

Kernel Staff Named For Next Year

The appointment of members of the 1957-58 Kentucky Kernel staff was confirmed this Tuesday by the University Board of Student Publications.

tor; Tracy Walden, society editor; Bill Hammons, assistant news editor; Norma Jean Shelton, assistant feature editor; Bob Smith, assistant sports editor; and John Egerton, Jim Hampton and Dorothea Landrum, staff writers.

Dr. Niel Plummer, head of the School of Journalism, said that the staff for the summer Kernel staff will probably be announced next week.

The new editors are juniors who will graduate in 1958. They are all journalism majors.

Frank Strunk, Stearns, is secretary of Sigma Delta Chi and has a 2.8 standing. He transferred to the University from Cumberland College last fall.

Dave Altemuehle is a transfer from the UK Northern Extension. He is president of Sigma Delta Chi and was previously employed as a reporter for the Cincinnati Times-Star. His overall standing is 2.8. Ann Smith is a transfer from Fontbonne College for Women, St. Louis, Mo., and Paducah Junior College. Her standing is 2.7. She is publicity chairman for Delta Zeta sorority, and a member of the Newman Club, League of Women Voters, and Young Democrats. She was a member of Junior Panhellenic.

Jim Bland is treasurer of Sigma Delta Chi and sports editor of the Kentuckian. He has a 2.9 standing. Strunk, Altemuehle and Bland are all Korean War veterans.

Sports Editor, Ed Ford, is a transfer from Berea College and has a 3.3 standing. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi and a delegate to the men's residence hall council. He was formerly sports editor of the Berea Citizen, community newspaper, and the Berea Pinnacle, college newspaper.

SGA Officers To Receive Pay In The Future

Monthly salaries will be paid to future SGA presidents, vice presidents and chairmen of the judiciary committee.

The motion was passed at Monday night's meeting before newly-elected officers and delegates were sworn in.

Dave Ravenscraft, elected president last week, will receive $25. Vice President Pete Perlman, $20, and a chairman of the judiciary committee to be announced, $20.

Henry Jagers, chairman of SGA's compensation committee, reported that out-going president Dick Lehman spent from 60 to 70 hours a month executing his duties. He said that three of seven universities contacted replied they paid student government officers.

The money will come from the SGA fund, maintained by 50 cents from student enrollment fees.

Terminating a year as SGA president, Lehman urged new members not to "let SGA be just another organization."

He presented shingles to out-going representatives Terry Woolem, Freda Short, Ed Beck, Pete Perlman, Jane Brock, Harry Conley, Nancy Boggs, Terry Kuester, Geren Bybee, Elsie Kennedy, Luther House, Henry Jagers, Ronald Bonnell, Dick Hunsinger, Tom Martin, Ray Trout and Dave Ravenscraft.

Pharmacy Cornerstone To Be Laid

A cornerstone ceremony will be held today at 2:30 p.m. at the College of Pharmacy Building at Gladstone and Washington Ave., announced E. B. Farris, chief engineer at Maintenance and Operations.

Farris said the cornerstone box will enclose a copy of specifications of the building. It will also contain a UK catalog and a photograph of the old Pharmacy Building at Louisville.

The cornerstone box will enclose a formal contract between UK and the School of Pharmacy establishing the College of Pharmacy as part of the University, Farris said.

Both President Dickey and Pharmacy Dean Earl P. Slone will greet visitors at the ceremony. The invocation will be made by the Rev. Newton Fowler, minister of Disciples of Christ students at the University.

Now located at Louisville, the UK College of Pharmacy will be moved to the new building during the summer. Regular classes will begin there in the fall.

COMMENCEMENT

All classes will be dismissed Monday, May 27, for commencement exercises, President Frank G. Dickey has announced.

Assistant Dean of Women Jane Haselden said tickets for reserved seats at commencement are now available in the office of the dean of women. Each graduating senior may get five tickets.

Derby Festivities Net Nearly $1,000

The first Little Kentucky Derby was a success with profits reaching almost $1,000.

James Beazley, alumni fund director, said it would have been satisfying even if the derby had only broken even financially. He said the proceeds will come in the future years.

The derby was patterned after "The Little 500" at the University of Indiana. The bicycle race was financially unsuccessful at IU the first year, but now several scholarships are given each year.

Carolyn Collier, chairman of the derby, said at least one UK scholarship could be given this year. Miss Collier stated that the derby was definitely a success.

Miss Collier said that a complete financial report is unavailable until the results of the ticket sales are in. She said approximately 762 tickets are unaccounted for.

Charles McCullough, ticket chairman, said 850 persons paid 25 cents each to see the Debutante Stakes. He said around 2,000 people saw the Little Kentucky Derby.

Miss Collier said $1,446.10 had been made but this didn't include the dance or tickets which are still out. About $500 was lost on the derby dance according to Mr. Beazley. The entertainment and expenses amounted to $1,500, he said.

Beazley said about $700 was taken in at the door and it was believed that about $300 worth of tickets were purchased in advance sales.

A total of 25 financial sponsors contributed $100 each. Each group was given $25 for stall decorations and uniforms.

The UK Radio-Arts Department produced a 10-minute film in color of the derby. Mr. Beazley said that the expense of the film would be around $250.

Miss Collier said the 1958 steering committee for the derby would probably be appointed by Dr. Frank G. Dickey, University president, before this school year ends. The officers of the committee will be selected in order that they may start work on the derby this summer.

Mr. Beazley said, "The first running of the Little Kentucky Derby was most successful from many standpoints. (1) It was colorful and exciting. (2) It stimulated a tremendous spirit in the student body, and also in the administration. (3) The alumni and friends

Farris Says Repairs Are Now Being Made On Coldstream House

"We are going ahead in making the necessary repairs to restore the mansion at Coldstream Farm," announced E. B. Farris, chief engineer of the Division of Maintenance and Operations.

Farris said parts of the mansion were in bad shape and parts of it were in good shape. He said they were painting the exterior of the mansion, repairing roof leaks, and fixing gutters.

The chief engineer said there was an asphalt tennis court and a swimming pool which had not been used for years.

He said picnic grounds and badminton courts may be built later at Coldstream. He added it may be necessary to build a parking lot.

CLAY

Staff For '57-'58 Kentuckian Named By Student Board

Sam McCandless has been named editor of the 1958 Kentuckian by the University Board of Publications.

Others appointed to the Kentuckian staff are Associate Editor, Gurney Norman; Managing Editor, Neal Clay; Sports Editor, Jim Bland; and Greek Editor, Tracy Walden.

McCandless, a history major, served as associate editor of the 1957 Kentuckian. He is president of Phi Delta Theta, treasurer of Lances, a member of Keys, Phi Eta Sigma (ODK) and a former member of the varsity golf team. He has a 3.5 standing.

Managing editor of the Kentuckian this year, Gurney Norman is a sophomore in the School of Journalism. He is a pledge to Sigma Delta Chi, a member of the varsity track team, the Spiked Shoe Society and the English Club. The new Managing Editor, Neal Clay, is the former editor of the K-Book. He is journalism major and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Jim Bland has been re-named Kentuckian sports editor, the same position he has held this year. A junior journalism major, Jim is a staff member of the Kentucky Kernel, and treasurer of Sigma Delta Chi journalism fraternity.

Tracy Walden will hold the position of greek editor for next year's Kentuckian. She has been general secretary to the Kentuckian staff for the last two years. Tracy is a journalism major and will be the Kernel society editor next year. She is also a UK cheerleader and a member of Chi Omega sorority and Blue Marlin.

Honor Students Told To Use Psychology

Tennessee Governor Frank Clement told UK honor students last Friday that "there is a frontier open to each and every one of us—there is for each man an Opportunity Land."

Speaking at the UK Honors Day program, Clement told an audience of about 3,000 persons that "if you will employ 'frontier' psychology as you go out into the world, you will get the job done."

"'Frontier' psychology can get the job done provided you have the heart, the training and the desire," he added. The governor explained that "frontier" psychology is a frame of mind which causes the person to look for continual progress, new ideas, and new fields to explore.

"We have become frontier-minded in this country. We cannot prosper, we cannot get along with any sense of the future and freedom without a frontier," he stated.

As an example of what "frontier" psychology can accomplish, Clement told of the work of J. L. Fortney, a Kentuckian, who improved the Georgia Baptist Children's Home at Baxley, Ga.

Clement said that Fortney started with only an idea and a slogan and with these he accomplished his end. There were 1000 acres of wasteland which the orphanage owned and Fortney set out to change it into a productive farm and home for 126 orphans.

