Fire Hazard

Crowded conditions at the University have presented another problem which has received little attention: fire hazards. Frazee Hall was planned so that it could safely accommodate 300 students at one time. At several hours during the day, the building now handles 1500 students.

falls to the first floor. There it goes unnoticed until notice is too late. If a fire started in the basement or on the first floor of the building, the University would have a tragedy which would equal almost any of the horrible events of which the newspapers have given notice.

Education vs. Insanity

Perhaps it would be better to go crazy than to go to the University. The people of Kentucky, which ranks 47th in education and 48th (according to recent surveys) in care of mentally ill, get more upset over caring for a few insanity cases than over educating the youth of the state as leaders for future years.

Classrooms and laboratories also are overtaxed. The length of the school day has had to be extended in order to make room for all students. Five buildings on the University campus are more than 60 years old; ten are about 40 years old. These buildings originally were not well constructed; yet today they are being used to accommodate more students than they were built for in the beginning.

The University was built to accommodate a maximum of 4,000 students. Today it is handling 6,000 - more than 65 per cent more than can be cared for adequately. But a state institution cannot turn away citizens who desire education.

"If college enrollment in Kentucky keeps pace with the enrollment for the remainder of the nation - and there is every reason to expect it to do so - then we have good reason to predict a minimum enrollment of 7,500 to 8,000 students by 1955, provided the state prepares facilities to care for an enrollment of this size," said President Donovan in a recent report to the Board of Trustees.

The state of Kentucky has built only one small dormitory for girls - Patterson Hall - on the campus. This was erected about 50 years ago. The other residence halls for girls and three dormitories for men have been built on a self-liquidating plan. Rents from students have authorized their cost.

Recently the people of the state have become aroused over long-neglected persons and mental institutions. It is not time that they became aroused over the long-neglected state University.

Some colleges have beautiful flowers to decorate their campuses; some have shrubs and trees; the University of Kentucky has live corpses.

Sometimes being a termitite would be better than being a student. At least a termitite can burrow into the wood of some old tree when he finds himself homeless.

However, the administration said there would be enough seats for all students (additional bleachers were put up in the end zone for that). The majority of students do not want to sit in the end zone bleachers (as who would). However, if students do not take further action, the situation will remain as it is.

Wright or Wrong

By Orman Wright. One of these days I'll write for a cause, but this isn't the day. I had a very eventful vacation this summer during the month I was out of school. All sorts of things happened. I lost my shirt at the races. I was lucky enough to find a new suit and two (two, that is) new white shirts. I spent a week contemplating a trip to Chicago and then didn't get to go. My family was deluged with guests—a cousin from California, my grandmother from Texas, and some friends from Minnesota—and I got to the point where I was afraid to wash my face in the bathroom; afraid I would use the wrong towel to dry on. I rode a horse (an event for me), courted a girl, wrote two horrible short stories, and played some better than average bridge—which finally brings me around to what I want to talk about.

I've seen women get serious about a lot of things but never as serious as they get about bridge. Women take their bridge as seriously as they start in on a tough hand, you can hear a pin drop. Still, it's quite amusing to hear middle-aged women sit around a bridge table and blithely address each other as "Girls." All this nonsense about bridge reminds me of a recent Webster cartoon I saw. Webster, by the way, really appreciates the bridge craze. Some of his cartoons about bridge and bridge-players are wonderfully clever. But to get back to the cartoon in particular, two avid bridge-playing females were talking about another woman who didn't play bridge. Said one: "Some women will go to any lengths to attract attention."

Larkin Named Personnel Assistant. Joseph A. Larkin, a graduate of Mercer University in Macon, Ga., has been named an assistant in personnel at the University to aid in the administration of veterans' affairs. Dr. Lyle K. Henry, assistant University personnel director has announced.

I've heard a lot of talk about the Veterans' Club proposal to pay their officers salaries. Personally, I'm against such large salaries, but I don't think it is any of my business or anyone else's. If the Veterans want it, let them do it. Undoubtedly, the Veterans' Club officers do enough to pay for their own but, if I think there are a few things to consider besides the work they do.

A veteran of three years service in the Army, Larkin finished his undergraduate work at the University the past summer and following graduation served as an appraiser at that institution until coming to the University. In addition to his veterans counseling activities at UK, he plans to do graduate work in psychology.

If the bookstore is going to charge $5 for a book with a list price of $4.50, then somebody had better take the dust covers off the books. It's very disheartening to discover you have had more for a book than the publisher intended you to. I'm not criticizing because I haven't investigated, but it seems there is certainly plenty of room for investigation here.

