DR. OTIS A. SINGLETARY President, University of Kentucky

The University of Kentucky has become one of the major institutions of higher learning in the United States under the leadership of Dr. Otis Singletary, the eighth president of the University.

Dr. Singletary was named president of the University in August, 1969. He had previously served as executive vice-chancellor for academic affairs in the University of Texas System and director of the Job Corps program for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Dr. Singletary, a native of Gulfport, Miss., holds degrees from Millsaps College and Louisiana State University.

As president of the principal institution of higher learning in the Commonwealth, Dr. Singletary is greatly concerned with the University's role as a land-grant institution, a "people's university" accessible to all who can profit from education.

In the nine years he has been president, the University has grown to where there are now more than 22,000 students on the Lexington campus and more than 17,000 students in UK's 13 community colleges, and the University has become one of the major research institutions in the country.

Recognition of his service to the University was evidenced by the UK Alumni Association, which presented to Dr. Singletary its Alumni Service Award—an honor rarely bestowed upon a non-alumnus of the University.

Dr. Singletary is the author of two books and several monographs.

A Navy veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict, he is a commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve. He and Mrs. Singletary, the former Gloria Walton, have three children: Bonnie, Scot and Kendall.

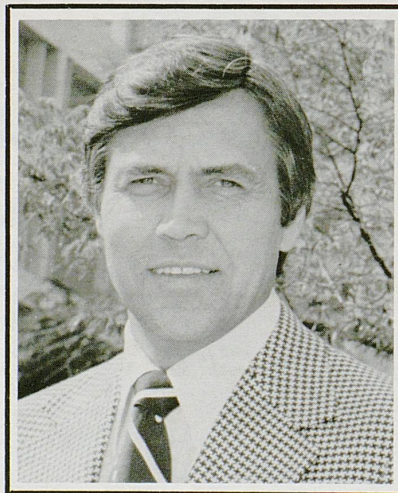

The Singletarys live at Maxwell Place, traditional home of UK presidents.

Athletics Department

CLIFFORD O. HAGAN Director

Expansion of the football training room and addition of a beautiful player's lounge at Shively Sports Center, new carpeting in the stadium football offices, a new basketball office complex in Memorial Coliseum, re-arrangement of the baseball fences and a new surface for the running track are just a few of the recent improvements that signify the continuing progress of UK athletics since Cliff Hagan joined the Wildcat Staff seven years ago.

Recognized nationally as a progressive, business-oriented and promotion-minded administrator, Hagan has seen and overseen vast improvements in all phases of an ever-expanding operation that has encompassed 16 sports since the men's and women's programs were merged in July of last year.

The merger, under Hagan's direction, has been orderly, with office space remodeled and in some cases created to make room for the women's coaching and administrative staff.

The indoctrination of Hagan into the UK athletics administrative structure came in 1972, when he was named assistant to Harry C. Lancaster and given the task of implementing the Blue & White Fund for 57,600-seat Commonwealth Stadium and later for Rupp Arena. The fruits of his labors in this area have provided the additional financial support that has elevated the UK athletics program into a first class operation.

Hagan was named Athletics Director in July 1975 following Lancaster's retirement.

Hagan also has been an advocate of a strong scholar-athlete program, feeling "a genuine commitment to provide all the academic support and encouragement we can to help our athletes leave our campus with a college education and a degree."

On the personal side, Hagan received one of his highest individual honors last May when he became the first University of Kentucky basketball player to be installed in the Naismith Memorial National Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass.

He is married to the former Martha Milton of Owensboro. They have four children: Lisa, Laurie, Amy, and Kip.

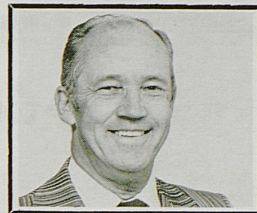

FRANK HAM
Assistant Director of Athletics

FRANK HAM became Assistant Director of Athletics in July 1975 soon after Cliff Hagan succeeded Harry C. Lancaster as Director of Athletics.

A native of Scranton, Pa., Ham came to the University in 1969 as administrative Assistant to football coach John Ray, and was reassigned to the Athletic Director's staff in 1972 when Ray resigned.

