Freshman Will Tour With Horace Heidt

Next Broadcast Will Come From Oklahoma City

Jim Andy Caudill, a member of the UK radio studio band just a few weeks ago, last Sunday night reached the pinnacle of a successful career as a trumpet player.

Jim, a freshman music major from Ashland, was the winner of the first prize on the Horace Heidt Musical Talent Scout Show in Kansas City, Mo.

Before coming to UK Jim played in the Ashland High School Band, and was enrolled last semester at Morehead College. He is awarded a music scholarship at UK on the basis of an outstanding trumpet record. He won the Morehead Music Meet, the State Music Meet at Lexington, and a four-state music meet at Bloomington, Indiana.

His winning of the National Horace Heidt Musical Talent Scout Show in Kansas City, Mo., Sunday night was the climax of a winning streak. He will go on tour with the show and play every Sunday night until someone unseats him from the winner's spot.

The Horace Heidt show will be broadcast this Sunday night at 8:30 p.m. from Oklahoma City. Jim, who is 18, expects to re-enroll at UK when he completes his tour with the Heidt show. He is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity.

Language Proficiencies Offered March 28-30

The basic examination in Spanish, German, French, Italian, and Latin will be given March 28, 29, and 30. All students desiring to take the examination should sign up in Room 128, McVey Hall before March 27. This proficiency is required of students in the Arts and Science college before graduation, and should be taken as soon as possible.

Essay Awards Announced

The inauguration of two annual essay competitions, the Gertrude A. Jennings Award and the Alma Irene Jennings Award has been announced by the College of Commerce.

The awards of $25 will be given each spring before the Honors Day convocation. The Gertrude A. Jennings Award will be given for the best essay in American economic history and the Alma Irene Jennings Award for the best essay in European economic history.

Contestants, who may be from any college, must be enrolled in Economics 2 or Economics 3, or they must have successfully completed residence work in these courses during the fall semester preceding summer term. Those already enrolled in Economics 2 or Economics 3 must complete these courses during the past year must have been low-achievers at the time of enrollment.

The essay will be a minor research paper on some aspect of history since 1918. It will be at least 4000 words in length but not more than 5000. It will be adequately documented and an outline should accompany the paper. Contestants will select their own topics and submit them to the awards committee for approval.

Dinner To Honor Top UK Seniors

Outstanding seniors from the seven UK colleges will be honored at an Alumni Association Executive Committee dinner at 9:30 p.m. Monday in the Colonial Room of the Lafayette Hotel.

The seven students are Arlo W. Jayne, College of Law; Dorothy Smith, College of Agriculture and Home Economics; Janet Anderson, College of Arts and Sciences; Richard Pizman, College of Commerce; Wilbur Jamerson, College of Education; Russell Boushcamp, College of Engineering; and Robert H. Benton, College of Pharmacy.

The Student Government Association selected one senior from each college to attend the dinner. One of the seven students will be chosen by the Alumni Association as honorary member of the Alumni Executive Committee for the following year.

Eight To Attend Forensic Meeting

Eight UK students will leave Wednesday to attend a national forensics conference at Lincoln Memorial University, Harrogate, Tenn. The conference will begin Thursday and end on Saturday next week.

Student debaters from UK are George Credle, William Douglas, Sidney Neal, and Joe Malone. Students attending the conference are: Barbara Kendrick, Dorothy Neal, Robert Shearer, and James Harris.

Dr. Clifford Bytton, advisor of the UK chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha and regional governor for the Ohio-Kentucky region will also attend the conference.

Students will enter the extemporaneous speaking contest, and all students will participate in the Student Congress.

Applications Being Taken For Tri-Delt Scholarship

Applications for the $100 scholarship being offered by the Delta Delta Delta social sorority must be in the Dean of Women's office by March 19.

Any undergraduate woman student in good standing may apply for the scholarship. The application blanks may be obtained in the office of the Dean of Women.

Program Set For Glee Club This Sunday

Four-Part Show Features 45 Girls

The Music Department will feature the University Women's Glee Club in Memorial Hall at 8 p.m. Sunday. The Glee Club is made up of 45 girls who are for the most part non-music majors.

Helen Houdon Hamilton, director of the Glee Club, will be accompanied by Barbara Wesner, freshman, on the piano throughout the program.

Part one of the program will include "Alleluia" from Cantata No. 147 by Bach; "O Jesu Sea Sweet" by Bach; and "Sound the Trumpet" by Purcell.

In a short Cantata by Debussy, Phyllis Dean, junior, will take the solo part of the Blessed Damozel; Jo Anne Thomas, sophomore, will sing the solo part of the narrator; the third part of the program will include "Faithful Johnnie" by Beethoven; "Charlie is My Darling" by Beethoven; "Softly the Echo Ringing" by Bergecotte, arranged by Sornichetti; and "Hi, Ho Sing Gaily" by the Swiss arranger, Laurvas.

The last part of the program will be "A Lonely Forest Pathway" by Griffes; "We'll to the Woods, and Gather May" by Griffes; "A Blossom Falls" by Ravel; and "Love is the Wind" by Mitchell-Horowitz.

Foreign Study Applications Due

Dr. A. E. Bigge, head of the German Department, announced that applications for Fulbright Awards must be mailed not later than April 15. This competition is for the academic year 1952-53.

These awards, under the auspices of the Department of State and the Board of Foreign Scholarships, are designed for graduate students who desire to study abroad.

Approximately 70 awards for unilaterally lecturing and post-doctoral research will allow study in Australia, New Zealand, India, Pakistan, the Philippines, Burma, and Thailand.

For additional information, students may see Dr. Bigge at Room 303, Miller Hall, or write to Executive Secretary, Committee on International Exchange of Persons, Conference Board of Associated Research Councils, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D.C.

10 Kentucky High Schools In Drama Fest

Plays Will Be Presented Here Monday, Tuesday

The first State Drama Festival, sponsored by the Department of University Extension in cooperation with the Division of Dramatic Arts of the UK Department of English, will be held in the Guignol Theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

Ten Kentucky high schools, each of which won a Superior rating in a Regional Festival in February will take part.

Each school will be given one hour to stage and present a play. They will be judged by Prof. Wallace N. Britton, director of the Guignol Theatre.

Reward for the productions will be Superior, Excellent, and Good ratings. These ratings will not be announced until the night of the Ball. The dance will be the public tree of charge, a tea will be given on Monday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 o'clock in the Music Lounge of the Fine Arts Building.