He used the slogan, "One day's work or its equivalent," and induced manufacturers to lend him the equipment for one day's use. After several months of planning, traveling, and petitioning, the big day arrived. Nearly 10,000 workers from all walks of life turned out. Roughly 100,000 spectators came to watch the show.

At the day's end, the 1000 acres of wasteland had been changed into an attractive and productive farm. Several crops had been planted, 800 acres of forest had been cleared, pasture land had been set aside, two lakes and a swimming pool had been built, all within one day.

"It was a great day and it all came about because of one man's idea, one man's 'frontier' psychology," Clement declared.

The Sullivan Medallions were presented to Barbara Roberts and Dick Lehman by UK President Frank G. Dickey. The Medallions go to the outstanding seniors in the graduating class.

The Honors Day program, organized to recognize the students who rank in the upper three percent of their classes, honored about 180 students.

Helen King Chosen ODK Sweetheart

Miss Helen King, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, has been selected by members of Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's honorary, as their sweetheart of the year.

The ODK Sweetheart award is a tradition of the organization which was initiated on this campus before World War I. The honor is given to women members of the faculty or staff of the University for their contribution to the welfare of the University and interest in student activities on campus.

Miss King graduated from the University in 1925. In 1932, she returned to UK to work with the Public Relations Department. In 1946, she became executive secretary of the Alumni Association.

Past recipients of the ODK Sweetheart award are Frances Jewell McVey, Sarah Gibson Blanding, Mildred S. Lewis, Ann Callihan, Carrie Bean, Sarah B. Holmes and Marguerite McLaughlin.

Phi Beta Kappa Society Selects 14 New Members

Fourteen University of Kentucky upperclassmen have been selected for membership in Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary society for students in the arts and sciences.

Dr. Maurice A. Hatch, president of the UK chapter and member of the English faculty, announced that the annual initiation dinner for the new members will be held Thursday, May 23, in the Bluegrass Room, Student Union Building.

Taking office at this time will be the following 1957-58 officers: Dr. Herbert W. Hargreaves of the College of Commerce, president; Dr. E. E. Kraehe of the College of Arts and Sciences, vice president; Jesse J. Dukeminier of the College of Law, treasurer; and Dr. Hatch, secretary.

Phi Beta Kappa is generally recognized as the nation's earliest scholastic society.

UK's new initiates are as follows: Lois Mae Allen, Arthur L. Brooks Jr., William J. Collis, Harry L. Conley Jr., Elizabeth Joan Fritz, Mrs. Lois Cammack Hall, Mrs. Jeanette Hill Jennings, Marilyn Jones, Suzanne Shively, Gene Thomas, Susan Ann Bachmeyer, Mary Tippet Daniel, Tilen Flippo, and John W. Smith.

LANGUAGE MADE SIMPLE: No. 2

Exams loom closer and closer. The sands run out; the chips are down. This, you will agree, is no time for levity.

Accordingly, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not dispense with jesting in today's column and instead devote it to a cram course in languages.

Their consent was cheerfully given, for they are fine, great-hearted men, the makers of Philip Morris, just as full of natural goodness as the cigarettes they turn out, just as friendly, just as jolly, just as regular, just as unfiltered, just as agreeable. "Why, bless you, child!" cried the makers. "Of course!" Then they rumped my chestnut curls and somebody cried "Not it!" and before you could say flip-top box, a game of Squat Tag was on, and we played 'til the moon was over the yardarm, and then, pink and toused, we all went inside and had flagons of temperance punch and Philip Morris cigarettes and fell into our trundle beds and slept the clock around!

But I digress. Today let us turn our attention to the study of languages.

Do you realize how important languages are? I must confess that, until recently, I did not. "What good will Spanish ever do me?" I kept asking.

Well sir, I found out. Recently I took a trip to Latin America, and every day I thanked my lucky stars for having learned Spanish in college. While my fellow tourists stumbled and bumbled, I was perfectly at home.

Hasta la Vista, Señorita!

I recall our first stop in Mexico City. I stepped from the airplane, walked over to the nearest colorful native, and said, "Hasta la vista, señorita. (Good morning, sir.) ¿Pero las lastimas y calamidades se agravaban mas y mas cada dia?" (Has thy footman finished sweeping out thy chamber?)

"No, sir," he replied in Spanish. "He is an idle rogue."

"How is thy footman called?" I asked.

"He is called Diego," replied my friend, "and the little daughter of his fat sister is called Juanita. She has two small books, one gray cat, three black dogs, 24 red chickens, one fat pig, eight pewter mugs, and a partridge in a pear tree."

"Wilt thou have a Philip Morris cigarette?" I asked.

"Gracious," he said thankfully.

We lit Philip Morris and smoked contentedly the better part of the day.

"Perhaps by now my footman shall have finished sweeping my chamber," he said. "Wilt thou not come to my house?"

"Gracious," I said.

Arm in arm we walked to his house, but, alas, his footman had not yet swept out his chamber. So we each took a barrel stave and beat the impudent scamp until it was time for my airplane to take off.

Aloha, Mexico, brooding land of enchantment!

Need For Better Rural Educational Facilities Cited

"Communities which put money into lights for the football field but not enough into books for the library or shop equipment may be failing to emphasize sufficiently the fundamental purposes of education."

John A. Perkins, Under Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, made this statement in an address given at the three day state Rural Development Program meeting held on the University of Kentucky campus this week.

Secretary Perkins continued, "In such communities, young people may have difficulty preparing themselves for careers in science, agriculture engineering, medicine, business, teaching, and other careers that will be needed more and more as our economy develops and expands."

Good health services can make positive contributions to a dynamic rural development program," said the secretary. Rural people want and need good health facilities but doctors are reluctant to settle where such facilities do not exist.

Strengthening of local public health agencies by various means and vocational rehabilitation are approaches that should challenge any area desiring to make greater economic progress, Perkins went on to say.

Economic problems of needy old people, the totally disabled, and other such groups, should be looked into. Social welfare programs that result in developing constructive ways of dealing with these people's problems are needed.

Better education is the one factor that is basic to all others in the development of an area, said the secretary. The financial advantages of education to the individual are great, he added, and also the community interested in attracting technical industry holds out a major inducement if its local labor force is an educated one.

"Vocational education," Perkins said, "seems especially attractive in many rural situations." Vocational programs can give direction and purpose to young people, especially if they are not highly motivated toward educational goals.

A vocational program, said Perkins, must not limit itself to the present important occupations but must take into account, in so far as possible, important occupations of the future. Training so specifically for particular occupations that basic subjects are neglected will make it difficult or impossible to shift occupations as conditions change or grow more technical, the speaker said.

Perkins said that there are three thoughts in preparing the curriculum, whether it be vocational, college preparatory, or general.

Emphasis should be placed upon the basic subjects such as English, mathematics and the sciences. Pupils should not be permitted to waste time or to work carelessly whatever the course. "The habit of hard and careful work is basic to success in all human endeavors," said Perkins. To create the kind of climate which will induce students to do good work, the community must have a respectful regard for its schools. Perkins said that "In many hometowns all the plaudits praise he deserves."

Use Platform For Better SGA

When elections are over, political platforms have served their major purpose: they have played a significant part in getting candidates elected to the sought-for offices. More often than not, they are left behind along with campaign posters, match-book covers, and other post-election debris.

This, we trust, will not be the case with the incoming student government officers.

The victorious Students' Party has a good platform. It contains planks which advocate reforms that could help this university to become an increasingly better institution.

We would like to believe that this platform, and not mere personalities, was the deciding factor in last week's elections.

If this is true, then the students who elected the new SGA officers expect more than a smile from them. They expect to see these campaign promises turned into realities, and they are wholly justified in doing so.

We urge you, then, Mr. Ravenscraft—and all you other newly elected people upon whom the responsibility for effective student government rests—not to take your promises lightly.

Give the students their money's worth: make an honest effort to fulfill your party's platform.

We ask nothing more.

This Matter Of Policy...

William Allen White once said, "Consistency is a paste jewel that only cheap men cherish." We of the new Kernel staff would like to adopt this as a kind of motto, or statement of policy.

Since some, perhaps, may be curious as to how we would apply this statement to the policy of a newspaper, we shall explain.

In the news columns of the Kernel will be found no change. As has always been, you will find news stories written as clearly, as accurately, and as objectively as we can write them. We shall observe two criteria for selecting this news: interest to our readers, and common decency.

