Kentucky Kernel

University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentuck

STRUTTIN' AROUND

Men of Haggin proceeds benefit United Way

By GREGORY A. HALL

Homecoming queen K.C. Watts became used to large ob-noxious crowds when she was crowned before 50,000 fans in Commonwealth Stadium. But last night Watts was exposed to a crowd for which she was not pre-crowd for which she was not pre-pared.

The Men of Haggin Hall per-formed the final production of their all-male revue fund raiser for United Way at Blanding Tower's 23rd floor. Five Haggin residents danced in the dark before 50 screaming women. Sometimes the girls came out of the audi-ence, and in K.C.'s case, the girls were grabbed by the men.

"In front of 50,000 people, I didn't have to dance," said Watts comparing the two experiences.
"It was fun, but it was kind of embarrassing."

"It was fun, but it was kind of embarrassing."

After the men performed their routines, they paraded before the ladies one final time in an auction to the highest bidder. The girl in the audience who donated the most money to the United Way for a performer received his servitude for 24 hours.

Admission was $1.

(TOP) An interested female at last night's Men of Haggin Male Dance Revue at Boyd Hall enjoys the show. (Above) Rob Vertrees, a second year participation of the show. ant in the show tries to run fro alee, an RA at Boyd Hall. All proceeds of the revue benefit United Way

The servitude comes in various forms. Last year Vertrees went to a UK basketball game. As a result of another performance last night in Boyd Hall, a dancer will have to perform at a wedding shower.

See MEN. Page 2

UK's response to NCAA probe gets high marks

By BARRY REEVES Sports Editor

UK should serve as a model for other schools because of its cooperation during the probes of the Wild-cat basketball program, NCAA executive director Richard Schultz said yesterday. "At Kentucky, you conducted the model situation," Schultz said in comments to the Lexington Rotary Club.

Club.
"Some people were not happy with the way that happened," he said in reference to some Kentucky supporters. "You should be very happy, and you should be very happy, and you should be very happy, and you really don't know how blessed you are to have a president...of your university who is brillant, articulate and with as much courage and as strong a leader as David Roselle.
"I think they (Kentucky officials)

much courage and as strong a teader as David Rosselle.

"I think they (Kentucky officials) set an example for other institutions on how it's supposed to done."

At a news conference following the speech, Schultz said NCAA officials had considered shutting down Kentucky's basketball program.

Instead, the NCAA Committee on Infractions placed the Wildeats on three years probation, banned the team from postseason play for two seasons and barred them from live television appearances for one season.

"The infractions committee can call for the death penalty at any point, if they think the situation warrants it," Shultz told reporters. "And even though I am not a part

"Even though the sanctions against Kentucky seemed harsh. they could have been a whole lot worse

Dick Schultz

of the committee, I can tell you that the death penalty was discussed. I think they gave it a lot of thought.
"Even though the sanctions against Keniucky seemed harsh, they could have been a whole lot worse."

After Shultz's speech, Rotary

After Shultz's speech, Rotary Club members were allowed to ask him questions, but nobody questioned the NCAA sanctions.

Shultz praised the actions of Roselle and the Athletics Director C.M. Newton.

"I thought the people were very very nice. The Kentucky administration has done a fine job in preparing the public," he said. "People don't like it, but they aren't bitter about it."

Schultz said he forsees signifi-cant changes in college athletics during the next few years.

"We have to change the model because the model we have now is not working," Schultz said. "You are only what the public perceives you to be and the public sees col-lege athletics as a corrupt environ-ment. We have to put the student

School of Journalism celebrates 75th year

By JENNIFER RUSSELL

Contributing Writer

The UK School of Journalism is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year, and many changes have been made in the school since its establishment in 1914 by Enoch Grehan and Marguerite McLaughlin.

Until 1914, journalism was a department within the College of Arts & Sciences. The School of Journalism became part of the College of Communications when the college was established in the 1970s. Since its establishment, the School of Journalism has produced 2,000 graduates, many of which are Pulitzer Prize winners.

The School of Journalism has

The School of Journalism has changed substantially over the last 75 years. The faculty number has grown, and the curriculum has been changed to fit the needs of students and to prepare them better for the job market.

A SI.4 million renovation of the building took place two years ago, and new personal computers were recently put in the writing lab.

A major change in the School of Journalism was the addition of broadcast and advertising sequences to the program, said David Dick, director of the School of Journalism. Previously, the school dealt only with print journalism. Another significant change was the accreditation of the advertising sequences six years ago.

See 75TH, Page 7

Crum pleads ignorant of wrongdoing

Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The University of Louisville will file a report to answer questions about whether basketball coach Denny Crum violated NCAA rules by meeting with the mother of recruit Dwayne Morton two days before the prep standout committed to Louisville.

Louisville.
Louisville sports information director Kenny Klein said that the school was "following the proper procedures and filing a report to the Metro Conference, which will in turn go to the NCAA to take any action necessary to clear up this." Klein said the university would "neither confirm nor deny any pos-Sible NCAA violations."

Morton, a 6-6 forward at Louisville Central High, announced Wednesday that he would attend Louisville. He has been heavily recruited by both Crum and University of Kentucky Coach Rick Pitino.

Crum said he was sitting in his office with former Louisville player Robbie Valentine after practice, and "in walked Charlotte Morton and Ralph Johnson. I said, "Hello," and they said, "Hi," and they said, "Hi," and they said, "What's going on?" They said they came over to watch practice. I said sit down."

Crum said the four "conversed a while. We talked about a lot of things."

practice earlier than usual because of a change in the training schedule. Practice was over by 5 p.m. CST, instead of the usual 6 p.m.

the: Tileater and the usual 6 p.m. quitting time.

According to Crum, Johnson then asked about a video he had seen earlier of a player who had spent some time in prison and now gives lectures to teenagers about staying out of trouble.

'I said, 'Would you like to see it?'' Crum said. "Charlotte said, 'Yeah'...It's a very moving tape."

After the tape finished, Crum said, the group continued talking until Johnson suggested they all go to dinner together. Crum told John-

By NESHA STARCEVIC

BERLIN — East Germany opened the Berlin Wall and its other borders yesterday, and its cheering citizens crossed freely into the West for the first time since 1961.

since 1961.

Late yesterday, exultant East Germans began passing through Berlin Wall checkpoints and others entered West Germany at other border crossings. Jubilant people pranced and danced atop the Berlin Wall, a sight unthinkable only hours earlier.

Hundreds were seen on the Hriedrichstrasse subway to West

East Germans break through Iron Curtain

Berlin, and East Germans also were allowed for the first time at Checkpoint Charlie, the famed Friedrichstrasse crossing run by the Allied military.

Many hugged and kissed total strangers, while cars packed with East Germans and others paraded down the streets of West Berlin in a carnival-like atmosphere.

"It's crazy! It's crazy!" yelled one young man as he sat in the back sea of a car with his parents after a brief trip through the once-impenentable Berlin Wall.

His parents said they just wanted to see the West and then drive back. They declined to give their names.

"We heard it on TV," the young man's father said. "We just decided to go over and have a look. We just want to show our son a little bit of Kurfuersten-damm."

The Kurfuerstendamm is one

The Kurfuerstendamm is one of Europe's most elegant shopping strips. For decades, East Germans locked up behind strips. For decades, East Germans locked up behind could only dream of seeing it. West German leaders hailed the decision. Chancellor Hellmut Kohl, on an official visit to Poland, said: "We will be in could up to the country of the country shortly after my return and I would like to meet very soon.

DIVERSIONS

The Call's new album influenced by the road. Story, Page 3.

SPORTS

UK defense must stop scrambled Vandy offense. Story, Page 4.

2-Kentucky Kernel, Friday, November 10, 1989 Fetal rights addressed by UK philosophy dept.

Is fetal harm child abuse? Joan C. Callahan of UK's Department of Philosophy doesn't think so and expressed her views on this and similar women's issues in a speech to about 80 people in the Peal Gallery yesterday.

lery yesterday.

Callahan cited the case of a pregnant Massachusetts woman who was involved in an alcohol-related was involved in an alcohol-related traffic accident that claimed the life of her eight-month-old fetus. The woman was tried in court for vehic-ular homicide.

"The question of liability for fe-tat harm cannot be addressed with-out the moral status of fetal be-inss." she said.

out the intria.

Ings," she said.

A distinct time needs to be set which decides when an unborn should be classified as a person, whether it be at conception, birth or various stages during pregnancy.

Callahan believes a person begins

she said. "They lack the mental character, or concept of one's self as an ongoing being. They have no characteristics that compel per-no characteristics that compel per-sonhood."

This concept of human life be-ginning at birth and her belief that fetuses shouldn't be protected under the law, leads her to believe it is a woman's right to have an abortion.

She said birth "is the only point at which societal decisions to rec-ognize very young human beins to say persons fully protected by the law will not allow most violations of the rights of women who are ac-tual whole persons."

Another problem which Callahan discussed was the jailing of women who might harm their unborn child by such methods as taking drugs.

by such methods as taking drugs. She called this the voluntary relinquishment view where pregnant women forfeit their rights to auton-

"This means that all pregnant women are now compared to felons who forfeited their rights to be at large in the community," she said. "This comparison of women to fel-

Joan C. Callahan speaks on fetal rights at the Peal Gallery yester ons is chilling and morally impug-nant. Women have clearly not vol-untarily relinquished these rights." Some causes of fetal harm include poor prenatal condition as well as smoking, drinking and drug taking by the mother. For young she said.

The solution is to "find the political will to take positive actions to reduce ignorance and poverty. We need to introduce and sustain poli-cies to help young pregnant wom-en," she said. This can be accom-plished through more effective social programs.

Callahan has authored two books which deal with such issues as abortion, fetal rights and reproductive technology. These are: Ethics in a Changing World and Prevening Birth: Continued Methods and Related Moral Controversies.

