Epicure - Humorist - Sportsman

by HELEN G. KING

It pleases us to believe that of all the tributes which have been paid to the late Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, the title of this piece would have appealed to him most.

Internationally known entomologist, educator and author, this tall, slender man who was listed by several generations of Kentucky students as a "must" on their college curriculums, seemed to draw the very essence from life and to distill it with a mixture of taste, humor and sportsmanship which recommended it, unreservedly, to the very young.

Others, much better qualified, have written of his contributions to education, to literature and to athletics; but today, we would write of his taste in teaching, in writing, yes, and in food; of his subtle, ready wit, and of his undying loyalties—to his wife, his institution, and, above all to "his teams."

Dr. Funkhouser, unwittingly and without design, established himself as one of the University's most popular teachers. This, because of his ability to put himself in the place of the student—to register the same reactions, to understand the thinking and the reasoning of the young. In like manner, his writings held universal appeal because he reserved to himself the ability to take skeletal remains of pre-historic generations and with "a rag, a bone, and a hank of hair," weave a gusty, living romance.

Epicure he was, too, a man who prided himself on his taste for the unusual, who considered eating an art not to be touched upon lightly. The last time the Southeastern Conference met in Lexington, with the University as host, Dr. Funkhouser put as much thought and enthusiasm into the planning of menus to be served to his guests, as he did to the agenda for the meeting.

His devotion to the University's athletic teams and to the athletic conference of which he was godfather and guide, are a part of the public record. But one wonders if many knew the hundreds of hours he devoted to this, his pet avocation; the grief he knew when Kentucky lost, the joy he felt when she won? It also gives one pause to consider what Kentucky has lost in losing him. There was a man who gave of himself so graciously, and apparently with such little effort, that even he did not realize the full extent and value of his gift.

He will be remembered in the educational world for his invaluable contribution to science and letters, and to the athletic world for his leadership in the Southeastern Conference and on the campus of the University of Kentucky. But we like to recall Dr. Funkhouser the epicure, who could roll his tongue over a description of bird's nest soup; Dr. Funkhouser, the humorist, who could turn a phrase into a laugh in the twinkle of an eye; and finally, Dr. Funkhouser, the sportsman, who through his own example, gave to a vast group of University students, a sportsman's slant on life.

Homecoming Greetings

FROM

THE PRESIDENT

To graduates, former students and other friends, the University of Kentucky extends its greetings. It is a very real pleasure to welcome you to the campus on this day of reunion.

In the years since 1865, when the University was founded, 64,544 different students from throughout the country and from foreign lands have been enrolled in its classes. The University is proud of its many sons and daughters, and is happy to welcome them back home on this occasion. The University is glad they have not forgotten their alma mater.

The University of Kentucky is in its eighty-third year. There have been many great years in its history, but if we were selecting from all the years that make up the history of the University, this year must be regarded as one of the greatest years in its life. This Fall, with a student body of 7,863, the University has its peak enrollment. To care for the large increase in the number of students, our staff has been enlarged and strengthened and our facilities have been expanded. Several major building projects are now under construction and other needed buildings are planned.

It is our hope that you will take advantage of this opportunity to look about the campus. You will see that many changes have taken place here in the past few years. You will see that the University of Kentucky is on the road to becoming a truly great university.

May this Homecoming Day be a day we shall long remember and cherish.

THE BEAR FACTS

By John Bradberry, Sports Editor, The Atlanta Constitution

Back in 1930, the town of Fordyce, Ark., had a population of 3,206 and among its more famous citizens was a gawky teen-age boy who had made a name for himself on some of the city's most powerful football teams.

His name was Paul Bryant and even then, the nickname of "Bear" had been given him, a result of an ill-fated venture with a black bear in the interest of improving his financial condition.

A small-sized circus with a large-size bear made a one-night stand in Fordyce when Paul Bryant was 13 years of age. As a publicity stunt, the circus offered five complete dollars to any citizen who would enter the ring as an opponent of the bear in a wrestling match.