We will not be moved by promises or pressures from any group—political, professional, or social. As nearly as is humanly possible, we will print the news as it happens.

It is to the editorial page that Mr. White's statement applies more accurately.

Editorially, we will support anything we believe will make the University of Kentucky a better school; we will criticize anything that stands in the way of this.

No individual or organization will be considered immune or privileged. We will not support a cause simply because the Kernel has done so in the past; neither will we criticize merely because precedent says we should.

We will not be bound by chains reaching from yesterday's opinions; neither will we be entirely unmindful of the traditions which have been carefully preserved and entrusted to us.

We reserve the right of all free men—the right to change our mind. Because we support something today, does not mean that we must do so next week or next year.

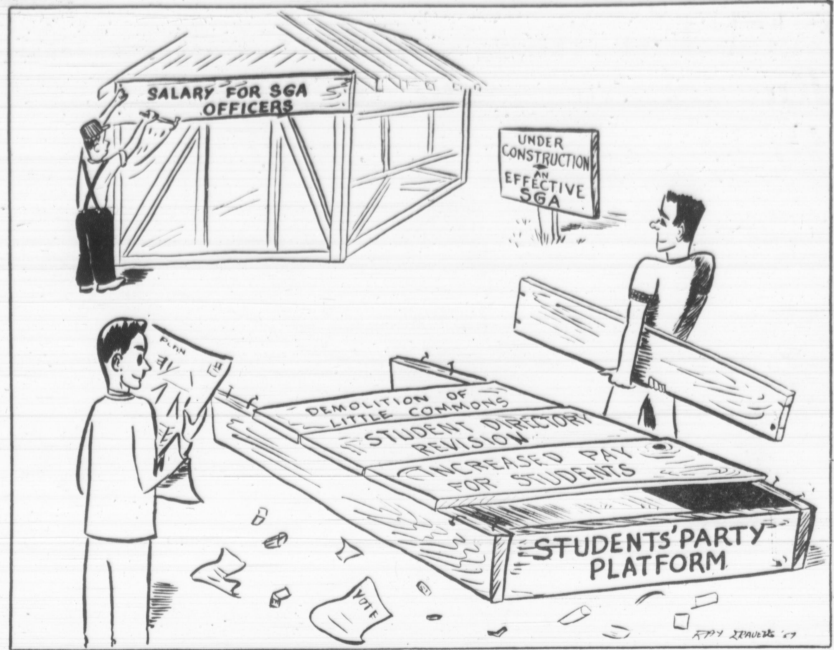

Believing that only out of disagreement can progress grow, we will freely evaluate, interpret, or criticize anything that is within the scope of this newspaper and the University.

This, then, shall be our policy, and may we always remember that public trust is not personal power, and that we are "... in the service of the public and to that public ... in everything responsible and accountable."

Letters From The Readers

Little Derby Lauded

To the Editor:

This past week-end the campus of UK has experienced one of the greatest events ever held here, the "Little Kentucky Derby." I am sure that over the coming years of the University of Kentucky's existence, many young boys and girls will have the opportunity to get an education who otherwise would not have been able to had it not been for the "Little Kentucky Derby."

I truly think that the "Derby" is here to stay and that it will grow with the years and become as big as the "Little 500" on the campus of Indiana University.

Personnel Defended

To the Editor:

I would like to answer the letter written by William R. Brown in the May 10 issue of the KENTUCKY KERNEL, in which he tells us of the lackadaisical attitude of the staff members in the Administration Building.

I'm in Speech 11, a classroom debate course, and I am constantly in the Administration Building, talking to the personnel so I can gather facts for my debates.

Bill says they evade questions. Well maybe they do, but chances are he's never talked to Dean Mills or Miss Dorothy Linnville, of the Department of Admissions and Enrollment. I have disrupted both of these people numerous times for facts concerning my inconsequential debates.

He claims they are always passing the buck whenever they can't answer a simple question, maybe this is true, but I'll bet he has never talked to Dr. Chamberlain, vice president; Dean Martin, dean of men; Dr. McDaniel, testing bureau; or Mr. Clay Maupin, accounting department. I have made myself obnoxious to these people by asking for information that is forgotten the second my classroom debate is ended. Dr. McDaniel didn't pass the buck when I saw him. As a matter of fact, I took twenty-minutes to get the facts. The same will be continued down through the years. As a matter of fact, the whole weekend was notable as an all-University social event.

Only one question was left unanswered: Why include Honors Day in the Little Derby Weekend? Is it too insignificant to stand alone?

We certainly don't think so.

The Sullivan Medallions are the highest honor awarded to UK students. They recognize the outstanding senior woman and senior man each year.

We feel that the Sullivan Medallions and the Honors Day program are important enough to stand alone—separated from the Little Kentucky Derby or any other University activity.

Next year's Little Derby steering committee might take this into consideration when they plan a weekend for the event.

Keep Honors Day and the presentation of the Sullivan Medallions from getting lost in the Derby shuffle. Let these honor students occupy the spotlight for the week.

They deserve it.

five minutes from his lunch hour, and he didn't seem to mind.

You know Bill, I am a real genuine, non-entity on campus. I know that I'm insignificant and after talking to me you will get the same impression. At the moment of my greatest achievement, my Mom whispered to my Dad that I was suffering from delusions of adequacy. I'm just a stupid clod from New Jersey and the only reason why I'm allowed to come to such a great institution as the University of Kentucky is because everybody feels sorry for me. And if you don't think I'm sorry just ask the boys who live with me.

Granted that I am a mental cipher, that I am inconsequential and as meaningless and pointless as my questions are, the administrative personnel have always found time to answer them.

To cite one specific example, and all you did in your letter was to generalize and poke fun, I cite President Frank Dickey. This morning on May 14th, I have just spoken to him for thirty minutes. He didn't evade my questions but answered them; he didn't pass the buck, but helped me. Now I say to you, William R. Brown, if a president of this university takes time to speak to a non-entity like me, then I can justly conclude that any of the lower personnel would take time to speak to a person like you.

Leonard A. Sternman

Trailerville, Ky.?

To the Editor:

The need for a trailer park on the University of Kentucky campus is most prevalent. There are approximately sixty trailers throughout Lexington with students living in them.

These students pay from $16 to $21 a month for a small bare lot that measures about 30 feet by 50 feet. On top of this outrageous fee, they are required to pay for the electricity. The parks, in most cases, are not maintained to any great extent. Any improvements that are made, are made by the tenants themselves. Then too, many inhabitants of these parks do not care what their lots look like, therefore any improvements are somewhat at a loss. Also people who follow the horse races, construction jobs, and other things, move in and out of the parks keeping them in a constant state of disorder.

Some of the University officials think that a trailer park would degrade the appearance of the campus and would compete with the new housing projects; nevertheless Cooperstown and Shawncetown already have long waiting lists and Shawncetown is yet to be completed.

We feel that the University could easily construct a park on the old farm that it owns. The farm is equipped with electricity, public sewers, and water. The University's Maintenance and Operations Department could construct the park in a matter of a few weeks. The students I have talked to are willing to pay a nominal fee for a period of time to help pay the cost of the original construction. After this time they could pay their utilities and maintain the park themselves.

I urge the authorities to consider these few facts. These students would appreciate their doing so. I believe that these students' economic situations would be greatly improved.

The Roadrunner

Runner Has Fond Memories Of Experiences On Campus

By JOHN MARCUS

As the setting sun dips to the north I've been out to the Buffalo) fond memories drift through my mind.

To say that leaving UK is a joy, would be a lie. Leaving is sheer delight man, sheer delight.

As a freckle faced freshman I stepped onto this campus and into boys' dormitory.

There were two outstanding features in the dorms. One was the Bug Man, who took everybody's money playing poker. The second feature was the monitors, more commonly termed the Gestapo. These boys threatened expelling you at the drop of a fifth. Hot heads!

I had two roommates (F. Matsonian Fooey and Elmer Fuddingus), both typical American boys. Fooey was the forgetful one and left 24 bars of soap in the shower in one week. This was quite an achievement since the closest shower was in Patterson Hall. Fuddingus was the lover, and we used to tape his talking in his sleep and sell it under the counter.

Class work was becoming tougher all the time. I remember one time on a Geology field trip in particular. That was the day one of the girls in the class downed a passing dinosaur with an empty beer can.

My junior year things took a turn. (I didn't say which way, Dear.) This was the year I met the girl who was later to become my wife. I went over to Boyd Hall to deliver a telephone message to a friend, and ended up on the hen-pecked end of a lifetime contract.