U of L students want change in racial policy

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Some black students at the University of Louisville have given school President Donald Swain a list of changes they said are needed to ease racial tension on campus.

Gerald White, spokesman for the group, said there would be a mass search on the school grounds Friday to underscore the students' concerns.

cems.
White is president of the univer-sity's chapter of the National As-sociation for the Advancement of Colored People, but he said the group making the demands is not associated with the NACP or other campus organizations. The demands came after a fresh-man Dawne Lopes told university man, Dawne Jones, told university officials that she has been the target of racial harassment in a dormitory in which she is the only black student

Among other things, the students ask that Ms. Jones be reimbursed for all dormitory fees she paid while the alleged harassment was going on.

pula while the alleged harassment was going on.
Ralph Fitzpatrick, Swain's assistant for minority affairs, said that he and Dennis Golden, vice president for student affairs, would review the list and discuss it soon with representatives of the group. The student group asked that:
The University will devise a plan to desegregate the Panhellenic dormitory, where Ms. Jones lives and that more blacks be hired as resident dormitory advisors.
That the names of Confederate

Place, a campus street in the dormitory area and the Confederate Apartments, a dormitory, be changed to honor the memory of some figure prominent in black history.

White said more than 100 students met for two hours Tuesday night to compile the list of demands.

"We want to see them met by the administration," he said. "I think they are things the adminis-tration can realistically do without much extra expense or trouble.'

tration can realistically do without much extra expense or trouble."

If the demands are not met, white said, students initially would continue non-violent demonstrations and lobby state and federal lawmakers. Eventually, he said, black students might consider an economic boycott of campus restaurants and stores.

Fletcher Elmore, a member and past president of the local chapter of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, said he regrets the group's call for eliminating the "Confederate" name from campus landmarks. "Certainly we are not espousing anything but respect for our United States flag today, but we respect the memory of our Confederate ancestors who were fighting for a cause they thought was just and proper," Elmore said.

"I don't see anything wrong with proper," Elmore said.

"I don't see anything wrong with respecting our ancestors, no more than we would object to people of a minority race being proud of their heroes — Martin Luther King Jr. or Mahatma Gandhi or any other."

U of L coach says he knew not of rule son he and Valentine already had plans to go eat at a local restaurant, but they could all go together. "I said, "By the way, I'm afraid I cannot pay for your meal," "Crum said. "He (Johnson) said, 'I'm aware of that.' Robbie (Valentine)

Expect the Best

And Get It With

Nexxus!

Campus Editor Editorial Editor Sports Editor
Arts Editor
Assistant Arts Editor
Photography Editor

Adviser Advertising Director Assistant Advertising Director Production Manager

said it was my idea anyway, so I'll pay for the meal.'" Crum said he was not aware he Crum said he was not aware ne was violating any NCAA rule by having dinner with Mrs. Horton, adding that he would not have done so if he had known.

"I can assure you had I known it was a violation I sure wouldn't have gone out in public to a public restaurant with a person I was com-mitting a violation with," he said. "I may not be the smartest person in the world, but I'm not that durch I was the said with the said with I was the said with I was said with I was the said was I was I dumb. It was strictly accidental."

Tongle

Klein said the report to the Metro Conference was a routine step.
"We've done things as we have

NCAA rules prohibit coaches from having any contact with pros-pects or their families during a "dead period" of 48 hours before the prospect signs a letter of intent.

Game causes controversy on campus

252-3266 1429 Village Dr. (off Versailles Rd.)

Perfect Curls or Waves conditioned to perfection with Nexus Accu-time. Normally $60 now offered at $44,95 FREE 3 oz. Nexxus Shampoo and Conditioner available for your new perm.

C.A. Duane Bonifer Brian Jent Elizabeth Wade Tonja Witt Michael L. Jones Barry Reeves Kip Bowmar Charlie McCue Steve Sanders

Steve Sander Mike Agir Jeff Kuerz Judy Fursi Evelyn Quiller

Affordable prices, exceptional work always guaranteed at the Last Tangle.

The Kentucky Kernel

Competition involving toy weapons will disrupt UK activities, officials say

It's just a game, but it's a game that UK administrators are taking very seriously, calling it everything from "disruptive" to "barbaric."

It's the Assassination Game, based on the premise that several participants are competing for a job in the world's most powerful intelligence organization. To get the participants are competing for a job in the world's most powerful intelligence organization. To get the job, you must "kill" the competition by hitting them with a projectile fired from a toy weapon.

The game started on campus last Friday, and as of last night, two of 32 participants have been "liquidated," according to organizer Rob Redmon. Each participant paid a $3 antry fee to cover the costs of organizing the game.

A $25 prize will be awarded to the participant who outlives the other 31 competitors. The person who liquidates the most participants will win $15. The remaining $56 from the entry fee was used to cover the cost of printing a rule booklet, posters and for photographs of the players.

Redmon said that he has made every effort to make the game said. Redmon said that he has made every effort to make the game.

"I don't think he's got any business doing this game on campus at all," said Frank Harris, director of the Student Center. "I don't thave anything against guns, but I have a tremendous problem with people play-acting with guns. My feeling is if you point a gun at somebody, you do it for one reason — you're going to blow him away. You don't go playing with guns, toy or otherwise."

otherwise."

UK Police Chief W.H. McComas said he is concerned about the possibility of police officers mistaking the toy weapons for real laking the toy weapons for real guns.

"A police officer is taught to react to situations," McComas said. "His thought process is: If he's seen a gun being brandished and he's had (a report) of shots being fired, he's going to have his gun out. If something comes out of the (toy) gun, he's going to act accordingly. I just hope we don't get to that situation."

McComas added that "the (toy) weapon itself has a projectile and could cause permanent eye damage."

Redmon, an advertising senior, said that all the projectiles being used are rubber-tipped and large enough that "they can be seen, so we're not going to have a problem with somebody's eye." He said that all the weapons being used are brightly colored so that they won't be mistaken for real they won't be mistaken for real weapons.

Doug Wilson, dean of students, said he is concerned that the game is a disruptive influence on campus, and noted that "where some-body is disruptive of our educational process, it is a violation of our Code of Student Conduct." Violations of the Code of Student Conduct can result in sanctions being imposed on the offender, according to the Student Rights and Responsibilities handbook. Sanctions can range from a warning to dismissal from school. Redmon, who is meeting with Wilson today to discuss the game, said he doesn't think the game is disruptive.

said he doesn't think the game is disruptive.

"One of the rules says you can't shoot someone in class or at work," he said. "The concept be-hind writing that rule was so (the game) would not disrupt UK func-tions."

And since only 32 students are playing out of a student population of over 22,000, he said he doesn't see how it could be dangerous.

Redmon said he made attempts to find out if there would be a prob-lem with the game and asked Student Government Association President Sean Lohman for help.

Lohman researched the issue and told him to talk to Frank Harris, Redmon said.
"I went to see Dean Harris on the advice of Sean Lohman because I din't know who else to talk to," Redmon said.

Redmon said.
After talking to Harris, Redmon said that "I pretty much got the idea that there was nothing against (the game), but if I tried to go through channels, (UK) would then decide that I couldn't do it."
Redmon said he thought UK officials were overreacting to the whole situation.

situation. "I think they're going way over-board. I can understand that they get scared by something like this; They hear the word 'gun' and they go sort of nutso. But we've gone out of our way to make it as safe as possible." he said. Lohman said he thought that Redmon had written the proper pre-cautions into the game's rules, and said that "I really don't think it's a problem."

Jack Blanton, vice chancellor of administration, said that the game probably didn't pose a safety problem, but added that "the psychology is berbeit."

lem, but added that "the psychology is barbaric."
"I think it's an appalling idea,"
Blanton said. "The University stands for everything that is absolutely contrary to the idea of such a bizarre game."

WANNA BUY A DUCK?

The Kentucky Kernel is published on class days during the academic year ar-veekly during the eight-week summer session. Thirt-class postage paid at Lexington, KY 40511. Mailed subscription rates res $30 per year. The Kernel is printed at Standard Publishing and Printing, 534 Buckman St., Shepherdsville, KY 40165. Correspondence should be addressed to the Kentucky Kernel, Room 035 ournalism Building, University of Kentucky, Lexington, KY 40506-0042. Phone 606) 537-2871.

You should at these prices!

Gigantic shipment of Duck Head Pants

All On Sale!

Plain Front S1799

Pleated Front

$1999

J&HARMY~NAVY

515 W. Main (Across from Rupp Arena) M-Sat 9-6 • Fri 9-8• Sun 1-5

Make your Advertising Cost-Efficient Advertise with the Kernel

FREE SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS WHO NEED MONEY FOR COLLEGE

- e a data bank of over 200,000 listings of scholarships, fellow-rants, and loans, representing over $10 billion in private sector

(800) 346-6401

Men of Haggin 'strip'

Continued from page 1

T.J. Meagher, also an accounting

T.J. Meagher, also an accounting junior from Louisville, said that the girls are fairly well behaved during the performances.

"They're usually polite in terms of not laughing and giggling and pointing," said Meagher. "As long as they're screaming you know you're doing something right." Vertrees was the Joker, performing to Prince's music from the motion picture Batman. Meagher was a monk who, according to Vertrees, "took a vow of celibacy."

Kyle Higgason was a construction worker, Jon Hughes was a baseball player, and Paul Barnett was a schoolboy.

The revue was the largest residence hall fund-raiser last year bringing in $1,150. This year's numbers beat the money raised last year, according to the organizers year, according to the organizers.

Michelle Diworth came to see what all of the commotion was.
"I just came up here to see what was going on," said the freshman accounting major from Harlan. But suddenly she was compelled to get on stage and dance with a Haggin man. And then another. "It looked good, I guess."

