JOHN J. WINN ELECTED BY ATHLETIC COUNCIL TO COACH WILDCATS OF 1923

Was Former Princeton Star and Coach; Given Authority to Select Assisting Staff.

1923 SEASON LOOKS GOOD

"Injun" Bill Juneau Leaves A Wealth of Material at Close of His Third Year as Coach.

John J. "Jack" Winn, of Mt. Sterling, was chosen coach of the Wildcat gridiron squad to succeed William, "Injun Bill," Juneau by the Athletic Council of the University at a meeting held at the Phoenix Hotel last Tuesday evening. Only after a great amount of discussion regarding various other prominent mentors was Winn given the unanimous support of the members. The selection of his assistants will be left to Winn and it is thought that a prominent backfield coach will be added to the Cat advisory board.

Winn is a graduate of Princeton of the class of 1918, and was a letter man in football, being elected captain of the Tigers in 1917. He later served as assistant on the Tiger coaching staff.

Early in the fall the Athletic Council decided that the University needed a line mentor and after lengthy discussions Winn took charge of the Blue and White forwards after the Cincinnati game. His effort soon became evident and the Cat line became a bulwark of strength. This factor played an important part in the Cat victories.

Coach Winn will have the advantage of knowing every member of his squad, even the Freshmen, when he takes hold of the reins next fall.

William Juneau, whose contract expired with the ending of the present season, closes a very successful three-year stay. The 1922 eleven was the outstanding team under "Injun" Bill's tutelage, and he leaves a wealth of material for the new coach.

PLEA FOR MEMORIAL TO JUDGE LAFFERTY MADE

Tribute to Founder of Law College is Desired By Admirers.

Since the death of Judge W. T. Lafferty, representatives from all the colleges of the University have made common inquiries concerning the formulation of plans for a fitting memorial to him. The future, the near future, it is to be hoped, will see the Law College, the Minerva sprung from his brain, housed in a magnificent building, Lafferty Hall. But legislatures dally; so it is the desire of all University students to see an immediate tribute paid to the memory of this great jurist whose ripened years were dedicated to the advancement of the University.

Single handed he put the Law College, his creation, on its present basis. It ranks alongside the country's great legal institutions supported by huge endowments.

The credit of the erection of the Education and Agriculture Buildings is his, for his efforts were not confined to the narrow sphere of one college, but rather embraced the entire University. A future memorial is de-

SU-KY URGES STUDENTS TO AID EXTENSION WORK

Plans Launched For Campaign To Be Carried Out During Holidays.

Since the founding of the Su-Ky Circle in 1920, one of its chief objects has been student extension work. It is the belief of the organization that the most extensive advertising a university can get is through its student body. If every student will keep foremost in mind the idea of building up a high appreciation of the University of Kentucky, and work to that end upon all occasions, at home and elsewhere, our success will be unlimited.

During the past two Christmas holidays the Circle has launched a campaign through the high schools of the State led by representative students here at the University. It is their aim and desire to carry on the same campaign this year, only on a much wider scale. Every student here in school can help in this drive. Locality clubs are especially prepared to do good work. What we want is this: visit your high school while at home, say a few words to the senior and junior classes about what a great university we have here. Get a list of the senior class and indicate any outstanding high school prospects, both boys and girls. In fact canvas your high school, get a complete record of the present conditions there, turn this record in to the Circle, upon your return after Christmas.

Bulletins and pamphlets containing information and advertising matter concerning the University of Kentucky can be obtained from A. B. Cammack or through the Registrar's office.

Persons that can spare a few hours of their time during the holidays in this work are requested to see A. B. Cammack, chairman of Student Extension Committee, and get further instructions. No matter how large or small your school may be, it turns out good material each year. We want them at Kentucky, and you can help get them there. Join the Circle's movement and boost Kentucky.

NOTICE!

On Monday afternoon at 3:45 the second meeting of the William James Club will be held in room 206 Neville Hall. Prof. C. C. Anderson will describe the use of an educational test in teaching agriculture in the elementary schools. This will raise the general problem of tests of proficiency.

STUDENT SPEAKERS HAVE ORGANIZED PUBLICITY CLUB ON U OF K CAMPUS

Organization Composed of Speakers to Advertise Work and Growth of University.

TO VISIT CLUBS IN STATE

Journalism Men May Be Asked to Join and Aid Orators With Their Pens.

"A state is no greater than its state university." This will be the keynote of a message to go out into the state through the instrumentality of an organization that took definite form in President McVey's office last Monday. It is held by this organization that the achievements or failures of the university will affect the people out in the state both directly and indirectly and that these facts should be known by them. They should know the problems of finance their state university must face. They should know how far behind in the race of progress their sister states are leaving us in the matter of higher education. For the purpose of carrying this message to the people this organization, as yet without a name, has been formed.

The suggestion for the idea emanated from the student body while President McVey and Alumni Secretary Herbert Graham heartily approved the plan. They held that a message carried to the people by their own sons and fellowtownsmen would carry more weight than a veritable phalanx of out-of-state spellbinders.

A temporary organization was affected about two weeks ago but it was not permanently organized until last Monday at which time a permanent chairman and secretary was elected. The President also appointed three faculty advisors as a committee on arrangements with himself as an ex-officio member. The committee,

GIRLS' DORMITORIES ARE VISITED BY PROWLERS

Burglar Infested Area Now Being Patrolled by Special Police Squad.

