HONOR HEROES OF WORLD WAR

CAMPAIGN TO SOLICIT FUNDS FOR MEMORIAL TO KENTUCKY'S WORLD WAR HEROES STARTS MONDAY APRIL 24 AND CLOSSES APRIL 29

Auditorium and Students Building to be Erected on the Campus of the University of Kentucky "For Those Who Gave All"

$300,000 FUND TO BE COMPLETED DURING DRIVE

Alumni Called on to Contribute $25 or Raise by Soliciting; Su-Ky Circle to Help Canvass

Workers throughout Kentucky will start Monday April 24 to complete the $300,000 fund for a memorial to Kentucky's heroes of the World War. The building, which will be erected on the campus of the University of Kentucky, will be an auditorium and students building.

Undergraduates of the University, students of colleges throughout the State and pupils of the public and private schools will be engaged in a house-to-house canvass, continuing until Saturday evening April 29. The site for the official State memorial was agreed upon by members of the Kentucky council of Defense and other representative citizens at a meeting in Louisville in the summer of 1919.

One hundred business men and firms of Lexington are underwriters of a $100,000 bond issue, passed but held invalid by the Court of Appeals. Others have made contributions varying from $1 to $1,500, the largest coming from Gen. T. Coleman du Pont, a former Kentuckian.

Alumni of the University have been called on to contribute or raise by soliciting $25 each. Letters have been written a group of representative citizens of every county by James C. Willson, of Louisville, State Chairman, calling on them to contribute $25 each to start off the drive. School children also will be active in raising the money as a patriotic undertaking, the last of the war drives. This was endorsed by the Kentucky Educational Association, by State Superintendent George Colvin and by local boards of education. Special exercises will be held in many of the schools of the State on the memorial idea.

This campaign rightly carried on will be of inestimable value to the University, said one of the leaders of the drive. Its success will indicate unmistakably the reaction of the State-at-large to the recent attacks based on the teaching of evolution. This controversy brought many new friends to the University and it is expected that others will be attracted by the plan of commemorating the sacrifice of the 3,056 Kentuckians in the World War. The American Legion, War Mothers and other patriotic and civic organizations have endorsed the campaign and are backing it with enthusiasm and work.

Two hundred students of the University will go on a canvass of the down-town district of Lexington and Flying Squadrons will visit nearby towns during the last two or three days of the drive. In addition there will be a woman Chairman in each county and a local committee associated with her.

Almost every college and university in the country has made arrangements for some sort of a memorial to its World War heroes. A fund of $1,000,000 was raised for the University of Georgia recently. Ohio State is erecting a Million Dollar Stadium. At Ames, Iowa, students and faculty subscribed more than $300,000 in the opening week of the campaign. Alumni of these institutions were given a quota of approximately $300 each. In some instances undergraduates subscribed as much as $500.

The University of Kentucky was granted an appropriation of $290,000 by the General Assembly for partial relief from post-war conditions only to lose the entire sum by veto of the Governor who allowed a similar increase to the penal and charitable institutions and approximately half a million a year to apply on the State's floating indebtedness.

This Memorial Building will satisfy in part the University's immediate needs in addition to commemorating idealism with which this country entered the war and went on to victory. By its constant reminder to the youth of the State of heroic deeds it will mean a great addition to the life of the State.

Only a little more than one-third of the student body can assemble in the present chapel. It is necessary for the freshmen and sophomores to alternate for convocation. Upper classmen are allowed one meeting every five weeks. The student body can be brought together only on the athletic field where they turn out en masse for the games and generate true college spirit.

When the drive was first started in 1919 a considerable percent of the undergraduates made contributions ranging from $3 to $75, one class contributing $100 from its general fund. Faculty and many of the alumni have made contributions varying from one percent to three and a half percent of a year's salary. A contribution large or small from every undergraduate and from every alumnus is the aim of the present Campaign Committee.

The Su-Ky Circle will direct the canvassing of the student body and of the down-town district of Lexington. This group will organize the Flying Squadrons also. A committee from the faculty also has been appointed by President McVey.

Next week alumni and students will be "Salesmen for Old Kentucky" according to the leaflet distributed by the Campaign Committee. This will be another test of devotion to the institution, a challenge to the Kentucky spirit.

Author of Memorial Poem (By Courtesy of Lexington Herald)

Mrs. Eleanor Duncan Wood, Maysville Kentucky, to whom was awarded a prize of fifty dollars in gold for the best poem written by a Kentuckian, to be inscribed in Kentucky's war memorial building that is to be erected on the campus of the University of Kentucky at Lexington is an outstanding poet in Kentucky's long list of distinguished writers. The memorial poem which appears in this issue of the Kernel and which has been selected by a committee of judges composed of Professors L. L. Dantzler, University of Kentucky, Boyd Martin, University of Louisville, W. B. Jones, Georgetown College, C. E. Freeman, Transylvania College, and B. A. Wise, Centre College, has been widely commented upon as one of the most noble worthy poetic utterances ever written by a Kentuckian.

Mrs. Wood was born January 10, 1867 at Washington, Kentucky. She is the daughter of Arthur and Eleanor Wood. In 1888 she married Clarence Wood. To them were born three children all of whom are now grown. Mrs. Wood has been writing since her early girlhood and several hundred of her poems have been published in various periodicals throughout the country. Notable among her published work are "The Failure" which appeared in the Ladies Home Journal, "When the Birds Come Home," "The Room of Life," "The Mother," "The Lord of the Lilies," "The Little White Bride in the Picture," "Tarley's Mama," "The Heart's Pathway," "Remember the Alamo," "Indian Summer," "Birthdays," "The Pioneer Belle of Long Ago," "The People's Pet," "The Fly Bush," "Mother's Room," and "Without Our Gogs."

STATEMENT FROM PRESIDENT McVEY

Next week, April 24-29, the Memorial Building Drive takes place. Every student, every faculty member and every Alumnus should have a part in it. This is the opportunity to show our loyalty and to demonstrate the ability of the University to rise above the discouragements of the year. The location of such a building on the campus will be a visualization of national patriotism and our own obligations to serve. (Signed) FRANK L. McVEY, President.

KENTUCKY'S CHOSEN TRIBUTE TO IMMORTALS

"In Memoriam"

Dear Motherland, Kentucky, here we bring
The names of these, thy sons, who nobly died;
Who for Thy sake and Freedom's put aside
Young love, and lusty life, and call of spring,
And strode down death's dark ways adventuring.

