Carpenter Clarifies Issue Concerning UK Athletes, Tests

Zoology Head Calls Student Charge False In Kernel Interview

A denial that sample tests were given to UK athletes in a zoology course this semester was made early this week by Dr. John M. Carpenter, head of the Department of Zoology.

In an interview, Dr. Carpenter said that a story appearing in the April 9, 1964, issue of the Kernel was "untrue." Dr. Carpenter was referring to a charge made by a student in the zoology course to the effect that team members had been given "sample" tests which the rest of the students were not given.

The charges, which were printed in the Kernel, said, in essence, that athletes had been given sample tests which other students in the course did not receive.

According to Dr. Carpenter, a tutor paid by the UK Athletic Association gave the football players similar tests "to see if they are getting along all right."

The guide tests, he said, were not restricted to football players. Similar tests—guide tests to indicate the nature of the real test—are posted on a bulletin board for all students in the zoology course before test time, he said.

Dr. Carpenter told two Kernel editors that the guide tests given to the athletes were made up by the graduate assistant in the Zoology Department—the tutor—in order to help the athletes study for the test given on April 19.

The system whereby tutoring is arranged for football players is not restricted to the Zoology Department, Dr. Carpenter said. Similar tutoring is found in other University departments, as well as in other colleges and universities.

Facilities Called Equal

Any student in the zoology course, he explained, can get free tutoring in help classes on Friday afternoon, and Saturday morning. The opportunities for outside help in studying are available to all students, he said, but are not always used to advantage.

YMCA Has Offers Of Part Time Jobs

Part time jobs for UK men are very plentiful this spring, according to the YMCA employment office.

Requests have been received for students to do such work as spring cleaning, wash windows, dig gardens, and mow lawns. Each job will take anywhere from an afternoon to a day to finish.

Information on wages and employers' names and addresses may be obtained at the YMCA office, Room 115 in the Student Union or Extension 2269.

Jobs will also be available through the summer.

Novelist To Speak Here Wednesday

Elizabeth Hardwick, novelist and critic, will speak on the subject of women novelsists at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Laboratory Theater of the Fine Arts Building.

Miss Hardwick is the author of numerous short stories and critical pieces which have appeared in The Yale Review, Partisan Review, Kennedy Review, and elsewhere. Her latest novel, "The Acquittal," will be published this fall.

A native of Lexington, Miss Hardwick received her A.B. with departmental honors in English from the University.

Reds Tighten Grip On Subjects, Says German Editor In Talk

A world picture of life in East Berlin was given Tuesday morning by a German newspaperman before an informal gathering of journalism students and faculty members.

Erich Dombrowski, political and economic editor of the Frankfurt Allemergie Zeitung, Frankfurt, and his wife, spoke of a divided city living in uncertainty from day to day.

Mr. Dombrowski described East Berliners as "people who have no means to say what they feel or think... people living aside with themselves."

People Are Isolated

The people of East Berlin, he said, are completely cut off from the free world by the Soviet overlords. There is no free press, no communication, that part of the city. And radio programs beamed from the free world, he said, are jammed by Russian radio stations.

Occasionally, he said, East Berliners are given permission to visit relatives in the Western Zone. But once this is done, he added, any man or woman who leaves the Eastern Zone is made suspect by the Russians.

Adding to the picture of a divided city living in uncertainty, Mr. Dombrowski told about young men from West Berlin traveling through the Soviet sector on the way to see relatives—or to get to other cities—and disappearing, never to be heard from again.

Slave Labor May Be Fate

Mr. Dombrowski speculated that the young men who disappeared in the Soviet Zone might be sent to work in slave labor camps—or to work uranium mines for the Russians.

"Their fate is uncertain," he said,

Stars' Honor Top Women

High honors for superior scholarship and leadership in campus activities were awarded approximately 200 UK women students in the school's annual "Stars in the Night" program held last week in Memorial Hall.

Slated by the University Women's Administrative Council, the ceremony is planned each year for the purpose of recognizing women who have distinguished themselves in leadership and scholarship. The identity of all award winners was kept secret until the announcement was made, as was the nature of all entertainment until the various acts were presented.

Mistress of ceremonies for the program was Miss Pat Morrissy, president of the Women's Administrative Council. Miss Morrissy introduced the presidents of the various organizations, who in turn presented recipients of the awards.

The program was attended by several hundred faculty members, parents, and friends of those honored. It climaxed UK's annual "Mothers Day" held for mothers of students.

