RED CROSS AUCTION AT TRACK NETS $210

Headquarters Now Being Equipped in Ag.
Building

WORKERS ARE NEEDED

One of the most important war-working bodies on the campus is the Red Cross Unit, formed last spring. During the short time of their work, about fifty pairs of socks were made and several dozen garments; much more is expected of the chapter this coming year.

Miss Louise Turner, the president, reports the sale of a handsome sapphire and diamond ring that was donated last March by Mrs. Stoner, of Mt. Sterling. This ring was sold at the trotting track October 3, bringing $210. This fund will serve as a financial foundation, but the enthusiastic members are planning other ways of increasing the fund.

Dean Cooper has given over to the unit the largest room in the Agriculture building, which is situated on the third floor. It is for the sole use of the girls for the duration of the war. President Frank L. McVey allowed $50 for decoration and furnishings and Miss Madge Lamareaux, who has had training in interior decoration, has agreed to help Miss Turner furnish the room as an attractive headquarters, where the girls can gather to sew and knit, or even rest during the day. The exact location will be advertised by Red Cross flag floating from one of the windows, while posters will be put up over the campus, made under the supervision of Miss Beak, of the Art Department.

All the University leaders are deeply interested in this organization and have been most generous to the girls in their efforts, but the co-operation of each girl in school is necessary for good work. Moreover, while $50 is a generous allowance, it can hardly be expected to suitably equip so large a room. Comfortable seats are needed for the workers and there must be work tables and drawers for storing materials. Every Lexington girl and those girls who have friends living in Lexington are urged to borrow rockers, rugs, attractive pillows, etc. Many people who usually store their porch sets for the winter, might be glad to lend them for such a cause. All donations will be welcomed, but furniture lent to the girls will be appreciated and well cared for.

KAPPA DELTA DANCE IS POSTPONED

Kappa Delta Sorority announces that their dance which was to have been given Saturday evening, October 12, at Patterson Hall has been indefinitely postponed, in compliance with the regulation of the State Board of Health.

NOTICE TO STAFF

There will be an important Kernel staff meeting Saturday morning at 11:45 in the Journalism room. Every member of the staff must be present.

DOCTOR TUTHILL TELLS OF WAR AIMS COURSE

Head of History Department Explains Work in Conjunction With Government's Demands

MATRICULATION TALK IS OFF

"War Aims," is a course of required study for all S. A. T. C. men in every University, ordered by the War Department August 27, 1918. About 800 students have registered for this course at the University of Kentucky, constituting about twenty sections, which means a class in "War Aims" every hour of each day. President McVey has entrusted the organization of this course to a committee consisting of Professors Tuthill, chairman, Wiest, Calhoun and Butt.

Doctor Tuthill Explains.

Doctor Tuthill is quoted as making the following explanatory statements regarding the purpose of "War Aims." "The general order, divided the year into quarters of twelve weeks each, the first, or fall term, devoted to the background of the war, including both the remote and immediate causes of the war; the second term devoted to the progress of the war or current events, and the third term to be devoted to the study of physiological aspects of the war with emphasis on government and the principles of government. However, the War Department has not been exacting in defining these divisions, but allows each institution to present the subject in the manner best suited to its conditions. University The Instrument.

"Quite recently a further order classified the registrants according to age, apparently with the idea that those who have passed their twentieth birthday may be called sooner than those eighteen years of age. This consideration has made use of the University of Kentucky in an endeavor to present all three phases of study in a concise manner before the Christmas Holidays, since it was impossible to reclassify the sections containing older men.

"We think that this requirement is both unique and significant. Never before in the history of the world has any government, ancient or modern, required its prospective soldiers to study its recent history, nor with such a motive. The decision to require this study in our colleges has, perhaps,

S. A. T. C. MEN DRILL WITH CONFISCATED ARMS

Thirty-six Cases of Guns Received at University For Young Student Soldiers

With rifles and bayonets manufactured for the Russian Government, on a contract made when the soldiers of Russia and the United States were fighting as allies, S. A. T. C. men are drilling in preparation for delivering the bayonets in person, not into the hands, but the heart of the Bolshevik regime.

Thirty-six cases of these arms have been received at the University and have been issued. Uniforms have been issued to A and B companies, complete, and partial equipment for the S. A. T. C. has been delivered. So many articles are missing, however, it is probable that S. A. T. C. uniforms will not be issued for several weeks.

By a recent order of Major Justin W. Harding, the Quartermaster's Department will be moved from the Surgeon General's office, into temporary quarters, until their new building is completed.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING

Members of the class of 1919, are hereby called to meet in the rooms of Dean C. R. Melcher, in the Administration Building Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. This meeting will be the first assembly of the class for this year. Senior class officers will be elected. Alex Hall, president of last year's Junior class, will preside as temporary chairman. Many Seniors seem to be in favor of Hall's re-election.

NOTICE TO STUDENTS

Students not members of S. A. T. C. or residents of Patterson Hall and Maxwell Hall, must not attend University classes until order of State Board of Health is rescinded.
FRANK L. McVEY,
President.

INFLUENZA QUARANTINE BARS TOWN'S STUDENTS

Classes Open to S. A. T. C. and to Patterson and
Maxwell Hall Girls

AWAIT U. S. ORDERS

According to a statement made by President Frank L. McVey, all students who are not in the S. A. T. C. or in Patterson and Maxwell Halls must not attend classes until notice is given by the University authorities.

President McVey wired Washington concerning the boys of the S. A. T. C., who live in town, but no reply has been received as yet.