We cannot bring them back! We cannot give
To their young eyes the joy of sunrise, nor
To eager ears that call they harkened for—
The cardinal among the hills of home. They live
But in our hearts—and these are fugitive.

We shall go down to dust even as they.
So to thy heart, Kentucky, bring we now
These deathless names. A coronet for thy brow,
Best-loved, and beautiful. And thou shalt pay
Unending honor till time's latest day.

And it shall be throughout the coming years
Young hearts shall proudly read these hero-names
And feel within their own the sacred flames,
"We'll live for what they died for—spite of fears;"
So Faith shall spring once more from blood and tears

Keep safe these names thy sons who would not save Themselves at price of liberty and thee.
The "Old Kentucky Home" shall hallowed be
Throughout the ages by the blood they gave;
Keep thou them safe, thy beautiful and brave!

Lexington Alumni Club Luncheon
 The Lexington alumni held their regular monthly meeting at the Phoenix Hotel, 12:30, April 8. W. C. Wilson, president of the club was in the chair and made a plea for a stronger support of their Alma Mater by the alumni, urging them to begin work now to have elected to the 1924 legislature men in sympathy with Kentucky's need for educational advancement and a state university comparable to those of other states. Two years is not long enough to accomplish much toward the University's good, he said, but by the constant united effort of the alumni the result will be felt in four or six years.

The relation of the model high school to the University of Kentucky and its use as a laboratory for students in the Department of Education, was explained by Harold P. Flinn, principal of the school. It is yet in its infancy and sadly crippled on account of lack of funds but is doing good work. It holds membership in the Association of High Schools and Colleges of the South, to which only about 500 high schools are eligible.

The University saxophone quartette furnished the music for the occasion.

Birmingham Alumni Entertain Junior Engineers
 The Birmingham Alumni Club entertained the junior engineers, on an inspection trip of southern industries, with a banquet at the Southern Club, April 9, at 8 p. m. Mr. J. M. Sprague '07, president of the club, presided and gave the boys a royal welcome. An old fashioned southern dinner was served and a round-table talk followed. Short talks were made by Mr. Sprague, E. J. Kohn '12, A. B. Haswell '11 and others of the twelve alumni present. The Birmingham alumni want the southern trip made a regular feature of the junior inspection trip and they certainly showed their co-operation and interest in entertaining the boys. They took them in charge on arrival in Birmingham, had a special train to visit the different industries and Mr. E. J. Kohn, Secretary of the Club, spent the entire day with them.

The Club is anxious that the Wildcats play their return football game with Alabama at Birmingham in stead of Tuscaloosa next fall, and an effort is being made to carry out this suggestion. The juniors were so delighted with their treatment and the industrial plants visited that they, too, are working to have the Birmingham trip become a permanent part of the junior engineering inspection trip.

Louisville Alumni Club Entertain K. E. A. Alumni Delegates.

The Louisville Alumni Club gave a banquet to Alumni delegates attending the Kentucky Educational Association convention in the Red Room of the Seelbach hotel April 12 at 6:00 p. m. Those attending the banquet pronounce it the greatest occasion of its kind in the history of the Louisville club.
 Elwood Hamilton, principal speaker of the evening, said in his talk "I see 500,000 hands raised to us here tonight. They are the hands of the children of Kentucky. They want an education and the state owes it to them. They want a great University and the men and women of Kentucky should forget self and give it to them."

The friends of the University, according to Mr. Hamilton, do not realize the extent of the harm done by the evolution blight that has fallen upon it. It is the duty, he says, of every friend and former student to exert himself to the utmost to combat the misrepresenting propaganda afloat throughout the state.

Herbert Graham, in a short address set forth the fact that the alumni of the University are at the point of launching a drive to procure the funds yet remaining unprocured to build Kentucky's war memorial structure on the campus in honor of the men and women of the state who lost their lives in the European war. He detailed briefly the plans to be employed which are given elsewhere in this issue. He exhorted fellow alumni to persistent action in completing their great work. He said the University would stand heartily shoulder to shoulder with them and predicted success.

Professor E. F. Farquhar made an address full of vision and inspiration in which he paid tribute to our President Dr. Frank L. McVey, referring to him as a "hard-shelled Optimist" and a leader who would lead ever on to higher and better things for the University of Kentucky. He made an appeal to alumni to stand by the President and uphold his hands in supporting the one ideal to be followed during the next two years, the uplifting of the University.

Professor Enoch Graham, the only impromptu speaker of the evening, in keeping with his usual ready way of speaking gave a speech of well mixed wit and common hard sense. He said, as he saw it, we were suffering from an overdose of veto.

J. T. Pride, Jr., president of the Louisville club, yielded the chair of presiding officer to J. Mott McDaniel, Beattysville, who declared "despite the governor's veto of the $290,000 appropriation the University can and must be built up to the point where it is not eclipsed by any in the country."

Chicago Club Banquets Senior Engineers.

The senior engineering class and the faculty of the College of Engineering of the University who were in Chicago and vicinity on their annual inspection trip were guests of honor at the annual dinner of the Chicago Club given in the Great Northern Hotel Saturday, April 15.

A real old Kentucky menu including chicken a la Kentucky, corn fritters and French fried potatoes called to mind the wonders of Kentucky and put the company in mood receptive to thoughts of the University.

W. R. Allen '97 master of ceremonies presided over the toasts. J. W. Crenshaw '22 spoke "For the Class". Following Mr. Crenshaw and supplementing his remarks Mr. Montgomery Pritchett, guest of Professor Freeman, son of the second president of the University, who was born and spent his childhood at Ashland, former site of the University, spoke of the early days of the University when he was closely connected with it though he was not a student. S. D. Findley and Tom Riley '22 gave several musical numbers as a specialty. One of their selections was the famous "Parson Brown." The instruments used were a steel guitar, a piano and a one string violin made of a cigar box by Findley, such as every man initiated into Sigma Tau, musical fraternity, is required to make.

The entire crowd led by Findley sang "All Hail Kentucky" and then famous old U. K. yells led by Silas Wilson set the roof a shaking as the enthusiasts Kentuckians gave voice to their loyalty to Alma Mater.
 E. T. Brown '75 spoke of the past of the University, Professor Freeman on the present and Dean F. Paul Anderson on the future.

