FIFTH SEMINAR IN GRAPHIC DESIGN AT THE KING LIBRARY PRESS: VICTOR HAMMER CENTENARY

Experts on printing and bookmaking from Omaha, London and Chicago will arrive in the Department of Special Collections this weekend to take part in a centenary program honoring the late Lexington artist and printer, Victor Hammer. Hammer gained fame for his typographical interpretation of the uncial script and for the beautiful books printed at his Stamperia del Santuccio in Florence, Italy, and later in Lexington.

Harry Ducan, of the College of Fine Arts at the University of Nebraska, studied with Hammer at Wells College in Aurora, New York. This was in the 1940s, just after Hammer came to the U.S. from Europe. Duncan is celebrated for his limited first editions of such American authors as Allen Tate, Robert Lowell, Robert Penn Warren and Tennessee Williams.

John Dreyfus, of London, is a well-known printing historian and designer. He is Typographical Advisor to the Cambridge University Press and Chairman of the Printing Historical Society. He is an acknowledged authority in the field of bibliography and has been honored both in Britain and on the continent for his contributions to typographical scholarship.

R. Hunter Middleton, of Chicago, is an authority on the woodcut art of Thomas Bewick and an important designer of typefaces. He was formerly Vice President of the Ludlow Typograph Company. He was a close personal friend of Victor Hammer, and helped to carry out the production of a number of his types.

The Seminar begins at 8:00 p.m., Friday, October 2, with a talk by John Dreyfus at the University of Kentucky Art Museum and continues through lectures and workshops on Saturday and Sunday in the Department of Special Collections. Registration is $12 for students and $20 for non-students. A five weekend handpress printing workshop will follow the Seminar. Registration is $25 to cover the cost of materials. For further information call Gay Reading, 258-8611.

LIBRARY JOURNALS ROUTING SERVICE

The journals routing service is available to all staff members in King, branch, and associate libraries and the Medical Center Library. The only requirement for receiving the service is that you agree to hold issues no longer than 3 days before routing them on to the next person on the list.

Please make your selections from the list below. If less than six people select a title, it will be excluded from the service. In anticipation of a heavy response, we ask you to select only those titles that are of primary interest to you. If you select more than 5 titles, please indicate which 5 are your top choices-- just in case we have to establish a limit. Please remember that library faculty members are also eligible for the Tables of Contents Service, which might suffice for titles of secondary interest.

Return the list below marked with your selections by Oct. 23 to Gail Kennedy, Acquisitions Dept., King Library. Call me at 32739 if you have any questions. Thanks!
