WHAT WILL THE NEW YEAR BRING?

Here is a Wish List:

A resolution of the status of the West Bank.

Peace between Israel and her neighbors.

Civil liberties, freedom to emigrate, and freedom from anti-Semitism for Jews in Russia and in other countries.

An end to bigotry, terrorism, and anti-Semitism.

Your continued and increased support for Jewish charities worldwide and in the United States which provide aid and comfort for Jews throughout the world.

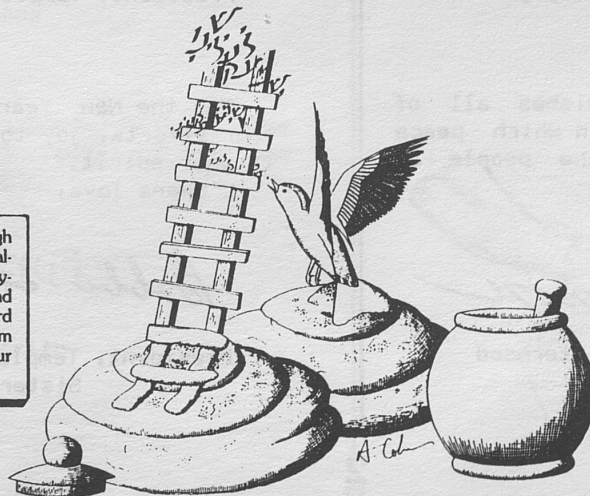

Greater cooperation and enthusiasm for our local CKJF programs which enrich ourselves and our children.

Impossible to achieve? Probably. Worthy of our dedication, energy, time, intelligence, courage, and heart? Absolutely.

CKJF is your community organization and with your cooperation, we will do our part to reach the goals of our "Wish List".

From the Board and Staff of CKJF, our best wishes for a Happy and Healthy New Year.

Ladders and birds formed out of dough are traditionally found on holiday challahs, an expression of hope that our prayers will ascend on high, unhindered and whole. In this fanciful drawing, the bird comes alive and sings out the words from the Machzor, "Sh'ma Koleinu - Hear Our Prayer!"

Rosh Hashanah GREETINGS

May the year 5750 be a year of peace for the Jews of Central Kentucky and the World. Shana Tova Tikatavu V'Tichatemu. May your name be inscribed and sealed in the book of life.

B'shalom,

Rabbi Orin Glats

Rabbi, Ohavay Zion Synagogue

Ohavay Zion Synagogue extends to each of you the very best New Year's greetings. We share with you our prayers for individual health and happiness, as well as our prayers that 5750 be a year of continued growth, harmony, and prosperity for our entire Central Kentucky Jewish Community.

L'Shana Tova,

Sheila DeKosky

President, Ohavay Zion Synagogue

Ohavay Zion Sisterhood wishes all of you a healthy, happy 5750 in which peace will come to Israel and the people of Israel.

L'Shanah Tova Tikatavu!

Simone Salomon

President, Ohavay Zion Sisterhood

On behalf of Sandy, Joshua, and Rachel, I want to wish everyone a most Happy and Healthy New Year. May the coming year be filled with the fulfillment of dreams and the satisfaction of goals reached. May all of us in our homes find quiet and contentment, growth of body, mind, and soul.

From the Temple Adath Israel Executive Committee, Board of Trustees, and Temple community, L'Shana Tova v'Tekateivu--May the new year 5750 be a year of blessing for us all.

Rabbi Jon Adland

Rabbi, Temple Adath Israel

May the coming year be one of peace, good health and great happiness for all.

Ben Baker

President, Temple Adath Israel

May the New Year bring fulfillment to your efforts, joy to your heart, and peace to your spirit.

L'Shana Tova,

Babbi Fried

President, Temple Adath Israel Sisterhood

The Temple Adath Israel Brotherhood wishes Lexington L'Shana Tova.

George Berntson

President, Temple Adath Israel Brotherhood

On behalf of the Temple Adath Israel Youth Group, I would like to wish a joyful and festive New Year to all of Central Kentucky's Jews and a healthy and happy year.

B'shalom,

Georgette

President, Temple Adath Israel Youth Group

On behalf of the Temple Adath Israel Youth Group, we wish the entire Jewish community health and happiness in the New Year.

L'Shana Tova,

Mark Simpson

Tina Simpson

Advisors, Temple Adath Israel Youth Group

Shalom and best wishes for a happy New Year from B'nai B'rith District Two and Stanley Rose Lodge #289.

Max Kover

President, B'nai B'rith

The Jewish students at U.K. wish the members of the Lexington community a year of peace, joy, and health.

Susan Holstein

Director, Hillel

On behalf of the Lexington Chapter of Hadassah, I'd like to wish the entire Jewish community a happy and healthy New Year, along with our wishes for peace in the Middle East.