Mr. C. H. Gullion, son of E. A. Gullion state representative of Henry county, followed Professor Freeman's talk with an account of his work in industrial chemistry.

The program closed with "My Old Kentucky Home" a waltz and hosts departed with a warmer feeling for the University of Kentucky in their hearts and a stronger determination to stand by her in her undertakings.

Prof. E. G. Kelly Leads Anti-Bug Brigade

Prof. E. G. Kelly, B. S. '03 and M. S. '04 who is now entomologist of the extension division of the Kansas State Agriculture College, submitted a plan of co-operation in teaching entomology to vocational agricultural classes before a convention of teachers June, 1921. This proposition provided that the class should contain not less than 10 boys; that the vocational teacher should teach the subject of economic entomology for at least one hour a week.

In nineteen Kansas counties there are 400 amateur entomologist who are helping rid the state of insects which annually inflict millions of dollars of damage to growing crops. This work is carried on in the class room and the field work consists of visits to farms where they have fumigated the wheat bins to destroy the weevil that was damaging the grain; visits to orchards where they spray the trees, potato fields and burn grass and other vegetation containing bugs and insects which might endanger the production and growth of crops.

Professor Kelly prepared 32 lessons on economic entomology and sent one each week out to vocational agricultural schools and they are sent in time so that the insects being studied can be found in the field. During the year he spends a day at each school and makes a field trip and visits several farms and different insects are located and studied. On many of these trips the farmers go with Professor Kelly and study the various insects which destroy their crops annually.

Our Boys in South Africa

"All of the U. K. alumni out here are getting along nicely and enjoying their adopted home. H. W. Taylor '06, Head of the Tobacco and Cotton Division in Rhodesia, is doing splendid work and is highly appreciated by the Rhodesian farmers.

"O. B. Chisholm '09, who also came out with me, has been for several years with the United Tobacco Company as a leaf buyer. He has also 'made good'.

"J. duP. Oosthuizen '12, assistant chief of this division and manager of the Rustenburg Experiment Station is doing splendid work.

"Paul Kock ex, Manager of the Turkish Tobacco Station at Elsenburg is carrying out breeding and selection work on Turkish tobacco which bids fair to revolutionize this industry.

"W. B. Wilson '11, formerly of my staff and later tobacco expert in Ceylon, is now cotton adviser to the Agricultural cooperative Union in Natal.

"H. Russell Halbert '20, the latest arrival, is manager of the tobacco station at Piet Retrif.

"These men are all a credit to the University." W. H. Scherffus '99, Chief of Tobacco and Cotton Division, Union of South Africa, Pretoria, S. A.

Betwixt Us

"It is my purpose to give you a bit of news in a modern laconic style.

"My profession is the practice of law and my office is in the Citizens Bank & Trust Building. I am doing well. I assisted several bootleggers to go to jail this last term of court and several important husbands to pay alimony. In each case, the jailer and female spouse seemed to be well pleased with my practice. I represented the defendant.

"V. Y. Moore '09 and B. L. Nisbet '15 are practicing at this bar. Clyde Taylor '15, is principal of the Sebree High School. Clarence Clark '17 is principal of the High School here and is making good. Guy Henry, ex, is a teacher in the local high and is noted for his evolutionary advocations.

"I am always glad to get the Kernel and the Alumni News. I am for Old State for breakfast, diner and supper and during the General Assembly, between meals."—J. T. Gooch '16, Madisonville, Ky.

"I am an attorney for Swift & Company with office at the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois. I have been with them since my return from France in 1919.

"I attended an Alumni Association dinner of the Chicago bunch some few weeks ago. We are contemplating giving the Senior Engineers a royal reception when they reach here."—W. T. Woodson '14.

A copy of the Tribune Democrat, published at Benton, Ky. by Barnes & Lovett (Joe T.), came to this office recently. The paper certainly does credit to the publishers; they are campaigning for a County Agent, are behind the dark tobacco grower's cooperative movement, and certainly show the progressive spirit of good journalism. The motto of the Tribune Democrat is, "Therefore we ought to give more earnest heed to the things we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip."—Hebrews 2:1.

"Your letter and the fourth copy of the Kernel reached me today and I am enclosing herewith the check for dues. I have enjoyed reading about the activities of the student body and the good work of the alumni. Am mighty glad that the Legislature came through."—John L. Sallee ex-18, Apartado No. 255, Tampico, Tamps, Mex.

F. H. Tucker '09, chemist for ten years at The National Bureau of Standards and later chemist in the research laboratory of the Chile Exploration Company, New York City, is an associate chemist in the Bureau of Public Roads.

"We are having ladies night at our alumni club dinner, Saturday night. Get our meeting in the club calendar. We are not organized as a club, but Clark '16 and I are keeping the thing on the go. We meet the last Saturday in each month at Dixieland Inn, John R. and Farmer Streets. The next meeting will be Saturday, April 29."—C. E. Planck '19, The Free Press, Detroit, Mich.

I have been doing some missionary work for old State, and several of our graduates will enter there in the fall, among others, the valedictorian of this year's graduating class, Ralph Platts. I am still head of the department of Modern Languages here, but this is my last year as I have recently been appointed to an instructing-fellowship in Columbia University, and I shall go there this fall to work on my Ph. D. degree in Romance Languages. This summer I am to be director of a large boy's summer camp in Texas. Between the close of my work here and the opening of it out there, however, I hope to come by Lexington a few days and renew old acquaintances.

You are to be congratulated on the excellence of the Kernel; I consider it one of the best college publications in the entire country, and I don't know what we alumni would do without it, as a means of keeping us in touch with affairs in old State.—Oscar V. Petty '20, Tenn. Military Institute, Sweetwater.

"These are Kentucky men in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania. The 'Old Time' spirit of Kentucky is still prevalent and as long as that holds forth we can't go wrong.

W. S. Carruthers, '14, Specialist in welding and Heat Treating; E. A. Edmonds, '19, Assistant to Chief Draftsman; I. H. Marking, '21, Sales Engineering; H. F. Bell, '21, Sales Engineering; E. Zuckerman, '21, Sales Engineering; they are with the Carbondale Machine Company, at Carbondale, Penna.

"Fritz DeMey '19, is Electrical Engineer for the Hudson Coal Company, which is the largest coal company in the Valley.