New Plastic Resists Heat, Acids, Electricity

"Teflon," Product of Dupont Research, is Solving Difficult Problems in Radar, Television and Industry.

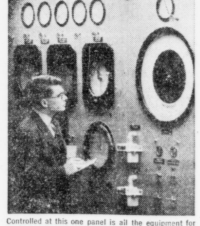

A group of Du Pont research men were looking for a new refrigerant of a particular type. These men found what they were after; but, as so often has been the case, they found something more—this time an industrial plastic whose unique qualities make it invaluable in many fields.

Structure and Properties. "Teflon" is made by polymerizing a gaseous tetrafluoroethylene to give a solid, granular polymer.

The fluoro atoms in the molecule impart exceptional properties of resistance to heat and chemicals. "Teflon" has unusual heat resistance. Having no true melting point, "Teflon" decomposes slowly to give the gaseous monomer and a few other gaseous fluorine derivatives at around 400°C.

Controlled of this one point is all the equipment for producing the polymer that is made "Teflon."

or properties. For this reason it may have wide use in such applications as tubing and piping for chemical plants and acid-distillation equipment. Because the dielectric loss factor is extremely low, even at frequencies up to 3000 megacycles, it is an excellent insulating material for currents of ultra-high frequency. Its heat-resisting and aging qualities suggest immediate uses as a dielectric in coaxial cables for color television, and in radar and power fields.

Notice To Veterans

All veterans and their beneficiaries who are entitled to receive subsistence, pension or compensation checks from the Veterans Administration, today were advised by Richard A. Wiggesworth, Regional Finance Officer, to notify the VA in writing whenever there has been a change of residence address.

Many monthly checks are returned to the VA each day because the recipient has moved to a new address and it is prohibited by law to forward a government check. All such checks must be returned to the VA where they are held until the written notification of new address is received.

"Change of address forms may be obtained from any VA office, or the new address may be sent by post card or letter. The Veteran's claim number or service serial number, should be submitted with each change of address notification."

Prichard Says Deflation Due

Rising prices, unfair distribution, catastrophic deflation are three consequences of inflation, E. F. Prichard, Jr., told members of the League of Women Voters at their first fall meeting Monday.

Mr. Prichard told how the government tried to control inflation through price control, rationing, taxes, bond sales. During the war the people co-operated, but with the end of the war patriotism relaxed and desire for normalcy was prevalent. Scarce commodities did not return to the market as quickly as expected, and the economic law of supply and demand was off balance, he explained.

Dean Terrell Speaks At Engineering Assembly

Facts and figures on the history of the College of Engineering were brought to the attention of the engineering students by Dean D. W. Terrell at the college's Engineering Assembly October 4.

Dean Terrell began the hour-long meeting by introducing his staff and those other persons directly associated with the college as a whole, after which he presented an interesting resume of the history of the college. Civil Engineering was established here in 1896, Mechanical and Electrical Engineering in 1891, and the Mining Engineering school in 1901.

Dean Terrell continued with a request for cooperation and teamwork so that such inconveniences as crowded classes and living quarters, night classes, books and equipment shortages, and other abnormal conditions can be met with patience if not a smile.

Considerable interest was shown by the group to Terrell's comments on the prospective need for trained engineers of every type from the year 1955, that the first engineer graduated from Rensselaer Polytechnic institute, the output and the need have grown steadily through the latter frequently greater than the supply.

Due to the large number of sororities and fraternities now represented on the campus it is impossible to call these groups for their news each week. This fact, with the suggestion that they henceforth, turn their news into the Kernel offer by Wednesday noon, was announced verbally last week when they were called for the last time. The written announcement did not get into the Kernel.

Obviously, not many of the sororities and fraternities heeded the suggestion, since the news that has been turned in is scarce.

Omega chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha announces the election of the following officers: president, Bob Mulholland, Huntington, W. Va.; vice-president, Joe Botta, Mundorville; treasurer, Tom Ballantine, Louisville; and historian, Tommy Gish, Seco.

The first Zeta Tau Alpha pledge-active meeting was held Thursday night at the chapter house. The meeting was preceded by a buffet supper.

The Delta Chi's will observe Founders Day with a banquet Monday night at the Lafayette hotel. Phil Bowen, Dwight McCray and Regent Hillie are in charge of the arrangements.

Kentucky Epsilon of Sigma Alpha Epsilon announces the election of the following: George Dudley, vice-president; and Paul Kinnaird, secretary.