Ham graduated from high school at Niles, Michigan, and completed his undergraduate work at Indiana University and coached high school football and track at John Adams High in South Bend in 1944-46 and then returned to Olivet as athletic director and head football and basketball coach.

In 1951, he became assistant to the president at Olivet, with responsibilities in public and alumni relations. He was in private business from 1954 until 1968.

SUE FEAMSTER
Assistant Director of Athletics

SUE FEAMSTER joined the athletics association July 1, 1978, with the merger of the men's and women's programs. Feamster had been the director of women's athletics prior to her appointment as assistant director of athletics.

A native of Frankfort, she came to the University as a graduate student in 1970, was named assistant director of campus recreation in 1972 and director of women's athletics in 1974.

Feamster graduated from Franklin County High School where she was an outstanding tennis player and athlete. While in college she earned letters in tennis, field hockey, basketball and track from Indiana University and Kentucky State University, where she earned her B.S. degree and graduated with honors.

LARRY IVY
Assistant Director of Athletics for Finance

Adding a new dimension to UK athletics was the appointment three years ago of LARRY IVY as Assistant Director of Athletics for Finance.

Ivy, who came to the University as Director of Housing in 1969, is involved primarily with the administration and management of financial aspects, and develops and initiates policies for accounting procedures and related business management activities of the department.

In addition to the Globetrotters tour in 1951, and the "Down Under" tour in 1974, he has helped conduct basketball clinics for the U. S. Game plan.

Success in basketball requires plenty of training, good coaching and team play. And it requires a game plan.

At McDonald's, our game plan is simple. We have the team to produce winners every season.

Winners like Quarter Pounder,[™] Big Mac,[™] Golden French Fries, and Triple Thick Shakes.

