

Bill Embry, Former Member, Is Elected As Representative In Student Legislative Body

Constitutionalist Is Voted Seat In SGA Assembly
By NORMA WEATHERS
Kernel News Editor

Bill Embry, Constitutionalist, was elected to succeed himself as a representative from the commerce college to the Assembly of the Student Government association at a turbulent meeting of that body Tuesday night.

Party alignments were severed and complete disunion in the traditional groupings was evidenced as the election progressed. Embry, who dropped out of school last quarter because of illness, was declared ineligible for membership in the Assembly by the Judiciary committee. However, when he re-entered the University at the beginning of the winter quarter plans were made to have him return to the group to fill his own vacancy.

List Presented
According to the Constitution of the SGA, when a vacancy occurs the representatives select a temporary member from a list of five names submitted by the dean of the college in which the vacancy exists. At the last meeting such a list was presented, but since it contained the names of women students who would be ineligible for the position, a new list was requested and it was asked that Embry's name be included. The new list was presented at Tuesday night's meeting.

Oratory such as had not been heard in the Assembly since Jim Coiler, former president of the SGA, made his farewell address was brought into play in the discussion of candidates. A heated debate on military service and draft status was brought into the controversy.

Roll Vote
After the vote had been cast, Ray Garrison, graduate representative, was called for a roll call vote, but was unable to do so. A roll call vote was called for, according to Robert B. Dale, a member of the losing side cannot ask for such a vote after the vote has been cast.

Discussion of the 1943-44 budget.
(Continued on Page Four)

Kampus Kernels

- Mortar Board . . . will meet at 5 p.m. today in the Union building.
- Howard Hall's . . . dancing class will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Bluegrass room of the Union building.
- Campus Sing . . . will be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Bluegrass room of the Union building.
- Dutch Lunch . . . will meet at noon today in the Colonial Building. Ladies. Lieut. Simms will speak on Love and Marriage.
- Decorations . . . committee of the YWCA will meet at 4:30 p.m. Monday in the Y lounge, Union building.
- Fellowship . . . group of the Maxwell Street Presbyterian church will meet at 5:30 p.m. Sunday for supper, at 6 p.m. for Evensong, and at 6:30 p.m. for a discussion.
- YWCA Cabinet . . . will meet at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Y office, Union building.
- Boatist Student . . . union will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the BSU room, Union building.
- Freshman Club . . . bowling party will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Colonial Bowling lanes.
- YM-YWCA . . . regular meetings will be held at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday.
- Co-sopolitan . . . club will meet at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Y lounge, Union building. The Rev. H. M. Patton will discuss Abraham Lincoln.
- Newman . . . club will hold mass and a breakfast meeting at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at St. Catherine's academy.
- Outing Club . . . will leave the Union building at 2 p.m. Sunday.
- Give Dawson . . . will review her book, Sue Came to the Valley, at 6:15 p.m. Sunday for the Guard room of the Union building.
- Valentine's . . . Day tea dance will be given between 5:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Monday in Jewell hall. All soldiers are invited. It was announced.

Convo Is Set For Feb. 22

Patriotic Theme To Be Followed

A patriotic convocation celebrating the birthday of George Washington, at which Governor Simon S. Willis and Maj. Gen. Charles L. Scott, commanding officers of the Armored Command, at Ft. Knox, will be the speakers, will be held at Alumni gymnasium at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, February 22, according to an announcement just issued by President Herman Lee Donovan. All University classes will be dismissed and offices closed from 10 to 12 a.m. that day in order that students, faculty, and staff may attend.

Members of the ASTP unit at the University will attend the convocation in a body and will be seated in the center of the gymnasium. The general public is invited to attend the exercises.

Governor Willis, speaking to a University audience for the first time, will give an address on George Washington. General Scott, who was in North Africa as an observer with the British during the battle of Alamein, will discuss the current world conflict.

A patriotic musical program will be presented by the University band, under the direction of Dr. Alexander Carmo, and Miss Mildred Lewis will lead the assembly in community singing of patriotic songs. Dr. Donovan will preside.

Vandenbosch May Return

Dr. Amy Vandenbosch, well-known authority on the Dutch East Indies, author and head of the political department, will leave, is expected to return to the University and resume his position here next quarter. He now is employed by the State Department in the Division of Territorial Studies, Washington, D. C.

Dr. Vandenbosch will instruct classes in American government which will be open to lower division students, and also International Law and the Governments and Politics of Eastern Asia for the upper bracket and graduate students. Dr. Henry Noble Sherwood, who is now acting head of the department, will remain at the University.

YM-YWCA To Give Leap Year Dance On February 19

The social committee of the YM-YWCA will entertain with a leap year semi-formal dance from 8:15 p.m. February 19 in the ball room of the Union building.

An international theme will be used in the decorations and for the program. Bill Dale and Helen Carroll, co-chairmen, are in charge of the program which will consist of a floor show put on by students at the University. An orchestra will furnish the music.

Novie Slatard

Son Valley Slatard featuring Sonja Henik, John Payne, and Glenn Miller and his orchestra will be shown at 5:45 p.m. Monday in the Union building. The charge is 10c to 15c.

Last Day For Directories

This is the last day on which students may obtain Student Directories. It was announced yesterday. Copies are available in room 127, Union building.

The book issued by the Student Government association, contains the correct names, classifications, addresses, and telephone numbers of all students at the University this quarter.

832 Soldiers Now Enrolled

The military department announced today that approximately 832 men are now enrolled in the military training program in operation on the campus. This is a decrease of 400 since September.

Of the total 832 trainees, 549 are enrolled in the basic training program, 223 advanced training program, 41 ASTRP, and 18 ASTP-ROTC. The basic trainees include for the first time 43 soldiers studying pre-professional medical and dental courses.

This is the fourth term the soldier students have been on the campus since the installation of the ASTP program in May 1943. Since that time approximately 1,400 men have received training in basic and advanced engineering courses. Upon graduation each man has received a certificate which will allow him to apply the work accomplished under the ASTP program to requirements on a college degree.

