Helm, Class President, Makes Statement of Faults of System

Vote Was Not Fair, Common Complaint

Contracts For Kentuckian Photographic Work Are Let

The results of the Junior class election for editor of the 1934 Kentuckian, which was held April 11, have been declared void, according to Horace B. Helm, president of the Junior class.

The Publications committee, under the chairmanship of Professor Enoch Grehan, will select the editor for the year book from the two nominees, George Vogel and J. D. Palmer.

This selection will probably be made when the committee meets at 3 p. m. Tuesday, April 25, according to Professor Grehan.

The vote of the Junior class ended in an apparent victory for J. D. Palmer, the results being 127 votes for Palmer and 121 for George Vogel.

Cameron Coffman, the third nominee for the post, dropped out of the running.

Horace Helm, in a statement to the Kernel, said that he had received many complaints as to whether the election had been conducted in a fair and impartial manner, and that some of them were many obviously unfair acts.

Helm could not be declared official. He presented a written request to the Publications committee asking it to select the 1934 Kentuckian Editor for a number of reasons which were set out in the following official letter from President Helm:

April 8, 1933. Prof. Enoch Grehan, chairman, Board of Publication, University of Kentucky. Dear Professor Grehan:

I am writing you in regard to the Board of Publications for final selection of the recent election of the Kentuckian.

The facts of the matter are: The final vote was: Mr. Palmer, 127; Mr. Vogel, 121. Mr. Vogel's name of Junior were not on the lists obtained by the student council.

HELEN KELLER HEARD BY 3,000

University Womens Glee Club Entertains Audience Before and After Address

HYMN CLOSES MEETING

Declaring that she did not mind her afflictions because she felt that God was working out some set purpose, Helen Keller, who has spent most of her life conquering handicaps under which the ordinary person would have done nothing, addressed an audience of several thousand persons last Tuesday night at the Woodland auditorium.

Miss Keller was brought to Lexington by the Woman's club of central Kentucky to present an appeal for support for the American Federation of the Blind and to ask for contributions for the foundation's endowment fund.

Miss Polly Thomson, her secretary, stood by her side during the lecture and repeated her words for the benefit of those unable to understand them.

The words of education, Miss Keller said, is to teach people how to find out things for themselves, and not to show them what they don't know.

In support of the teachers of the world, Miss Keller said, "It is disgraceful not to pay the teachers their salaries; they have never been paid enough anyway, and are receiving less now. Teachers foster civilization and the nations with it. Show the teachers what the best civilization is."

"If we used all our five senses, the world would be much more beautiful," Miss Keller continued, "and we would then abolish everything that is hideous or distasteful."

Miss Keller joining the audience in singing, "Nearer My God to Thee."

UNEMPLOYED ALUMNI

The Association of Unemployed College Alumni, whose slogan is "from books to breadlines," recently has communicated with representatives in colleges and universities throughout the country asking support for an assembly to be held in Washington...

The plan has been endorsed by Charles Beard, the historian, John Dewey, Morris Raphael Cohen and Reinhold Niebuhr who are noted philosophers...

The association has compiled statistics estimating that there are at least 75,000 unemployed school teachers in the country; that in New York City alone, there are upwards of 5,000 unemployed engineers and 1,500 unemployed journalists...

The call for the assembly has been issued not only to alumni, but also to student governing boards on the ground that the undergraduate of today is the unemployed of tomorrow.

Employment or unemployment, is a subject of vital importance to every college student today, and if this association can accomplish the passage of legislation which will eliminate the causes of unemployment it will mean the opening of a new era for the students.

Of course it would be asking too much to have a roof built over the campus, but at least students should be provided with decent walkways. When it rains, the walkway from the C. E. & P. building to McVey hall looks like Main street in P. O. dunn.

Students who enter McVey hall via the middle route pay more to have the slush cleaned from their clothes and shoes than it would cost to build a walkway to the Clo's Dorm (commonly known as the Dairy Barn).

NOW SHOWING HARDEEN PACKING CASE ESCAPE

LAST NIGHT I SAW HARDEEN DO A WONDERFUL ESCAPE ACT.

