

Philadelphia Orchestra Appears Here

The Philadelphia Orchestra, under the direction of Eugene Ormandy, will be at Memorial Coliseum Monday, April 30, at 8:15 p.m. They will be presented by the Central Kentucky Concert and Lecture Association.

The growth of the Philadelphia Orchestra rather closely parallels the development of the phonograph record. It was the first symphony orchestra to record under its own name with its own permanent conductor. They also have the largest recorded repertoire of any similar group in the world.

Critics give credit for the present success of the orchestra to the conductor, Eugene Ormandy, who took the leadership in 1936. Before this he had been a concert artist, teacher, radio orchestra conductor, and director of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

The orchestra will play Handel's "Concerto for Orchestra"; "Symphony No. 7 in C Major, opus 105" by Sibelius; "Cantus Animae et Cordis" for string orchestra by Yardumian; Van Einam's "Concerto for Orchestra"; and the Polka and Fugue from "Schwanda" by Weinberger.

Philadelphia Orchestra

The Philadelphia Orchestra, one of the top symphony orchestras in the nation, will perform in Memorial Coliseum Monday night. The orchestra, under the direction of Eugene Ormandy, is being brought to Lexington by the Central Kentucky Community Concert and Lecture Association. Ormandy is considered by many critics as one of the finest conductors today.

Welcome Visitors

PR Drill Meet Scheduled Here

Students from 15 schools in Ohio, West Virginia, and Kentucky arrived on UK's campus yesterday for the Pershing Rifles First Regimental Drill Meet which will continue through tomorrow night.

Students will be representing are Ohio State University, University of Akron, University of Dayton, University of Cincinnati, Ohio University, West Virginia State College, University of Toledo, John Carroll University, Marshall College, Youngstown College, Bowling Green State College, Kent University, Eastern Kentucky State College, and the University of Kentucky.

The meet will get underway with an exhibition platoon drill at 8 p.m. on Stoll Field tonight. This will be followed at 9:10 p.m. by the Civil War between the Confederate Squad from UK and the Union Squad from Ohio State University.

Tomorrow a platoon and individual drill competition will be held at 9 a.m. and a regimental review at 2:30 p.m. on Stoll Field.

Engineers To Hold Day Next Friday

Engineers' Day, one of the biggest events of the semester for engineers, has been set for next Friday, May 4.

Engineers' Day, actually an open house, will be in two sessions. The first session will run from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and the second from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

During the open house there will be demonstrations and exhibits presented by all of the engineering departments, the Highway Research Laboratory, and the Aeronautical Research Laboratory. Future Engineer Clubs, sponsored by the University, and other high school groups have been invited to participate.

Among the exhibits that will appeal to the casual visitor are an electronic organ, a remote controlled car, a model elevator, a model train, and a model steamboat. Most of these exhibits are built by students.

The women should be interested in the induction heating oven, similar to those now on the market. For the futurists there will be a turbine operated by steam produced from the heat of the sun.

As in the past years there will be free gifts given to visitors. A set of bookends, poured in the engineering foundry will be awarded as a door prize. A guest may pick up an ash tray as a souvenir, and if he desires his name will be engraved on it. The tray will be made before the guest's eyes in the mechanical laboratory.

For those who will not want to miss anything by going out to eat, sandwiches and drinks (soft, that is) will be served in the main study hall.

EUGENE ORMANDY

New Time Schedule

UK will move its schedule ahead one hour beginning Monday, April 30.

The change will come as a result of Daylight Saving Time, which the University will observe this year along with the city of Lexington, in order to avoid confusion in planning events to which the public is invited.

SGA Sponsors Political Rally

By ELIZABETH BELL

The Student Government Association will sponsor a political rally May 8, the night before the spring SGA election, the SGA General Assembly decided at a Monday night meeting.

Other issues discussed at the meeting were the continuation of the Friday afternoon jam sessions, posting of SGA minutes on the campus, and opening the Margaret I. King Library on Sunday evenings instead of Friday evenings.

The purpose of the political rally will be to introduce the candidates of all three parties to the student body. Short speeches by each nominee for president will be given. The Assembly has planned to hold the rally at Memorial Hall.

A jam session will not be held today due to the lack of funds. The Assembly, however, has decided to continue the jam sessions and one has been scheduled for Friday, May 4, if enough money is appropriated by other campus organizations. The Assembly voted to place copies of the SGA minutes on campus bulletin boards. This is to inform the students of all issues discussed by the Assembly.

President's Qualifications Listed By Committee

What sort of man should UK's new president be?