Red Cross Room To Open Tuesday

The Red Cross surgical dressing room will open Tuesday, February 22, in room 1 of the Home Economics building on the campus.

The tentative schedule at present is 9-11 a.m. and from 1-3 p.m. on Tuesdays, and from 7:30-10 p.m. on Thursdays.

All men and women interested in this phase of war work are urged to attend. Workers must bring either a white uniform or women a clean wash dress to be worn while there.

Bricks For Our Field-House

Figurative bricks were laid in the foundation of Kentucky's mythical field house Monday night at the reception-dance following that forgettable game. Students representing all the counties of Kentucky mingled and mixed, danced and chatted with senators and representatives from the Kentucky General Assembly. And, to continue a metaphor, the building materials were of every color, size, and shape.

The star brick layer was, beyond any shadow of a doubt, Jacquelyn Wiedeberg, who not only made a gracious hostess but went one step farther. She got one senator so interested that he took down her name and address and asked to take her to dinner the next time he comes to Lexington. No doubt he'll vote for the proposed building. Yes, loudly and lustily. So, to Jackie we attribute one wheelbarrow of bricks and promise her a free seat at the first game held in the field house.

Ann Cantrell, who was also busy with laying the foundation, reports that one senator, slightly slap-happy after the game, pursued her throughout the evening. And every time he approached her with, "I'm going to vote for the field house—will you dance with me?"

Really bringing in the promises was Eleanor Keeti. Glancing shyly at one of the legislators, she asked, "What about the field house?"

"Honey," he drawled (from the southern part of the state, no doubt), "you're worth two field houses."

Presiding at the punch bowl, one coed suggested that every cup of punch she poured represented one brick for the field house. A thirsty representative offered his cup for a refill with the remark, "Okay, lady, I'm nailing on the roof."

One of the men, it seems, had introduced a bill pertaining to road houses in restricted areas. His colleagues, during the entire reception, chided him with slogans like, "Keep your eyes on the field house; not on the road house." The Kernel seconds the motion.

Even the janitors and people cleaning up the Bluegrass room after the affair caught the spirit of the evening, according to an unconfirmed rumor which has been floating around the campus. The tale goes that after the guests had departed, these people had quite a party of their own with one beating out boogie-woogie on the piano and the others keeping the floor hot with the "Sugar Foot." And it is said (still unconfirmed, unofficial, etc.) that one of them shouted, "Oh, brother! Couldn't we really throw some parties if we had a field house!"

All-Student Convocation Set For Wednesday Will Open War Bond Drive On Campus

Lampert Will Conduct Last Concert Sunday

Van Horn To Head SuKy Engineer Will Succeed Nickell

Duane Van Horn, engineering senior from Binghamton, N. Y., was elected president of SuKy for the coming year, at a meeting held Monday in the Union building. He succeeds Bill Nickell, Lexington.

Van Horn is a member of Delta Chi fraternity, and of the Y Senior cabinet. He is also co-chairman of the social committee of the YM-YWCA.

Other officers elected were Ellen O'Bannon, Lexington, vice president, succeeding Betty Proctor; Betty Ann Brauer, Lexington, secretary, succeeding Ellen O'Bannon; and Mary Lillian Davis, Shelbyville, treasurer, succeeding Jimmy Hurt.

It was decided that new members would be taken in after the University basketball and state high school basketball seasons are over. The purpose of the past has been to promote school spirit. The organization has sponsored trips for the band, and held pep rallies for football and basketball games.

Virginia Wesley Named Head Of Women's Council

Virginia E. Wesley, Lexington, has been elected president of the Women's Administrative Council which is in charge of the 1944 annual women's banquet at the University.

Sara Louise, Louisville, was elected treasurer and Edith Weisenberger, Lexington, was named chairman for investigating banquet possibilities. Scholarship committee chairman is Elizabeth Faulkner, Lexington.

The Council, composed of presidents of all sororities, residence halls, and women's organizations, includes Elizabeth Bronsted, Peter Horan, Betty Prapene, Edith Weisenberger, Virginia Wesley, Sara Lee Mock, Virginia Long, Nancy Byrd, Lucy Byrd Oliver, Mildred Buchanan, Mildred Jones, Margaret Davis, Doris Pollitt, Betty Broaddus, Elizabeth Hines, Eloise Ammerman, Betty Lewis, Alice Watkins, Jane Oldham, Louise Brown, Genea Williams, Virginia Lipscomb, Betty Payne, Anita Ross, Patricia Thornton, Betty Freshman, Florida Garrison, Elizabeth Faulkner, Sara Ewing, and Carolyn Spicer.

The banquet will be held during the summer for all women on campus.

Former Editor Visits Campus With Army Men

Maj. Laurence Allan Herron, University graduate, and former editor of The Kernel, now aside to Maj. Gen. James L. Collins, returned to the campus this week with General Collins and their staff who are visiting the University ASTP unit while on a tour of the Eastern Defense command.

Major Herron, of Covington, was editor of The Kernel in 1932-33 and a member of Delta Tau Delta, an ROTC student, and graduated in 1933. He married Jane Anne Matthews, Kapoo Delta, and society editor of The Kernel in 1932-33, who was formerly employed in the library.

After graduating Herron was city editor on the Dayton Herald and was employed by the Dayton Journal-Herald at the time that he went into the Army.

Capt. Lawrence Neu Receives Promotion

Capt. Lawrence D. Neu, adjutant of the 1548th Service Unit of the ASTP stationed at the University, has been promoted to the rank of major.

He was formerly on the staff at the Pine Bluff Army Airfield, Arkansas, where his duties were there, and was then transferred to the ASTP unit on the campus.