During my senior year I met a lot of nice married couples. The new Kernel Editor, Strunk (who has a lifetime reservation at the Clubhouse) and spouse, and Charley and Tom (the first one's the girl).

There are the friends that have

YMCA Members Receive Awards

The presentation of gold keys to the four outstanding members of the YMCA was the highlight of the recent 'Y' banquet, held in the Student Union Building.

These service keys were awarded to Sherlock Noel, Elliot Netherton, Gene Cravens and Olson Huff.

Cabinet members of the YMCA have been installed for the coming year. They are Elliot Netherton, president; Pete Perlman, first vice-president; Frank Spragens, second vice-president; Fred Sraiche, secretary; and Dave Page, treasurer.

come and gone, some of them even out earning a living now. The friends that are still here, the Bag, the Nose, Porky and many others.

If you don't choose your friends carefully, you're liable to meet a few faculty members. They're almost human. The old saying, faculty members should be seen and not heard, applies only in the classroom.

During college you meet a lot of outstanding girls (doubly outstanding at the Sigma Chi Derby). I've seen a lot of good athletes come and go, Hagan, Ramsey, Tsiropolis, Meilinger, Hardy and Kuhn. None were as crazy as big Lou, the golden Greek. The only man with pigeon toes on size sixteen feet, who could kill the opponents on the backboard.

Many people have said the Roadrunner was an agitator. That's not quite true. An agitator is a machine that shakes. I haven't had the shakes since last weekend!

The faculty doesn't really run SGA. Nobody does, it's in a state of inertia.

M & O does a good job, if you like living on a farm. Of course, the main fallacy of the modern university is the clique system. More often, these groups call themselves fraternities and sororities. Through the years I have learned to separate members of each group by their appearance.

The loud, raucous lad, waving a rebel flag and southern comfort is a Kappa Alpha.

The sneaky little fellow stealing your drink is a Phi Delt.

Those stag boys are always Sigma Nu's.

The aloof young lady with the martini and a copy of "Damn Well Dressed," is a KD.

And the young man, charging around campus, shaking hands with everybody, is probably an Independent.

You get to know them, year after year they stay basically the same. In fact, some of them stay here for eight or nine years.

But I'm not Pass or flunk, I'm leaving. To those who have faithfully read the Roadrunner, I suggest Eastern State. Mad as you may be, thank you very much. To those who have not read the Roadrunner and refuse to admit there is such a thing, I say $ "!!!!"

College guys and dolls are sharp, in a sane, individualistic, literate that have one helluva good time.

I would feel sad except it's going to feel so good to wait in line for my pay check, instead of being trampled at registration where I am forced to pay to . . . UGH . . . study.

Remember what the ex-president of Harvard said, "College is the storehouse of knowledge because the freshmen bring so much of it with them and the seniors take so little away."

Until some other year, some other place, beep beep.

Father Writes Advice To Son At University

Dear Son, Naturally you want to come back to Possum Trot after you graduate and take a job as assistant to your father, who is Possum Trot's leading mechanic. Well, the only way you can do that is to be a tremendous success at college. Son, I hate bragging, but I had my picture in the "Kentucky" eleven times my senior year.

Spend a lot of time in the grill, hopping from table to table as you recognize someone. They'll introduce you and soon, you'll know everyone.

The formula for instant popularity at a party is to come well equipped with your uke, your playing cards, your pet skunk, and your blind date.

Son, make your name known to the students. Sign up for only lecture classes, where there are a hundred students or more. All you have to do is to go to class late every day after the professor has already called the roll. This way, you have to pronounce your name loudly and clearly as you go into the door so he will mark you present. And soon the entire class will get to know you.

After they get to know your name, the next thing to do is to make them recognize you when they pass you on the campus. The best thing I found to do was to wear the same yellow coat every day. After three or four months, it might get dirty, but they'll connect your name to that coat.

A fraternity will help you, but they are easy to join. After the Uphem on Sandi or the Digma Tri Digma find out that you are the son of Possum Trot's leading mechanic, you'll have no trouble.

Son, people got to know me, and the president of the school would never make a move unless he consulted me. I would have never got the chance to become the leading mechanic of Possum Trot, if the manager hadn't recognized my true value and made me a splendid offer the day I graduated.

Take my advice, son, and maybe someday, you can take my place as Possum Trot's leading mechanic.

With best wishes, Dad

Columnist Saddened At Leaving Kernel

By PHIL MCINTOSH

But surely someone will miss us! After all the discussions we've had? What's that you say? You don't mean that. We have been sincere. Yes, we've criticized—but we have tried to be constructive.

We've given some pats-on-the-back too! No, not often. But newspaper space is not to be wasted on useless praise. And if we had praised more often—there would be some who had been neglected, and dissatisfied. You can't please everyone. And we don't care to please everyone.

True, we have at times felt "down-trodden, mistreated, ignored, or just plain done in." And true-to-form, we reacted violently. But thanks to the tireless patience of our Feature Editor, Ann Monarch, we now face the end with no scars, no bad feelings, and with just a little sadness.

The sadness comes in looking upon the things we didn't do and upon the lack of time for things we would like to do. And we'll miss those races to the Kernel office, copy in hand, trying to beat the deadline. We'll miss too, reading our column Friday morning, seeing how different it all looks in print. If, as we leave this job as columnist, we leave enemies behind, we are sorry it must be. But we are glad to leave them behind, or at least to leave them! And in one hundred years no one will know the difference.

In leaving our friends, we are completely confused as to how we feel. We know they will remain our friends. And in leaving them, we go on to meet others. So, we don't know whether to start missing old friends, or to anticipate new acquaintances.

It has been an honor, as well as an experience, working with this Kernel staff. Even Dave Stewart (a paid plug). We have had more fun, and benefited more, than you can imagine, in being author of this column. And who knows, you may someday pick up a paper and see "That's It" at the top of a column. And who knows what you will do with that paper then!

But for a change, as we lie on the beach at Cumberland Falls this week-end, it will be a relief not to say to ourselves, "what in the world will I write this week?" Come on Marcus, let's get out of here! That's it to "That's It!" AND THAT'S IT!

Sen. Hill To Dedicate Library Barkley Room

The University of Kentucky's Barkley Room, containing political and personal mementos of the late Vice President Alben W. Barkley, will be dedicated at 2 p.m. Monday, May 27, during ceremonies in the foyer of the Margaret I. King Library.

The Barkley Room is located on the first floor of the library, and will be open to the public following the dedication.

Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama will deliver the dedicatory address, and will be introduced by President Frank G. Dickey. Distinguished guests will include Mrs. Barkley and the former vice president's son, David M. Barkley of Paducah, and his family.

Central feature in the special room is the rostrum first used in the U. S. Senate by John C. Breckinridge in 1857 and occupied continuously by the presiding officers through Barkley's term. Grouped on each side of the rostrum are numerous flags, including the vice president's flag.

A unique collection of political cartoons is displayed around the walls, and the floor cases contain material on the 1949 inauguration. Also exhibited are curtains from Barkley's Senate Office; a chair presented in 1953 by the Kentucky delegation in the House of Representatives, and a vase presented to him in 1949 by a Greek delegation in appreciation of his interest in their country.

The dedication site also will contain material from the Barkley collection. The wall cases of the foyer will have hoods and citations for honorary degrees; civic and charitable organizations' awards; books from his personal library; wood, china and ivory gavel; the working typescript of Barkley's book, "That Reminds Me;" the guest book of the vice president's office and letters written by Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman, Sam Rayburn and Dean Acheson.

His library works include the first volume of former President Truman's autobiography, and books written by Sen. Kenneth McKellar, Sen. John Kennedy, Sen. Estes Kefauver and Sen. Richard Neuberger.

The Barkley collection was placed on deposit at the University last November.

Pershing Rifles Finish Fourth In Ohio Meet

Failing to repeat their sweeping success in last year's drill meet, UK's Pershing Rifles finished fourth last weekend. The competition between the 16 college and university drill teams was at Ohio State University in Columbus.

Bob Bates, public information officer and second lieutenant in UK's company C-1, gave this explanation of the results: "I think the boys drilled their best, but we ran into unexpected competition from Ohio State and Youngstown." (Ohio State won the meet, and Youngstown took second place.)

"We won third in straight drill platoon, second in the rifle meet, and we won the Civil War, (an event between Ohio State and UK, in which the northerners don Union suits, and have a skirmish with the UK Confederate Squad.)"