The Pi Kappa Alpha will entertain with a dance tonight at the Lexington Country Club. Music will be furnished by Milt Moel. Virgil Pryor is in charge of the arrangements.

The SAE's entertained active, pledges and dates with a dance last Saturday after the Xavier game. Chaparrone included members of the Minerva club and Mrs. Ballard Laxon, housemother.

The Minerva club, which is composed of SAE members, recently presented the house with a piano in memory of the gold-star SAE's.

Saturday the Chi Omegas entertained with an open house for the pledges of all fraternities from 3 to 6 p.m. The party was given in honor of the sorority's new pledges, and cakes and popcorn were served.

Phi Deuteron of Phi Sigma Kappa entertained active, pledges and dates with a house dance Saturday after the Xavier game.

Monday night the Phi Sigs honored Pat Conley, president, with a surprise birthday dinner at the house.

Zeta Beta Tau entertained returning actives with a dinner at the Phoenix hotel Wednesday night. Among those honored were Max Booklander, Marvin Cohen, Bert Klass, Milton K. Goldberg, Sam Burman, and Joe Lowenthal.

Sigma chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi will entertain rushes tonight with a smoker at the home of Walter Clay Cox Jr.

An informal house dance was held at the Sigma Nu house after Saturday night's game for actives, pledges and dates. Edgar Wilson and James Jackson were in charge of arrangements.

PERSONALITIES

Ross J. Chepefil, '38, Detroit, Mich., Kernel editor in his senior year, writes of an interesting coincidence in his Army career where he served as special agent with the Counter Intelligence Corps. Serving in the same office with him was Marcus Redwine, Jr., son and namesake of a former president of the Alumni Association, from Winchester, Ky.

Ross was recently discharged from the Army and is making a connection with an advertising agency, specializing in radio.

Ann Garst, '46, Lexington, library science graduate, has been appointed to the staff of the Lexington Public Library.

Harry Corman Brown, '39, Paint Lick, former lineman on the Wildcat football team, has been appointed assistant director of recreation in the State Department of Conservation. Brown served in the Army for almost five years and was discharged with the rank of captain. He worked with the U. S. Farm Security Administration before entering military service. While in the Army he was first on military police duty and later became a physical education officer.

Three symphonic compositions by Tom Scott, ex. of Lexington and New York, widely known interpreter of American folk songs, are scheduled for performances by major orchestras in October, according to a news release from New York City.

The script for one broadcast, a CBS "Gateways to Music" feature set for October 15, is being written by the composer's wife, the former Joy Fride, '28, Lexington, in collaboration with Mildred Game.

Mr. Scott will be featured as both composer and singer on the October 15 program.

Ann Herndon, '46, Irvington, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Herndon, (Viola Crosby Lewis), '37, is now studying library science at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio.

"Queen." Announcements concerning the number of candidates and the arrangements for the contest will be made later in the quarter.

Fill "Info" sheets

It is very important that all campus organizations interested in having pages in the 47 annual fill out the information sheets which the Kentuckian staff is sending. Any organization which has not received an information sheet should contact the Kentuckian and ask for one immediately, Gish said.

The Kentuckian must know whether the organization wants individual pictures of the members or a group picture taken. If the Kentuckian has not been notified it should be immediately, Gish added.

There has been a slight increase in the price per page in the Kentuckian. This is because of the fact that the price of paper has gone up, as has the cost of printing.

The business staff is now trying to contact every campus organization with contracts for pages. Any organization not contacted by Tuesday should call at the Kentuckian office, Gish said.

Book Biggest

When asked about plans for the 47 yearbook, Gish said that plans are still vague, but that the 47 edition should be the biggest of all editions.

There are now about 125 organizations active on the campus, and several which did not have pages in last year's annual have already contracted for them this year, he said.

"With the largest enrollment in its history, it's only normal that the University should have its largest annual in history," Gish said.

Gish said that there are several positions still to be filled on the annual, and that everyone interested in working on either the business or the editorial staff should apply for a position immediately.

Other members on the staff in addition to Gish are Helen Dorr, managing editor; Harold Friedly, associate editor; Baxter Melton, sports editor; and Charles Harris, business manager.

'Cats Rated 19th In US

The first poll for the top football teams in the nation taken this year by the Associate Press listed the Kentucky Wildcats in a tie for 19th place with North Carolina State. Four other Southeastern conference teams were listed above Kentucky: Alabama which held down the sixth position, Georgia, selected in the eighth position and Tennessee placed in ninth, are all Wildcat foes remaining on the schedule. Louisiana State which was rated 19th is not on the Kentuckians' schedule.

