Faculty OK's Democratic Club At UK

Reverses Decision, GOP Club Will Also Be Legalized

The University faculty Monday partially reversed its stand on campus political clubs and approved the petition of a Young Democratic Club for recognition.

Some time ago the faculty had indirectly turned down the group's request for recognition by passing a resolution saying no political group would be recognized here.

Monday's action was only to approve the Democratic club and not to give blanket recognition to all political clubs. A spokesman for the faculty said each petition for recognition would be considered individually.

Campus Republican leaders have sponsored a GOP club and spokesmen said steps would be taken to make it legal on campus.

The Democratic Club will be headed by Thomas C. Carroll of the Law College.

He issued a statement saying: "Students here are gratified at the action of the faculty in recognizing the organization of the club. It is felt that such organizations will be of real value to the University and the state through the stimulation of interest in practical political activities."

Carroll said the purpose of the club will be to encourage registration among the students for voting, to encourage blanket voting and to conduct discussions of political questions.

He emphasized that the club would not in any of its activities intentionally create an impression that it represents the University or that the University approves of the club's views.

Carroll said the purpose of the club will be to encourage registration among the students for voting, to encourage blanket voting and to conduct discussions of political questions.

Other officers of the club include Tom Underwood Jr., Jennings Keck, Judy Keen Johnson and Elizabeth Bicknell, vice president, Joyce Anne Harris, secretary, Robert Babbage, treasurer, and Professors Paul Oberst and Elvis J. Stahl of the College of Law, faculty advisors.

$200 Scholarship Offered By Lances

There must be some junior man who could use a $200 scholarship.

The members of Lances, Junior men's leadership society, are beginning to think there isn't. Two weeks ago they offered, through the Kentucky Athletic Union, a $200 award to a worthy man who would meet certain qualifications. No one applied.

Winners were Sara Mae Greene with 313 votes; Alva Matherly, 277; Suzanne Rogers, 276; Nancy Shinnick, 251; Betty Ann Shropshire, 215; David Hatcher, 207; Bob Compton, 202; Bob Bledso, 217; and Johnny Owens, 207.

Dr. Clark To Teach This Summer Abroad

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the History Department, will leave for Austria about July 13, to teach at the Salzburg Seminar in American History. He will be accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Clark.

The school is sponsored by the Harvard University Student Council and will be attended by people from various European countries. Payment of the graduation fee and the cost of training for the teaching profession.

All societies presenting floats in the parade will use as a theme the traditions of the Old South. Fraternities will fashion their floats to represent historical events of the United States.

SUK's selection of candidates for Queen committee has released the names of 18 girls as nominations for the 1948 May Day Queen. Of these 18, a student vote on April 27 will culminate in the selection of the queen to come on May Day, for which a definite date has yet to be set.

Verdi Requiem Praised By Music Lovers, Critics

Critics and music lovers this week were singing the praises of the University's mixed chorus and symphony orchestra after their excellent performance of Verdi's mighty Requiem in Memorial Hall Sunday.

The auditorium was packed for both the afternoon and evening performances and many persons heard the program on radio broadcasts.

The Requiem was presented in its entirety with the chorus singing in Latin.

The young voices of the well-trained chorus blended beautifully in the a cappella passages and as the accompanying voice of the soloists.

G. C. Dickerson, writing in the Lexington Leader said of the program that "it was a notable personal triumph for Dr. Alexander Capruso, who merged the chorus and orchestra into a great volume of harmony."

Dr. Capruso who heads the University Music Department conducted the chorus and orchestra in Sunday's performances which are the high spots of the department's Sunday afternoon musicale.

"The two performances were marked by a high standard of musicianship which is difficult to describe in a review."

The program opened with a chorale by Bach, "O Thou With Hate Surrounding," and was followed by Wood's love poem, "Maiden Veil." "On the Shores of the Danube," fantasy by Joseph Prindl; Alfred Reed's "Russian Christmas Music," performed for the first time in Kentucky; "Eulogy," by Wagner; "A Joyous Interlude," by Dai-Kyoung Lee; "Miniature for Band," by Frank J. Prindl; and "Finale" from Shostakovich's Symphony No. 5.

