Prayer Before Games

The newly established practice of having a moment's prayer before ball games should be made a permanent part of the University's athletic program.

It's a hopeful note in times like these to see a large non-sectarian school take time out to think about the spiritual side of life and the world's need for better understanding. The sense of unity which is naturally present at a large athletic contest provides a good atmosphere in which understanding can grow.

The Athletic Department is to be congratulated upon this contribution, not only to those who attend the games, but to the University as a whole.

Our Campus Canal

The results of last week-end's monsoon brings to the front the old problem of the lakes and rivers in the Botanical Gardens.

It has been firmly established that it is a physical impossibility to walk from the steps by the practice field to the Fine Arts Building without getting one's socks to that sticky, oozy stage so conducive to discomfort and colds. No matter how carefully one may jump from island to island, sooner or later he comes face to face with a body of water that might as well be the Mississippi. There's nothing to do but take the plunge.

The students who have night classes on the other side of this Botanic Atlantic can at least be thankful for one improvement. Thanks to the new street lights, they can now choose their puddles carefully instead of wading blindly into the dark channel.

This sidewalk is getting too busy and too important to be left in this condition any longer. If something isn't done soon, we'd like to suggest to some enterprising student that he might pay his way through school selling hip boots and row boats to the floundering souls out on the Botanical Garden deep.

Crashing Wrong Line
With the rush at the cafeteria around 12 o'clock, and with the added number of people who are forced to sit there now that Little Commons has been closed, it is high time someone did something about the cute little practice of cutting line.
Undoubtedly, everyone would like to, and the majority have tried at one stage or the other to complete this maneuver, but to date the only ones who have met with continued success are the athletic scholarship boys.
The practice of about five or six minutes casually strolling into the room, slipping up to a buddy already in line, and monotonously chatting with him until the line moves up to the knife and fork rack is the slickest method of getting ahead of the "non-privileged."

Another method—if the culprit gets caught in the act by the lone hostess on duty—is to say, "Well, I've got to see so-and-so just a minute. I'm not cutting line." And so the innocent little 200-pounder is allowed to chat until all is forgotten, and he becomes a part of the ever-swelling mass.
Multiply these instances by about 100 football players and about 35 basketballers plus their buddies and girl friends, and you have quite a problem on your hands.
Let's look at it realistically. We fully appreciate the athletic endeavors of these lads. We know they bring prestige and publicity to the University. But the scholarships granted them do not include the privilege of cutting line.
Let's cut it out, fellas—we're hungry, too.

Says Yells Lack Pep
What's lacking at UK that the U. of Mississippi has? It's not a team or a band. It's cheer leaders that like to get out in front of a crowd and really give forth with some pep, peppy, and entertaining yells. Cheer leaders are an asset to any sport if they are good. The UK group have no new yells, they yell at the wrong time, and they don't seem to enjoy it whenever they do yell.
Please, do something new that hasn't been done in the last ten years. This spectator will be watching to see if this letter goes unnoticed.
Miss Marian Gail

And She Agrees
Even though the Mississippi team didn't defeat the Wildcats of Kentucky, the cheerleaders of Mississippi certainly outplayed the UK cheerleaders.
They had the pep and enthusiasm that a cheer leader should have and they really looked as though they were having a good time. What we need are some new yells and a little more enthusiasm from the cheer leaders — and let's do away with a triple threat and have a great cheering section.

Respectfully,
Mrs. J. W. Brown

STEF RIGHT! Everybody! See all the side shows at Leino's Carnival Friday night. The Carnival is an annual affair, and you don't want to miss it. Clyde Trask and his band will furnish the music for the dance after the carnival and it will really be fine. Remember, 7:30 at the Intramural field.

Notice! Special bulletin. One o'clock permission has been granted for the girls the night of the Lanes Carnival.

THE NEWMAN CLUB is having a picnic at 2:15 Sunday afternoon at Avon Signal Depot. It is going to be a box-lunch affair. The girls prepare box lunches, and then the boys buy them. The boys won't know whose box they are getting so there will be lots of suspense as well as fun.

