Donald Dick were the battery for the Arlyles.

Other Games Delta Chi beat the Phi Deltis, 6-5, and Pi Kappa Alpha beat Phi Kappa Tau, 14-13 in two of the closest games in the fraternity division.

Miller's four-hit pitching and Jim Darr's two hits in three turns at the platter led the Delta Chis to their conquest of the Phi Deltis. Kenny Scroggins and Bob Scherer

Annual Blue-White Spring Grid Skirmish Set For 8 p.m. Tonight

The annual Blue-White intrasquad spring football game is scheduled to be played tonight under the Star Field lights.

Admission for the tilt has been set at $1 for adults and 50 cents for UK students as well as all other colleges, high school and grade school students in the local area.

Bob Gain, ace tackle, will serve as honorary captain for the Blue team, while Shorty Jamerson heads the White squad. Neither of these two griders was on the moneymen for the players will consist only of freshmen and sophomores.

The varsity members from last season have all been excused for this tilt.

Many of the 1949 letter winners are now busy lending assistance to the baseball and track teams as well as other spring sports.

Blues' Bob Gain should rate a slight favor if for no other reason than the fact that this team has two prominent quarterbacks in the local area.

In addition, the Blues will have in the line Gene Donaldson, of East Chicago, Ind., who is rated as a tremendous prospect. Other standouts in Chicago, Ind., who is rated as a tremendous prospect. Other standouts in Chicago, Ind., who is rated as a tremendous prospect.

King Top Prospect Spearheading the White squad is 260-pound Don King, of Turtle Creek, Penn. King, a transfer from Clemson, is said to be potentially an All-American because of his natural ability and physical equipment.

King, along with Donaldson, are rated as two linemen to watch in '50. One, or both, might develop into a big star during the coming season.

In the line with King will be Center Frank Fuller, of Dobois, Penn., and a pair of tough tackles, Don Smith, of Beloit, Wis., and Don Weaver, of Pleasantville, N. J.

The quarterbacks are Herbie Hunt, Mayfield, and Larry Jones, Louisville. The latter was formerly a halfback and was recently converted into a signal-caller so he is a question-mark.

Pacing the backfield for the Whites will probably be John Brainerd, of New Britain, Conn., and Bill Daniels, speedster from Paragould, Ark.

Oddly enough, the roster lists one player from here in Lexington, namely Ralph Taylor. Not since the war years has a local lad seen varsity service with the Wildcat gridgers.

Golfers Play At Tennessee; Lose To Vandy, Western Ky.

By Fred Lawson

The Kentucky golf team will be in Knoxville tomorrow where they will meet the Tennessee golfers. After this match they will move to Atlanta to meet the Georgia Tech golf team.

Then Tuesday they meet the Georgia linksmen in Athens. While they are in Athens they will participate in the SEC Golf Tournament April 27-28.

On their last Southern trip the Wildcats lost to Alabama 18-10-10. Kentucky's Bud Lewis and Marvin Lear lost to Gilbert Wesley and Bill Burton 9-0 in the first foursome.

Bill Baker and John Owens, Kentucky, defeated Al Jones and Bob Lakey 5-3-3 in the third foursome. And in the third Kentucky's Craig Wright and Ray Colton won over Linton Selman and Danny Jones 4-4.

Playing in near-freezing weather and snow flurries on Saturday, April 14, the Wildcats defeated Vanderbilt 20-8-4 on the Lexington Country Club course.

Marvin Lear led the Kentucky linksmen as he toured the Country Club course in 36-38 for a 74. Just two over par.

Ray Colton shot a 75, the second low score of the match. Colton's partner, Bud Lewis, shot a 78. John Owens and his opponent, Marshall Trammell, each shot 78's.

Kentucky won low ball, 21-16. First Foursome John Owens (K), 76 and Marshall Trammell (V) 78 tied 14-14.