Assembly To Be Held In Memorial Hall

With the University band, the Widest basketball team, the UK student government representatives, and a jeep providing a virtual three-ring circus, the student war bond drive will open with a special all-student convocation at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Memorial Hall. Classes will not be dismissed, according to Dr. Leo Chamberlain, dean and registrar of the University, but all students who do not have classes are urged to attend. Arrangements are being made to have an officer from Fort Knox, who has returned from overseas duty, present at the convocation as the principal speaker, according to Eleanor Bach, chairman of the Victory committee of the Student Government association which is sponsoring the drive and the convocation. However, she said, because of military formalities the plans could not be completed before press time.

Jeep Display
During the entire day, the jeep which is being brought to the campus from the Avon Signal depot, will be on display in Jewell Hall Union building. Just before the convocation, the principal speakers will be invited to Memorial Hall in the jeep which will be displayed in front of that building during the program.

The University band, known for many years as "The Best Band in Dixie," will make its first public appearance of the year at the convocation, which will resemble an old-fashioned pep rally.

Thomas Spagnuolo, president of SGA, will speak. The Victory committee towards its goal of three jeeps, or $5,000, within the first week of the drive by purchasing a $500 bond for SGA from Miss Bach as the high point of the meeting.

Hart Presides
Jimmy Hart, master of ceremonies for the convocation, will introduce a group of faculty representatives seated on the platform. These will include Miss Bach, Spagnuolo, Duane Van Horn, newly elected president of the SGA, Edith Weisenberger, president of the Union board; Betty McClanahan, secretary of the Victory committee; Dr. Herman L. Donovan, president of the Union board.

(Continued on Page Four)

By Shirley Meister
Question: Do you think that Esquire could be deprived of its second class mailing privilege?
No. Jack Winters, Bradley hall: No, because it has pretty pictures that remind me of home.
Mr. Brad Meister, Beckridge hall: Esquire should have second class mailing privileges and decrease mailing over all other reading material.

Dr. Niel Plummer, head of the journalism department; Not in the way that Postmaster General Walker proceeded, and certainly not upon the thesis he used. Few persons outside of journalism realize the import of this issue.

Elizabeth Ann Snelling, Ag. freshman: I sure don't because I need something to keep me busy through these lonely nights.

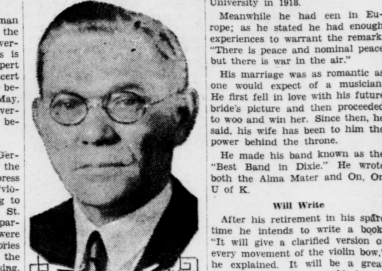

Mr. Sheldon Schochott, Ex-Bradley hall: Anything Esquire does is O.K. with me as long as it sticks to sex.

Mr. Leo Cornelius, Beckridge hall: No, we want freedom of the press.

Pfc. Kenneth Hoffman, Patterson hall: Certainly not. It would shave the sex life of the Army, were the rights taken away.

Polly Galahar, A.S. freshman: No, I don't, because too many people enjoy it, particularly males.

Mr. R. C. Murray, Jr., Beckridge hall: Of course Esquire should be awarded second class mailing privilege as the tastes of the ASTP must be satisfied.
Mr. Thomas B. Lowery, Bradley hall: No, I think Esquire is a good morale builder for the soldiers. If nothing else, ship copies overseas.
Mr. Henry Shingman, Bradley hall: No, because it's frank, outspoken, humorous, and it's depicting men of the humorous side of sex.
Pvt. Joe Shagman, Boyd hall: No, because I must keep up with what the well-dressed student now wears, male and female alike.

Carl A. Lampert . . . head of the music department will make his last appearance as a soloist at Sunday's musicale.

University students may well be proud of Mr. Lampert's farewell statement, "I'm the happiest moments of my life have been spent at the University of Kentucky."

Grand Old Gentleman Of Music To Leave Campus After 26 Years

By Wanda Lee Spears

The tall, grey-haired, kindly man who has reigned supreme over the music department of the University for about twenty-six years is Carl A. Lampert. Mr. Lampert will appear in Sunday's concert for his last time as a conductor because of his retirement next May. He is certainly one of the University's most widely known and beloved professors.

German-Born
Mr. Lampert was born in Germany but came to America at the age of seven, and now, to express it in his own terms, he is "violently American." After coming to America his father settled in St. Louis. Although neither of his parents were professional musicians, both were musical and his earliest memories are of the old folk songs of all the world that he family used to sing.

He first attended a small college in Illinois, where he organized his first band. Then he returned to St. Louis and finally went to study at Prague, where the world's most famous violin teacher lived.

He played with the Chicago Symphony from 1909 to 1908; he

Editor: CHAS. BRIDGEMAN

Managing Editor: ALICE WATKINS

News Editor: NORMA WEAVER

Business Manager: BETTY BOHANNON

Assistant Managing Editor: JANET EDWARDS

Assistant News Editor: BETTY McCLANAHAN

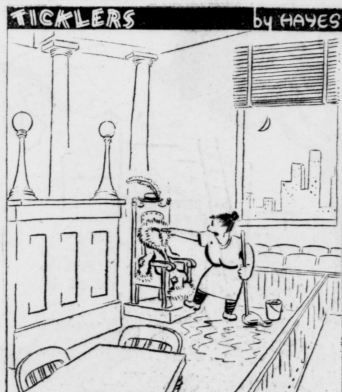

Circulation Manager: PATTY CLIFF LANE

Proofreader: BETTY TEVIS

REPORTERS: Mary Lillian Davis, Adele Decker, Betty Lee Fleishman, Mary Jane Gallagher, Catherine Goman, Carolyn Hill, Eleanor Kett, Mildred Long, Shirley Meister, Doris Mendenhall, Ruth Robinson, Harts Poffitt, Wanda Lee Spears, Betty Tevis, Gena Whicker, Janet Lee Wood.

The Kernel Editorial Page

Features Gossip Letters Columns Opinion

"Where was you on the night of September 15th?"