PHI MU ALPHA, honorary music fraternity, will host to a group of russhes at a "Smoker" at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, October 15 in the SUB. After the "Smoker" those present will attend the recital of Katharine Patch at Memorial Hall.

INFORMAL RUSH for the societies ends Tuesday, October 11. The second bid sheet will come out on this day. Any girls who were not on the fall rush list, and would like to be rushed next semester should sign up immediately in the office of the Dean of Women. Those whose names were on the fall rush list are automatically included in this list.

PHI ALPHA DELTA, legal fraternity, held an informal party for members and pledges last night at the Rock House.

GAIN, YOU'D BETTER be saving up your money cause "Sadie Hawkins" week's here. Beginning Monday, you can call up those boys you have had your eye on, and ask them for a date. It is perfectly legal, so you better make your dates soon.

I guess that's about it for this weekend, except the list of Cupid's Capers. He has been a mighty busy little fellow this week. I kid you not. Those hayrides must have done the trick.

Chemical Research helped produce
Better Tires For You

The tires on your car right now may have cords of Cordura® High Tenacity Rayon yarn. If so, you benefit from one of the most important contributions that Du Pont scientists have made through the years to the automotive industry.

"Cordura" High Tenacity Rayon is comparable to structural steel in tensile strength. It makes possible tires that are at one lighter, stronger and safer than pre-war tires. Unlike natural fibers, the qualities of this product of chemical science are always uniform.

UNDIES TO TIRES
At first, rayon was used mainly in making articles of clothing. However, with an improved tire cord in mind, Du Pont scientists set out to produce a tougher rayon than any previously known. The problem was given to a skilled team whose members included organic, physical and analytical chemists, physicists, and chemical and mechanical engineers.

One of their first discoveries was that strength could be increased by using cotton liners as the source of cellulose, in place of wood pulp. It was found, also, that the viscose solution had to be prepared and handled with extreme care. Perhaps the most important lesson was one which the silkworm had taught centuries before: stretching increases strength. The Du Pont experimenters stretched the new yarn and made rayon with a tensile strength of about 70,000 pounds to the square inch—more than twice the strength of textile rayon then being produced.

TRIED AND PROVED
With the cooperation of tire manufacturers, "Cordura" was tested in heavy-duty tires on baking-hot desert roads. During the war it proved itself on command cars, trucks and jeeps. Today, rayon-cord tires are widely used on trucks and buses, and leading manufacturers use Du Pont "Cordura" in tires they make for passenger cars.

The combination of lightness and strength offered by these articles. But because Du Pont scientists had an idea and the facilities and funds to develop it, many businesses can now offer you better products to make life safer and more enjoyable.

SEND FOR "The Story of Cellulose," a 43-page, illustrated booklet that describes the making of viscose and acetate rayon, lacquers, plastics, coated fabrics, etc. Many charts and equations. For free copy, write to the Du Pont Company, 2603 Nemours Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

Profainitease

By Bob Fain
Being the good journalist that we are, we have just looked up the derivation of the word "joke." Seems that it comes from the Latin word "iocus" meaning "now let me tell one."

But that is not all that is interesting about this word. During the Middle Ages, the word was also the name for a type of torture in which everyone sat around an unfortunate captive, pouring drops of water on his head, holding a lighted candle in front of his eyes, and telling the blindest Hadozal jokes.

Down through the ages this meaning has softened until the form of torture is now less painful. True, it still is a recognized form of torture. For instance, when your professor tells a joke (j), which you have not only read a thousand times but have also heard on the Arthur Godfrey show, you laugh. In fact, you bellow with unbounded joy, get down on the floor, roll, and beat your sides. You are not doing this because you are amused, but rather because you have just read Heri Knoebuster's book, "How to Become an Honor Student in Ten Easy Lessons."

But, if we may borrow a phrase from Allen Tate, "enough of this fol de rol." Let us be on with the torture.

A little old lady riding in a bus was anxious not to pass her destination. She poked the driver with her umbrella. "Is that the First National Bank?" asked the lady.
"No ma'am," replied the driver, "that's my stomach."

First Cannibal: Gosh, forgot the meat. The missionary is burning.
Second Cannibal: Holy smoke!