WHAT HE SAW

SHACKLED, NAILED IN A PACKING CASE, AND ROPED, HARDEEN, FAMOUS BROTHER OF HOUDINI, ESCAPED FROM THE BOX!

YOU KNOW WHAT THAT TRICK IS DON'T YOU?

NO—WHAT IS THE CATCH?

HE HOLDS THE KEY TO THE HANDCUFFS BETWEEN HIS TEETH. THE ORIGINAL NAILS THAT HELD THE BOX TOGETHER HAVE BEEN REPLACED BY LITTLE SHORT NAILS SO THAT HARDEEN CAN PUSH A BOARD UP AND CRAWL OUT. THEN HE PUTS THE BOARD BACK TO MAKE THE BOX LOOK O-KAY.

SEE THE TRICK NOW. HAVE A CIGARETTE?

NOT THAT KIND.

WHY NOT? THEY'RE Milder AREN'T THEY?

SAY BUDDY, THERE'S NO MAGIC IN CIGARETTES. IT'S THE TOBACCO THAT COUNTS.

THIS IS Milder. I HAVE BEEN FOOLING MYSELF ABOUT CIGARETTES.

"IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW" ISN'T IT?

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. Learn to appreciate the true mildness of costlier tobaccos. After smoking Camels, we believe you will find that other cigarettes taste flat and insipid.

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By DELMAR ADAMS

After all the tributes paid us in recent press boxes, we are at a loss for sufficient words to express our pleasure at making our first official debut as writer of this column. We are inaugurating a new regime and will try to make this sheet better than it has ever been.

If at any time any of you readers have any comments to make, or any contributions to make, let us have them. We will try to publish all your letters if they are not too long and if they are signed. (No anonymous missives will be used.)

Our persistent efforts to draw attention to the need for improvement in the track out on Stoll field at last drew some attention. It was rolled and raked several weeks ago and will be rolled again. First hit for us! But the work done is not nearly enough. The teams coming from other school to compete with the Cats are surprised at the poor track, but compliment the other equipment possessed by the University. Between now and next season something should be done to improve the track.

It is not impossible to improve the track. It can be done even with depression conditions existing. If a portion of the stadium collapsed, would the University fix it? They most surely would. And the track is in exactly the same condition as the stadium would be in if it should crumble at a certain point. The Athletic association is to be commended for providing good equipment for all the sports. The public and the athletic council is made track conscious, then a good track will come.

This season's track team promises to be one of the best in recent years and should cause an awakening in interest among the student body and among local sports enthusiasts. Coach Shively has a very well balanced team. An aggregation that possesses capabilities in almost every event. The Cats placed in every event save the 400 in the meet with Vanderbilt last Saturday and only a wet track kept Foster from scoring in that event.

Several men were lost to the track team this year through graduation and Shively had to seek replacements. One of the men who reported was Doug Parrish, the red-headed star of the Paris. Doug is practically a one man track team in himself. He runs the sprint, and does it well enough to defeat almost any dash man in the South. In addition to his work in the sprint, he does the low and high hurdles and the pole vault. He also can broad jump and high jump. If necessary, the one man can compete in so many events and do justice in them all. Kercheval, who later was a sensation in four events, has confined his attention to the broad jump and javelin throw this season and promises to become a threat in both events. Parrish is a great attraction and the crowd should be much larger Saturday.

Despite weather conditions last week, the attendance at the Vanderbilt meet was very discouraging. Hardly two hundred persons braved the driving rain to watch the Cats snatch a tight meet from the visitors. With free admission and the attraction provided by the competition of two great track squads like the Wildcats and the Georgia Tech teams, a crowd large enough to fill the stadium should turn out. Saturday afternoon is usually free for the majority of students and there is little else to do. Every student should turn out and let the track squad see that the University of Kentucky is not a one or two sport school, but is well balanced in sports ideals as well as in other lines.

Cosch Downing's tennis team, back from a trip which included Alabama, Tulane and Emory universities, enjoyed hard luck, but the foes of the Blue and White racketeers had the advantage of having used the outdoor courts practically all winter. The Cat courtmen have worked out but once or twice out of doors this year, having done all their conditioning indoors and have not yet accustomed themselves to an outdoor playing surface.