Burglaries have been occurring with increasing frequency in and around the sorority and dormitory zone of the University during the past two weeks. Four men were seen on the premises of Smith Hall about 9:30 on the night of November 30, two of whom were apprehended by the police after a gun battle. It was later found that all the boys on one side of the Hall had been removed.

Last Friday night an unlooked-for "unt" was added to Co-ed Night by an invasion of Beta Sigma Upsilon's particular section of "No Man's Land," following a successful burglary next door. Sunday night an attempt to enter Boyd Hall was frustrated by Miss Rosemary Kaufman, who led a pajama-clad parade out on the front roof to give a resounding alarm.

While nothing has been definitely ascertained, it is generally thought that the same man is at the head of all the above operations. This theory has been materially substantiated by the testimony of the two negro boys

Kentucky is shaking herself. The lack of knowledge characteristic of earlier days may be displaced by a keen appreciation of potential advantages. It seems that resources wholly neglected may be developed and that there will be less exploitation by "foreigners."

It is quite probable that a deal will be consummated whereby millions of tons of coal from the Elkhorn district will go to Detroit to be used by Henry Ford in his manufacturing enterprises. Thus would Kentucky be exploited instead of having her natural wealth used in manufacturing within her own boundaries.

She average citizen must be educated before there will be an appreciation of Kentucky's opportunities and the proper safeguards thrown out. In 1910 in Kentucky there was one college man to 793 of the population. Today it is one to 448. The average for the country is one to 200.

The state's annual budget is $21,000,000. The assessed valuation is more than two billions of dollars. The state's business is big business and yet in the last few decades the law makers and the administrators have not been required to show any particular business ability.

There is a movement on foot to put trained men, every one of them chosen for this reason in state offices and in the legislature. College men and women are the logical leaders in that.

Kentucky is shaking herself.

Forensics is Popular

Renewed interest is being shown on the campus in forensics. There has been a marked revival in debate and in oratory in the last two or three years.

This calls attention to a strange situation existing in collegiate circles; for the most part hours spent outside of class and study are devoted to athletics or social affairs. Discussions of deeply intellectual subjects are rare when optional.

Some observers profess to see an impending change. The growth of literary societies is a fair indication.

THIRTY ASPIRANTS FOR WRESTLING TEAM OUT

Harold Enlow to Coach Mat Men This Year; Schedule Nearly Complete.

The opening practice of the wrestling squad for the ensuing year found about thirty scantily clad athletes assembled in the mat room ready for work, under the tutelage of Harold Enlow. The preparatory work-outs have been completed and the weeding out will commence about the first of next week. The outlook for the year is exceedingly bright for only two letter men of last year's team were lost. Contests will be scheduled with several prominent institutions in various parts of the country, chief among which are Iowa, Ohio State, Indiana, Ohio University, Cincinnati and one prominent southern school. The first meet of the year will probably be held

SCRAPS

The entire student body of the University mourns the death of its mascot, T. N. T., who had rapidly become the pet of all. During his short stay at the University he brought to the teams of which he was mascot all the smiles of Dame Fortune. His presence will be missed but the memory of his fighting spirit will remain as a stimulant in future battles.

Coach Enlow of the mat team has issued a call for more candidates in the heavy classes. Most of the aspirants out are in the lighter classes, creating a shortage of heavy material.

Now comes the lull in the year when sport fans enjoy a brief rest between the reigns of King Football and his successor King Basketball. This rest is enjoyed only by the fans for many grid stars don their basketball togs as soon as they have turned in their mole skins.

The first real Wildcat practice was held recently with about 30 aspirants out. More candidates are expected to report to Coach Buchheit this week and the total number will probably reach the half century mark.

Despite the loss of Adkins, Hayden, and Lavin, the Cats have the prospect of an excellent year. Capt. Rdgeway, Poyntz, Fest, Burnham, King, Wilkerson, Smith, Rice, Rieflin, Boren, Barnes, are among the notables expected to make a try for the regular positions.

The Yearling prospects are as good if not better than those of the Varsity for court stars from all over the state and from all parts of the country are out trying for the coveted positions on the Frosh quintette.

The wrestling candidates were called to practice Monday for the first time this year. Harold Enlow is again in school and will coach the mat men in addition to being one of the team. Meets with prominent Universities in various parts of the country will be scheduled.

ODE TO A TOMCAT

(With apologies to Poe.)

Oh, hail, nocturnal reveler,
Thou who, upon my window sill,
With wailings dire my sleep dost stir
When all terrestrial life is still.
Designest thou not to leap
Thence till the dawn shall creep
Into the east? Or when wilt thou permit
Me to my troubled sleep?
Forever wilt thou sit
Upon that ledge that wretched noise to spill?
Mee-e-e-ow! Mae-e-e-ow!

Whence came that melancholy wail?
What good, what chance, what dire event,
Doomed thee t' expound that mournful tale?
That thou forever should'st lament
With incantations dread
Like the moan of the dead,
Or like the mingled dolorations drear
That forms the burning bed
The imps of Satan hear
Or bad accommodations and the rent,
Mee-yow! Mee-yow!

Oh, beast infernal, tell me, pray,
Wherefore that melancholy strain?
Why dost thou hold such a lay
Thy long-drawn cadences of pain?
Oh, hie thee hence, I say
Away and yet away!
Cat, if thou would'st depart, 'twould be a bane
Unto my sleepless brain,
Thou shadowy beast erratic,
That revelest in the realm of song ecstatic.
Oo-oo-yaugh-oh! Oo-oo-yaugh-oh!