And then there was the co-ed who asked her stepless evening gown in coffee so that it would stay up all night.

Jane does not drink anything stronger than pop. Pop drinks anything.

He: Is that noise your heart beating?
She: Yes, Why?
He: I thought it was your husband knocking at the door.

College Of Pharmacy RX NOTES

By Eugene Miller

The College of Pharmacy's Book Store underwent a face-lifting over the summer months and has vastly improved in equipment and appearance. Jake Miller is manager of the store with assistants from the Phi Delta Chi fraternity.

Every room in the Pharmacy College now possesses an intercommunications phone and receiver set-up. This was made possible by Dean Earl P. Stone and Earl White. Earl is a junior in the College. He put in many hours during the summer months to accomplish this task. An unsung hero who helped Earl many times was Prof. Deakia Summerford, instructor in physics.

FRATERNITY LIFE on the campus is busy with new initiatives. Kappa Psi pledged Kenneth Calvert, Bill Chanon, Bob Corum, George Elliott, Ivan Kuiper, Dick Manuel, Sammie Pope, Bill Shelton, Joe Shoenaker, Carl Stamper, and Al Wrightson.

Phi Delta Chi also announced its new pledges. They are Wesley R. McDaniels, Larry Bivin, Stanley Jurek, John D. Lowe, and Charles Butler.

WHILE ON THE SUBJECT of fraternities, the honorary fraternity on the Pharmacy campus has a message for all students. Alpha Xi chapter of Rho Chi will present a Merck Index to the student making the best report on some problem in practical pharmacy undertaken by him or her during the school year. If interested, contact Dr. Abraham Slesser.

The senior class is scheduled to be guests of the Ely Lilly Pharmaceutical Company in Indianapolis for a period of three days, April 11-

13. Accommodations will be made for the faculty and their wives.

Mrs. JOHN J. FURLONG, 41, representative for Burroughs Wellcome Company was married on Oct. 7, to Miss Margaret Oberst in Paducah. Prof. Paul Oberst of the College of Law, brother of the bride, gave her in marriage.

The Kappa Psi fraternity announces their annual Fall Dance to be held on Nov. 3 in the Continental Room of the Henry Clay Hotel. The affair will be semi-formal.

WILLIAM ZINZER, a Rho Chi member and graduate of June, 1950, recently won a $100 award in a drawing sponsored by McKesson and Bionics Incorporated, a Louisville wholesale firm. Mr. Zinzer works at Newkirk's Pharmacy in whose name he won the award.

Guy Fuller, senior, recently announced the arrival of a new addition to the Fuller family. The young miss arrived on Sept. 18. She will be named Stephanie Lane.

Don Harris, a recent graduate, stopped in at the college to say hello. He is now working in the corner drugstore in Campbellville.

Lutheran Association Plans Supper Meeting

The Lutheran Student Association will have a weekly supper meeting at 6 p.m. Sunday at Faith Lutheran Church, 1000 E. High Street. A movie "The Wittenberg Story" will be shown.

Students Total 6511

Figures Show Three Boys For Each Girl On Campus

The male-female ratio on the University campus is 3 boys to every girl.

According to Dean Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women, there are 1601 women registered on the campus. The number of students attending classes at Lexington totals 6986.

The total University enrollment, which passed the predicted mark, equals 6511. This includes 232 at the Northern Extension Center in Covington, and 178 at the College of Pharmacy in Louisville.

The break down in totals has not been completed for the College of Pharmacy, but at the Northern Extension the male-female ratio is only two boys to every girl.

The drop in the ed-coed ratio from the "old days" is explained by the lowered percentage of veterans enrolled under the G.I. Bill.

Dr. Lyle W. Croft, director of the University personnel office, reports that under the current enrollment a total of 1631 veterans are enrolled under the G.I. Bill. This total includes veterans attending Louisville and Covington.

Three years ago 4795 veterans comprised 61 percent of the total enrollment.

Now midnight coffee is a snap!

When you're cramming for a tough quiz... you may need the quick "lift" of good coffee! And Nescafé is the easy answer to that one. It makes roaster-fresh coffee right in the cup. No coffee-pot. No grounds. No brewing. Just put one teaspoonful of Nescafé in a cup, add hot water (preferably boiling) and stir. Swell coffee to give you that late-hour pick-up!