Miss Katie Henry has influenza and is quarantined in Patterson Hall. The two halls, however, have not yet been quarantined, and it is thought that they will not be as long as the disease does not spread.

The barracks are being rushed to completion, and the boys will probably be moved in next week.

MANY MEN OUT FOR ARMY & NAVY TEAMS

Much enthusiasm is being aroused over the series of football games between the Army and Navy sections of the S. A. T. C. Over thirty men have reported for each team and both sections declare they will walk roughshod over the other. The officers are showing great interest and will do all they can to get a winning team for their section.

Practice will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at 4 o'clock, and those wanting a suit should report to Athletic Director Boles. No men who are on the 'varsity team will be allowed to play, but if any new men show first team caliber, they will be transferred to the 'varsity. The games will start as soon as the teams are in the proper condition, and will be played on Monday afternoons.

Since there are many men in both sections who have formerly played football, first class teams should be turned out, however the lack of experience should keep no one from coming out, as there will be a chance for everyone to play and to make the team.

He: And how are you getting on with your collecting for the soldiers?
She: Splendidly! I've had my name in the papers four times already.

INDIANA OUTCLASSED

Mid-Season Snap Characterizes Kentucky's Struggle to the Tune of 23 to 7

Sterling coaching and perfect teamwork showed its effect Saturday, when the Wildcats triumphed over the powerful Indiana team by the score of 23 to 7, in the first Western Conference game Kentucky has played since the Perdue game of 1915. Kentucky played with midseason snap and punch, and although outweighed fifteen pound to the man, the result was never in doubt. Every man on the team played splendid ball, the entire line holding at all times like a stone wall. Riddle handled the team well and played the same class of ball that won him a place on the 'varsity in his freshman year, while Shanklin, Bartlett and Bland never failed to do what was expected of them.

First Quarter Scoreless.

Kentucky won the choice of goals and kicked off with the wind at their backs. The first quarter was scoreless, the ball being in the middle of the field most of the time. Both teams were somewhat nervous and fumbled the ball several times.

On the first play of the second quarter, Riddle carried the ball around end for thirty yards. On the next play, Riddle hurled a forward pass to Bartlett behind the end zone, who eluded several tacklers, and placed the ball between the goal posts. Bland missed goal. In less than two minutes, Kentucky scored again. Indiana received the kickoff, was held for three downs, then punted to Kentucky. Riddle got away for a wide run, then shot a forward pass to Dishman, who dodged several Crimson tacklers and made a beautiful run for thirty yards for a touchdown. Bland kicked goal. The quarter ended with the ball in Kentucky's possession on her thirty-five-yard line. Score 13 to 0.

Kentucky Holds on One-Yard Line

In the next quarter, Indiana played her best game. Kentucky kicked off to Indiana, who made two first downs and was then held. Kentucky took the ball up the field to Indiana's thirty-yard line and attempted a forward pass, which was intercepted by Faust, of Indiana, who ran seventy yards to Kentucky's four-yard line, where he was tackled by Shanklin and Riddle. Kentucky's line held here like a stone wall, and Indiana was unable to gain. Bland punted out, and Indiana returned the ball to Kentucky's twenty-yard line. Kentucky was here penalized for illegally interfering with a forward pass and the ball was placed on her one-yard line. Here Indiana was held for four downs and the ball went over to Kentucky. Bland punted out. The quarter ended with the ball in Indiana's possession.

Indiana Scored

On the first play of the fourth quarter, Indiana completed a forward pass for a touchdown and kicked goal, making the score 13 to 7. Kentucky then received and took the ball to Indiana's twenty-five-yard line, when Bland dropped back for a goal from placement, and sent the ball square between the goal posts. Indiana received and was held for downs. Kentucky took the ball down the field by a long run by Bartlett and line bucks by Bland and Shanklin. Shanklin was then sent thru the line for a touchdown. Bland kicked goal. The game ended with the ball in Kentucky's possession in the middle of the field.

CHI OMEGA BUYS $50 LIBERTY BOND

Purchase of a Liberty Bond of the Fourth Loan, and a luncheon at the Phoenix Hotel Saturday, October 5, marked the celebration of the Greek harvest festival, the Eleusinia, by Lambda Alpha chapter of Chi Omega at the University.

Chi chapter of Transylvania united with Lambda Alpha at the luncheon, which was a strictly Hooverized affair. In Washington the same day the hundred or more Chi Omegas who are there engaged in war work held with the national officers of the organization, a Baby Bond Contention, where each chapter of the fraternity was represented by a Baby Bond. The bonds will be applied to the Chi Omega service fund which is to be used for reconstruction work in France.

Those present for the luncheon Saturday were: Sarah Harbison, Eliza Piggott, Catherine Tucker, Nancy Buckner, Ethel Fletcher, Roberta Blackburn, Helen Skain, May Barnes Browning, Nancy Innes, Mary Parker, Anna Young, Lucile Young, Ida Moore, Honeywood Parrish, Elizabeth Thomas, Frances Dixon Ball, Anna Howard Harbison, Mrs. Adolphus Rice, Mary Adams Talbot, Catherine Foreman, Bettie Davis.

HORACE MANN HOLDS WEEKLY MEETING

The Horace Mann Literary Society held its weekly meeting October 4, in Professor Noe's room in the Education Building.

A new feature introduced by the program committee is a war discussion to be held every meeting, before the regular program. This discussion is to take in all the important details of the week's war news.