ODE TO MAYHEM

By Donald Lail

The fleet came to town Saturday night and sort of took over the situation. The Tri Deltis, who live in the big house among the little houses, report an overflow of blue uniforms. TICA HOLLAND, FRANCES DRAFFEN, SIS DOZIER, PATTI GAY LATTA and MARGIE SWARTZ were conveyed to Ye Old Cottage by said swimming privates. The Tri Deltis wish to announce that the may blue has been added to the star and crescent.

Personality of the Week: This week's award goes to Mrs. Henry, the faithful guardian of the Kappa Sigma house. Her alpena predictable toward all has made her a real mother to the girls and and twelve-thirty so that the industries can stretch out a few extra minutes.

Dear Mr. Mayhem: We are the 'Old Maid's' Bridge Club which meets every Sunday afternoon to discuss how to get a man. It was never like this before, so we now feel that we are being overlooked. Can you help us get away from this name game?

My reply as UK's Mr. Anthony is that you neglected young ladies should first look over the available man supply, and as you are undoubtedly slurring, here they come the next Sunday session - and you've got them. Perhaps they'll

By Billie Fischer: Have you ever noticed that some people flunk exams? Accurate statistics from a reliable source inform us, and we quote, that "Oodles and oodles of college students here and there, some not here and there, not all there, flunk quizzes in this and that every now and then."

1. Some people get along by ignoring the professors, by not opening their books-to keep them new, by sitting next to the smartest one in the class during quizzes, and by making sure that they don't get caught. The survey unearthed a startling invention of D. G., an NYU student-glasses with painted eyes that focus on your paper at all times, thus enabling you to look at someone else's paper without the prof. knowing it. Congratulations, D. G.!

2. Some people gain knowledge by osmosis. Just place your textbook carefully under your pillow the night before the Big Exam. The information written in the text will seep through the feathers into your thick skull. You will wake up fully informed. Of course your head might resemble the ridges on your mother's bald head.

3. Numerous systems have been evolved for hiding crib notes during exams. Students at Cornell University have successfully hidden notes in their hollow legs. Then, of course, there's the old stand-by of writing all the answers out on a

Ad Libbing

By Betty Tevis Betty Lee Fleishman

We were affronted the other day by a fugitive from the chemistry department who invited us to write a character sketch in this column of one of his contemporaries from the department, one TED WHITE.

Upon inquiring why such unequal publicity should be bestowed upon said individual, we were told that he was a member of an unusual variety of the human animal known as the "MILK-TOAST" type.

We don't know Ted and we have had little opportunity to become well acquainted with the Milk-Toast type, but we can just imagine what a worthwhile experience is awaiting us.

Hereby stamped with the Fleishman Tevis Seal of Approval: The mad after-school ball game dash, and the hectic nerve-wracking experiences over a fudge cake and bottle cork that ensues.

For awhile we thought that the campus spirit which was traditional and indispensable part of Kentucky life had become a war casualty along with pleasure-driving, sugar, and civilian men.

After the basketball games which DePaul university and Illinois we also were that we ever thought such a thing. No more school spirit was ever displayed, even when campus life was at its peak in pre-war days. The same pushing throngs, wild cheering, excited fans, and screaming cheer-leaders were on hand to urge a typical top-ranking team to victory.

This is encouraging, for when our boys come back to the campus after the war, they must find a student body that is alive and spirited, not dead and uninterested.

For is for her eyes o' Blue R is for older rigor mortis which is slowly setting into this lengthy poem so we'd better bring it to a roasting conclusion but quick.

Put them all together they spell GALLAHER, the name that means the password to the best soda fountains in Lexington.

We hear that there's a Bowlers convention in Lexington this week. Probably with free beer and all that. A word to the wise you know. We have already made a big red, white, and blue badge to wear on our lapel for a week. It says Milwaukee Representative.

From an unusually reliable source (the grape-vine) comes the news that the pre-meds who arrived here from North Carolina last week were jubilant about their transfer to Kentucky.

Said one soldier: "Every morning I bend down and kiss the very ground upon which Kentucky is built."

Said another: "Every night, I say, 'God bless Mama and Papa and KENTUCKY.'"

The older ASTP boys who have become wise through recent campus experiences and who know better, have been pulling the grey hair out of their heads one by one in utter desperation. "We tried to tell them," they mutter.

We are perfectly aware that the medical will deny every word in this column so soon as they become "campus wise"-that is if they have not been here long enough to deny it now.

Here Is The $700 Question

Shall the Kentuckian receive the $700 promised to it by the Student Government Assembly? The answer to this question will be decided at the next meeting of the Assembly.

The facts of the Kentuckian situation are these: Micki Bogan, Kentuckian business manager, appeared before the SGA last fall and asked for an appropriation of $700 for the 1943 yearbook. The Assembly approved the request. Last Tuesday night the Finance committee submitted its budget to the Assembly. It was called to the attention of the Assembly that the Kentuckian had a surplus of over $3,000. The Assembly then appointed a special committee to investigate the surplus, leaving the Kentuckian appropriation on the table.

If the committee so recommends, the Assembly may vote to strike out the fund. SGA President Vince Spagnuolo points to the fact that the last annual report of the Comptroller showed an SGA surplus of $1,375 and a Kentuckian surplus of $3,764. "Their surplus is almost three times as great, let them take the $700 out of it," says Spagnuolo.

Miss Bogan and Virginia Long, Kentuckian editors, say, "Every organization on the campus works on a budget. Our commitments for materials and printing have already been made. We don't think it ethical on the part of the SGA to withhold the money promised us, just as we are ready to go to press."

They point out that the Kentuckian surplus was built up over a period of years. With this money on hand, the Kentuckian is able to take advantage of discounts on engraving, paper, covers, and other materials, by paying cash, rather than waiting until the end of the year when its revenue comes in. The discounts amount to several hundred dollars.