Despite the success of the same.

Despite the success of the revue, residence hall officials are not sure if the merit is worth the means.

"It (the men of Haggin) is in question," said Meagher.

99¢ Binding

our binding styles with card stock cover at participating Kinko's Copy de copies. Not valid with any other offer. One coupon per customer Good

kinko's the copy center

Open 24 hou 253-1360

FACULTY & STAFF

Apply for your American Express Corporate Card Today.

Don't leave the University without it!

IVERSIONS

The Call begins to emerge from obscurity with 'Begin'

By KIP BOWMAR

The road. Most rock musicians view it somewhere between a mixed blessing to be tolerated and an odious chore to be avoided.

The Call, however, see it as part of the creative process where they write brief.

write lyrics.

But then they've never been the average band.

But then they've never been the average band.
How many bands can say their lead singer played John the Apostein and the street of the street o plays keyboard for the band. "But never enough of a drag to the point where we don't want to do it. I think we've reached the point where everybody who doesn't like to do it has been weeded out. You have to be crazy to do it. We play dive clubs, and we don't make any mon-ey, but we're into our music. "We had a big walk-out a couple

"We had a big walk-out a couple of weeks ago," he said. "The road-

California-based group seeks to instill passion into an otherwise unoriginal rock music scene ies said 'you're crazy, and sick' and just quit. But we're fun, crazy and sick because we enjoy what we do. Most people can't deal with it (constantly touring) and they can hit the music is important."

The Call have tried to incorporate the live sound of the road in their new album

The Cast have are to incorporate the live sound of the road in their new album.

"We do a lot of work on the road," Goodwin said, "It's a constant process. Whether it's just writing down lines, compiling, doing work at a sound checks (before a show),"

The band spent 5-6 weeks on the road getting material together before going into the studio for the new album, Let the Day Begin. Goodwin said they view their time on the road as pre-production time. "Then after we'd been on the road, we went straight into the studio," he said. "We didn't use any head sets, but we played straight into the monitors as loud as we would in concert."

into the monitors as found as we would in concert."
Goodwin said he believes that this album has a far more live feel than any of their previous albums.
"I think Let The Day Begin sounds more like we do live," he said. "It has more of a live feel than either Reconciled or Into the Woods."

But Goodwin refused to rank any

But Goodwin refused to rank any of their albums.

"It's like asking somebody which of their children they love the most," he said.

The band's sound checks have produced some of their songs, including "I Don't Wanna." Goodwin said they knew the song worked immediately and continued to use it throughout the rest of that particular tour.

The road is one place where The Call has spent a lot of time.

"We've toured Europe a few times and we seem to do well (in record sales) in Scandinavia," Goodwin said. "We never done Australia or the (far) east. I'd like to do Australia and Japan though."

Does the band see many differences between European and American bands?

"It's hard to say," he said. "At ences between European and Americans bands?

"It's hard to say," he said. "At first we thought we were more of a European band because the fans there seem to respond more to bands that are deeply passionate about their music. But we couldn't escape our more American roots."

The band also sees a difference in the fans, in the two countries.

"There's a fundamental difference in the fans, "Goodwin said. "American kids will yell at any moment in a concert and that's really enthusiastic but it's also rude. It's like rugged individualism at its worst. The European kids wouldn't think of it and it's just the way they're raised. I don't think either is wrong, its just different."

But for the most part the band tries to avoid telling its fans what to think about their music.

"The important thing is that the music says something important about their lives that they can relate to," he said. "What we think is not important. We don't want to tell them what to believe. We just want them to believe something."

them to believe something."

The Call has believed in their music since they began with a self-titled debut album in 1982 and followed the next year with Modern Romans, which spawned "The Walls Came Down."

With the next album, Scene Beyond the Dreams, Goodwin joined the band and bassist Joe Reed left. The album flopped, and the band's two most popular albums Reconciled and Into the Woods followed the failure.

Let The Day Begin is their sixth album. And while most bands won't ever reach stardom if they haven't by their sixth album, The Call may be an exception.

They have moved to a new record label and seem to be enjoying a newly-found popularity. Their Monday night show at Breeding's has already sold-out.

A runer gauge of the band's rising stock may be the fact that Peter Gabriel referred to them as the future of American music.

brief reterred to them as the future of American music.

Time Magazine followed up with an article with the headline:
"Directions for a New Decade."

As for the future, Goodwin and Been remain optimistic about the band's chance for longevity.
"We could existly being playing."

"We could easily being playing when we're into our '50s or '60s when we're into our '50s or '60s because we're passionate about our music," Goodwin said. "Look at The (Rolling) Stones. I mean I love them but I feel kind of embarrassed for them acting like they're 19 or so on stage and strutting around. But a lot of their music is cosmetic. It requires an amount of superficiality."

superficiality."

The band's passion for their music has served them in good stead.
They got their first big break in 1983 when they opened for Peter Gabriel on his world tour.

"It was important for him (Gabriel) to have an opening act who he could believe in," Goodwin said.

"He had some acts open for him who the crowds boo-ed and pelted with things.

with things.
"So he wanted an act he had faith in. We had never met him but The Call was the first band he called and asked to open for him."
"I'd never heard of him," said Been, speaking of Gabriel. "I didn't really like Genesis and wasn't a big to rock."

But they have been familiar with each other's work since then. In fact Been has appeared on some of Gabriel's solo projects.

They also have been big fans of one another. Goodwin sees a common thread between The Call and artists like Gabriel.

"He's passionate about his mu-sic," he said. "We're big fans of any legitimate kind of music that has passion and feeling."

Gang performs best live

By CHARLES McCUE

Assistant Arts Collor

For Orange County, Ca.,
based band National People's Gang, being from Los Angeles
as not been an advantage.

"There is a problem with Orange County because all the clubs were closed down because of the tight-ass Republicans. If you cause waves it makes sense to get out," said lead singer Chad Jasmine.
Jasmine added, "L.A. music
aside from Fiskbone and the Red Hot Chill Peppers is glam rock or metal: It's meaningless."

ess."

The band has been together or about seven years and are urrently on its fourth national

"The bad thing about touring is not knowing where to s not knowing where to It's really bad when you wake and you have to pee real-ly bad and don't know where,"

said Jasmine.
Besides the urinary problems of touring, the band feels that touring makes the group tighter and gives it a stronger sound.
"We all are all really good friends and that definitely helps, we just get off on each other,"
said Jasmine. "When you're performing live, you're a very visual thing. We don't wear socks like the Chili Peppers do."

do."
The band, whose songs include "Hedonism," "Pigs at the Fair" and "The Big Experiment," rarely writes political songs, favoring to stick to songs about whatever is on its mind.

"We have maybe one politi-cal song. We'll write a politi-cal song if there's someone who needs to be bitched at," Jasmine said.

National People's Gang will appear at the Wrocklage to-night.

Woody Allen excels with 'Crimes'

By C.A. DUANE BONIFER

Part of the disgust the nation had with the Ivan Boesky scandal was Boesky's arrogance that his crime was above the eyes of the law. It is perhaps a source of resentment that many have toward those who commit white-collar crimes when the criminal acts as if he or she is above the status of a mere criminal. Such is the basis of Woody Allen's latest film, "Crimes and Misdemeanors," which opened in Lexington last weekend at the Lexington Mall.

The film is about how a man comes to justify his order to kill his mistress and how dealing with the event makes him a stronger per-

the event makes him a stronger person. Martin Landau is a successful op-thamologist who has built a suc-cessful business and has become an active civic leader. He has all the trappings of a graying yuppie: He owns a nice piece of real estate out-side New York City, has an attractive and entertaining wife, and ap-pears to be ready to head into the autumn years in comfort. But Landau has a skeleton stored away in his closet that threatens to ruin everything he has so carefully established.

While on a trip to Boston, Land-

While on a trip to Boston, Land-au met a flight attendant, played by Anjelica Houston, and the two have an extended affair. Houston is convinced that Land-au wants to spend the rest of his life with her, but when she presses him to end his marriage, he shuns her and tries to shut her out of his life.

life.

After several failed attempts to buy her off, Landau decides that his mistress must be done away with permanently. Enter his outcast brother who through his underworld connections rubs Houston out.

For Landau, however, the problems are just beginning. Raised by a strict Jewish orthodox father, Landau has been told that the eyes of God are constantly upon him and he will be held accountable for all of his actions.

While trying to come to terms with his crisis, he is treating a rabbi who is going blind. Losing his sight is difficult for the rabbi, but he handles losing his sight as contained.

he handles losing his sight as God's will.
Several writers and filmmakers have challenged God's omnipotence, and Allen's way of examining the subject is not much different than previous attempts.
But he does an interesting job in challenging some people's belief that they can rise above morality if they can pull the right strings.
While Landau is trying to justify his murder, Allen plays a nervous documentary filmmaker whose mariage has worn out. Allen's brother-in-law, Alan Alda, represents everything Allen detests in the film industry.
Alda is a pomnour film and the control of the c

Alda is a pompous film producer who condescends to allow Allen to make a public documentary about his career. Allen reluctantly agrees to make the film so he will have mentary about a Jewish rabbi.

During the filming, Allen falls in love with a production assistant, Mia Farrow, whom he tries to ro-

Mia Farrow, whom he tries to ro-mance in between the shootings. The scenes with Alda and Allen are a welcomed relief to the film. Many times Landau's indecisive-ness grates on the audience's nerves, and Alda and Allen's me-lees provide a good deal of comic relief.

This weekend the Worsham

This weekend the Worsham Theatre is showing two of Allen's early films, "What's Up Tiger Lilly" and "Take the Money and Run."
For those who have not had the enjoyment of experiencing a Woody Allen film, contrasting one of those movies to "Crimes and Misdemeanors" would be a good picture of how far one of the 20th century's greatest filmmakers has progressed over the last two decades.
"Crimes and Misdemeanors," Raied R, is now playing at the Lexington Mall Cinemas.