The University Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Alexander Capruso, will present a concert on Thursday night, April 23, in Memorial Hall at 8:15 o'clock.

Fire Causes $2500 Damage

Damage caused by fire in the Biological Sciences storeroom Sunday totaled $2500, according to Frank D. Peterson, University Controller. The fire, he said, was caused by a gas burner which caused a combustion.

The estimate included office supplies, janitorial supplies, electrical equipment and other materials, as well as all physical damage to the building and its contents. Mr. Peterson said the fire started in the storeroom at 11:30 p.m. on Sunday and was extinguished by firemen from the Lexington Fire Department.

The storeroom in which the fire started received the greatest amount of damage. The art gallery, library and a Keesel Foundation Electron Microscope Laboratory, located next door to the storeroom, were not damaged. The basement storeroom sustained minor damage from smoke.

Forty-four basic ROTC members were initiated into Pershing Rifles Company C-1, crack military drill outfit, in an impressive ceremony early last Sunday morning by Captain Carl S. The pledges served food to the actives and each man to be initiated was assigned as an orderly for a 12-hour period to each active member or alumni member.

Working on three shifts, with 11 men to a shift and the remainder assigned to help the pledges stand guard duty at the camp for two days. The actives and alumni guard duty the prospective initiates serving their time serving as orderlies or keeping the actives and alumni properly entertained. The company tradition that no man leaves camp with his piece, which was a brown handle, was not broken as several of the active members visited the guard post periodically and relieved, either by force or otherwise, the sentinels of their weapons, which in turn were broken in two.

The group of pledges, one of the largest in Company C-1 history, went on a five-day session of "Courtney Week" on the campus before becoming eligible to attend the camp.

Post Office Traffic Jam

Each Friday morning during the ten minute "breaks" between classes the University post office in McVey basement is a scene of chaos and confusion. Few students can push their way in to finally reach their boxes and then stagger out along with the throng without mingled feelings of hate and disgust.

The situation would be alleviated somewhat if students could get their Kernels at staggered intervals during the day and then, after picking them up, leave the post office immediately instead of loitering around and obstructing traffic.

Each student must remember that he is one in over 7000. He's not the only one who wants to go into the postoffice and get his copy of the Kernel.

By cooperation and by a little consideration for others we can do much to ease this situation.

The rest of us may not enjoy the rain but the professors do. At one of them so aptly put it when he checked roll in his two o'clock class and found the attendance nearly perfect. "I'm glad to see the weather is keeping my students away from the Versailles Road," he exclaimed that is.

Fred Nicksch is enthusiastically dividing his time between Betty Hesse and Mary Alice Schlar. The rest of it is spent in writing to Miss Hesse at Virginia Internment. Edith's name is supposed to be a deep, dark secret. The Tri Delta are hungry to have Bob Shaeffer "in the fold." His last excitement is Barbara Hensel.

The social chairman at the Sigma Nu house, J. Y. Larkin, is very adept at keeping his social affairs well hidden. An occasional glance is all that the outside world gets to see.

Ralph McCracken would like to know whom Ann Friday is going to steady with. As a matter of fact so would some of his brother Triangles.

Since when have kitchen parties with spring flowers been given for boys? It seems one was given for Harold Durbin last week. We'd like to know the rest of the story, Harold.

Max Long seems to be having a hard time keeping the women away. Occasionally, breaking a date is the only way to solve his difficulty.

Barbara Odell and Charlie Woodward are now going steady.

The Betty Billiter - James Maloy romance seems to be hiding out much to everyone's surprise.

Why isn't Don Donahue speaking to any of his many loves this week? Give the gals a break, Don.

John Thawley had his greatest collegiate thrill at the KDP formal last weekend with Jane Anderson.

