FROM THE PRESIDENTS

Shalom,

I have been involved in the Central Kentucky Jewish Association since its inception less than a decade ago and am now honored to serve as its President. I have seen CKJA grow into a vital and multi-faceted organization that affects the lives of all members of our community.

We are a people who look back to our history, our teachings and our beliefs. But we are also a people who look forward. As we approach the beginning of a New Year, we must resolve to rededicate ourselves to the continued growth and strength of our organization and community.

Susan and Adam join me in wishing everyone a healthy, happy and prosperous New Year.

L'shanah tovah tikkatevu,

Jack L. Miller

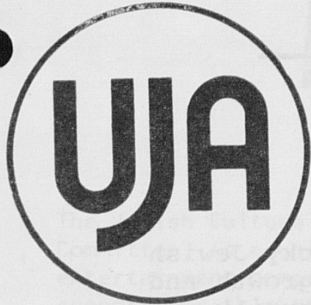

נְסִיאַ סְרִינַת יִשְׂרָאֵל
PRESIDENT OF ISRAEL

It is a privilege for me to address World Jewry as President of the State of Israel on the occasion of Rosh Hashana, 5744.

I send my greetings on behalf of the people of Israel to the Jewish communities of the world from the eternal city of Jerusalem, confident in the knowledge that by common effort, the Jewish people throughout the world, will continue to prosper, that your communities will be successful in all their fields of activity and that Jewish communal and personal involvement with Israel will continue to grow and develop.

Mr. Chaim Herzog
President of Israel

from Irving Berstein, Executive Vice President of UJA

For Your Information

POLAND 1983

During the July Major Community Chairmen's Mission to Israel and Poland led by Bob Loup, UJA National Chairman and Ernie Michel, Executive Vice President, New York City/UJA Federation and Chairman of the World Gathering of Jewish Holocaust Survivors in Jerusalem, we heard a poignant and moving statement by Szymon Szurmiej, Director of the Yiddish State Theatre of Poland.

Speaking through us in Yiddish to 6,000,000 American Jews, this cultural leader of the remnant Polish Jewish community of 6,000 -- survivors of a once vibrant and vigorous Jewish society of more than four million -- reminded us that even in the depths of despair, we -- working together -- can still create life.

INTERACT

For the first time in "official" Central Kentucky Jewish history, there is a program which provides for the growth and development of young adults involved within our community. The program has been coined "Interact" by its co-chairpeople, Joe and Ricki Rosenberg and Sheila DeKosky, to symbolize the interaction and dialogue that are its main goals.

The group, consisting of about thirty people, has met three times and plans to continue with at least six sessions during the coming year. The topics of the sessions cover a wide range of Jewish interests, but will focus strongly on the modern family and being Jewish in a Christian world.

There has been so much interest expressed in Interact that there will be another cycle of sessions beginning as soon as possible. If you and/or your spouse are interested in this type of program, and either of you fall in the general age group of "under 40", give your name to the CKJA office.

from the co-chair...

Our thanks go out to two people from our own community who provided us with a wonderful beginning in Interact....

Aleksandr Usvitsky and his wife, Assya, shared their experiences from the USSR with us at our first session. It helped us better focus our attention on our own religion and heritage which we often take for granted in America.

The second and third sessions were dynamic due to our fantastic Marilyn Moosnick. She skillfully led us through dialogue and interaction about our Jewish values, and we all know a great deal more about ourselves and each other.

We are so fortunate to have these "human resources" within our own CKJA, and we want Aleksandr and Marilyn to know we truly appreciate them.

Sheila DeKosky
Co-chair, Interact

P.S. Interact people .... please disregard previous dates I've asked you to hold open. Calendar conflicts force us to choose other times.

ANNOUNCING

CKJA FORUM SERIES 1983-84

The Jewish Cultural and Entertainment Series, coordinated by the CKJA Forum Committee, is a unique cultural program, combining both Jewish educational and entertainment components. Season tickets are an excellent buy! Please show your support for this series, designed to enhance the quality of our Jewish community life, by purchasing a $20 Patron Ticket -- a real bargain for this year's four events! In keeping with the concept that this should be an affordable series for everyone, a $10 season ticket is also available. As always, children of season ticket holders will be admitted free, and full-time college students are charged $1 per program.

Presenting the 1983-1984 Series (all are evening programs)

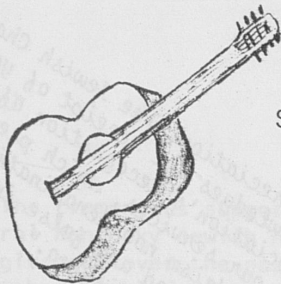

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 25 .... RABBI JACOB MARCUS, eminent scholar and historian, will speak on "Jews in America/Jews in Kentucky: An Historical Perspective".