Miss Lucile Dean read a paper which covered the important war news of the previous week.

The topic for discussion was the Life and Works of Robert W. Service. Miss Elizabeth Davidson gave an interesting talk on his life. Miss Irma Wentzell read "The Call of the Yukon" and "The Crimination of Sam McGee."

The Bolsheviks will be the topic for discussion at the next meeting.

MRS. McVEY HONOR GUEST AT TEA

A delightful tea was given in the parlors of Patterson Hall by the old girls, Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. McVey, and the new girls of Patterson and Maxwell Halls. Mrs. Harbison, Mrs. Smith, Miss Crane, Miss Stevens and Miss Collins formed the receiving line.

Music was furnished by Camp Buell's quartet of stringed instruments. Serving at the tea-tables were Misses Edna Berkele, Virginia Croft Edyth Williams and Margaret Woll.

saved the perils of very small attendance and in many cases the probability of closing the doors. It shows that the government is not only friendly toward colleges of this country, but that it expects them to provide a vast number of intelligent officers for the huge army which it intends to organize for the overthrow of autocracy in Europe.

Compared to Crusaders.

"One cannot refrain from comparing our young soldiers with the Crusaders, who went forth eight centuries ago to champion the cause of Christianity against the Turk. By similar coincidence the foe in one instance happened to be the same, and the United States Government evidently intends that our soldiers shall have the zeal of the Crusader, together with the skill that comes with college training."

Matriculation Lectures was a course of study open to the freshman class of the University at the beginning of the fall term. Since the members of the S. A. T. C. found it impossible to arrange their schedules in accordance with the hours outlined for this course, after the recent classification regarding young men twenty years of age, the following notice posted on various bulletin boards about the campus, "Matriculation lectures for arts and science students are postponed until further notice," announces the fact that the newest additions to the student-body have yet to look forward to this study of campus knowledge and college life.

'BOTTLED IN BOND' MAY NOT GO WEST

S. A. T. C. Status Not That of Military Camp

UP TO JUSTICE DEPT.

Cheer up boys, for there are now indications that no dry zone will be established around military training units in Lexington. The decision rests upon the Department of Justice. The Commission on Training Camp Activities will put before the Attorney General and the Department of Justice, the question as to whether such training units as the S. A. T. C. constitute military camps. Altho appealed to before, this department has, as yet, issued no orders to establish dry zones around these camps.

District Attorney Thomas D. Slatery, stated Saturday, that should the dry zone be established, all saloon keepers will be given reasonable notice by the Department of Justice. Such a zone would close nearly every saloon in Lexington. It is the general belief that student training units will not be classed as strictly military camps. The character of the college is a big factor in the determination of the nature of these training camps.

Since all saloons must be closed July 1, of next year, the Department of Justice is rather lenient towards the saloon-keepers.

Unable Seaman: When I come to the surgeon 'e says to me, "I'm blooming sorry, mate, I don't know what I was thinking about," he says, "but there's a sponge missin', and I believe it's inside yer."

"What's the odds?" I says. "Let it be." And there it is to this day. No, I don't feel no particular pain from it, but I do get most uncommonly thirsty."

PULLIAM BROTHERS ARE EXPERT FLYERS

Captain Keeling Jr.'s Article Made Part of Curriculum

BOTH ARE IN FRANCE

Former Commissioner of Finance K. G. Pulliam and Mrs. Pulliam, of 505 East Main street, have two expert flyers in the aviation service of the United States, and both are now on the fighting front in France, where they are rendering valiant service.

They are Captain K. G. Pulliam, Jr., J. M. A., United States army, commander of the Third Aviation Center, now stationed at Issoudun, France, and Ensign Harold Pulliam, formerly instructor in the aviation branch of the naval service at Pensacola, Fla., who is also now in France ready for duty. Both are graduates of the University of Kentucky and have made splendid records.

In a recent issue of the Plane News, published by the United States Air Service of the American Expeditionary Force, Captain K. G. Pulliam, Jr., writes on "Acrobacy or Trick Flying," together with an elaborate chart showing all of the "curves of the aviation game," which is receiving most favorable comment from all of the Allied aviators and which has been adopted as part of the curriculum for the instruction of American flyers.

The editor of Plane News prefaces the article with this comment: "Captain Pulliam's article is herewith printed by authority of Air Service Headquarters and is considered probably the most complete and comprehensive treatise on acrobacy yet published."

Captain Pulliam says: "Acrobacy or trick flying is as necessary to the fighter of the air as a knowledge of his gun mechanism is to the infantryman. Consequently such trick flying has been found necessary to prepare a flyer for combat and is now taught in the training schools.

"The object of acrobacy is to produce each dangerous condition of flight that a pilot may be expected to encounter and to teach how to meet them. Only in this way is it possible for a pilot to become the master of his machine. Thus in a short period devoted to intentional acrobacy, a pilot acquires the confidence in his ability to meet all emergencies that no amount of ordinary flying can produce, and as a result he finds it possible to devote his entire time to his work of warfare, the function of piloting being performed instinctively.

"At a field where trick flying is taught every student is given individual attention and instruction. Only one 'stunt' at a time is explained, which must be repeated by the student, and unless every movement is thoroly understood, he is not permitted to attempt the work."

Captain Pulliam describes the "Vrille," "Reversment," "Immediate Turn," "The Barrel," "Vertical Virage," "Slide Slip," "Vrille Turn," "The Loop," "Tail Slide," and other phases of trick flying.

