

Barracks May Be Completed By Fall, Richman Declares

"Although we are a bit behind schedule now, I believe that the project will be partly completed by the beginning of the fall term," said Mr. Harry Richman, head of the Lexington division of the Federal Housing Authority, when a Kernel reporter questioned him concerning the story about the barracks printed in The Kernel last week.

The Scott street project will be nearly enough completed by September 20, to house 250 persons, according to Mr. Richman.

"Although the barracks are not too complete at present, we have had two 'H' type barracks will go up on Scott street. These buildings will house 155 persons each," Mr. Richman continued.

These "H" type barracks will be flanked by two small dormitory barracks—a portion of the 13 buildings of that class to be built by the FHFA for the University. Another building of this type will be erected behind the U-High gymnasium. The other ten have not yet been placed, Mr. Richman said.

Mr. Richman made no comment concerning the barracks that are being built for women students.

Work on the Shawnee project began August 12, and within three weeks "we will be entering the house," said Mr. Richman. The Shawnee project will house 180 families, of which 150 will be University students and personnel. The remainder of space will be occupied by municipally approved veterans.

Registration Reaches 2,896

Registration figures for the second term of summer school have reached 2,896, 941 less than last year's enrollment of 3,837, according to Miss Maple Moore, assistant registrar of the University.

The enrollment for the first summer term established a new record, topping the 1940 enrollment—the previously recorded high—by more than 1,000. The present enrollment also tops the 1940 record of 2,821.

The office of the registrar has mailed out summons letters to prospective students, informing them of find living quarters before making plans for registration. (See story on Barracks-Housing elsewhere on this page.)

The peak of the veteran enrollment should be reached by the fall term, according to the office of the dean of men.

Dr. James Martin, Director of Bureau of Business Research, College of Commerce, and Vera Briscoe, research associate in the bureau, will attend a two-day conference, August 10-11, being held by the Tennessee Valley Authority, Fontana Dam, Tennessee. It will be a joint discussion among representatives of six state universities: Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, North and South Carolina, and Kentucky.

The TVA, which is collaborating on public administration of natural resources, will discuss final drafts of the report and the publication plans.

Prof. J. E. Reeves is assisting in the work, but will not attend the meeting.

Each state represented will receive a copy of the report along with a general summarization of the whole set of activities.

This meeting is one of several state cooperative projects in progress.

State To Maintain Many Campus Drives

Maintenance of all but two of the University's drives and roads has been taken over by the Kentucky Department of Highways.

Mr. E. B. Harris, head of maintenance and operations at the University, said yesterday.

Mr. Harris said that following roads would be resurfaced some time before the start of the fall quarter: the road from the Army to Lafferty hall which is known as the Faculty club drive, the drive starting at the Health building and passing in front of Neville hall and continuing past Mechanical hall. Mr. Harris continued that the parking space south of Memorial hall and the south of the Dairy Products building passing in front of McVey hall would also be resurfaced. He said that the roads of the University have needed attention for some time and that a part of this work will begin almost immediately.

Mr. Harris then said that the Rose street entrance to the University and the road passing in front of the Biological Sciences building and the road immediately behind Kastle hall, plus the service entrance to the Small Animal building and the drive north and south of Maxwell Place, the drive in front of Patterson hall, and the road running from Stoll field past small gymnasium. Mr. Harris said that the above mentioned roads were to be resurfaced by the state but that the University would have to assume the cost of resurfacing.

Dean Jones Returns

Dean T. J. Jones, dean of men, has sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to resume his duties at the University.

Physical Ed Requirements Are Changed

Changes in the curriculum of two departments and the establishment of two new courses were approved by the University faculty at a special meeting Tuesday in Lafferty hall.

Approval was given a plan, proposed by Prof. M. E. Potter, head of the physical education department, to set up a physical fitness standard for all students and to give them additional physical training according to personal needs to meet the standard.

The "Potter Plan," approved by the faculty of the arts and science college last week, will be instituted with the beginning of the next school year in September.

