TAU BETA PI TO HOLD CONVENTION OCT. 19-20

Sixty-Five Delegates of National Fraternity to Attend

Last year the National Tau Beta Pi convention was held at Michigan, but this year they traveled due south until they landed on the University of Kentucky campus. On October 18, 19 and 20, 65 delegates from 45 schools will meet here to take up the national business of the organization.

Tau Beta Pi is a National honorary engineering fraternity. It is the goal of every student engineer to be among the chosen few of this society. The members are those students who have obtained a high standing during their freshman and sophomore years. A percentage of the junior class is pledged and a certain percentage of the same class is again chosen the following year. The active Kentucky chapter is composed of I. B. Helburn, J. W. Gudgel, W. N. Schwab, G. R. Page, H. L. Strauss, T. L. Garwood, C. J. Tate and C. E. Scott.

CHEER LEADERS TO BE NAMED FROM EACH CLASS IN SCHOOL

Letters Will Be Awarded To All Those Who Make Good

In order to stimulate enthusiasm and interest in athletic circles the following plans for the election of cheer leaders have been devised. Each class with the exception of the Juniors will elect a member to the cheer leading squad with a senior member as captain of the cheer leaders. The Junior class will elect two members, one of which will be eliminated the following year. By the election of two leaders from the Junior class we are more nearly assured a capable leader for each succeeding year.

The cheer leaders are to be elected by a popular class vote at the regular class election and their election must comply with the rules governing the elections of other class officers. Letters will be awarded to cheer leaders.

PRICE McLEAN

PRICE McLEAN, VARSITY CENTER, DIES OF INJURY RECEIVED DURING GAME

Blow on Head During Cincinnati Contest Causes Blood Clot

THOUGHT NOT SERIOUS

Teammates Act As Pallbearers At Last Rites For Student

Price McLean, varsity center, of the University of Kentucky football team, died Sunday night at 7:15 o'clock from injuries received in the Kentucky-Cincinnati game played at Cincinnati Saturday afternoon. McLean received a blow over the left eye which caused a clot on the brain and the Kentucky player died after an operation which, until his death, was thought to be successful.

The injury which caused the death of the Blue and White player was received a few minutes before the end of the first half of the game Saturday. From the sidelines it was not possible to see that McLean was injured, although on one play he lined up slowly and paused as if to catch his breath. On the next play the center got into position, apparently without any trouble. On the field, however, McLean was putting up a fight to stay in the game and complete his work. The blow that he received temporarily blinded him, but on each play he would line up with his team.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR PRICE McLEAN

Representatives of Organizations Pay Tribute to Fallen Comrade

Memorial services were held Tuesday at the fifth hour in the chapel for Price Innes McLean, who died Sunday at 7:30 following an operation for a blow on the head received in the football game Saturday between University of Kentucky and University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati.

Dr. F. L. McVey presided, opening the exercises by reading the ninety-first psalm which was followed by the Lord's prayer. Doctor McVey then introduced Doctor Bush, of the Presbyterian church, who in a few remarks paid tribute to Price McLean, in which he said his life was a house with two rooms and our comrade had only passed to the other room. He impressed upon all the need of a larger faith in a larger and fuller life.

Professor Enoch Grehan, representing the Athletic Council and faculty staff, made impressive remarks reminding the student body that McLean died in service for the University and in no better way can our recollection of his worthiness be proved than to carry on his burden where he left it and to do as well as he did.

The football team was represented by Dell Ramsey, who paid a touching tribute to the character of his teammate, saying he was a thorough gentleman, hard fighter, conscientious worker and his memory leaves an inspiration and example of sportsmanship to his teammates. Wilham Tate, president of the junior class of the University, C. M. C. Porter, president of the junior class in the college of engineering also spoke of the sterling qualities of their classmate.

Marshall Barnes, president of the student council, presented resolutions which were adopted by the student body. After singing America, Doctor Bush pronounced the benediction.

OPERA "MARTHA" CHORUS CAST OF 45 SELECTED Final Try-outs Held in Form of Sextets, Thursday

The final try-outs for the chorus of the opera "Martha," which is to be presented by the music department in the near future, were held Thursday afternoon in the music rooms under the direction of Professor Carl Lampert. The chorus, which supports forty-five voices, was selected from approximately one hundred applicants. The try-outs were held in the form of sextets, and each applicant was required to know and uphold his part. The results of Thursday's try-outs will be disclosed next week.

Unusual interest has been shown in the department's selection for its 1923 production, "Martha" is the first grand opera that has been attempted and it supports six leads in addition to the chorus. Each practice has been spirited throughout and present indications point toward a brilliant success.