Students who will be initiated include Mary Ann Anderson, Albert J. Arch, Lucy Barringer, Betty Ratson, Elsie Bowie, Peggy Driscoll, Evelyn Duncan, William Evans, Peggy Goodman, Helen Gum.

Korean Vets Could Lose GI Training

Are you a Korean veteran? If you are and you have not started action to get Korean GI Bill training you may lose this privilege. The deadline on enrolling is fast approaching. Mr. Ray R. Adams, manager of the Louisville Veterans Administration Regional Office, said today.

This ruling applies to vets who were released from active duty on or before August 30, 1952. The law states that a veteran must enroll in and begin training on or before two years have expired from his time of discharge. This also applies to vets who plan to take on-the-job and on-the-farm training.

Summer terms in schools, which begin in about two months, will be the last chance for many veterans to profit from the GI Bill training program. Enrollment in the fall classes of this year will be too late.

"It doesn't pay to wait until the last minute before taking action," Mr. Adams emphasized.

Many preliminary steps must be taken prior to the actual training. A veteran must choose the school and course he wants. He must make certain that the course is GI-approved. This information will be supplied by any VA Regional Office.

It is necessary that he is sure that the school will accept him. Then he must file an application for Korean GI Bill training with the VA or with the approved school in which he wishes to enroll.

Veterans who are in doubt as to what they wish to study should request consulting from the VA. The VA will help them decide on an objective and a training program.

This deadline does not pertain to those enrolled under the original World War II GI Bill.

Infirmiry Asks People Taking Patch Tests To Return For X-Rays

An urgent appeal has been issued by University Infirmiry officials requesting all students who have taken the tuberculosis patch test within the last two weeks to return for x-ray examinations and a reading of the test reaction.

Infirmiry technicians point out that many students are failing to return for the chest x-ray. These examinations are being given to serve as a double check for any possible TB, they said.

Usual procedure calls for chest x-rays only if the patch test shows a positive reaction.

Officials have swapped the University Health Service since early last week, requesting that they be given the tuberculosis Yolver test. The student has been transferred to a sanitarium at New Albany, Ind., near his home. At first he was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington. After a complete check revealed the presence of tuberculosis, he was moved to the Indiana hospital.

A check with the patient's local physician failed to reveal the exact degree of the illness. Good Samaritan authorities would only confirm that the patient had been transferred.

Pharmacy Men To Meet Here May 2, 3, 4

Members of the state boards of pharmacy and the faculties of the colleges of pharmacy in Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, and Wisconsin will meet on May 2, 3, and 4 in the Student Union. It has been announced.

Dr. A. E. Slosser, head of the Department of Pharmacy at the UK College of Pharmacy, will be in charge of the program.

Harold B. Green, senior Pharmacy student, will be one of the speakers, and Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice president of the University, will welcome visitors to the campus.

Dr. Robert W. Basor, of the United States Public Health Service Hospital, will be the guest speaker at the meeting. Members attending the meeting will visit the hospital.

About 75 persons are expected to attend the three day conference of the educator-regulator groups.

Student Union Installs Officers

Committee chairmen are Reba Adams, public relations, Martha Jean May, Office Chat, Tamara Thompson, poster committee, Pat Gibson, art committee, Clara BeEt Yates, membership, John Perrine sports, and Rebecca Bishop, house committee. Betty Jo Martin will head the newly created Student Interest Committee.

Blue-White Tilt Marks Close Of Grid Practice Tomorrow

Kentucky's Wildcat gridgers will close their spring football practice tomorrow night at Stoll Field. The Whites have taken four games in the series, which began in 1946, while the Blues have won three with one game ending in a tie.

Coach Blanton Collier announced this week that backfield coach Ermal Allen will coach the Blue squad and line coach Clarence "Backshot" Underwood will head the Whites in the intrasquad tussle.

Last year Underwood's Blue squad defeated a favored White squad 7-0, while Allen's Whites were victors by a 26-13 count in 1953. Thus this year's clash will serve as the Knoch at guards, and Leo Strunge at center. In the backfield the Blue Underwood will be assisted with quarterback, Dick Mitchell and Don Neeskie at the halfbacks, and Bob "Hooker" Phillips at fullback.

The White team will probably line up with Larry "Dude" Hennessey and Bradley Mills at the ends, Duke Curmiste and Harry Kirk at tackles, Jim Miller and Joe Stuart at guards, and Dave Kilm at center. In the backfield the Whites will have Dick Rushing at quarterback, Jerry Piau and Dick Moloney at the halfbacks, and Ken Williams at fullback.

Marty On Injured List
Five Wildcat gridgers, Bob Hardy, Ivan Curmiste, Hayden Hooper, Stanley Walton and Jim Palmer, will not get to play in the intra-squad tilt because of injuries.