The Rafter's Did Ring, And Our 'Cats Play On

From where we sat last Monday night as Kentucky's Wildcats avenged their only defeat of the season by trouncing Illinois 51-40, it looked like the good old-time college spirit had been disintegrated and dusted off.

The high-spirited demonstration of the small student body could be favorably compared with those of previous days when the cheers of 1,000 students shook Alumni gymnasium. The Best Band in Dixie was absent and the male cheering section was small, but there was definitely no corner on enthusiasm.

That a good winning team is necessary to elicit such enthusiasm is disheartening but nevertheless a fact. The fact that Kentucky is represented in this year of manpower shortage by a winning combination which has gained nationwide fame, can be chalked up to the credit of Coach Adolph Rupp. He has made our Wildcats proud, to him and to them go our loyal support and our sincere wishes for future successes.

BOX CARS

By Adele Decker

- 1. Lydia Brown: At last it can be told—the reason for the naming of the Lydia Brown House! Lydia was a campus belle at one time. She tinkled only on holidays and state occasions. Then she met an ancestor of Max Bookbinder and love at first sight was manifested. They built the house to give tea for the ag students and also to judge sheep contests in. Even to the present day the sheep come back to hold meetings and see their old room.
- 2. Sue Gambin: Sue is a lucky girl—she knows one of the three men in Nicholasville, Allen House. This is another of the old buddy results.
- 3. Phi Delta: Miss Elizabeth Carver, fifth columnist, has been carrying on activities with the ace spy for Georgetown college. One Tombsone? Do we have to deal with Georgetown co-eds also?
- 4. Open Letter to "Tranny" Co-eds: DEAREST DROOLS, Choose your weapons! We are ready. Do you want to keep your cadets' (foolish question) Forget your pioneer spirit and try our UK spirit. Also take Martha McCaulley's lacrosse coat (six weeks). Hedy Lamar did, before a freckle-faced kid, none? Also like us by striking their wings are in such intricate contrast to our horns. But you asked for it, so—meet us at the battleground in front of the RAE house at midnight!
- 5. UK COEDS: "Tranny" coeds, are you going to take this? Do you want a verbal expression of your sentiments? Write us your opinion. Address: "Boxcars," Kentucky Kernel (check it if you don't).
- 6. Sigma Chi House: The night was dark (so was the hall—Audrey Owens, of "Promoted Parents, Inc." and Jim Summers were in the hall—Jim said "Good-bye" (period) and left. (Disappointing isn't it?) Send in 50,000 box tops from "Plunkett's Pink Pills for Pale People" to Windy Myers, and he will send you a beautiful cardboard ring given by "Tranny" coeds to a constituent member! Dris McCaulley is a gnat-submer!
- 7. Jean Vandever, Gene Carl, Jane Ann Stone, and Helen Deitch were chased home by "Tranny" coeds with knives. When do you girls have another date with the cadets?

Choo! Choo! And Away!

By Shirley Meister

"Railroads are built by grading the right of way" then you lay the ties, build bridges, etc. Then you put rails on the ties. You next build a train set, tickets, and away you go. Choo! Choo! This is the answer given by a freshman to the question "Outline briefly the process of building the transcontinental railroads" which Dr. Thomas D. Clark, acting head of the University history department, asked in a "pop quiz" Friday in an American History class. Our freshman friend, not having had time to read the rather long assignment due to an "important engagement," admitted that it may not be exactly the answer Dr. Clark expected, but he thought his was the briefest way to build any type of railroad. P.S. The grades haven't been reported yet!

How To Cram For An Exam, Or, I Should've Stood In Bed

By Billie Fischer

Have you ever noticed that some people flunk exams? Accurate statistics from a reliable source inform us, and we quote, that "Oodles and oodles of college students here and there, some not here and there, not all there, flunk quizzes in this and that every now and then."

1. Some people get along by ignoring the professors, by not opening their books-to keep them new, by sitting next to the smartest one in the class during quizzes, and by making sure that they don't get caught. The survey unearthed a startling invention of D. G., an NYU student-glasses with painted eyes that focus on your paper at all times, thus enabling you to look at someone else's paper without the prof. knowing it. Congratulations, D. G.!

2. Some people gain knowledge by osmosis. Just place your textbook carefully under your pillow the night before the Big Exam. The information written in the text will seep through the feathers into your thick skull. You will wake up fully informed. Of course your head might resemble the ridges on your mother's bald head.

3. Numerous systems have been evolved for hiding crib notes during exams. Students at Cornell University have successfully hidden notes in their hollow legs. Then, of course, there's the old stand-by of writing all the answers out on a

What Goes On There..

By Helen Carroll

Just Because You're An Officer... All the lights were out in the halls at Indiana at midnight. The AST cadets were sleeping peacefully when suddenly the fire alarm sounded. Being good scouts they managed to awaken, grab their robes, or whatever was in reach (in the way of clothes), dress in the dark, and stumble out of the building.

They were fully awake and looking for fire when an officer came out and said, "Sorry boys, false alarm." A sleepy officer had accidentally bumped against the fire alarm while switching out the lights. Lucky for him that he was an officer. Or it would only have led to bloodshed.

Well, If You Really Must Know In the 5th Company at Auburn it is absolutely imperative that each man either on his designated chow, either on the first or second chow. This is to keep down competition to eat a few days ago, one Pfc, slipped up and ate on second shift. The Pfc was stuffing away when a Sergeant became inquisitive.

"Who in the hell are you eating for?" asked the sergeant. "The Pfc, never looking up, in a few seconds replied, "Yehoooh!" Apparently satisfied, the sergeant replied, "Oh! That's all right if you are eating for someone."

Haste Makes Bad Faces It happened at the University of Cincinnati, and was the officer hot under the collar! An unidentified officer of the 15th ASTU was passing through the ground floor of one of the barracks the other day, when he spotted a leauroly-looking soldier who didn't even take the trouble to salute. You can imagine what happened.