Peal Gallery will host graduate string quartet

By HUNTER HAYES

The Graduate String Quartet will perform today at noon in the Peal Gallery located in the Margaret I. King Library-North as a part of the 1989-90 Gallery Series.

Suzanne McIntosh, coach of Suzanne McIntosh, coach of the string quartet and coordinator in the music department for the Gallery Series, said that the series provides "an opportunity to get to a variety of audience we don't normally reach. It's more intimate than a formal concert setting."

Joanna Curtis, violist in the Joanna Curtis, violist in the quartet, said that the performance in the Peal Gallery is "great because we have a full recital on Sunday, It's a great preparation. We get one big nunrough before we have to do a big recital."

The quartet will perform Shostakovich's "Quartet No. 8. "Curtis describes the piece from the Russian composer as "anti-military."

Curtis said that the piece has

Curtis said that the piece has an anti-military build up, upon which the themes are based. The quartet will also perform Stravinsky's "Three Pieces for String Quartet," The performance is expected to last about 45 minutes. The Graduate String Quartet is a part of the string program in the School of Music. All members are seeking either a master's degree or a doctrate in music and arts. The quartet is comprised of cellist Mary Amrhein, violinists Lyn Marcello and Fang Deng, in addition to Curtis. The members of the quartet have been together since last year, though the cellist joined this past September. Brown said that one of the goals of the graduate series is to "highlight faculty at UK who are working on a project that would be of interest to other faculty members, staff, students, and outsiders who have some culty members, staff, students, and outsiders who have some topic of interest in the UK comm u n i t y.

Watercolor exhibit on display

The 12th annual Kentucky Wa-tercolor Society is sponsoring an exhibition of works by artists from around the country Nov. 5 through

Dec. 17.

The exhibit is being held at the UK Art Museum located in the Otis A. Singletary Center for the Arts.

The exhibition, entitled "Aqueous '89," is a large collection of more than 80 works selected by juror Al Broulette.

William Hongary.

Al Broulette.
William Hennesey, of the UK rt Museum, said artists were invited nationwide to submit slides of their work.

Jim Foose, a faculty member of the UK Art department and co-chairman of this year's exhibit said the annual exhibit is worth a visit.

"It's a competition that's opened nationally to people in watercolor," Foose said. "There are about 820 entries, 80 of which were chosen by the juror. There's some $13,000 in prize money rewarded to these exhibitors at different levels."

Foose said the thinks the exhibits exhibitors at different levels."

Foose said he thinks the exhibits are successful because many people find them alluring.
"I think they're appealing to people — it's a beautiful medium,"

Hennessey said.
"Those fresh, crisp, clean colors always appeal to people. I think watercolorists, more than other types of artists, tend to do very accessible subject matter — things that are recognizable."

Foose said the exhibit represents a national base and is "one of the most excellent things that you could see here."

The watercolor exhibit, "Aqueous," is being held at the UK Art Museum and is open Tuesday through Sunday from 12-5. The exhibition is free of charge and open to the general public.

YOUR GUIDE TO THE LATEST GOINGS-ON THIS WEEKEND

LOUDER THAN YOU. Soundgarden will bring their version of the Seattle sound to Lexington. The band is supporting its new album and A&M debut Louder Than Love, which is currently on college Top 10s around the country. Soundgarden started out in 1984 after guitarist Kim Thayil and bassist Hiro Yamamoto moved from Chicago to Seattle. Thayil described the band's music as "zen metal or acid punk." Or is it zen on acid while listening to punk metal? You can come up with your own opinion of the band when they perform at the Wrocklage tonight at 8.

PRODUCE, AISLE 5. National People's Gang, out of Orange County, Ca., will open the show for Soundgarden. National People's Gang became popular in their hometown of Orange County, Ca., by throwing fruit and vegetables at the audience. The lead singer said he got his supply because he worked in the produce department of Kroger. Don't expect it to happen again. Why? Now he has to pay.

IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE? Feeling kind of neurotic or just in a New York state of mind? The Worsham will be "Bananas" this weekend as it shows two of Woody Allen's films, "Take the Money and Run" and "What's Up Tiger Lilly?" The movies will show tonight and Sat. Admission is $1.95. But what we want to know is why for the Dirty Harry film festival they show about six films and for Woody Allen they show two? Who the heck plans these things, the NRA?

BUT WHERE'S DAISY BEEN? WTVQ-36 just released their new schedule. We are sure we speak for the whole campus when say how thankful we are to be able to see the "Dukes of Hazzard" twice on Sunday (at 7 a.m. and 12 a.m.) and at 12 a.m. on every other day. Whatever happened to those great, badly dubbed Kung Fu movies we used to watch late at night? Maybe if we beg, they'll bring back "Good Times" and "Three's Company" too.

HEY, IT'S E.T.! A famous science fiction writer decides to write a book about the time he was abducted by aliens from outerspace who looked like E.T. He writes Communion. Across the country, in Hollywood, movie producers think a movie about a writer who meets aliens would be a hit. Supernatural or just coincidence? You decide. Coming soon to a theater near you.

The Iceberg/Freedom of Speech... Just Watch What You Say Ice-T

4. Automatic

Jesus and Mary Chain

Warner Brothers

6. Hup The Wonder Stuff Polygram

7. The Bridge Various Artists Caroline

WIRIFIL $3.1 FM TOP 10 (compiled by rec uests and airplay) 8. Louder Than Love Soundgarden A&M

Wildcats to face scrambled Vanderbilt offense

UK hopes to secure winning season, break road streak, enter bowl picture

After the graduation of quarter-back Eric Jones last year, Vander-bilt coach Watson Brown decided to change his offense to suit his tal-ent. He switched from an option of-fense to a drop-back passing of-

Well, it appears that Brown has decided to change back to his favor-

Well, it appears that Brown has decided to change back to his favortie offense eight weeks and seven losses into the season.
"It's hard to change something like your offense at this point, but I hought it was imperative that we do so," Brown said this week in a telephone interview. "I just felt we had to.
"We haven."

"We haven't been able to move "We haven't been able to move the ball consistently, dropping back and throwing the ball almost every down so far," he said." ... It's hard to change something in midstream and be very good at it."

Vanderbilt's new offense will get its first test tomorrow at 2 p.m. when they host UK (5-3, 1-3 SEQ). The Commodores enter the game with a 1-7, 0-5 record.

with a 1-7, 0-5 record.

And Brown not only is changing his offense, he also is moving some of his personnel around. John Gromos, who has passed for 1,690 yards and nine touchdowns this year, has been switched from the quarterback position to a receiver spot.

And a pair of freshmen — Mike Healey and Marcus Wilson — now

UK-Vandy

Records: UK 5-3 (1-3 SEC), Vandy 1-7 (0-5). When: 2 p.m. tomorrow Where: Vanderbilt Stadium, Nashville. Radio: Live on WVLK-AM/FM with Caywood Ledford and Ralph Hacker.

Television: None

will run the offense. Wilson is considered to be a better option quarterback, while Healey runs both the option and drop-back passing offenses.

"Well, the only time we've moved the ball consistently has been when we were running the option," Brown said.

Brown also hinted that more position changes have been made, but would not be specific. This has UK coach Jerry Claiborne concerned.

or Coach Jerry Claibonic Con-cemed.

"We're anticipating to see quite a bit of the wishbone this week be-cause they've moved the ball well when they run the option," Clai-borne said. "But we could be entirely wrong because I don't know what they're doing."

But the UK players seem more concerned with their intensity level than the Vanderbilt offense.

"We had a team meeting yester-day and tried to make sure every-body was on the same page," UK defensive back Ron Robinson said Tuesday, "... But I think how we play is far more important than how they play. If we play the way we are capable and with intensity, then I don't think we can lose to awone."

then I don't timis we can anyone."

The Cats have struggled through their last two games against Georgia and Cincinnati.

"Getting back into the conference will help us get our intensity level up for this game." UK fullback Andy Murray said. "This game is very crucial in our season, and I think everybody understands that. We can't afford to have another lackadasical effort this week. The most important thing for us is that lackadaiscial effort this week. The most important thing for us is that we come out fired up."

For the Cats, the Vanderbit game is not an average game. A win will bring UK into bowl contention at 6-3, secure a winning season and end the squad's 15-game road losing streak.
"It just happens that there's a lot of things riding on this game," Robinson said. "There's a lot that would make big news if we mit this game, but it won't make us feel any better than any other SEC win." win."

The Cats are in the same situa-ville, that they've had the last three times. And this year, UK is hoping

UK defensive tackle Doug Houser grabs Cincinnati quarterback Glenn Farkas during last week's 31-0 Wildcat victory. The Cats travel to Nashville to meet Vanderbilt tomorrow at 2 p.m.

to end that streak also.

"We've been here before and we've messed those up, but we can't let that happen again," said Robinson, a native of Nashville. "In years past, we've started look-ing at the end of the season and the big picture, then lose our focus and get beat."

The only thing UK defensive tackle Doug Houser wants from this season is some stories to tell. "We don't even have people around any more to tell stories of a bowl trip," Houser said. "We just have people who have heard the stories — us fifth-year seniors. We want our own stories to tell.

WILDCAT NOTES • Due to a Veterans' Day parade tomorrow, the Broadway exit off I-40 will be closed in Nashville from 10:30 a.m. to noon. The Vanderbilt Athletics Department suggests tak-ing exit I-40 at Church St., which runs straight to the Stadium.

NEED EXTRA MONEY?

CALL THE HONEY BAKED HAM COMPANY

We are currently hiring for full- and part-time positions for the upcoming holidays.