A new course in the geography department, entitled "Geographic Foundations of World Politics," was given approval as was a course referred to as "Field Participation in Group Work Programs," to be presented by the department of social work.

National Guard Quota Increased By Army

The War department has announced the increase in quotas for recall to active duty, of 1,000 National Guard and reserve officers of all grades for service with the Civil Affairs division, an additional 40 for service with the intelligence division, 35 for service with foreign intelligence commission, and 50 additional for service with the finance department.

This and previous authorizations make a total of 7,589 vacancies available to officers who have gone on inactive duty or terminated leave but who desire further active duty. War department representatives indicated that this number may be increased in the near future.

Although the War department is authorized to recall officers to active duty without their consent during the emergency, it is desired to fill these vacancies with volunteers. Accordingly, quotas have been established to meet the needs of each of the branches of service whose personnel problems have been made acute by the rapid demobilization of the army.

Volunteers under this program may elect to serve for an unlimited length of time or for a 12, 18, or 24 month period.

Roberts Acting As Law School Dean

Dr. W. Lewis Roberts will serve as acting dean of the college of law at the University during the second term of the summer quarter, it was announced today by Dean A. E. Evans' office.

FILE FOR DEGREES

Friday, July 26 is the last day for students to file for degrees. No student will be considered for graduation unless an application, according to Dean Leo M. Chamberlain.

These applications should be presented in Room 16 of the Administration building by all candidates who have not filed one previously.

Candidates for the bachelor's degree will be charged a graduation fee of $2.50. This will cover the rental of cap and gown, diploma fee, the Kentucky and senior dues above with the exception of the Kentucky and in addition, the cost of the hood to be presented at the ceremony. Graduation fees are payable not later than Monday, August 19.

Polio Victim Improves

'Miracle' Needed To Solve Basketball Seating Problem

By O. C. Habard
Kernel Sports Editor

One of the big problems that has been troubling the athletic department is what to do with the host of townspeople and students who will want to see the basketball team in action this winter. With an enrollment of over 5,000 students expected and an equal number of townspeople desiring to watch the Wildcats play, Alumni gym with its 3,000 seating capacity is obviously insufficient.

Of course the new field house would solve the problem immediately, but we don't have the field house yet, and probably won't have it for three or four years. Bernie Shively, athletic director, said that to build the field house now even if we could get the material would cost more than the field house itself.

He went on to add that the field house will be a permanent fixture on the campus and as long as we waited this long for it we might as well wait a little longer and really build one that will have everything. Mr. Shively asks that the students and townspeople be patient and cooperate with the athletic department in any temporary solution that they may have to the problem.

Mr. Shively pointed out that unless something new develops, in the line of a miracle between now and then, there will be one of two solutions offered to the problem this winter. Either students will be admitted to the games according to the numbers on their student tickets or the schedule of home games will be divided between the Lexingtonians and the students.

In case the numbers on the student tickets are used, Mr. Shively suggested that probably the odd and even numbers would take turns seeing the games. If the schedule is divided between the townspeople and the students, the students will probably be allowed more games than the townspeople.

A committee has already been appointed, according to Mr. Shively, and as soon as the schedule is complete, they will divide it up to fit one or the other of the possible solutions. They will make the division as fair as possible in order that each group will get to see some of the better games.

During the discussion Mr. Shively also explained the reason for moving the student section from the customary south side of Stoll field to the north side for the coming football season. He said this was in order that all the students desiring to see the games could be accommodated and yet be seated together.

It was also done so that there would be room enough for the wives of G.I.'s to sit with their student husbands. Mr. Shively further explained that there are approximately 2,000 seats that have been reserved by members of the alumni for years on the south side of the field, while only about 500 such seats are taken on the north side.

"This will give the students more room, and I believe tend to create better spirit," the athletic director remarked. "We asked Coach Bryant if he had any objections to moving the team and the student section to the other side of the stadium, and he replied, 'No, the opposition seems to have been doing all right on the other side for the past few years.'"