UK Adopts 'New Look' In Extreme

University students have adopted the "new look" to an extreme, according to a "Mademoiselle" staff member who visited the campus recently. Betty Claire Schmid, the magazine's campus reporter, concluded a tour of twenty Southern campuses with her visit here. In comparing Kentucky with the other schools she has visited this year, Miss Schmid was particularly impressed with the absence of sloppiness on campus for both women and men. On many of the other campuses, she said that loose sweaters and shorter skirts are still popular. She also noted that men here dress better than at the average school.

Rare Books On Display

The Library will show an exhibit of rare books from the collection of the late Judge Samuel M. Wilson and the library stacks in conjunction with the Foreign Language Conference to be held April 22 through April 24. The exhibit opens on April 16 and will continue for about a month.

Material featured by the exhibit will include foreign accounts of the exploration and settlement in Kentucky and in the Ohio River Valley. One German and two Swedish translations of the Kentucky author, Elizabeth Masdow Roberts, will be shown.

Other works to be on display will be translations of John Filson's books on Kentucky into French and German writings of John Adams Ardubon and Constantine Rafinesque of Constantinople, Turkey. Rafinesque was a teacher of French at Transylvania College. The earliest book to be presented was published in 1712.

Writings by F. A. Michaux, who went to this country by the King of France to study botanical conditions in this region, will be shown. Many authorities believe that Michaux's real purpose was to serve as a spy for the French government.

A rare pamphlet published in 1800 giving an account of the flight of Mme. and M. Mentelle from revolutionary France to the western wilderness will be exhibited. Mentelle Park of this city was named for them.

There will also be an interesting exhibit of posters of each language that is to be represented in the Conference.

Industrial Program Arranged By Student Engineers

In order to provide an educational program not confined to the College of Engineering and to keep in touch with the progress in industry, the student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers has outlined a program to include men in other departments of the University, prominent speakers in other universities, and outstanding men in industry.

Prof. L. M. Sears of Purdue University spoke on the U. S. foreign policy last week. "The Progress in Aluminum" was the subject discussed by W. T. Brant of the Reynolds Metals Company, Louisville, April 15.

On April 22, the Society will see a movie, "Utility Unlimited," produced by the Bell Aircraft Corporation. Another movie, "Pigs and Progress," from the Reynolds Metal Company, will be shown April 29.

Prof. Eugene Van Cleft Ohio State University, will discuss world affairs on May 6. A representative of the General Electric Company will discuss the opinion meter, a new device for registering group opinion, on May 13.

Webb Slated For Lecture

The annual address by the Distinguished Professor of the College of Arts and Sciences will be given at 7:45 o'clock Thursday night in Memorial Hall.

The address will be by Dr. William S. Webb who has been chosen by his colleagues as the distinguished professor of the year. Several years ago the College of Arts and Sciences began a policy of its faculty selecting the outstanding professor who in addition to the honor, received was given a quarter's leave of absence to do research.

Dr. Webb will report on "The Pre-History of Kentucky" although he is generally thought of as a physicist. Dr. Webb has done considerable work in archaeology and will discuss this phase of his work.

The speaker's address will be the opening feature of the Foreign Language Conference being held on the campus next week.

Dr. Webb is head of the Department of Physics and the Department of Anthropology. Always popular with students, his classes are well attended, especially his physics lectures to non-physics majors. In these classes he attempts to tell a little about physics and give non-physicists an appreciation of the natural laws of science operating in the world.

During the war he headed a committee that selected scientists to work for the government in developing the atomic bomb. He has done considerable work in studying the South for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

GI Checks Will Be Paid This Month

All veterans in school under the GI Bill of Rights last quarter will receive their checks at the end of this month, the University Veterans Affairs Office said Thursday.

Some confusion had been caused by a mimeographed sheet handed every veteran during the registration process this week. Information on the sheets, said that checks would not be received for 60 days. This applies, the VA said, only to those students attending college under the bill for the first time.

Most of the misunderstanding was caused by the information sheet's use of the word "re-entering." Many veterans believed that inasmuch as they officially re-enter the University each time they register and pay fees, the term applied to them. Veterans will not be required to take additional hours of academic work in order to qualify for the increased subsistence. Robert W. Henderson, assistant director of personnel in charge of veterans affairs, said.