When we finish our career as a columnist everyone will be as glad as Mr. Johnson said his friends were. Many are sorry to hear that we will run this column from now on. To name a few, Dr. Kelly, our English prof; Dr. Tutill, our history prof; my girl (if any); all the students of the Journalism department, assistant news editor Ed Shannon, and many others.

LAWYERS HEAR MAJOR BREWER

Military Head Points Out Differences in Civil and Military Courts in Convocation Address

At the Law Convocation held yesterday in the Law Building, Major Brewer spoke on "Military Courts and Jurisdiction," in which he compared military and civil courts in their functions. Dean Evans, of the Law school, introduced the speaker.

"In civil cases," Major Brewer said, "the grand jury investigates the case and returns an indictment if the accused is considered guilty. However, in military court-martials, charges can be preferred against anyone under military jurisdiction by an officer, private or civilian. These charges must be signed and sworn to by a person who is subject to military jurisdiction and the person who signs these charges must make an affidavit testifying that he has personal knowledge of the misdemeanors or has investigated the charges and found them true."

Kyian Election Is Declared Void

4. Thirty or more students walked out when it was announced that each Junior would stand and vote, which shows that many people came to the meeting under assumed names.

5. The time of the closing of the door was not published, which was my fault.

6. The door was closed earlier than usual and several Juniors were denied the privilege of voting because they were a minute or so late.

Under the present conditions, with the present feeling existing, and with the methods used by the so-called campus politicians, I feel that it is impossible to hold a fair and honest election. Knowing that the above conditions exist, I, Horace Helm, president of the Junior class, hereby ask the Board of Publications to select, as editor of the Kentuckian for the coming year, one of the two candidates, Mr. Palmer or Mr. Vogel, respectively.

(Signed)
HORACE HELM, President
Junior Class

"In all probability, the editors for future year books will be chosen by the Committee on Publications," stated Professor Graham. "The last meeting of the committee was held on Tuesday, April 18, and was attended by all members. The purpose of the meeting was to grant contracts for photography, engraving, and printing for the 1934 year book. The only contract that was granted, however, was for photography. The Lafayette Studio, Lexington, Ky., was selected for this purpose."

Brewer To Conduct Recruiting Station

Major Bollos E. Brewer received orders from the war department Wednesday to the effect that all officers and enlisted men in this vicinity are assigned to duty under his orders for the purpose of carrying on the proposed Civilian Conservation corps work.

The offices for this region, which includes approximately 23 counties, will be in the recruiting station in the Postoffice building. Colonel Koch was originally designated for the position of recruiting and examining the men, but due to illness, he was unable to continue as planned. Major Brewer will make his headquarters temporarily in the Postoffice building and will leave Capt. H. D. Schiebel in charge of the military department at the University.

Engineers Will Hear Rep. J. G. Scrugham

Colonel Scrugham is a splendid man. He has impressed me as one possessing fine characteristics and qualities that fit him admirably for public service. He has demonstrated in his short service here that he has ability, character and courage. I like him very much and he has made a fine impression on those of his colleagues who appreciate sterling qualities wherever found.

With every good wish and much appreciation of your thoughtfulness in writing to me, I am Sincerely your friend,
VIRGIL CHAPMAN.

Ever smoke
"whittle"
tobacco?

Well... here it is... already whittled FOR you. Granger
Rough Cut is tobacco whittled right... that's one reason why it burns so slow and cool.

WHEN we started to make Granger Rough Cut we knew that fine tobacco burnt hot because it burnt so fast. It kept your pipe hot. You could hardly hold your pipe in your hand, it got so hot at times.

Then we remembered that some folks back yonder used to "whittle" their tobacco. So we made GRANGER just like "whittle" tobacco — "Rough Cut." It smokes cooler and lasts a lot longer. And also, you'll find it never gums the pipe.

So far, so good. Now we wanted to sell this tobacco for 10c. Good tobacco—right process—cut right. It was a question of how to do it for the price.

So we put GRANGER in a sensible soft foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke a package. We gave smokers this good GRANGER tobacco in a common-sense pouch for 10c.

GRANGER has not been on sale very long, but it has grown to be a popular smoke. And there is this much about it — we have yet to know of a man who started to smoke it, who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.