When I was soundly quite asleep
Ensclosed in my amorous bed,
Up in my window thou didst creep,
Thou loud-lunged beast of stealthy tread,
And from that lofty place
Ddst open thy wierd face
In lamentation drear and ghostly moan
As there would never be
A solace unto thee,
Lorn feline of the shades, uncanny,
lone.
Yough-oo! Pough-oo.

When breaks that howl upon the night
And on the breeze that anthem peals,
From out thy throat, oh, midnight
sprite,
A tense and leaden horror steals,
Depressing, humid, drear,
Joyless, and full of fear,
Full on my heart and a dumb sense
pervades
My mind until it reels
And in oblivion fades
At last, Oh, stealthy patron of the shades
Yee-ow! Yee-ow!

No longer, wretch, can I endure
Those dre, uncanny tales of woe;
Say, let once more my sleep be sure,
And let me now, or never, know
Again that quiet rest
Within this troubled heart;
Abominable creature, hence, forever go!
No longer tear this breast
And tarry not—depart,
Or else I'll land this shoe upon thy chest

OUR SOCIETY COLUMN

What's What Around the College Campus

It is predicted by a great many of the elite, according to the latest reports, that fraternity pins will be worn by many of the fair sex. We might add a word or so further to the effect that it is also rumored that those thriving shops previously frequented by the bourgeoisie and the lower classes and known to the vulgar world as "hock shops" expect a thriving business this year.

The well dressed male, according to our correspondents, will appear in large numbers about the campus in khaki colored suits quite reminiscent of the clothes worn in France by many of our men, who, a few years ago, toured through England, France and Germany on a little party, along with such notables as the right Hon. Gen. Pershing and many others.

"Few women ar beautiful" mused the Creator.
And he created darkness.

WITH BUGS BARD

"My boy," said Farmer Brown one day, "I'll let you go to college. You've served your time at pitching hay, go forth and seek some Knowledge." Old Farmer Brown sold off his flocks and sold the one-horse shay. He sold off all the Plymouth Rocks that would not sing or lay. "My lad, you'll not be old and bent from hoeing corn like me; but be the nation's president, and full of wisdom be."

Young Jake quit courting Sallie Snout for the sake of education, and caught the noon-day local out stocked up with aspiration. The neighbors shook their knowing pates and offered dozens of kale, that larnin' soon would take young Jake into the county jail. Now Farmer Brown had not the knack of repartee or blow; but got a mortgage on the shack and sent young Jake more dough. Well every dog does have its day, and Farmer Brown had his. He sailed into the General Store with glee upon his phiz. "By ding! I guess you fogley jays will stop your doleful whine, and not another howl will raise against this boy of mine. You said book larnin' made a fool and was no good by crack! But them there fellers up to school has made Jake a quarterback!"

Dear Al:—What should I do in a case like this: There is a good-looking co-ed who smiles and speaks to me every time I see her on the campus or over at the library. I have never met the young lady. Am perplexed as to what is the proper thing to do when she speaks, as I have been brought up never to speak to strange ladies.

Yours heartbrokenly,

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

By reason of the fact that classes will be dismissed next Thursday for the holidays, thus cutting publication week of the Kernel virtually in half, the current issue will be the last before the Christmas holidays.

The Kernel takes pleasure as it pauses for a moment on the eve of the wonderful season that has been celebrated a holiday in Christian nations for nearly twenty centuries, long enough to bid its comrades "bon voyage" on the trip home and happy reunion and joyful experiences with their loved ones until we shall meet again.

CAPTAIN C. C. CALHOUN

Capt. Clarence Crittenden Calhoun, former student of the University of Kentucky, now acting attorney at Washington, D. C., was a visitor here last week, and a speaker at the football banquet held for the Wildcats at the Phoenix Hotel. He opened his speech with the remark that: "I am supposed to be on the reception committee in Washington tonight to the 'Tiger of France'—but I would rather be here among Kentuckians, talking to the Wildcats of the University of Kentucky, than receiving the heads of all the nations of the world." Only a few of the students present were acquainted with Captain Calhoun and his connection with the University, but after this remark the pulse of every man within hearing distance throbbed, and the hearts of the Wildcats beat faster.

Capt. Calhoun was born in Davies county, Kentucky, September 13, 1862, and was the oldest of a large family. For this reason he had little time or opportunity to acquire an education. However at the age of 21 he left the parental roof with $15 in his pockets, fully determined to obtain an education. After working at various odd jobs he was able to save enough money to enter the University, but was unable to complete his course.

Today he is prominent in the affairs of the nation; he is a lawyer, educator, Christian gentleman. He is the type of Kentuckian that has immortalized and made famous the Commonwealth throughout history.

The Kernel is indeed proud of the prominence and success attained by Captain Calhoun—a man whom heretofore it has never been our pleasure to know. We are proud of the fact that he obtained his preparation and training at this University.

NOT DEAD, ONLY SLEEPING

Simultaneously with the passing of the Wildcat football season of the University of Kentucky, came the end of a life that has attracted national wide prominence—that of T. N. T., Wildcat mascot of the football team. Death of this pride of the team is attributed partly to the recently long journey to Knoxville, at which time the team closed its season. It is thought the cold weather caused him to contract pneumonia. Others have expressed the opinion that he died of a broken heart, pining for his co-workers, and because of not being taken with the team upon the athletic field as in contest days.