Times were tough in Fordyce that year and Paul Bryant and his friends found themselves financially embarrassed and the folks who guarded the tent flaps doubly vigilant.

Consequently, it was decided that since the lanky Paul was the largest of the group, he should be the one to wrestle the bear and purchase circus tickets for all concerned with his reward.

Of course, Paul's buddies did most of the deciding but Bryant himself wasn't hard to convince for, he figured, what did he have to lose except maybe a few square inches of hide.

Which he eventually did, of course.

What was even worse, though, was the circus declared "No contest" and refused to pay off and all Paul Bryant got out of it was a nickname.

But at that, it was a good one because the word "bear" describes the handsome, six-foot-four Kentucky football coach better than any other I can think of.

His play at right end on the famous University of Alabama teams of 1933-35 was as tough, as determined and as powerful as a bruin. And his coaching career since has been stamped with the eagerness of a mother grizzly teaching her cub how to fish.

Bryant played on the varsity for three years at Alabama and during that period his team lost only three games. Included in the victory list was the 1935 Rose Bowl win over Stanford.

Yet as staunch a defensive pillow as Bear was, his name was over-shadowed in the press clippings by those of Dixie Howell and Don Hutson and Riley Smith. But there was one man who didn't overlook his ability and foresaw his possibilities as a coach. That man was Frank Thomas and when the fabulous seniors had graduated, it was Bear Bryant whom Thomas added to his staff at Alabama.

Incidentally, it was during Bryant's senior year at Tuscaloosa that he performed one of the most amazing feats in history of the game, playing five full games with a broken bone in his leg.

Bryant was an immediate success as a coach. He learned his lessons well under Thomas, not the least of them being how to convince high school prospects his school was the one they should attend.

After four years at Alabama, Bryant started up the coaching ladder, taking a job at Vanderbilt as Red Sanders' line coach. Two years later he entered the Navy. He was released in 1945 just before the football season and accepted a last-minute job at Maryland where he astounded everybody by winning six games, losing two and tying one.

About this time, Kentucky was looking for a coach to rebuild the war-depleted football stock in the Bluegrass. Bear Bryant was the only man for the job. He had a longing to get back in his old conference and especially to become head coach of one of the league's outstanding member institutions.

He rewarded Wildcat supporters with seven victories against only three defeats his first season in 1946 and so elated were Kentuckians with him, both as a coach and a gentleman, his contract was torn up and renewed for a period of ten years.

Bear isn't one to let security interfere with ambition. Last season his team compiled a brilliant eight and three record, highlighted by great victories over Georgia, Vanderbilt and Villanova, the latter in the post-season Great Lakes Bowl game.

But Bryant isn't content. Nothing less than a perfect season will satisfy him. And chances are excellent that he'll come up with one before long, even as tough as such things are nowadays.

Bear's success as a coach might be attributed largely to three things. First, he knows how to get the material, an absolute must at Kentucky which must compete with Midwestern and Eastern colleges for boys as well as with rival members of the SEC.

Secondly, he knows how to coach the ones he gets, a fact proven by the ease with which he switched from the Notre Dame formation to the T-formation in the space of one spring practice.

And finally, the Bear knows how to compete in the post-season banquet league. He makes a big hit—and consequently, many friends for Kentucky—everywhere he goes.

You may have surmised by now that I like Bear Bryant. He is one of my favorite people and its not solely because he signed my one-month-old son to a Wildcat grant-in-aid, adequate proof of Point No. 1 mentioned above.

The main thing I like about him is his honesty. Oh, don't get me wrong. The Bear can put out bear stories about his team as well as the next one. In fact, he sometimes rivals The Big Weep, Wally Butts, in this department.

But Bear Bryant is the only football coach I have ever heard take the entire blame for a defeat to his team, saying simply and frankly, "I coached them wrong".

In my book, that's honesty.