Miss Chloé Gifford, assistant in University Extension, is in charge of arrangements for the festival. Schools participating are: On Monday, Murray, 9:30 a.m.; Stearns, 10:30 a.m.; Mayville, 11:30 a.m.; Phelps, 1:30 p.m.; Bony, 2:30 p.m.; and Morehead, 3:30 p.m. On Tuesday, Shelbyville, 10:00 a.m.; Lily, 11:00 a.m.; Lafayette, 1:30 p.m.; and Henry Clay, 2:30 p.m.

UK Students Represent U.S.

Four University students have been chosen by a state 4-H club committee to represent the United States in an international fair and youth-exchange program.

They are Sue Dossert, John Haller, Elnor Lorch, and Mary Jo Riffley. All are upper classmen in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

They were chosen from 31 other candidates by Arty Kay, and John Parrish, local club jockeys, and Mrs. E. J. Dossert, fair director.

The five finalists in the Queen contest, and their sponsoring organizations are Eleanor Gash, Alpha Delta Pi; Nancy Harris, Sigma Nu; Madge Barnett, Phi Sigma Kappa; Carolyn Carter, Boyd Hall, and Alice Stansbury, Kappa Alpha Theta.

They were chosen from 31 other candidates by Arty Kay, and John Parrish, local club jockeys, and Mrs. E. J. Dossert, fair director.

The students will be assigned to their country in Europe at a later date by the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington.

This is the third year that UK has taken part in the exchange. Last year, Rachel Johnson, Fay Sumpter, Bruce Cotton, and Dale Stahl were delegates. The previous year, Charles Bastin, Alice Wood, and James Shaffer were chosen.

Rachel Johnson, who visited Sweden last summer, spoke to the 4-H club Monday about her trip. Slides were shown in conjunction with the speech.

The rifle team, which recently elected Robert W. Treater its captain, has also qualified among the top teams in the Second Army area for the National Intercollegiate Match. In this match, which ends March 21, each school which has qualified in its area shoots at home during the whole month of March and its scores are then sent to national headquarters. Final results are announced a few weeks later.

Travel And Study Engineer Shortage Threatens National Defense Program

Travel and Study, Incorporated, an organization for study abroad, is planning a "Foreign Assignment" program for students of journalism, working journalists, and all others interested in contemporary Europe.

Students will observe current political, economic and social conditions of the various countries, and will visit the local press associations and newspaper offices. Radio journalism and visual media of information and its scores are then sent to national headquarters. Final results are announced a few weeks later.

This shortage of graduate engineers and other highly trained technical personnel is threatening the nation's defense efforts, Dean D. V. Terrell of the UK College of Engineering has warned.

More than 30 major defense industries, he disclosed, already have notified the country's engineering societies that the scarcity of technical manpower is steadily growing more acute.

This shortage, Dean Terrell said, is a result of the industry's ever-increasing demand for trained personnel, particularly since the outbreak of the Korean conflict last year, coupled with declining enrollment in the nation's 138 schools of engineering.

Chief reason for the current enrollment drop, the UK administrator said, is a mistaken impression among high school graduates that the engineering field is oversupplied.

In peacetime, Dean Terrell pointed out, U. S. industry requires at least 20,000 engineering graduates annually. During periods such as the present crisis, which military and government authorities estimate may continue for years, the minimum annual need is not less than 30,000.

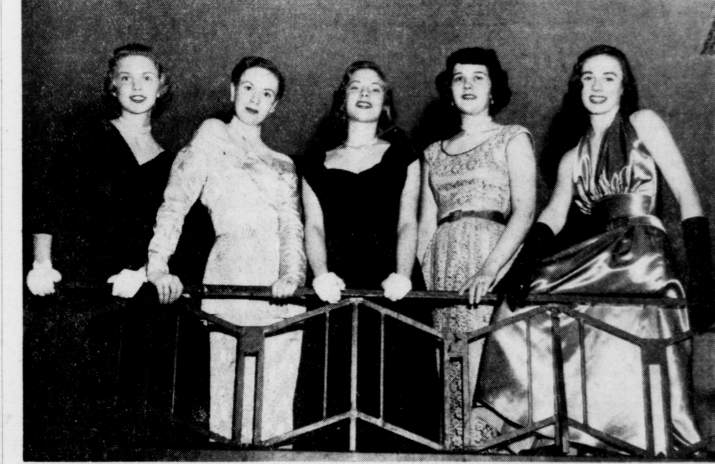

To obtain 30,000 engineering graduates yearly, he continued, it will be necessary to attract at least twice that number to enter freshmen classes because of the high percentage of drop-outs.

In 1941 he served as special master for the U. S. Supreme Court in the Kansas-Missouri Boundary dispute. He frequently served as state, county, or city chairman of the Democratic party on two occasions. He was active in the movement for the state's withdrawal from the Ku Klux Klan and worked hard in the successful effort to procure for Lexington its present city-manager form of government. Both Transylvania College and the University of Kentucky conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Queen Competition Narrowed To Five

Wearer Of Mardi Gras Tiara Will Be Disclosed At Dance

Elizabeth Foster Maxwell, of the Lexington Herald, is the official named Rex by Mayor Tom Mouser of Lexington.

Tickets for the Ball are $1.25 a person. They are on sale at the Student Union ticket booth all day today, and tomorrow until noon. Table reservations will be given to those groups of ten who purchase their tickets first. There will also be open tables for students not making reservations.

CORSAGES FOR THE MARDI GRAS are optional, and dress is costume or semi-formal. Prizes will be given to students wearing the most original costumes. Fraternities, sororities, and residence halls have entered contestants to represent their organizations in the costume contest. Trophies will be awarded the winners in the men's and women's divisions.

Entertainment for the Rex and his court will be furnished by Taneko Tsubaki, hula dancer; and H. H. Stout, singer featured in the Knights of Columbus Musical Revue. Dominic Fucci, UK football star, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Ceremony In Offing

The life of Judge Samuel Mackay Wilson and his remarkable book collection is the subject of the latest exhibition opening in the lower foyer of the Margaret I. King Library.

The display is the first step in an impressive dedicatory ceremony which will culminate in a reception in the Library's foyer on April 2 when the Librarian of Congress, Honorable Luther Evans, will deliver an address and Mrs. Samuel M. Wilson will present a portrait of her late husband.

Invitation to be issued to members of historical societies, friends of Judge and Mrs. Wilson, and friends of the University of Kentucky Libraries. The general public also will be welcome.

The exhibition, which occupies eight illuminated double wall cases and three floor cases, necessarily portrays only a few of the many activities and accomplishments of Judge Wilson. After his untimely death in October, 1946, the University of Kentucky Library was informed that it was the recipient of Judge Wilson's large and valuable collection of books, pamphlets, pictures, scrap-letters and other manuscripts. While the largest portion of the collection concerns particularly Presbyterianism generally, Kentucky authors and Kentucky letters and other matters connected with the personal correspondence of several generations of the Wilson and Shelby families.