Captain Pulliam, who is a master of all of these features of acrobacy, uses a French monoplane, which has a speed of 153 miles an hour. As commander of the aviation instruction center, he has some thirty or forty of officers and men under him, and they are put thru a course of instruction intended to make them expert flyers.

A part of his duties is laying out the work for the flyers, and leading them in airscouting expeditions, which he frequently does. Prior to going to France, Captain Pulliam did air patrol duty over London and along the English coast, when German raiders were engaged in bombing English towns, but for the past year, he has been in active service in France. Quite a number of times he has been on air raids over the German lines, and according to information received by his family here, has been in his fast monoplane as far over German battle front as seventy-five or 100 miles.

His intensive study of all phases of airplane service and his initiative in working out and putting into practice many of the best features of acrobacy, has made him an authority on aerial fighting, and his ability as an instructor is regarded very highly by the commander of American Overseas Air Service.

Both Captain Pulliam and his brother, Harold, are members of the American Aero Club.

TABER COMMISSIONED SECOND LIEUTENANT

J. Branch Taber has received a second lieutenancy in the Quartermasters' Corps, and has been assigned to Camp Meggs. Lieutenant Taber, who was a member of the S. A. E. and Alpha Zeta, fraternities, was one of the most popular members of the senior class of last year. Among other members of last year's class who have lately joined the service are: Everett Bleidt, who is stationed at Camp Buell; J. C. Melvin, who is at Camp Meggs, and Russell Hunt, who is in Service company No. 3, Camp Joseph E. Johnson, Florida.

WORKMEN SCARCITY DELAYS IMPROVEMENT

No doubt it is very apparent to the faculty and the students that the work of remodeling and making improvements on and in the various buildings on the campus has been progressing somewhat slowly. On inquiring into the matter the Kernel learned that the lack of progress was due entirely to the lack of workmen and the scarcity of material needed in the making of the much needed improvements.

Nevertheless within the past week many improvements have been completed, and no doubt, within a very short time the whole work of remodeling will have been finished. The main building, in which most of the work of remodeling is being done, will be finished within the next three weeks, and from all indications many improvements are in the course of construction. The barracks and buildings connected with the barracks, will be completed, ready for occupation, within one week. The construction of the fourth barracks is now well under way and the few smaller buildings adjoining the barracks have practically been completed. Work on the central heating plant will be started this week and it is the intention of those in charge of this work to have the heating plant ready for operation before the cold weather sets in.

THE VICTORIOUS WILDCATS

"We came, we saw—but Caesar said it, so you know the rest," is the thot of the telegram sent back to the University by the Wildcat coach at the end of the game with Indiana last Saturday afternoon. The story of the victory and the team is published in other columns of the Kernel. Here, credit is placed where credit's due.

In the vernacular of the gridiron, the basic elements of a good football team are beef, speed, courage, and intelligence for the individual players. Teamwork, which cements eleven men into one team, and a driving, intelligent coach, who can bring out the best that is in each man, are absolutely indispensable. Kentucky has that coach. He is Andy Gill, recently of a northern university, but now a full-fledged Wildcat. Kentucky has that team. It is easily the best in the State and should not shy at anything in the South.

To defeat a football team representing the University of Indiana, a member of the "Big Nine," is a victory which does the Wildcats proud. Yet the team does not appear too confident of future victories. Each man knows, however, that fight and spirit such as that displayed last Saturday in Indiana will not be denied victory. How many students now in this University saw that memorable defeat of Purdue in the fall of 1915? The Indiana game, the writer hears, was just as good.

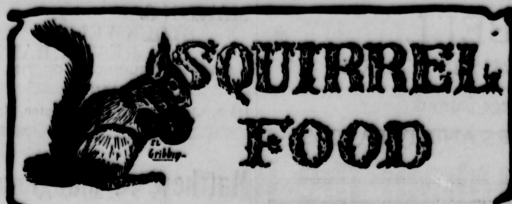

NO DELAY IN S. A. T. C. TRAINING.

America is in the clutch of influenza. The hiss of the kaiser snake is heard. Poisoned fangs ready to strike are hid behind a thin peace "offer."

As to influenza authorities of this University and officers of the S. A. T. C. are making an earnest effort to wipe it out. Male students not members of the S. A. T. C. and girl students non-resident to Patterson or Maxwell halls have been ordered by President Frank L. McVey to discontinue classes in the University until the disease has been erased in Lexington. All S. A. T. C. men are regularly inspected in an effort to detect at once any cases of "th'flu."

Instead of a let-up in S. A. T. C. training, however, there is an increase in intensity. Work is beginning to go faster and easier. Drill is getting sort of snappy. Raw recruits are in the first stage of "soldieritis."

To put a finish to the kaiser, members of the S. A. T. C. ignoring the peace plea for beggar's peace plea it truly is, continue to train. Each wants to be a spike in the heel of the boot which is going to crush the serpent head and shut the wicked, gleaming eyes forever.

Private Zimmie Zane, the Kentucky wise owl of the S. A. T. C., says: "This U. K. campus is a dangerous place for young ladies at night. The other night a soldier's voice in the darkness shouted out to the new guards just going on duty: 'There ain't nobody what's got no authority over you. Every man is master of his own post.'" Be careful Freshmen—if their guns don't hurt you, their language may.

AHEAD OF TIME.

Trombonist—What are we going to play next?
Grover Creech (directing U. K. band)—Sousa's Grand March.
Trombonist—Well, gosh all hemlock! I just finished playing that piece.