- ABOVE AVERAGE STARTING WAGE • WE WILL WORK AROUND YOUR BREAK SCHEDULE
- COUNTER SALES AND FOOD PREPARATION POSITIONS AVAILABLE

CALL YOUR NEAREST HONEY BAKED FOR MORE DETAILS

CLEVELAND Parma – 351-1377 Mayfield – 461-1140 Rocky River - 356-0440 Maple Heights – 663-3450 Mentor – 255-3848 Lyndhurst -- 646-1800

DAYTON LOUISVILLE Centerville – 439-0707 426-0344

CINCINNATI

Kenwood - 891-9411 Northgate - 385-7440

COLUMBUS McNaughten – 863-9963 Morse Rd. – 267-1016 Kenny Centre – 459-5350 West Broad Plaza – 275-3200

LEXINGTON 278-5090

20% OFF ALL RAY BAN SUNGLASSES PTICIANS

Golden Key National Honor Society

370 LONGVIEW DR. • 276-2574

Information Tables

11/8 B&E 2nd floor lobby 9 a.m.-4 p.m. 11/9 Student Center 2nd floor 9 a.m.-4 p.m. 11/10 Student Center 1st floor 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

> Membership Deadline November 20

GET THAT Ray Sunglasses Sunglasses Sunglasses Adjusted A LOOK Alabama's road to Sugar Bowl runs through LSU

By ED SHEARER

ASSOciated Press

ATLANTA — Alabama heads to Baton Rouge this week seeking a later trip to New Orleans.

Although bowl bids won't officially go out until later this month, you can book Alabama into the Sugar Bowl if the fourth-ranked Crimson Tide is able to outscore Tommy Hodson and his Louisiana State cohorts Sautday night.

The Southeastern Conference champion gets the host berth in the Sugar Bowl each year. Alabama (8-0 overall, 5-0 SEC) will clinch at least a share of their 19th SEC title with a victory over the Bengals.

Only two other teams have a realistic shot at the championship, No. 11 Tennessee (3-1) and No. 12 Auburn (4-1). The SEC never has had a champion with two league losses.

If Alabama were to share the losses.

If Alabama were to share the If Alabama were to share the championship with either Tennessee or Auburn, it's likely the Sugar Bowl would go with the Tide, which hasn't played in the New Orleans since beating Arkansas in the 1980 Sugar Bowl to win the national championship. Tennessee has had one Sugar appearance since then, Auburn three. LSU's Tiger Stadium is regarded as one of college football's toughest places to visit.

It hasn't been a problem for Alabama.

bama.

The Crimson Tide hasn't lost to LSU in Baton Rouge since dropping a 20-15 decision 20 years ago. Since that 1969 contest, Alabama has an 8-0-1 record in Tiger Stadium, batting LSU to a 14-14 stand-off on 1985.

off on 1985.

This has been a season of strug-gle for LSU, which snapped a four-game losing streak with a 35-30 victory at Mississippi last week. Hodson, the only player in SEC history to pass for more than 8,000 yards in his career, has been hot the last two weeks—throwing for 819 yards and seven touchdowns.

College football NOTEBOOK

LSU's problem is stopping the opposition. They'll have that same problem against the Tide's Gary Hollingsworth and Stacy Siran. Alabama 31-28.

The Southeastern Seer had an 11-

The Southeastern Seer had an 11-record last week, lifting the sea-son total to 76-27-1, a .738 per-centage. Elsewhere around the South this week:

*Louisiana Tech at Auburn: It's been 41 years since these teams last met, fighting to a 13-13 draw when Earl Brown was coaching Auburn and Joe Aillet was coaching Tech. The Bulldogs won't fare that well this time. Auburn 28-6. *Georgia vs. Florida at Jackson-this time. Aubum 28-6.

Georgia vs. Florida at Jacksonville: The Bulldogs can thank Auburn's Reggie Slack and Shayne Wasden for this one. The Slack-toWasden touchdown pass in the final minute last week will still be bothering the Gators this week. Georgia 17-14.

Kentucky at Vanderbilt: Ken-tucky's 15-game losing streak in SEC road games will end in the state where it last won - at Tennes-see 17-2 in 1984. Kentucky 24-10.

•Tulane at Mississippi State-Rocky Felker has the Bulldogs

ROCKY Felker has the Bulldogs flirting with a winning season, but they'll have to have this one to get it. Mississippi St. 28-24. *Akron at Tennessee: Chuck Webb, Andy Kelly and Sterling Henton spend a fun afternoon in Neyland Stadium. Tennessee 35-10.

Louisville at Memphis State: Browning Nagle pitches the Cards to another victory. Louisville 31-20.

Miami at Pittsburgh: This will be a pretty good test for the Hurri-canes, despite Notre Dame having blown out Pitt earlier in the sea-son. Miami 28-17.

Get ready ...

Basketball '89-90 is on the way

•Waller Avenue•

Buy one 6" sub & a medium drink, get the second 6"* for FREE

Coupor

Offer good for delivery only Expires 11/27/89
*sub of equal or lesser value

·252-0188·

Donate at CAMPUS BLOOD DRIVES

Mon.-Nov.13

Complex Commons 2:30-9:30 pm

Tues. -Nov.14

Complex Commons 2:30-9:30 pm

Tues. -Nov.14 Holmes Hall 2:30-9:30 pm

Wed. -Nov. 15 Patterson Office Tower 8:30 am -4:30 pm

Wed. -Nov. 15 Haggin Hall 2:30-9:30 pm

Thurs.-Nov.16 Memorial Coliseum 11 am- 8pm

Cross country teams running in national qualifying meet

The UK cross country team travels to Greenville, S.C., this weekend to compete in the NCAA District III meet at Furnau University. According to UK track coach Don Weber, both the men's and women's teans will be in top form for the meet.

"I'm encouraged about our chances in the District," Weber said.
"I'm encouraged by our development this eason, and I think we will have a good race and will potentially qualify."

To qualify for the national championships, the men must be among the top five teams at the district meet and the women must finish as one of the top two.

the top five teams at the district meet and the women must finish as one of the top two.

At-large berths also are awarded to men's teams based upon the difficulty of the team's district. Weber said that because of the superior competition in this district, several at-large berths are usually received. "Our district is traditionally the best in the country," Weber said. "We usually get three or four at-large berths on top of the five automatic berths."

Weber said his Wildeats are among those favored to qualify. Other teams to watch are N.C. State, Wake Forest, Clemson, Tennessee, and Alabama.

The Lady Kats are the defending national champions. Senior Valerie McGovern, a preseason All-American, paces the Lady Kat at. And Weber said that McGovern is a tough competitor.

"Valerie he been entire areas for tack. And Weber said that McGovern is a tough competitor.

"Valerie has been going great for two years now," the UK coach said of his top runner. "She hasn't slowed down. She has only lost one race this year and that was to the defending national champion."

The men's team is trying to improve on its own success of last season when they placed eight nactionally. The team will enter the district meet as two-time South-eastern Conference champions.

eastern Conference champions.

The team is lead by a pair of jun-

UK senior runner Donna Combs practices on Rose St. this week The Lady Kats begin their quest for 2nd national title this weekend.

The Lady Kats begin their quest for iors — Charlie Kern and Jim B. Kaiser. Both are confident of their team's chances at qualifying this weekend for the national championships.

"If we run to our potential, it can be done," Kern said. "It's not an unreasonable goal. But it is going to take a total team effort. We started the season off slowly. We sold ourselves short. We didn't appreciate how good we really were. Now we are starting to believe that we are good."

Weber said that he is encouraged by the improvement of some of the team's younger runners.

Volley Cats and Rax team-up to host 1989 Wildcat Classic or 2nd national title this weekend.

"The person who has made the most dramatic improvement has been James A. Kaiser (no relation to Jim B.)." Weber said. "He along with Eddie Melia have made us a pretty solid team."

Weber is satisfied with his team's performance during he regular season despite some early burdles the team had to overcome.

"(The season) went well." he esiad. "We haven't been beaten. Illness and injury have delayed our progress but I think that's behind us now. Hopefully the people that were out have regained their füness."

Lady Kats host Rolex tournament at Boone

By GREGORY A. HALL

The UK Lady Kats tennis team will host the Rolex National In-door Intercollegiate Tennis Cham-pionships' Southeast Regional this weekend at the Hilary J. Roone Indoor Tennis Courts, The this weekend at the Hilary J. Boone Indoor Tennis Center, Then event will qualify the singles champion, runner-up and the doubles champion to the Indoor National Championship in Minneapolis, Minn., in February.

The 19th-ranked Luke, 18th-ranked Tennessee and 25th-ranked South Carolina along with Weke Forest, Clemson and North Carolina.

Forest, Clemson and North Caro-lina.

"It's a big event for us to host," UK Coach John Dinneen said. "I think the quality of our program, the location of our school and the fact that we have one of the best indoor facilities in the country would be the three factors (in the tournament being at UK)."

the country would be me three factors (in the tournament being at UK)."

Early round matches begin to-day and tomorrow at 8 a.m. and the championship matches start Sunday at about10 a.m.

The Rolex tournament is regarded as the top indoor national tournament for women.

"It's essentially the indoor national tournament for women.

tional championship, where the NCAA is the outdoor national championship," Dinneen said. And being a national championship qualifying event, this tournament contains some tough tournament contains some tough competition.

Lady Kat Jane Yates practices for this weekend's Rolex Indoor Tennis Championships regional at the Boone Tennis Center.

The top-seed in the tournament is South Carolina's Michelle Duda. UK's Jane Yates is the second seed, carrying a Volvo Tennis/Collegiate ranking of 25th. Dinneen called Duke the "class" of the region. "They've got three really good freshmen to go along with a team that returns almost everybody," he said.