"Why didn't you salute?" asked the officer. Before the poor soldier had time to answer, he found himself being hauled over the coals for an open blouse and a tie-less neck-line. Finally, the officer asked, "Are you stationed with the 155th?" "No, sir," was the reply, "I'm just the driver for the Coca Cola Co. and I've come to trade the coke machine."

He Wanted to be on Time A harassed attaché of the American consulate in Paris tells the story of a gray-faded little man who leaned over his desk one morning and anxiously inquired:

In other words, a modern version of Sadie Hawkins' day. Did I hear someone say what's that? Not only that, but it's less year too. What a chance, with the manpower shortage, the gala buy the tickets, call for the dates, and foot all the bills. Some of them even went so far as to buy crchids (hint), and some provided vegetable corsages (sax-corn).

Another custom which has been dropped for the duration is the presentation of a "gold wedding ring" from each bride to her date. (The rings ain't really gold, as you can plainly guess.) The King and Queen of hearts chosen from the attending crowd will reign supreme for the evening.

Star in Their Midst The Phi Deltis of Emory university got a surprise visitor at their formal Saturday by the name, Miss Jane Withers. Jane had returned to her home town, Atlanta, after 12 years in the film town. She was escorted by an old friend, lucky guy of Atlanta, who is now in the Navy.

Dorm Residents Areirate Over Criticism By Miss G.

DEAR EDITOR: As representative members of the Women's dorms, we would like to extend to Miss Mary Jane Gallagher the invitation of another tour around the rooms in addition to spending a few nights here. I am sure that if Miss Gallagher ever cried living here, three or four in a room, that even the fashion plate would have some bit of trouble keeping her room looking as if she had five maids in her employ. Try setting up at 8 o'clock in the morning in three roommates, dressing in a room about half the size of any normal room, falling over each other in an effort to get to breakfast so one will have time to stand in line about twenty minutes before eating.

Since Miss Gallagher does not realize that in one room three people are doing the same things that Miss Gallagher does in a complete room. Surely she does not realize that our mothers aren't here to pick up after us as Miss Gallagher is accustomed to. To live, sleep, and study here as one, in one room.

Since for the gruesome conditions of the rooms—we are no messier than any normal coeds room—we are much nearer now be-

We are not complaining about the conditions. We are having fun, but outside suggestions just aren't appreciated. Miss Gallagher, YOU should be ashamed!

DORM RESIDENTS

Coed Corner...

By Mary Jane Gallaher

Positively gleefully proud are we of our basketball team and its coach, but sad and a little sorry over the departure of so many of the ASTEP's we had grown to know and like. When they talk about the "old army game" do they mean this shipping out of individuals as soon as the gals get acquainted with them—and fair to the naturally fair sex. Gotten so we live in a whirlwind of letters from the ones that have gone and mistletoes of those about to depart. It seems that bedspreads and cloths have finally been our undoing—we appear to have gotten the wrong Jewell hall by its proverbial tail. Would you gals like me to prove my statements? This might prove embarrassing on both our parts.

This week we choose something a little less controversial than our seemingly innocent spiel of the last listen-in column episode. Something quite appropriate along about now, the topic of writing letters to the boys from home that you used to date occasionally. The mail messages to the extra-special man in your life. They're not just sheeted the bull, Mabel, when they say letters can lack a soldier's morale (or may we say morale?) up very high or lack of them completely knock out the props. That's the straight dope.

First Curve
Let's examine on the first curve all working to which angle you're working from, isn't it? What you put in those letters to camps and to APO numbers. The mail these should be cheerfulness, even if you're sunk lower than an unbuttoned shirt. Don't grip about the lack of rubber for those anti-mentionables—remember his life may just depend on that rubber, and your complaint will sound awfully silly. You should lose weight anyway and still depending on such things. Discuss the things you know he's interested in, the places and people he remembers, and the things you one did together. A V-mail letter is not the place to explain the shade of toenail polish you're wearing or what the spirit bonnet looks like.

Scarece-Robertson

The engagement of Miss Mary Louise Scarece to Captain William Hall Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Deane Scarece, Shelbyville.

Miss Scarece is a graduate of the University where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta society. The wedding date will be announced later.

Cox-Dickens

The engagement of Miss Mary Jane Cox to Capt. John Winston Dickens, Lawson Field, Georgia, nephew of Mrs. John Pugh of Murfreesboro, Tenn., has been announced by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Baugh.

Miss Cox was a student at the University where she was a pledge of Chi Omega society. The wedding will take place Saturday, February 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Baugh on Bon Air drive.

New Shipment

MONOPOLY FUN
Don't Miss Your Share
Life's Too Short
Visit Our
Game Department

SMITH-WATKINS

Incorporated
HARDWARE SPORTING GOODS
236 E. MAIN PHONE 28

DELICIOUS STEAKS CHICKEN IN THE ROUGH

"A Bite or a Banquet"

HOLIDAY INN

811 Euclid Ave. - Phone 9721

Host MARTIN DICKERSON

Lafayette Studio

141 N. LIME PHONE 6271

LAUNDRY - DRY CLEANING

15% Discount Drive In Service

De Boor

Opposite Stadium

LAUNDRY Cleaning

Lexington's Fastest Growing Specialty Store

JEAN MILLS

social chairman of Alpha Gamma Delta, is in charge of the Valentine dance tomorrow night at the chapter house.

Alpha Gamma Delta Will Hold Dance Tomorrow Night

Alpha Gamma Delta society will entertain with a program dance from 8:30 to 12 tomorrow night at the chapter house. The Valentine motif will be carried out in the decorations and red and white flowers will be used throughout the house. Jean Mills, social chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

Dates of the actives and pledges include: Charles Greengrass, Vincent Spagnuolo, E. P. Workman, Frank Bryson, A. C. Clem Beasly, Pfc. Walter Cox, Perry Pustell, Doug Jenkins, Oliver Hood, Larry Field, John R. Ross, Jesse Adams, Ben Eubank, Austin Roberts, Col. Keith, Sgt. Don C. Donnell, Morgan Postler, Kenneth Engstrom, Joe Vituccio, Bob Achler, Cornell Clark, Clayton Mulvey, Eds. Jeff King, A. C. Bill Schultz, Ervin Lamont, and Bert Collier.