STEPPING IN THE LIGHT

Some upper classmen from Patterson Hall were returning from the University Library one very dark night last week. In the distance they saw two flickering lights approaching them. A few minutes later they stopped in front of the lights and confronted Lula and Claribel, two excited Patt Hall freshmen. The following conversation took place:

Upper Classmen—Well, where are you going, and what on earth are you doing with those candles?

Freshies—Oh, we were almost all the way over to the Library, and it was awfully dark. Somebody yelled, "Halt! Who goes there?" We were scared, so we ran back to the Hall and got our candles."

"The flower of the German Army plainly is not a perennial."—Joplin Globe.

OUR EDUCATED AGS.

"Yes," said Shortie, "I wanted to do my bit, of course, so I raised some potatoes this summer."

"Well, I thot I would do that," said Tapscott, but when I looked up the way to do it, I found that potatoes have to be planted in hills, and our yard is perfectly flat."

A GENTLE RETORT.

Camp Buell Officer—Well, come on with that truck. What's the matter with you, anyhow?

Truck Driver—Oh, I'm all right, thanks, but me engine's dead.

PEABODY FUND BUYS $40,000 BOND

The announcement was made by R. C. Stoll, member of the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky, that the executive committee of the board at a recent meeting had decided to invest the Peabody Fund of the institution, amounting to $40,000, in Fourth Liberty Loan bonds, and in compliance with the order this has been done, this subscription going to swell the quota of Fayette county.

S. A. T. C. ENROLLMENT CLOSED UNTIL DEC. 20.

President Frank L. McVey announced Wednesday that no more students will be enrolled in the S. A. T. C. unit at the University until December 20, when the vocational section, numbering 472, and 700 of the collegiate section will have gone to other camps.

The quota for the University S. A. T. C. is 700, but this may be increased when the final contract is signed with the War Department.

Enrollment in the naval section will continue until October 15, as the quota of 200 has not been filled.

MISS BLAIR SPEAKS BEFORE Y. W. C. A.

Miss Ruth Duckwall, chairman of the World's Citizenship Committee, had charge of the Y. W. C. A. meeting at Patterson Hall, Sunday night.

Miss Catherine Blair, of Transylvania College, was the speaker of the evening. Miss Blair spent the past summer in studying conditions in factories and worked in ammunition factory in Toledo, Ohio. Her speech told of the working conditions of factory girls. An added feature of the program was a solo by Miss Evelyn Pannell.

The clever posters drawn by Miss Jean Woll, chairman of the Poster Committee, have been effective in creating interest and enthusiasm for the Y. W. C. A.

The next meeting will be in charge of the Social Service Committee, of which Miss Mary Beall is chairman.

WAR FUND WORKERS PLAN STATE CAMPAIGN

Twenty-five Thousand Assigned as University of Kentucky's Quota

DISCUSS WAR FUND

The majority of the colleges in Kentucky were represented at the meeting here Saturday night to discuss the Allied War Fund Campaign among the colleges. Heads of the seven allied organizations of the State campaign were present.

Following is an incomplete list of the colleges of Kentucky and their allotted quotas. The quotas are subject to change at any time.

University of Kentucky was represented by Dean Melcher, Judge Chalkley, Mildred Collins, Mildred Graham, Richard Duncan, John Davis, and W. E. Freeman.

POST OFFICE PLANS STILL UNSETTLED

Nothing definite can be gleaned from concerning the proposed post-office for authoritative sources of information the University, but it has been ascertained that plans for the proposed post-office, have been the subject of discussion in executive circles of the University for some length of time. The outcome of the discussion will probably be made known to the public in the near future, but there is no doubt but that the establishment of a new post-office will be sanctioned by those in whose hands the matter rests. The inspectors have viewed the university with regard to the pressing need of a much larger system for handling the mails and have practically given their approbation to the plan of establishing a new and larger unit of Uncle Sam's mail system at this University.

KERNEL COMPELLED TO GO TO EIGHT PAGES

The Kernel, not to be outdone by other branches of the University, in which so much progress has been made, has, for the first time in its history, added two pages to its makeup. Henceforth the Kernel will publish an eight page paper rather than a six page as formerly, whenever news and advertising pressure justifies the step. This increase is owing partly to additional advertising, which is, in turn, due to the industry of Terril Tapscott, the present business manager of the paper and his assistants.

PRESIDENT McVEY BACK FROM WASHINGTON TRIP

Dr. McVey returned from a week's trip to Washington, Sunday night. While there he met with the British Educational Committee, which has come to the United States to study the educational system here, and to inform us concerning the manner of their work; especially of the war activities of their most prominent universities.

While in the East this committee expects to visit Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Boston. It will leave Boston the last of October, to visit cities throught the middle west, Lexington being one of them.

Dr. McVey also met with the Committee on Education and Special Training, concerning the training of the men here.

ADDITIONS MADE TO "TRANSY" COLLEGE

Establishment of a S. A. T. C. unit at Transylvania College on the north side of Lexington, has necessitated the addition of three instructors to the Transylvania faculty. They are J. Nathan Elliott, who will offer a course in military law; Mrs. W. O. Sweeney, formerly of Hamilton College, who will teach modern languages, and Miss Elizabeth Collegrove, who will teach French.

FISTER AT CAMP BUELL

COLLEGES OF UNIVERSITY CHANGED BY WAR

Mechanical Engineering is Popular Course.

HOME ECS. FLOURISH

The Student Army Training Corps, which has been established at the University, has wrought many changes in the courses offered in the different colleges.

