

Communication from.

Mr. Henry Bell

to

H. F. Duncan, Sr.

to do to retain the Road is to pay the interest on the Bond - and then they have a property worth at the lowest Calculation $1,000,000 and the future prospects of the Road with an additional outlay of $100,000 in Rolling Stock make it certain that the increased earnings will pay a fair interest on that amount - Now ~~look~~ here is a Road finished and in operation, running through three of the richest Counties in the State - 200 feet of which is in a direct air line from the interior of Kentucky

The Lexington & Maysville R Road Northern Division, being the Road finished and in operation from Paris to Maysville a distance of 50 Miles - was built by the Surrender of the work done 20 years ago to the present Company - ~~the~~ who have expended on it the proceeds of the Subscriptions of the Counties of Boone, Boone, Nicholas & Mason, Five Hundred thousand Dollars of first mortgage Bonds together with the private Subscriptions amounting in the aggregate to about $1,200,000 - that is the Road as it stands with all its equipments and franchise, but the present Company say one Million two Hundred thousand Dollars - and would have cost except for the work done 20 July ago - at least two Million Dollars - the Road over the first land only cost $50,000 - the interest on which has been regularly paid up to 1 July 1873 - the floating debt is very small not exceeding $20,000 - the Assets of the Road is steadily increasing and would be doubled the present earnings, if they had the facilities for doing all that is offered and with the certainty of an early Eastern Connection at Mansfield, which can not fail to double the value of the property it is plain to be seen that this Road is worth to any Company who is able to run properly equip and operated double its present liabilities - if the stock holder properly consider their interest they can by advancing a sufficient amount to ~~purchase~~ ~~equip~~ relieve the Road of its present troubles, make their stock worth 50 cts in twelve months, if this is not done the bond holder will foreclose and the Road will be sold and the stock lost, all the stock holder have connecting with the Ohio River at Massillon and also with the Balto & Ohio Road over the Road now being built from Massillon to Portsmouth and which will be completed & in operation by the 1st Jan. 74 — with this connection Lexington will be 100 Miles near Baltimore & Washington

than any other Route, and besides as soon as this Road is done to Portsmouth that will ensure the building of the gap from Portsmouth to Huntington connecting with the Chesapeake and Ohio, through Virginia

The Poplar

Dear Duncan,

I enclose a letter of introduction to Mr.
John W. Andrews of Columbus - an eminent lawyer - and without a superior in Columbus in social standing and influence.

I am still confined to my house by ill health - and feel unable to give you any advice in relation to Mr. Hart's will or Mr. Gibbons' interest in the Ky estate - not having as yet made due examination of the questions which arise -

Faithfully yours,
Henry Starbuck.

Dear Sir

Yrs of 15th inst
is at hand.

We agreed with Ballard to refer the case to the commissioner. That Sims berlake should make a final settlement of all the funds received by him, that Mr Clovelly should answer in relation to the furniture, & servant and that then the court should state the accounts as each of us contended was proper, and that upon the coming in of his report, the chancellor should settle all the questions.

That no execution should issue till that was done, and you have an opportunity to pay the balance due, with outs its issuing at all.

I feel upon reflection considerable confidence that we will be able to get clear of the money, and have some hope of being able to quash the replevin bond, on the ground that it ~~is~~ ^{is} the execution on which it was taken issued prematurely.

A decree was taken, on Friday for another installment of the annuity. Will you pay that, or have a portion of the property sold for the purpose?

Timberlake says that

Anderson reached here only on Friday, and that he has not yet mentioned the matter of the negroes to him

Very truly Yrs

Dear Sir.

Yours under date of 23rd Inst. reached me by yesterday's mail. And on inquiry I learned that the money had been entered to my credit in our Bank. So ~~there~~^{enclosed} you will find your receipt. I have also entered a credit on the note for the same amount, as paid by you on the 23rd Inst. And I make your receipt correspond in date with that of the credit on the note to wit 23rd Inst. I suppose Mr. Apperson forgot to make the inquiry you desired.

Respectfully yours &c J. Wood

H D Sir,

I am now able pay the $1500 for the Hall house I have deposited it to your credit Bank.

Enclosed you will find a deed which you will please execute practicable, and send close to Get Cousin Eliza to write with the deed - and the clerk to her proxy examination -

All are well -

Dear Sir, Enclosed you will find two notes for $1000 each to replace those that fell due on the 27th. I forgot that Bank the notes were discounted in, & have left the blanks for you to fill up. Nor do I know how long they can be allowed to run. If they shall fall due in July or August I must leave blank notes to be filled, as I will be during those months in the East. I had been promising my two oldest daughters to take them to see their relatives in the East, for sevveral years, but accidental causes had prevented their visit. After the loss of the Susan Stark, they had given up hopes of their trip - but unexpectedly to me & them, arrangements were made from another quarter to repay nearly all their expenses, so that I expect them to accompany me. - I have been past tolerably hard at work for some time. During eighteen days, only one paper that I was not inapparently engaged in speaking, either in public or private - and since then I have been ~~employed~~ kept employed in bringing up business that had to be neglected during that period. We have added 100 to our choir - & more will join at our next Communion. I wish much that you would among the number, & pray that you may see long live it to be your duty & privilege to profess to be a disciple of the Son of God. Do not delay the commencement of his tuition & of that in are all exceedingly imperfect at first - but he promises to aid us & improve us. And even how we have made the highest attainments in grace & knowledge, we will ever feel that we are saved in spite of many imperfections & daily sins, & solely by the fact, that Christ by his death has atoned for our sins.

