FIRST TRYOUTS ON FOR "ADMIRABLE CRICHTON"

Alluring Prospects of Numerous Trips Through State of Kentucky

TALENT IS PLENTIFUL

Future Lady Marys, Bill Crichtons, Lord Brocklehursts, and wistful eyed twentees turned out in goodly numbers at the first meeting of 1921 Stroller stage—Tuesday evening in the Stroller room.

Twice as many as the cast requires were present and other prospective contestants for the honor of place in the dramatis personae will raise the number to about forty. Forty decisions for the stage manager to make, forty very determined, very pugnacious problems for him to solve.

However Mr. Evans, Herndon, of Frankfort, Major, Kappa Sig., the same, etc., has, through experience, climbed above the petty annoyance of a Stroller play from deciding the cast to hearing the last thunders of applause, following a successful performance. As stage manager of a successful Fitch play "The Climbers," of 1920, Mr. Evans is unusually well fitted for his present office.

The play may be accused of being Mille "Male and Female," wherein another version of the great Cecil de Tom Meighan and Gloria Swanson showed strength and charm. The Admirable Crichton, as producer for the screen, was changed from the Barrie original, one entire act omitted, and the purpose of the play mislaid. Bill Crichton and Lady Mary did survive as the leads. One may expect "Admirable Crichton" a resemblance to Male and Female. Understudies will be chosen for each role and changes in the first may be swift, sudden and cruel if members of the second cast members show superior ability. Old Strollers and new were almost evenly divided in the first tryout.

The alluring prospects of trips with the play through Kentucky, east and west, as true wandering players is not a vain illusion. Louisville and Pineville Alumnae Associations, Mt. Sterling and the "Purchase" cities have made offers.

Tryouts will continue for perhaps three weeks. The date of the performance will be arranged for late March.

SOPHS — ATTENTION!

The second annual dance to be given by the class of 1923 is slated for Saturday, January 29. All class dues must be paid before that date. Be prompt and pay your dues. Every Sophomore is expected to pay the small fee of $1.50 as voted by the class. The fact that you may not attend the dance does not eliminate you from paying your class dues as your class has other functions in view which every Sophomore should support.

The following members are collecting from their respective colleges: Gilbert Smith, Arts and Sciences; J. E. Humphrey, Agriculture; J. P. Chin, Engineering; A. Hodges, Pre-Medical; J. L. Hayes, Law; Katherine Conroy and Louis Connell are collecting from the girls.

LOUISVILLE ALUMNI CLUB TO RAISE FUND

The Louisville Alumni Club will have a supper at the Sealbach Hotel on January 19, for the purpose of raising $1,500. One thousand dollars will be used to rent a room in the Starks building for the use of the alumni and Kentucky students as a club room and $500 to buy furniture.

The alumni club was reorganized December 10 due to the efforts of Herbert Graham, alumni secretary. Leo Sandman was elected president and Mrs. Krieger and Mr. Grady will act as leaders of the club.

BASKETBALL SEASON TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

Kentucky Wesleyan Quintet To Invade Kentucky Campus.

The Wildcat Basketball team will open the season Wednesday night when they meet the quintet representing Kentucky Wesleyan College, in the University gymnasium. The Wildcats are already in mid-season form and expect an easy victory over the Methodists.

Last year the Wesleyan basketeers were swamped under an overwhelming score when they attempted to wrest the basketball honors from the Kentuckians. The Wildcats scored almost at will against them and had practically no opposition. This year the Winchester lads have a much better team and a livelier contest is promised than the last time they graced the Kentucky floor.

Coach Buchelt has been working hard with his cagers since the holidays and they are showing rare form. However when they appear in action tomorrow night against the enemy more can be told about their ability to hit the elusive basket and keep their opponents from doing the same.

Wesleyanites will be in good practice by the time they play Kentucky as they have already played two games one of them with Centre last Saturday night which resulted disastrously for the Methodists. Tomorrow's game will give some idea of how Centre and Kentucky compare with each other in the race for the State championship.

The exact line-up has not been given out by the coach as he has not yet decided just whom he will start in the initial encounter. The following men will probably get into the game: Captain Hayden, Ridgeway, Lavin, Burnham, Fuller, Wilhelm, Smith, Fuller, Adkins, King, Witherspoon, Siler, Bibson, Pointz, Langford, Rieskin and Fest.

