Messrs. Morris Gaines, Louis Leon, John H. Bell, Gene Warren, and Jack Atkinson, Alpha Gamma Rho, were in Danville last week-end and attended the Sigma Chi formal.

The Badger Club at the University of Wisconsin (Madison) believes in getting the hard facts.

To test true loves, the boys telephone each other's girl friends, asking for dates. The girls made a fair record. Three accepted the new dates; three would not go out with strangers, two cradled with alib, and one—fan the boy friend's hair—was already out on a date.

The quality of America's education may remain an indefinable entity, but here's some light on its quantity: Education is our second biggest business. It ranks right after the wholesale and retail trade. In the 1921-22 period the total education expenditures were $2,964,073,024, which is more than the value of manufactured products for 1931.

There is a great deal of speaking of collegiate minds on a national scale these days. From the high plain of the Literary Digest college peace poll we slide with a delightful skid down to the poll conducted by the school of journalism students at the University of Pennsylvania (Philadelphia) on the absorbing question of whether or not college boys and girls should go dutch treat on their parties.

The majority hold that a boy ought to pay and if he couldn't afford it, they ought to stay home or spend the evening dawdling over the soda fountain. One lad quizzed reported he would start the evening cutting cards with his girl friend. Out high—they talk about their friends. Cut low—they make fudge.

More intellectual liberalism is not enough for Prof. Lowell J. Carr of the psychology department at the University of Michigan (Ann Arbor).

In a recent speech, the professor urged that all college professors join unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. "Teachers are realizing that their friends are in the trade unions," he said.

FUNKHOUSER TO GIVE TALK

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, dean of the graduate school, will journey to Harrodsburg Friday, where he will address the Women's club. His subject will be the "Last Paradise." The talk is scheduled for 2:30 p. m.

INSTANT INTERVIEWS

By RANDY RASH

QUESTION: "What changes do you think would improve the appearance and serviceability of the campus?"

ANSWER: Bert Johnson, "There should be walks where there are now only paths and a new flag should be hoisted on the flag pole."

ANSWER: Langdon Hay, "A Student Union Building with a swimming pool."

ANSWER: Joy Edgerton, "New cement walks, new furniture in Neville hall, and a driveway across the campus preferably from the Administration building to McVey hall."

ANSWER: Carroll English, "There should be cement walks and some paint on a number of the buildings."

ANSWER: Jack Tucker, "Above all things a larger and faster elevator in McVey hall and some walks made of concrete."

ANSWER: "Doc" McCamish, "The old flag and flagpole should be replaced, the ravine between the Law building and the 'Ac' building needs to be filled, and a miniature railway system inaugurated between the major points on the campus."

ANSWER: Dave Lawrence, "A swimming pool should be built and also a large field house."

ANSWER: Fannie Herman, "Outside the gravel walks, the campus suits me as it is."

ANSWER: Sam Potter, "Grass should be sown and cement walks laid down around the gym. The fill that has been made where the drainage ditch used to be, is now ready for improvement and this new portion of the campus that has been so long an eyesore should be beautified. Also the co-eds should be made to wear less make-up."

ANSWER: Carlisle Riley, "Better and more courting places."

"STUDIES ARE HARDER than they used to be," says Bissett, '35. "Competition in all outside activities is keener. I'm studying law myself—insurance law. The prospect of combing over old case histories at night—reading up on dry precedents and decisions—is pretty heavy going—especially as I'm tired to begin with! But Camels help me through. If I feel too tired to concentrate, I sit back and light a Camel. Soon I feel refreshed. I can renew my studies with fresh energy. As Camels taste so grand, I smoke a lot. But I have never had Camels bother my nerves."
(Signed) WILLIAM F. BISSETT, '35

"WHEN 'BLUE' spells come on or I'm tired and jittery from a busy day, I turn to Camels. In no time after smoking a Camel, fatigue slips away. I have the energy to face the next task. And what a delightful flavor Camels have! I never seem to tire of them."
(Signed) ELIZABETH CAGNEY, '35

"THERE ARE PLENTY of times when I get tired. Then I smoke a Camel. For I have always noticed that Camels help a lot in easing the strain and renewing my 'pep.' I smoke Camels a lot. They taste so good, and never affect my nerves."

Hear ye! All students who can run and jump with any degree of dexterity or have any inclination to do so are cordially invited to come out for the track team.

Here are the latest reports on spring sports: Tennis is getting under way together with track.

Baseball is definitely out for this year. This is regrettable because both the athletic council and the students were in favor of the sport.

Last year the players went to considerable inconvenience to play at the Epping ball park.

The freshmen net team is through with its schedule, while the varsity have two games left.