The Kernel is deeply concerned and perturbed over the temporary passing of this fighting "pet," but believes that only one of the cat's nine lives has gone and that the spirit of the other eight will be reincarnated in the Cat football team of 1923.

caught in the Smith Hall raid. These boys, in an attempt to have their sentence and fine mitigated, alleged that they, with two other negroes, were in the employ of a white man, a description of whom was given to the police.

The police are working on the clues given them by these negroes, and are at present patrolling the block from Maxwell street to Winslow, on Harrison and Lexington avenues.

creed by virtue of this. The plea is for a present tribute, one that will hold his achievements for the University, his magnetism as a man and professor, ever before this new class of 1927 who knew him so brief a time.

Y. M. & Y. W. NOTES

The University Y. M. C. A., which has been operating on the cabinet basis for several years, is following the example of several other Southern Universities in organizing the Friendship Council for the promotion of "y" work.

This council is composed of a colonel, two majors, fourteen captains and twenty lieutenants. It is an effort to touch in a personal way every student on the campus. F. M. Heath, president of the "Y" has been designated as colonel. Marshall Barnes and L. B. Hall were elected majors. The majors have named their divisions the Blue and White. Each major selected seven captains for his division. The captains have chosen five lieutenants and these lieutenants will be assigned a certain number of students to whom they will extend the program of the Y. M. C. A. It is the hope of those interested that every student may consider it his duty to co-operate with the Friendship Council for the promoting of this great program for the University.

The captains and lieutenants are:
Blue Division—Thos. Baird, Capt.; Russell Page, Wm. Insko, E. Asher, G. W. Dorroh, R. Metcalf; Robert Clem, Capt.; H. Hamilton, E. R. Mills, E. DeCoursey, E. L. Hall, S. M. Wiggington; D. W. Smith, Capt.; George Kavanaugh, E. P. Tichenor, H. C. Coppage, J. C. Coppage; Dewel Walsh, Capt.; D. B. Todd, J. L. Shaw, L. Allen, B. A. Groover; Jas. Humphrey, Capt.; G. Spurlin, A. Lindsey, H. True, R. H. Woods; J. C. Brown, Capt.; W. R. Hutcherson, J. F. Freeman, A. Quarles, S. S. Shouse, Wm. McFarland.

White Division—Chas. Hubbard, Capt.; J. Boynton, Wm. Suiter, W. S. Anderson, A. R. Perkins, W. Foust; W. S. Hynes, Capt.; Robert Mitchell, F. Epley, C. Norris, D. W. Porter; F. A. C. Thompson, Capt.; L. W. V. Stamper, G. Spillman, M. E. Trumbull, R. H. Wilkey, C. L. Orman; L. H. Truitt, Capt.; S. B. Neal, C. Razer, H. W. Mobley, F. G. Montgomery, M. Winston; G. W. Gardner, Capt.; E. Leachman, S. Yeager, C. M. Watts, T. Ballantine; Chas. Spillman, Capt.; C. Anderson, Wm. Worthington, Wm. Schwab, Ed. Goodson, C. W. Foard; Darnell, Capt.; D. Vest, P. L. Drake.

The Y. M. C. A. discussion groups have finished one-half of the course outlined for this year. The groups are interested in discussing the Student Problems of our own campus. The text in use is "Facing Student Problems," written especially for college men.

The average total attendance for the first five weeks has been about 345 per week. Three groups at 618 S. Lime, 155 Virginia Ave., and 334 Harrison avenue, have had a perfect attendance and several of the fraternity groups are keeping their attendance above the 90 per cent mark. If the groups continue the present attendance this will be the best year we have ever had for the "Y" classes. Every student should get into one of these discussion groups.

The following classes are active: Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Sigma Phi, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Chi, Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Tau, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Tau Delta Alpha, Trianglo, 628 S. Lime, 155 Virginia Avenue, 409 Linden Walk, 328 Aylesford, 334 Harrison Ave., 354 Harrison Ave., 446 Rose Lane, 1st and 2nd floor Dormitory, 3rd and 4th floor Dormitory, 381 S. Upper St.

The Friendship Council decided to combine the campaign for relief of foreign students with the local Y. M. C. A. campaign and conduct same after the holidays. Everyone interested in the University should be interested in this great cause.

ODE TO T. N. T.

Cats may come and cats may go,
But the one we shall remember
Is the little U. K. wildcat,
Who died in bleak December.

The football team was resting,
He'd sought his lonely cage,
And on past things reflecting
There died a noble sage.

Now every loyal fan
Will look in vain to see
The furry fire of the gridiron,
Our brave little T. N. T.

In future years he'll reign
In battles grandly done;
The spirit of '22 lives
In victories he has won.

Build for yourself a strange box,
Fashion each part with care,
Fit it with hasp and padlock,
Put all your troubles there,
Hide therein all your failures
And each bitter cup you quaff,
Lock all your heartaches within it
Then—Sit on the lid and laugh.

Tell no one of its contents,
Never its secrets share;
Drop in your cares and your worries,
Keep them forever there.
Hide them from sight so completely
The world will never dream half,
Fasten the top down securely,
Then—Sit on the lid and laugh.
—Lee Smith.

Plays at Woman's Clubs.