BEGIN GRIDIRON SURVEY

Leading Architects of Country Will Act As Advisory Board

A. O. Whipple, superintendent of grounds of the University has been instructed to make soundings of the site on which the football stadium of the University is to be placed, following a meeting of the University of Kentucky stadium executive committee, held Friday at the Lafayette Hotel. The stadium will be completed by September, 1924, according to the plans outlined by J. Irvine Lyle, general manager of the Carrier Engineering Company, of New York, who is head of the committee appointed to supervise the erection of the football structure.

The stadium will be erected thirty feet south of Winslow street, on a line with, and adjoining the new basketball building, which is now under construction. Both structures will be surrounded by an ornamental fence. The architecture will conform with that of the basketball building. The stadium will be in the form of the letter "U." There will be 32 tiers of seats, affording a seating capacity of 21,000 persons. Provision will also be made for the erection of bleachers across the open end.

Mr. Lyle has been in touch during the fall and summer with a number of the leading stadium architects of the country, some of whom will be asked to pass upon the stadium plans in an advisory capacity. The architect is under consideration by the committee. Mr. Lyle is visiting larger uni-

CALENDAR

How about this, Mr. Club Secretary?
We want announcements of your meetings, date, time and place.

The most historic legislation for the University since the affirmation of the justice of the mill tax is the aim of the Alumni Association for the 1924 session of the Legislature. The senators will be asked to make emergency appropriations of more than half a million dollars for buildings and equipment and to provide by bond issue or special tax for the increased cost of maintenance and a permanent building program.

Organization of University of Kentucky clubs that will include backers of the educational progress movement as well as alumni of the University will be one of the means to this end. Alumni of many out-of-the-state colleges and universities have asked for such an opportunity as this to back higher education in Kentucky.

The Executive Committee of the Alumni Association has expressed the desire that the present alumni clubs in Kentucky be changed to University associations or clubs and through their regular monthly meetings carry out a more ambitious program with their enlarged facilities. This plan will have the personal supervision of Captain C. C. Calhoun, president of the Alumni Association.

BACK PREPAREDNESS

College Men Are Urged to Enter Into Spirit of Defense Act.

Alumni of universities throughout the country are being urged to take an active part in the scheme of National Defense which involves training of the youth of high school age in the summer camps of the Citizens' Military Training Camps under the supervision of the War Department. The training of boys can be accomplished in a much shorter period than for grown men and with far less expense to the government. Statisticians have indicated the economy of such preparation over a period of fifty years. In such a manner the country is prepared for war without the constant challenge to conflict inspired by a large standing army.

The improved health of the trainees has been one of the reasons for endorsing such training with its consequent gain to the race. Civilian camps, which have received such impetus since the inauguration of the C. M. T. Co. have taken on much of the army routine and drill. Reserve officers of the army and graduates of R. O. T. C. units of universities and colleges comprise the staff of these civilian camps and an increasing number of preparatory schools.

Promise of Friendly Enemies in Past Provokes Laughs

Enemies of the University who promised a reduction of half the student body for the preceding and the present session are not being reminded of the University's own answer. To consider their vain boastings is but to laugh.

Undergraduates and alumni were the answer. Knowing the truth they spread it. Ambitious young men and women recognized the giant among Kentucky institutions of higher education. Attracted by the high type of student body, the unusual educational facilities, the increasing power and importance of the graduates to say nothing of the prowess of the University's representatives in sports, music, dramatics, oratory and debate and sundry other student activities they have established a waiting list.

HAVE OPINIONS

The editor of this page has been called on to get an expression of opinion from alumni on activities and policies of the students, the University authorities and the Alumni Association.

Many helpful suggestions have been obtained in this manner in the past. One of the powerful aids to the alumni office is the report of the secretary of the alumni clubs on doings and debates of their several groups. The expansion of the University calls for more of this to make possible its continued and satisfactory growth.

A TRIBUTE TO PRICE McLEAN

In the death of Price McLean, varsity football center, who died from injuries received in the Cincinnati game last Saturday, the University of Kentucky has suffered a bereavement greater than has befallen it in many a year. The vacant place left by McLean can be filled satisfactorily from out of the jine of sturdy men who practice daily on Stoll Field, but the feeling of loss and sorrow in the hearts of his comrades will persist and the Wildcats will go up against their next opponents with a fierceness mellowed by sadness.

The big, quiet, efficient Southern lad who started a successful season with the team had grown dear to those who went into the game at his side and as is often the case with those we love most, only his removal revealed the deep affection which his companions had for him.