The chaperones will be: Mrs. John Hagan, Mrs. Ballard Lenon, Mrs. Othor Shadrick, Mrs. Frank Lockridge, Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, Miss Jane Haselden, Dr. and Mrs. ...

Three To Give Reading Series Program Thursday

The fifth initiation to Reading series will present Black Lamb and Grey Falcon by Rebecca West, which will be reviewed by Mrs. Frances Crump, Miss Nell Matthews, of the English department of Henry Clay high school, and Miss Snowgrass, of the Experiment Station library, at 3 p.m. Thursday in the Browning room of the University.

Spagnuolo Will Head Newman Club

Vincent Spagnuolo, Cumberland, has recently been elected president of the Newman club to succeed Ann Ricketts who was graduated. Pct. Stanley Kowalewski has been elected member vice-president.

Other officers of the club who will maintain their present position are: Mary Charles Wood, women's vice-president; Betty Payne, secretary; Ann Foley, treasurer; and Margaret Julia Wharton, assistant treasurer.

Adams-Martin

Miss Ruth Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Adams, Corbin, became the bride of Pct. Earl Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Martin, Corbin, February 1, at 8 p.m. in the Corbin First Christian church with the Rev. Emore Turner officiating.

Mrs. Martin is a student at the University.

Dr. William Bower To Offer Course

Dr. William Clayton Bower will offer a course in "Religion and Culture" during the spring quarter at the University.

Dr. Bower, president emeritus of religious education at the University of Chicago school, was formerly dean of Transylvania college and the College of the Bible.

The course will be presented by the department of sociology.

"A ship," says a shipyard worker,

"is no better than the spirit of the men who build it."

Teamwork means working with everyone you like—and learning to like everyone.

HED' LIKE TO HAVE YOU NEAR HIM - - - WHEREVER HE MAY GO

You can make that dream come true for him. Make an appointment now to have a beautiful lifelike photograph taken to send to him NOW! The "nearness of you" will be the best moral builder of all.

Lafayette Studio

141 N. LIME PHONE 6271

ALUMNI NEWS THEN and NOW PERSONALITIES

Foster-1933
Capt. James Russell Foster, a graduate of the University in 1932, is on duty with the armed forces overseas and has written to thank the Alumni for his copy of the Camp Kernel.

Evans-Ex
Cpl. Harold J. Evans, who entered the service last April has been stationed at five different camps. He has been meat and dairy hygienist and has been recently assigned to attend Kansas State College Veterinary school. Corporal Evans is especially interested in locating members of his 1943 class. His address, 1401 W. 11th St., will continue to be Longview, Tex. where he will be with the Medical Detachment Harms General Hospital.

Bohon-1941
Lieut. William L. Bohon is with the 752nd Tank Battalion in Italy. Stationed-1932

Stapleton-1932
Capt. Ben C. Stapleton of Lexington has written from Northern Ireland to renew his membership in the Alumni Association and requests that The Kernel be sent to him.

Hous-1938
First Lieut. Frances H. House, who has been on a visit to her mother and sister in Lexington has returned to her station with the Army Engineers, Manhattan district, Knoxville, Tenn.

Lee-Ex
Capt. William Deane Lee, Nicholas road, has been transferred from Bryan Field, Bryan, Tex., to Drew Field, Tampa, Fla.

Lang-1941
Capt. Hanson Halbert Lee of Lexington has been assigned as assistant chief of psychiatric service at the Larde General hospital, New Orleans, La., and has been advanced to the rank of major.

Hughes-Ex
Lieut. Frank J. Hughes Jr., of Lexington has been assigned to new duties in Indianapolis. A pilot in the troop carrier command, he returned from overseas last December.

Beck-Ex
Lieut. Norman Beck, Louisville, Ky., former UK footballer of 1939-1943, is now stationed at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

Novis-1941
Capt. Robert C. Davis, Paris, who was graduated in 1941 with a degree of B. S. in Agriculture, is serving in the U. S. Army's Quartermaster Corps in New Guinea.

Forston-1932
Cpl. William C. Forston Jr., Lexington, a civil engineering graduate of the University is with the Engineering Corps and is stationed at New Guinea.

Lockridge-1935
Capt. Frank M. Lockridge Jr., Mt. Sterling, was graduated from the University in the College of Engineering and is in the Army Air Corps with headquarters in New Guinea.

Tutt-Ex
Nancy Jean Tutt, a former University student who is now a member of the WACs in Lexington last week-end en route to an air base in California. She was transferred from Washington, D. C.

Carter-Ex
Pvt. John R. Carter writes from "summy Italy" that he received the Camp Kernel which was sent out before Christmas. Private Carter has been transferred from North Africa.

Mitchell-1941
Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Urquhart (Betty Mitchell) of Houston, Tex., arrived last Saturday and are spending a week with her mother Mrs. J. S. Mitchell.

McClelland-Ex
Lieut. E. R. McClelland, Charleston, W. Va., who has been in Tunisia received his last Camp Kernel in Italy.

Wolfe-Ex
A. C. Thomas Wolfe, of the Naval Air Corps is home on a three day furlough from Ottumwa, Iowa.

Big Eps Honor Pfc. James Abell

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity entertained a party Saturday night at the chapter house in honor of Pfc. James Abell, who is leaving soon for the Air Corps.

The fraternity colors, purple and red, were used in the decorations. Pfc. Abell and his family were present.

Guests were Col. B. E. Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold, Jane Epps, Gene Carl, Nancy Emore, Shirley Hallock, Patsy Jo Hibbs, Jane Heath, Hannah McCollum, Anne Phillips, Pat Rimmer, Jane Anne Stone, Jessie Stokes Tyler, Betty Jo Woollum, Charlie Gruenberger, John Abell, and Pfc. Bill Roper.