The announcement from Washington earlier this month of the "if" involved in the pay increase, which will become effective April 1, confused many students, according to Henderson.

Reportedly the Veterans' Administration will grant increases to the veteran only if he is a "full time" student or carrying a "full load." Interpreting this requirement, the University veterans administrator said "12 quarter hours will be considered a full load for the student veteran and, when the University adopts the semester system, a full time student will be considered one who is taking 12 semester hours."

Twelve credit hours is the minimum academic load a veteran may carry in order to qualify for the new subsistence rate of $75 for an unmarried veteran without dependents, $105 for a married veteran or one with one dependent, and $120 for a veteran having more than one dependent.

Congress has approved the increases for students under the GI Bill of Rights to become effective May 1, but veterans are not to receive larger checks until the next pay period following Henderson said.

Al Groza Voted 'Most Valuable'

Alex Groza, Kentucky's stellar center, received the Jerome Lederer trophy last Saturday night at the UK Alumni Association banquet as a result of being voted by his teammates as the "Most Valuable Player" on the squad. Last season, Captain Kenny Rollins was awarded the coveted trophy.

The banquet, honoring the Champion Wildcat basketball team, was attended by approximately 200 people who trough, was one of the many sports-writers and sportsmen who spoke at the banquet. UK's sports publicist, Roy Steinfort introduced the host of speakers, who praised the team's members and their marks of the past season.

The four seniors—Ken Rollins, Jack Parkinson, Dutch Campbell, and Jim Jordan—were each given wrist watches by the Alumni Association.

Letters were awarded to the following players: Alex Groza, Kenny Rollins, Ralph Beard, Cliff Barker, Joe Holland, Wah Jones, Dale Barnstable, Jim Lane, Jack Parkinson, Jim Jordan and John Stough. Numeral receivers were: Roger Day, Garland Barnes, Walt Hirsch, Bob Henne, Joe Hall, Bill Boggs and Joe Taylor.

Team Manager Humey Yestin was also given a letter.

Another "Most Valuable Player" award was presented to Groza. He received the metal voted him for being the outstanding player in the NCAA tournament in New York last month.

All-time Director E. A. Shively also gave to Beard the True Magazine trophy for being named the "Outstanding Player in the Nation" by the National Association of Basketball Coaches. Jones, Groza and Beard were named to that magazine's All-American team.

did not perform too badly when it is considered that this was the first track meet in history for Marshall. Aside from that, Poling said that his men had been hampered in practice sessions because of inclement weather. Marshall's oval was the first of the winning mile relay preceding the rush with Kentucky.

Endurance runner George Kirchner, Port Knox sophomore, was second in individual scoring for the Wildcats by registering 10:00. He was winning the 440-yard and the 880-yard runs and running the final lap of the winning mile relay quarter.

Don "Dopey" Phelps, Danville sprinter, finished third in individual point-making with 11. He won the 100-yard and the 200-yard dashes and took third place in the broad jump.

NETTERS PLAY TPI TODAY
The UK tennis team left Thursday when they met Western State and day morning for Bowling Green to play the best tennis player in Kentucky. Dee Gibson, in their first contest of the year.

The Wildcat racketeers are scheduled to meet T.P.I. today, Vanderbilt Saturday, and to return home Sunday.

Footballer Jerry Claiborne was placed in the number one match to oppose Gibson and Danny Dickson, showing much better form than he did last year, played in the number two position. Tommy Adams, number 3 man, with an improved backfield, is making this his best year.

Footballer Jerry Claiborne, with only two days of tennis practice, displayed such form that Coach Ray Dartman said he got the team was greatly strengthened by the addition of Claiborne and placed him in the number four match.

Omar Tatum and Paul King led the 4th and sixth spots with Emer Beusch making the trip to play in the number three match.

Kentucky should roll over T.P.I. with little difficulty today, but the experienced Vanderbilt crew, who have already played six matches, will probably take the Wildcats in a close one.