The College of Arts and Science, of which Dr. P. P. Boyd is dean, has not been materially affected as regards enrollment. Dr. Boyd says the enrollment is about the same as formerly, altho the course has been arranged to meet the needs of the S. A. T. C. men. A recent order from Washington made it necessary that all male students registered in the College of Arts and Science, twenty years of age and over, be reclassified.

Twenty-nine members of the staff of the College of Agriculture have entered war work, thus making place for a number of new men. The session of the College of Agriculture did not open until October 1, two weeks after the regular date, owing to the nature of the work done by the students. There are eighty freshmen enlisted in the regular course in Agriculture with the addition of a course in "War Aims," added to the twenty men registered in other departments of the college, the total of 100, it is still from thirty-five to forty less than last year.

The College of Mechanical Engineering has been benefitted more by the war than any of the other colleges in the University. There is an increase of more than 200 men over last year, with the addition of 423 men enlisted in vocational work.

Judge Lafferty, dean of the Department of Law, said that altho there are forty-two students registered in the department of law, this is only about one-third of the usual number. Seventy-five Arts and Science students are registered in Military and International Law courses. The war has made it necessary to change the text system of instruction to the Casey system in the department.

The new dean of Home Economics, Miss McKinnon, who comes from the University of Illinois, expressed great hope for the success of the new courses which the department is offering. A course in cafeteria management has been added to make girls more efficient workers in canteens and hospitals. This cafeteria will be located in the basement of the Administration building. Special short courses will be given during the year open to women of the State, which will not be of such a technical nature as the regular work. These are given with the idea of aiding the women of the State to solve the problems brot on by the war. There are eighty students registered in this department, which is a smaller number than last year.

HENRY CLAY ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The last meeting of the Henry Clay Law Society was in many respects one of the best initial meetings in the history of the society. Altho many of the old men had gone into service since last spring, some familiar faces were to be seen, and these, together with a large number of first year men, opened successfully the year's work of this organization.

Acting Chairman, E. E. Rice, called the meeting to order and a number of students were presented for membership. All were accepted and sworn in, with full privileges. This was followed by the semi-annual election of officers. Three strong speeches were made, nominating for the office of president, E. E. Rice, C. H. Denker and W. J. Kalbrier. The name of the first was withdrawn at his own request. After a close contest, the honor was awarded to Mr. Kalbrier. He is a member of the senior class, and since entering the Law Department, has taken a prominent part in all its activities. The following are the new officers:

- President W. J. Kalbrier
- Vice-President Rebecca Paritz
- Secretary Lula B. Blakely
- Attorney General E. E. Rice
- Treasurer Mary Anna Devereaux
- Chaplain C. D. Triplett
- Sergeant-at-Arms A. Lisanby

PROFESSOR MATHEWS IS CALLED BY GOVERNMENT

Is Asked to Become Assistant Regional Director of Home and School Gardens

Professor C. W. Matthews, head of the Department of Horticulture of the College of Agriculture, at the University of Kentucky has been appointed assistant regional director of home and school war gardens for the States of Kentucky and Tennessee.

The appointment was made by Dr. F. A. Merrill, of Washington, regional director of the Southern States for all war gardens, who conferred with Prof. Matthews on the matter. Prof. Matthews accepted the appointment, provided he is released from his present connection with the University.

Doctor Merrill said the War Department not only wants Professor Matthews, but actually needs a man of his experience and ability in the war garden work.

Professor Merrill, before taking up war work, was a member of the faculty of the University of Georgia.

STUDENTS' FORUM

ARE WE QUARANTINED?

Are we quarantined?

Faculty members living in the homes of students are meeting their classes as usual; Patterson and Maxwell Hall girls mingle daily with townpeople; S. A. T. C. men are scattered throughout the homes of Lexington, yet these people are not only allowed, but expected at the University, while town students are barred.

If work is to proceed, every man and woman enrolled in the University needs to be present at classes. Made up work is of little value to a student, since it lacks clarifying explanation and discussion. On the other hand, if this work is recapitulated for the benefit of absent class members, it is working an injustice to those members of the class who have covered the work.

Once more we ask, are we quarantined? If we are to work, let us all work, if we are to be dismissed, let us all be dismissed.

ONE WHO WONDERS WHY.

WILL THEY BE GRADUATED?

Recently, all student members of the S. A. T. C. registered in one or another college in the University, and more than 20 years old were required by Government order to take a prescribed course. The intention is to fit them for commissions in the army. Many of those required to begin such a course of study are members of the Senior class in the University. For three long years they plugged away at books and listened attentively to lectures in the class rooms. Yet upon the eve of their graduation they were ordered by the Government to diverge from the curriculum which would at the end of this year have made them eligible for diplomas certifying that they had been graduated from this University.

Seniors in the University who are members of the colleges affected by the Government order, in many cases, occupy outstanding positions in University activities, are leaders in the class rooms and among the student body. They are just as good and just as well equipped for graduation as the average senior who has been graduated by this University.

The subject of whether these seniors, who make up a part of the cream of the class of '19, will be given diplomas when they are ordered away from the University to some central officers' training camp, has been freely discussed and means much in the lives of those affected. If they are called away, the chances are that they will not, after the war has been won, be in a position to return to the University to complete their courses.

These seniors, however, for the most part, I believe, have no atom of grudge against the order which keeps them from being graduated in the regular and approved manner. They do feel, on the other hand, I also believe, that they should be given credit for what they have accomplished and the step which they have taken. They are volunteers—by their own free will, they have enlisted to fight—to die, if need be—in the defense of their country and the great University they chose more than three years ago for their Alma Mater.