J.L. Arnold Will Address Vets Monday

Mr. Joseph L. Arnold, Democratic candidate for Congress, will address the University Veterans' club and interested visitors at 8 p. m. Monday, in Memorial hall.

A special emergency session will be held at the club at 7 p. m. preceding Mr. Arnold's address. The business session, designed to aid the war veterans, will be held at the University this fall and to hear recommendations for expedient new housing projects, will be open to the public. However, everyone is invited to hear Mr. Arnold's speech at 8 p. m.

Mr. Arnold, who is opposing Rep. Virgil Chapman, incumbent congressman from Lexington, in the Democratic primary, August 3, is the third political figure to address the Veterans' club this year. Mr. Phillip Ardery, Frankfort, and Mr. Norris Vincent, Barbourville, candidates for the Senate, appeared before the club earlier this summer.

Howard C. Bowles, president of the Veterans' club, has issued invitations to all candidates to appear on behalf of their candidacy if they so desire. This move was made to give our veterans on the campus an opportunity to question each candidate and get first-hand information, to aid them in voting intelligently.

Education Survey Includes University

Gov. Simons Willis announced Monday a complete and comprehensive survey of Kentucky's educational system will be conducted in view of improving conditions.

Included in the $19,200 over-all survey will be a $4,000 survey of the University. The Chicago firm of Griffenhagen and Associates have been employed to conduct the survey. Gov. Willis stated that he expected to put into effect by the end of this year such necessary changes in education as he could by executive order.

The governor said that both administrative and academic work at the institutions surveyed will be covered.

Former UK Student Is Killed In Crash

Connie Gaines, 25-year-old University graduate and operator of a wood preserving company near Harlan, was killed Tuesday afternoon when the small plane piloted by Pete Guthrie, 30, crashed into a cornfield about six miles from Harlan. Guthrie was killed in the crash also.

A 16-year-old student said that he saw the plane crash near the airport. Although Guthrie owned a plane the one which crashed had been rented from the airport.

Harlan family was contacted by law the plane crash after spinning twice at about 500 feet. Both men were dead when neighbors arrived. The cause of the crash has not been determined.

Gaines, a member of a prominent Harlan family, was graduated from the University with a civil engineering degree in 1934, and was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is survived by his wife and two sons.

Board Of Trustees Rejects Bids For Service Building; OK's 15 MPH Speed Limit

Trustees Accept Bells

The University Board of Trustees, at a called meeting in the office of President Herman Donovan Friday morning, July 19, accepted a gift from Alexander Bonnyman, Knoxville, Tenn., industrialist, for purchase of carillon bells in memory of his son, who was killed in action during the battle of Tarawa.

A native of Lexington, Mr. Bonnyman attended the University from 1905 to 1908. President of the Blue Diamond Coal Company, he is a life member of the UK alumni association and the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Alexander (Sandy) Bonnyman, Jr., in whose memory the 25-bell carillon in the Memorial Hall tower will be dedicated, was born in Atlanta and lived most of his life in Knoxville. After graduating from Princeton University in 1922, he returned to Tennessee to work in the coal fields. Before entering the service, he operated a copper mine in New Jersey. A private in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, he was nominated as a delegate during the Guadacanal campaign for promotion to commissioned officer. He was killed in the battle of Tarawa, on November 22, 1943.

The carillon bells were installed in Memorial Hall several weeks ago and were used in connection with baccalaureate services June 2.

UK Plans To Build New $1,224,470 Dorm

University trustees will receive a loan of $3,556 to finance the preparations of plans and specifications for a new dormitory, the Federal Works agency at Washington announced Wednesday.

The dormitory is scheduled to cost a total of $1,224,470. It is to include central dining facilities, kitchen, and cold storage equipment.

The dormitory is the second building in the University's program for which the agency has approved an advance. President Herman L. Donnan stated the first was the Fine Arts building.

The location of the new dorm has not been definitely decided on.

