Dear Major

We were detained in the Supreme Court until 4 o'clock Friday afternoon & so did not get home until 10 o'clock that night.
The trip to Worthington fatigued me a good deal, but next morning I found my cold broken up & all apprehension of pneumonia soon passed away. I had a very busy time in Worthington but came home feeling entirely well.

It was a great disappointment to me, as well as to Mr Bristow not to see more of you, but I felt obliged to go to Mr & Dr Wagner through advice Mr B