SAE Cyclists Capture First 'Little Derby'

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity moved out in front after the seventh lap and held on to win the first Little Kentucky Derby before an approximate crowd of 2,500 people.

Farm House, qualifying with the best time, finished second about 100 yards out of the roses. Phi Delta Theta placed third. Breckinridge Hall No. 3, K-Club, and Bradley Hall finished in that order.

Miss Sylvia Jett, Delta Delta Delta, was selected the Little Kentucky Derby Queen Friday night at the Debutante Stakes. Miss Jett was named Kentuckian Queen earlier in the year.

Other finalists and members of the queen's court were Misses Judy Ruffner, Carol Collins, June Mefford, and Beverly Hill.

The SAE bicycle team was composed of Richard Hills, Bill Eaton, Alan Lips, and Paul Quiggin. Manager George Hancock said after the race that his team had ridden about ten miles every night for the past two weeks.

The winning time for the 15 laps (three and three-fourths miles) was 11:07.5 on the Stoll field track.

About 900 people saw Alpha Gamma Delta sorority win the Debutante Stakes Friday night in Memorial Coliseum. In second place, about five yards back, came Boyd Hall No. 2. Keeneland Hall B finished third.

The trike riders of the winning team were Bonnie Lillard, Susie Wilcox, Joan Blevins, and Betty Carol Wallen.

The team with the best costume was Kappa Alpha Theta. The contest was judged on neatness and originality.

"Apollo", constructed by the Interfraternity Council, won the float contest on Saturday. The theme of the parade was "Derby Winners of the Past". Queen Sylvia and her court rode on the SUKY float in the parade.

The parade, featuring five floats as well as convertibles bearing girls who competed for the queen title, ended at the stadium after passing through the business section of Lexington.

Glee Clubs Present Concert Tuesday

The Men and Women's Glee Clubs will give a joint concert next Tuesday, May 21, in the Guignol Theatre (Fine Arts Building), at 8 p.m.

Each group will present a group of songs; then they will combine to sing some of the music from "Carousel" by Rogers and Hammerstein.

The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of James King, will sing, "Ave Maria" by Arcadelt-Davidson; "Emette Spiritum" by Schuetzky-McKinney; Pergolesi-Davidson's "Glory to God in the Highest"; "Turtle Dove," arranged by Vaughan Williams; "King Jesus is a Listennin," arranged by Dawson; and "My Soul's Gonna Rise Again," arranged by Rouchetti.

Soloists with the men's group will be Jacque Westerfield, Phyllis Tilton, Richard Baker, Don Taylor, Don Lessley, and Leonard Wolfe.

The Women's Glee Club, under the direction of Phyllis Jenness, will sing three songs by Brahms; "Ave Maria" by Kodaly; "Bought Locks" by Mennin; "A Snow Legend" by Clokey; and Copland's "Younger Generation."

Soloists with this group include Emily Walter, Richard Baker, Bill Platt, Beverly Hill, Leonard Wolfe, and Roy Woodall.

Spring Formals End Last Big Social Weekend

Hark! I was in a vexation. I had been assigned by the big boss to cover the social beat of UK. This was no usual feat. I had to get a big story in order to earn my Hedda Hopper badge.

I threw on my ulster and after much struggle, I pushed open the iron portals of the "J" building and dashed over to the local pub. There I found the biggest tale I have ever seen. It was Al Cohol. I thought, "why not interview the bon vivant about the camp?" Al was hanging out of the Dempster Dumpster when I casually approached.

"Get off all four haunches, Al!" I blasted on. "This is the last big social weekend of the year. What's on the agenda? Surely, you're going to have one last caper afore dooms day on May 28."

I thought to myself, "You're doing great on this interview. Keep on enhancing Al's ego by letting him do all the talking."

I continued, "Get with it. You have only two more weeks left to get pinned. What's the matter, have you got a cavity under your coiffure? Get in the swing, wing-ding, and have a fling." Al handed me the weekend list from his lapel. And I read it.

Guignol To Present Comedy Production

The Guignol Players' final production of the year, "Playboy of the Western World," an Irish comedy by John Millington Synge, opens Wednesday night, May 22, in the Laboratory Theatre in the Fine Arts Building for a four night stand.

The all-student production features Doug Ray as the playboy and Lois Cammack Hall as the primary object of his affections.

Other featured players include Tom Marston, Ewel Cornet, Frances Nave, Dudley Saunders, Geraldine Johnson, Nancy Lowe, May Marie Sexton, Phyllis Tilton, Norval Copeland, Mike Turpen and Suzanne Shively. Producing director is Dudley Saunders.

Curtain time for the four performances is 8:30. The admission is fifty cents. Reservations may be made by calling University extension 2396.

"Playboy," written 1906, was responsible for several theatre riots in Dublin and other Irish cities, where it was considered unpatriotic, sacrilegious and even obscene. On its opening night in Philadelphia, police closed the show and arrested the entire cast. However, the case was later laughed out of court.

Five Get Awards In Chemistry

The Chemistry Department has announced the winners of the five awards given annually by the department.

Miss Betty Jo Fritz, Lexington senior, received two awards. These were the Ashland Oil and Refining Company scholarship (the Blazer Award) for scholarship and need, and the American Institute of Chemists' Medal for scholarship, interest in chemistry and professional attitude. The Blazer Award was for $200.

The Willard Riggs Meredith Award for leadership, service, and other personal characteristics, as well as educational attainment and professional promise went to Harry Conley. This award was for $25.

Louis Underwood and William Hoffman received the Merck Index Award for outstanding juniors and seniors in chemistry. Selections are based on scholarly achievements and professional promise.

Winner of the Alpha Chi Sigma Scholarship Award is William Stagg. He received $65. Requirements for this award are that the student be a graduate or undergraduate, but not a graduating or departing student.

Vimont Wins Speech Award

The University of Kentucky's Annual Crum Extemporaneous Speaking Contest was held Thursday night, May 8, in the Music Lounge of the Student Union Building. Four members of the Patterson Literary Society, sponsor of the contest, competed in the event, which is restricted to the membership of the society.

The awards of $20, first prize; 2nd prize $12.50 and third prize $7.50 were won by Richard Vimont, David Walker, and Dayton Matlock, respectively.

The Patterson scholarship of $200 was awarded to John Davis in recognition of his contribution to the Patterson Literary Society.

The Patterson Literary Society welcomes into its membership male students who wish to pursue their interest in public speaking. Information about the society can be obtained from the president, John Davis, or from the faculty sponsor, Dr. J. Reid Sterrett.

Women's Music Group Honors Three Students

Phi-Beta, national women's professional music and speech fraternity, recognized the achievements of three UK students at its Founders Day banquet recently at the Lafayette Hotel.

The University of Kentucky, Transylvania and alumnae chapter members attended the program.

The Phi Beta service and professional awards went to Ann Rives and Ouida Farmer respectively. Faith Way was presented as the organization's choice for its best all-round girl award.

New initiates of the UK chapter were introduced at the banquet. They are: Ann Vimont, Agnes Sandefur, Winnie Sue Cooley, Libby Burchett, Phyllis Tilton, Jill Roudes, Beverly Hill, Sue Judy, Sandy Tingle, Jane Fitch, Barbara Purcell and Elizabeth Terry. New officers of the chapter are Elizabeth Van Horne, president; Drue Cox, vice president; Connie McCray, recording secretary; Winnie Cooley, corresponding secretary and Ann Vimont, treasurer.

Purdue Dean Urges Frats To Improve

Dean of Men O. D. Roberts of Purdue University told approximately 400 fraternity men last week that they needed to raise their standards.

Dean Roberts was guest speaker at the first all-fraternity convocation. Its purpose was to help develop interfraternity spirit and unity.

Dean Roberts said too many fraternities wanted shoe-shining activities. He was referring to the work required of pledges. He urged a better pledge training program.

Bill Gillespie, president of IPC, discussed several problems including rushing, pledge training, and housing problems that was facing fraternities.

John Proffitt, assistant to Dean of Men L. L. Martin, and the IPC officers organized the convocation.

Yourselves and Bradley Hall with "Assault" won first and second place respectively in the stall decorations. The horse stalls were set up and decorated by the coed sponsors of Derby participants on the football field.

With the playing of "My Old Kentucky Home" the first derby got underway. Farm House broke early and held the lead until the third lap. The SAE's moved out on top, but not to stay, as the Phi Delt nosed out the eventual winners on the sixth lap.