And so easy on the allowance! The 4-oz. jar makes about as many cups as a pound of ordinary coffee, yet costs far less. Get a jar today. Check!

More people drink NESCAFÉ than all other instant coffees!

*Nescafé (pronounced nay-say-fee) is the name registered under mark of The Nestlé Company, Inc. to designate its soluble coffee product which is composed of equal parts of pure soluble coffee and added quick carbohydrates (dextrose, sucrose and dextrine) added solely to protect the flavor.

The Yanks moved ahead in the Independent touch football standings Tuesday night by virtue of the upset win over the Tavern Boys. Earlier they had easily defeated the Newman Club, 25-6.

Defending Champion Men's Dorn slipped in the standings after their Monday night game with B.S.U. was rained out. The Dorn is yet to be tested since its first win was a forfeit decision over the Tavern Boys. A make-up game is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 16, for the B.S.U. tilt. Seeking their second win on Wednesday night were the Rebels who met the Newman Club. The Dorn was scheduled to clash with the Yanks on Thursday evening.

Next week's games will match B.S.U. and Newman Club Tuesday night at 7, the Tavern Boys against the Rebels at 8 Wednesday night, and the Dorn with Newman Club Thursday night at 9.

Babe Hurls Four TD Aerials In 40-0 Victory Over Dayton

By Fred Lawson
With the reserves playing most of the second half, Kentucky's Wildcats walloped the University of Dayton, 40-0, last Saturday night on Stoll Field with 20,000 faithful fans looking on.

Babe Parilli sparked the Cats even though he played in only about a half of the game. The passing star tossed four touchdown aerials, and he also scored on a 38-yard run. Al Bruno was on the receiving end of two of the touchdown heaves.

The Wildcats broke the game wide open by scoring the first two times they had their hands on the ball.

They took the opening kickoff on their own 38, and on the first play Cliff Lawson blasted through the middle for 49 yards. After an incomplete pass, Harry Jones went from the Dayton 14 to the 12-yard line. On the next play Parilli hit Bruno in the end zone for the first marker with only a minute and a half gone.

Four minutes later, Harry Jones returned a punt to the Dayton 41. Lawson picked up three yards on a line smash. On the next play Parilli gave the fans a thrill as he faded back to pass, couldn't find an

By Bill Samuels
Division leads were posted by the Sigma Chi and the Phi Delta Tuesday night as the second round of the intramural football season got under way.

Both teams took undisputed first place leads in their respective divisions by potting second triumphs in as many starts. The other contest of the evening saw the Delta Chis even the count by scoring a victory over the Phi Sig.

All of the games slated for Monday were rained out but have been rescheduled for Oct. 16.

In the first contest of the week, the Sigma Chi had little trouble in downing a hapless Alpha Sig combine as they rolled to an easy 14-0 victory. The Delta Chi then dropped the Phi Sigma Kappa team from the ranks of the unbeaten by scoring a 13-6 triumph.

In the finale, the Phi Delta took the measure of the Triangles, 12-0, open receiver and raced 38 yards for a touchdown.

Kentucky drove 50 yards for its fourth score which came about half way of the second quarter. Clark raced for 18 yards and a first down on the Dayton 22. Then Parilli passed to Jamerson on the 12 and he scooted over with another touchdown. Gain added the 27th point.

With a little more than a minute left in the half, Clayton Webb intercepted a pass on the Kentucky 27 and ran it back to the Dayton 23. Parilli passed to Bruno and he was knocked down on the 12.

The next pass to Bruno was too long, but on the next play Parilli passed to Bruno on the 10 and he raced over. Gain's kick was good and the half ended Kentucky 30, Dayton 0.

Parilli came through with another spectacular toss for a touchdown midway for the third period. Kentucky had the ball with first down on the Dayton 32.

Parilli went back to pass, but he couldn't find a receiver. Trapped on his own 48, he saw Metzels open in the end zone and threw the ball 52 yards through the air for the touchdown. This time Gain's kick was good and Kentucky led 40-0.