The Coaching Staff

CARNEY LASLIE . . . Like Paul Bryant is a University of Alabama product and a former Rose Bowl star for the Crimson Tide . . . Laslie lettered three years at 'Bama '30, '31 and '32 . . . In '32 he played on the Tide eleven which won a 24-0 decision over Washington State in the Pasadena classic . . . Remained at Alabama as an assistant for one year after graduating . . . Then he became head football coach at the Blytheville, Arkansas, high school . . . His teams went undefeated for three seasons and then Laslie went to V.M.I. as line coach . . . From the Lexington, Va., school, Laslie entered the Navy . . . While in the Navy, he coached the North Carolina Pre-Flight eleven . . . Released to inactive duty after three years service with the rank of Lieutenant Commander . . . Joined Bryant at Maryland a few days before the 1945 season opened . . . Specializes in coaching tackles at Kentucky . . . Married and has an eleven-year-old daughter.

FRANK MOSELEY . . . A native of Montgomery, Alabama . . . Quarterbacked the Tide elevens in '31, '32 and '33 . . . Played two seasons on the same Alabama teams as Laslie . . . Came to Kentucky in 1934 and served as backfield coach under Chet Wynne and Ab Kirwan . . . Entered the Navy in '42 . . . Served as gunnery officer aboard the aircraft carrier Lexington with the rank of Lieutenant Commander . . . A veteran of practically every battle in the Pacific . . . Joined Bryant a few days before the season opened at Maryland . . . Backfield coach at Kentucky . . . Married and has a fifteen-months-old son . . . Called "Mose" by many, but "Bully" or "Chesty" by his old Capstone acquaintances.

TED D. OSBORN . . . Is the latest addition to the Kentucky staff, arriving in July from Akron Central High School, Akron, Ohio, where he had been head basketball and football coach for 12 years . . . Osborn was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan in 1931 where he starred as a halfback for three seasons . . . Following his graduation, Osborn went to Ohio State in 1933 as a freshman coach . . . Served during the war as a Lieutenant in the Navy.

JOE ATKINSON . . . Was a star guard with Vanderbilt from '39 to '41 . . . Bryant coached Atkinson in '40 and '41 when he was line coach at Vandy . . . Joe captained the '41 Commodore eleven . . . Entered the Navy after graduation in '42 . . . Served 46 months . . . Skippered a PT . . . Came to Kentucky immediately after his discharge in March, 1946 . . . Handles the guards . . . A native of Lebanon, Tennessee . . . Married.

CLARENCE UNDERWOOD . . . A 1933 Marshall College graduate where he was a varsity guard for three years . . . Joined Kentucky's staff early this year . . . Coached at Beckley, West Virginia, high school from 1938-43 . . . Served three years in the Navy as a Lieutenant . . . Married and the father of two children.

ERMAL ALLEN . . . Joined the Kentucky coaching staff after being ruled ineligible after two games in the 1946 season in one of the Southeastern Conference's most controversial cases . . . Last fall, Allen played professional football with the All-American League champions, Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns . . . Ermal was a T-quarterback for the Brownies . . . He will be a valuable addition to the Kentucky staff this fall because of his knowledge of the T . . . Married and is the father of two children.

These coaches are assisted by Bill McCubbin, Bill Moseley, Charles Browning and Leo Yarutis.

The Immortals of '98

by Helen G. King

The Immortals of '98 have come home again!

Fifty years and many Kentucky football games ago, 15 inspired young gridders of "Old State," under the direction of Coach William Bass, went through a perfect season of seven games won, no ties and no scoring by the opposition, a record which fifty years of Kentucky Wildcat football players have been unable to break.

Today, just 50 years after this perfect record was established, the seven living members of that famous squad have come back home—to see Kentucky play football again—to cheer and reminisce about the "good old days."

