The research will be segregated into four divisions — concrete, bituminous, soil mechanics, and chemical — stated Dean Terrell.

Donovan Denies Charge That Veterans Pay Fee

The charge that the University is profiting on war veterans which was made by Arch Stafford, national secretary of the American War Dads, was denied by Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University. Stafford, in speaking at a meeting of the Kentucky association of the War Dads, asserted that this and other tax-supported universities were charging non-resident fees to returning war veterans.

"As a matter of fact, the University of Kentucky has had veterans enrolled for the past year and to date the Veterans Administration has not paid any fee whatsoever for any man enrolled under the GI Bill of Rights," Dr. Donovan stated. The fee, Dr. Donovan said, would be the same as that charged for any other student, when the arrangement is made with the Veterans Administration.

"The veteran pays nothing, whatsoever," he emphasized.

Question: Are you in favor of the non-fraternization policy in Germany?

Josephine Stofer, A&S, Grad student: Definitely, for married men. Pvt. Dick Platoff, AST: No, if I go over there I'll want to fraternize too.

Ollie Dykes, Ed., grad student: Yes, because we've been fighting Nazism for so long and now that we've conquered it we mustn't give in to it.

Pvt. Bill Simpson, AST: No, because I don't see how non-fraternization can work.

Kathleen Poor, Ag., sophomore: Yes, because we ought to leave well enough alone.

Norma Sides, A&S, freshman: Yes, because the Germans are no good.

Pvt. Bob Cummings, AST: No, I feel for the boys.

1. FLASH! I suppose all of you gals have seen the boy referred to as "Heathcliff." Here are some vital statistics on him. Name, Charles Walker; age, 28; education, four degrees, and two more to come. Now prepare for a let down. He is dating one of our well known coeds—Billie Fischer. She doesn't know I know, but up until Wednesday, she had had five dates with him and she only met him Saturday. Further statistics leading to identification are that he is seen constantly at Joyland in yellow trunks mostly with a baseball cap on.

2. That Social Stuff: We all should know by now that Bill Chambers has been married to Corinne Ledford since February 5, but according to latest word from Bill himself, he is going to be a parent.

Good luck and best wishes to Wilbur Schu and Helen Blake on their brand new engagement. From what Bettye Jo Woolum says, Bob Ogden and Spinnay Merwin have met and are good friends, so watch what you say in the future.

3. Sounding Off: Obviously we have some children who got to college by mistake. Only a very childish person would pin up signs like the one placed on the door of the post office. It wasn't enlightening, or even very cute, so let's grow up.

Having nothing to say, we began to think about nothing. Nothing has decidedly romantic implications. Think of all the interesting nothings in non-existence!

Ambling away from the preamble, consider the geometric and architectural dimensions of nothing. Nothing may be cylindrical; like the place where the pimento was in a Martini's olive. Or it may be round, as is the case of a doughnut's hole.

Then there are emotional nothings. How happy is the sight of a coffin—when nothing is in it! How sad is the aspect of nothing in a beer bottle. How angry you are when the bank informs you that you have nothing in your account! How disappointed you are when there's nothing in your mail box!

Consider now the beauty of nothing. What would the Parthenon be without the nothing between the columns? What would love be if it weren't the case that there is nothing that lovers wouldn't do for each other? "Heard melodies are sweet, but those unheard are sweeter"—nothing.

To summarize, the essence of nothing is

Summer school should be abolished. Classes start so early in the morning that you either turn off the alarm clock, crawl back to bed and sleep through your class, or get out of bed, crawl to class and go back to sleep as soon as you reach your seat. And it's difficult to sleep comfortably in a stuffy classroom. We suggest that the profs, who are more to be pitied than censured for holding and meeting sunrise classes (it's rumored that they're human, too), dash cold water on each entering somnambulist, serve iced drinks every fifteen minutes and intersperse their lectures with mirth-provoking tidbits. We know—it all sounds silly, but wotthehell—four-jours gal!