Swim Meet Set Oct. 23

Intramural Director Bill McCubbin has announced a 5 o'clock Oct. 23 deadline for the 1-4 swimming meet to be held in the Coliseum pool Oct. 23, 24, and 26. No entries, he said, will be accepted after that time.

University students who have swimming privilege cards or who present a physical exam card from the health center and pay a $26 deposit may enter the meet, McCubbin said.

Events slated in the three-day meet include: 50-yard free-style; 100-yard free style, 200-yard free style, 100 yards breast stroke, and 100-yard back stroke. Relay races for teams will include a 150-yard medley relay for three men (one, 50-yard back; one, 50-yard breast; one, 50-yard free style) and a 400-yard free style relay for four men.

In addition to the swimming events, there will be a diving division. Entrants will do a series of three required dives (front, back, front flip) and one optional dive.

Each competitor may enter at many as two swimming events plus diving competition, according to the rules of the meet.

The qualifying round for swimming events will take place at 7 p.m. Oct. 23 and the finals for swimming events including the medley relay on the following night at 7 o'clock. Finals of the 400-yard relay and the diving are set for Oct. 26 at 7 p.m.

McCubbin released the following list of practice times: Wednesday and Fridays from 5-6 p.m.; Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday from 7-9 p.m., and Saturday afternoons from 9-5. There will be a swimming supervisor at the pool during those hours for anyone desiring help.

Freshmen Wallop Vols, 37-27 For First Triumph Of Season

By E. T. Kirk
Pass defense was pointed-up as the Kentucky Freshmen's most glaring weakness by the assistant coaches after the Kittens downed the Tennessee yearlings, 37-27, in a hectic affair on Stoll Field last Friday night.

The Kentucky linemen failed to rush the passer; and this, said Assistant Coach Dris Saylor, contributed to the ineffectiveness of the deep defenders.

The Tennessee defense was just as weak, and the breaks went Kentucky's way. Tennessee, as well as the Kittens, had done only minimal work as a unit, having been used mostly as "dummies" against the varsity.

Two Kentucky men received injuries in their first performances: Tackle Gene Clark, a broken ankle which will keep him on the shelf for the rest of the season, and Fullback John Platt, a dislocated thumb.

Ray Smith, a five-foot, 10-inch, 170-pounder from Rowell, N. Mex., alred Louisville Manual star, raced end from the seven. Score: 12-7, Kentucky.

Halfback Dave Flynn went over from the four after a pickout from Smith. Score: 18-7.

Fullback Platt slashed off tackle for the Kittens' fourth marker and gave them a 24-14 lead at halftime. Meullinger caught a long pass from Smith. Score: 30-14.

Gruner drove around end on a brilliant run in the last quarter after the young Vols had narrowed the count to 37-27. This was the final score of the game.

BOB GORHAM

KERNEL SPORTS EDITOR

The pressing need for a better practice field for one of the nation's top football teams is becoming more obvious every day. That hard, rock-strewn, sod-forsaken strip of terrain which is now being used is a menace to the safety of the players. It is true that its proximity to the dressing rooms in the Coliseum is a virtue, but even that has a double drawback.

To get to and from the field, the players have to cross Euclid Avenue twice, the second time being at the busy, going-home time of day. Dodging cars in a dangerous business in itself, but when it has to be done in cleats on concrete and asphalt, it becomes doubly menacing.

ANOTHER DETRACTION from the present site is that it is much too small. When you put over 100 charging, running, passing, kicking football players in an area that is small, it figures less than 20 square yards per man in which to become proficient in an art that draws huge crowds, prestige, and money to the university.

Another thing the field lacks now is secrecy. When the Wildcat team wears cleats and toothless, there was no need to scout them, but now that they have grown up, there is plenty of spying being tried. The field sets on a low plot of ground surrounded by high vantage points where a pair of high-powered glasses in the right hands could do irreparable damage. It should be in a place where all eyes that watch practice would be friendly eyes.

With the field in the condition it is in, the smallest amount of rain turns it into a quagmire and forces the gridders onto Stoll Field—another unsatisfactory situation. Seven or eight games a year is enough in itself to wear out a football field, without practicing on it during the week.