This edition of the Kentucky football program is dedicated to them: E. C. (Mad Anthony) Whayne, Clinton, Ky., guard; Col. J. H. Graham, Louisville, tackle; J. Milward Elliott, Lexington, halfback; J. Soule Smith, Webster Groves, Mo., fullback; John Willim, Lexington, end; Winn Martin, St. Louis, Mo. end; and Dr. C. C. Clarke, Socorro, N. Mex., center. They are all here today, in the stands, thinking back to the days when they wore the blue and white and played football for Kentucky, and we of the succeeding generations are very happy to have them, very proud of their achievements, very grateful for their loyalty which has lasted over a period of fifty years.

The heaviest man on that '98 squad was C. L. Strauss, who weighed in at 222 and was six feet. He played right guard. The next in weight was E. C. Whayne, 220 lbs., six feet, left guard. The quarterback and captain, Roscoe Severs, was only five feet five, and weighed 129 pounds, which only proves that the weight from the shoulders up is what counts in quarterbacking.

The complete roster of the '98'ers, follows:

Name	Pos.	Age	Ht.	Wt.	Class
*Roscoe Severs	QB	20	5'5"	129	Jr.
J. M. Elliott	LHB	19	5'10"	156	Soph.

*R. K. Maddocks	Sub	20	5'5"	130	Sr.
John Willim	RE	21	5'10"	150	Soph.

*The seven men starred above are known to be dead; Mr. J. H. Kehoe is lost to the Alumni Association and to the team, so we do not know whether he is living; however none of the squad succeeded in finding him before this reunion. The 1898 football schedule may not sound so tough now, but we'll guarantee it was no walk-a-way, what with Indiana and Massachusetts volunteers making up the opposition in two instances. Anyway, here it is:

Ky. State College	18	Ky. Univ. (Transylvania)	0
Ky. State College	28	Georgetown College	0
Ky. State College	59	8th. Mass. Volunteers	0
Ky. State College	16	Louisville Athletic Ass'n	0
Ky. State College	6	Centre (rain)	0
Ky. State College	17	160th. Indiana Volunteers	0
Ky. State College	36	Newcastle Athletic Club	0
Total score	180	Opponents	0

Can you beat it? We don't think you can even tie it—so let's give 'em a great big hand—

THE IMMORTALS OF '98!

LEFT ENDS

BEN ZARANKA . . . 6-4 . . . 187 . . . 20 . . . East Chicago, Indiana . . . Sophomore . . . Earned a reputation last year, his freshman season, as a great pass receiver . . . He should be a starter this fall . . . Attended Roosevelt High School in East Chicago where he was an All-State end . . . Was a pitcher for the Wildcat baseball team last spring . . . Plans a career as a pro footballer following his graduation.

JERRY CLAIBORNE . . . 5-10 . . . 165 . . . 20 . . . Hopkinsville, Kentucky . . . Junior . . . He's not too big, but what there is of him is all football player . . . Jerry is what Coach Bryant calls a "100 per cent boy," meaning that he puts out all of the time whether its Saturday or Tuesday . . . Has been switched from a blocking back to end . . . He's destined to see action this fall . . . Majoring in mathematics.

NICK ODLIVAK . . . 6 . . . 190 . . . 23 . . . Aliquippa, Pennsylvania . . . Junior . . . Has played every position on the Kentucky team as a reserve . . . Coach Bryant last spring switched Nick from a back to the end position . . . He's good enough, however, to play almost anywhere on the club . . . Majoring in Education . . . When he was a freshman, Nick Hitch-hiked to the Georgia game at Athens . . . Coach Bryant met him on the street . . . Bryant suggested that he "dress-out" for the game . . . Nick did and played more than a half of the contest as Kentucky's quarterback.

W. E. BURGER, U. K. Trainer

W. E. Burger, better known to the coaches and members of the squad as "Bud" is a graduate of the University of Illinois Physical Education school. He worked two years as Matt Bullock's training assistant and then became Athletic Director and head coach of all sports at Divernon (Illinois) High School. In the summer of 1945 he became a member of the Duke University staff as assistant trainer, assistant basketball coach and physical education instructor. He is married and has a daughter. He came to the University of Kentucky in the summer of 1947.

