

SHELBY T. HARBISON,

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 12th 1898

Major Mc Dowell:

My dear Sir:

Mr. Page thinks he would like to have all of his mares stabled at night and he has about 35 head, I would prefer to have them all stay at your place. And if you can have as many stalls ready by noon, I think we can keep them together. Mr. Page will be out about 2 o'clock to see the mares and look at the stable.