Marvin Lear (K) 74, defeated Bob Leidy (V) 83, 3-0. Kentucky won low ball, 21-16.

Second Foursome Bud Lewis (K) 76, defeated John Griscomb (V) 78, 3-0. Ray Colton (K) 75, defeated Bryant Leggett (V) 80, 3-0.

Kentucky won low ball, 21-16. Third Foursome Craig Wright (K) 76, defeated Pete Robinson (V) 77, 2-1.

Jack Roundtree (V) 77, defeated Bill Baker (K) 77, 1-1. Kentucky won low ball, 21-16.

Last Saturday, April 15, John Owens's two-over-par round of 79, through extra training. Both instruction and participation are voluntary and some wonderful talent has been seen. WAA is planning the biggest project of its history here at UK this coming Saturday, a state-wide College Play Day fills the description. Seventeen colleges have been invited, representing every section of the state.

Action begins at 10:30 Saturday morning and will include a luncheon at the Student Union Building, a demonstration by Tau Sigma and an informal get-together after the games are completed late that afternoon.

Sports to be participated in during the day are basketball, volleyball, badminton, fencing, and tennis. Fhyl Kloeker, president of WAA, is in charge of the entire project.

Her chairman heads are as follows: Officials - Bob Husaker, Publicity - Bonnie Sharpy, Registration - Connie Weatherly; and Art - Brad Bradley and Chris Morris.

All the big plans and desired success would never have been possible without the patient guidance of WAA advisors, Miss Nancy Poe and Miss Cleo Pat Patatos, both members of the Women's Physical Education Department.

Best everyone get the swimming suit checked out from sunbathing and get set for April 26, the date set for the annual WAA swimming meet. Each organization wishing to enter this meet must have one practice before the day of the meet and each member of the team must have had a physical exam this year.

Athletic directors know the details and should make sure the requirements are fulfilled so that no eliminations will have to be made at the last minute due to some technicality.

Football Roster Includes 21 Players From Kentucky

By Ken Kahn

No less than 21 native Kentuckians will be among the two teams of talented newcomers on Coach Paul Bryant's 1950 Kentucky grid aggregation when they square off tonight in the annual Blue-White intra-squad football game.

Slated for 8 o'clock under the lights on Stoll Field, the traditionally-hard-fought public exhibition game between two evenly-matched squads will mark the final close of spring practice activities which have been under way since March 8.

The contest will be the only appearance of the Kentucky football team in a public game prior to the North Texas State engagement next Sept. 16.

A new rule of the Southeastern Conference prohibited the playing of exhibition games throughout the state as was inaugurated last spring, according to B. A. Shively, UK Athletic Director.

Answering the opening kickoff or reading themselves for important reserve action will be candidates from 12 locations in the Commonwealth. The delegation will be headed by four highly-regarded Louisville prospects—Harold (Bunky) Gruner, All-State back at Manual; Bill Johnson, sophomore guard showing up well in practice, along with freshman back Wallace Marshall. Coming from Mayfield are Herbie Hunt, sophomore quarterback, and two freshmen candidates—Cret Maternick, an end, and Jack Wright, guard.

The pride of Owensboro among the newcomers sure to see action will be sophomore fullback Tom Fillion, recently shifted to this position as an underdog. Louisville's "Wildcat" leading ground gainer Bill Leskovac, and Dave Owens, 215-pound sophomore tackle. Winchester contributes George Fishelle, six-foot sophomore end, and Carl Backner, 190-pound sophomore center.

Among the cities represented by one new candidate destined to bolster Kentucky's Orange Bowl veterans during next season's schedule are Morgantown, John Griggs, end; Barbourville, Calvin Smith, tackle; Madisonville, John Baldwin, tackle; Springfield, Bob Hayton, halfback; Danville, Jim Farley, fullback; Newport, Carl Dalley, back; and Hopkinsville, Doug Shimmell, end.