A SIDELIGHT, but still one of the worst features of the present setup is the fact that spring training tears up the field so badly that it leaves UK's SEC baseball champions practically homeless. It takes nearly all that remains of spring after practice to get a rough covering of grass back so that an outfielder can get within spitting distance of a crazily bouncing ball. Since the football team has no place where inside practice can be held, it should have a better practice field.

We don't know a good solution—only that a bad situation exists. Perhaps a temporary equipment house could be built on the college farm and part of a field out there used on which to practice. The only drawback here seems to be that it would require transportation to and from the field.

IT IS CERTAIN the present field can't be enlarged. The solution would seem to be in the laps of the school authorities. They are aware of the possibilities and will have the final say. Let's hope they say something that will alleviate a bad situation.

One of UK's most famous graduates was Horace Dalmerky, who invented the porous baby carriage.

Cats Meet Cincinnati Saturday

Parilli-Rossi Duel Highlight Of Tilt

The best hurling duel since the opening game of the World Series is in prospect for Saturday night when the Cincinnati Bearcats bring Gene Rossi, who currently is leading the nation in pass completions, onto Stoll Field and pit him against seerless Babe Parilli of the undefeated, united and unscored on Kentucky Wildcats.

The opening pitch is set for 8 o'clock. Rossi, who to date has completed 34 of 72 aerial attempts for 447 yards and six touchdowns, and Parilli, who has connected on 25 of 53 tries for 328 yards and five touchdowns, are pretty evenly matched.

But that is as far as the equality goes. If the odds-makers are telling the truth, for the Wildcats have been established a solid 27-point favorite. And on the basis of their record and the condition of the two teams, they deserve the rating—on paper. But when these two teams get together, you can toss the form chart out the window, as last season's 14-7 escape for the highly favored Kentuckians will attest.

For the first time this season, the Cats should be at peak strength to combat the invaders. Early-season injuries which kept Rocky Jamerson and Emory Clark out of all but limited action in the first four encounters seemed to have healed sufficiently to let the two halfbacks perform in the positions for which they had been primed as regulars.

Two others who sat out the Dayton work-out, Bill Leskovar and Doug Moseley, will be ready and rarin'. And the high gear in the Cat machine—Parilli—is well enough after that groin injury. He demonstrated that he has recuperated with that sparkling 38-yard trek in last week's tilt.

On the Bearcats' side, however, the cry is that injuries will all but prevent them showing up for the engagement. According to Coach Sid Gillman, three of the men he had counted upon for the lion's share of the Bearcat attack are definitely out of the game.

Several more are on the shelf with minor hurts and were not expected round into shape for the important battle Saturday. However, enough of his 53-man squad, which includes 18 lettermen, will be here to try to protect a 23-point-per-game average recorded in the first four Bearcat games this fall.

To date, they have scored 93 points against Texas Western, Hardin-Simmons, William and Mary and Louisville. They beat Texas, Hardin-Simmons and came from behind to nip Louisville. A midretired pass cost them the game against William and Mary.

The UC-UK series will probably end after Saturday's game. The current contract runs out after this year and there has been no indication that the pact will be renewed.

Of the 23 games played between the two schools since 1894, Kentucky has won 14 and Cincinnati seven. Two have ended in ties. The Wildcats have taken 10 of the last 11 contests, the only loss since 1919 being a 15-7 setback in 1945, the second of two meetings that year. Kentucky won the first game, 13-7.

WAA News

By Anne Boyd

Now is the hour . . . fencing is the thing. Last year WAA included fencing in its program toward the last of the year—1950 is going to start with it. Joyce Perbis, instructor in the physical education department, is sponsoring this activity. Some twenty girls have already begun their training in this art—a few are veterans, but most of them are beginners. To begin training in fencing, just drop in at the Women's Gym during the practice periods which are Tuesday 2:00-4:00, Wednesday and Thursday 3:00-5:00. WAA tournaments for bowling and badminton are coming close. The team entries have to be in Friday, Oct. 20. Each organization may put two teams (four each plus subs) in the Bowling tournament, and badminton is unlimited.
