ABOUT THE LIBRARIES

Rainer Maria Rilke Exhibit

UK Special Collections Department is displaying a collection of 13 original letters written by the internationally-acclaimed German symbolist author-poet Rainer Maria Rilke (1875-1926) in the foyer, King Library North. The project was completed by student-assistant Alex Pittman under the direction of Mr. David Farrell, Curator of Book Collections.

The correspondence, encompassing the period May 14, 1916 - August 6, 1919, was directed to one single correspondent and admirer, Austrian Countess Aline von Dietrichstein. These turbulent years of the World War and the months following portray Rilke's growing hatred of war and his need of poetic inspiration as well as his perceptions of certain other literary figures of the period and earlier, notably Danish poet-author Jens Peter Jacobsen (1847-1885).

Of the letters, seven have been published in German, a portion of four in English; the others have never been published.

Agriculture Library Continues Its International Relations

International cooperation has come to the Agriculture Library. Angelique Bantu, a staff member of the Centre De Documentation Agricole (CDA), Zaire will be training in the Agriculture Library during April and May. Mrs. Bantu is here on an AID grant to observe indexing techniques employed for materials in the Agricultural Sciences. From here Mrs. Bantu will continue to Washington to work at the National Agricultural Library in Beltsville MD and the Library Congress.

Things I Learned on the Way to --- or Confessions of a Non-Cataloger

"The biography of a woman without a career of her own is to be assigned headings for her husband and the 'class of persons' to which the husband belongs, as well as a group heading for the wife."

Exhibit Space

A Library Arts Review Committee has been appointed to consider requests for exhibit space in the Library. Members of the Committee are:

Mary Davis (chairperson)
Harry Gilbert
Larry Greenwood

Inquiries regarding and requests for exhibit space should be directed to the Committee.

LC/GPO Cataloging Cooperation

The Library of Congress and the Government Printing Office are cooperating working together to establish corporate name headings, based on AACR for the changed Monthly Catalog of U.S. Government Publications. In the first year over 2,000 corporate headings were processed, with appropriate cross references. Then the project was expanded to include authority files for personal names.

The two bodies; having first considered choice of entry and form of heading, proceeded to discussions focusing on bibliographic description.

A representative from the Federal Library Committee and one from ALA Government Documents Round Table's Documents Cataloging Manual Committee attended the sessions.

These agencies are continuing their cooperative efforts as they prepare to interpret and implement AACR II.

Fine of the Spring

$298.00. It would have been cheaper to have reported the book lost, early on, and paid for it. Another individual said, "I'm just lazy, I guess," when asked why he ignored repeated overdue notices.