Warm Weather Inside, Too!

This week's "Mailbox" brings a renewal of the old complaint about the overabundance of heat in some of the buildings on campus. Most of the gripes have centered about the library, which more than once has been likened unto a crematory.

A talk with Mr. E. B. Farris, UK's chief engineer, brought out some interesting facts about the University's heating system. The temperature in the library is kept higher than in most other buildings because of the complaints of those who work there all day.

It seems there are other factors to be considered besides thermometer readings. The residual heat of buildings varies and can cause a change in temperature. The kind of weather we've been having recently also presents a number of problems. A building such as the library is hard to cool once it's been well heated, and UK's temperature control is not automatic.

The Social Science Building is one of the most poorly-heated buildings on campus. In one room, students may feel they're sitting under a blast furnace, while just down the hall, they're shivering with their coats on. Mr. Farris points out that the Federal Government gave this building to the University just as it is and we didn't have much choice in the matter of its heating system.

The old and worn heating system in the Education Building explains why it is so often too hot there. Mr. Farris said that the scarcity of such materials as copper pipe would make it extremely difficult to replace this heating system even if the University granted funds for such a project.

Those who work in a building eight hours a day are more likely to be actively concerned with the temperature than those who come and go or stay only an hour or two. It is from these former persons that Maintenance receives most of its complaints. If the students would make their wishes known, they might succeed in getting the temperature lowered in the library. Mr. Farris is interested in getting student opinion on the matter.

If you think a certain building is too hot, you'll help Maintenance out by making your complaint to a department head at that building or to us. The Kernel welcomes your letters, and we promise that Maintenance will be informed of the results.

Good Future For Concerts

The University and the Community Concert and Lecture Association have come up with another group of top artists for next year's series at the Coliseum. The program seems to be especially noteworthy for the variety of subjects and types of performers it includes.

This year's series has been quite successful even though the Coliseum often was not filled to capacity. And now that the community has gotten through the pangs of acquiring concert manners, future programs should be even more enjoyable.

"Were there many at the library, dear?"

Dear Editor: The Mailbox

The Heat's On

During the two years I have spent at this University it has seemed to me that the temperature in the classrooms, study halls, library, and other buildings has been too high. This situation prompted me to make a study of temperatures. On second notice, I found the task not too easy as the only visible thermometers are in one building, the Library.

On 10 different dates I noted the temperature as indicated by the thermometers in the foyer of the first floor and in the Reference Room of the Library. The results of this brief study are as follows:
a. The thermometer in the first floor foyer is located just inside the entrance which is probably the coldest part of the foyer. Temperature readings on this thermometer ranged from 72 to 79 degrees. The arithmetic mean of the temperatures is 75.9 degrees.

b. The thermometer at the north end of the Reference Room the one closest to the windows which are frequently opened by fresh air friends such as myself, disclosed a range from 71 to 78 degrees. Based on these facts, I am of the opinion that the temperature in the rooms on the campus should be kept between 68 and 70 degrees; what do other students think?

Also, I believe students would be more alert if the rooms were cooler. There would be fewer students sleeping in class.
If the temperature is maintained at the suggested lower levels it would result in a much lower heating expense. The savings might even be used to finance repairs to the more dilapidated buildings on the campus.

This letter, or any part thereof, may be used for publication if you so desire. But, even if it is published, what then? A few people may read it, then shrug their shoulders and forget it. Will any action be taken? What can a lowly student such as I do?

Yours truly,
W. C.

Give Both Sons A Chance - Senior

I thoroughly agree with the letter from "Sentimental Senior" in last week's Kernel. It must be a source of embarrassment to University officials—and it should be to the students—that we must stumble pitifully through our "Alma Mater" as though we had never before heard it.
And it's entirely possible that many of the students haven't heard it. I remember an incident at a basketball game last year in old Alumni Gym, when the band played

Language Honorary Plans To Initiate Six

Phi Sigma Iota, Romance Language honorary society, will initiate six members at a meeting Thursday. Dr. Hobart Ryland, department head announced. The meeting will be held at 4 p.m. in Room 306, Miller Hall.
New members include Sally Broadwater, Crystal Masters, Nancy Doolittle, Sarah Haunier, Mrs. Kitty Underhill, and Mrs. Marie McCova.

Five Are Initiated By Agronomy Club

John W. Foster of the University Dairy Extension Department spoke to the Agronomy Club on "Dairy Pastures" Monday.
Five new members were initiated at the meeting. They were Walter Ross, Harold Richardson, Richard Peligo, Clyde Haymer, and John Wolf.

Why Not Athletics And Education, Too?

I found it extremely difficult to stomach the letter appearing in last week's Kernel deriding the emphasis on athletics at UK. Personally, I think "Student" should have his head examined, and if I had met up with him last Friday, I'm sure such an examination would have been necessary.
Imagine, a "loyal Kentuckian" saying that UK should "de-emphasize" because outsiders regard it as only a producer of outstanding athletes! I doubt that statement, and until "Student" produces some authority for his statements, I will refuse to believe them. And besides, if potential employers are looking for graduates from "weak sister" colleges I'm sure they can find many from the schools whom UK's teams play during the year.

I wonder if "Student" realizes the extent of the publicity given us by our athletic teams. Doesn't that knuckledragger know that without the feats of Alex Groves, Ralph Beard, and Company that the University of Kentucky wouldn't even be in the provincial map? Doesn't he think that the fact that people know about UK helps the graduates to procure positions?

Sure, we mustn't lower our educational standards or let up in our quest to improve them, but I think outstanding athletic teams and scholarship are compatible on the same campus, and I think that employers realize this. Personally, I'm for brains and victories too.

Clara-fying Campus Capers

By Clara Early
(These items in news to kernel office by 6 p.m. on Thursday.)
With a few days to recuperate from the SEC, the social picture jumps from sports to formals.

THE INTER-DORM DANCE in the SUB tonight is going to be one fine formal. It's easy to see from the picture of works on decorations that the girls are really going all out for a big dance.

THE MARDI GRAS BALL tomorrow night will feature formals, costumes, and the selection of Queen of the Dance. Tinker Bagary and his orchestra will furnish the music.

THE MOONLIGHT GIRL OF PHI SIGMA KAPPA will be chosen at their "Moonlight Girl Dance" tomorrow night at the Phoenix Hotel.

OMEGA CHAPTER OF PI KAPPA ALPHA social fraternity celebrated its 50th anniversary on campus, and held its annual Founders Day banquet Monday night at the Lafayette Hotel.