From the president and faculty of the University, however, they have heard neither the word yea nor the word nay. They are in a state of doubt and anxiety. Their minds would be relieved. They would know.

President McVey and faculty this is addressed to you. It was sent to the Kernel for publication in the belief that it would, in print, better catch your eyes.

If you will kindly relieve the situation, either by word of mouth or printed word, I think that those male seniors affected, too-timid to speak for themselves, will be grateful.

“CO-ED, CLASS OF '19.”

ADA MEADE PRESENTS BIG TIME VAUDEVILLE

For the first half of this week at the Ada Meade, there is offered a vaudeville-moving picture bill that is well worth anyone's time to see. The opener is a cracking good comedy, and this is followed by one of the best ventriloquist acts on the boards—Coleman & Ray, who have special staging, using a prison scene with the “dummy” as a prisoner. They offer some rich comedy.

Next is the Lillian Steele Company, with a lot of right up to the minute music and comedy stuff that made a hit from the start. You remember Ray Samuels, who was here two weeks ago, don't you? Well, Miss Collins has a lot of the same pep and catches the crowd from the go.

The moving picture feature is “The Traitors Within the Gates,” Gertrude McCoy is the star, and carries out her role with the success that has made her a film favorite everywhere.

For the last half of the week, there is a great girl show, “The Midnight Revue,” right out of Chicago, with a bunch of girls that is worth going far to see. They have a lot of singing, dancing, and comedy, and come highly recommended for their funmaking propensities. Next on the bill is Olga, famous dancing violinist, who comes here from Cincinnati.

The picture feature is “The House of Mirth,” founded on Edith Wharton's greatest novel. It is a society drama of gripping intensity, and is guaranteed to satisfy the most exacting. There is in addition a comedy film.

The Ada Meade has a matinee daily—two on Saturday—and two night shows. The matinees for every day, save Saturday, begin at 2 p. m., on Saturday, at 2 and 4. The night shows begin at 7 and 9. The last performance ends in time for patrons to catch all the last city and interurban cars.

Letter to Dr. McVey Tells of Advanced Work Being Done By Former University Instructor

"President Frank L. McVey,
University of Kentucky,

"Dear Dr. McVey—Just a few words, requiring no answer, from a busy man to a busier one. After some weeks of working and waiting, I am now engaged in seminars, lectures and recitations galore. Besides my principal subject, German Literature, I am taking Gothic, Middle High German, Middle Low German, Oldest German Manuscript, Sanskrit, Comparative Philology, Comparative Grammar and Phonetics. Spare time (!) is to be devoted to seminar papers and dissertation. All my instructors, since my work is of an advanced nature, are heads of department, and I am enjoying a somewhat too heavy schedule very much.

The professors here are the very best the country can offer and are equipped with a vast fund of minutiae and limitless outlook upon their own and unrelated subjects, but I can't let this opportunity pass to pay tribute to my old teacher and colleague, Professor Zembrod. In aesthetic appreciation of and cultural-historical interpretation to any literary masterpiece, I have seen few better, in Europe or America.

My two years' sojourn in Germany and study in German universities give me an advantage over some of my fellow-sufferers to offset their past years' work under our present lecturers.

Mr. Allen, 1916-'18 fellow in U. of K. and present instructor in the Polytechnic Institute, and myself have just ordered the Kernel to watch the sure growth and certain success of 'Kentucky.'

"During the forthcoming year, I hope I shall not be unmindful of my personal debt to you who by my leave of absence, made possible my study in Hopkins.

"Yours very respectfully,

"HARRY S. CANNON,

WOODRUFF STOPS OFF

John Woodruff, of the class of '20, visited the University Thursday en route to his home in Cadiz. Woodruff, who is a member of Alpha Tau Omega, has recently received his commission as second lieutenant in the United States Army.

GIRLS LEAVING HALLS BARRED FROM CLASSES

They flew from the "Flu."

At the first murmur of the dread word, "Influenza," some fifteen or twenty residents of Patterson Hall packed their hairpins and rouge, then slipped away with that quickness and quietness that is generally accredited to Arabs and plain clothes men. These girls can not return to classes or to the dormitory until the quarantine is lifted from town students.

NOTICE

By order of the Most High Council of the Senior Class of the University of Kentucky, the following rules have been prescribed and must be strictly adhered to:

Rule 1. No one except Seniors shall be permitted (1) to carry a cane or swagger stick; (2) wear a mustache; (3) wear any form of corduroys; (4) derby hat or white vest.

Rule 2. No Freshman shall "break" a Senior at any dance given by any organization of the University.

Rule 3. No one except Seniors shall be allowed to go about the campus without hat or coat.

Rule 4. Under no circumstances shall a Freshman sit at the head of the table at a boarding house or take a seat when an upper classman is waiting (2) All Freshmen must refrain from the use of any form of slang.

Rule 5. Upon all conditions, underclassmen must treat upper classmen with profound respect, and under no condition WILL an under classman be allowed to contradict a Senior or oppose him in any manner WHAT-SO-EVER.

These rules, having been drawn up and adopted by the Senior Class of '19 carry an imperative order, and all persons concerned are strictly admonished to govern themselves accordingly.

By order of the Most High Judge of the SENIOR COURT.

