Dearest Yates.

Received your letter Monday was certainly glad to get it.
Only wished it had been longer. - I'll tell you, you can't imagine how lonesome it is down here, and to read one of your letters would make anyone crazy over you, and want to read another soon.

Dear you can't imagine how much I appreciated your writing me when you did.
You may think I am somewhat crazy over you, and you think just exactly correct.

If I had not thought a great deal of you, I would not have answered your letter, "Would I?"

But I was only too glad to get to answer it, trusting you may never have a desire to do me again. (Eh?) I loved you Boy, and it has never grown cold, I shall always love you, unless I'm changed a whole lot, and no one can change me, ("But you").

No! My love will not hurt to be renewed at all, for it is all for you as it has always been.

since I first knew you,
 "You know that,"

"Dear it you are more than welcome. Come be mine." And I'll love you more than anyone ever did.

Say when are you coming to D. O.? Why not, come real soon, for I'm simply crazy to see you.

Am so sorry you can't find a picture to send me.
 Now listen if you love me like you ought to
 I think you could find one and send it to me at an early date. What about it?

#1

Why not come out here
the 25th, and we will go
"hunting" understand,

The <sup>Ladies</sup> Smoking Association is going to give a dinner in town that day. and I claim we can have some fun.

"If you'll just come"
Say what have you
been doing for past times!
and how is Kapp how,
now. O.K. I guess.

"O. Pardon me, but sure enough I forgot to ask, about Bess. I trust she is still living, and is enjoying good health. ———

You say you are supposed to be "The man of the house" Well Dear I'm sure you are a good one. And would be Oh! so tickled for you to be the man of my house, when I get one.

I hope you will be the (lucky- or unlucky) one, just as you think. (I think it would be sure enough luck to have you be the man of my house. (Dear))

Well as this is five pages, and you only write five, and ~~and~~ you maybe could read more than ~~the~~ three. I see. Honest Kid I'm all in. "Dawn and out."

I know nothing to write you Dear, but that which you are all ready wise about.

But if you will come I'll tell you something that will either make you love me - or hate me -

Now come and I'll do my best to make you love me, so I love you, for that is what I'm trying to do any how. (you see).

Now listen Dear, I have Rheumatism in my 71

right hand. And it pains me so I can't hardly write.
"Now laugh."

I don't know how I'm telling the sure enough truth — you may be don't believe me, but come down and look at my hand and you will then see for yourself.
But something is the matter and the Doctor says,
Rheumatism in my hand.
Now I don't take a good laugh. Then stop and think earnestly about it. And send me your love. That will help.

Say send up few prayers,
also for my hand. Best.

Well now I'll close now. "You understood why". I could not write any more. — (8 pages)

Trusting you will take pity on me as well as my hand and write me a short magazine or book. And if I am able I'll sure return it Dear.
"Will do my best at least."

Yours without a struggle.
Franc.

P.S. I would not say I hate you me to hate I - in both hands, Dear.