Shana Tova,

Renee Oser

President, Hadassah

May the approaching year be one of growth, joy and good health for everyone in our community. Let freedom and peace be increased throughout the world, and Judaism strengthened as the days go by.

L'Shanah Tovah

Chanda Rabin

CKJF Executive Director

ANYTOWN: AWARENESS AND ACCOMPLISHMENT

Editor's Note: The following article is written by Naomi Clewett, recipient of a scholarship from CKJF to Anytown, USA.* Your contributions to the CKJF-UJA annual campaign made this experience possible.

When I first arrived at Anytown I considered myself an open-minded person with few prejudices. However, I and most of the other delegates were soon startled to discover the number of prejudgments and automatic assumptions every person harbors which come into play as instinctive responses, often despite conscious efforts to suppress them. As we quickly discovered, these preconceptions (which were usually misconceptions, as well) extended far beyond the most commonly thought of boundaries of "black" and "white" or "Christian" and "Jew". We realized that, whether we liked it or not, as we first encountered our fellow delegates each and every one of us automatically made certain assumptions about people based not only on ethnic origin but on appearance, manner of speech and hometown, as well.

During discussion groups and activities throughout the week we took a closer look at our own attitudes as well as popular stereotypes on subject such as racism, sexism, class division, homosexuality, and much more. Small group discussions were devoted to topics like relationships with friends and families, as well exploring our relationships with ourselves by examining how we perceive ourselves. At the same time that we learned to have pride in our communities and our country as a whole, emphasis was also placed on appreciation of our own unique and special cultural backgrounds, whatever they may be.

In one short week, I and the other Anytown delegates learned more than we had thought possible; definitely more than can be explained here on paper. By the end of the week we had overcome our initial prejudices and fears to learn that each of us is a special person with much to offer, that together we can make a difference and (most importantly) that we definitely did not want to leave!

AIRLIFT BRINGS ARMENIAN EARTHQUAKE VICTIMS TO ISRAEL

The American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee (JDC) launched an airlift on June 27, 1989, of over 60 amputees and crush trauma patients, all victims of the Armenian earthquake last December, to Israel for surgery, prostheses, and treatment. An El Al Israel Airlines Boeing 757 transported them from Yerevan to Tel Aviv. This is the first time an El Al airplane has landed in the Soviet Union.

Israel has opened its arms to the victims of this devastating earthquake. No other country in the world has taken on so many amputees for treatment. All other countries combined took on a total of 40 people.

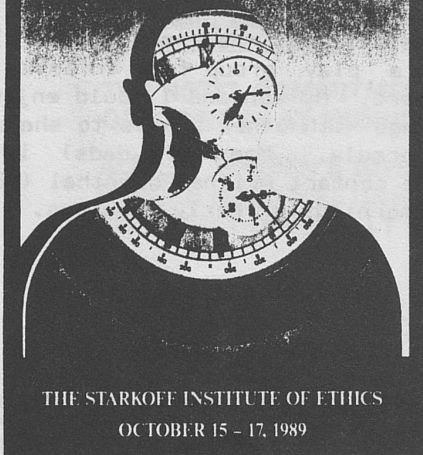

Armenian physicians and nurses accompanied the patients to Israel for training. The patients were treated at Rambam and Sheba Hospitals.

Funds for this project came from a special JDC mailbox appeal to the American Jewish community, contributions from the Italian Jewish community, Dutch Friends of Magen David Adom, the Dutch Red Cross, and the Armenian Charity Union "Gtutyum".

As a second recovery project, JDC plans to build a rehabilitation center for children in Leninakan, one of the areas most devastated by the earthquake.

The American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee is the overseas relief arm of the American Jewish community. Its services are supported with contributions to UJA-Federation campaigns throughout the United States.

OSI SEEKS SURVIVORS

The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith has received a request from the Office of Special Investigations, U.S. Department of Justice in its effort to identify and interview persons imprisoned at the following camps between the dates specified:

Sachsenhausen/Oranienburg 6/43 - 9/44
Stutthof 11/42 - 4/44
Buchenwald 5/43 - 4/44
Majdanek 11/43 - 4/44
Flossenburg 2/45 - 4/45

OSI's interest in locating these survivors have been occasioned by its investigation of alleged members of SS guard companies assigned to these camps. Survivors may contact the ADL regional office, 529 E. Engler Street, Columbus, Ohio 43215, (800) 321-8614 (Kentucky).

Jason Silverman, son of Marc and Nicki Silverman, will be called to the Torah on Saturday, September 9th at 10:30 a.m. at Temple Adath Israel.

Scott David Hoffman, son of Phillip and Nancy Hoffman, will be called to the Torah on Saturday, September 16th at 10:00 a.m. at Ohavay Zion Synagogue.

PASSAGE TO FREEDOM

The following article appeared in the UJA publication "Campaign Hotline" recently.