"We are about a hundred miles from both Philadelphia and New York and are in the heart of the only hard-coal valley in the United States, which has hardly seen the business depression. An Alumni Club has not as yet been officially organized but no doubt this will be attended to in the near future. We will be very glad to have Kentucky people look us up.—F. E. Eastwood, '21 Assistant Head of Production Department, Carbondale Machine Company.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Mills and little daughter, Marjorie Mills, came from Philadelphia last week and will make their home in Lexington. They are with Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Shryock at their home in Aylesford Place until finding a suitable apartment to go to housekeeping. Mr. Mills is a graduate of the class of '10. He will be with his brothers in road-building business.

Mrs. Henry Neverman, nee Marie Antoninette Williams '13, was a visitor in Lexington recently. She spent some time on the campus, welcomed by old friends among the faculty, and was a guest at the alumni luncheon at the Phoenix, Saturday, April 8. Mrs. Neverman was returning from a three month's stay in Florida and had with her, her mother, Mrs. Williams, and her son—Henry Neverman III—a bright, handsome little lad of three years. He hopes to don the blue and white in 1938. Mrs. Neverman's home is in La Moure, North Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. DeMey were recent visitors in Lexington. Mr. DeMey graduated in '19. While on a visit to his home in Louisville, he went out to Manual Training School and the memories of school-days there made him home sick for a sight of U. K. again so he was here renewing old friendships. Mrs. DeMey was Miss Amelia Webster of New York City. Mr. DeMey is connected with the Hudson Coal Company, Scranton, Penn. Residence address 819 Ash Street.

"J. H. Bailey '19, connected with the Carrier Engineering Corporation, 750 Frelinghuysen Avenue, Newark, N. Mr. George V. Page '17, who attending the K. E. A. at Louisville, was a visitor on the campus one day last week. He stated that recently, in looking up notes for the Kernel, he was surprised to find the number of U. K. people located at Bowling Green and says he is going to get busy in organizing a "live club" there. Mr. Page is head of the department of physics at Western State Normal and hopes to be in U. K. again next year, working for his M. S.

"Donald T. Wright, special in Journalism '20, was the speaker on March 16th at the weekly luncheon and forum of the Middletown (Ohio) Chamber of Commerce, his subject being 'Our Inland Water ways.' Mr. Wright is owner and editor of the 'Waterways Journal,' office at 419 Chemical Building, St. Louis, Mo."

"Please change my address from Union City to 101 South Franklin Street, Muncie, Indiana. I will continue in my present position as Resident Engineer, Big Four Railway, but a change in location of work necessitates a removal of residence also.

"Fred Myers '13, is located at 318 East 28th Street, Indianapolis, and is in the Maintenance of Way Department of the Big Four.

"Hope we do not miss any numbers of the Kernel as we look forward each week to the news of the University and its various activities."—Edgar Arrington Humphreys '13.

Sigma Nu Convention Dance

A moonlight garden scene was the setting for the beautiful dance of last Thursday evening, with which the Sigma Nu of the University entertained at the Phoenix hotel in honor for the fourth division convention.

The ballroom was made into the moonlight garden, with a canopy extending the full length of the ceiling. This was hung low and represented a star-lighted sky. The room was shining at the south end of the hall opposite the entrance. There was a garden gate with a low fence on which were climbing roses. Between all the windows tall trellises of lilacs were lovely and groups of palms were all about the room. An old well was arranged from which the fruit frappe was served and an arch of black, white and gold was placed over the orchestra platform. For the special Sigma Nu dance the shield of the fraternity, made into an electric illumination, appeared as a "sign in the sky."

The favors were balloons, which were released during one of the figures from a contrivance which was hung aloft in the center of the ball room. The programs were little booklets with covers in black, on which the coat of arms appeared in gold and was tied with white leather ribbons. A large number of guests were present for the brilliant event.

Announcement of Interesting Engagement

Mrs. Ffine Parrott Simpson announces the engagement of her niece, Miss Elizabeth Wilson Clare, to Mr. Charles Gilman Milward.

The marriage will be solemnized in June.

This is one of the most interesting announcements of the Easter time on account of the prominence and popularity of these young people, both of whom were students of the University; she a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity and he of the Phi Delta Theta.

Miss Clare is the beautiful young daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fulton W. Clare.

Mr. Wilward is the son of Mrs. Charles Milward and a successful young business man of Lexington.

Saturday the Chi Omega fraternity of the University will entertain with a tea-dance from 3 to 6 o'clock at Patterson hall.

Saturday afternoon the Kappa Delta Alumnae will entertain with a card party at the Phoenix hotel. The party will be for the benefit of a hospital fund with which all Kappa Deltas are assisting in the care of invalid children.

Saturday evening the Keys fraternity of the University will give a dinner at the Phoenix hotel.

Keys and Thirteen fraternity will entertain with a dance at Buell Armory Saturday evening.

Surely it is for us to do only that which remains to be done—to assemble funds and to offer ourselves in earnest support for the erection of the proposed building as an inspiring memorial.

While it is to be a state-wide memorial for Kentucky's fallen heroes, all connected with the University are particularly concerned since the imposing edifice shall be numbered among the new buildings on the campus to further adorn and to honor the beautiful grounds.

Members of Theta Sigma Phi, Woman's journalism fraternity, observed Founder's Day of the organization with a luncheon at the Phoenix

Hotel, Saturday, April 8 at 12:30 o'clock.

The table was placed in the main cafe of the hotel and covers were laid for fifteen members. A clever feature of the program was the "goat" stunt by Sue Shenault, Daisy Lee Tinsley and Amanda Forkner, who gave readings of original poems.

Those present were: Misses Ruth Hughson, Adaline Mann, Frances Marsh, Dayis Lee Tinsley, Irene McNamara, Amanda Louise Forkner, Virginia Throckmorton, Jessie Dodd, Sue Shenault, Anna Louise Connor, Kitty Conroy, Margaret Smith, Elizabeth Murphy, Marguerite McLaughlin and Dorothea Murphy.

The members of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity were hosts to an informal dance at their chapter house on South Limestone Wednesday evening, April 12. A large number of guests were present.

Kentucky chapter of Triangle fraternity entertained Saturday night with an unusually pretty dance at the Lafayette Hotel from 8 to 12 o'clock. Southern smilax trailed from the lights and festooned the four improvised arches, while spring blossoms and vari-hued balloons were effectively used as decorations.

The favors for the girls were charming programs with address books bound in soft brown leather with the fraternity crest embossed in gold, and the men's programs were similar.

