DATA CONVERSION GRANT RECEIVED

A Data Conversion Grant from the Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives has been awarded to the Library. The grant is in the amount of $9,165 and is for the purpose of completing the state publications project. The conversion of these records will be done primarily by Gwen Curtis with the help of the GPD staff. (Submitted by Sandee McAninch.)

ECONOMIC BULLETIN BOARD PILOT PROJECT

The UK Library has been chosen to participate in the Economic Bulletin Board (EBB) pilot project being conducted by the Government Printing Office, in cooperation with the General Accounting Office and the Department of Commerce. The Economic Bulletin Board contains current economic and statistical information published by the Department of Commerce and other Federal agencies. The purpose of the pilot project is to study the implications of providing depository library access to government information in electronic format. From June 1, 1990 through the end of the calendar year, 100 depository library test sites will be allowed online access to the system. (Submitted by Sandee McAninch.)

GPD REFERENCE TRAINING SCHEDULE

Although the first two meetings of GPD reference training have already taken place, six more sessions are scheduled. The remaining dates are July 17, 19, 20, 31, August 2, and 3. The sessions, which are held in the Gallery, include tours of Room 116, videotaped programs, and question/answer sessions. A wide variety of government reference publications are covered, including Congressional Record, U.S. Code, Weekly Compilation of Presidential Documents, and Microfiche U.S. Bills Finding Aid. For details, contact Sandee McAninch in GPD. (Submitted by Sandee McAninch.)

HUMANITIES PROJECTS IN LIBRARIES AND ARCHIVES GRANTS

Humanities Projects in Libraries and Archives, a branch of the National Endowment for the Humanities, is inviting proposals to plan or to present public humanities programs. Planning grants provide support for up to six months. Implementation awards are made for periods of one to three years.

All proposed projects must demonstrate active collaboration between humanities scholars and librarians or archivists. A list of current projects supported by the program is available on request. For guidelines, additional information, and a schedule of application deadlines, call the Office of Publications and Public Affairs, National Endowment for the Humanities, (202) 786-0438, or write to:
