

December 31, 1914.

Judge O. H. Pollard,
Jackson, Kentucky.

My dear Judge:

Replying to your letter of the 30th instant in reference to the two Noble suits and other claims by the same plaintiffs not yet in litigation, I have prepared an Agreement, Receipt and Release to be executed by the plaintiffs and same is herewith enclosed. I also enclose a voucher for $200.00 in settlement and a voucher receipt to be signed in the usual way. Of course, the settlement will be approved by the plaintiffs' attorneys and this I understand from your letter of the 30th instant has been arranged. It will be all right to make settlement at $200.00 with the stipulation that the costs be paid by the defendants.

Very truly yours,

encs.