The hosts, members of the active chapter, were: W. P. Ballinger, J. E. Barns, N. O. Belt, G. W. Benson, W. G.

Blades, Ralph Boren, L. R. Burroughs, F. W. Creedle, S. E. Flick, C. R. Gibbons, H. E. Glen, J. L. Gray, J. R. Kelly, E. E. O'Hara, T. H. Oliver, D. M. Ramsey, C. M. Rieflin, J. B. Slater, E. R. Snider, S. M. Spears, R. A. Stoesser, A. W. Stone, J. E. True, A. V. Voelcker, J. A. Wilson and R. C. Wilson; and the pledges, C. T. Benson, J. H. Butler, H. B. Little, Arthur Nutting and L. C. Strow.

An interesting engagement that was made known Sunday was, that of Brady Stewart of Kevil, Ky., a senior in the Law College and Miss Eva Lee Allender of Lexington. The marriage will take place in the early summer.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Elliot and Mr. Grant C. Knight, both of the University faculty, was solemnized at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul P. Boyd Wednesday evening, April 12. Following the ceremony a delightful supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Knight returned from their honeymoon Monday evening and are at home with the Misses Hanna on East Maxwell Street.

This Junior is learning to be a banker

If you are putting in three hours a day in the electrical lab, don't be surprised twenty years later to find yourself promoting a public utility bond issue. Or if you start in newspaper work, as like as not later on you will turn to manufacturing or advertising or law.

You don't know where opportunity or inclination will lead you. This fact has a great deal to do with your work at college—not so much the things you learn as the way you learn them.

Don't think of education as a memory test in names and dates and definitions. That knowledge is important, but only as an incidental. Of far greater value is the habit of getting at underlying laws, the basic principles which tie facts together.

The work of the pioneers in electrical experiment, at first glance confusing, is simplified once you realize that much of it hinged upon a single chemical phenomenon, the action of the voltaic cell.

Analyze your problems. Look for fundamentals. Learn to connect a law or an event with what went before and what comes after. Make your education a training in logical thinking.

This ability to think straight, whether acquired in Engineering or Arts, is the biggest thing you can get at college. Its aid as a means to success applies equally to whatever work you take up—since mental processes are the same everywhere. It is the power which enables a mechanic to become sales manager, a lawyer to head a great industrial organization. Develop it, if you would be ready when your big opportunity comes.

Western Electric Company

The executives of this Company have been chosen from all branches of the organization. It doesn't make much difference where you learn to think straight, so long as you learn.

OUR MEMORIAL DRIVE

This edition of the Kernel launches the drive for Kentucky's memorial building to be erected on the University campus in honor of her beloved sons and daughters, who in the vigor of young life, with the golden promise of a calm or brilliant future opening out before them, loyally and courageously gave their all to cruel conflict for the sake of the peace and safety that might follow to bless the world and humanity.

No cause should be dearer to the heart of a true Kentuckian than to honor and preserve the memory of those of his or her state who fell in so noble an enterprise. It is for the purpose of writing in tablets of stone, in a hall worthy of such sacrifice, the names of these fallen ones that Kentucky will place on the campus of her chief educational institution, in the midst of her young life, a dignified memorial that will ever serve to quicken the imagination and illuminate the patriotism of those who follow.

The call goes forth to every student and former student and to every citizen of the state to take up this work with interest and energy to contribute and to solicit contributions to the fund for this memorial to our dead.

A large percentage of those who made the supreme sacrifice were from our schools and colleges, some from our own institution. All were young for it was not an old man's war. Rudely were they snatched from classroom or office or shop or other fields of ambitious endeavor to take up the hardship and danger of training camps, air, sea, or trench warfare, and No Man's Land. Their careers were cut short that ours might proceed; that our life work might go uninterrupted by another war; that our ambitions might be realized.

DEANS OF MEN

The meeting of the Deans of Men at the University brought into high relief the activities of one of the most potent and important officers of our modern college. The freshman who comes into the school meets the Dean at almost every turn. If he wants a room, if he wants a job, if misfortune has befallen him, he goes to this kindly official who sets him right.

If the only duties of the Dean, however, were to help freshmen, he would be a happier and more popular officer. Unfortunately there must be an officer to see that discipline is maintained, and this officer has a most difficult and delicate task. The absolutely controlled lives and thoughts of the boys are not found anymore, and as a result the youth of America are impatient of control, even when wholesome. Such control in the cause of democracy took a long stride when it entered the home and freed women and children from masculine tyranny, but this new freedom has not always been used wisely. Our Deans sometimes have to remind us that democracy is not to be confused with anarchy, nor is freedom to be confounded with license.

Many of the great administrative problems of the school are those met by these officers who are gathered here in convention. It is to be hoped that the students will get the spirit of the occasion, and realize that the deans are trying to improve and elevate standards of the student body. The fact that there is a high standard of honor and conduct in our colleges is no mean compliment to these men. It is a happy circumstance that liquor has passed, and with them many kinds of rowdiness and vice. Our college men have realized that they have no right to take advantage of their privileged position to break the laws of the country. And so it is with the desire to cooperate and understand that we welcome the deans of men to the University of Kentucky.

EDITORIALES

The coal operators declare that the miners want to get more money than they are worth, and the miners say that the operators are profiteers. Now that that is settled we may go on with business.

An eminent faculty member of this University proposes that all saxophone players be put to death. That is utterly barbarous. Life imprisonment would be a much better course.

Personally we are in favor of radio outfits so long as they keep party lines and busy signals off the pesky things.

The Asheville Times rises to suggest that with the entrance of Mr. Bryan into the evolution fight it has become evolution versus elocution.

American Red Cross workers are said to be persuading Persian Women to discard their trousers for dresses. In this country the women's clubs are making a mighty effort to procure the adoption of knickerbockers; so there you are.

"Lonesome Like" to be Given at Matinee-Tea

Thursday afternoon the usual matinee of the University Little Theatre will be given at 4 o'clock. The play to be presented will be "Lonesome Like," by Harold Brighouse. The cast will consist of Mrs. Mary Harney of Lexington, who is the student director, Ann Hickman, W. I. Moore and Leslie Morton. This promises to be an unusual matinee bill. The cast is very good and Mrs. Harney shows splendid interpretative insight. Tea will be served afterwards. The public and student body are invited, admission free.