MISS MURPHY IS IN JOURNALISTIC GAME

Miss Elizabeth Murphey, Paducah, former student of journalism at the University of Kentucky and popular member of Kappa Delta sorority, has accepted a position as feature editor on the Lexington Leader. Miss Murphey has been doing newspaper work for more than two years and is one of the most talented young women in the profession in Kentucky.

CAPTAIN BASIL HAYDEN

SPRAINED KNEE MAY KEEP HAYDEN OUT

Captain of Wildcat Basket Tossers Not to Play Against Wesleyan.

Captain Hayden, the valiant leader of the 1921 Wildcat basketball squad may not be able to take part in the game against Kentucky Wesleyan Wednesday night. He has been suffering for some time with a sprained knee and although he has been out for practice every day has been allowed only a light work out.

Hayden is one of the best forwards in the South and his absence will be keenly felt by the Wildcats. It is thought that he will be entirely recovered in another week and will be able to lead his teammates against the foe in the harder games of the season.

FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN OF "Y" IS SUCCESS

Colonels Server and Prewitt Make Favorable Report.

TOTAL $1,481.23

The annual financial campaign of the University Y. M. C. A. was conducted in December with the result that $1,481.23 was reported as subscribed for the work of the Association for the year 1920-21.

The Campaign was a contest between the Blues headed by James Server and the Whites with Burton Prewitt as their Colonel. The Blues raised $463.00 while the Whites were getting $411.50 subscribed and thus won by the narrow margin of $26.50.

The total amount raised from the students was $919.00 and from the faculty $496.73.

Those who were asked and responded, gave liberally and it is the purpose of the Y. M. C. A. to use the money as wisely as it was given.

The captains of the Blues and Whites were: Blues—Flenor Heath, Stuart Neff, Robert Raible, Gilbert Smith and P. P. Bell; Whites—Robert Davis, George Baumgarten, John Albright, George Zerfoss and Berl Body.

FRESHMEN WALLOP CYNTHIANA HI FIVE

The Freshman Class basketball quintet won from a team representing Cynthiana High School in a hotly contested game played on the floor in Cynthiana Friday night; the score being 26 to 8.

The Freshmen displayed real talent with the sphere, shooting baskets at will. Members of the Freshmen squad are Fitch, Campbell, Dewhurst, Spillman, Barnes, Bottom, Power. "Daddy" Boles was official chaperon for the visiting outfit.

MEN VS. WOMEN SUBJECT FOR CHAPEL DEBATE

Philosophian and Patterson Literary Societies to Argue Question

UNIQUE PROGRAM

It is bringing some very interesting consequences. The Philosophian Literary Society, consisting of women has challenged the Patterson Literary Society, consisting of men on the subject of Women's Rights. The men with much agility accepted the challenge and they are ready for the duel. The battle ground will be the Chapel at the fifth hour, on Friday, January 14. The question for discussion will be, Resolved: That it is to the Best Interests of the Country to Have the Women Hold Political Offices on Equality with the Men.

Lucile Moore and Hallie Hunt will be the exponents of women's rights, and they will assume the affirmative side of the question. L. C. Fielder and R. T. Johnson will defend the men, in maintaining that the political offices shall be the one exclusive prize of the male element, and in so doing will assume the negative side of the question.

Professor W. H. Mikesell, who is directing the debate, will carefully instruct the judges to vote upon the pure merits of the question. The feminine charm of the fair sex must not have an undue influence upon the judges. For once in their life, they must set aside romance and sentiment. Moreover, the girls are especially determined that they shall be placed on full equality with the men, and not be favored in any way, shape or form. They desire to "stand their ground" as at least equals to the men in regard to a discussion of an important question of every-day life.

The student body cannot afford to miss this debate. The first speakers will have seven minutes; the second speakers will have six minutes; first speakers in rebuttal will have three minutes; second speakers in rebuttal will have two minutes.

NOTICE TO FACULTY

Members of the teaching staff of the University who attended meetings of various educational bodies during the holidays are respectfully requested to mail through the University post-office, their names, and names of the organization whose meeting they attended to Enoch Grehan, secretary of the University Forum, to be used in preparation of the forthcoming monthly meeting program.