Struck Enters Low Bid Of $848,600; Fine Arts Building Location Changed

All bids for construction of the proposed new service building were rejected last Friday at a called meeting of the University Board of Trustees. The Board announced plans to advertise for more bids at a later date.

The low bid on the structure, which is to replace the building which burned last winter, was given by the Struck Construction company of Louisville. The Struck bid was $848,600.

The trustees awarded a $18,147.4 contract to Clark, Stewart, and Wood for installation of sewage lines at the shawnee housing project and the American Society of Civil Engineers.

A gift of $1,200 from the International Minerals and Chemical corporation, Chicago, for further research in tobacco nutrition, was accepted by the board.

Approval of the placing of a 15 miles per hour speed limit on the University campus was given by the board. The move, according to officials, was brought about by the increased traffic on campus drives and the fact that a number of small children are now living in the area.

Location of the proposed new Fine Arts building was changed from South Limestone street (opposite Memorial hall) to a site on Rose street between Maxwell field and Maxwell Place. The building will be used for music and art.

The appointment of Dr. Floyd E. Hill as head of the department of animal pathology is effective September 1. Dr. Hill succeeds Dr. W. W. Dimock, who is expected to be relieved of his administrative duties.

University Gives Third Series Course For County Agents

The University began on July 15 the third of a series of five courses for county farm agents. These courses, the first of their kind taught in the United States, are a combination of lectures and laboratory work illustrating the latest advancements in agriculture.

The third of the series consists of two courses—"Soils," taught by Professor P. E. Karraker, and "Crops," taught by Professor E. J. Kinney and George H. The nineteen county agents enrolled in the courses are: Others H. Hurley, John H. Gray, Otto H. Loch, Sam B. Kent, Frank L. Satterwhite, S. U. Fay, Charles L. Goff, Frank W. McCoy, Allan C. Davis, H. R. Finkner, J. E. McClure, S. C. Eshannon, H. R. Jackson, J. Homer Miller, R. D. Ridley, Robert H. Ford, Robert F. Spence, Robert L. Rudolph and H. S. Long.

The first of the series, which started June 17, consisted of two courses—"Farm Management," under the direction of Professor L. A. Bradford, and "Poultry," under the direction of Professor W. M. Insko.

Professor W. P. Garrigus offered "Animal Husbandry" and Professor P. E. Karraker offered "Soils" during the second of the series which started July 1, 1946.

Assistant Dean Horlacher said that the next of this series will start in August, "Dairying" under the direction of Professor F. Ely and "Marketing" under the direction of Professor H. E. Price will be offered county farm agents.

Assistant Dean Horlacher reported that there are sixteen new county agents on the campus now for a month's refresher course which is a continuation of a course started in July of 1945. The majority of these new county agents are ex-service men who completed most of their college work before entering the armed forces.

An article by Dr. Edward R. Rannels, art department head, appeared in the May issue of Gazette Des Beaux-Arts, a leading international art journal.

The study, originally prepared for the University Philosophy club, deals with form and content in painting.

Nevelt Teaches

Miss Esther Nevelt, Lexington, who was graduated from the University in June, is teaching in the German Department this summer. She and Dr. Whittaker are taking over the classes of Dr. Heggeman and Dr. Basse who are on vacation.

Librarian Returns

Miss Norma Cass, head of the University library's reference department and assistant professor of library science, has returned to resume her position after a year's leave of absence.

During the year, Miss Cass was employed as a member of the staff of the University of Illinois Library school, where she taught courses in reference, bibliography, and documents.

Miss Kate Irvine, assistant reference librarian, acted in the capacity of Miss Cass, while the latter was away.

Niess Writes

Dr. Robert J. Niess, associate professor of French and Spanish, had an article published in the June issue of PMLA, a magazine for English and Language teachers.

Kissing was a part of nearly all the dances of France and Italy during the 17th and 18th centuries.