Because of the intervening of the Easter vacation the Kentucky mountain folklore play will be given some time in May instead of April 24 and 25 as first announced.

NEW BOTANICAL GARDEN TO BEAUTIFY CAMPUS

Dr. McFarland Authorized to Use Plot Behind White Hall

That part of the campus between White Hall and Stoll Field will soon be a veritable flower garden, with all kinds of blooming plants, pretty ferns and grasses, if the plans of the Botany Department materialize. President McVey has authorized Dr. F. L. McFarland, instructor of botany, to proceed at once with the work of converting the plot of ground into a botanical garden.

An interwoven wire fence with iron posts about 40 inches high will enclose the garden spot excepting one side and will be covered with roses. Honey-suckle will be planted to grow over the high board fence that extends across one side of Stoll Field and this will form the other boundary of the garden.

Half an acre of ground will be devoted to about 250 different kinds of grasses, primarily for research work. The hill slope where a number of trees are growing will be converted into a fernery and different kinds planted there. An aquarium will occupy a space about 25 feet wide and 3 feet deep in the garden and gold fish and water lilies will be put in it.

A bed of choice dahlias (named) of probably 50 different kinds will occupy one place in the garden. Mrs. S. Thurston Ballard, of Jefferson County, has contributed 25 to be used in this bed. The remaining ground will be laid off in beds 3 by 6 feet for various flowers, according to their botanical grouping. A small rustic bridge will probably be built across the stream that winds across that part of the campus and it will add much to the appearance of the garden.

It is also proposed to convert the old "sink-hole" between the Agriculture and Old Chemistry buildings into a wild flower and fern garden. The Botany Department hopes to transplant about 100 different kinds of ferns and wild plants there.

DOCTOR McVEY SPEAKS TO SOPHS AT CHAPEL

Tells Second Year Students of Their Responsibility to University

"It is great to be a sophomore," said Dr. Frank L. McVey in his address to sophomores in chapel Tuesday. It is great because the sophomore has just passed through the drudgery of the freshman year and begun to get a perspective and understand the meaning of the University. He is entering new fields and taking up new subjects.

Doctor McVey impressed upon the students that when they have reached the sophomore year their responsibilities are greatly increased. One must give back something in return for the training which has been given him. Friction between students and faculty can be removed if the students will carry their responsibilities in the University, said Doctor McVey.

The world is calling for an increased high moral standard. Doctor McVey expressed the opinion that the actions of the young people of today which have been so highly criticized are mere outward expressions and not the inward feelings of the boys and girls. He also said that he thinks the young people have as high ideals as those who have gone before them and that their purpose is to serve humanity and their country.

Little Theatre Notes

University debaters scored their third victory of the season Friday night April 8, when they met three citizens of Eubanks, Ky., on the question of Immigration. The men who represented the University were: W. L. Pickett, Daugh Smith and K. H. Taggle.

For the last program of the Little Theatre series Professor Mikesell is planning a mountain folk lore play, to be presented some time in May.

For this play arrangements are being made to have ten girls and four boys come from Berea College to represent the typical mountaineer in dress, in music, as well as in character portrayal. The object is to represent for the first time a little of the true spirit of Kentucky mountain life, which is fast passing away with the coming of railroads to the mountain sections.

Such a play is in keeping with the true aim of the Little Theatre movement which is to act as an educational medium.

Professor Mikesell is anxious for the support of the University students in this rather strenuous undertaking, and the cooperation of members of the Mountain Club is especially desired.

The College Loafer.
 There have appeared in these columns, intermittently, (word means occasional) or off and on something like dandruff or Shakespeare's Mid-Summer Nightmare, several articles or pseudo-descriptions of various well known antipathy-producing campus celebrities.

Now, as Spring approaches this particular animal under discussion will be a familiar figure on the green and we sincerely hope our tender, gullible readers will contrive to appreciate the viewpoint of Deau Clark, of the University of Illinois, who has thoroughly masticated the following:

The college loafer never initiates things. He merely follows along like a man in the chorus of a musical comedy. He is a passive, talkative being who loves ease, sleep, leisure, cigarettes, chocolate and girls. Look about you and you will see one of them walking lazily under the shade of a budding tree or sprawling on the grass, a girl at his side, a smile on his face and all intellectual obligations forgotten. The college loafer knows the latest dance step, the latest gossip, and he has seen the last thing in vaudeville, cars, and girls. He is usually a member of a well known fraternity.

"Loafing is not a delinquency inspired by the possession of money, as so many would think, but a matter of temperament. Loafers are not always brought up in luxury; they frequently come from humble surroundings; but have never developed any love for work, no interest in study and seldom know what they prefer to do. They have no vision of the future. Ham actor, vaudeville star, engineer, soap manufacturer, missionary, anything; its just immaterial to him, he hadn't thought much about it."

Often our prize subject, has been "mother's boy." He has had no regular duties, no tasks, and he has usually gone on some summer vacation where he has loafed around lazily and discontented.

These boys usually start out taking one course of study and then shift and sometimes shift back again.

The loafer always smokes either because he has to have some means to occupy his time or because he has smoked so much it has robbed him of all his energy sufficient to do anything else. The odor of Fatimas, or as the cheap vaudeville actors would yell, Fatimas' son Omar, lingers with him. Between dances, on the street, in his room, his old fraternity brother Omar yells, "Aroma!"

It is very hard for the loafer to study for there are so many more ways to "get by," subtler, cleverer ways. Copying, putting it off, cramming. "Oh, why should they interfere with his education?"

Regarding the locals, they may be seen holding up the front of a well known drug store, (we've all done it), or merely standing on Main Street.

"Hello how's the boy?" "Where are you going?" "Nowhere." "Who are you waiting for?" "Nobody." "What you doing?" "nothing."

The College Loafer, a nice subject for a pun on the old half loaf is better than no bread but I've forgotten how it comes in.

Y. W. C. A. CONVENTION HELD IN ARKANSAS

Put Through Brisk Work-Snapp will Represent University of Kentucky

The Seventh National Convention of the Young Women's Christian Associations of the United States is to be held in Hot Springs, Arkansas, April 20-27. This is the first time the Convention has been held in our own field, the south Central, in fact it has never before met so far south.

Delegates from every Association in the United States will meet at Hot Springs to make decisions as to the national program for the next two years. Also it is through the Convention that all Associations gain a greater sense of unity as a national movement and of their consequent responsibility in the World's Young Women's Christian Association.