Mrs. T. W. Swatt, housemother, Mrs. Will Hughes, and Mrs. Eileen Glover, chaperoned the affair.

Coeds Discuss Dorm Attack

DEAR COED CORNER: Have you ever lived with three other people in a room built originally for two? I hear that you are fortunate enough to live in your own home with a room of your own, where the only activity you carry on there is sleeping. Whereas we not only sleep but do our laundry, studying, and it is the center of the majority of our social life.

In comparing us with the Army you've overlooked a number of things. One being that men do not need as many clothes as women. Whether in the Army or not, they put three times as many clothes in their own closet as you now have in it and see what they look like when they come out!

We do not live this way because we like it, but we were most willing to do our part by living in crowded conditions so the soldiers would have a place to live when they came to the University. These "cells" which have been home to us for four years are kept comparatively clean and orderly when you take into consideration the fact that we go to classes all day and study half the night. However, by the time the sergeant gets home we expect to have the situation well in hand.

You suggested that the stuff on top of the dresser go inside. Since we have no space inside we prefer to leave it on the dresser rather than wear it around with us.

As for the room's gallery you found in every room you walked into, we're proud of those handsome parts; they are more than mere pictures to us.

Since you have made it quite clear that you have no conception of dorm living, we suggest that from now on you write on topics you know more about!

Sincerely,
Martha Cockrell
Bonnie Miller
Wilma Cecil
Mary Brittain
Maryann Vogt
Zell Goldenberg
Min Cohen
Charlotte Bestetter
Nancy Lee Bird
Boone Tucker
Mary Jane Riggs
Margerie M. Cummins
Frances Kendall
Alice Benton
Mary Ruth Ballard
Ruth Eubank
Bettie Harris Russell

Pianist Shows Manual Skill

By Casey Goman

Marisa Regules, young Argentine pianist, showed extraordinary power in her concert here Sunday. She played the Bach Tocata in C major with three and skill. All her technique came to the fore as she played the Thirty-two Variations in C minor by Beethoven. Miss Regules exhibited excellent technical ability as well as power throughout her concert.

Her interpretation of the Chopin Barcarole was fine, and here again her manual skill was evident. In the Chopin Polonaise in A flat major all her tremendous force and vigor again came into play. This was undoubtedly the highlight of her program.

For her last group Miss Regules played the graceful Danza de los animales al salir del Arca de Noe (Dance of the animals leaving Noah's Ark) by Garcia Morillo, giving it quantity and charm; the Campera by Lopez Buchardo; the giving it pianissimo; and La Vida Breve y Mamele de Palla; La Maja y el Ruiseñor, by Granados, which she played beautifully; and Triana, by Albeniz.

Jewell Hall Attack Strictly Out Of Bounds, Says Coed

DEAR EDITOR:

After two years at this institution of higher learning - I have come to the conclusion that it is time to object strenuously. The reason of my so doing concerns not one but two columnists. Believe me, I write this after the most sincere reflection.

First of all I consider the attack on the girls of Jewell hall strictly out of bounds. It is not only factious and open to comment but just plain stupid. I am not going to defend the girls of Jewell hall but I'm sure if the columnist actually visited the residence she would find the greater majority of the rooms in a habitable state - by the way, if you look in a dictionary I think you would find said word to mean "fit to be in comfort."

And my next objection concerns one who has the audacity to fill her columns with pure lies. If she has nothing else to fill her space she has best leave it blank. Then as readers would not have to chop down "cherry trees behind Guignol," or read about the atrocious paragraph concerning the picture of the dead Jap's child, I'm sorry, but I feel that though this is war there are some things sacred to all men, even Japs. Any mention I didn't find it out in college, either - a reporter should report facts. We don't embroider on them any more - it's just like hitting below the belt.

Thus I have brought my grievances before you. As the bad is always remembered and the good unnoticed I wish to add one little thing - I would like to laud Tevis and Fishman - the kids who can write and keep their friends.

J. HUBBARD

Rev. Claude Pickets, To Be On Campus For Discussions

The Rev. Claude L. Pickets, Jr., returned missionary from China, will be on the campus for a series of discussions Monday and Tuesday under the auspices of the YWCA.

The Rev. Mr. Pickets' schedule of addresses is as follows: Monday, 8:30 a.m. Sayre college; 10 a.m. University High; 5 p.m. Baptist Student union; 8 p.m. Business Girls, city YWCA; Tuesday, 12 noon, Phalanx fraternity; 4 p.m., informal group YM-YWCA; and 6:15 p.m. YM-YWCA meeting.

The Rev. Mr. Pickets was born in Alexandria, Va., in 1909 but spent a considerable part of his early life in Washington, D. C. He received his A.B. degree from the University of Michigan in 1933, and was graduated from the Theological Seminary in Virginia in 1936. He was ordained to the Diaconate on Trinity in 1933, and to the Priesthood on Trinity in 1936 in the Episcopal church.

PLEGDED

To Phalanx fraternity: Cornell Clarke, New Mexico; Charles Hopkins, Paducah; Ed Shropshire, Lexington.

Remember!

Down Town Headquarters

THE PHOENIX HOTEL

SAVE ON LAUNDRY - DRY CLEANING

Your 15% Discount Drive In Service

De Boor

Opposite Stadium

LAUNDRY Cleaning

Lexington's Fastest Growing Specialty Store

A Minx Modes Junior

... one of our newly arrived, bright young Minx Modes Junior originals designed to carry you through a gay and busy Spring! Pictured above, suit dress of Georgette gabardine, in melting pastels, sizes 9 to 17. $16.95

Mix Modes Junior Here Exclusively

Martins

Blue Grass Fashions
155 EAST MAIN
Lexington's Fastest Growing Specialty Store