"The Casting of a Pearl," Mr. Carol M. Sax's subtle and charming play which was originally produced by Tom Powers, of New York, in the little theatre of the University of Kentucky last year, and "On Vengeance Heights," the mountain play written by Allen Davis and Cornelius C. Vencil, comprised the program given by the drama department of the Woman's Club Saturday afternoon under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. Sallie Bullock Cave, and Mr. Sax, of the University of Kentucky department of art.

"The Casting of a Pearl," an episode in the life of Prince Ta-Mur Shan, is one of the most delicate and beautiful dramatizations ever presented to a Woman's Club audience.

The Prince Ta-Mur Shan, played by Mr. Joseph Wadsworth, represents the philosophy of idealism. He stands in the evening on a busy street corner of an American city and offers Truth, a pearl of great price to anyone who has the grace to accept it, but each passerby refuses, the street fakir, because he believes the jewel to be an imitation; the factory girl, because her father would never believe that she came by it honestly; the newsboy, because he feared arrest; the deaconess because she believed it to be stolen property; the woman of the street because she believed it to be trash.

At last the fakir gives the prince his imitations to sell, and all who had refused the real jewel accept the false at a great loss to themselves. Finally a motherly woman says that if it will make the prince happy she will accept the pearl and give it to her children for their amusement and play, and the play ends with the newsie's question, "I wonder if givin' gets you anything?"

No painted scenery is used, a wonderful effect being achieved by an expanse of glowing blue light, and one street lamp sheds a soft yellow gleam giving the mysterious symbolic atmosphere.

Mr. Wadsworth as the Prince was splendid, bringing to the role the necessary idealism, and Miss Elizabeth Hopkins was most appealing as the girl from the factory. Mr. Grauman Marks, was convincing in his part as the girl's father, and Miss Thelma McIntyre was particularly good as the deaconess. Probably the best characterization in the play was Miss Wilna Brown's portrayal of the newsboy. Others who appeared in the cast to advantage were: Mr. Cavanaugh as the street fakir; Mr. John Butner as a policeman; Miss Anna Best Sargent as the wife of the policeman; Miss Margaret Combs as a woman of the street; and Mr. Edward Gans as a man in evening dress.

"On Vengeance Heights" is the story of the end of a mountain feud, a drama so wonderfully handled that there was never a moment of the melo-dramatic nor the sentimental. Those who know the mountains best declared that the play was a typical, truthful any sympathetic portrayal.

Miss Kathryn McGurk, as Hope Tavender, was natural and appealing, and Ted Creech, who played Lem Carmalt, blood enemy of Granny Gormley, played with authority and presented a splendid characterization, while Robert Creech as Clay Gormley, had rare stage presence.

The most remarkable acting of the afternoon was that of Miss Anne Worthington Callihan as Cheryl Gormley, old, blind and bereft of all in life except her sixteen-year-old grandson, having lost her husband and six sons in feuds, who sees her grandson go out to die for the same cause. The pathos invariably bring tears, as Miss Callihan's acting was so realistic that it scarcely seemed to be acting. Particularly noticeable was the wonderful expressiveness of her hands and the perfect illusion of blindness and age.

This play was one of three out of twenty-five that were selected by a committee of judges to be presented Halloween night in the Stroller Amateur Night program, and was unanimously awarded first prize. This play is the first in which Miss Callihan has ever appeared, and her exceptional talent could hardly have found a better vehicle.

Kappa Delta Tea Dance

One of the loveliest of pre-holiday social affairs was the tea dance with which Epsilon Omega chapter of Kappa Delta fraternity entertained Saturday afternoon from 3:30 to 6:00 o'clock at Patterson Hall.

The drawing room was charmingly decorated in holiday motif, miniature Christmas trees, red berries and candles being used with artistic effect.

The favors were tiny stockings filled with candles and whistles.

Punch was served by Mrs. A. B. Connor and Mrs. I. L. Slade. A six-piece orchestra furnished music for dancing.

Fraternity bids were sent to all of the men's chapters on the campus, and those of Transylvania College and Centre College and to a large number of other friends in the University.

The hosts were the members of the active chapter and pledges: Anna

YEA, HO, BILL SHAKESPEARE

To go, or not to go; that was a question.

Sat heavy on the heart of many a student

At U. of K. before December ninth, Till President McVey came home and said,

"Star here and study as you should." To go;

To rest; and by a rest to find a joy. To leave behind these solid thoughts and cares

And go to others that we think more of.

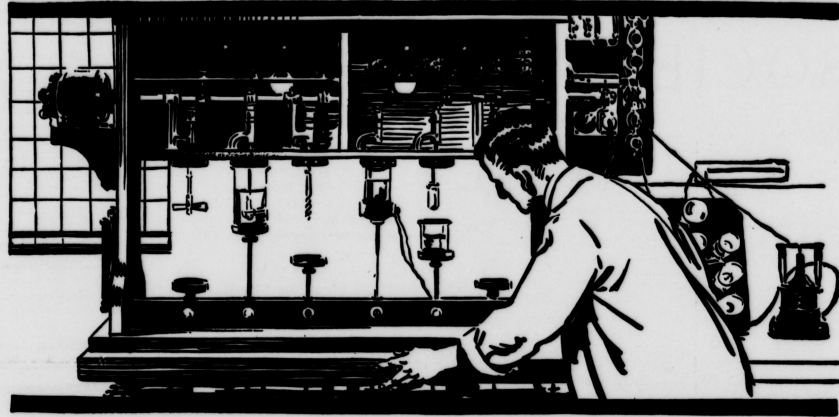

For who, thought we, could study here at school

While others frolicked down in Tennessee?