The complete roster for both teams in the intra-squad game, which will be open to the public and will mark the only public appearance of the Wildcats prior to the season's opener Sept. 16 with North Texas State, is as follows:

UK BASEBALL COACH

Baseballers Meet Centre Tomorrow; Defeat Vanderbilt Twice, 14-6, 2-1

By Bob Gorham

The Kentucky Wildcats bid for their sixth consecutive triumph of the season was stymied temporarily by the postponement of their game with the Centre Colonels, scheduled for Stoll Field this afternoon. But they will get another chance for No. 6 when they square the Colonels in a contest at Danville tomorrow afternoon.

The postponed contest will be played May 22 here on Stoll Field.

The Cats are currently riding the crest of a five-game winning streak. They opened their season by dropping a pair of close decisions to the Georgia Bulldogs, but since then they have topped Georgia Tech twice, Cincinnati, and Vanderbilt twice.

Right Fielder Jim Ryan continues to lead the team at the plate with a triple, 421 average. He has collected 14 hits in 33 times at bat, including two doubles and two doubles, and has driven in 11 runs.

Next in line in the hitting department are Infielders Johnny Slough, Humsey Yessin, and Walt Hirsch. Each have batted out eight hits, Slough and Yessin are stringing in at a .289 clip, while Hirsch has a .267 average.

The team batting average currently reads .262. They have batted out 66 hits in 262 times at bat, or an average of nearly 10 hits per till. These hits have been good for 54 runs, or an average of almost 8 runs per game.

Clip Vandy Twice

The Wildcats latest triumphs came at the expense of the Vanderbilt Commodores on April 14 and 15 at Nashville.

On Friday, the 14th, the Cats lashed out with a 16-hit assault on two Vandy hurlers, and raked up an easy 14-6 victory. They served up the game with a five-run outburst in the second inning, after posting a pair of markers in the opening frame. They added two in the sixth, three in the seventh, and two more in the eighth, while Bob Hatchett was holding the Commodores in check by scattering 10 hits along the route.

Humsey Yessin led the Blue and White at the plate with three hits, while Walt Hirsch, Jim Ryan, Tom Whisman and Jay Cummins had two each.

Ryan Scores Big Tally

Benny Zaranaka's triple down the left field line in the top of the ninth scored Jim Ryan with the winning run as Kentucky came from behind to edge out the Commodores in the second game, 2-1.

C. M. Newton and Earl Simmons staged a brilliant pitching duel for the first eight innings before Zaranaka came through with the winning blow.

Vandy took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a single and a triple, but Newton blanked the Commodores from then on out. Kentucky tied it up in the sixth on some nifty base running by Walt Hirsch, who took advantage of three errors to make the circuit of the bases.

First game:	R	H	E
Kentucky	250	602	230
Vandy	203	600	010
Batteries:	Hatchett and Cummins; Jewell, Holman (4) and Shaver, Donovan (6).

Second game:	R	H	E
Kentucky	600	091	07
Vandy	100	000	017
Batteries:	Newton and Cummins; Simmons and Shaver.

Fencing Facts

The UK fencers close out their fencing season tomorrow as they travel to Nashville, Tenn. to battle with the Commodores of Vanderbilt. Kentucky beat Vanderbilt in their match here on Feb. 18, by a score of 14-6.

Ful was the only weapon fenced as Vandy does not fence sabre or epee. The same thing will be true tomorrow. Six men will make the trip, leaving today.

The University of Louisville met Kentucky at Alumni Gym last Saturday in a gallant effort to avenge their earlier loss to the boys in blue, 194 to 71. The meet was fenced off without the services of two key Cardinals men who couldn't make the trip.

The final score was 14-3 with UK on top.

Captain Alan Solomon and Doug Brown led the bladesmen with three victories apiece in foil and Bob O'Nan added one more in the same weapon. Louisville only entered two men in the epee bouts and they lost two of the bouts to Sid Neal and one to Charles Mitchell. The sabre competition saw the two Kentucky fencers, Bob Southall and Dick Wohlstein, out fence their opponents by a score in bouts of 4-0. Each man won two bouts they fenced.