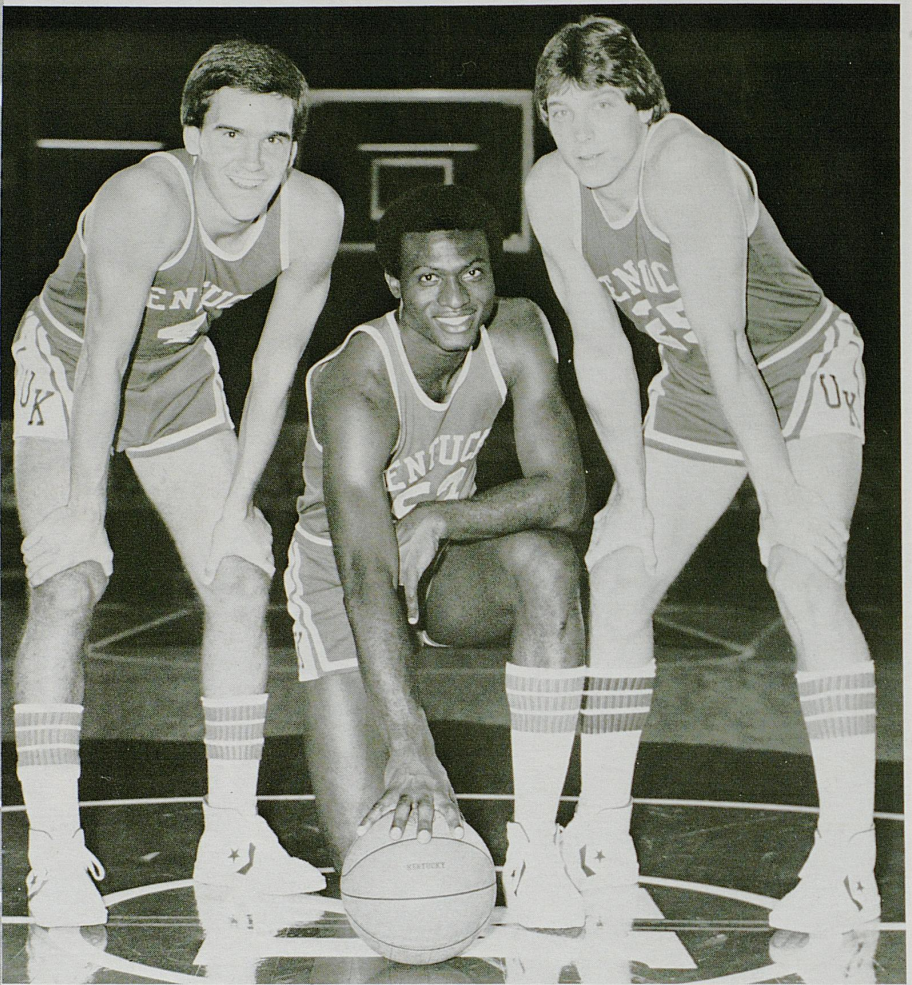

And our game plan includes careful handling. We never drop the ball when it comes to service. Prompt and courteous—whether you're home team or visitor.

So, before or after the next battle on the hardwood, include McDonald's in your game plan.

Nobody can do it like McDonald's can.[™]

...our equipment is on the job doing double duty. Hauling, loading, processing. Getting the coal out is a tough job...but that's only half the battle.

Then Brandeis equipment is back on the job, gently dressing the slope to prepare for the fescue, locust, sweet yellow clover, hairy vetch, lespedeza and pines.

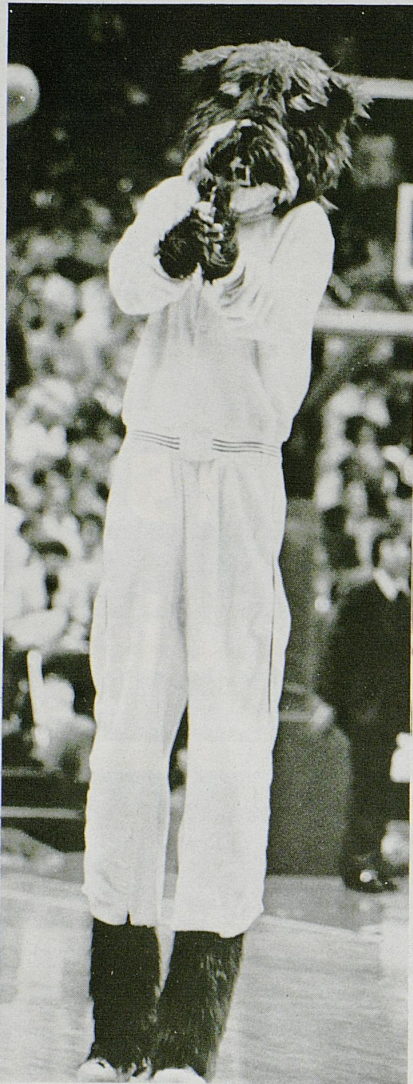

Can old coal mines support grass and pines? You bet.

The Last Time

Kentucky vs. Tennessee

The rivalry between the Kentucky Wildcats and the Tennessee Volunteers continued for the 146th time on January 5 in Knoxville. For the fourth consecutive time, the Vols came away the victor, 49-47 in what proved to be a lackluster contest.

Leading 27-21 at the intermission, Tennessee came out in the second half and padded their lead before the Cats fought back to a 45-45 tie. Kentucky outscored the Vols 16-7 to gain the dead-lock.

Kentuckian Ralph Parton entered the lineup with just over a minute to play and promptly sank a pair of free throws, following a Kyle Macy foul, to give the Volunteers a 47-45 edge. After a game-tying layup by Kentucky's Sam Bowie, Tennessee called time out and mapped their strategy. With five seconds on the clock, Howard Wood connected from the baseline to give the Vols a two-point triumph.

Tennessee won the game at the free throw line, hitting on 15 of 17 attempts. Kentucky only attempted two free throws for the game.

Wood led UT with 14 points and guard Gary Carter added 12. Bowie and Freddie Cowan tallied 14 points apiece for the Wildcats.

Continuing a tradition of service begun in 1794, the University of Tennessee's Knoxville campus carries out a unique mission in higher education in the Volunteer State.

The system, under the direction of President Edward J. Boling, serves more than 49,000 students on five campuses—Knoxville, Martin, Chattanooga, Nashville and the Center for Health Sciences at Memphis.