Farm House came battling back to take the lead, but faltered when a rider attempted to ride four laps. The SAE's quickly passed the tiring rider and the Phi Delt rider.

Some race observers contributed the Farm House loss to this incident. Practically, all of the riders changed every three laps.

The five preliminary races were 10 laps in length. Farm House had the best qualifying time with 7:18.4 followed by the SAE's with 7:23.2.

The stewards judged in the fifth race, Lexington Trials, that Breckinridge Hall and Bradley Hall would compete in the final race. The decision was made after Breckinridge Hall challenged Bradley Hall, who had been declared the unofficial winner.

An official said a mix-up in the counting of laps caused the protest. It was decided that the winner of the race would be declared by the order of finish in the derby.

Breckinridge Hall came in fourth in the big race. Henry Rambo of Breckinridge Hall turned in a brilliant performance by moving his team from third to first in the fifth race. Rambo was trailing by over 50 yards when he made his

"What's it like to be

A MANUFACTURING ENGINEER AT IBM?"

Four years ago, Yale senior Lee Baker asked himself this question. Today, as a Product Control Engineer in IBM Manufacturing Engineering, Lee reviews his experience and gives some pointers that may be helpful to you in taking the first, most important step in your engineering career.

How to select an employer

To the college senior faced with a job decision, Lee has this to say: "Pick your employer by this simple test: Is the company expanding fast enough to provide adequate scope for your talents and ambitions? Is it interested in your long-range management development? Will it treat

"Selling" the system

you as an individual and match your abilities with the most challenging assignments?"

For his part, Lee feels IBM has met this test. Since 1953, he has seen new plants open, dozens of new products evolve, hundreds of new management positions created. Greater authority, responsibility and reward have come his way. And he knows they will continue, for IBM sales have been doubling on the average every five years since 1930. He likes the "small-team" engineering system that assures ready recognition of individual merit. And he appreciates the fact that IBM hired him despite his impending service hitch.

Recognition of individual merit

What's "life" like at IBM?

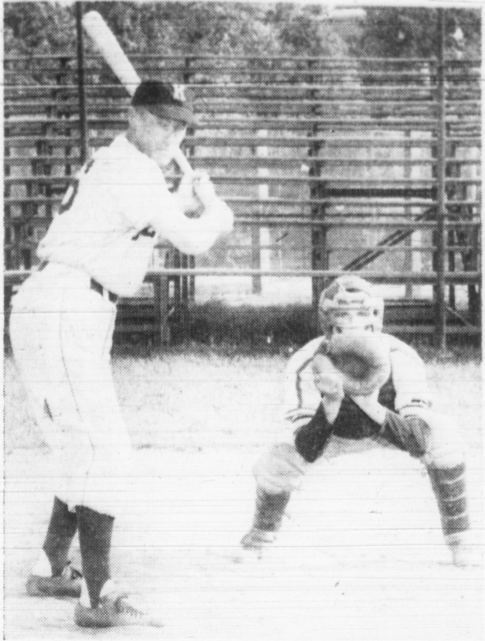

At IBM, Poughkeepsie, Lee lives a "full life." He belongs to a local sports car group, drives an Austin Healy. He skis at Bromley. He is a member of the IBM Footlighters and a local drama workshop. At present, he shares an apartment with two other engineers and a "medium-fi" set, but plans to marry "the girl next door" (in hometown Hamburg, Conn.), in the very near future. In this connection, Lee advises seniors to pay special attention to company benefits. "They may seem like a yawning matter when you're single, but they mean a lot when you assume responsibilities. IBM's are the best I know."

Lee lives a full life

IBM hopes that this message will help to give you some idea of what it's like to work in Manufacturing Engineering at IBM. There are equal opportunities for E.E.'s, M.E.'s, physicists, mathematicians and Liberal Arts majors in IBM's many divisions—Research, Product Development, Sales and Technical Services. Why not drop in and discuss IBM with your Placement Director? He can supply our latest brochure and tell you when IBM will next interview on your campus. Meanwhile, our Manager of Engineering Recruitment, Mr. R. A. Whitehorn, will be happy to answer your questions. Just write him at IBM, Room 9201, 590 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

Top Hitter

Outfielder Frank Brown, top Wildcat hitter, will lead Kentucky against Georgetown today as the Cats attempt to end their season on a winning note. Brown has led the team in batting through most of the season.

Cat Nine Plays Georgetown In Seasons Final Game

By DON LESSLEY

Kentucky ends its baseball season for 1957 in Georgetown this afternoon with a single game against the Tigers. Phil Grawemeyer or Jim Host will draw the starting assignment. Grawemeyer's record for the season is two wins and seven losses; Host owns a one win and five loss record. The Cats will be trying for their seventh win.

Tuesday on Stoll Field the Cats hammered Transylvania in a 19-2 win with sophomore Joe Dawson going all the way for his second win against four losses. Captain Jim Morris started the scoring for the Cats with a home run in the fourth inning.

The Cats had a rather dismal SEC season except for the first series of the campaign. And even that started on the wrong foot. The Florida Gators came into Lexington expecting to take the three game set and from the outset it looked as if they would do just that. The first game ended 22-0. Then in the Saturday double-header sophomore Jim Host stopped the southerners 7-6 and Phil Grawemeyer, who had been shelled the day before, shut out the Gators 4-0.

Big Factor

Kentucky's first baseman Melvin Kouns will be a prominent factor as the Cat nine strives for its seventh victory of the season. Kouns, a Junior, is one of UK's leading batsmen.

The outlook was rosy but the bubble was soon to burst. Grawemeyer lost a heartbreaker to Georgia Tech 6-5 after leading by as much as 5-2. That was the straw that broke the camel's back and the Cats went into a tail-spin that did not end for 13 games. There were several games that could have gone to the Kentuckians with just a few breaks, like Jim Host's 1-0 loss to Auburn.

Georgetown ended the famine with a 7-6 ten-inning loss to the Cats. Two losses to Tennessee followed and then a win over Eastern Kentucky. Kentucky beat Transylvania on the Pioneer's field and then fell to Eastern in Richmond.

Tuesday's win over Transy pulled the Cats record up to six wins and fifteen losses and the boys will be trying to improve on that this afternoon in Georgetown as they end their season.

Coach Harry Lancaster said at the beginning of the season that the team had a good outfield and good pitching. He added that the infield was weak. Errors hurt the team in all their conference tilts but when the pitching was good the team was not out of the picture until the game was over.

UK Golfers End Season With CinCY

By LARRY VAN HOOSE

The University of Kentucky's seven-man golf team closes out its season today when the University of Cincinnati comes to town for a match on the Idle Hour course.

Losing five probable starters from last year, Coach Johnny Owens' crew has struggled through a tough schedule with a 2-13 record. The wins came at the expense of Xavier and Bellarmine of Louisville.

Cincinnati already holds one victory over the Cats. The Ohioans proved to be as tough as their nickname "Bearcats" sounds when UK played on the UC links earlier in the season.

Coach Owens described the season as the worst in his six year duration here. Owens, the SEC's individual champion in 1950, stated that the loss of several men he had counted on heavily had all dropped out of school. Among them was Jim Barber, a tournament winner at Paintsville, Hazard, Danville, and Winchester in the past four years. Also John Y. Brown has dropped golf to spend more time with his law studies.

the gap and the pair strode home first equally abreast.

Dick Steckler was high point man for Kentucky with 12. He won the 100' dash in :10 seconds and was second in the 220 and broad jump plus a third place in the low hurdles.

UK footballers Glen Shaw and Jerry Eisaman captured three events between them. Shaw won the low hurdles and shot put while Eisaman was outdistancing his competition in the Javelin.

Buddy Gum outstanding middle distance man for the frosh established a stadium record in winning the 440 in 51.5. The Henry Clay athlete also ran a corking anchor lap for the victorious mile relay team.

first place laurels for the track cats with a 2:09.7 victory in the 880.

Elsewhere in UK's cinder world the Freshman Harriers were out-gamed by the Morehead State varsity in a star light clash at Morehead 74-56.

Kentucky's star flight milers Press Whelan and E. G. Plummer arrived in the winner's circle in a dead heat after a stirring stretch duel that carried them past the finish tape in 4:19 to set records in the Morehead stadium and for UK freshmen. The old Morehead record was 4:25.6 set by the Eagles' Carl Deaton in 1955.