Blue-White Clash Ends In 13-13 Tie

By Dudley Saunders
A couple of Model T's clashed on Stoll Field Friday night, and when the wreckage had been cleared and the last bodies carried from the field of friendly strife, the scorekeepers got together, added up the score, and announced that the Blues had tied the Whites 13-13 in the annual spring intrasquad football game.

Although each team held a different advantage in statistics they were evenly matched as the score. The Blues' George Bianda completed 17 out of 28 passes, and had only one of his tosses intercepted, compared to Carl Gento of the Whites, who completed four out of eleven and had three intercepted.

The Blues racked up 17 first downs compared to nine for the Whites. Most exciting moments of the game were provided by Bianda's fine passing, Webb's tuffy punts, Norman Klein's long and timely punts, Dick Martin's pass-recognition, Frankenstein's and Zerkow's spirited play at the terminals, and Bob Gains' rugged line play.

Good performances were far more plentiful in the backfield than in the forward wall.

Lewis, put together the best two rounds he has shot in competition to whitewash his opponent in both matches.

Marvin Lear came from far behind to win against Miami after shooting a 74 Friday while losing to Vanderbilt's basketball forward, Pete Robinson.

The Hinks brothers played only in the Miami match. Dick won, shooting a 75; Bill lost to Miami's No. 6 man, but shot a creditable 80.

The final engagement of the trip is a match with Xavier to be played Monday at Cincinnati.

The local linkmen were victors over Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, and Vanderbilt on the Country Club course last week, winning both contests by top-sided scores.

A newcomer, Ray Colton, played consistently well in his first matches and Kentucky No. 2 man, Bud

WILDED AND DRAGGLED. When hot weather descends upon us... is that the way you look and feel? Well, take heart, boys, because the day of suffering through the summer in the same suits or suits you wore all winter is gone forever... For a very low cost you can be immaculate and comfortable on those dress up occasions... in a lightweight, double shade summer suit... durable or single creased. These suits hold their crease and shape (tamara) but true... I know, because I wore a couple all last summer. They are of such soft, congenial colors as you can wear a multitude of variously used accessories giving you the appearance and feeling of an entirely different outfit. Darn practical and darn comfortable.

TOPPER... Not the character of film renown, but a smart spring hat designed for you by MALLORY... The aristocrat of hats... completely Cravatized against these sud-dren showers (and down pours) deftly shaped at the factory by experts... Try on a MALLORY hat and feel the difference... Light at a feather.

BEDDY POPPY... One of my favorite money making devices... Saturday the 17th is the Veterans of Foreign Wars National "BEDDY POPPY DAY". This money is being raised for the V.F.W. widows and orphan homes. A very worthy cause and sincerely I hope you will give a few cents Saturday the 17th for a BEDDY POPPY... Thanks one and all.

Settle Joins Baseballers As New Assistant Coach

By Kent Hollingsworth
Charles "Chuck" Settle, manager of Richmond in the Class B Piedmont league last season, has been secured by the University as assistant baseball coach for this season.

Immediately popular with the players, Coach Settle really knows the "in and out" of baseball. He broke into organized ball as a catcher in 1941, with Riverside in the California State League, where he roomed with Frankie Baumholtz, present Cincinnati Red outfielder, and hit .247 for a sizeable first-year average. From there he went to Columbia, S. C., class B ball. In 1942 he started the season with the Birmingham Barons and roomed with Bobby Adams, now a Red second baseman.

Asked about Eddie Miller's mid-winter blow-off concerning Baumholtz, Adams, and Hatton, Settle smiled. "Funny thing, I guess Miller was just burned about something. He said they were talking too much and not trying hard enough. Aw, that's not right. There's not a better boy in baseball than Baumholtz. Quiet, never complains, always trying. Adams is almost the same way. He shouldn't have said those things about those kids."