The remainder of the White roster includes: Roger Pack, Ralph Underwood will be assisted with

Track Team Rips Sewanee, Lose To Strong Ohioians

By DON HENRY

Kentucky took nine first places in their meet with Sewanee in winning 73% to 63% covering up their season's record at one win and one loss. On April 19, they dropped the season's opener to Ohio State. Jess Curry led the Kentucky scorers in both meets, scoring 115 points against Ohio and registering 14% against Sewanee last week.

The week before he got a first in the broad jump, the 100 yd. dash, a tie for third in the high jump, and a third in the 440 yd. run against Ohio State.

The Cats made a clean sweep in the high jump against Sewanee with a three-way first place tie between Curry, Bill Mitchell and Rick Lewis. The winning jump was 5'2". This was recorded on an extremely wet field accounting for the relatively low winning mark.

Co-Captain Don Weaver gained a first in the shot put, with a throw of 43'3", and a second in discus. Curry's winning distance in the broad jump was 21'3" in an all but flooded pit.

Kentucky gained five more first in the track events as Co-captain Frank Scott placed first in both the mile and two mile runs. His times were 9:06 and 11:08 respectively. Bill Valleau won in the high hurdles, winning in 18.1 seconds and then placed second in the 220 yd. low hurdles. Don Atkinson won in the 880-yd. run, and the Kentucky mile relay team, composed of Logan Oipe, Curry, Atkinson, and Eddie Ernst finished with a winning time of 3:45.4 seconds.

The soggy turf and track kept all winning marks well below the established Stoll Field records.

Netters Meet Western Today

The Wildcat netters will be busy this weekend when they travel to Bowling Green where they meet the Western Hilltoppers Friday and then take on Vanderbilt at Nashville Saturday.

In their most recent match on April 11, the Cats copped their first victory on a 13-0 win over Berea. They lost to a stronger Fort Knox team 5-2 two days before in a contest that was halted by rain as the second double match was getting under way.

In the Kentucky-Western match last year, the Hilltoppers scored a 3-2 win over the Cats at Memorial Coliseum. The Cats are expected to be a little stronger this year with the addition of Bill Evans to the second double match was getting under way.

After the Topper-Cat tilt, UK goes to Nashville for a match with one of the top teams in the SEC, Vanderbilt, considered as one of the better clubs of the conference. Vanderbilt is expected to be one of the top teams in the SEC.

The Wildcats will be seeking their second win of the season when they meet the Hilltoppers. Kentucky's losses have been to Tennessee and Fort Knox. Last year's record for the Cats was five wins and eight losses.

SIDELINE SLANTZ!

by John K. Ryan

Kentucky fans at Cincinnati Garden last week had a right to be proud of the starting lineup of the College All-Stars in their game with the Harlem Globetrotters. The starting lineup of the All-Stars included Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey, and Lou Tsioropoulos of UK, Tom Marshall of Western, and Frank Selvy, a native of Corbin and an All-American at Furman. This was the only game of the cross-country series that the five Kentucky boys started as a unit and therefore, had little experience playing together with the exception of the three UK performers. With a little more practice together it looked as if they would have beaten the Trotters. As it was, they only lost by a 67-62 count.

The current edition of the Globetrotters is a far cry from the Trotters of a few years back. If the game at Cincinnati was any indication of their present style of play, it appears that they have substituted dirty play for finesse. They were playing without the services of Reece "Goose" Tatum in the Cincinnati game, which might account for some of their rough edges. However, they don't have as much style as they did when they had Marquis Haynes and "Sweetwater" Clifton to go along with "The Goose."

Lexington will have a professional baseball team this season for the first time in many years. Ed Ashford, Sports Editor of the Herald, is the president of the new class C team. They will open their Mountain States League home schedule on Sunday. Now if they could get some former UK players on the team, they might build up quite a bit of interest on the campus.

It will be "Buckshot" Underwood's lads against Eernal Allen's crew, when the Wildcat gridlers hold their annual Blue-White game tomorrow night. Coach Blanton Collier selected these two coaches to coach the two sides in the game, while he watches the overall performance of both teams. The clash will mark the end of spring football practice and should be quite a game.

The Blue-White game will give UK fans a chance to see the variations in the Bryant style and the Collier style of play. Actually the style of play will show very few differences from last year, as Bryant had the Cats running from the split-T and Collier is one of the finest split-T coaches in the country. The game will also give UK fans an indication of what to expect of next fall's edition of the Wildcats, which will face perhaps the roughest schedule in this school's history.