ROBIN HOOD NEARS FINAL REHEARSAL

Members of Cast Appear To Advantage in Admirably Taken Roles

J. R. CURRY HAS LEAD

The members of Robin Hood's outlaw band today enter their last week of frenzied preparation, rehearsal, costuming and song, for on Wednesday, January 19, the opera will give its opening performance at the Lexington Opera House. On Thursday evening the opera will be repeated.

Reginald de Koven's opera, "Robin Hood," is the most ambitious production ever attempted by the musical department of the University. A cast of ten, a chorus of sixty, and music by a twenty-piece orchestra are outstanding features of the extravaganza.

The title role, that of the dashing/outlaw, will be sung by J. R. Curry, that of Maid Marian, his charming consort in the forest kingdom of Sherwood, by Martha McClure. Curry has been prominent in all the musical activities of the University, having been a member of the men's glee club since his entrance. He has a tenor voice and is showing up well in his part. Miss McClure, a Lexington girl, has pleased University audiences on other occasions with the lovely quality of her soprano voice. She shows unusual grace and charm in her interpretation of the arch maid.

Neal Sullivan will acquire honors as the wicked, plotting Sheriff of Nottingham. Margaret Smith of Stroller distinction and remembered for her role in "The Feast of the Little Lanterns," the operetta of last season, is proving delightful as the outlaw, Allan-a-Dale. Justina Heim as Annabel, the sentimental village lass, has revealed a sweet soprano voice. Others of the cast are Lucie Smith as Dame Duren, C. C. Anderson as Will Scarlett, Tom Riley as Friar Tuck, Tom Brooks as Little John, and Jack Derringer as Guy of Gisborne.

The operetta is under the direction of Professor Lampert and Herndon Evans.

At the beginning of the opera, a merry-making is in progress at the market place in Nottingham. The three out-

FRESHMEN'S 'AT HOME' TUESDAY EVENING

President and Mrs. McVey, assisted by a group of upper-class girls, will be at home to the students and faculty members of the University Tuesday evening, January 11, at Maxwell Place. No individual invitations will be issued but all students and faculty members will be cordially welcomed.

The girls who have been asked to act as assistant student hostesses are:

Mary Archer Bell, Lillie Cromwell, Jessie C. Todd, Leonna Duckwall, Margaret Griffith, Margaret Harbison, Fay Lane, Frances Marsh, Pearl Morgan, Lucile Mosely, Dorothea Murphy, Kathleen Oglesby, Anna Brackett Owen, Mildred Porter, Kate Reddish, Henrietta Rogers, Theresa Ross, Virginia Shanklin, Adele Siade, Mildred Summerville, Roxane Trimble, Mary Helen Whitworth.

GETTING READY FOR EXAMS.

With less than three weeks remaining in this semester the campus has taken on an aspect of seriousness which will probably remain until after examinations. Many activities have been suspended. The weekly bulletin is shorter this week than it has been any week this year. The library is crowded with students, from mighty Senior to lowly Freshman, all endeavoring to absorb enough knowledge in these last few days to carry them by the finals with flying colors.

With the men and women more studious the school takes on more the appearance of a real University. If throughout the year, we put our time into the things that count and gave less time to the transient calls made upon us our school year would be more beneficial to us.

The Kernel believes, however, that while much of a student's time should be devoted to studying, the primary purpose for which most of us are in college, a reasonable amount of time should also be given to the campus activities. The activities complement scholastic work; they develop in a different way from the developments of class room work. Plenty of time can be found for both studying and participation in a reasonable number of activities if we use our time to the best advantage and waste none of it.

"PAGING MISTER RED-D-D!"

The Red Head Club will hold a social in the Little Theatre tomorrow night at 7:30. Doctor Funkhouser and Professor Farquhar will explain the physiological and psychological benefits of being red headed. All red heads on the campus are invited to the meeting.

CROUSE FINDS PROCESS FOR MAKING GASOLINE

U. K. Professor is Conducting Experiments of Importance.

TO BE MADE CHEAPLY

If the matter of ample petroleum supplies is not the world problem today, it must at least be included among the few really big questions on which thinking men the world over are spending a good deal of energy.

The world's petroleum situation as it exists today is this:

The demand is keeping pace with production and bears every promise of expanding in the future as rapidly as more crude oil can be supplied. It has been estimated that the world's consumption, which in 1919 took 327,000,000 barrels, and this year is using 615,000,000 barrels, will call for close to 700,000,000 barrels in 1921.