'Great Missouri Raid' New Film Features History Of The Famed James Boys

By Melvin Mitchell
The current cinema presents the rated "excellent" western, "The Great Missouri Raid" and the rated "good" romantic comedy, "Three Guys Named Mike."

'THE GREAT MISSOURI RAID' which is scheduled at the Ben Ali Theater March 11-14, is a case history that traces a career of banditry and bloodshed from its beginnings in Civil War bitterness to its growth into one of America's greatest crime sagas.

The story picks up the James brothers near the close of the Civil War as they try to secure Union amnesty for their guerrilla activities.

The star roles are acted by Wendell Corey as Frank James, and Macdonald Carey as Jesse James. Anne Revere, one of the supporting cast, deserves special attention in her excellent performance as the mother of the James boys.

The career and extra-curricular romantic activities of an airline stewardess, portrayed by Jane Bryan, is the summation of the comedy "THREE GUYS NAMED MIKE."

The story presents the Tom, Dick, and Harry complications; but in this case they are Mike as the title indicates. The casting of Mike includes Van Johnson, Howard Keel, and Barry Sullivan.

The production is a fast-moving narrative. Some of the sequences are rather fat-fetched at times, but it doesn't really matter because the whole picture has an air of good humor.

As a whole, "Three Guys Named Mike" which is to be shown at the Kentucky March 9-15, is interesting and pleasant. As quoted from the Movie Herald, a trade magazine, "The film is suited perfectly for family entertainment."

Local Camera Club Plans Slide Showing
The Lexington Camera Club, under the chairmanship of Mr. Victor Portman, will present a "Color Night" program to be held next Thursday, 8 p.m., in the Fine Arts Building.

Two slides in each of the following categories will be shown: (1) People and animals, 2. Nature and scientific closeups, and 4. Miscellaneous color. (Prints) 1. Color processed, and 2. Hand colored. College Of Pharmacy
RX NOTES
By Eugene Miller

The Kappa Phi fraternity announces the following recently initiated active members: James McKenna, Robert Goram, William Chance, Leonard C. Stamper, Edward Holt, Thomas Kemp, Steley Rogers, Harold Smallhouse, Vernon Winkle, and Willard Wilson. Robert Kimball planned the initiation arrangements.

The College of Pharmacy's basketball team has won the YMCA league championship in Louisville. Several weeks ago the team left for Lexington to participate in the YMCA tournament. Dean E. P. Stone and members of the student council supported the team and with their aid made it possible for the team to participate in the tournament. The student council also voted funds with which to purchase new white jerseys, and to pay for meals and rooms while in Lexington.

CLASS RINGS CAN now be ordered. Mr. James Fette, president of the A. Ph. A. and representative of the Ballou Company, is now taking orders for class rings in the book store. The price is $86, including tax.

Mr. E. Miranda is now employed as an apprentice-pharmacist at the Medical Arts Prescription Shop at Fountain Broadway in Louisville.

The Phi Delta Chi fraternity held a formal dinner for its members and guests at the Cherokee Lake Inn on George Washington's birthday. Later the same evening the student branch of the A. Ph. A. held an informal dance at the Henry Clay Hotel.

Mr. Carl Ledendecker, former UK student, is now employed as a salesman for the Central Pharmaceutical Company in Seymour, Indiana. Bill Johnson, also a former student, is working in the Biological Department of the same firm.

THE NUMBER OF ANTI-BIOTICS now totals 141, starting with actidione and ending with Xg, according to a list prepared by Dr. A. L. Baron of the research division of the S. B. Penick Company. Of the 141 antibiotics listed by Dr. Baron, seven so-called basic ones are now commercially available. These are penicillin, streptomycin, chloromycetin, tetracycline, bacitracin, tyrothricin and terramycin. Walter J. Dorenberg, trade-mark counsel of the U.S. Patent Office, also gives a list of 80 antibiotic trade-marks registered or to be registered as of May 1, 1950. The information on trade-marks and certification is given in Dr. Baron's "Handbook of Antibiotics," just published by Reinhold Publishing Company.

Mr. Marvin Berry, of the Junior class, will be wed today to Miss Bonnie Lou Holtzlow at the Carlisle Avenue Baptist Church.

Tau Beta Pi Selects 18 Engineer Members
Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honorary fraternity, tapped 18 new members yesterday.

The initiates are Louis Frank, M. Brown, Holoway Fields, T. E. Miller, W. O. Griffin, J. A. Crawford, Bob Whit, G. S. Mathis, R. F. Field, B. P. Romanowicz, P. M. Chang, C. N. Howard, W. D. Burton, W. W. Borling, C. J. Sparks, R. C. Arnold, R. H. Bryner, and D. E. Wilson.

An informal initiation will be held in the SUB at 5 p.m. next Thursday. A banquet will follow at 8:30, after which Prof. James M. Schreyer, of the Chemistry Department, will give a talk entitled "Scientists Are Human."

UK Team To Debate West Pointers Here

West Point Military Academy will conduct a debate with the UK debate team at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the Fine Arts Building.

UK debaters will be Sidney Neal, and Joe Mainous. They will argue on the negative side. The two West Point students will argue on the affirmative.

The subject of the debate is Resolved: That the non-Communist nations should form a new international organization.

The debate is open to all students, and there is no admission charge.

22 ROTC Cadets Will Receive Badges

Distinguished Military Student Badges will be presented to 22 Ground Force ROTC students at four o'clock this afternoon by Dr. H. L. Donovan, President of the University. Presentation will be in the Barker Hall armory.

These cadets, who have been designated Distinguished Students because of their academic standing, leadership ability, and aptitude for military science, are all fourth year ROTC students. Eight have been offered commissions as second lieutenants in the Regular Army, effective in June, and six intend to apply for Regular Army commissions in 1952.

Exhibition Planned By Kentucky Artists

The "Annual Exhibition by Artists of Lexington and Central Kentucky" will be held April 1-21 in the Gallery of the Fine Arts Building.

Prof. Edward W. Hannels, head of the Department of Art, announced that any artist in the Bluegrass area may submit as many as five entries, either paintings, prints, or sculptures. There is no entrance fee and entry blanks will be mailed on request. Entries should be delivered to the Gallery by March 24.

An out-of-town juror will select the works to be included in the exhibition.

Bacteriology Worker 'Mothers' Quadruplets

Miss Renee Gordon, secretary to Dr. Morris Scheraga, head of the Department of Art, recently became the happy mother of quadruplets.