Clyde Addresses Relations Group

That Japan has not, and probably will not fortify the Mariano islands and others in that vicinity in the Pacific ocean was the opinion expressed by Prof. Paul F. Clyde, of the History department of the University, in an address at a recent meeting of the International Relations club, held in McVey hall.

Professor Clyde visited the islands in March and April of 1934, during which time he made a study of the possibilities of military operations in that region.

Most of the islands in this group do not readily lend themselves to military protection, according to Professor Clyde. Moving pictures taken on the islands were shown in conjunction with the address.

PARIS ATHLETES DEFEAT U. K. KITTENS

For the first time in two seasons, the Kentucky frosh basketball team were defeated, 30-28, by the Paris Athletic Club, Tuesday night, at the Paris high gymnasium.

The Paris athletes, who are former Paris high school stars, took an early lead and maintained it throughout the game despite the desperate efforts of the Kittens.

"Red" Hagan was the outstanding player for the Kentucky yearlings, scoring 10 points and playing an excellent defensive game. Lualien was the outstanding player for the Parisians, breaking through the Kittens' defense for 11 points.

Tuesday night's defeat closed an otherwise successful season for the freshmen who have defeated some of the outstanding high school and junior college teams in the state.

The lineup and box score follow: Kentucky (25) pos. (3) Parisians Spicer (6) ... F ... (6) Weigott Hagan (10) ... C ... (11) Laullen Walker (6) ... C ... (7) Shout Robinson (2) ... G ... (6) Bell Davis (2) ... G ... (6) Harlan Substitutes: Kentucky—Craig, Lutz (5), Combs, Scroggins. Official—Violet.

Sigma Chi District Convention Opens

TO DISTRIBUTE PICTURES Professor A. C. McFarland, head of the Geology department of the University, will have a series of geological pictures published in the newspapers of the state.

These pictures deal with life in Kentucky before the habitation of the present civilization. They depict life in the caves and the methods of hunting, living, and social conditions of this period.

INTRAMURAL

What with intramural basketball in full swing, with games scheduled every night in the gym annex and every contest bringing together two teams battling for a gradual mounting of points, we find a conversation on the out come of a long series of fraternity battles.

The standings, which may or may not remain along the same general comparative line, are as follows: S. A. E., 563 3/4; Sigma Chi, 510; Phi Delta, 212 1/2; Phi Kappa Tau, 170; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 163; Alpha Gamma Rho, 154; Phi Sigma Kappa, 145.

Triangles, 124; Alpha Sigma Phi, 123; Sigma Nu, 110; Alpha Tau Omega, 110; Delta Chi, 103; Kappa Alpha, 94; Kappa Sig, 77; Delta Tau Delta, 71; Lambda Chi Alpha, 62; Pi Kappa Alpha, 53; and Alpha Lambda Tau, 21.

Chicago Artist Is Heard by Students

Another building of interest in the Exposition, which Mr. Kelley commented upon, was the "House of Tomorrow," built with glass walls and furnished with modernistic pieces. Under the house is the garage of steel-concrete construction, copied after the German style house with flat roofs were the houses pictured in the fourth group.

Where there is a series of apartment houses with flat roofs, relief is given through the use of screens which support small balconies at the same time provide privacy for the people of the house as they sit on the porch of their home.

DIMMICK ADDRESSES TEACHERS' MEETING

"One of the aspects of maladjustment of the college student is evident in his inability to handle his finances in a satisfactory way," declared Dr. Dimmick, department of psychology, in an address on "The Child and Money" before the Lexington Council of Parent-Teacher associations in a recent meeting held at the Lafayette hotel.

Dr. Dimmick stated further that improper financial training in childhood often results directly in incompetency in the money affairs of the adult.

The proper solution of the problem, according to Dr. Dimmick, lies in giving the child a regular allowance, thereby training him in the value and use of money.

OUT OF NAZI GERMANY

The following story has been told to us by a professor at the University in Exile.

An S. A. student came into the home of a German professor. The latter invited the S. A. man into his study. The Nazi looked at the walls lined with books, reflected and turned to the professor and started this mild man out of his wits by exclaiming, "you must be a Bolshevik!"

The professor asked him why, certainly he was not a Bolshevik. The Nazi said, "but all these books," the professor answered that none of them dealt with Communism or Socialism, whereupon the S. A. man replied, "but all books are Bolshevik."

... when anything satisfies it's got to be right... no "ifs" or "buts" about it.

Chesterfields satisfy because, first of all, they're made of the right kinds of mild ripe tobaccos. These tobaccos are thoroughly aged and then blended and cross-blended.

It takes time and it takes money, but whatever it costs in time or money we do it in order to give you a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better.