The Young Women's Christian Association of the University is entitled to two delegates and will be represented by Lucile Youngblut and Edna Snapp. They will leave Lexington on Wednesday, April 19 on a special train for Kentucky delegates. Others from Lexington who will attend the convention are Miss Lula B. Cochran and Mrs. Collier of the City Y. W. C. A. and Miss Lee Scott of Transylvania.

Hospitality is the keynote of Hot Springs. The facilities of the community and of all Arkansas will be at the disposal of the Convention delegates from the many branches of the Association represented.

FLEAHMAN HURLS
CATS TO VICTORY

Kentucky Defeats Ohio
State Nine By Score of 10 to 6

The University of Kentucky nine defeated the Ohio State base ball team to the tune of 10 to 6 in the game between the Wildcats and the Buckeyes played on Stoll Field Saturday April 15. The game introduced William "Slug" Fleahman, star southpaw of interscholastic fame, to Lexington base ball fans.

Fleahman, a freshman who comes to the university with an enviable high school record, ably lived up to his reputation. Fleahman fanned eight men and allowed six hits during the entire game. The batting of the Wildcats, which took a jump in the Miami game Friday was good. The Kentucky batters collected three two-baggers and two three base hits.

During the first two innings, both teams was held scoreless, each pitcher allowing but one hit. The third inning gave promise of duplicating the two preceding innings. Marts, the first man up for Ohio, taking the count. Dudley, the next batter, made a single and from then on things picked up. Windette, followed Dudley and took his base, being hit by a pitched ball. Volk, the next batter bunted making first on a fielder's choice. Frankenberg was credited with a single when the ball hit the umpire. Windette and Volk scored on the hit. Fesler fanned for the second out. Bauman, the next batter, knocked the ball down the third base line and was safe at first on Pergrem's wild throw. He was thrown out, going to second by Fleahman.

Cats Score 6 in Third.

In the last of the third, Jones, first batter for Kentucky, walked. He was followed by Fleahman, who fanned. Pergrem, next in the batting order, hit to the short stop, who made a wild throw to first. Sauer singled to center field, Jones and Pergren scoring. Burnham followed Sauer at the bat and knocked the ball to the short stop, who dropped it. Brown, next up, singled sharply down the third base line. Pribble drilled a single to center field. Sauer and Burnham scored on this hit. Bill King tripled, scoring Brown and Pribble. By this time the men had batted around and Slomer was sent in for Jones. Slomer knocked the ball to second and was thrown out at first. King being held at third. Slomer took Sauer's position in left field and Sauer replaced Jones at center field.

Workman Gets Walk.

From then on things moved a little slower, Kentucky making one run in the fourth inning and Ohio none. Neither team got a safety or run in the fifth and sixth innings.

In the seventh, Ohio changed its battery from Dudley and Marts to Phillips and Horst, but was unable to check the Wildcat sluggers. Kentucky made three runs to Ohio's two in the seventh. There were no hits or runs in the eighth inning. In the ninth Noel Workman, of foot ball fame, was sent in as a pinch hitter and was given a base on balls. He was thrown out in an attempt to steal second. Windette, the next batter, fanned. Volk followed Windette and made first on a fielder's choice. Frankenberg, next up, made a hit, but was stranded on first when Fesler fanned.

The defeat of Ohio State throws some advance dope on the Georgetown-Kentucky game scheduled to be played here April 25, the Buckeyes defeating the Tigers Friday afternoon by an 8 to 1 score. Bailey, however, the crack Tiger moundsman, did not face the Ohioans.

BLUE DEVIL CHAMPIONS
RECEIVE WARM WELCOME

Thousands Meet High School
Quintet at Station and Follow in Parade

The Lexington high school basketball team, known as the Blue Devils who won the Championship of the United States at the tournament held in Chicago before Easter made a triumphant arrival in the city last Monday.

Between 2,000 and 3,000 fans were clambering over each other 20 minutes before the train pulled in at the Southern station. Gay colors, loud whistles and robust voices were there in abundance to let the Devils know that their feat of winning the interscholastic net championship of the country had not passed unnoticed. A gold and blue mounted wagon was parked by the station for the conquerors to use as a chariot in their triumphant march through the city.

The University of Kentucky R. O. T. C. band and Company C of the cadet corps was on hand and the cadets were used to keep the crowd from swarming all over the tracks.

Then the Blue Devils came. It was the first time Lexington had seen them for a week, and the crowd literally "went wild" when the modest aggregation of champions were ushered through the throng and mounted the four-wheeled chariot. Members of the championship squad, Capt. Will Milward, Leonard Tracy, Jimmy McFarland, Lovell Underwood, Burgess Carey, J. L. Darnaby, E. J. Davis and Manager Foster Helm, were given collective and individual ovations, and another tremendous cheer went up for coach John Barclay, who had preceded the team to Lexington by one day.

Captain Milward exhibited the trophy, a silver basketball, mounted on a pedestal, which was presented by the University of Chicago, under whose auspices the meet was held. The players were given gold watches for individual prizes.

Before the crowd was half through with its cheering the parade started toward Main street. Colonel Dick Redd, mounted on his favorite "charger," led off. He was followed by the University of Kentucky band and cadets. Next came the Blue Grass Fair Association's part of the parade, a callopie in a touring car.

The small segment of Lexington's population that didn't line up on the streets or join the parade came to the doors and windows and helped in the creation of noise as the parade marched by. The line turned from South Broadway into Main street, proceeded up past the Lafayette hotel, did squads right about and face back to the Strand theatre.

He: And what do you call that part of your skirt that's under the lace?

He: I beg your pardon.

He Kissed her, clinging to her tight.

With lips that burned with passion.

He didn't want to but he knew

First Success of Season Won

Friday's Game

The University of Kentucky baseball team staged the first victory of the present season last Friday afternoon when it defeated the Miami team to the tune of 10 to 3 on Stoll Field last Friday afternoon.

"Bud" Slomer, veteran moundsman for the Wildcats pitched the entire game and was master of the situation at all times. "Bud" struck out seven men and allowed but six hits for the entire game.

The Wildcats displayed considerable improvement at the bat and were able to drill the offerings of Hiestand to all corners of the field. Kentucky started off well in the first inning making four runs. Their other scores were made in the fifth and sixth innings.