Football is a hazardous game, but to live best and serve most anywhere on the face of the earth is a hazardous life. McLean fell, not a victim to the brutality of the game or the opposing team, but to the law of averages which takes its toll relentlessly from every enterprise in which men engage.

KENTUCKIANS GET TOGETHER

Philadelphia Club Has Planned Reception for Centre Football Team

"Divided we stand," says the Philadelphia Club of the University of Kentucky Alumni, who are planning to entertain the Centre College football team when they play the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, October 27. Alumni in all parts of the world will read with pride of the hospitable attitude taken by this club towards our worst rivals, but who are above all Kentuckians. The following letter from the secretary of the Philadelphia Club is an invitation to you, Al, wherever you are:

Fellow Kentuckians:
Greetings:
On Saturday, October 27, Centre College will meet the University of Pennsylvania on Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

The Philadelphia Club, University of Kentucky Alumni Association, plans to make this a great day for Kentuckians in and near Philadelphia. The Centre football team, and those with them, numbering about thirty, are to be our guests on this trip. They will remain in Philadelphia Saturday night, returning to Kentucky late Sunday afternoon.

In the evening we will give a dinner-dance at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, in Philadelphia, in honor of our guests. In order to make this a big affair, we need the co-operation and support of every Kentuckian near Philadelphia. The committee in charge has arranged for an excellent dinner, good orchestra music, dancing and other entertainment features for a charge of $6 per cover.

We are hopeful of getting Dr. John J. Tigert, U. S. Bureau of Education, Dean F. Paul Anderson, of the University and Herbert Graham, secretary of the Alumni Association, as the principal speakers for the evening.

You must make reservations at once as the time is getting short and the committee must know how many to prepare for. Tickets for the game will be $2 and reservations for the dinner $6 a cover. Send checks made payable to Roy S. Clarke, treasurer, with your reservations. Tickets for the game will be mailed upon receipt of check.

Come on down to Philadelphia on the 27th and lets have a real old-fashioned Kentucky get-together. Dress for the evening will be informal. Acknowledgement will be appreciated.

Yours for Kentucky,
ROY S. CLARKE, Sec.

Enclosed find my belated dues for 1923. I always enjoy the Kernel and wish for time to write as I have decided opinions on many subjects discussed in the paper and as we keep in touch with such news. While in Lexington in August, I took my two children to see the University. Henryetta is eight and John is six and they have heard wonderful tales concerning the University of Michigan. The former has been through all the interesting buildings, played on the campus and spent several days at the Michigan Union. I wished to impress them with the University of Kentucky as their father's influence was becoming so strong. We made three trips to the campus but the first time saw Dean Anderson's monkey and that was the attraction on the other trips. Today if I as them about the University of Kentucky they will immediately mention the monkey and I think that was the only impression made on John.—Elizabeth Mahoney Williams (Byron G. Williams). Does your P. M. schedule read like this?

If your burning ambition is to excel as an all-around society man, you couldn't have planned your evenings better. Such persistence will win out over the indolence of the rank and file, for as the poet says:

* Reprint
"The heights by great men reached and kept
Were not attained by sudden flight,
But they while their companions slept
Were toiling upward in the night."

But if you intend to make your mark in engineering or business, don't expect that supremacy on the waxed floor will help when you start hunting a job.

Not that you need swing to the other extreme as a "grind" or a hermit. Let's concede it is all right to minor in sociabilities—but certainly it is only common sense to major in the math and sciences and English that will mean bread and butter to you later on.

Remember this—the harder you work right now in getting a grip on fundamentals, the easier things will come to you when you must solve still bigger problems. And if you take it easy now—well, look out for the law of compensation.

It's up to you. While you've got the chance, seize it, dig in, plug hard. It will pay—in cold cash.

JUST AU REVOIR

The lamentable passing of Price Innes McLean, center upon the varsity football team, was a tragedy, so unexpected, a loss so great that the Kernel finds itself wholly unable to put into mere words the scene of sorrow that has come to us all.

Various bodies both civic and collegiate have expressed in resolutions far more happily than we can hope to do, both the sympathy and regret that his lamentable death has caused. But the one lesson that we should be pleased to impress upon the student body is that when the last great enemy appeared it found our beloved fellow student and comrade ready to meet him with level eye and heart unafraid.

It is impossible to estimate the height and depth of worth of a single life what it might have meant for this brave boy to have been spared; what good indulgence might have flowed from his daily work and example, but this much we know: That they would all have been for good; that they would have stood for leadership and for clean and manly living. And the one inspiring reflection that remains with us in our hour of darkness is that he passed into the sublime mystery without fear.

