

Woodlark,
July 2 1880.

Dear Father;

We were so glad to get your letter from Cincinnati. I hope Mamma stood the rest of the trip as well. How did you manage at Huntington?

The children are all well and so is the barley. Mr. Brassfield examined the barley this morning and found it unharmed. He had the pens more carefully covered. They put planks underneath the straw. It has rained for a week backing one day and that day was cloudy and