The surprising thing about it all, however, is that she didn't even know it until "Scotty" Rothwell, secretary to Dr. J. M. Eddy, head of the Zoology Department, happened to notice the quadruplets in Miss Gordon's office and informed her of her responsibilities.

The quadruplets are four baby puppies, offspring of Miss Gordon's two pet puppies. Groups, incidentally, are small tropical fish whose young are born direct, not coming from eggs.

Her problem now is deciding on a nursery for her new charges. There were no witnesses to the blessed event.

75 YEARS OF TELEPHONE SERVICE

On the evening of March 10, 1876, on the top floor of a boarding house in Boston, the telephone carried its first intelligible sentence.

It seemed like a miracle to our grandparents and great-grandparents. Yet today, the telephone is a part of our everyday living. And that is the real miracle - the fact that the telephone has come to mean so much to so many people in so many ways.

The telephone is an indispensable tool of business and government - today's tremendous job of production and defense could not be carried on without it. It serves in minor emergencies and great ones. It helps maintain family and community ties. And it keeps right on growing and improving.

Never in the history of the telephone has it been so valuable to so many people as right now.

'Shipwreck' Is In Town

Kelly, Now Recovering From Operation, Was Athlete Who Needed No Press Agent

By Ed Coffman and Dorman Cordell "Shipwreck" Kelly, one of the most colorful athletes in UK's history, is recovering from an operation at St. Joseph's Hospital. Doctors say that his condition is "good."

Kelly, who bears the Christian name of John, was a star on the gridiron in 1929, 1930, and 1931. Although he was a big boy over six feet tall and weighing around 180 pounds, he was famed as a seat back. He also lettered in track three years. He set the UK record for the 100 yard dash with a 9.6 second sprint.

The native of Springfield, Ky., was not noted for his playing ability while in high school. As a freshman at the University he did not even make the team. It was not until the '38 season was almost completed that Kelly attracted the attention of the coaches.

IT SEEMS THAT the freshman team had scheduled a game with KMI. Only the second team made the trip. Kelly went wild in this game. The next week the freshman squad took on Centre. Kelly and his teammates were up to the first fence made touchdowns the first two times he handled the ball.

Bertie Shively, athletic director, who coached Kelly, remarked, "Everything he did on the football field was spectacular. He was the outstanding player on some good teams. He was alternate captain of the football team his last year."

During a track meet at Cincinnati an anecdote about Kelly. "Once we were at a track meet in Atlanta. A few of the boys and I were walking back to the hotel when Kelly stopped and looked in the show window of a Fackard dealer. 'Wait a minute' he said and he walked into the place. A few minutes later he came Kelly driving out of the place with the dealer and a new Fackard. He told us to hop in. When we got to the hotel, Kelly and the rest of us jumped out. It seems that he had asked the dealer to demonstrate the car for him."

"HE STILL PULLS THINGS LIKE THAT," Shively went on. "At the Florida meet of year before last, Kelly flew in from the Bahamas for the game. His pilot got lost on the way, and as a result, they didn't make it until about five minutes before game time. He didn't have a ticket and the game had been sold out for five months, but that didn't stop 'Shipwreck.' He grabbed a satchel, walked up to the gate keeper and told him that he was in the Kentucky squad's physician. The officer not only let him in but he gave him an escort to the Kentucky stadium."

Kelly was never bashful about anything he did. He wasn't exactly consoled — he just told people what he was going to do and did it. Miss Helen King, secretary of the Alumni Association and a close friend of Kelly's, said, "Shipwreck" would never let you down. When he told somebody he would do something on the football field, he did it."

Ralph Johnson, who is now photographic editor of the Associated Press in Atlanta, was sports editor of the Kernel during Kelly's senior year. Johnson was on the campus this week and said, "Kelly would have been right alongside Red Grange as a great football player, but Kentucky was just a small school, so he never had any publicity like they have today."

KELLY MADE HIS own publicity; he was a colorful off the field as on it. Tall, dark and handsome, Kelly wore clothes like an Equire model, and was the object of admiration of all the girls. Of course, some people didn't like "Shipwreck" because he was never self-offending.

Children always went right to "Shipwreck's" heart during his days as an athlete. He loved to play sandlot ball with all the kids. Kelly had a great sense of humor. He was the subject of a minor feud between the Cincinnati student paper and the Kernel. Kelly was scheduled to run against two outstanding Cincinnati athletes in the 220-yard dash. One was a Japanese student who had run in the Olympic Games.

Before the meet, Kelly didn't even warm up. He lay in the grass behind the track in his sweat clothes, playing mumble-peg with several children who were at the meet. The first call for the 220-yard dash came. Kelly didn't budge. He just kept on playing mumble-peg. The second call came, and finally the children helped him pull off his sweat clothes, and he ran to the track.

KELLY LINED UP with his famed opponents, and the race began. At the end of the dash, Kelly was so fat that he was looking back over his shoulder and laughing at the Japanese. The other Cincinnati star didn't finish the race.

Since Kelly's freshman days, he has been in "Shipwreck" Kelly came to Lexington to sit atop a downtown stand and break the record. Griffin liked the name of "Shipwreck," he called Kelly by it in a newspaper column.

Practically the entire Kentucky football team rested on Kelly's shoulders. In fact, practically the entire Kentucky track team rested on his shoulders. When Kelly didn't score a touchdown or two in a game or unleash a run for about 50 yards, he had a bad day, literally speaking. Kelly usually scored about one-fourth to one-third of Kentucky's points in each track meet. He ran the 100-yard dash in 9.9, he ran the 220-yard dash, brood jumped, and threw the javelin.

WHEN HE GRADUATED in 1932, "Shipwreck" was not drafted by any professional football team only because Kentucky was unheard of by anybody outside of Kentucky. Kelly had done the practically impossible for a Kentucky athlete of making honorable mention All-American three years. "Shipwreck" decided to play professional football, so he went to New York, went to the Giants training grounds, and announced himself as a candidate.

The Giants coaches didn't exactly welcome him with open arms, but when the opening game came around, Kelly was a first-string half-back. He played two or three games with the Giants and got sick.

The next year, "Shipwreck" and "Red" Gable, of Army fame, bought the Brooklyn Dodgers football team. The following year, Kelly bought out Gable's share of the team. After four years of ownership, he sold the Dodgers to Sonja Henie.

"Shipwreck" served with the P.B.I. in World War II. Kelly and his wife, Brenda Frazier, New York debutante and heiress, live at Nassau in the Bahamas now. Mrs. Kelly is in Lexington while "Shipwreck" is in the hospital.