NO GAME SATURDAY

Influenza. Because of it, President Frank L. McVey, in addition to other rulings, ordered Wednesday that any football games on the Wildcat schedule for this Saturday be cancelled. "Daddy" Boles, manager of the Wildcat aggregation, immediately stopped all efforts to schedule a game to be played on Stoll Field.

MEMBERS OF S. A. T. C.
TAKE OUT INSURANCE

Beneficiary or beneficiaries of any member of the Students' Army Training Corps who signs up with the United States Government for insurance will, if that member dies while in the service of his country, receive $10,000. This applies to men in the navy, as well as to men in the army.

For the last several days those writing the insurance have been stationed in the gymnasium in the Buell Armory with typewriters, physical examination records, insurance blanks, etc. At the end of each hour and in the afternoon during vacant periods, there has been a rush for insurance. Those in charge predict that every man in the S. A. T. C. will have taken a policy for $10,000 by closing time. Such policies are paid for at the rate of $6.50 a month. At the end of the war, those soldiers and sailors who so desire, may convert their policies into those of some standard insurance company.

MANY NEW NAMES ADDED TO 'Y. W.' ROLL

Initiation Sunday Night Brings Membership Total To High Mark

MISS COLLINS SPEAKS

The initiation of the new girls of the Y. W. C. A. was held Sunday evening at Patterson Hall. Miss Elizabeth McGowan, chairman of the membership committee led the meeting.

As a sextette of girls, including Misses Hannah Weakley, Martha Politt, Edna Smith, Ruth Duckwall, Eleanor Acker and Edyth Williams, sang "Send Out Thy Light," the new girls dressed in white, and carrying white candles, entered. They inscribed their names on the roll book and the candle was lighted.

Miss Marie Collins was speaker of the evening, her speech pointed out the ways by which the women of the University can be of service and help carry out the work undertaken by the organization.

The new girls enrolled now, as active members of the Y. W. C. A. are: Misses Margaret Dean Harblson, Marion McArthur, Katherine Reed, Amanda Forkner, Elizabeth Robinson, Pearl Morgan, Mary Archer Bell, Jennie P. Simmons, Frances Kimbrough, Elizabeth Marshall, Esther Lynne Harris, Ilma Thoysse, Martha Clarice Belew, Hallie Kay Frye, Mary Augusta Little, Bertha Caldwell, Mary Nesbitt, Miriam Kincheles, Hattie Blair, Adaline Mann, Geneva Rice, Mary De Hart Baker, Mina White, Helene Cregor, Lucile Rice, Elizabeth Kimbrough, Thompy Van Deren, Carlisle Chenault, Margaret Goodman, Lala Blakey, Orena McMahon, Georgia Tapscott, Jessie Mae Smith, Claribel Kay, Margaret Smith, Frances Marsh.

PHILOSOPHIAN CIRCUS DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Novel Program Features Local Talent.

The big circus, given under the auspices of the Philosophian Literary Society in the Recreation Room of the Patterson Hall, Saturday night, was a huge success.

The parade began at 8 o'clock and under the leadership of Professor Cantalazoola, sometimes known as Lucille Dean, and his band, marched thru the corridors and finally entered "Rec. Hall," which had been transformed into a typical circus tent. Monsieur Frandacoso, alias Bertha K. Miller, was ring master.

One of the interesting features of the circus, was the trained duck, impersonated by Ruth Duckwall, which "quacked" answers to all questions asked, and illustrated in realistic style, a freshman feelings upon entering the University—and after the first exams.

The Midget, Katherine Weakley; the tight-rope walker, Karizomova, Kathleen Brand; the Monkey, Martha Politt, and Brachy Cephalice Bohunkus, Miss Frieda Lemon, a wild beast of the South Sea Islands, the only one of its kind in captivity; were among the other numbers.

The side show attractions drew large crowds. As the Red Devil Wizard, Lucy Stallings, presented some wonderful slight of hand tricks; and as Mile. Zaza, a Gypsy fortune teller, Roberta Thornton, correctly told the past, present and future of the crowd.

After the program, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed until 10:30, when the great circus closed.

HOME ECS. TO OPEN CAFETERIA NOV. 1

The Luncheon Management class of the Home Economics Department is having practical experience. The members of the class opened a cafeteria for the Experiment Station workers on October 2, and will open another for the patronage of the University at large, about November 1. The first week of their experiment has been successfully completed and the ten young women in charge are to be congratulated. A three-course noonday meal is being served.

Miss McKenna, dean of the department regards this as educational, laboratory work. The cafeteria for the students of the University, will be located near the main building.

HOME ECS. NOTES

When the "Ag" students returned to the University last week, they found the building once their own, occupied by their sisters of the Home Economics Department, for what carpenters, paint and hard work can accomplish, has here been achieved, and all that the building lacks to make it the "Woman's Building," is the name.

Miss Jean McKinnon, who has been working for some time in the Food Administration laboratories in Washington, comes as the new department head and has with her, efficient co-workers in Miss Madge Lameraux, Miss Margaret Coffin, as new instructors in the department and Miss Linda Purnell and Miss Clara White, who have previously been connected with the department.

The Agriculture Building has been remodeled to fit the needs and plans of the Home Economics students. The entire first floor has been turned into cooking laboratories, which are fitted with white enameled furnishings, a dining room, office and lecture rooms. The second floor is the home of the sewing classes and here the equipment is new also.

The Home Economics Department has not only enlarged its teaching staff and its quarters, but its scope. Several new branches of the work have been introduced, lunch room management being one that will interest the entire University. A canteen will be opened at the Experiment Station and a cafeteria in the Main Building.