A formidable array of teams have been lined up for the second annual UK Invitational Tournament next December. In Utah, Southern California, and LaSalle the Wildcats will certainly have their hands full in keeping the trophy at home.

Logan Named Golf Captain, Linkmen Have 4-4 Record

The linksters of the University of Kentucky have named their captain for the year in the form of Bob Logan, a junior from Shelbyville. The team is going into this weekend with four wins and four losses.

The Big Blue from Kentucky took on the Xavier lads from Cincinnati and thoroughly trounced them 14 1/2-6 1/2 on the Bowling Springs course. The next day the tables were just a bit reversed as the undefeated Alabama Crimson Tide took the Cats over the hurdles by the score of 23 1/2-9 1/2.

In the match with the lads from Cinncy, Dan Boone shot the best score with a 74 while John Y. Brown Jr. shot a 74 against the Tide.

The team then took on Albion College from the town of the same name in Michigan and defeated them 13-9. Captain Bob Logan turned in the best performance for the Cats that day with a 78.

The scheduled meet with Cincinnati University last Friday was rained out and it was played as a triangular meet with Xavier at the Queen City. The Bearcats trounced both UK and Xavier, beating UK 12-6 and Xavier 16 1/2-1 1/2.

The Cats then had an individual meet with Xavier and for the second time this year the Musketeers went down before the Big Blue 10-8. Mike Prandy led the way for Kentucky with a 76.

Baseballers Win One, Lose Three In Georgia

Kentucky showed an improved defense the past weekend by splitting a baseball doubleheader with Georgia Tech on the latter's home diamond. The Cats lost the first game, 9-6, and won the second, 4-3, behind Jim Day.

Dave Redford, Tech's junior right-hander, shutout the Wildcats on three hits in the opener, while his mates clobbered three Kentucky hurlers for seven blights. Charlie Brantton and Bill Coburn were the leading stickmen for the Engineers, Coburn striking in four runs, and Brantton collecting three hits in five trips.

Hugh Coy started for Kentucky and was belted out in the fourth inning. Tech scored once in the first inning, four in the third and four in the fourth. Miles Willard collected two of the Kentucky hits off Redford with a pair of singles.

Jim Day was in hot water all afternoon in the seven-inning night cap as he allowed nine hits. Day was tight in the clutch however, and walked only one. After allowing three runs during the first three innings, he shut-out the Engineers the rest of the way.

Willard again shone at the plate for the Cats, collecting a double and a single. Brantton had a triple and two singles for Tech.

Defensively, the games were a marked improvement over the past four. The Cats erred only once during the afternoon after committing 25 in two series with Georgia and Vanderbilt.

Georgia's Bulldogs continued their mastery over the Kentucky baseballers April 19 and 20, by clipping the Cats 6-3 and 5-0, in Athens, Ga.

Allen Parrish beat the Cats for the second time this year in the first contest by striking out nine batters, and holding Kentucky to nine hits. The big right-hander was presented an early 5-0 lead and held it until the fifth inning when the Wildcats bunched three hits for a pair of runs.

Kentucky tallied twice in the seventh and once in the ninth but the surge fell one run short. Charles Fichtmeyer was the starter and loser for the Cats. Phil Grawmeyer relieved him in the fourth and finished up.

Leon Houston pitched his second victory over Kentucky in the second game by shutting out the Cats on five hits. He struck out one and did not walk a man.

Hugh Coy hurled all the way for Kentucky and was touched for 10 hits. He gave up one tally in the first inning and four in the seventh. One of the seventh-inning runs came on a 385-foot homer by Sammy Sayre, his third of the season. Coy sof the only extra-base hit for the Cats, a double.

Spring Sports, Wrestlers Highlight Week's I-M Card

Spring sports and wrestling share the intramural spotlight this week after the Easter holidays.

A change in softball rules this year promises to put more emphasis on fielders and hitters and less on pitching. Slow pitch softball will be tried for the first time in I-M competition.

Other variations from regular softball rules are the use of a 19 1/2 man, a roving shortstop, in the lineup and the elimination of base stealing. Formerly the runner could leave the base when the ball left the pitcher's hand but under slow pitch rules the runner may not leave until the batter has hit the ball.

The matmen opened action in nine weight classes, ranging from 155 pounds to heavyweight (over 185 pounds.) Delta Tau Delta, last year's winners, Alpha Gamma Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta appear to be the top choices for this year's title. Doubles play in basketball, horse-shoes, tennis and golf is also under way. Schedules for these sports are posted on the bulletin board on the second floor of Alumni Gym.