In the words of the well beloved friend of Hamlet, as their hands slipped each from each we say: "Good night, sweet prince, and flights of angels lull thee to this rest."

LAGNAPPE

The Kentucky-Centre blood-spilling will conclusively show whether or not the ferocity of the wildcat can overcome the efficacy of prayer.

Kentucky's highly advertised athletes expect the supplications of the Praying Colonels to be about as efficacious as, say, our "Keep off the grass" signs.

Students who find difficulty in the study of anatomy, will find a considerable part of that subject clearly revealed if they will include in their curricula about six acts of high class vodvil.

Art is long, funds rae short, and anyhow, beauty is only weather-boarding deep. This is the belief of the architects who are erecting the handsome new Romany Theatre.

Now that we have settled the banana famine and seen the end of the rushing season, nothing remains but to watch the university give us our education.

Many a fond mother will never know her prodigious son is drilling in the awkward squad.

and automatically charge with the linemen. He was unable to remember his signals but with the aid of the guard who played next to him he passed the ball each time until the half closed. At the beginning of the second half Sauer took the center position and played the rest of the game.

McLean was able to walk from the field after the game and go with the rest of the players to the Hotel Gibson where the Kentucky team stayed in Cincinnati. There he went to bed until train time and then he took a Pullman for Lexington. Although McLean did not feel well after the game, it was not thought that his injuries were more serious than a bruised eye and a headache. Sunday morning he ate breakfast and read the morning paper as usual. A little later, however, he was taken to the hospital where it was found that an operation was an absolute necessity. Sunday afternoon the doctors who performed the operation said it was successful, but at 7:15 o'clock McLean died.

Stoll Field was deserted and the campus of the University was quiet Tuesday afternoon as teammates and classmates of the fallen player attended the funeral which was held at the Methodist church. The ten men who started the game with McLean Saturday acted as honorary and active pallbearers and the rest of the Wildcat squad attended the funeral in a body. Members of the Transylvania football team also went to the service in a body.

McLean was a Lexington boy and a junior in the College of Engineering. This was his first year on the varsity squad, although he worked for two years to gain his position. Last year he was ineligible to play but his love for football and his desire to represent his school on the gridiron led him to play as a scrub throughout the entire 1922 season. This year he had surely realized his ambition. In both of the games played by Kentucky this year, McLean started in the pivot position and only the fatal accident that occurred could have prevented him from wearing the varsity "K."

Surviving McLean is his mother, Mrs. Lydia McLean, who resides at 219 Stone avenue; one sister, Mrs. L. E. Wiggins, of Clifton, S. C.; and four brothers, Dr. William McLean, of Lexington; Grandison McLean, a student of the University; Thomas J. McLean, of Farmer, Tenn., and C. A. McLean, of Shelbyville, Tenn.

Colleges and individuals in all parts of the country, have sent messages of condolence to the family of the fallen player and to the University of Kentucky. Messages have been received from Universities of Cincinnati, Georgia, Georgetown, Transylvania, Washington and Lee and from various alumni clubs.

RESOLUTIONS

The junior engineering class in which Price McLean was a student, adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty to remove from our midst, by death our esteemed friend and classmate, Price I. McLean, who has during our associations together, maintaining under all circumstances, a character untarnished and a reputation above reproach.

Therefore, Resolved, That in the death of Mr. McLean we have sustained the loss of a friend whose fellowship it was an honor and a pleasure to enjoy; that we bear willing testimony to his many virtues, to his unquestioned probity and stainless life; that we offer to his bereaved family and mourning friends, over whom sorrow has hung her sable mantle, our heartfelt condolence, and pray that infinite goodness may bring speedy relief to their burdened hearts and inspire them with the consolations that hope in futurity and faith in God give even in the shadow of the tomb.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, properly engrossed, be presented to the family of our deceased friend, and one copy be sent to The Kernel, one to The Leader, and one to The Herald.

ENGINEERING COLLEGE BEGINS AUSPICIOUS YEAR

250 Enrolled in Courses; 50 More Than Last Year

The Engineering College has begun the present year under the most auspicious circumstances that ever marked a similar opening in the history of the institution. Enrollment is larger this year than ever before, 425 students having signified their intention of being engineers. This number is about 50 greater than was in the college last year.

The senior class consists of 53 members. Last year's class consisted of 57 members.

According to the faculty and heads of departments, the morale was never better in the Engineering College and punctual and regular attendance is remarkable. Fewer absent marks were reported last week than in any similar week in past years.