Jest Knappin'

By Paul Knapp

Since last Friday I have heard many comments on the subject that a few of the jokes have been difficult to figure out. Maybe it's because these individuals insist on reading this column with the same speed and lack of attention which they devote to their text book assignments. Of course you can't expect collegiate level jokes to be as easy to grasp as a laboratory class in sociology. Now that the University has a class right out in the open entitled "Marriage and the Family" it's no longer the subject at hand, which leads to the present suggestion that we make with the humor (and I use the term loosely).

Bus Driver: "All right back there?" Feminine Voice: "No, wait 'til I get my clothes on."

There's the guy who wouldn't buy his girl a parcel—he told her steady stairs instead.

A professor, coming to one of his classes a little late, found a most uncomplimentary caricature of himself drawn on the board. Turning to the student nearest him, he angrily inquired, "Do you know who is responsible for that atrocity?" "No, sir, I don't," replied the student, "but I strongly suspect his parents."

He was seated in the parlor and he said unto the light: "Either you or I, old fellow. I'll be turned down tonight."

After a long fatiguing evening the young man, whose affectionate advances had been resisted, finally succeeded in stealing a goodnight kiss. "That's your reward for being a gentleman," the girl murmured. "Reward?" scolded the young man. "That's just workman's compensation."

"Well, so Lottie Brown is engaged, you say? That proves what I've always said — that a matter how plain and disagreeable a girl is, there's always a simpoleon ready to marry her. Who's the idiot?"

"Next to a beautiful girl, what do you consider the most beautiful thing in the world?" "When I'm next to a beautiful girl, who worries about statistics?"

Cagers Meet Loyola Tuesday

UK Seeks Revenge For Vandy Loss In SEC Tournament

By Lewis Donohoe

A chance to regain some of the prestige it lost due to its defeat in the Southeastern Conference tournament will be offered Kentucky Tuesday night when the Wildcats take on Loyola of Chicago's Ramblers in Memorial Coliseum.

Although the Cats lost little of the esteem of Kentucky fans when they were beaten by Vanderbilt, they will have several strong reasons for wanting to dump the Ramblers. Chief among these is the fact that they are still burning inside because of their ignominious dumping, and not far behind is the fact they were upset by Loyola in the quarterfinals of the National Invitational Tournament two years ago.

Coch John Jordan's Ramblers had won 14 of 27 contests through Wednesday night. One more game (with DePaul last night) remained on the Loyola schedule before its meeting with Kentucky. Tuesday night the Chicago five edged Valparaiso, 69-67.

Jordan, who will succeed Ed Moore, Krane as Notre Dame coach next year, said this week he thought his team had a good chance of upsetting the Cats.

The Loyola squad is composed chiefly of sophomores and juniors. Following the Loyola game, Kentucky will travel to Raleigh, N. C., for its first game in the NCAA tournament, March 10.

Spivey Named Top Player In UP Sportscasters' Poll

By Don Armstrong

According to results of a United Press poll of the nation's sports writers and radio broadcasters announced this week, Kentucky's Bill Spivey was the top-ranking collegiate basketball player.

Eighty-five per cent of the ballots cast placed Kentucky's "Grits" as either the first or the second best player in the nation for 1950-51. It's a double compliment coming from the same wire service that generally under-ranks Kentucky in comparison to the Associated Press polls.

In early-week press polls, Kentucky was rated just above Oklahoma A&M by the Associated Press and just below the Aggies by the United Press. They were expected to move up to first place in both rating systems, however, by the end of the week.

The Aggies, expected to advance along with Kentucky, to the final of the NCAA tournament, were upset by Detroit, 62-52, just after the close of voting in the press association polls.

In Tuesday night's game, Kentucky is expected to start Walt Hirsch and Shubby Linnville at forwards, All-American Bill Spivey at center, and Frank Ramsey and Bobby Watson at guards.

was also the game's high point man, though playing only 27½ minutes. Perhaps the highlight of this season for Spivey was his performance against Xavier last month in the Coliseum when he established a floor record and tied his own SEC record of 48 points. The spire played all over the floor that night, rebounding under both baskets, and hit from way out and close in.

Spivey has hit almost 40 per cent of his shots this season and has scored 545 points in the 28 games in which he has played. He missed the first SEC tourney contest with a sore throat, watching from the bench as his mates won easily.

With at least two more games on the Cat card, Spivey should surpass his last season's mark of 578 points in 30 games for an average of 19.3 per game. The Blue team meets Loyola here Tuesday and an undecided opponent in the NCAA play-offs at Raleigh on March 20.

Coach Outlines Baseball Outlook

Schedule Released For 1951 Season Lists 20 Games

Spring weather is here, for a few days, at least, and the Wildcat baseball team has taken to the great outdoors.

About 25 boys are practicing regularly, according to Coach Harry Lancaster. Until Still Field is ready for diamond play the team will be working out at Legion Field on South Broadway, across from the Pickadilly golf course.

"We have three pitchers who are shaping up as starters now," said Lancaster. "But we will need about six." The diamond member singled out the work of Jack Drury, C. M. Newton, and Guy Strong as good enough to fill starting roles by March 31 when the Cats travel to Vanderbilt to open the season.

Other hurlers showing possibilities for starting roles are Don Sullivan and George Collins. One main problem looms in any event, however, because all of the pitchers Lancaster mentioned are right-handers. Walt Hirsch, ruled ineligible for the NCAA basketball tourney, will probably be used as a pitcher when a schedule is needed. He was originally slated to play first base.

"The infield looks fair," the coach continued. "Jose Campos, a Puerto Rican, Ben Terrell, and Tom Whisman are doing pretty well. There seemed to be a healthy number of catchers who will be ready for the Vandy trip. In addition to All-American Dom Pucci, the work of Harry Sille, Jack Dutton, and Jim Weneker merited the plaudits of Lancaster.

Most of the outfield, veterans Allen Hamilton and Ben Zaranka are cast on his hand after an operation to cure an old injury. He may not see much action during the early season. The cast will be removed sometime around March 20. Lancaster said.

Should the conference decide to make freshmen eligible Bill Evans and Gene Neff could help a great deal with the outfielding. Evans can also pitch.

"Anyone expecting to come out for baseball this season," said Coach Lancaster, "unless he is a holdover from last year in basketball or football, will have to come up by this Monday." The Cat coach also wanted to emphasize that all positions are open.

Kentucky's baseball schedule for 1951 lists 20 games, 16 of which are within conference foes:

March 30, 31—Vanderbilt, there April 2, 3—Georgia, there April 6, 7—Vanderbilt, here April 11, 12—Georgia, here April 14, 15—Georgia Tech, here April 20—Centre, here April 21—Cincinnati, there April 28—Centre, there May 4, 5—Tennessee, here May 11, 12—Georgia Tech, there May 14, 15—Georgia Tech, here played at Legion Field, in all probability, because of football practice on Still Field. A new SEC ruling concerning schedules has been met by this date. The conference law requires a minimum of 16 conference games and a maximum of four games with one opponent.