Chancellor Jack Reese heads the Knoxville campus of 30,468 students.

As the oldest and largest campus, UT Knoxville offers one of the largest and most comprehensive undergraduate and graduate programs in the country. Students may choose among 170 undergraduate degrees, 144 degrees at the master's level and 60 programs at the doctoral level.

Members of UT's athletic teams are known as "Volunteers" after the Volunteer State, the nickname given to the state in the last century because of the regularity citizens helped during war times.

"It must be a Southwick."

It must be Leonard Cox

The trend to more traditional styles appeals most to those who are advanced in their taste, not necessarily in their years. Southwick's natural shoulder suit, "Dorset," is a classic example. There is an elegant, shaped line—a look achieved by a touch that is youthful and contemporary, yet one that hasn't varied a stitch in quality for half a century.

OUR PLAY LIST

You're looking at a wall containing over 10,000 record albums. It's the main source of music for the personalities who play the daily sounds of Double Q.

But it's not the only source. We present live concerts, too. From places like New Orleans and Los Angeles.

Sometimes our personalities bring in singles, albums, or tapes from their own collections and they're always getting the first advanced releases of the most important new rock and roll albums.

Of course, they play hits too. But the main thing that dictates what our personalities play is their unique sense of the energy, diversity and excitement of the music of our times. And a special sense of knowing just what you want to hear.

That goes for Kathie Stamps in the morning. For Gary Dickson and Terry Meiners at midday. For Kruser in the afternoon, and Tony Tolliver in the evening. And it goes for Ross Martin in the wee hours of the night. They're what makes Double Q different.

And why our listeners hear more new music, more old music, more of all kinds of music than any other listeners in Lexington.

Writer and University of Kentucky Donovan Scholar Earl Robbins reads his work to elementary school children.

A New Career

By BETTY DAVIS
UK Information Services

Earl G. Robbins, 72, a retired Lexington insurance executive, has hit paydirt with his first efforts as writer of children's stories.

It's a career that began at the University of Kentucky where, upon his retirement, Robbins enrolled in the Donovan Program (free tuition for persons over 65) and signed up for classes in creative writing.

Macmillan company, New York City, accepted his book-length story, "My Caruso," for inclusion in a forthcoming fourth-grade reader called "Rhymes and Reasons."

And just last month Ginn and Co. of Lexington, Mass. accepted his story, "Bridging the Gap" as part of a forthcoming junior high-age reading text.

Robbins says he started his writing ("It's something I've always wanted to do") with a novel, which he has temporarily put away while he hones his skill on shorter, less demanding forms.

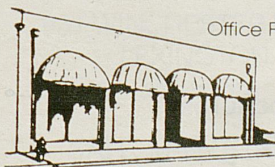

Both of his children's stories draw upon Robbins' own childhood and his years of experience as a Kentucky educator.

A native of southern Indiana, he attended Berea Academy and Berea College. He has a master's degree in agriculture education from UK and taught high school in Johnson County and then served as principal of Minerva High School in Mason County.

He's enthusiastic about UK's Donovan program. "You study only what you want to."

He and Mrs. Robbins have made several trips abroad as part of a UK exchange student program. From these visits have evolved correspondence with new friends in Romania and Tanzania.

You know the situation. It's time to decide on a place to eat. Family Battle #46. Everybody wants something different.

Your wife loves fried chicken. Junior doesn't. All he wants is a hamburger and fries, a hamburger and fries. You'd think he'd turn into a hamburger and fries. And your daughter? Crazy about fish. As for you, you only have one concern. That it doesn't cost you half a week's pay to eat dinner.

How do you make everybody happy? Come to Burger Queen. Delicious golden brown fried chicken for your wife, the chicken fan. A world of hamburgers for Junior. Hamburgers, cheeseburgers, Royal Burgers, Imperial Burgers. And for your daughter, Burger Queen's batter-dipped Fish 'N Chips or their new Complete Fish Dinner. They even serve breakfast in the morning. And everything at a price that will satisfy even you.

Value & Variety at Burger Queen. The answer to the family dinner dilemma.