"The Central Kentucky Jewish Federation (Lexington) has zoomed past its $23,000 goal by raising more than twice as much --$47,500-- and has scheduled a second phone marathon for September 7. Rabbi Jon Adland chairs the "Passage" effort; Dr. Robert Baumann and Erle Levy co-chair."

Meet your global Jewish family.

You have a cousin in Zagreb.

Your contribution to the UJA/Federation Campaign helps make possible kosher meals, winter clothing, summer camps, homes for the elderly and much more for Jews of all ages in Eastern Europe.

You have family in Jerusalem.

They're among the 600,000 Israelis reached by your gift and others, helping all the generations – newcomers to Israel, kibbutzniks, Project Renewal families, disadvantaged teenagers and the elderly.

You have an uncle in Leningrad.

He has opportunities he never had before. We're providing the essentials for living a Jewish life in the Soviet Union. And if he leaves Russia, our Passage to Freedom Campaign will help him start a new life.

You have a grandmother nearby.

And, thanks to your local Jewish federation, she's assisted with social services programs. The rest of the family benefits, too, with camp programs, holiday parties, and Jewish education.

Wish them all a happy New Year—give to the UJA/Federation Campaign.

THE CYCLE OF TIME

Editor's Note: The following article by Edith Schulman appeared in a recent issue of Jewish Observer.

Your wedding day is recorded as 15 Kislev 5724 on your ketuba. A look at your bar mitzvah certificate will remind you that you became an adult member of the congregation on 2 Tishri 5613. According to your synagogue's book of Yartzeit records, your mother died on 25 Adar 4746. These dates have been calculated by the Jewish calendar, as is every important life cycle date.

The Jewish calendar, whose months and years have been established by the cycles of the moon and the sun, has 354 days and the Gregorian or civil calendar has 365. Therefore, if the Jewish calendar was not harmonized with the Gregorian calendar, Passover could fall in the winter and Rosh Hasona might come in July! The synchronization of the two calendars became imperative so that Jewish holidays could be observed at their proper time as specified in the Bible. In order to do this an extra month is added to the Jewish calendar every two or three years. This is done seven times in each 19 years. The months of Cheshvan and Kislev have a day added or subtracted as required for the necessary synchronization.

Prior to 359 C.E., the arrival of the New Moon, the beginning of the new month, was announced by the Sanhedrin, the Supreme Court in Jerusalem. Its announcement was based on the testimony of two eyewitnesses who reported on having seen the crescent of the New Moon. When their testimony was examined, confirmed by calculation and duly verified, the Sanhedrin would send torch signals from mountaintop to mountaintop to notify all Jewish communities that the New Moon had been sighted. Later on, the notification was by messengers from community to community.

In the fourth century, when oppression and persecution threatened the continued existence of the Sanhedrin, the Patriarch Hillel II made public the system of calendar calculation which up to that time had been a closely guarded secret. He did this in order to prevent Jews scattered all over the world from celebrating their New Moons, festivals and holidays at different times.

DIFFERENCES IN CALENDARS

The Jewish day begins and ends at sunset, or more precisely, after dusk when the first three stars of medium size appear, whereas on the civil calendar, the day runs from midnight to midnight. The hour is divided into 1080 parts (Halakim). One part is divided into 76 moments (Ragain). In conventional time division, one part corresponds to  $3 \frac{1}{3}$  seconds; one moment is equal to  $\frac{5}{114}$  of a second.

The days of the week--Sunday, Monday, etc.--are named the first day, second day and so on. Only the seventh day has a specific name--Sabbath.

The average figure given for a month is 29 days and 12 hours and 793 parts, based on the moon making one revolution around the earth. The Jewish calendar is a luni-solar calendar. In contrast, the Gregorian calendar is purely solar and the months of that calendar have lost their relation to the moon.

With the issuing of the calendar by Hillel II, it was arranged that the Jewish holidays would not interfere with the observance of the Sabbath and also that the Sabbath would not interfere with holiday observance.

The Jews reasoned that if Rosh Hashanah were to fall on a Wednesday, Yom Kippur would then fall on a Friday, which would make it impossible for Jews to prepare for the Shabbat. If Rosh Hashanah were to fall on a Friday, Yom Kippur would then fall on a Sunday, which not allow for Jews observing the Sabbath to prepare for Yom Kippur. If Rosh Hashanah fell on a Sunday, the the last day of Sukkot would fall on a Saturday, also not desirable. Therefore, Rosh Hashanah will never fall on a Wednesday, Friday or Sunday.

This then, is the calendar used today by the Jews all over the world. It is the calendar which marks the wedding day on a ketubah, the day of a birth on the bris certificate, the day of a divorce on the get, and the day to say Yiskor--in fact, every day in our life cycle. So too, it marks the Jewish holidays. Passover will always be celebrated in the Spring and Sukkot will always be celebrated in the Fall as the Bible indicated they should, and just as our ancestors have done for 2000 years.