Where and how is this production to be obtained? Will the natural oil production as it stands today hold out for any length of time, with consumption increasing as it has within the last few years? These are the questions that are confronting the thinking men of the world, and are to an extent being met with experiments that prove that the supply will last indefinitely if proper means are used by which oil can be extracted from the earth without drilling for it.

This idea seems preposterous at first thought, but upon investigation it has been found out that right here at the University an experiment is being carried on by which auto fuel can be made from Kentucky stone. This experiment is being conducted by C. G. Crouse, Professor of Metallurgy, who has announced that he believes that he has found a process whereby oil can be extracted from the shale which underlies practically all of Kentucky except the Blue Grass region and which outcrops abundantly on the outer edge of the latter area.

The process, he said, calls for the operation of a plant consisting primarily of a report in which the shale is placed and by the application of heat, known as destructive distillation, the kerogen or what is commonly known as organic matter in the shale is driven off in the form of gas and then condensed into crude oil. The plan calls for the operation of the plant by means of the noncondensable gases obtained from the shale, thus making the process a great deal cheaper as the shale furnishes fuel for its own decomposition.

Mr. Crouse contined that the crude oil obtained from slate in Eastern Kentucky by this process is composed of 25% gasoline, 50% burning oils, such as kerosene and light lubricants and 25% tars and paraffin wax. Besides the different products obtained from the crude oil there is also a certain amount of nitrogen which can be recovered from what is left of the shale, and converted into ammonium sulphate, which is widely used as a fertilizer. An average of 21 gallons of crude oil can be recovered from a ton of shale and Mr. Crouse says that he is trying to develop a commercial retort that will greatly increase this amount, so that a fair profit can thus be made in this industry.

He said that this will be a straight manufacturing proposition and unlike drilling for oil there will be no gamble to it. The average plant will turn out 1,000 tons of shale a day, and as the shale is found so abundantly right on the surface of the earth, all that is necessary will be to dig it out with a steam shovel, convert it into crude oil, refine the crude oil, and if there is no railroad in the vicinity the oil can be piped to the market.

MYSTIC THIRTEEN TO GIVE THEATRE PARTY

Students Return After Gay Holiday Season

The Christmas vacation at the University of Kentucky of the year 1920-1921, beginning December 17 and ending January 4, is now a thing of the past, but one of pleasant memories to the large majority of the student body and faculty. The vacation, coming after the long months of scholastic pursuits, was most gladly welcomed by all. Up to this time there were few who were not equally as glad to return to the University after a gay holiday season, or a quiet rest as the case may have been, as they had been to leave, glad to return to the studies and pleasures in which all are so vitally interested, and sincerely hope that the New Year will bring success and much good fortune to the University and those connected with it.

From the almost invariable perfect attendance reports from the various classes on Tuesday and Wednesday it is evident that the ruling concerning absences before and after holidays is most effective.

KENTUCKY GRADUATE INVENTS PERMEAMETER

Steel Test Machine Is Found
Successful in Official Tests.

C. W. GORDON, Inventor.

C. W. Gordon, of Lexington, a 1920 graduate of the University of Kentucky, and now a member of the engineering staff of the Locomotive Superheater Company at its East Chicago Branch has perfected an instrument known as permeameter, with which the mechanical properties of steel may be tested without destroying the material.

The permeameter is constructed, as explained by Mr. Gordon, of two massive iron yokes suitably supported on a fibre base, with two sets of magnetizing and test coils between them. To obtain uniformity of flux, auxiliary magnetizing coils are wound near the end of each of the main magnetizing coils.

By means of this invention the magnetic qualities of steel such as, maximum induction, residual induction and coercive force are plotted against its drawing temperature. Consequently the mechanical properties of tensile strength, elastic limit and elongation are plotted against the same drawing temperatures as are used in the magnetic tests. The utility of the permeameter depends upon the fact that magnetic tests are not destructive to the steel and that for each set of magnetic characteristics there is one and only one set of mechanical characteristics. Consequently the mechanical characteristics of the tested piece are known from its magnetic properties.

Mr. Gordon has been conducting official tests at the University laboratories this week and will continue his tests for two weeks or more. He is assisted by a number of the Senior electrical engineers. Tests made this week have been highly successful and Mr. Gordon has expressed himself as well pleased with the progress made.