We quote Avery Hale, who says, "On a recent evening, the three-year-old daughter of a couple in Syracuse kneeled alongside the crib to say her prayers. She had been told that on the following morning her parents were taking her to New York City, where they were going to make their future home. And so the little girl finished her evening prayers thus: 'God bless daddy and God bless mommy. And good-bye, God—we're all goin' to New York.'"

Patton To Speak At Vesper Services

The Rev. R. R. Patton, pastor of the Park Methodist church, will speak at 6:15 Sunday afternoon on the lawn of Patterson hall, in the fourth of the series of interfaith vesper services.

"Do you suppose it's bad luck for a cat to follow you?"
"It all depends; are you a man or a mouse?"

4. Goodby: It's goodbye and good luck to two swell girls who are leaving for the armed service soon—Ewing Brown and Tassie Holton. Ewing, I'm even willing to forget about the bathing suit.

Three of the saddest people, seen over the weekend were—Jess McCune, Gene Marlowe, and Freddie Ferris.

Your women were away, but I am sorry you took it so hard.

5. Seen Around: Ike Weaver and Betty Rose.

Then there are George Blanda and Gloria Johnson, who enjoy just looking at each other.

Don't trust this spelling, but Bob Schliecht got his lip cut in the blue and white football game, so he couldn't have a date afterwards with Mary Alice Duncan.

Why does Joan Sellers call Morgan Fears, MP? Who knows, those may be his initials.

6. From most reports the Sigma Chi party at the Paddock was one of the best of the summer. Tica Holland's captain is most interesting.

The PIKA's prefer Clays Ferry for the best in good times. The swimming is swell, and oh so relaxing, except for an expedition up "Sore Foot" creek.

Money can be lost in more ways than won.

the Nazis invaded his native Holland in 1940, he discovered that he was already on their black list and had to flee to America.

Since he has been in America, he has lectured (under New York management) before university, college, and school audiences; chambers of commerce; men's, women's, and service clubs; scientific groups; teachers' conventions; Army and Navy camps, and churches. Last year he made a six-weeks tour for the National War Fund, and this is to be repeated this fall. Another assignment was a two-day session before the Northwestern N.E.A. convention. These appearances have taken him into 44 states of the Union, where he has also broadcast over most of the leading radio stations, including a week as World Front Observer over WLW, Cincinnati.

During his years in America, he has kept closely in touch with his government, and thus is up-to-date in all matters concerning the years of Nazi occupation in Holland, as well as the situation today. His book, "The Night Is Far Spent," is scheduled for publication this month.

He Guides WHAS' Unceasing Flow of News

News was never more important! The need for news was never greater! Aware of this fact, WHAS devotes 127 broadcasts each week to unglorified, authentic reports of the news as it occurs. To guide the flow of news . . . to assure you the most important, most complete accounts of history-making events quickly . . . to bring you special events of significance, PAUL RUSSELL HUDDLESTON has been brought to WHAS as Director of News and Special Events.

Paul writes newscasts, edits and supervises the voluminous work of five news-writers, and keeps a watchful eye on the unceasing flow of news pouring out of six Associated Press and United Press teletype printers. In addition, with keen insight and knowing direction he makes sure that WHAS gives you on-the-scene reports of important special events.

Born in Campbellsville, Kentucky, the son of a Methodist minister, Paul has lived all over the State. While getting his degree at Western State Teachers College Paul edited the "College Heights Herald." During his first year as law student at the University of Louisville he decided to forsake the courts for the air waves, and got his first full-time radio job at WSIX, Nashville, as news editor. Later he became head of the news department at WLAC, in that city, and came to WHAS a short time ago from WBBB, Burlington, N. C., where he was Program Director. A serious student of world events, Paul has written many interpretative articles for newspapers in the South, and at one time had his own news commentary on a network of six radio stations.

Making sure that WHAS listeners get authentic, intelligent reports of world events, as well as interesting items about Kentuckiana, occupies many hours of Paul's daily 24 and keeps him from spending much time with Mrs. Huddleston and their three lively sons, 8, 5 and 1½ years of age.