UNIS SAYLOR, Head Student Manager

Unis Saylor, always called "Saylor", has the herculean task of head student manager of the football team. When he came to the University of Kentucky in 1946, he was a member of the squad, but received an injured shoulder which prevented active participation in the sport. However, Coach Bryant, because of Saylor's keen interest in the game assigned him to the honored post of team manager. His job is to keep one jump ahead of Coach Bryant on everything from shoe laces to 375 pound blocking dummies.

CENTERS

HARRY ULINSKI . . . 6-2 . . . 196 . . . 23 . . . Ambridge, Pennsylvania . . . Junior . . . Will be Kentucky's replacement for its All-Conference man, Jay Rhodemyre . . . Harry was injured last year . . . This winter his knee was operated on . . . And his physical condition is still very much a question mark. . . . If he is able to play, he should be a starter . . . And a very good one . . . He comes from a football family . . . Ed Ulinski is with Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns in the All-American League . . . And Ray is the quarterback for Penn State . . . Potentially he's a great football player . . . Without him, Kentucky will be weak in the middle of the line.

WALT YOWARSKY . . . 6-1 . . . 205 . . . 20 . . . Cleveland, Ohio . . . Sophomore . . . "Smitty," as Yowarsky is called by his teammates, will be used as a utility man this fall . . . He's big and strong and could be a valuable substitute.

RIGHT GUARDS

BILL DAWSON . . . 5-10 . . . 190 . . . 23 . . . Louisville, Kentucky . . . Sophomore . . . The Round Man should be a contender for a starting berth this fall . . . A short squat individual, Dawson is extremely hard to move on the defense . . . Offensively, he's a fine blocker . . . This is a weak spot in the Kentucky line . . . Dawson's play could be a tremendous contribution to Kentucky's success this fall.

RAY PORTER . . . 5-10 . . . 185 . . . 22 . . . Cincinnati, Ohio . . . Junior . . . A converted back, Ray will see plenty of service this fall . . . A good, steady all-around player, he will be a valuable member of the squad . . . A good blocker, especially on down field work . . . If he can come through with a good season, it will be a pleasant surprise for the Wildcat coaching staff.

RIGHT TACKLES

LLOYD McDERMOTT . . . 6-1 . . . 215 . . . 22 . . . Covington, Kentucky . . . Junior . . . Is a big man who will play an important part in the Wildcat line this fall . . . As a sophomore, Mac saw a lot of action . . . This fall, he should be a contender for a starting berth. . . . He has the native ability and he has indicated his desire to play football . . . Was an All-State man while playing with Holmes High School in Covington. . . . For a big man he gets around very well.

RIGHT END

WALLACE (WAH-WAH) JONES . . . 6-4 . . . 195 . . . 21 . . . Harlan, Kentucky . . . Senior . . . Is regarded as one of the finest all-around athletes ever to enroll at Kentucky . . . Has lettered three straight seasons in basketball, football, and baseball . . . Is a great pass receiver and a great team man . . . Was injured during most of the season last year . . . Just returned in time from the Olympics with the United States basketball team to report for practice . . . If he can round out into football condition soon enough, he'll be a great aid to the 'Cats.

RIGHT END

CHARLES BENTLEY . . . 6 . . . 195 . . . 21 . . . Alabama City, Alabama . . . Junior . . . Is considered one of the best blockers on the squad . . . He'll give anyone a battle for a starting berth . . . He's a tough competitor who is seldom injured . . . And he has sufficient experience and poise at his position to be of tremendous aid to the 'Cats.

LEFT GUARD

PAT JAMES . . . 6-1 . . . 180 . . . 20 . . . New Boston, Ohio . . . Sophomore . . . Has been used only as a reserve so far, but he's a cinch to play a lot this fall . . . A tough and rugged boy.