All the engineering societies have been organized and are now functioning. The freshmen organized Joseph Dicker Engineering Society No. 3, and meet regularly on Thursday. The Sophomore class is in Joseph Dicker Society No. 2, while the Juniors are in No. 1 Society.

Local chapters of national engineering organizations have been re-organized in the junior and senior classes and include the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and American Society of Civil Engineers. The Norwood Mining Society has also been re-established.

The senior class is divided as follows: 13 civil engineers, 29 mechanical and electrical engineers, nine mining engineers and three metallurgical engineers.

"FRESHMAN'S BIBLE" IS ISSUED BY Y. M.—Y. W. C. A.

Varsity Handbook is Dedicated to Athletic Director Boles.

The "Varsity Handbook," commonly called the "Freshman's Bible," is at last in circulation among the student body. Though late in its distribution, it is as welcome as if put out on the opening day of college. If the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. did nothing else during the year except put out this small book of general information, it would certainly be remembered by all the students.

Those who have been benefactors of the "Varsity Handbook" during the past can not but appreciate its annual improvement. The editors are to be commended for their selection of material composing its contents and every student not thoroughly acquainted with the various campus organizations, publications, and activities should read every line. Begin with the dedication of the small volume and at the first opportunity get better acquainted with "Daddy" Boles and you will know him not alone as a director of athletics but as the dedication says, "a Christian gentleman." Next read the poem, "In Kentucky," by Judge Mulligan and then the article from the Lexington Herald by Tom R. Underwood.

Are these not sufficient to make one feel proud that he is a Kentuckian and glad that he is privileged to be in a school that nourishes the youth of these pioneer Kentuckians? Then on through the book, page by page, until you have come to the close—until you have come to the calendar and memoranda and there make a note of the organization in which you expect to work and go to the next meeting and become a part of that working body.

The publication of a student's handbook is no small undertaking, and the merchants of the city who help to make it possible with their advertising are to be remembered by every student and in their turn should be given an opportunity to cater to the individual needs. Theirs is a mutual service and in conjunction with the campus activities help make college life worth while.

FORMER U. K. STUDENT MAKES LOG OF OIL WELL

Walter Morris Received B. S. Degree in Class of '22

Walter Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Morris, 315 Linden Walk, Lexington, was graduated from the University of Kentucky class '22, in geology. After obtaining his degree he went to work as geologist for the Eagle-Picher Lead Company, at Henryetta, Oklahoma. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

The following is taken from the Henryetta Standard, of Henryetta, Oklahoma:

"Walter Morris, geologist for the oil and gas department of the Eagle-Picher Lead Co., has completed a unique log of one of the company's wells.

The log is drawn to exact scale. One inch representing a hundred feet of drilling. The log is marked showing the different formation, where each string of pipe was set, where gas, water and oil was found. In fact it is practically the same as if a giant knife had cut away a section of the earth around the hole and one could see down 2778 feet below the surface of the earth.

To make the log Mr. Morris obtained several feet of glass tubing, the drilled was instructed to save a sample of each formation passed through to the depth of the formation. Starting with the formation at the surface each change was recorded, drawn to scale and the formation put into the glass tube. After the well was completed and the different samples placed in the tube, it was stopped up and turned upside down, which brought the contents of the tube in the same position that they were when the drill passed through.

"The well from which the log was made was No. 4 Ellis Holmes of the Eagle-Picher Lead Company, in section 34-12-12 and at the bottom can be found the legend, 'salt water.' The well made about a million feet of gas before it struck the 'ocean.'"

Orchestra practice is held every Monday evening at 7:30 in the band room in Buell Armory. All musicians who wish to join are urged to be present at next week's practice.

CATS FAIL TO DISPLAY BEST FORM AS CINCY IS BLANKED BY 14-0 COUNT

Blue and White Eleven Emerges Victor by Two Touchdowns

KING AND KIRWAN STAR

Wildcats Show Difficulty in Getting Started But Score Twice

The University of Kentucky Wildcat eleven defeated the Bearcats of the University of Cincinnati, 14-0 in a slow and uninteresting contest at Cincinnati last Saturday. The Cats failed to come up to the form displayed in their opener against Marshall last week and were able to cross the Cincinnati goal line but twice throughout the entire period of play. Both of the Cat scores came in the second period.

The Blue and White showed considerable difficulty in getting started and the second quarter was under way before a blue-clad griddler in the personage of Kenneth King, gathered up a Bearcat fumble and dashed 60 yards behind perfect interference for a touchdown. A second score was close behind the first when the Cats marched from midfield to the Bearcats' 27-yard line where Ab Kirwan went off left tackle for the remaining distance and the score. Sanders made the additional point after each touchdown.