Friends Meet As Foes

When Kentucky's Big Blue rolls onto the field tonight at Athens for its heralded battle with undefeated Georgia, there will be more than just 22 men fighting to preserve unblemished records. This test matches an individual rivalry between two former teammates—Gene Meeks and Charley Trippi.

These two gridiron standouts climaxed their service football careers last December in Los Angeles, when the powerful Fourth Air Force eleven jolted an equally strong First Air Force squad to earn recognition as one of the top teams in the military athletic world. Both Kentucky's Meeks and Georgia's Trippi turned in stellar performances for the Fourth's finale, were immediately crowded by representatives of the National Pro Football circuit and the new All-American Conference, to spend the 1946 season punching their way over for pay. However, both Meeks and Trippi returned to their respective backyards and tonight will shake hands again—but this time they'll be on the opposite sides of the fence.

Rupp Will Start Official Practice Monday Afternoon

All Men Interested Are Urged To Report

Impromptu basketball rehearsals now under way in Alumni gym will become serious business Monday, when the Wildcat cage competitors officially begin practice. Coach Adolph Rupp has one of the most pleasant problems known to sportsdom in picking a varsity squad from the wealth of returning lettermen, both from last year's five and the service.

From last season's quietest Ralph Beard, Dutch Campbell, Muff Davis, Joe Holland, Cliff Barker, Buddy Parker and Jack Tingle are back. That team won 28 of 39 games and the national invitational. Returning from service are Bob Brannum, Alex Groza and Ken Rollins. Brannum was an All-American before Army duty. Groza undoubtedly would have been except for doing khaki in mid-season. Rollins was a regular on the 1942-43 outfit that won eight of nine conference starts. Still another reason for joy is Jim Jordan, All-American at North Carolina as a naval student. "Wah-Wah" Jones, known for basketball before his football feats made him a two-sport threat, will join the team when the football schedule is completed.

To take advantage of a talent overflow, Coach Rupp will supervise two scrimmages simultaneously on adjacent courts. He plans to have a "B" team with a schedule of 16 games. These may be played as preliminaries to varsity tilts, possibly will be featured as single attractions to give more Kentuckians fans a chance to see Wildcat net play.

Need In All Branches
In addition to the Army's critical need for engineering officers, the present and contemplated officer strength of the Army requires the utilization of reserve officers in all branches, Col. Mackenzie declared.

John Meibus, speedy 'Cat half, gets away for a 25-yard gain around end against Xavier. Muskie players are 12—Bell, 30—Cortez, 24—Mrino, and 21—Helmets.

'Cats Cut Capers In Tophheavy Win; Rout Xavier, 70-0, Before 20,200

By Baxter Melton
Kernel Sports Editor

Kentucky ran up its biggest score in 24 years Saturday night on Still Field, overwhelming Xavier's Musketeers, 70-0, before 20,200 fans, a new all-time record home crowd. Not since 1922, when the Wildcats outclassed the University of Louisville, 73-0, had Kentucky followers witnessed such a triumph—the right way.

Game statistics picture the result even more vividly, as Coach Paul Bryan's boys tallied 29 first downs to only one by the Ohio visitors. Xavier netted only one yard by rushing, whereas an assortment of Blue backs totalled 352 behind excellent blocking. Via the air Kentucky led, 133-23, by completing nine of 13 passes, as only three of 18 Muskie aerials found receivers.

Freshmen Star
Picking out individual stars from a total of 50 'Cat gridirers is like coming to grips with smoke, but mention must be made of several boys showing their know-how for the first time this season. One might say "Freshmen had their day" but there were several lettermen among the white-jerseyed athletes. Carl and Ralph Genito, Jim Kenard, Dennis Rice, John Meibus, Norman Klein and Charley Kuhn were consistent ground-gainers. Jesse Tunstall showed some of the pluckiest prowess that made him Kentucky's most highly publicized prep player a few years back. Allen Hamilton, in the 'Cat line after a brief stay at Vanderbilt, was an immovable member of the forward wall. Kuhn's performance was exceptionally notable, since the Louisville lad has not even practiced for several weeks after an injury before the season started, was in uniform Saturday night for the first time. Bill Bolter, seen only briefly heretofore, joined the swelling list of dependable 'Cat runners and passers.