Goings On

The Sigma Nu's will entertain active, pledges, and dates at a beach party July 27 at Boonesboro. Bud Wilson and Jim Jackson are in charge of arrangements. Theta chapter of Kappa Alpha Order will have a buffet supper, swim and dance at the Stone Creek country club at Paris, July 27, for rushes and alumni. The chapter Mothers' club is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Tom Underwood will give an illustrated discussion of a home nursing class to be given in Lexington in August.

Boyd On Vacation

Dr. Paul P. Boyd, dean of the arts and sciences college, is spending his vacation at his cottage in Beulah, Michigan. He will not be back during the summer term.

Assistant Dean M. M. White is acting dean in Dean Boyd's absence.

TIME OUT!

By O. C. Hayward, Jr.

A great man was honored for a week placed on the shelter house on great job last week. That man was the courts, tennis friends surprised Dr. H. H. Downing, for 23 years Dr. Downing with another gift, coach for Wildcat tennis teams. They took up a collection from Coach Downing, an outstanding one of his many tennis friends, sportsman himself, has done as and presented him with a stack of much if not more than any other 25 silver dollars tied up in blue and man to improve minor sports at white ribbons.

The Athletic department also has had printed handy size cards with the football schedule on them. One of these cards may be obtained by stopping by the office.

Jersey, Al, official representative of the University, was seeded number 6 in the draw, but was picked by many to win the tourney. In fact Al himself figured he had a good chance to win.

The New Jersey advanced to the quarter-finals where he met Mark Brown of Miami U., last year's champion of the Eastern Intercollegiate. Al started strong with a large portion of the crowd betting on him and had Mark 5-3 in the first set.

When while serving he strained his side, and was almost forced to quit play. However, he endured the pain and fought on for the crown he wanted so much. Finally he lost the first set 10-8.

It was the same in the next two sets. As the pain became sharper and sharper and showed up on the force of his returns. And the gallant sportsman dropped the two sets 6-4 and 6-3. In the shower room after the match, a doctor examined Al's side and told him that in addition to a bad strain he had a ligament loose. As a result Al won't be able to play for at least a month while the strain heals, and his had to withdraw from other tournaments he had planned to play in.

However, the occasion warranted Al Reynolds, the much written recognition, so Dean Boyd and the about captain of the 1947 Kentucky tennis team (?), had an un-fortunate break in the Eastern scheduled the presentation.

Blue Grass Tournament

Tennis players at the University should have plenty to keep them busy as far as tournaments are concerned come the first of next month. In addition to the regular Intramural tournaments open for college students only which will begin August 2, there will be a Blue Grass tournament played on the Downing courts which UK students may enter.

The Blue Grass tourney will start August 5, and will be opened to men and boys within a 50 mile radius of Lexington. However, if you are a student in the University, no matter if your home is in California, you are still eligible.

There will be two divisions in singles and doubles in the tournament. One will be Men's Open for any age, and the other a Junior division for boys under 18. However, Juniors may enter both divisions if they feel they are qualified.

Trophies will be awarded to winners and runner-ups in singles and doubles in both divisions. The tournaments will be the single elimination type as in Intramurals. All matches will be played on the Downing courts.

The entry fee for singles will be

THE FOOTBALL TEAM

... as Hugh Collett sees it

NOTE: (To conclude our series of articles giving the opinions and views of various ones, on the new football team, we have asked Hugh Collett to be our guest columnist. Hugh is known to Kernel readers for his interesting and, at times, witty remarks made in THE VARIETY SHOW.)

Much difficulty is encountered in trying to make a prognosis concerning a thoroughly new team that has played no games, outside of two inter-squad games, each of which was played by different men.

And so, to begin with, let us review the situation from an overall standpoint.

Coach Bryant, comparatively unknown in the world of sports, has renovated the team, the coaching staff, and everything in general. He is starting out with new blood, but, realizing that one must mix experience with this new blood, Coach Bryant has been giving considerable time to the redevelopment of such former stars as Ernal Allen, whose artistry in passing has established him as one of the former greats of Kentucky gridiron; a former Wildcat guard, Hut Jones; and a pair of pre-war backs, Charlie Kuhn and Bill Mosley. All four of these men have shown great spirit and playing ability in the summer practice sessions, and will, undoubtedly see much action this fall.