To leave this place the sixteenth of December,

Would cause a feeling of ecstatic joy. When high authority said, "Stick around."

We hushed and murmured, "Sure, we'll stick around."

Blazing Trails for Progress

Curiosity may have killed the well-known cat, but it has been underneath most of the hard-won developments that lastingly benefit mankind. Once in a great while, perhaps, accident has been the spark that has lighted the torch of achievement; but much more frequently—always, nearly—accomplishment, especially in the field of science and invention, has grown out of the insatiable curiosity that seems to be the heritage of us all. Mankind wants to know—and is slowly finding out. Curiosity, the complement of imagination, knows no appeasement.

This is, however, no essay on the vague subject of idle curiosity. There is a vast difference between that and the organized, untiring, well-planned activity which, as an integral part of Westinghouse organization, searches continually for the answers to problems which intelligent speculation sets up. This, if you please, is curiosity in its highest and most intensified form; and it is a fundamental thing in the Westinghouse operations.

Research, as we know it, is the guiding hand upon the purely creative activities of business. Constantly it brings to light new aspects of known laws, new visions of laws yet to be uncovered. But the search for these is not haphazard nor whimsical; it is organized and planned as carefully and thoroughly as any other business activity. Whether chemical, electrical, or physical, it is engineering; and it follows engineering methods and tradition.

Many great engineers have been wholly at a loss in this specialized activity. For research, in a sense, reverses the usual order. Its endeavor is to discover unknown laws in the known facts—a thing which is quite at variance with ordinary engineering practice. Yet there is a fine type of engineering mind which finds its great opportunity in this kind of work. And to that type of mind, and that type of man, research beckons with an unmistakable hand. It is engineering pioneering, it blazes trails for progress, to new triumphs, in a wilderness into whose outskirts man has scarcely penetrated.

BUSINESS MAN SPEAKS TO FRESHMEN IN CHAPEL

President of Public Utility Association, Speaks on Reminiscences of Business.

President Frank L. McVey took charge of the chapel exercises for the Freshman class of the University of Kentucky Tuesday morning. After a scripture reading, the University quartette gave a song which met with great favor. The speaker of the morning, Mr. Samuel Insull, president of the Kentucky Public Utility Association, addressed the students on "Reminiscences of Business."

Mr. Insull had his first experience in the telephone business about 43 years ago. It is thought that posterity will place among the immortals the names of two men—Alexander Graham Bell and Thomas A. Edison; the former for the transmission of the human voice and the latter for recording and reproducing the human voice.

Mr. Insull traced the developments of the electric light and incandescent lamp emphasizing the fact that the best results are obtained from "dogged perseverance and common sense." The advantages which Mr. Edison had show the vast possibilities for those more fortunate.

In closing Mr. Insull stated that although there is a great increase in the size of capital today there are also greater possibilities for individual development. Therefore all students leaving college should take advantage of anything they see in the business world.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS

The champion wethers that were sent to the International Stock Judging Show, held in Chicago by the Animal Husbandry department of the University, will be returned this week. The freshmen students will be given the opportunity to judge these animals in their stock-judging work.

The University of Kentucky stock judging team, under the tutorage of Professor J. L. Horlacher, has returned from Chicago, where it participated in the International Livestock Judging Contest held in that city.

The team as a whole was first on beef cattle and it came eleventh in competition with 20 other teams on all classes of live stock. Ralph Woods, a member of the team, was fourth highest individual out of 100 contestants. Besides Woods those who were included in the trip were: E. L. Langsdorf, Paul Miller, Campbell Wade and P. R. Watlington.

The Department of Animal Husbandry recently purchased the champion Hereford steer which was displayed at the Fat Stock Exhibit held at the Burbon Stock Yards, Louisville, Ky.

The champion Whethers of the Experiment Farm were shipped Wednesday to Chicago, where they will be exhibited in the International Livestock Show held in that city.

FROSH NET MEN SHOW CHAMPIONSHIP 'STUFF'

Leading High School Stars of the State Competing for Places on Team

After looking over the material assembled daily in the Armory for work, it becomes more and more apparent that Kentucky has an excellent chance of repeating its triumph in winning the yearling gridiron title of the south, by putting out one of the best basketball teams in the southland. The cream of the high school stars of the state are competing for the positions on the Frosh quintette.

Coaches King and Burnham announced a cut Tuesday that reduced the squad to about 30 men, but with the addition of football men the number of men out has again reached 40. The mentors will cut the squad again probably at the end of this week, reducing the candidates to about twenty men.

McFarland, Underwood, Tracy, Carcy and Milward of Lexington High, Back, of Monticello, Hughes of Morton, Elliott and Clark, of Paris, have been showing up best in work-outs. A schedule has not been arranged for the yearlings but several prominent first team quintettes of the South will clash with the Kittens.

IRONING

By May Williams Ward.
 I have ironed my husband's shirts, oh, very smoothly;
 I wish I could as easily erase
 His frowning, worried look of inattention—
 I cannot read the new lines in his face.

Mary lets me iron her crepes and laces;
 I wonder if she thinks that mother's hands
 Would tear the fine-meshed fabric of her love-dreams?
 I wish she knew that mother understands.