Whelan cut out the early pace with Plummer laying several strides behind his Bardstovn roommate. At the head of the stretch Whelan increased his lead but a late charge by Plummer narrowed

Thinlies In Birmingham For SEC Meet Today

Ray Blasingame turned into a triple hurricane in leading the Cats to an 83-39 rout of Marshall College in Huntington last weekend as Kentucky's tracksters tuned up for the 25th annual Southeastern Conference track meet in Birmingham today and tomorrow.

The fence hopping act from San Diego annexed the low and high hurdles and took up the slack left by the ailing arm of Lou Michaels to win the shot put. Blasingame's 15 points aided the Wildcats in finishing the regular season with a 3-2 mark.

Dave Franta who is slated to represent UK in the pole vault down in Birmingham captured the crossbar event and took third place in the 100' dash. Dayton Matlick bothered by a bad back won the running broad jump. His status along with Michaels remains in doubt regarding possible competition in the SEC meet.

The mile run was won by UK sophomore Jasper Creech. Lloyd Noble won the discus and teammate Jay Bayless floated home first in the high jump for Kentucky. Leroy Buck secured more

Staff Selects Liege In Preakness; Pick Gallant Man To Win Belmont

By BOB SMITH

Calumet Farm's Iron Liege should repeat his Derby performance and race to victory in Saturday's Pimlico Preakness but the added distance of the gruelling Belmont Stakes in New York next month will be his Waterloo and Gallant Man should capture that affair.

All of this expert touting comes from the "in the know" crowd that accumulates around the Kernel Sport's office. Iron Liege collected a trio of backers while Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler had two votes behind him in the run for the black eyed susans tomorrow.

Gallant Man drew three backers to win the Belmont Stakes a 1½ mile grind that lacks the pomp and lustre of the other two jewels in the triple crown but nevertheless is the most important from the breeder's viewpoint.

Ed Ford predicted a Calumet sweep of the Preakness and Belmont. Ford will stick with Iron Liege tomorrow and then General Duke if Jimmy Jones has him ready next month.

Frank Strunk, new editor of the Kernel, thinks that Bold Ruler aided by blinkers will run back to his best form in the big hundred grander in Baltimore. He thinks that Iron Liege will return to the winner's circle in the final classic.

A Louisville Dave Stewart is rooting for Federal Hill to make it to the wire in the Preakness.

Fifteen Softball Clubs Begin Play In Intramural Tourney Monday

By KENNY HILL
Fifteen teams will begin play Monday night in the intramural softball tournament.

The three top teams in regular season play in each division will play in the tourney. The field was not complete at press time because of several games played last night.

KS, PSK, and ATO will represent the first division of the fraternity league. In this week's action PSK remained undefeated by downing ATO, 7-6. ATO rallied for three runs in the last inning but fell one short. Murphy Baker had three hits for the winners. Allen Knox stood out on defense for PSK.

In the only other game in the first division, LXA defeated KA, 7-1. TKE forfeited to ATO and LXA.

SAE and PKT are two of the tourney teams from the second division. The other team has not been decided.

PKA won two games in the fraternity second division. The PKA's walloped SX, 21-9, as Rip Revo had four hits. One of Revo's hits was a home run. PKA also beat PKT, 16-11 in a free scoring game.

The PKT's won their other two games of the week. They romped over SPE, 25-5. Marney Beard and Murphy Green each had three doubles to lead the winner's attack. PKT beat Triangle, 13-12 in a game held up several weeks by a protest.

SAE scored eight runs in the first inning and went on to register a 16-12 win over SPE. Sam Ewing homered for SAE. In the other game Lynn Murray pitched SX to a 7-1 win over Triangle.

DTD and AGR will represent the third division of the fraternity league in the tournament. PDT or SN will be the other team.

A sacrifice fly by Reeves Jackson in the last inning sent Jim Hoe across the plate with the winning run as DTD edged FH, 10-9. Hoe tied the game when he tripled with the bases loaded. Hoe, Danny Wright and Kent Combs had two hits each for the Dels.

Carroll Teague pitched a one hitter as PDT shutout SN, 5-0. The performance by Teague was the best pitching job of the season. Vance Harper homered for the winners. He was helped in the hitting department by Charlie Scott and Ronnie Atkins. Scott had two hits and Atkins had a triple.

Jackie Miller and Shelly Janowitz sparked ZBT to a 14-4 win over FT. Miller had a home run and two singles and Janowitz connected for a homer and a double.

In the other game, AGR walloped ZBT, 22-1. Glen Gobie, Joe Whalen and George Day had three hits each to lead the winner's attack. Kenny Bean was the winning pitcher.

CE, Donovan Hall and Block and Bridle are the three top teams in the first independent division and will play in the tournament.

In the week's action the Columbia Falcons stopped a last inning rally by the Psychology Department to win 7-5. Dick Frymire homered and singled for the Falcons. He was helped by Wayne Schnyder with two doubles and Oliver Deaton with two singles. Deaton was the winning pitcher.

BSU won two games as they edged the Falcons, 6-5, and romped over DSF, 15-3.

SAE Thinlies Build Strong Lead As I-M Track Meet Nears End

Massing 13 points SAE bounded into an early lead in the first round of the Intramural track meet last Wednesday afternoon. PKA was in second place with eight points and SN and BSU were deadlocked in third with six markers apiece as the cinder meet went into the final session yesterday.

In the only final event held in the running contests over the Stoll Field cinders, Tom McAfee

(SN) scored a wire to wire victory in the 660' marathon. The victor opened up a tremendous lead in the early stages of the race and appeared set for a runaway win until John Schnider (Tri.) put on a stretch run that forced McAfee to the utmost. Larry Heath (DTD) was a close third.

Two qualifying heats were run off in the 120' low hurdles. McAfee (SN) notched his second win in the first dash traveling the distance in 15.4. Delbert Baker (DTD) captured the second heat with Jack Rigby (PDT) and Dave May (PKA) finishing second in each respective race to reach the finals.

Three heats were necessary to determine the finalists in the 100' dash. Carl Lutnick (ZBT) won the first race in 10.7 and Pete Spengler (SAE) equalled Lutnick's time to take the second heat. Fred Miller (Men's Dorm) spun off a 10.8 to triumph in the third session. Roy Russell (ATO), Arnold Shaikun (ZBT) and Earle Williams (KS) also were among the qualifiers. Hugh Denning and Jim Stuckert won both heats of the 220' dash for KS. Joe Whelan (Men's Dorm), Warren Deatriek (Tri.) and Carl Lutnick and Arnold Shaikun (ZBT) also gained the final event.

KS, DTD and PKA automatically entered the finals of the 880' relay when no other outfits showed up for the qualifying run offs.

Pete Spengler (SAE) nailed down first place in the finals of the running broad jump with a leap of 19' 2". John Schlueter (PKA) was second and John Rigby (PDT) third.

TIPS ON TOGS

By "LINK"

GO MAN GO—And you can go any where in this striped, polished cotton sport coat by "McGregor." It is thoroughly washable and extremely comfortable—cut on the slim Ivy League styling—it gives any wardrobe a shot in the arm. Casual and rugged—yet handsomely dress up too. Wear it with a sport shirt or with shirt and tie—either way you will be correct and well clad. I personally can recommend this little coat, as I have one. If you really want to play the "cool cat" get a pair of Bermuda shorts that match this coat—made of the same material and of the exact design and color. Makes a very cool (used both ways) summer rig!

TEA HOUSE—Not of the August moon (however, I hear it was a tremendous success at Guignol—and congrats to the cast and staff) I am speaking about the beautiful decorations for the junior banquet of "Asbury College" in Wilmore—they turned the convention hall of the Phoenix Hotel into a very realistic Japanese tea garden, complete with fish pond, fountain, pagoda and wonderful hand painted murals that covered one whole wall. Following the dinner the various vocal and dramatic groups presented "The Mikado" and it was done with extreme good taste and terrific costumes. Every one connected deserves a big hand and my invitation was greatly appreciated.

DRESS OR PLAY—"Enro" has come out with a very sensible shirt—short sleeved for coolness and made of batiste imported pima cotton. Has button down collar and can be worn with or without a tie. Put it on with a suit or sport coat and you are smartly dressed—take off your coat—remove said tie and you are wearing a sport shirt—tricky eh?

So long for now,

HAVE YOU TRIED THIS EASY TEST?

Here's an interesting way to test a summer shirt for coolness. Have your friends truss you up like a barbecued pig and put you on a spit. Then have them light a roaring fire underneath you. Then get somebody to keep turning you, slowly and deliberately, over the crackling flames. Do you feel the heat? Do annoying beads of perspiration break out on your forehead and neck? Are you uncomfortable? Does your collar wilt, wrinkle and curl? In fact, do you generally dislike the test?

