Dear Dr Thompson

I ran across the original notes of that cowbarn poem which I had promised to send you, so here they are. They are just as illegible as anything else I have ever written. I will also be sending you several copies of the Ford Foundation's "Perspectives" 4 which my friend J. Laughlin is editing, and which has a piece by me in it-- in various languages. You probably get the American edition, but might like to have the others and we can't use it in the library here.

With best wishes, as usual

Sincerely yours in Christ