The championship will be decided upon by percentage standings at the end of 10 minutes Vandy led again 15-14.

With 15 minutes gone in the half Spivey had led the floor at the half with a 30-26 lead.

Kentucky came back after the half and appeared on its way to wrapping up the game. But Bob Smith broke free for a crisp with 1:40 left and that was the clincher. Vandy from the ball for the rest of the game.

Spivey was high scorer for the Cats with 31 points on eight field goals and five free tosses. Shelby Vandy from the ball for the rest of the game.

Vanderbilt had four men to hit the double figures in scoring. Smith had 15 points, Southwood had 14, Kardoski had 13 and Heidman 11. Kentucky hit on 24 of 87 shots for a poor 27.6 per cent.

The Sad Story

Wildcats Beaten By Vanderbilt's Commodores In Finals Of Conference Tournament, 61-57

By Fred Lawson
Assistant Sports Editor

Vanderbilt found out that the third time is the charm!

For the first time in history Vanderbilt reached the final of a Southeastern Conference tournament and it took advantage of the opportunity to upset Kentucky 61-57 and win its first SEC tournament championship.

To make the upset even more startling was the fact that the Wildcats had walked Vandy twice during the regular season, 74-49 and 89-51.

But Saturday night the Commodores were a strong fighting ball club. They showed great courage by coming from behind five, nine, and 10 points deficits to score the upset.

On the other hand the Cats were definitely off form. They missed tips, lay-ups and set shots. Their passes were going astray and their plays were being broken up. It seems they couldn't buy a basket the last few minutes of play.

The score changed hands 11 times and the count tied four times in the thriller. But Vandy got hot when counted, in the last half. The Commodores hit a sensational 42½ per cent of their shots in the second half. During this half the Cats had only a 27.6 per cent.

Both teams had the same number of field goals—24. But Vandy made 13 of 20 free throws and the Cats connected on nine of 18.

Vandy held a short-lived 2-0 lead, but the Cats went ahead, 8-5, then push shot and added a free toss to make it 30-33.

Kardoski knotted the score at 35-35 and Southwood hit on a punt shot to put Vandy ahead to stay.

George Kelley made good on two free throws making the count 58-53 with 3:10 left. Spivey closed up the gap with a rebound but Bob Smith broke free for a crisp with 1:40 left and that was the clincher. Vandy from the ball for the rest of the game.

Hamilton and Fucci Chosen Captains Of Baseball Team

Allen Hamilton and Dom Fucci will captain the 1951 baseball team, it was announced this week by Coach Harry Lancaster.

For the past two seasons the pair have formed an important cog in the Wildcat diamond machine. Both players will be putting in their last season for UK this spring.

In the Baseball Coaches Assn. association chose Fucci on its all-American team, the first time such a squad had been picked. That year he performed as catcher and batted .315 to help lead the squad in the department. The New Village, N. J. team had lined up in right field, during the 1950 season and only occasionally saw action as a catcher.

Last year Fucci hit 321 in games through SEC play-offs, and was chosen on the All-District nine of the NCAA. He can hit for the fences, or poke short hits just over the fence, which makes him doubly dangerous.

Hamilton, the chunky left fielder from Louisville, was the squad's leading home run getter last season. A Jean being thrown due to a slump at the plate, 207, wasn't indicative of his value to the team as a player. Han's long ball hitting came in handy several times last year when he broke up several games in the late innings. During Fucci's big year in '49, Hamilton was far from idle with a .346 hitting average.

State Stars

By Joe Howard

Jim Hutchins of Lafayette is a lad who certainly deserves recognition. This fiery little guard has been an important cog in the wheel of success for Lafayette all season long. Jim was on Lafayette's last two State Tournament teams. He can burn the nets from any point on the floor and plays a bang up, defensive game. Hutchins has been very consistent with his all-around good play and is exceptionally cool in the clutch. He has topped the scoring column on numerous evenings in the past campaign. At all times you can count on this little fireball to turn in a top-notch performance. Jim is a good bet to show up on the All-State team when the honor team is announced. This boy has the makings of a good college basketball player and should prove himself.

Linville Puckett of Clark County High is another fine little guard who can't be forgotten when speaking of good high school basketball players. This boy has led the Cardinals to another successful season and in his final year has turned in perhaps his best performance of his career. Puckett has led the scoring for his team all season and with his all-around ability has made the Cardinals a serious contender for the high school crown. He is another of the boys that pick no special spot for his shots as he can pour them in from any angle. Several other members of Puckett's family have starred for Clark County and then gone on to prove their worth to college teams and this boy is no exception to his predecessors and should go on displaying his wares for a college team.

Bob Hardy of Paducah Tighman is another guard who possesses much ability. Bob now in his final year for the Tornados has given a very good account of himself night after night this season. He is aggressive and always on his toes. Hardy is a top scorer and lets very few things slip by while on defense. He has been on two State Tournament teams and has come through in fine style on both occasions. Hardy has a dead eye for the basket and has a very good one-handed punch about him as a pressure player and never gives up. He is a good play maker and floor man and then goes to settle a team and end a good leader. Bob has possibilities to develop into a good college ball player.

I-M Deadlines Are Set For 3 Events Friday

Next Friday will mark the time when the I-M deadline will fall in three events. Entries will be due in badminton, singles and doubles, and bowling.

Badminton play is scheduled to get underway March 28 and will be conducted in Alumni Gym with the I-M department furnishing all equipment.

Bowling will begin March 19 at the Wildcat Lanes, located on East Third Avenue across from the football practice field. Entry blanks for both sports should be turned in at the intramural office.

Also, ping-pong doubles play will get going Monday in the basement of the gym. I-M Director William McCubbin requests that all team managers check over their entry lists to make sure the names of participants are correct.

Lack of time caused postponement of the ping-pong doubles earlier in the school year.

Block And Bridge Club Will Recognize Teams

The Block and Bridge banquet is to be held at 6 p.m. Monday, March 19 in the Home Economics Building. Arnold Taylor, club president, said the livestock judging team and most judging team are to be recognized.

Members of Phi Upsilon Omicron, girl's home economics honorary, will serve at the banquet. Sixty guests are expected to attend. The banquet speaker has not been announced.

Champs Still In First In SBL Competition

The Champs took three games from Beta Sigma Rho this week to strengthen their hold on first place in the Students Bowling League at the Wildcat bowling lanes.