Catchin' Toe-Work Tops
Sure-fingered "Wah-Wah" Jones, veterans Phil Cutchin and Jack Farris were regulars who maintained their usual good play. Cutchin converted eight of nine extra-point attempts in an amazing exhibition of toe-work, ran one six-pointer across. Farrishipped his way to two touchdowns, the first of which came on one of football's oldest, fake plays, the Statue of Liberty fooler. Kenard reached the end zone on two occasions. Klein, Rice, Ben Heizinger, Charlie Bradshaw and Jones slogged once each. Bob Conway's incomplete pass in the end zone was turned into a safety by charging Wildcat linemen.

The only thing resembling opposition by the visitors was a great goal-line stand early in the first quarter. Bolter and Meibus led a march downfield, to the Xavier four. Klein bucked to the one, where the Muskies held to take over on the Massives held to take over on downs. Meibus took Conway's punt to start Kentucky's first goal gallop.

B-Cats Play Ft. Knox Here Wednesday Under Lights

By O. C. Halyard

Kentucky fans have been denied the privilege of seeing the Wildcats' "B" team in action tomorrow, but will be presented with another opportunity next Wednesday night when the group tangles with a rejuvenated Fort Knox team on Stoll Field.

Saturday's game with Miami U. had to be re-scheduled for October 29, because of a misunderstanding in the contracts. Last minute efforts were made to find the B-boys a suitable foe for the week-end, but Wednesday night's scrap was the earliest date for which Bernie Shively, athletic director, could locate an opponent.

Coach Bud Bruner of the Fort Knox gladiators was contacted and agreed to another game between the two teams. The Kentuckians already have a 41-0 victory to their credit over the armed force team.

However, Coach Bruner said that a new group of boys had been transferred to the post and his team had been greatly improved by the additions.

"With the Fort Knox team seeking revenge for their earlier loss, and many of our boys greatly improved by experience in the Xavier game, it promises to be a good contest," Kentucky's Coach McCubbin said.

The game is scheduled for 8 o'clock under the new lights on Stoll field, and will be the third encounter—the second night game—for the "B" squad. Student tickets will be good for the game, and townspeople may obtain tickets in advance or at the gate.

The October 29 game with Miami University has been scheduled for Lexington, and thus will give Wildcat fans an additional home game.

MUSING with Melton

By Baxter Melton, Kernel Sports Editor

Against Georgia tonight in Athens the 'Cats will be playing their fourth consecutive night game and the last one of the season. In discussing the nocturnal affairs recently, Coach "Bear" Bryant mused that he would "be doggoned glad when they're all over, 'cause they make the day so long."

Georgia's home clashes with Kentucky have always been Friday night attractions. Since Athens is only 72 miles from Atlanta, home of Georgia Tech, Bulldog athletic authorities find it more advantageous for attendance purposes. Atlantans can drive over, get back for Tech games or other Saturday lures.

In trying for its fourth straight victory, Kentucky will perform before its fourth consecutive record crowd. The 19,600 fans who saw the Mississippi opener was an all-time Stoll field record. Next week in Cincinnati the Queen City's largest crowd in football history, 30,000, was in Nippert stadium. Last Saturday additional seats enabled 20,000 to break the first-game mark here. In Athens tonight more than 40,000 are expected, which will be the biggest crowd yet to see the 'Cats this year.

R. W. Jones and Ed Armstrong, assistant Marquette university coaches, were among the press-box reviewers as Kentucky muffed Xavier. Armstrong may not have been kidding when he opined that the 'Cats would beat Marquette by three touchdowns in Milwaukee next month.

Ed Lampe, Georgia's lookout, has seen every Kentucky game this year.

The sideline antics of Kentucky's basketball baron, Adolph Rupp, now have their counterpart in "Bear" Bryant. The new Wildcat skipper, like Rupp, usually plays as strenuous game on the bench as his proteges on the field.

Bryant's philosophy is best described by "Three down, seven to go," following the Xavier game. Never one to take things for granted, the "Bear" thinks only in terms of the next game.

At least one Kentucky player will be competing against his former coach tonight in Athens. Charlie Kuhn, 'Cat halfback, played under Wally Butts when the Bulldog maestro was football mentor at Louisville Male. Butts, who starred at Mercer, went from Male to Georgia as an assistant, later was appointed head coach.

I wonder if many fans in Stoll field Saturday night knew how few rehearsals Kentucky's band had prior to that first appearance. Only those who have marched with such outfits are aware of the long hours of practice necessary for such formations, not to mention the item of music all the while.