If any one of these things happen, you're not wearing a Van Heusen Century Sheer, the summer shirt that's about the coolest you can buy and which features the famous one-piece soft collar that can't wilt or wrinkle, no matter how hot or humid it gets.

The Van Heusen Century sheer Shirt is the summer version of the great Van Heusen Century Shirt. It's made of pique, that featherweight, cool-weave fabric, launders beautifully and (we repeat) it's impossible to wrinkle its collar. Takes no starch either, so it's always soft and comfortable. See it at your campus haberdasher. He's got the Van Heusen Century Sheer in several collar styles. $4.00. Phillips-Jones Corp., 417 Fifth Ave., New York 16, N.Y.

Wildcats Meet Miami, Bellarmine In Seasons Final Tennis Matches

Aids Victory

Art McCarty, UK tennis captain, helped pace the Cats to an 8-1 win over Georgetown Wednesday. The victory gave Kentucky a 5-4-1 mark for the season. The Cats end their season with Miami (O.) tomorrow and Bellarmine Monday.

The UK tennis team closes its season with matches with Miami of Ohio tomorrow and Bellarmine Monday on the Coliseum courts. The racqueters enter their last two encounters with five wins, four setbacks, and one deadlock.

Coach H. H. Downing's crew grabbed three points and ninth place in the recent SEC tennis championship meet at Baton Rouge with a singles win by Bob Whalen and doubles wins by Bob Whalen and Olaf Haugen and Cal Barwick and Jim Baughman. The three points were the highest a UK team has ever taken in the history of the meet.

The cats' latest win came over Georgetown by an 8-1 bulge Wednesday on the Tiger courts. For UK, Sexton downed Miller 6-1, 0-6, 6-3. McCarty, beat Snyder 6-4, 6-4. Barwick beat Correll 6-3, 6-1. Stitts, Georgetown, stroked Haugen, 6-4, 8-6. Jim Baughman, UK, took Toneray, 6-4, 6-3, and Bob Whalen, UK, beat Henlein, 6-3, 6-2.

In doubles play the Cats went unchecked through the three matches. UK's Sexton and McCarty measured Miller and Stitts by a 6-1, 6-2 count; Cal Barwick and Jim Baughman of UK decisively beat Snyder and Correll 6-0 and 6-2. Bob Whalen and John Johnson, UK, decisioned Toneray and Henlein in close battles by 8-6 and 7-5 scores.

Staff Selects

Stewart believes that the route of this race, slightly shorter than that of the Kentucky Derby, will prove to be the speedy Federal Hill's forte. Stewart is backing Gallant Man in New York.

Jim Bland is for Iron Liege tomorrow and Gallant Man next month.

This writer selects a dark horse in Promised Land for the Preakness. We are confident that Promised Land owned and trained by the capable Hirsch Jacobs will pay off in handsome figures. For the Belmont Stakes we see only Gallant Man capable of going the route.

Scoop White, former sports editor of this publication, will place his two bucks on Iron Liege Saturday and on General Duke some four weeks hence.

Don Lessley advises us to back Gallant Man in Maryland but to switch to Federal Hill in the Belmont.

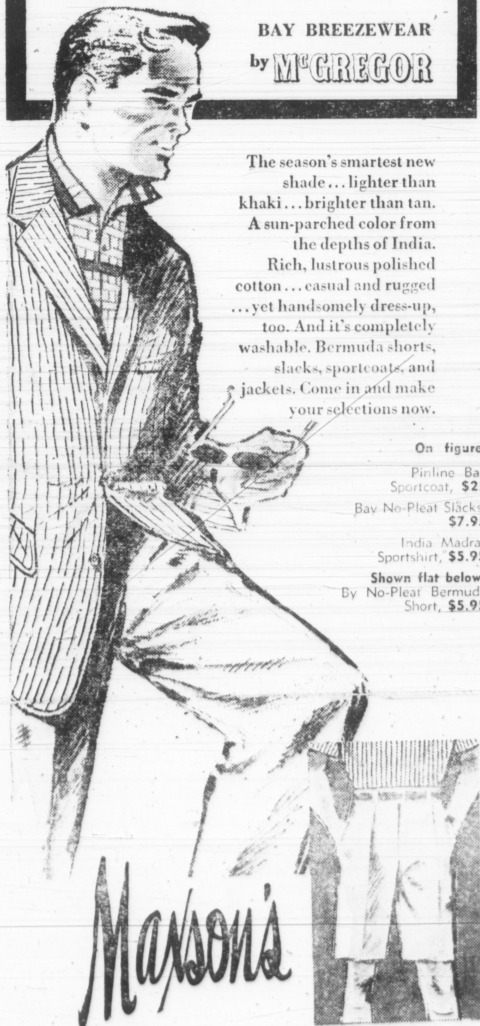

Bold Ruler all the way from here on in, that's what Kenny Hill thinks and he is hoping that Eddie Arcaro and Sunny Jim Fitzsimons believe this way also.

One final bit of advice is that if you are depending on our graded handicap selections to pay for your tuition next fall we probably won't be seeing you around anymore.

Dr. Dickey To Receive New Degree

University President Frank G. Dickey will receive one of five honorary degrees to be awarded at Transylvania College's Commencement exercises June 10.

Dr. Frank Rose, Transylvania president, will present an LL.D. degree to Dr. Dickey, who was a Transylvania honor graduate in the class of 1939.

Following his graduation, the UK president received his M.A. degree from the University of Kentucky in 1942. He obtained his Ed.D. from UK in 1947. Dr. Dickey did postgraduate work with emphasis on administration at Harvard University in 1952-1953.

After receiving his Ed.D., Dr. Dickey remained on the University's College of Education faculty.

Appointed Dean of the UK College of Education in 1950, Dr. Dickey held that position until being named University president in June, 1956. He assumed office last September 1.

Dr. Dickey began teaching while a senior at Transylvania. He completed all his course requirements at midterm and then taught speech, dramatics, and English at Bryan Station High School in Fayette County. He became an instructor in the Lexington School system in September, 1939, and remained in that capacity until entering military service in 1943.

The other honorees are William M. Haupf, financier of Versailles and New York City; the Rev. John Chenault, a pastor at Frankfort; the Rev. Wayne Bell, a pastor at Richmond, Va.; and the Rev. H. G. Hobgood, retired missionary from Lexington.

Speech Department To Conduct Contest

The University of Kentucky Department of Speech will present the first annual Extempore Speech Contest in Guignol Theater tomorrow and Tuesday, May 21.

The contest, under the direction of Prof. M. R. McBride, will be conducted in two phases. From 10 a.m. to 12 a.m. on Saturday, the outstanding speakers from each of the 15 sections of public speaking now being conducted by the department will present a five minute talk. From these, the judges will select four finalists who will compete for first prize on Tuesday at 4 p.m.

The final speeches will be 15 minutes in length. Dr. Gifford Blyton, head of the Speech Department, will present a large trophy to the winner and a smaller cup to the runner-up.

Serving as judges for both rounds of the eliminations will be Mrs. Elizabeth E. Taylor, of the Radio Arts Dept.; Prof. John A. Rea, Modern Foreign Languages Dept.; Prof. Jacob H. Adler, Dept. of English; and Prof. Alexander H. Romanowitz, Dept. of Electrical Engineering.

Each speech class has chosen its representative by critical elimina-

Social Students Visit Frankfort

Prof. H. E. Wetzel announced that senior students of the Social Works Department visited Frankfort May 14, visiting the State Department of Welfare Economic Security and the merit system.

The seniors discussed state social services with officials of these departments.

Prof. Wetzel will attend the National Council of Social Welfare, May 19-24, in Philadelphia. This council is the annual forum for people in social work.

Prof. Wetzel is vice-president of the council on Social Work Education. He will attend both the board meeting and house of delegates meeting.

There will be over 400 speakers and discussants at the conference.

Music Library Gets Records

The UK Music Department has recently been informed that approximately 7,000 records will be added to its library by a Chicago, Ill., businessman.

Norman W. Forgue, head of Norman Press Book Designing and Typography Co., will donate his extensive collection of records to the Department sometime this month.

The collection consists of collector's items, symphonies, concertos and other general items, jazz selections, children's records and music of other nationalities throughout the world.

Forgue's daughter, Stepheny, is a freshman at UK this year.