All-You-Can-Eat Pizza & SpaGatti

MR. GATTI'S FAMILY BUFFETS SEVEN DAYS A WEEK LUNCH 11-2 P.M. • DINNER 5-8 P.M.

Dinner

500 New Circle Road (606) 255-9603

The Bandit Band

Nov. 14-18

Billy Joe Royal

Phoenix

(Reservations only)

Dec. 4-9

RAMADA® EAST

Contract Club

Club Hours: 8pm-1am 826 New Circle Road • Lexington, KY 40505 • Phone 252-2262

The UK volleyball team, which is in need of a win, will host the Rax Wildcat Volleyball Classic, which begins tonight at 6 at Memorial Coliseum. The fourth annual tournament, which is sponsored by Rax for the first time, will showcase teams from all parts of the country. Brigham Young, Syracuse and Florida State Universities and UK will compete for the Classic championship this weekend. The Wildcats enter the tournament with a two-game winning ment with a two-game winning ment with a two-game winning streak and a 21-8 record.

By JONATHAN MILLER

"If we could win this tournament, it would give our team a tremendous boost," UK coach Kathy mendous boost," UK coach Kathy DeBoer said. In tonight's opening round of the tournament, BYU (18-8) will face Florida State (26-4) at 6 with UK-win the tournament.

"They're coming into the tournament after a big win over New Mexico," she said. "They've consistently had a good program over the years."

New Mexico was ranked 18th in the nation at the time of the match. UK will be facing Syracuse for the first time. DeBoer said the Syracuse program is on the right program is on the right program of the program is on the right program is not the right program of the program is not the right program is not the right program is not the right program in the program is not the right program in the program is not the right program is not the right program in the program is not the right program in the program is not the right program in the program in the program is not the right program in the program in the program is not the right program in the program in the program in the program is not the right program in the program in the first time. DeBoer said the Sy-racuse program is on the rise.

"(Syracuse) is not going to make many unforced errors," DeBoer said. "It's going to put pressure on us offensively,"

The top two players on the Syra-cuse roster are outside hitters— Annie Parisien and Teri Hibner. DeBoer said both Parisien and Hib-per carry the bulk of their offense.

ner carry the bulk of their offe "We can't expect to win this match if we continue to make unforced errors," DeBoer said. "Creating unforced errors is the key to our

tournament, BYU (18-8) WIII Tace
Florida State (26-4) at 6 with UKSyracuse following at 8.

DeBoer said she thinks BYU will

DeBoer said she thinks BYU will

Success.

In the Cats last match, it took them five games (6-15, 15-11, 9 15, 15-12, 15-7) to beat the University of Louisville Wednesday.

"There were times in the match Wednesday where we were just outplayed," the UK coach said. "I was disappointed in a lot of areas of our disappointed in a lot of areas of our game."

UK has struggled since losing Laura Linder, junior All-SEC setter, three weeks ago.

"The games that we have won, we've won ugly," DeBoer said.
"It's obvious that we miss her a lot. Anne Hall, a freshman setter, has replaced Linder and done a fine job for us.

"She's going to make mistakes, "She's going to make mistakes," job for us.

"She's going to make mistakes, that's understandable. It's the older players that aren't picking up the load for us."

UK won the first two years of the Classic, but then lost last year in the final game. Florida State, the defending champions, could meet the Cats again in this year's final. The Lady Seminoles defeated the Wildcats earlier this season (13-15, 15-6, 13-15, 15-11, 14-16) at Tal-lahassee, Fla.

WEEKEND SPECIAL

2 MEDIUM PEPPERONI PIZZAS

$9.99

Just Ask Lunch or Dinner No coupon needed!

253-2111

Offer good only at 384 Woodland Ave. through 11/13/89.

The Graduate School Doctoral Dissertation Defenses

Name: Paul E. Chambers
Program: Economics
Title of Dissertation: 'An Ex-Ante Hedge
Under Stochastic Yields'
Major Professor: Dr. Richard A. Jensen
Date: 11/13/89
Place: 205P Business & Economics Bldg.
Time: 1 p.m.

Name: Margaret G. Richey Program: Plant Pathology Title of Dissertation: Development of Techniques for the Molecular Analysis Fusarium Solant F. SP. Phaseoli' Major Professor: Dr. David A. Smith Dade: 11/15/89 Place: S-301 Agricultural Science Cent North

Name: Longin K. Minani Program: Mechanical Engineering Title of Dissertation: "Wall Phenomena in Liquid-Solid Flow" Major Professor: Dr. M.C. Roco Date: 11/20/99 Place: 219-A Anderson Hall Time: 3 p.m.

Name: Urszula Orlinska
Program: Pharmaceutical Sciences
Title of Dissertation: "Polyamines and Transforming Growth Factor-Beta; (TOF-Beta;)
in Monocrotaline Pneumotoxici,
Major Professor: Dr. Jack Olson
Date: 1/21/29
Pinc: a blood of Pharmacy
Pinc: 3 p.m.

Name: Kim R. Woodrum Program: Chemistry Title of Dissertation: "Pyrazole and Triazole Derivatives of Boron" Major Professor: Dr. Kurt Niedenzu Date: 11/14/89 Place: 137 Chemistry-Physics Bldg. Tune: 2 p.m.

Name: James R. Dunlop Program: Chemistry Title of Dissertation: 'Single Rovibronic Level Photophysics and Pyrolysis Jet Spectroscopy of Thioformaldehyd' Major Professor: Dr. Dennis J. Clouthier Date: 11/17/89 Place: 213 Chemistry-Physics Bldg. Tune: 3 p.m.

Name: Ylming Rong Program: Mechanical Engineering Title of Dessretation: 'A Study on Joint Dynamics in Joint Dominated System. Diagnostic Monitoring and Ulbration Co Diagnostic Monitoring and Ulbration Co Major Professor: Dr. H.S. Tsou Date: 11/20/89 Place: 219-A Anderson Hall Time 6 Jan.

C.A. Duane Boni Editor in Chief

Brian Jent Executive Editor

Julie Esselman Special Projects Write

Humanity can make it, if we help bear other's crosses

The heavens preach and "vacant" lots chatter continual praise, but to many of us this delight means little more than store window advertisements and gay backdrops to rigid streets of stifling silence. The silences that surrounds us, which we participate in, are grievous to contemplate. They are the spiritual clothing of our busy indifference which insulates us from the calls of an overvrought heart. Mary Mann went unheard and committed suicide at Eastern State Hospital recently.

committed suicide at Eastern State Hospital recently.
The need to make the Kentucky Kernel's readers listen doesn't just come from my slight acquaintance with Ms. Mann, but from the fact that at one time she came to the Kernel for a voice.

Guest OPINION

Four years ago I was the paper's editorial editor and I knew Ms. Mann in that capacity. In some small way I wanted the editorial page to give a voice to the voice-less, a category she certainly fitted.

As one may imagine, her sub-missions were disjointed and loosely bound to their themes. I published two of them. What I think she considered her magnum opus, a lengthy reflection on her painful pregnancy and its bitter af-termath (the child had to be put up for adoption, although she came to believe it had actually been killed), I let languish, simply because I preferred less refractory material. In other words I was lazy and in-different myself and therefore must share the blame for her troubles. I reread her printed submissions and they show her intelligence and perceptiveness, the eloquence of outrage and the awkwardness of mental distress.

In her column (Nov. 4, 1985) she took issue with another writer's attack on smoking and pregnant women who smoke. Significantly, she seized one line of the writer's images: "pressing the gun to her own womb'—how colorful, how delightful, how distracting. Sure to distract the anxious, addicted mind ... It would only make a woman terrified and more vulnerable to the habit subination of danger and guilt, which emotional insecurity is at the heart of the matter of pregnancy.

In retrospect, some of her seneces become newly meaningful:

\(\fomega \) "Face it, people, we are in a society that is insensitive to tragedy and death."

\(\fomega \) "People have more sense than to sit still in limbo when death is for sale around the corner."

\(\fomega \) "We are in reality an island society—groups isolated among masses. The insidious pleasures provide psychological relief, tranquility."

Her concluding paragraph sup-quility."

Her concluding paragraph suggests what the other writer was saying, "that the tobacco king is the real werewolf: he who profits from sickness and death. No, we will ignore him. It is a lot easier to get to mother, a frightened, lonely woman who should be so strong. She is not. Let's get her." A sad flash of autobiography, per-haps.

A sad flash of autobiography, perhaps.

When she wrote this column,
Ms. Mann had been in and out of Eastern State for almost 10 years.
Two years later she shot two Jordanian men, killing one. In her mind her victims were the persecutors responsible for the lost of her child. Her suicide is the perversely appropriate denouncement versely appropriate denouncement to the tragedy of this wounded per me for reasons I cannot really define, more than the brief contacts I had with Ms. Mann. Her story, and it is hardly unique, brutally confronts any idea of good community or just society. The truth must be that we are members of each other, charged to bear one another's burdens — burdens which too readily become crosses, and who is sufficient for that?

We need to hear and one our

We need to hear and open our hearts for a phylactery one text: "Who is weak and I am not weak? Who falls and I do not burn with anger?

Alexander Crouch is a UK

Letters

Teaching a great challenge to join as long as they have been admitted to UK.

However, that doesn't mean he or she will receive a degree. Without acceptance into the Teacher Education Program (TEP) a student is not permitted to participate in the upper level courses and extensive field work required for graduation. Entrance into TEP is based on a GPA of at least 2.5, a written response to a current topic in educa-tion, three professional recommen-dations and an interview by a panel that includes a college professor, a college administrator and a practic-ing field teacher. The rejection rate varies depending on the program but can be as high as 40 percent. In order to remain in the TEP a stu-dent must maintain a 2.5 GPA (al-though the average is 3.12) not

Anyone interested in joining

Student Health

Advisory Council

(SHAC)

There will be a meeting Sunday

November 12th,

Room 231 of the New Student at 3:00 in Center.

only overall but in the area of spe-cialization as well (middle school majors have two specialization are

What is the minimum GPA required in math courses for matheratics majors? 2.0. For History majors? 2.0. In fact, there are only two undergraduate colleges at UK that have a higher minimum GPA than the College of Education. They are Business and Economications.