Many veterans are included in the outfit directed by E. J. Prindl. Only four short rehearsals were held before that, just showing, with concentration on the formations and p.p. time, allotted to keeping alignment or turning corners.

Saturday night's huge score recalls topheavy Kentucky scores of yesterday. The Wildcats were especially point-happy in 1914, walloping Wilmington College, 87-0, Maryville, 80-0, and Earlham, 81-3. To mix bad with good, Kentucky's worst defeats were achieved by St. Louis and Michigan. In 1908, the era of the late Fielding Yost's "point-a-minute teams," the Wolverines humbled the 'Cats, 62-0. St. Louis took an 82-0 decision in 1905.

COLONEL Of The Week

PAUL "BEAR" BRYANT

This Week's Colonel of the Week is Paul "Bear" Bryant, head coach of the University football team. "Bear" is the person chiefly responsible for digging the football team out of the cellar, and starting its climb back onto the football map.

For this achievement Cedar Village invites him to enjoy any two of its delicious meals.

A Message for Every Veteran in College

October 1946

Dear Sir:

Now that you are back from doing a good job, your concern is to get a good education quickly—to make up for the war-spent years.

The world is still in bad shape; each new day finds fresh trouble. Old values are changing. Your cost of living has zoomed since 1941.

We should like to point out some values which haven't changed. They will interest you.

1. Most Arrow shirts (including whites) still sell for less than $3.50.
2. Most Arrow neckties still sell for $1 and $1.50.
3. Arrow shirts, sports shirts and handkerchiefs are still reasonably priced.
4. Every Arrow product retains its pre-war quality and workmanship.
5. All Arrow shirts and shorts and most Arrow sports shirts are Sanforized—labeled—can be washed with less than 1% shrinkage.

Because of the demand, Arrow shirts are still darn scarce. But if you find one—and we hope you do—see guarantee and your wallet will be completely satisfied.

Sincerely yours,

CLUETT, PEABODY & CO., INC.

WAA NEWS

By Em Asbury

Despite the fact that football is the current topic of discussion, what with the Big Blue's surprising ups and promise of better than average ball club, there are a few girls (every fourth person, I believe, on campus. How good it feels to be in the minority once again! But we, like the fellows, want to have our fun, too. The Women's Athletic Association again affords an outlet for excess energy each afternoon at four o'clock on the field behind Patterson hall. Since compulsory physical education has been eased this quarter, it is hoped more girls will become members of W.A.A. and participate in such sports as hockey, soccer, bowling, badminton, basketball, tennis and softball. This year, as in the past, W.A.A.ers will go on hayrides, parties and road trips, competing for honors against other colleges in the state.

Sign up with Ann Lanford or Ruth Wilde, president, in the gym office and add your shriek to the growing number of painful utterances behind Patz hall each day.

Incidentally there will be a small matter of one dollar registration fee for equipment, and first aid supplies.

Fall Intramurals Underway; Referees' Managers Wanted

The first part of the Fall quarter intramurals got under way Tuesday afternoon with touch football, tennis and golf heading the agenda.

Football is being played on a round-robin basis first, and later an elimination tourney will be played for the trophies. Both tennis and golf are being played on an elimination basis for prizes.

Bill McCubbin is in charge of intramurals, but senior intramurals manager, W. W. Cooper, is assuming most of the responsibilities as McCubbin is busy with the Wildcat's "B" team.

Cooper stated that he is still in need of at least a dozen students to referee touch football. Boys interested should contact him in the Physical Education department immediately. Copies of rules pertaining to touch football are available for such boys, and they can begin work now. Cooper added that officials would be paid.

Also the department is in need of some assistant intramural managers to help with the statistics and drawing up of schedules. Persons interested should see either Cooper or McCubbin.

Tennis and golf schedules have been posted on the intramural bulletin board along with the football line-up. Men entered in these tournaments should check with the board to learn whom their opponents will be and make arrangements to play the matches as soon as possible.

Deadline dates for play in both tennis and golf singles and doubles have been posted and must be met. Cooper said he hopes the good weather will hold out long enough for the tennis and golf tourneys to be completed. Therefore because of the possibility of bad weather, postponement of deadline dates will not be possible.

First round play in the tennis and golf singles and doubles should be completed and results turned in to the office by October 14. The second round deadline date for the tennis is October 22, while golfers have until October 23.

Cooper wishes to remind all students that volleyball, as well as wrestling and boxing will be offered later in the quarter. A registration date for these sports has not been set as yet, but boys interested should be thinking about forming their teams.