A regular for the Barons for half the '42 season, Settle was called into the Navy at the midpoint, and he finished the season with Mickey Cochran's Great Lakes team, where he shared catching duties with George Dickey, stellar White Sox

GOLFERS HEAD NORTH; BEAT MIAMI, VANDY

Kentucky's ambitious linkmen sharpened up their nobbies and putters on the local swampslands this week for their annual invasion of the North.

The Kentuckians are primed for their skirmish with Indiana University at Bloomington this afternoon, since the Hoosiers are responsible for the lone black mark on the Wildcat slate to date.

The Cats tangle with Notre Dame's nibblers at South Bend Saturday. The Irish tied Kentucky's outstanding team last year in a three-way meet at Louisville.

The final engagement of the trip is a match with Xavier to be played Monday at Cincinnati.

The local linkmen were victors over Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, and Vanderbilt on the Country Club course last week, winning both contests by top-sided scores.

A newcomer, Ray Colton, played consistently well in his first matches and Kentucky No. 2 man, Bud

SPORTS

By Tom Dinkin

Do you know why the Kentucky baseball team isn't playing schools like Murray, Eastern, Xavier, Georgetown, and Cincinnati this season like they did in 1947?

Well, it seems that the Southeastern Conference has finally decided to reorganize its baseball setup and give the sport a much-needed boost in the arm. As a result UK will be busy playing Conference nines.

Under the new system, the SEC is now divided up into two divisions, the East and the West. In the Eastern Division are: Kentucky, Georgia, Vanderbilt, Auburn, Georgia Tech, and Tennessee. The Western bracket is made up of Tulane, Florida, LSU, Ole Miss, Alabama and Mississippi State.

Each baseball team in the SEC must play at least 14 games among schools in their particular division. For example, Kentucky will play each school in their bracket a four-game series, except Auburn for a total of 16 contests. Auburn was originally on the card but UK was forced to cancel that series scheduled several days ago because of miscellaneous reasons.

Playoff To Be Held
Early in June the winner of the Eastern Division will meet the Western champ (determined on a week-end percentage basis) in a two-out-of-three 2-out-of-3 series will be declared SEC champions and will automatically go to the Regional NCAA tournament to be held early in August at a site undecided at the present time.

NCAA Baseball Championship
Is June 24-28
Then the four Eastern U. S. Regional NCAA winners will play in a double-elimination series June 16-19. The winner of this tournament will take on the Western NCAA title-holder in a two-out-of-three collegiate "World Series." This meet will be held June 24-28.

Last year the Eastern playoffs were held in New Haven, Conn. the Western at Denver and the finals (which was copied by the University of California nine) at Kalamazoo, Mich. California represented the West. Yale was the Eastern winner and NCAA runner-up.

Baseball Boom Growing
The baseball boom is expanding almost as much as the price of cotton right now. Last year, for example, Lefty Curt Simmons, a Philadelphia high school pitcher, made the almost unbelievable sum of $85,000 as a bonus for signing with the Phillies of the National League.

Spiked Shoe Organized
By Winfield Leathers
Richard Griffith, Paducah, was elected first president of the Southeastern Conference Society of the Spiked Shoe, which was organized on the UK campus on April 1, with 10 charter members. The Spiked Shoe is an active fraternity of varsity track lettermen.

Other officers elected at the first convention were: Clifton Crisp, Lexington, vice president; William Young, Stanford, secretary; Tom Dallas, Paducah, treasurer. Besides the four officers the other six charter members are Johnny McInnis, Lexington; George Kirchner, Fort Knox; Bob Drury, Cleveland; Bob Leitinger, Lexington; Norman Moody, and Leonard Preston, Lexington.

With the formation of the Kentucky chapter the SEC roll call is complete since the other 11 schools had already organized their units. To be eligible for membership a candidate must first win his varsity track letter and then be elected by the active members.

Insignia for the UK members will be a gold track shoe with a raised blue-and-white "K" on the shoe tongue. According to the constitution "the general purpose of the Spiked Shoe shall be in all ways possible to increase, to foster, and to forward track as an amateur sport."