Once a student has graduated from the College of Education, he or she must then complete a one year internship program before receiving a teaching certificate.

During this year the intern is observed, evaluated and critiqued by a member of the supervising panel. Finally, certificate in hand, the teacher must begin his or her work on a masters degree.

a masters degree.

Teaching is one of the only professions that requires continuing education. And the certificate must

OF SURVIVAL

Paintball Competition

accessories provided

Call 271-4599

special rates

for large groups

•play Sat. & Sun

be renewed every five years.

To switch gears, "Liking children should not be one of the criteria as it seems to be now?" Rest assured, Catherine, it's not. But it should be! I find it difficult to believe that a person who prides herself on pointing out the ridiculous to others, wants her future son or daughter educated by teachers that don't like children.

like children.

Did the educators you learned the

mon sense should!

Merely liking children is not enough. Merely liking children will not bar you from entering this college. But merely liking children will never be enough to earn a degree from the College of Education.

Mary P. Sauers is a secondary values

Protect American

This letter is written to suppor Chris Bush in his attempt to be allowed to return to campus. Political activism is sadly lacking at UK and it is a shame that someone with Chris' commitment to justice with Chris' commitment to justice and fair play should be banned from

Freedom of speech and demon-stration are hallowed values dear to almost all Americans. Chris Bush should not have to suffer recrimina-tion because he has chosen to exer-cise these basic American rights.

Tom Llewellyn is a UK gradu

CORRECTION

Due to editor's mistake there was a misprint in Sean Lohman's guest opinion yes-terday. The paragraph should

(There are many people on the Council of Higher Educa-tion who think students in Kentucky do not pay enough to attend a university in this state and would be more than willing to vote for an increase of tuition.)

WORJHAM THEATRE Woody Allen

> Money & Run 7:30 Wed.-Sun What's Up

Tiger Lily? 10:00 Wed.-Sat. Both are shown in Centre Theatre

call 257-1287

Get with the crowd...visit us Flamingo Bay Tanning Tanning & Toning 1 Visit $3.00 3 Visits $8.00 5 Visits $10.00 10 Visits $17.95

269-9377 French Quarter Square

with coupon

FIND YOUR HOME AWAY FROM HOME IN THE KERNEL CLASSIFIEDS

One by one... UK Works United Way

Campus Goal... $366,000

ba

the Kentucky Kernel's annual Preview.

Coming November 27th.

75th anniversary celebrated by UK School of Journalism journalism and mass communica-tion consumption habits have hanged."

In the future, the School of Jour-alism would like to improve in nalism would like to improve in several areas.

The school would like to attract more minorities by hiring more fe-male and black faculty members. Also, it wants to continue improv-ing the school's internship programs.

"Our goal is not only to have many internships, but good ones," many internships, but good ones," Dick said.

Other items on the agenda include keeping in touch with alumni and providing a better placement service for its graduates.

Boyd said he thinks a journalism degree should not include only journalism-related classes, but also studies in the liberal arts because journalists cover world events and need to understand more about the world.

"I would like to see more of a positive attitude toward not only education, but those things which are going to be increasingly important to us as citizens," said Boyd. "I would like to see more of an emphasis on education.
"We need hijher salaries for our professors so we can attract good people and keep good people."

Dean Boyd also would like to see more funding for structural changes in the School of Journalism, such as more classroom space.

UK School of Journalism Director David Dick poses in front of the Grehan Building recently.

UK's response to NCAA probe gets high marks

back into the student-athlete."

Among the changes being discussed by NCAA officials are shortening spring football practice and limiting the basketball season to 27 games.

"The reason is very simple. The many is very simple. The many is very simple. The state are eaving they don't have "the reason is very simple. The students are saying they don't have enough time during the season to be good students," said Schultz, who has been the NCAA's execu-tive director since October 1987. "And they are saying that they don't have time during the offseason to be a normal college student, which is very important."

A special presidential committee has been formed to study what changes are possible, he said.
On the issue of paying college athletes, Schultz said he opposes paying them a monthly stipend, but supports such things as clothing allowances, money for trips and general spending money.
Payments would allow them to "be normal students," he said.
Schultz also said that a playoff system in college football remains a possibility, but soon.

Academic symposium to be held at Lexington Public Library

By PAMELA MITCHELL Staff Writer

Academians are not just a bunch of people who sit around wearing tweed suits in ivy towers reflecting on their own self-importance.

That is just one stereotype that a Symposium on Intellectual and Social Responsibility wants to dispel. The symposium, which starts tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. and ends at 4 p.m., is designed to offer the audience a chance to interact with academians who believe their work has mians who believe their work has social impact and that it is important for people to know what social responsibilities they possess, said Wolfgang Natter, a German professor and organizer of the event. Natter said academians are guilty

Natter said academians are guilty of waiving their social responsibilities when they don't consider their work has on society. "I think American intellectuals have pursued a notion that what they do is a disinterested science, that what they do is simply discover what's out there, and have tended to ignore questions (toward their) own status as chroniclers," Natter said.

Natter called the problem "the Natter called the problem "the ivy tower syndrome" because most people, especially students, see intellectuals as withdrawn, haughty, cold individuals who don't have time for anyone else but themselves and their work.

"These issues that are to be discussed by the speakers will make clear the conne clear the connection between their work and social practices," he said.

work and social practices," he said.
"Their work isn't just done for themselves, but is done with thought for social concern."
Part of the symposium begins at today at 2 p.m. with readings of papers by three intellectuals: Samuel Weber, a professor of literary theory at the University of Paris and UCLA: Robert Paul Wolff professor of philosophy at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst; and Martin Jay, professor of history at University of California, Berkeley.
All will read read papers concerning three perspectives on social responsibility.

Saturday the symposium will be held at the Lexington Public Library at 140 E. Main St. The guest lecturers will begin by speaking 40 to 50 minutes each and then take questions from the audience, Natter questions from the audience, Natter said. It is not necessary to go to the readings the night before to understand the symposium, he said. Jay will address the question "What does it mean to aestheticize politics?" Weber will discuss the relationship between the law, the force of both the will of the government and the people and what foundations of justice exist today in, "In the name of the law." After opportunity to speak and listen to some very distinguished scholars and authors who will be addressing issues which are of deep concern to issues which are of deep concern to their work," Natter said.

Ted Schatzki, a UK philosophy professor, said he hopes the discussions enlighten people about what social responsibilities they have and how socially apathetic some people are.

"We're interested in discussing what moral obligations intellectuals have for social change," Schatzki said. "We hope to make everyctuals have in society.

John Paul Jones, a member of UK's geography department, said the symposium will be a success if the symposium will be a success if everyone learns, including the speakers. "All occupations have a relationship to larger society, Students should be aware that a lot of choices they make also have an effect on society and they need to reflect on these things."

He added that when students ask questions and talk with the speakers, it will create "the best University situation for faculty and students, (because) faculty can learn from students."

ERNEL C

Call 257-2871 Deadline: 3 p.m. the day before publication

CAMERA FOR SALE.

Pentax ME Super with 501 8 lens and 135:2.8 teleproto. Perfect combination for any photography classies. Asilony 316:0.2:2.3769 leave message.

CHRISTMAS VALUE. Select message.

When home serving machine and todies Select Dress
wishth. data on the company of the company

LAST CHANCE! Steal my little Opel sport coupe — this week only $1000. Bob 257-2227. this week only $1000. Bob 267-2227.

LEADING EDGE MODEL D COMPUTER. Dual floopy drive 640K memory. IBM compatible mono — mon-mor-5500. Call 257-5140.

Round kitchen table 340. 266-8780.

1 Waste matter 5 Engine parts 9 Tree 14 Mona — 15 Ardor 16 — Rogers St. Johns 17 Animal food 18 Bugbear 19 Anguish 20 Undivided 21 Threesome 23 Risky

Filament Untidy Earth: pref. Coin Taproom — driver

58 Column 59 Quadruped 60 Aver 61 Ollie's pal 62 Impression 63 Weary 64 Caffeine-containing nut 65 Office iten

21 Lob 22 Weathe 24 Alleys 27 Mr. – hand 28 Asse Rorr

TODAY'S

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

1982 MAZDA 626 AM/FM CASSETTE, Well main-tained, $1,500, Call 255-9013, (502) 863-0510.

for rent furnished efficiency $210 plus utili-park. 278-8316, 252-7571. FOR RENT: Available for November 10, 1 bedroom condo. Walter Place. Security, pool, lease, washer-idryer, facilities and all appliances furnished. 257-4722 days, 266-6233 nights.

Large four room apt. North Admanu seeming to plus gas and electric Call 259-514 50 tulies and electric Call 259-514 50 tulies American exchange for heighing handcapped individual. Walking distance to UK culls of the time to shady, 264-570 febr. 276 days, 276-4150 eventry weekend. Ext. 276 days; 276-4163 evening live ekends.

NEAR UK — Nice 1 BR. All utilities paid. Parking Available 11/16/69; $285/mc. Call $58-4716.

2 BR apt. Short walking to UK, Two Keys, and Mick ey Dis. $300/mo. Lesse, deposit. Call Tim Garnett broker 254-9688.

help wanted

$8.25 to start. Interview now. Can start part-time ASAP. Full-time during break. We will train you, internships available. Must call 271-4718 for interview.

A New Accepting applications Mon Fri 17-6 p.m.