May the Lord grant that you may become his disciple on earth, so that you may be with him & share his glory in heaven - Pray me him, till you feel that you can share him as you think that you ought to do. Remember a demonstration is simply leaving ^{nothing} unaided in the care & instruction of the Redeemer, & learn of him that we may grow spiritually wise; & why on his merit for our pardon, & to seek for & trust in his grace that we may receive grace and in praying him & rejoicing in trusting his promises, praise, & adoration

My dear Sir

Clay is now sick, but will certainly go down in the morning, if well enough. If he goes, he will send me a note from the Cary. I will telegraph you.

It is improper the opinion most decidedly - that your movement, if right & if acquiesced in by the party, will produce a peaceable solution of the difficulty. He is, I think most earnestly - I hope he will get off, at any rate, suspend further action if possible - and give a little time to reason together. I will go & see Hanson and get him

My dear friend, I had intended write you by my brother Henry, who will deliver of this, but was on the eve of going to Tal-le-gua, when the Boat arrived. He intends taking a course of lectures, and we are all anxious that he should become acquainted with your family.
He is young and may possibly require the aid of your advice. It importe, should he not, I am convinced he will meet with kind friends, in yourself and Eliza, to whom pray remember me most affectionately; will she never write to me? It would afford me much pleasure. I hear from you all through my dear Mary Ford. Mama bids me add kindest words for her. She is not at all well indeed we all suffer severely from the climate.
I hope to be in Kentucky next summer, if so I will do myself the great pleasure of paying you a visit. Tell Eliza I want her to see my little Sephie, she is just four. Harry will tell you about her. Now mon amie why cannot you write me a line in return? I know it does not cost you an effort to write, and would gratify exceedingly your attached friend, J. C. Daw.

Mr Henry Duncan,

Dear Sir would you be so kind as to let me know what is the premium on Northern Bank stocks. I have £250 which I wish to invest in stocks and cannot decide whether to buy governments or NB stocks. What do you think of it? You know I am a poor widow, and have to be very circumspect, so you must give me the best advice at your command.

Mary is here attending law lectures, and I am with her.

of course. I wrote to Mr. Allen - and on the subject of my investment, who has been to me a severe friend, but have not received an an-swer: I know he must be sick, or that his family is, or he would have written, for his kindness I can depend upon.

Please give my love to Mrs Duncan.

Yours friend.

Sir

Thinking perhaps it might suit you to purchase a piece of land adjoining you, I will offer you 310 acres at 70 dollars an acre; I have been offered 65 dollars for it but 70 is the price I am willing to take; I wish very much that you would call & see me at the Phoenix Hotel as soon as convenient (that is) if you have an idea of buying it, as I intend selling as speedily as possible.

more to so closely imitate his penman Gray's efforts as to boldly acknowledge such a crime. In these are some effences which a he can make no flatter.
I have a bag expect for a downright unwashed scoundrel. Out-trachery is not to be induced. & he is indeed a double villain - who could believe pages for his country while betraying her into the hands of an enemy. Let me beg you - God bless Mr. Duncan - not to mention my name in connection with Col. Dexter's. Out - pray turn my letters when read - as they are impudently

Dear Mr. Duncan
Your most kind letter reached me safely.
You are indeed very good & have given me pleasure my long epistle of last month. The tidings of the 4th are truly cheering & good prophecies had thus far been happily verified.
"Of Nelson and the North -" Sing the glorious day's name.
But - we must still look in view of battle out West - before your gallant state can be declared free again. - As to Col. Dexter - I perfectly agree in your estimate of the man. He is ambitious, selfish & vain-glorious to an extraordinary degree.

& I only hope that his treason may meet its just deserts. However - he will undoubtedly either reside permanently abroad or else remove his family to the immigrating atmosphere of South Carolina.
(As they were violently & unreasonably their views & sympathies, - & could hardly care to make a home for the future on Union soil.) How great Pastor's fortune? I have heard that his income is not so large as reported.
& their fearful extravagance when in Europe must have greatly diminished his fortune. I shall endeavour to obtain the pamphlet he wrote in favor of secession - & will send it at once to friends in England to learn whether it can now be had.

There is not the least doubt of its authenticity, however. & Pastor was known to have composed & circulated it during his residence in Spain.
I taxed Mrs P. with the report. & she made a faint & hurried denial of the charge. But - became crimson as I spoke. & changed the conversation with suspicious haste. It was but natural of her to have denied the accusation. & he would hardly