STUDENTS' FURNISHINGS LOST IN SMALL FIRE

Tom Hagan and Cresap Hays, students in the University, had the misfortune of losing practically all their clothing in a fire which broke out in their room in the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house Tuesday morning at 11:30 o'clock.

The cause of the fire is unknown. Quick work on the part of the City Fire Department kept the fire from burning the entire building, confining the damage to the one room. Hagan and Hays estimate their damages to be about $800.

Military News

By Katherine Conroy

New Uniforms

A new plan in connection with the provision of uniforms for the battalion for next year is being worked on by the Military department. As yet nothing has been decided on, but the first step is to ascertain if the student body is in favor of the change. At present a dark blue uniform with lapels on the coat, an overseas cap, and trousers without leggings, is under consideration. The uniform is very attractive and much more distinctive than the khaki one, worn at present. The plan for the payment of the uniforms has been carefully worked out and promises to be very effective. Each cadet will purchase his uniform at an approximate cost of $36. If worn the full school term the government will reimburse the student the full amount of $36. If it is worn for less time the government will reimburse at the rate of $4.00 per month for each month it has been used. At the end of the year the student owns the uniform and may do with it as he pleases. However upon returning to the University the next year the government will give only $9.00 toward a second uniform.

Summer Camp

Summer camps for the R. O. T. C. of Kentucky will be held this year at Camp Knox, near Louisville. These camps have proven to be a great success and are considered of unlimited importance and value to students and a very large attendance is anticipated for this year.

The camp embraces two classes of courses; an advanced course which is required and attended nominally by advance course students between their Junior and Senior years, and the basic or elementary course which is optional to all Freshmen and Sophomores. All expenses necessary to attend the camp will be assumed by the government.

New Band Instruments

A new set of band instruments, of which the band has been in dire need, have been furnished by the government. They are of a very fine type and the number received with the ones already owned by the University will furnish the cadets with a band of 56 pieces.

ALUMNUS IN MICHIGAN AGRICULTURAL FACULTY

C. W. Bennet, '17, has been appointed instructor in Botany at the Michigan Agricultural College.

NORTHERN KENTUCKY CLUB IS ORGANIZED

The Northern Kentucky Club organized in October has made excellent progress in carrying out definite plans decided upon last fall. The club boasts of a membership of forty-five from Kenyon, Boone and Campbell counties.

The purpose of the club is to interest northern Kentucky high schools in the University of Kentucky. Fifteen schools were visited by four-minute speakers during Christmas and the Kernel is sent to the Senior class of each high school every week. The plans of the club include a big dance to be given Easter in Covington to which all the seniors in northern Kentucky high schools will be invited. Advantage will be taken of this occasion to tell the high school students more about the University of Kentucky and speeches will be given by the different members. The biggest scheme the club has on foot is to procure from the Chamber of Commerce and Woman's Art Club of Covington two scholarships—one for a boy and one for a girl to pay entire expenses for four years at the University of Kentucky. The scholarships will be given through the club and the club will choose the students.

The towns represented in membership are Covington, Newport, Bellevue, Ft. Thomas, Latonia, Ludlow, Erlanger and Walton.

Dean Smrall attended the last regular meeting of the club, and promised to do all in her power to help in its plans.

laws, Little John, Will Scarlett, and Friar Tuck, enter and sing of their free life in the Forest of Sherwood, and finally the handsome, dashing Robin Hood appears, declaring that he is the Earl of Huntington, and demanding that the Sheriff shall so proclaim him. The Sheriff, however, protests that the youth has been disinherited by his own father, who before the birth of Robin Hood was secretly married to a peasant girl, who died when her child was an infant. The child is Sir

Guy Gisborne, the rightful heir to the earldom and the Sheriff's ward, whom he is planning to marry to Lady Marlon, ward of the Crown. However the young girl and Robin Hood are already deeply in love and exchange vows of eternal faith, much to the indignation of Sir Guy. The rest of the opera is the exciting solution of the lovers' problem and their idyllic romance in the forest.

SECOND CADET HOP HELD SATURDAY

The second Cadet Hop was held in the Armory Saturday afternoon, January 8 and was one of the most enjoyable afternoon dances of the season. Although only cadets and officers of the battalion were given admission there was a splendid crowd and every one enjoyed it immensely.

KITTENS WILL PLAY CINCINNATI SATURDAY

Girls' Schedule For Season Promises to Be Very Interesting.