Kenneth King was the outstanding player for Kentucky. His long run after picking up a fumbled ball gave the Blue and White the winning marker and his work on the right flank was away above that of any other player on either side. Ab Kirwan's work at half stamped him as one of the best backs in Kentucky. Kirwan blocks and tackles with the precision of a veteran and can pass, kick, or run with equal ability. Captain Prather and "Tank" Fratz, Bearcat fullback, were the Cincy luminaries.

Ramsey won the toss-up for Kentucky and elected to receive. Bachman kicked off to King who returned six yards. Kirwan was downed six yards behind the line and Gregg punted forty yards to Bradner who fumbled but recovered. The remainder of the first period was a punting duel between Gregg and Maddox with the Cat quarter having the best of the argument. The quarter ended with the ball in Cincinnati's possession on her own forty-eight yard line.

King Recovers For Score

On the fourth play in the second quarter Fratz, Cincinnati fullback fumbled and Kenneth King, Cat end, recovered, dashing sixty yards for the initial touchdown of the scrap. Sanders kicked goal.

King kicked off to Prather, who was downed by Brewer with very little gain. Fratz hit left guard for three yards and McAndrews made eight more and first down around left end. McAndrews fumbled but recovered. Maddox failed to gain around left end and Bachman kicked thirty-five yards to Gregg, who returned ten. Kirwan made three yards off left tackle and Gregg flanked the Bearcats' right end for six more. Gregg made two through right tackle for first down. Brewer made twenty-five off right tackle and then made three more off left tackle. Sanders hit right guard for three yards and Kirwan went through left tackle for twenty-seven yards and the second score. Sanders place-kicked for the additional point. The half ended with Kentucky in possession of the oval.

Neither outfit was able to score in the second half although the Bearcats opened up a very threatening passing attack in the first five minutes that brought them from the shadow of their own goal to the middle of the field. The game ended with Kentucky threatening to score with the ball in her possession on Cincinnati's fifteen-yard line.

FROSH DEFEAT EASTERN STATE NORMAL 53-0 IN OPENING CONTEST HERE

Yearlings Stage Track Meet at Expense of Richmond Eleven

KITTENS LIGHT BUT FAST

Vossmeier Shines at End—F. Smith and Isaacs Also Star

The University of Kentucky Freshman football team experienced little difficulty with the Eastern State Normal eleven and defeated them by the score of 53 to 0, last Saturday afternoon on Stoll Field.

The game was very slow and uninteresting due to the fact that it was the first encounter for both teams. Many fumbles were made by both sides but the Kittens had the advantage in the recovering and lost little ground by this kind of errors.

After the first kick-off the Kittens held Normal and forced the Easterners to punt. On the yearlings first play Fuller circled right end for a touchdown but was called back for running out of bounds. The Kittens took the ball to within eight yards of the goal by line plunges and then "Buddy" Smith carried it over for the first touchdown of the season. Vossmeier drop-kicked for the additional point. After the first touchdown the Kittens went up and down the field at will and by the end of the first half they had made three touchdowns. The second half proved to be more fatal to the visitors than the first; the yearlings making 33 points.

The back field was especially strong being composed of three former "Blue Devils," W. Smith, Mandt, and Fuller. The full back position was ably filled by F. Smith. The generalship of W. Smith and the punting of F. Smith deserved special note. The varsity would be greatly aided by the services of F. Smith as his punts averaged about 75 yards.

Vossmeier Shines
 Captain Vossmeier, at left end, was the shining light of the line. He was in every play and it was almost impossible for the Richmond lads to circle his end. Isaacs showed great form at center. His offensive work was especially good. This year's line is not quite as heavy as the line of '22 but has the punch and determination that keeps the enemy from passing.

Normal did not make a first down

WILDCATS AND GENERALS OF WASHINGTON LEE TO CLASH HERE SATURDAY

Two Elevens Expected to Put Up Stiff Battle on Stoll Field

TEAMS EVENLY MATCHED

Winn Works Kirwan at Quarter; Gregg May Be Out

Making their first appearance on a local gridiron, the Generals of Washington and Lee will provide the entertainment in the Wildcats' third contest of the season Saturday. According to all advance dope on the Virginians the Cats will get plenty of entertainment in the form of a hard scrap. The Generals will be about two pounds a man lighter than the Kentucky gridders, but are a hard-hitting aggregation that will push the Cats to the limit in order to win. Washington and Lee was forced to lie idle last week when the contest with Washington and Jefferson was cancelled because the Pennsylvania authorities planned to play a negro in the lineup. Declaring that they would be violating a tradition of the university the Generals refused to go through with the contest even after Washington and Jefferson had dressed and entered the stadium.