LELE VANATED Land partners SATI, Please apply represent

AX SESTANGARY

TOWN WOULD NOW MAKE SERVING A STATE OF THE ASSESSMENT OF THE ASSESSMENT

plications for employment at 145 W. Main of Services Mail. Please apply in person. E.O.E. SECRETARY — DOWNTOWN OFFICE, FILING, RESEARCH, WORD PERFECT, LOTUS, FLEXIBLE HOURS, CALL 252-7800. Unclothed models needed for UK Art Dept $8.50/hr. Call 257-2727.

ATTENTION GREEK PRESIDENTS, APPLICATIONS FOR SPRING EVENTS ARE DUE TODAY BY 4:30 IN 575.

ATTENTION SKIERS!!

Mandatory Ski Club meeting Nov. 12 at 8 p.m. Seaton Center Room 207. Discounts on ski equipment!
Club sweatshirts! Weekend ski trips! EVERYONE WELCOME!

BEER BUST BEER BUST BEER BUST JRSDAY & FR 7 p.m.-midnight 75¢ Pitchers LIBRARY II 388 WOODLAND AVE

BRIDGE!
NORTH AMERICAN COLLEGIATE CHAMPIONSHIP
Student Center Game Rox $4 entry fee. Sign up in Game Room.

CHI OMEGAS: Get ready to celebrate 75th anniversary November 12-20. Get psyched!

Choose your team at the door and receive great drink specials when they score. Monday night foot-

CONGRATULATIONS TO SIGMA KAPPA PLEDGE OF WEEK KELLEY P. LOVE, YOUR SISTERS. ACTIVES: Lock up your suitcases, keep your es on your dress, BEWARE — the DZ pledges will the rest!!

FORMAL DATES: We're to watch the wildcats y, then off to the Hyatt where we will stay. We'll ce and party all night long, never once missing a
g. So, look out Vandy we're on our way. Detta a just one more day!

MOST ELIGIBLE BACHELORS: Good luck! May best bachelor win. Love, the sisters of Delta

Zela.
FREE FLORIDA SPRING BREAK VACATION! FRA-FREE FLORIDA SPRING BREAK VACATION! FRA-TERMITIES, SORORITIES & OTHER CLUBS WEL-COME. Organize a small group of freeds or campua-wode event. Earn high commissions and free tips! 9100,Going to New York CIV Tuesday 21st. or Wednesday 22, of November. Anyone needing a rise please cal 827–823 or 259–922 or 223–9351.

Webmeds 27 of however, when the control of the cont

KS JRP: Formal was a complete blast. Your the AB-SOLUTE BEST boyfriend I've ever had. I love you. Love. SLV. IBDA CHIS: Thanks for the great mixer Friday. had an awesome time! Love, the sisters of Delta

NEEO AD 19 Note: Need to 3 student Certification of the Control of day night.

NERVOUS MELVIN at BREEDINGS Friday and Satu NIKE AIR DELTA FORCE $39,99 COURT SPORTS 385 S. LIMESTONE 255-5125

TONITE
ALL YOU CAN EAT SPARE RIBS, SOUTHERN
FRIED CATFISH OR CLAMS $8.95. *TOMORROW
ALL YOU CAN EAT PRIME RIB $9.95. PHY at affordable rates. You process negatives. Phone 252-3269 and leave

CONFIDENTIAL Birthright

PRSSA AAF Advertising guest speaker Tues., Nov 14th at 7:30 p.m. in the Conference Room 223 of the Journalism Building Everynne welcome! me Journaism Building, Everyone welcome!

RAYBAN SERENGET!

Sunglasses, save 40%, 300 models, corprices, fast shipping, free catalog, 1,800-4PAYBAN

Residential County (1,800-4PAYBAN)

SADD-BACCHUS members are you interested in being trained to facilitate the BRAD SHIPMAN video and discussion? If so, come to SC Rm. 231 Nov. 14

SCEC presents MAX APPLE speaking for SPECIAL OLYMPICS. Nov. 14, 6:30 p.m., 158 Taylor Ed.

SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE for winning entries in poster contest. Deadline Dec. 15. Call 257-6600 fo

SIGMA KAPPA CONGRATULATES CHI OMEGA ON 75 GREAT YEARS! D. III. SUCCIONATE CHIEF CARRIER HORD SA GENERAL PRINTERS HONDOOR DE PRINTING, ENDLESS SUMMER TANINKSPOT, PIP PRINTING, ENDLESS SUMMER TANOF THE GUYS WHO HELPED MAKE IT A SUCCESS. YOU'RE THE GREATEST. THANKS, ROB V.
TO ALL FEMALES WHO LIKE A TOUCH OF GRAY.
INEED A DATE TO PIKE FORMAL. CALL 258-1522
ASK FOR MAT.

YOTE FOR DZ MOST ELIGIBLE BACHELOR. Start-ing Tuesday, November 14 support your favorite bachelor in front of the SGA office inside the Old roommate wanted Female to share apartment near campus $. Prefer serious student or staff person 266-355

URATE TYPING!! Professional, reasonable, is, dissertation, specialist, research papers, I briefs . . MLA, APA styles, DORIS 273-2149. URATE TYPING. A one day turn around on most ACCURATE TYPNICA. A one day was a proposed propo ses, dissertations, term papers. Headstracke s. Fast service. Call 258-6174. TYPING/WORD PROCESSING. Resumes, re-ch. logal, theses. LAST MINUTE ACCEPTED. s. evenings, weekends. 254-1076 or 299-

7639

FAST ACCURATE TYPING
of term papers, manuscripts, theses, dissertations.
Reasonable rates. Close to campus. 276-5885.
PHOTOGRAPHY at affordable rates. You process and keep the negatives. Phone 252-3269 and leave message.

pregnant? Scared? Confused? Need somebody to listen? Call Opportunities for Life toll free 1-800-822-824-austima for personal confidential help.

Now hiring all positions for all locations part-time & full-time. Must be 18 yrs. or older & have dependable transportation. (Drivers must have liable insurance.) Apply in person in main office.

2604 Richmond Rd.

TYPING — Accurate and dependable. Resumes, reports, letters. $1.50 page. Call 268-1905.
TYPING REASONABLY PRICED. Call 266-8512 nytime for resumes, reports and lesson.

YPING — 20 yrs. experience. Thesis, technical, tatistical and resumes. Laser printer. Reasonable.

lost and found

LOST: Pair metal rim glasses between School and campus reward Jack 7-2710 le

Want 30,000 People

to Get Your Message?

Use the Kernel Classifieds

FREE PREGNANCY TESTING Abortion Services 278-0214

Health Insurance very low cost. Call an compare 223-8889 Lexington Insurance Center

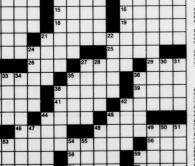

PART-TIME

ALL DEPARTMENTS

• FLEXIBLE HOURS

 ABOVE AVERAGE STARTING PAY APPLY 344 ROMANY RD.

50 Boot parts
51 Twisting
pinch
52 Tip
53 —aircraft
54 Chore
55 To the hub of 59 Halfway: pref.

1 BR apt. Pleasant older bldg. UK/downtown area $295/mo. Call 268-0685.

epting applications for experienced part-time ers for evening shift. Please apply in person at on Suites — Lexington Green, 3195 Nicholasville Rd EO'E: come work in Lexington's newest 50's style diner at Lexington Mall. Hiring all positions. Anniv in person or call 266-0898.

ASAP Full-the during break. We will train you inter-nships awaisable, Must cal 271-471 for intervent 12-6 jun.

CLERK NEEDED PART.TIME.APPLY IN PERSON:
EAST-LAND HALLMOST ASSET AS

Dussers and expeditors

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900-$2000/mo. Summer, yr. round. All countries, all fields. Free information. Write J.C. P.O. Box 52-KY02, Corona Del Mar, CA 92625. 92625.

SCHUHMANN'S CLICK CLINIC is now accepting ap-plications for employment at 145 W. Main St. and Favette Mail. Please apply in person. E/O/F.

personals

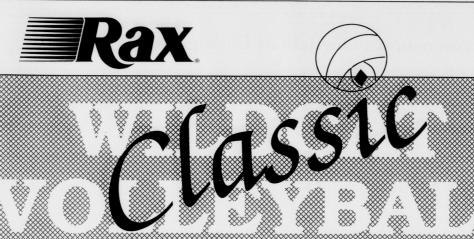

AAAAAAA
Forum on the problems and possible solutions of hunger and homelessness. Tues., Nov. 14, 7 p.m. Room 245 Student Center. Come ask questions. share your views!

CONGRATULATIONS TO KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA!! For winning the Parents Weekend Banner Contest Thanks to all of the sororibes and fraternities that par-

NACON INTERESTED IN EARNING A PREE PINS, TOURS, INC. FROM 2 PAR 6 PAR 800-AF.
ACID, STORES, INC. FROM 2 PAR 6 PAR 800-AF.
ACID, STORES, INC. FROM 2 PAR 6 PAR 800-AF.
ACID, STORES, INC. FROM 2 PAR 6 PAR 800-AF.
ACID, STORES, INC. FROM 2 PAR 6 PAR 800-AF.
ACID TOURS, INC. FROM 2 PAR 6 PAR 800-AF.
ACID TOURS, INC. FROM 2 PAR 6 PAR 800-AF.
ACID TOURS, INC. FROM 2 PAR 6 PAR 800-AF.
ACID TOURS, INC. FROM 2 PAR 6 PAR 800-AF.
ACID TOURS, INC. FROM 2 PAR 800-AF.
ACID

NANCY ASSISTANCE

Today & Tomorrow Memorial Coliseum

Tonight · 6PM Florida St. vs. BYU

Tonight · 8PM

Syracuse vs. UK

Consolation & Championship
Tomorrow 6 & 8PM