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3 .... THE ISRAELI CHASSIDIC FESTIVAL is a troupe of 13 that puts on a lively show of the best of Israel's new songs and dances...some oldies, too!

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 19 .... ARNOLD FINE is the editor of New York City's "The Jewish Press" and writes two of its columns, "I Remember When" and "A Bi Gezunt". A humorist-lecturer, he will talk about yesterday's world and the humor that was and still is part of our heritage.

SUNDAY, MARCH 11 .... GEMINI, a folksinging duo, presents Jewish music with vocal and instrumental virtuosity, so that what comes through is their deep love of music and their joy in sharing it.

PLEASE PLAN TO JOIN US THIS YEAR!

THE HEBREW THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE

"On behalf of the Hebrew Theological College I wish to thank the Central Kentucky Jewish Association for their generous contribution. The support which comes to us from dedicated Jewish federations provides inspiration and encouragement to us as we work to achieve our goals of Torah education. We wish you success in your important efforts."

"With deep appreciation, The Jewish Chautauqua Society acknowledges the receipt of your check... The Association's recognition of the importance of our services which precepts the truth about Judaism non-discriminatory to despot pre-conceived and false information, is very helpful and gratifying."

"...The tremendous support which the Central Kentucky Jewish Association has given us over the past several years has enabled us to constantly improve, and add to our camp program in many areas. We continue to strive to offer the finest Jewish camping experience available to youngsters in the Midwest area....We appreciate all that you have done to help us reach our 13th summer - our Bar Mitzvah Year at CYJ."

Project Renewal

ON THE HOMEFRONT ....

The results are in and after receiving a few recent gifts, the communities of Louisville and Lexington have reached the halfway mark of their $1,500,000 overall goal. Approximately $735,000 has been pledged to the neighborhood of Netanya-Selah, our Project Renewal "twinning" city. Of this amount, Lexington's gifts total $105,000.

AND ....

At the Annual Assembly of the Jewish Agency for Israel, twenty-two "Neighborhoods" from cities in all Israel participated in an evening happening. "Gaily decorated booths displaying neighborhood handicrafts, future development plans, ethnic foods, ongoing programs and neighborhood accomplishments complemented an exciting continuous program. Climaxing the evening was an exciting stage show, featuring orchestral music, jazz, Hassidic dancing, folkdancing and pop music.

480 NEIGHBORHOOD RESIDENTS FROM 45 NEIGHBORHOODS TAKE UNIVERSITY EXAMINATIONS ....

"The school year has ended for participants in Project Renewal's Academic Leadership Course. Six hundred eight students at eight colleges, most 25-40 years of age and a large portion unskilled and minimally educated, had registered and attended classes. Of these, 480 took their first university examination this year. One student, Shaul Mordechai from the Acco Mizrach Neighborhood (Texas Cluster and Oklahoma City), told his story recently: 'I have worked since I was 16 years old - the 1950s were difficult years and I had to help out at home. Since my compulsory army service, I have worked at the same company and have been promoted regularly but I have always wanted to study. When this course was offered, I consulted with my wife and five children and they were all very encouraging. Now, it is very important to my children that I succeed. I will certainly continue with the course though I am not especially concerned with whether I get a degree or not. The learning is the important thing.'

Dear Friends,

We at the Anne Frank Haven, with the cooperation of Kibbutz Sasa, continue to develop the school by improving the study facilities and living conditions of the children....

...."Golan", the group that was absorbed this year, is busy in preparation for their Bar Mitzva celebrations, which will take place at the beginning of June. Among the traditional 13 projects that they completed through the course of the year, was a very unique one. For the first time, our children were able to establish neighbourly relations with the children of Lebanese villages, so close across the border....

....All this is done with your ritual help, for which we are always grateful. Hoping to hear from you soon, in the name of the staff and the children, we sent you our best wishes and regards.

Sincerely,
Shlomi NADIR

.... "And I Was There"

Mark this date on your calendar! At this time, the taped interviews with 6 Holocaust Survivors now living in Central Kentucky will be aired. These brave people have courageously explored the blackest of memories and have eloquently and emotionally shared their experiences in front of a camera and on film.

As we all view this tape, hopefully as a Central Kentucky extended family, let us assure these heroic survivors: We Shall Never Forget.

Dear Shalom Campers,

First, I hope your summer vacation has been lots of fun, but please don't forget to water your trees and treat your families to your tasty radishes. Campers, please share with your family some of the things you learned at camp which is so much a part of your history as in: kibbutz living, famous Jewish people, pantomime, special holidays and the blessings.

Camp Shalom will have a new theme for next year and is looking forward to sharing it with all of you, so 'till then, love and share with your family and have a good year.