Jack likes the finest nainsook, trim, athletic,
 Next his skin. Most finical of men,
 How can he bear to waste his time on Gladys?
 I wish he were a little boy again.
 Oh, well! My task today is just the ironing;
 But while I iron I cannot help but pray,
 "Dear Lord, please let me smooth my loved ones' pathways;
 Please do not let them drift too far away!"

WOMEN ELIGIBLE FOR OXFORD UNIVERSITY

Positions Will Be Secured For American Women Each Year.

The following communication has been received by President Frank L. McVey setting forth the requirements for American women students who desire to enter the Oxford University:

1. At the request of the principals of the five Oxford Women's Societies, that is, Somerville College, Lady Margaret Hall, St. Hugh's College, St. Hilda's Hall, and the Society of Oxford Home Students, the committee on international relations of the American Association of University Women has arranged to receive, at its office in New York City, applications from American women graduates desiring to study at Oxford, and to forward to the principals at Oxford recommendations regarding these candidates. This plan has been worked out in cooperation with the Institute of International Education, whose office in New York is the headquarters of the committee, with the British Federation of University Women, with the British Division of the American University Union, and with the American Council on Education. Some such arrangement has been made necessary by the large number of American women wishing to enter Oxford, the very limited capacity of the women's colleges there, and the difficulty of handling applications and credentials from an office in England.

2. Each year the principals of the five Oxford Women's Societies will reserve a certain number of places for American women graduate students and will fill these on the basis of recommendations of the American committee.

3. Only women of unusually scholarly ability and training, and of serious purpose, can expect to be admitted to Oxford for graduate study. In general, only those who have already had a year of graduate work in this country can hope to compete with other graduate students at Oxford. The following suggestions have been received from the Oxford principals regarding the types of students who could most profitably study there.

(a) Those intending to be in residence two years and planning to take either a research degree (B.Litt. or B.Sc.), a B.A. honours degree (if admitted as a Senior Foreign Student), or a University diploma.

(b). Those studying for higher degrees of American universities and requiring special facilities in Oxford.

(c). Graduates who have embarked upon some piece of research which they wish to continue under direction for a period of not less than one year. Graduate teachers wishing to be admitted for a shorter period of study between posts may be recommended for chance vacancies.

No lists of Oxford lectures are available until two or three days before each term. The subjects desired should be submitted in detail well in advance so that modifications may be suggested, if necessary, by the college.

4. Necessary credentials:

(a) At least one personal letter as reference.

(b) Two references from professors as to standard of previous work. In cases of candidates for B.Ss., or B.Litt. degrees a definite statement is necessary of the candidate's fitness for research as distinguished from assurance of general intelligence, before she can be accepted by the University committee of Advanced Studies at Oxford and by the appropriate Board of the Faculty.

(c) Either her diploma or an official statement from the College or University that it has been granted. Full particulars must be sent of the time spent in University study, with dates and subjects.

(d). Physician's statement as to health of candidate.

5. Remarks: No student under twenty-five is permitted to live in lodgings unless with parents or in the charge of some one approved by the principal.

There are three terms of about eight weeks each. Board, lodging and tuition costs from £45 to £60 a term. Vacations between terms last six weeks. These vacations are purposely made long enough to allow a great deal of work being done in preparation for the term's lectures.

Application blanks for admission to Oxford can be obtained from Miss Virginia Newcomb, The Institute of International Education, 419 W. 117th St., New York City.

Candidates should file their applications not later than March first.

GORMAN TO LEAD THE CAT CROSS COUNTRY TEAM NEXT SEASON

Sensational Find of This Year's Team to Succeed "Bob" Porter

SPORT GAINING INTEREST

Prospects Bright For Campaign Team of South Next Year.

Marion A. Gorman, the sensational find of this autumn's cross country season, was elected captain of next year's cross country team, succeeding "Bob" Porter, leader of the Wildcat harriers for the last two years.

Porter, however, will be back next year, and is to manage the team, and assist in the coaching end. He will also be eligible to run. Letters were awarded to Porter, Loman, Butler, Brown, and Daniels by the Athletic Council.

The end of this season is the culmination of three years of effort on the part of the distance runners in school to create interest in the most fascinating of autumn sports and with the action of the Athletic Council making it a minor sport, the efforts of those individuals were finally rewarded.

Two years ago the call went out for the first of the University of Kentucky cross country teams. Considerable interest was taken and about a dozen aspirants were slated for the first annual turkey day run. But the snow fell fast and the track was bad and that gloomy morning the spectators saw only Ormond following Porter around the slushy track for a record that still stands.

Last year interest was revived and the season culminated in a state intercollegiate cross country run held on Thanksgiving morning, in which Georgetown tied Kentucky, and Wesleyan and Transylvania finishing in the order named. Kentucky, however, won individual honors, for Porter finished first, and Petrey second. The record for the four miles set by Porter still stands.

This year with the knowledge that the Athletic Council was viewing with favor upon this hill and dale sport, interest became keen and with about 40 candidates reporting daily at the opening of the season, the council finally designated it a minor sport, following the lead taken by the Eastern Collegiate, and Western Conference schools. Kentucky was the first school south of the Mason and Dixon line to do this.