Beam and Brown led the Wildcats at bat, collecting two hits each.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Emmett Swisshelm, Louisville, a student in the University during the session 1921 in his sophomore year, now a student in the Medill School of Journalism, Chicago, spent several days among friends and amid familiar scenes on the campus during the holidays.

Mr. Swisshelm is making rapid progress in Medill school, which is an adjunct of Northwestern University.

"Swiss," as he was familiarly known on the campus, on account of his excellent training here has been raised to the dignity of night editor of the Daily Northwestern, the University paper, and is keeping up with the excellent scholastic record he made while at the University.

One of the distinctively interesting social events of the campus during the holidays was the marriage of Professor Grant C. Knight and Miss Ruth Elliott of the English and Art Departments respectively.

The native beauty and the gracious disposition of Mrs. Knight made her an instantaneous favorite upon her arrival to take up her work, and the scholarship and literary attainments of Mr. Knight have made him an outstanding figure in the University.

The annual Easter egg hunt given under the auspices of the University Y. W. C. A. was held on the Patterson Hall lawn Saturday afternoon. It was attended and enjoyed by about seventy-five children from Lincoln and Harrison schools, the Associated Charities, and the Neighborhood House. Nellie Stone was the leader for the afternoon.

GIRLS FORM ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION AT U. OF K.

Organization Starts With 100 Charter Members Who elect Officers

A meeting of the women students was held in the University Chapel Thursday afternoon, April 7, for the purpose of organizing a Girl's Athletic Association.

Following an address by Dean Jewell in which she outlined the aim and purposes of the organization, officers of the Association were elected as follows: president, Dorothy Potter; vice-president, Olivia Smith; secretary, Esther Fertig; treasurer, Elizabeth Jackson.

The association is composed of a number of divisions, at the head of which is a committee. The chairmen of the committees together with the officers will act as the executive board. The chairmen are: Track, Antonette Harrison; baseball, Minnie Benton Peterson; rifle, Mary Lyons; tennis, Ann Riddle; hiking, Mildred Morris; swimming, Mary Bruce Rishardson; hockey, Lora Banta; soccer, Margaret Lavin; basketball, Margaret Jameson; volley ball, Elizabeth Snapp; publicity, Laura Hubbard.

The constitution has been drafted by the board, and mimeographed copies will be distributed among the women students. A very interesting point system has been devised for obtaining membership in the organization.

Friday afternoon the newly-formed association took a hike to Clark's Woods and those who attended are charter members of the organization. More than a hundred students went on the hike.

Dean Jewell announced at the meeting that every woman student who wishes permission to swim in the river this spring must obtain written consent from her parents and a certificate from her physician.

LITTLE THEATRE PLAY IS MARKED SUCCESS

"The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" Pleases Large Audiences

The Little Theatre bill, given last Monday and Tuesday evenings was perhaps from every consideration the most successful of the year. "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" written by Anatole France was given by a student cast. The play is a difficult one and requires atmosphere and cleverness of interpretation which the average short dramatization usually attempted by Little Theatre folk does not demand. The stage was set as the study of a famous judge. The part of the judge was taken by Henry Taylor who was particularly successful as Judge Botal. The role of the dumb wife of Judge Botal was taken by Anna B. Peck. The presentation she gave could not have been done had she not possessed rare talent and had she not given a great deal of time to the study. The role of the noted surgeon who untied the dumb wife's tongue was entrusted to Albert Hukle, the well known fun maker of the student body. Mr. Hukle was excellent in the part as were W. I. Moore, as the Doctor and Tom Bayless, the Apothecary. With the part of Master Pumea a young lawyer, John Vogel was perfectly delightful, giving all the enthusiasm and cunning the character required. Sue Chenault as Allison gave the finished offering as usual. Ruth Gormans as Mademoiselle de la Grandiere showed marked artistry in her work. Genuine atmosphere was created for the play by the three less important parts of the Blind Man, T. C. Vest; the Candle Man, Joe Wadsworth and the Chimney Sweep, W. H. Tuggle, who passed by the famous judge's window begging, selling candles or seeking work as the case might be. These young actors all have excellent speaking and singing voices and won a generous share of the applause. J. R. Davidson, in the part of the Mischievous Giles was delightful.

Another great pleasure of the evening was the violin music by Samuel Adams, who played several selections. The play was produced by Prof. W. H. Mikesell.

SENIOR CLASS WINS CLASS TRACK MEET

Juniors Finish Next With High Score

The class of 1922 were winners of the class meet held April 10 and 11. The seniors finished with a total of 59 1/2 points. The victory of the seniors came as a surprise as it was thought that the juniors had the meet cinched. Monday afternoon the juniors had a total of 37 1/2 points and were 11 points ahead of their nearest competitor.

On Tuesday the second day of the interclass meet the weather was extremely disagreeable for track events and the men worked under difficulty. In the hurdles props had to be placed against the hurdles to prevent their being blown over by the strong wind.

Thornton, senior, who was away on the engineering trip when the meet was held, worked over a fast track the previous week and his time in the mile and the quarter were taken, both marks were better than those made Tuesday.

FACULTY TO RAISE FUNDS DURING DRIVE

Plans Launched at Meeting With Pres. McVey to Care For Campus End.

At a meeting of the Campus Committee in President McVey's office Tuesday afternoon, plans were launched to carry forward the campus end of the Memorial Fund drive.

Attending the meeting were President McVey; W. S. Hamilton, H. H. Downing and Miss Marguerite McLaughlin of the Faculty Committee; W. E. Freeman, W. D. Funkhouser, Enoch Grehan, T. P. Cooper and Miss Frances Jewell of the Campus Committee; and Chares Mahoney of the student body.

President McVey has decided to call a meeting of the University Assembly, which is composed of the faculty members and the University staff, Friday afternoon at 3:45 in the University chapel. At this time plans for the general campaign will be launched.

As an evidence of interest and participation on the part of the faculty members the students in the Memorial campaign, which began two years ago, subscriptions were made at that time as follows:

32 members of the alumni faculty $845, 126 members of the non-alumni faculty $3,000; 227 Students $3,056.31.

Soph. 1: "Do you still go to see that little brunette you went with last winter?"

Soph. 2: "She's married now."
Soph. 1: "Answer me." —Ex.

I gave her a box of rouge for Christmas.

Gee, that was pretty flossy present, wasn't it?

Yes, but I got it all back when she thanked me for it. —Ex.