The Lexington Fencing Club met the Louisville V on Sunday afternoon at Louisville. The Lexington Fencing Club was represented by Jack Spratt, Kentucky Coach Scott Breckinridge and two ex-UK fencers George Christian and John Ford, who, until they were ruled ineligible this semester, fenced on the UK fencing team. The high point of the meet was the epee bout between Albert Wolf, national epee champion and George Christian. Christian bested Wolf by a score of three to one. The final score of the meet was 16-11 with Louisville walking off with the honors. This was the first bout for the Lexington Fencers.

Cats Face Marshall Today; Vandy Beats UK Here, 87-44

By Bob Gorham
The track team will be out to crash the victory column for the first time this season when it meets the Marshall College barriers in a dual meet on Stoll Field tomorrow afternoon.

With some good weather this past week, the Wildcat cindersmen have shown definite improvement in their times and should handle Marshall tomorrow without too much difficulty.

The first event is tentatively scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. The Cats suffered their second loss in three years to a veteran Yanderbilt Commodore squad by a 47-44 score last Saturday on Stoll Field. The Wildcats could not cope with the experience and depth of the Commodore team, and managed to win only two first places to Vandy's 12. They tied for first in the pole vault.

High scorer for the meet was Kentucky's Tony Dallas, who scored wins in the 120-yard high hurdles and the high jump, and placed second in the 200-yard hurdles and third in the broad jump for a total of 14 points.

Tony's loss in the low hurdle event was only the second time in his career that he had been beaten. Teammate Guy Week's turned the trick last year in the Louisville meet for the first time.

The Results:
100-yard dash: Hardin (V): Lawson (K); Lammons (V), 10.3
220-yard dash: Harlin (V): Lammons (V); Lawson (K), 23.2

Mile relay: Vandervelt (Maxwell, Vender, Wood, Lankford), 5:55.8

Net Team Meets Vols Here Today

The University's tennis team, still looking for its first win of the season, take on the Tennessee Vols tomorrow on the U-high courts.

Vanderbilt won the other eight matches without losing a set.

Concert Band Performs Sunday In Memorial Hall

By Wilfred Lutz
A large crowd applauded the University of Kentucky concert band in Memorial Hall Sunday. The 64 musicians, under the baton of Frank J. Prindl, presented a program that was destined for every music taste and mood. The concert was presented as a part of the spring musical series, under the auspices of the University music department.

The program was definitely highlighted by the concert band's adept presentation of "Capitol Sketches," which had its first Kentucky performance at the concert. The modernistic work was composed by Harold Kilder of Dexter, New Mexico. Capitol Sketches is unique in its wealth of tone color and unusual musical effects. Emphasis is placed on the grouping of instruments in unorthodox combinations. The number was well received.

Two floats also added to the success of the concert. Warren Lutz, assistant conductor, and Gene Stewart, senior music major, received audience approval. Mr. Lutz, who is also concert master of the group, was featured in Sherzo Brillante, a colorful clarinet solo.

Mr. Stewart's trumpet solo, "Humor Melodies" was also well received.

Other compositions presented in the concert were "If He Be Near," Bach; "English Folk Song Suite," Williams; "Ave Verum Corpus," Mozart; "American Flag March," Joseph Prindl; and "American Folk Rhapsody," Grandman.

Dr. Prindl's father, Joseph Prindl, was recognized preceding the playing of "The American Flag March."

Two years ago, the band featured Dr. Prindl's "On the Shores of the Danube," a collection of fiery gypsy tunes.

Several unique instruments were used in the concert band to bring out minute details in the compositions. The English horn, bass saxophone, and Sarrusophone are examples.

The concert band reflected careful training and ample preparation to perform band music of the better type.