The Generals are in excellent shape because of last Saturday's postponement but whether or not the lay-off will affect their playing remains to be seen.

Opposed to the excellent condition of the Generals, we find the Cats very badly crippled. Gregg, McFarland and Hughes, principal members of the hospital squad. It is highly improbable that Gregg will start the game at quarter, but Hughes and Mc-Farland should get into the scrap before the first half ends.

Predictions as to Coach Jack Winn's starting lineup are still unsafe. With Gregg injured and John Evans suffering from appendicitis, Winn's greatest problem is to find a man to pilot the Cats. The Cat mentor has been working Al Kirwan at the signal position every day this week and indications point toward the Louisville youth guiding the team.

Captain Ramsey and Kenneth King at ends, Russell and Stevenson at tackle, Montgomery and Martin at guard, and Sauer at center seem the most probable forward wall to start against the Generals. Kirwan, at quarter, Brewer and either Tracy or Hughes at the halves, and Sanders at full, the backfield selections.

The game between Washington and Lee and Washington and Jefferson was officially declared off when the Virginia school refused to play against a negro half back on the Washington and Jefferson team. Declaring that the traditions of Washington and Lee refused to allow the team of that institution to participate in a contest with a negro, the authorities of the school that the Cats meet next, called off the contest.

Centre, Tennessee, and Tech appear to have struck the same stubborn opposition last Saturday as did the Cats. The Colonels were unable to defeat Carson Newman but 13-0, Tennessee and Maryville played a 14-14 tie, and Georgia Tech emerged victor over V. M. I. by a scant margin of three points. Maryville appears to have a much stronger team that has been expected, although Tennessee was minus several of her stars in Saturday's contest.

We understand that several members of the varsity football squad were initiated into the Lion's club just before the game at Cincinnati last Saturday. The charter members of the Kentucky chapter are Givens Martin, Leonard Tracy, John Evans, Turner Gregg, Ted Brewer and Curtis Sauer. The initiation took place at the Cincinnati Zoological Gardens and was followed by a feast at Thompson's Dairy Lunch.

 The announcement made in this column in the first edition of the Kernel has been received by many as an opportunity to show how high-brow they are. Others have declined to make public their taste in literature, whether through modesty or shame we know not. The list selected for the first of the lists which we hope to run each week is contributed by a well known student at the University, a native of New Hampshire who has formed the habit of strolling (literally) down this way each year to bask in the sunlight of Kentucky's mild winters and enjoy the companionship of one of her choicest sons, Hy Taylor.

FRESHMAN TAKES 1ST PLACE IN CROSS COUNTRY TRY-OUT

Brame Finishes in Lead in Two and Three-quarter Try-out

History again repeated itself last Friday afternoon when Brame, a freshman, was first at the finish of the two and three-quarter mile try-out for the cross country team. Out of 15 entries only eight finished. Butler was second and was closely followed by Gorman and Davidson respectively.

Hall, star of last year's freshman team, did not run due to the lack of practice and Smith of last year's varsity, ran seventh but would probably have finished better had he been in proper training. Daniels, a hard worker and a letter man, finished sixth.

The sea will be composed of six men of which Gorman, Butler and Hall look like the best bets. Coach Porter has a large field of aspirants from which to choose the other three men. At present, the most likely candidates are Davidson, Smith, and Daniels.

The class meet, which was scheduled for the thirteenth will probably be held over to the twentieth due to the necessity of more practice for all the men. The first intercollegiate meet will be held with Cincinnati the last part of this month.

Not many are permitted to represent their school in such contests, and to these the opportunity to contribute to this fund comes as a challenge and a privilege; a chance to do what their University expects of them with a real Wildcat will; a chance to contribute in terms of love and pride and self-denial, rather than in money, and the privilege of seeing their gifts transmuted into a lasting monument to that dauntless Kentucky spirit which breathes in them."