In other contests the Phi Tau took a pair of pin meets from the Handicappers and moved into second place. The Alpha Six won two from Delta Chi and Local 542 took three games from the Bulldozers by a forfeit.

Danny Wash of the Champs had high game and high series of the week with totals of 210, 218, and 225 for a 653 mark.

Other men rolling 200 or over were Boller, 213; Kane, 210; Eton, 201 and Ryan, 208; Shelton, 207, and Peters, 200.

Two more members are needed for the league. All students are eligible for competition. Students wishing to join the league may contact Wash or Bill Eton. The standings:

Fine Arts Exhibition Features Faculty Art

The "Faculty Art Exhibition Southeastern State University" is being shown in the Fine Arts Building until March 24. States represented in the exhibition are Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Virginia.

This exhibition, consisting of 29 pieces, has been on the road since Oct. 11, and will end May 31. Prof. Clifford Amey, Dord Pitt, and Raymond Barnhart represent UK in this exhibition.

Wildcats Lose

Vanderbilt connected on 24 of 73 shots for 22.9 per cent. Kentucky 82, Georgia Tech 56.—Kentucky used most of its reserves in walloping Georgia Tech 82-56 to coast into the SEC finals. It was the fifth time the Wildcats have gained the finals in the Conference tourney.

Bill Spivey collected 15 points in the first half to help the Cats run away from Tech. Spivey added four points in the second half to take the scoring honors with 19 points. Joe Kenner, Tech forward, scored nine points in each half to lead the Engineer scoring.

Kentucky was pressed only for the first five minutes. At this point the Cats led 10-7. The score was 32-16 after 12 minutes and at the half the Wildcats led 48-26.

After the half the Cats widened the lead to 56-31 and when the reserves came in for the last 12 minutes the lead was 91-31.

Behind Spivey in the scoring was Lou Taboropoulos with 14. Linville Hagan, 11 and Cliff Hagan, 10.

Kentucky connected on 32 of 96 attempts for a 33.3 average. Tech hit on 19 of 74 for a 25.7 per cent.

The Wildcats had an easy time of moving into the semi-finals by taking an 84-54 victory over out-of-classmate Auburn.

Cliff Hagan led the Cats' scoring for the first time this season by pouring through 25 points. He was followed by Bill Spivey with 23 and Capt. Walt Hirsch with eight.

Kentucky 84, Auburn 54.—The Wildcats won 12 each. Hagan and George Langford with passed. Hagan and George Langford with 12 each.

Both teams played slowly with their shooting erratic. But the Cats started rolling and midway of the half led 48-26.

In the first 10 minutes of the second half Auburn outscored the Cats 19-17 and the score stood at 64-45. Once again the Wildcats started clicking and moved out in front 70-48.

Here Coach Rupp started a Cliff Hagan over out-of-classmate Kentucky had a 33 per cent shooting average. Auburn wound up with 19 and 23 points.

Kentucky 82, Mississippi State 78.—Kentucky opened up in its opening 13 and Don Hill and George Langford substituted and they were the big guns in the Kentucky attack.

Tournament Reporter Gives SEC Sideshots, Sidelights

By Fred Lawson

These are some things that I remember from the SEC Tournament in Louisville last week:

The Wildcats slowly leaving the floor after they had been upset in the final game. They were a heart-broken and gloomy bunch of boys.

On the other end of the floor the Vandy team was going wild. As the final horn blew the substitutes rushed onto the floor and threw their arms around the winners. Then they put Coach Bob Falk on their shoulders and carried him off the floor.

Kentucky had most of the fans in the Army in their corner. The crowd lived and died with every shot in the final 10 minutes.

Vanderbilt had more spectators than usual pulling for them all through the tourney. The reason was because five of the Vandy players came from just across the river in Indiana.

Two of the Indiana boys played a big part in the upset of the Cats. Dave Kardokus and Gene Southwood are from Evansville. Also Coach Poik is from the same city. Jack Heidman is from Jasper.

The official All-Southeastern Conference team as selected Saturday night listed Walt Hirsch, Frank that such contests would continue after his death. He interested himself continuously in the preservation and memorialization of historically important persons and sites, and he wrote constantly on subjects concerned with the history of this state.

The renown of his growing collection of books and manuscripts assumed a fabulous status among bibliophiles; and his delightful annual book party for a group of his friends, whom he organized into "Ye Cakes and Ale Club," was among the social highlights of the year.

VISITORS AT HIS OFFICES in a local bank building were assured to see the thousands of book catalogues, scholarly periodicals, books and pamphlets which covered most of the furniture and much of the floor space in his public and private offices. The collection overflowed into the basement of that building; and at his home, "Landover," the books spread from the main library into specially constructed shelves in almost every room, and into attic and cellar, as well.

It was not until the prohibition of his will late in 1946 that the public and many of his closest friends learned that the University of Kentucky Library had been chosen to administer his collection in order to

Book Prizes Awarded To 13 Law Students

Thirteen law students have been awarded book prizes for outstanding work last semester in the Law College. The books are given to the student with the highest grade in each course.

The recipients are: James C. Blair, Private Corporations; Sidney Neal, Constitutional Law; Robert C. Moffat, Contracts; Myer S. Tulloff, Equity; Ben Forman, Evidence; Dempsey Cook, Labor Law; Henry Watson, Municipal Corporations; William S. Tribble, Pleading; Charles C. Adams, Public Utilities; James V. Marcum, Sales; James C. Blair, Taxation; Truesdell C. Smith and Clarence L. Watt, Practice Court.

Harry Rabenhorst, Coach of Louisville State University, wore a hat during all the games his team played. Don't know if he was wearing a superstitious or just that he likes to wear a hat. He has been at LSU for 29 years.

The quickest four points took place in the Tech-Tulane game. After Tulane scored, Tech guard Unstead passed the length of the floor to Joe Keefer for an easy shot. On the following play Al Wick, Tulane guard, passed all the way up to Mel Payton under the Tech goal for another quick two points.

In the Auburn game Hagan jumped center at the Kentucky free throw circle. He tapped the ball to Spivey who turned, bounced the ball once, and rammed the ball down the basket.

At the tournament each player was introduced before the game, along with the coach. But in the Kentucky-Georgia Tech game the announcer forgot to introduce Coach Rupp. After the National Anthem Coach Rupp was recognized.

Even in losing the Cats set some new records for tourney play. The Wildcats reached the finals for the 13th time for one record and almost every room, and into attic and cellar, as well.

The 162 points by Kentucky and Mississippi State set a new total point record. In this game they also had 119 field-goal attempts for a new mark.

Mississippi State scored 70 points on the Cats, the most points scored against the Wildcats, this season.