Other old-timers that have proven they still have something on the proverbial spheroid are Varatis, Rhodenmyer, and Preston. And one cannot overlook the hosts of outstanding freshmen—those huskies who have proven themselves worthy of high placement on the squad. Under this category, we offer such names as Phelps, Truman, Rice, and McHaux.

From the outcome of scrimmages, practices, and the inter-squad games, one is led to believe that this year's Kentucky team is far above the standard of last year's eleven. Without reasoning and further, numerous persons have forecasted the belief that, as a consequence, we should emerge from the season as one of the top teams in the conference.

Leaving the local scene for a moment, and taking an overall view of the Southeastern conference, we should like to make our selections on end-of-season rankings of six top member teams.

1. Alabama. 2. Georgia. 3. Georgia Tech. 4. Tennessee. 5. Mississippi. 6. Kentucky.

After a bit of digging around, we have unearthed some material on Alabama—a cinch for the number one slot in SEC.

Alabama has all of its Rose Bowl team back for the coming season. Among these are "Hurling" Harry Gilmer, Lowell Tew—the Tide's chief ground gainer for the past two seasons, Mancha, Wornick, etc.—names that attract a great amount of attention. These names mean trouble for any team that is pitted against the Tide. The 'Bama first team will be made up entirely of upperclassmen—men that have seen former action on Thomas—built teams according to Walter J. Mosley, sports editor of the Grimsom-White, official 'Bama news sheet.

Sticking our neck out again, we believe that Kentucky will be lucky if they win four games. Going a bit further, we should like to state that, in our opinion, four games that the Wildcats will lose will be Tennessee, Mississippi, Georgia, and Alabama.

$1.50 per entry, and for doubles will be $2.00 per team. Tennis balls and court facilities will be furnished by the tournament management.

All entries must be turned in and fees paid by midnight Tuesday, July 30. They should be turned in to the Physical Education department in the Men's gym.

The University physical education department will furnish the administration, including drawings, officials, assignment of courts, and issuing balls. The tournament will be run by the tournament committee which includes: Bill McCubbin and Dr. H. H. Downing from the University and Laurence Shropshire and Babe Kimbrough from the downtown papers.

Tournament entry blanks may be obtained at the tennis courts or the Intramural office in the Men's gym, or may be clipped from the paper.

Intramural Entries Due July 30

With the final results turned in for the first term of the summer Intramurals and trophies awarded, registration is under way for the new tournaments. Softball and tennis singles and doubles will be offered this second term.

The last date that entries can be turned in for either of the sports is next Tuesday, July 30. All entries must be in by then as play will start in softball Thursday August 1, and in tennis Friday August 2.

Softball will be played on a round-robin basis at first and after each team has played the others, they will be seeded and an elimination tourney for the trophies will be started. In tennis singles and doubles pairings will be made immediately and elimination play started for the trophies.

Coach McCubbin announced that there would be no golf tournaments held this second term, because of lack of interest. The short terms will not permit constant delay and postponement of play.

Last Term Results

In the first term Intramurals, the softball finals featured a furiously contested game between the PSK's and SX's. The SX's went in the game as slight favorites among those faithful fans who had been following the tournament. However, the PSK's pulled from behind to upset the favorites and win 4-2.

Outstanding in the game was Jimmy Bodak's homer that gave the SX's an early 1-0 lead, and the big argument that resulted from a decision made by McCubbin on a play at the plate. A SX player ran into the PSK's catcher, and McCubbin called him out. A hot verbal debate followed, but as always the umpire was right.

Bill Sullivan, PWT, defeated Tom Harris, FKA, in the tennis singles in straight set to win the first place trophy. The score was 6-1 and 7-5.

The doubles team of Collins and Durham beat Sullivan and Gilliam in the finals. Collins and Durham took the first set 6-3, lost the second one 6-1, but came back to take the third 6-4.