The girls basketball team not to be outdone by the boys in the scheduling of games for the season, are to play their first game on January 22 in the boys' gymnasium, with the University of Cincinnati as their opponents. The tentative lineup is: Lilly Cromwell, center; Bernice Young, Margaret Jameson, forwards; Katie Henry, Fannie Heller, guards; Dorothy Potter, Margaret Black, Mildred Morris, Florine Starr, substitutes.

The complete schedule is not ready for publication but we are promised two games with Kentucky Wesleyan, two with Martha Washington College, Virginia; and one with Sullins College, Virginia. The team which has been practicing since Thanksgiving, is in good shape and the season will undoubtedly be a successful one.

PROFESSORS ATTEND MANY CONVENTIONS

12 Kentucky Instructors Went to Chicago During Holidays; 1 to St. Louis

While the students were at home gorging fruit cake and plum pudding with vanilla-flavored hard sauce, many of the dear professors were maintaining the standing of the University and improving their own minds (oh yes, a few of them admit that there is a little room for improvement) at various conventions here and there over the United States.

To Chicago went Dr. Tigert, Dr. Terrill, Dr. Miller, Dr. Funkhouser, Dr. Schull, Dean Boyd, Dr. Shirago, Professor Dantzer, Professor Matthews, Professor Nalleau, Miss Didlake and Miss Lowe; some to attend the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, some the American Teachers' Association, and still others the meeting of the Modern Language Association.

Professor Enoch Grehan, all alone, ventured down to Missouri to a convention of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism, at St. Louis. For three days he lived like a gentleman—not a mere college professor—in the Statler Hotel, smoking cigars and occasionally dropping in on round table discussions and what-nots. Other notable men who attended were: Professor Cunliffe of Columbia University, collaborate author of Cunliffe and Lomar's "Newswritings of Today;" Professors Harrington, Frankenberg and Bleyer, all text book writers.

All the professors returned, safe and sound, to impart to their respective (and respectful) pupils the knowledge which they have received, gratified that they too are being quoted in many of the leading universities of the country.

PRESIDENT McVEY SEES GREAT FUTURE FOR U. K.

Outlines Big Program For Improving University Equipment.

U. K. GROWING RAPIDLY

President McVey, in his November report to the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky, pointed out that in view of rapid increase in enrollment in the University, many improvements must be made on the campus in order to keep pace with the increasing attendance.

During the last ten years the enrollment has increased about 300 per cent., this conclusion being that in 1930 the University may expect not less than 3,200 students. Since students have been turned away already it is easy to see that it would be utterly impossible to care for such an increase without doubling the facilities of the University in the next ten years.

A list of buildings and equipment which President McVey sees necessary, is as follows:

Central heating and lighting plant, $400,000.

A gymnasium for women, $200,000.

Three new dormitories for men (making a total of four), $400,000.

New Arts and Science building (replacing Neville Hall and old chemistry building and giving old science hall to College of Law), $500,000.

Steam and Hydraulics Laboratory, $300,000.

New Blacksmith Shop and Foundry, $100,000.

Gymnasium and Concrete Stadium, $500,000.

Remodel old Gymnasium for other use, $50,000.

Armory, $350,000.

Buy Negro property adjacent to the Campus, $50,000.

Commons Building, $100,000.

DEBATING TEAM TO MEET CINCINNATI

Restriction of Immigration To Be Subject of Discussion.

Professor W. H. Mikesell wishes to announce that the subject of debate between the University of Kentucky and the University of Cincinnati will be:

"Resolved, That Immigration should be restricted."

All students who are interested in varsity debating are invited to join Professor Mikesell's class, which meets Fridays at 2:30. The first of these meetings will be held in the Little Theatre Friday at 2:30.

At this time Doctor Best will talk on the general subject of "Immigration." After the address there will be a short debate on the subject, with Arnold and Berryman on the affirmative and Alperin and Hays on the negative.

The first debate of the season will be with Cincinnati, March 25. Students who have signed with Professor Mikesell for the class are: Bell, Burchett, Lloyd, Vincent, Johnson, Fielder, Clusin, Arnold, Berryman, Hays, Wilson, Alperin, Richards, Porter, Logan, Swearingin, Conkright, Hunt, Moore, Heath, Kiriley, Eblen, Zukerman and Miss Slade.