ALLEN HAMILTON . . . 5-9 . . . 190 . . . 23 . . . Louisville, Kentucky . . . Sophomore . . . Another one of Kentucky's vest-pocket guards . . . Little, but rugged and tough . . . Played only as a reserve in his freshman season . . . Quick on the offense.

QUARTERBACKS

GEORGE BLANDA . . . 6-1 . . . 190 . . . 20 . . . Youngwood, Pennsylvania . . . Senior . . . Is the man who can either make or break the Wildcat offense. . . Last fall was his first season as a T-man . . . That year of experience should prove of great benefit to him this fall . . . One of the most powerful punters in college football today . . . His long boots last fall consistently kept Kentucky out of danger . . . During the early part of the season, his passes were too hard and not accurate enough . . . However, in the latter stages, he discovered the trick in throwing a soft ball . . . As a result, Kentucky aerial offense picked up something terrific . . . He'll call all plays when he's in the line-up.

CARL GENITO . . . 6 . . . 175 . . . 20 . . . Duquesne, Pennsylvania . . . Sophomore . . . Will be used probably in reserve duty . . . He's a good pressure player . . . The kind of a boy who's not much on Tuesday, but he's capable of winning for you on Saturday . . . He doesn't do anything spectacularly well. . . . But he always manages to get by . . . And he's a threat as a runner.

RIGHT HALFBACKS

DICK MARTIN . . . 6 . . . 170 . . . 19 . . . Chicago, Illinois . . . Sophomore . . . Was a good freshman player last fall . . . One of the best defensive halfbacks on the squad . . . He'll be in a contending position for a starting assignment . . . A tricky runner . . . He's destined to see plenty of duty this fall.

JIM HOWE . . . 6-1 . . . 175 . . . 21 . . . Fort Thomas, Kentucky . . . Junior . . . Is one of Kentucky's slowest men afoot, but one of the most elusive . . . For the opposition, he possesses a dangerous change of pace . . . A good team player . . . A boy who'll play his heart out to win . . . And in the mud with his change of pace he's great . . . He'll be in the Kentucky line-up plenty this year.

LEFT HALFBACKS

BILL BOLLER . . . 5-11 . . . 180 . . . 20 . . . Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania . . . Junior . . . Is probably the most powerful running back in the Kentucky backfield . . . If a tackler won't get out of his way, he turns on the steam and plows over, under, or through them . . . He can kick, pass, and run . . . He seems destined to be a fine player before he leaves the Bluegrass school.