News has reached the Alumni office of the sad death of Walter E. Armentrout, who received his M. A. degree at the University of Kentucky in '21, and the past two years had taught mathematics in the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Armentrout, with a friend was returning from a fishing trip and was struck by lightning and instantly killed, June 18, 1923. "I enclose check for Lucien S. Moore ex-24. Send his Kernel to 17401 Wanda Ave., Detroit. So far I have been unable to attend any meetings of the U. K. Alumni club here, but hope to get to the next one. I see Charley Planck quite often and ran across John Stevens, 'Hardboiled Steve' the other day. I am purchasing agent for the Detroit Community Union, the supervisory organization of the sixty-five social agencies in Detroit. I am also taking second year work in the evening classes of the Detroit College of Law. My best wishes for 'Old Kentucky' and may she become the greatest University in the U. S."—V. C. Swearingin, 316 Jefferson Avenue, East, Detroit, Mich.

"I have been having a most enjoyable time, but just the same my thoughts wander frequently to the fine old school with a real Kentucky spirit. I have heard many arguments in favor of different schools but I would not trade my University of Kentucky diploma for any other.

"I am thoroughly pleased with my work with the Bailey Meter Co. I expect to be sent to New York or Boston within a month or so to do service work in one of the branch offices."—W. Preston White, 1782 East 101 St., Apt. 1, Cleveland O.

BLACK AS THE ACE OF SPADES—SMOOTH AS A POLISHED JEWEL

First Pen made for Students only Designed by Geo. S. Parker for their special needs and made by Duofold craftsmen—yet offered at only $3

JUST as the Parker Duofold and Lady Duofold are recognized as the aristocrats of pens priced at $5 and higher, so this new Parker D. Q. is the blue-blood of pens in the medium-priced class. Indeed the same crafts-guild that produces Parker Duofold makes this Parker D. Q. that we announce at only $3.

Parker designed this pen based on a study of the students' requirements and desires. Hence it's a pen that is practically made to the students' order. We know of no other with this special ring to link to note-book, and no other this size under $5 with a special metal girdle to reinforce the cap. Yet no extra charge is made for these features, or for the super-smooth point of 14k gold tipped with Native Iridium.

Insist on seeing this new creation. Any good pen counter can supply you, but look carefully for the stamp of the genuine, "Geo. S. Parker—Lucky Curve."

DR. M'VEY'S REPORT TO BOARD SHOWS LACK OF SPACE AND EQUIPMENT

Attendance Increases 800 Per Cent; Facilities Only 10 Per Cent

YEAR'S ENROLLMENT 2,000

Nominations Made For Trustee To Succeed Mr. J. I. Lyle.

At the quarterly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University Tuesday morning, Dr. F. L. McVey, president, announced in his report University, announced in his report that although the enrollment of the school has increased 800 per cent since 1908, the equipment during that period has increased only 10 per cent. The president mentions also the need of classrooms.

The report gives 1,815 students now enrolled, an increase over last year's enrollment of 200 students, and considering those registering late and at the beginning of the second semester, the total for the regular session of the school year is expected to reach 2,000.

In this meeting the terms were accepted on which the trusteeship of the E. O. Mountain fund will be accepted by the University, these terms having been agreed upon by a joint meeting of the committees from the trustees and the fund several days ago.

W. H. Hickerson was appointed instructor in English, and Mrs. Frances Miner is to take the place of Dr. P. K. Holmes until he recovers from his illness.

Alumni nominees were selected, one of whom will fill the vacancy on the board of trustees when the term of J. Irvine Lyle, of New York, expires in January.

H. M. Froman, of Lexington, and Frank McKee, of Versailles, were appointed to audit the books of the experiment station and extension division.

Nominees receiving the highest number of alumni votes counted at the meeting were the following: W. C. Wilson, of Lexington; V. Y. Moore, of Madisonville; Herbert Graham, of Lexington; Presly T. Atkins, of Pineville; J. Frank Battaile, of Lexington, and L. E. Hillenmeyer, of Lexington. The alumni will select three from this number at the board meeting in December, when the ballots are to be counted. The governor will select one from the three nominess as trustees. After a luncheon at Patterson Hall, the board inspected the women's dormitories of the University. Members of the board present were R. C. Stoll, Lexington; H. M. Froman, Lexington; George Colvin, Frankfort; Rainey T. Wells, Frankfort; W. H. Grady, Louisville; R. G. Goron, Louisville; J. Irvine Lyle, New York; J. W. Turner, Paintsville, and Frank McKee, Versailles.

FORMER STUDENT COMES IN AIRPLANE ON VISIT

It may truthfully be said that the University of Kentucky has some "high flyers" amongst its former students, because Byron Whitfield, Jr., of Harlan, Ky., dropped in from the sky the other day in his aeroplane to call on his sisters, Frances and Mary Whitfield. Whitfield was on his way home, having come from Knoxville, Tenn. He was a student at the University a few years ago.