Next year under the leadership of Kentucky, all the schools in the Southern Conference have been invited here for a Cross Country meet. In addition to this, dual runs have been scheduled with Indiana, University of Cincinnati, and the annual State Intercollegiate. It is believed also that the Wildcat harriers will return to Louisville to give the Falls City distance runners a chance to regain the laurels, the Wildcats so neatly plucked this season.

The state meet was cancelled, but the victory of the Wildcat track men over the Falls City teams, added with the previous victory over the veteran Cincinnati team, was sufficient nectar in the cup of the Kentucky distance men, and it proved to others what we already knew, that Kentucky not only produces pretty women and fast horses but fast men.

"Daddy" Boles has also signified his intentions of entering the Kentucky Sextette in the Western Conference "go" to be held at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio. If our prospects materialize as rosy next year as they appear at present, for in addition to the fact that all of this season's team returns, several distance sharks among the Freshmen and eligibles will be in the "go" for a place.

U. K. BASKETBALL SQUAD IS FAST ROUNDING INTO SHAPE FOR 1923 SEASON

Despite Loss of Southern Champions Coach Has Large Field to Pick From.

RIDGEWAY MAY BE OUT
Broken Ankle May Keep Captain of Team Off Floor This Season.

The Wildcat basketball squad suffered an additional loss when it was announced that the services of Captain Ridgeway would probably be lost to the squad this year. Ridgeway suffered a broken ankle earlier in the fall and the injured member continues to trouble him to the extent of hampering his cage activities. With his departure, there remains not a single member of that championship quintette that startled the South with its spectacular victory at Atlanta two years ago.

Coach Buchheit, despite the great loss, has plenty of good material from which to build a championship five. Poyntz, Fest, Rice, Smith, and Wilkerson were on the squad last year and are expected to form the nucleus about which the 1923 quintette is built. Riekin, Boren, Asher and Rohs are additions from the class teams that will give all others a fight for the positions.

Each afternoon finds about twenty-five aspiring youngsters in the gym, working off surplus weight and getting down to the fine points of the game.

The following men survived the first cut: Captain Ridgeway, Asher, Bayless, Barnes, Boren, Blanton, Foust, Jones, Langsford, Poyntz, Riekin, Rohs, Reed, Swearingen, Spillman, Wilkerson, Gibson, Fest.

On his return from Atlanta, where he attended the S. I. A. A. meeting, "Daddy" Boles announced the following basketball games for this year:

- Jan. 13—Georgetown at Georgetown.
- Jan. 18—Chattanooga here.
- Feb. 7—Georgia here.
- Feb. 7—Centenary here.
- Feb. 10—Tennessee here.
- Feb. 15—Clemson here.
- Feb. 22—Sewanee here.
- Feb. 24—Vanderbilt here.

A return game with Georgetown and two contests with Centre are being arranged, with a possibility of another contest with Tennessee, bringing the total games up to eleven. The S. I. A. A. tournament will start at Atlanta, February 17, and continue five days.

in the gym about the middle of January with the University of Indiana mat-men as opponents for the Cats.

Harold Enlaw, who has been the mentor in the two years that the mat sport has been a recognized letter sport, will again coach the squad, and will represent the Blue and White in the heavyweight class.

Captain Stith, with but one defeat to his record in two years and that in the Iowa meet at Ames last winter, is the main dependence in the 135 pound class. Robertson, Maddox and Neale are the other letter men from last year.

"Daddy" Boles has not completed the mat schedule, but it is certain that the Cats will have sufficient meat to satisfy them. Iowa, champions of the country, have again requested a meet with the Cats at Ames and the Blue and White will probably accept. Ohio State, Ohio University, and Cincinnati are expected to be on the schedule, and with the addition of one or more southern schools the menu will be complete.

The following men are aspirants for the mat team: Smith, Lyne, Insko, True, Noland, Hamilton, Harris, Ellis, Colvin, Stockhart, Forkner, Stanley, M. D. Harris, Truitt, Griffin, Brewer, Hughes, Turner, Graham, McGill, Baird, Howard, Edwards, Robinson, Maddox, Wolfe, Neale and Captain Stith.

KEYS INSTALL CHAPTER AT CENTRE COLLEGE

Last Saturday the Centre chapter of Keys, honorary fraternity was duly installed. Keys was founded at the University of Kentucky in 1901 as an honorary Sophomore society. Since then the advisability of expansion has been discussed several times but up until a few weeks ago no active steps had been taken. At that time communication was started with the Lyramid, a Sophomore society which was organized at Centre in October of this year. Arrangements were made for the initiation of the members of the Pyramid into the Keys to be chartered as "The Centre Chapter of Keys Fraternity." The chapter was formally installed December 9 in the Kappa Alpha Hall.

After the ceremony a meeting was held to discuss the plans for a strong national organization.

What chance have you got against him?

IT was a cynic who said: "Some men go to college. Other men study."

A slander! But yet there probably are college men whose bills for midnight oil are not large.

And there are men who left school in the lower grades who, along with a hard day's work, put in long hours of study—spurred on by a dream and a longing.

Look out for them.

The achievements of non-college men in business suggest an important fact. Success seems to depend, not so much on the place where a man studies, as on the earnestness of the student.

But, granting equal earnestness and ability, it is still true that the college man has the advantage.

Regular hours for study and lecture, the use of library and laboratory, the guidance of professors, contact with men of the same age and aspirations—all these will count in his favor, if he makes the most of them.

A big "if." The new year is a good time to start making it a reality.