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. A football weighs less than a pound.
2. It is illegal for a blocker to throw his body at an opponent when blocking.
3. Only a natural tan colored football can be used.
4. When a ball is put in play an offensive team has 60 seconds to go into action.
5. The man in motion must be at least five feet behind the scrimmage line at the moment the ball is put in play.
6. A pass can be thrown from any point behind the line of scrimmage.
7. Two consecutive incomplete forwards result in a five-yard penalty.
8. It is possible for a guard or tackle to be eligible for a forward pass.
9. A fourth-down punt kicked over the opponent's goal is good for an automatic safety.
10. In ordinary circumstances a team is permitted no more than four times out each half.
11. The defensive team cannot run with a fumbled ball which has hit the ground.
12. Two out of bounds kick-offs result in the award of the ball to the non-kicking team at the mid-field stripe.
13. On a shift play the players must come to a full stop before the ball is centered.
14. The offensive line can stand up if it wishes.
15. "Bootlegging the ball" is the trick of snatching the ball from the runner.
16. A coffin-corner kick is a kick-off aimed at putting the opponents back deep into their end zone.
17. When the gun sounds ending a half or game any play in process automatically ends.
18. A quick-opener is a football play most characteristic of the single-wing style of attack.
19. A fair catch is a pass caught within bounds.
20. A football game can end by a 1-0 score.
21. A substitute can report to any official on the field.
22. The offensive team must always keep at least seven men on the line.
23. Today a football coach can make an unlimited number of substitutions.
24. The recognition of a substitute automatically stops the clock.
25. If a defensive player intercepts a pass in the end-zone he is automatically risking a loss of 2 points unless he can run the ball back out to the goal-line stripe.
26. A quick-kick is not made from a punt formation.
27. The center does not have to pass the ball between his legs.
28. The T-formation gets its name from the alignment of backs.
29. In the T-formation the ball is received directly from the center by the running back.
30. "Flooding a zone" is a term applied to a running play stressing power.
31. A "flat" pass is a ball thrown with little spin.
32. A "spinner" is a kick given extra spiral by being kicked off the side of the toe.
33. To "reverse one's field" is to cut back sharply, catching one's opponents off balance.
34. The single wing generally operates with an unbalanced line.
35. A "mouse-trap" play is a type of pass play designed to trick the defensive safety-man.
36. "Double-teaming" is the trick of having two eligible receivers run at a defending back then cut in opposite directions.
37. A goal can be kicked at any height above the posts so long as it is within the imaginary lines formed by the extension of the posts upward.
38. A spread formation is a defensive maneuver designed to forestall a passing attack.
39. For the punting team to recover its own kick and take possession the punt must go beyond the line of scrimmage.
40. The flying wedge is an offensive maneuver used extensively by colleges last year.
41. On an incomplete fourth down pass into the end zone the defensive team takes over on its own 20-yard line.
42. The goal after touchdown can be scored by a pass or running play.
43. The goal posts used to be on the goal-line.
44. Hidden ball plays are not permitted.
45. A punt can be punted back on the same play.
46. A play cannot be run without appropriate signals.
47. It is impossible to run a series of downs without a huddle.
48. The Statue of Liberty play is a defensive maneuver whereby the defensive center stands up straight and signals the path of the play.
49. On a safety the team which is scored on can keep possession of the ball for a series of downs.

LEFT GUARDS

DICK HOLWAY . . . 5-10 . . . 183 . . . 23
Youngstown, Ohio . . . Junior . . . Plays strictly because he wants to . . . What Dick lacks in ability, he makes up in competitive spirit . . . Was used as a reserve last year, but he's certain to see plenty of service this fall . . . Played only one year of high school football.

FULLBACKS

CLAYTON WEBB . . . 5-11 . . . 190 . . . 18 . . .
Sophomore . . . St. Albans, West Virginia . . . a fast developing sophomore fullback, who by mid-season may come into his own and give Bill Boller much needed relief at that post . . . All-State in football in 1947.

HAROLD WOODDELL . . . 5-11 . . . 185 . . . 21 . . .
Beckley, W. Va. . . . Soph. . . . "Woody" has been a very pleasant surprise this year. . . The Beckley High School Sophomore took over the line-backing chores for injured Lee Truman in the Georgia game and did a splendid job. . . His fine spirited play has made him one of the top defensive backs on the squad.

FAIR PLAY FIGURGRAM SCOREBOARDS

We think that you will agree with us that the special football scoreboard recently installed by Fair Play through our firm at Stoll Field in Lexington, Kentucky for the University of Kentucky is the most modern, most spectacular, and most up-to-date football scoreboard you have ever seen.

We have other models of football scoreboards made special for high schools IN STOCK ready for immediate delivery. Phone us or write us for prices and any additional information.

The above basketball scoreboard is Fair Play's latest 1949 model, completely automatic 9" numerals in time clock flash every second of play. All plastic name plates lighted from rear. Every unit unplugs from front. We have spare or extra parts and units in stock and will replace without charge for a period of two years any defective part. Aluminum cabinet 54" x 48" x 6". Weight, about 75 pounds. Price complete with Super Duper horn and all necessary controls, $395.00. CABLE EXTRA.

PLEASE NOTE: A special lighted presentation plaque "DRINK COCA COLA IN BOTTLES" or "TIME OUT FOR PEPSI-COLA", etc., can be supplied to firms who care to purchase a board for their school or college. Write for prices and full details.