Your Camp Shalom Staff
and Director, Becky Kuc

BIBLICAL PAINTING EXHIBIT

The University of Kentucky Art Museum at the Center for the Arts at Rose and Euclid presents:

J. James Tissot
Biblical Paintings 23 August - 20 October 1983

This exhibition is 160 gouache paintings illustrating scenes from the Old Testament. Between 1885 and 1896 Tissot travelled extensively in the Near East scrupulously researching the historical background and geographical settings of Biblical events. The intensely colored and finely detailed paintings which the artist produced during and after these trips present the Biblical narrative from Creation and the era of the Patriarchs, through Egypt and the Promised Land, to the time of the Prophets.

All of the works in the exhibition have been lent from the collection of the Jewish Museum in New York City and are being shown as a group for the first time since 1909.

FILM Sunday - 25 September - 2:00 p.m., Old Student Center Theatre
The Ten Commandments, 1956 (219 minutes) Directed by Cecil B. DeMille
(Tissot's paintings have been an important source for a number of film makers. None drew on his images more heavily, however, than Cecil B. DeMille. Compositions and details from works in the exhibition appear throughout The Ten Commandments.)

GALLERY TALKS Each Sunday afternoon at 2:00 during the run of the exhibition specially trained Museum Docents will offer public tours of the exhibition.

SYMPOSIUM Sunday - 2 October - 2:00 p.m., Museum Galleries
Illustrating The Bible: Archaeology vs. Invention
Participants: Dr. Iris Cully, Professor of Religious Education, Lexington Theological Seminary; Rabbi William Leffler, Temple Adath Israel; Reverend Larry Hehman, Lexington Newman Center; Dr. James S. Pierce, Professor of Art, University of Kentucky; and Moderator, William J. Hennessey, Director, University of Kentucky Art Museum.

Whenever an artist seeks to give concrete visual forms to verbally described scenes and events, a certain amount of interpretation inevitably occurs. Tissot's Biblical paintings will be used as a medium through which to explore the philosophical, artistic, and theological implications of illustrating sacred texts.

editor's note .....

We, the Newsletter team, are pleased to present New Years Greetings and bring you up to date on what has happened this summer and what CKJA has in store for the fall. To add my own message of good wishes, I went right to the source of nourishment and blended it with tradition from times past .... I came up with a special recipe most appropriate for welcoming the New Year - I present for your Yuntiff table Ada Gail's recipe for Honey Cake.

Two Bulletins ago, you met my woman for all seasons - Ada Gail - in the role of literary critic. Her fine perceptive review of Little Drummer Girl has been received with raves and praise. Next month she puts down the pen and picks up the palette to critique the Tissot Art Exhibit. This month she dons a chef's cap and sweetens our holiday season with Honey Cake-a-la-Ada Gail. I am most pleased to share this extraordinary women's wit and wisdom through the newsletter.

Lekach Ada Gail Variation

- |                         |                                   |
|-------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 6 eggs (large)          | 1 tsp baking soda                 |
| 1 cup sugar             | 1/4 tsp ground cloves             |
| 1 cup honey             | 1/2 tsp each: allspice & cinnamon |
| 3 TBSP oil              | 3/4 cup white raisins             |
| 3 1/2 cups flour        | 3/4 cup chopped nuts              |
| 1 1/2 tsp baking powder | 1/4 cup shredded canned pineapple |
|                         | 2 TBSP Brandy                     |

Beat eggs; add sugar gradually - heat until light and creamy. Stir in honey & oil. Sift dry ingredients and add nuts & raisins & pineapple before combining with first mixture. Add brandy last. Turn into greased and wax paper-lined rectangular pan. Bake for one hour at 310 degrees. Test for doneness with toothpick. Invert and allow to cool before removing. Cut into slices 1 1/2 inches wide, then diagonally to make diamond shapes.
(Secret: toast nuts before chopping)

World Jewish Population Dropping

New York (JTA) - The world Jewish population is dropping below the point of Zero Population Growth and is beginning a numerical decline that will accelerate in years to come, according to a recent study by the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee/ Brookdale Institute of Gerontology and the Hebrew University Institute of Contemporary Jewry.

The study notes that despite the decrease in total Jewish population there will be an increase in number of Jewish elderly, particularly among the "old-old," people over age 75, and particularly in Israel, where the number in this category is expected to jump 150 percent in the quarter century between 1975 and the year 2000.

While the study, "Elderly Jews in the World," which was written by Professor U.O. Schmelz, predicts a drop in the number of Jews in the diaspora from 9.6 million to 8 million in less than 20 years - the study also predicts a sharp rise in the number of elderly, particularly among the "old-old" whose numbers will reach an estimated 910,000 by the year 2000. Nearly 190,000 of these are expected to be living in Israel.

One consequence of the shifting demographics noted in the study is the fact that by the end of the century one out of every five elderly will live in Israel, as compared with one out of eight today.