Specifically, the No. 1 aim is to improve sub-collegiate (high school) track 100 percent and thereby to improve the sport and spectator interest in it.

Organized first, in 1922, at Columbia University the society was slow to grow, but finally it came into its own and faded - in the early '30's, when all charters were revoked because of the dying interest.

The Spiked Shoe was revived, this time on a sectional basis, on May 17, 1947, at Birmingham, Ala. During the last 10 months the group has seen the idea catch on with amazing rapidity until now all 12 member schools of the SEC have an active chapter.

INTRAMURALS Baseballers Tangle With Vandy Today

By W. T. Perkins

Bill McCubbins' intramural softball program in trying to compete with the weather is losing ground. Rain won a complete shutout victory during the past week as no games were played.

All teams of the three leagues should check the schedule board at Alumni gym Monday for next week's games.

At the end of the regular season each league will play a round robin tournament. The four teams of each league with the highest percentage of wins over losses will be eligible to compete in the championship round.

The championship tournament will be a single game elimination type and the winner and runner-up will receive a trophy.

Teens
Pairings for the singles and doubles tennis tournaments have been posted at Alumni gym. Play will start in both divisions as soon as the courts dry out.

Wildcat Blamned Stars Sought
The South has long been one of the best hunting grounds for major league baseball scouts. California, however, is the outstanding mecca for producing ball players. If one doubts this, just check the rosters of the big league clubs and you will find the boys hailing from "California" are quite numerous.

Auburn's Nixon is Terrific Prospect
Down in the Lower South, Auburn's Willard Nixon is the talk of baseball followers right now. The lanky sophomore pitched a no-hit game against Tennessee (smile) and struck out 18 Vols swingers. Six major league scouts witnessed the game along with 3,000 people. Nixon stated after the game that he isn't considering a pro career as yet.

KIRCHNER TRACK CAPTAIN
George Kirchner, a sophomore from Fort Knox, was named captain of the 1948 track team this week. The red-headed cinderman runs the 440-yard, the 880-yard and mile relay events for the Wildcats.

Baseballers Tangle With Vandy Today

By Kent Hollingsworth

The University of Kentucky baseball team will open their season against the Vanderbilt Commodores today and tomorrow, probably wearing overalls instead of baseball spikes.

The team has been rained off their field every day this week, the last batting practice session being held Saturday, prior to an intrasquad game.

The Whites won over the Blues as Bob Marshall, Wah Jones, and Bob Hatchett yielded only three hits.

Hatchett faced only six men in his two-inning stint, striking out four, while the other two batters rolled out to the first baseman.

Allen Hamilton, with a bat in his hands for the first time this year, slammed a home run, a long fly to center, and walked in his three appearances at the plate.

Johnny Slough banged a triple against the right field fence and Bob Hatchett and Humey Yessin collected two baggers for the only extra base knocks of the game.

The Wildcats were forced to cancel their practice game with Transylvania on dark, cold, rainy Tuesday.

Eighteen baseball uniforms were issued Wednesday afternoon, prompting the remark by one of the players, "What about swimming trunks?"

Coch Coach Mosley took over the baseball reins Tuesday, bringing with him from the football field, Allen Hamilton, Benny Zaranak, Ogden Thomas, Walt Yowarski, Don Pucci, Jim Stephens, Unis Saylor, Cayton Webb and Al Bruno, swelling the baseball squad to 32 members.

In today's game, Vanderbilt will probably start their big man on the mound, Jim Stephens, who won seven out of ten games last year.

UK FENCERS MEET CINCY

Kentucky's fencers will try to even their record against the University of Cincinnati's team tomorrow afternoon at Alumni Gym in their third match of the season. The Ohio team defeated the Kentuckians in their opener last month. Sunday a Wildcat delegation will go to the State Championship fencing matches in Louisville. Charles LeGette led the UK swordsmen to a 1-2 victory over Vanderbilt in an all-foil match here last Saturday.

As high scorer, LeGette tallied three points. Doug Brown was second with two points, Sid Neal split two points, and Bob Ruppard lost a point.