The Committee of Fifteen submitted the following recommendations to the first meeting of the newly formed committee for screening presidential candidates last Thursday:

(1) He should be chosen for his capacities and merits. He should be superior to factionalism and independent of social and political groups and interests, and thus capable of independent and impartial judgments.

(2) He should have broad learning and understanding in the basic fields of the arts, sciences, languages, and philosophy . . . preferably one who holds the Ph.D. degree.

(3) He should be especially adept at leading the faculty and eliciting their good will and cooperation in the management of the affairs of the institution.

(4) He should be a man of moral courage and integrity, free from prejudice . . . a capable defender of the freedom of teaching and research.

(5) He should be preferably between 40 and 55 years of age, of wide experience and of good health. He should be chosen without regard to place of birth or present residence.

(6) He should be a personable and tactful gentleman, an effective Speaker who will be able to represent the University [ably] before the public, before governmental bodies, and before scholars and representatives of other universities, both foreign and American.

(7) He should be able to explain with clarity and enthusiasm the work of the University, to the people and governing bodies of the state.

The Committee of Fifteen is an advisory board created in September, 1954 by the Board of Trustees with the immediate objective of studying UK and its program and the long range goal of finding out what kind of a university Kentucky will be in 1965.

Kernel Kutie

This week's Kernel Kutie is a pert young lassie from the Alpha Gamma Delta House, Joan Blevins. Joan is a junior enrolled in Arts and Sciences. She also has been enrolled on the Kernel list of mighty fine looking young ladies. We hope she will enjoy the beautiful orchid which is waiting for her at the Lexington Flower Shop just opposite the Good Samaritan Hospital.

Students Protest Rent

A committee from Shawneetown will protest to Gov. Chandler about proposed rent hikes for the new Cooperstown apartments. A six member delegation was elected Tuesday night at a married students' meeting in the Shawneetown recreation hall.

Arthur Brooks Jr., chairman of the protest group, said that the rates for the new apartments had been unofficially set at $60 a month for one bedroom apartments and $70 a month for two bedroom apartments. This is approximately twice as much as the present prices.

The vote to send a delegation to protest personally to Gov. Chandler was unanimous. Those chosen to see the governor were Brooks, Gordon R. Demerson, James A. Moore, W. C. Beggs, Gail A. Beggs, and James Belcher.

Brooks said the group had no definite plan to submit to the governor, but would explain their situation to him. The chairman said the new prices were "unacceptable" to the Shawneetown residents, and if they were enforced some students would have to drop out of school.

One veteran commented that "somebody should be reminded that the married veteran makes $135 a month and with a kid, only $160."

Dean of Men Leslie L. Martin said Wednesday that the University had no other choice but to charge higher rents. The Dean explained that state and federal building codes had upped the construction costs to a point where the University had to charge higher prices to meet repayments on the loan floated to finance the project.

Dean Martin also said that the Shawneetown buildings had been condemned by the state fire marshal and must be razed.

Clark Named Prexy Of Historical Society

Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the Department of History, has been elected president of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association.

This association is generally recognized as the top historical society in America.

Dr. Clark was elected at a weekend meeting of the association in Pittsburgh. He succeeds Dr. Edward C. Kirkland of Bowdoin College.

Dr. Clark, who holds the rank of "Distinguished Professor of History," served in numerous capacities in the society. Among other positions, he was vice-president and councilman.

On May 9, Dr. Clark will travel to the University of Oklahoma for the observance of the first two volumes of the "Southern Tribal Series," of which he is the general editor.

The historical writings of Dr. Clark have won him recognition as one of the nation's outstanding authorities on the South and the frontier. His new book, "Frontier America," is scheduled for publication this summer by Charles Scribner's Sons.

Among Dr. Clark's best known books are: "The Rambling Frontier," "The Kentucky," one in the "Rivers of America series; "Pills, Petticoats and Plows," a history of the Southern country store; "The Southern Country Editor," a study of the rural weekly newspaper in the South from the Civil War period; "A History of Kentucky;" and "The Rural Press and the New South."

A native Mississippian, Dr. Clark holds a A.B. degree from the University of Mississippi, an M.A. from here at UK, and a Ph.D. degree from Duke University.

The first prize was a free wash job, grease job, oil change, and ten gallons of gas at Pucci's Standard Service, and an orchid from Foushee's Florist.

Second prize of a cuff link and tie clasp set from Kessler Jewelers was won by D. L. Bicknell, 1043 East Cooper Drive. The five third prizes of a free Five-Minit Car Wash by Jimmy Butts went to Nancy Boggs, 428 Kingsway Drive; Diana Gray, 620 Mitchell Avenue; Judy Stoothoff, 129 East Maxwell; Bob Monarch, 340 South Broadway; and Jo Ann Axton, Keene-land Hall, University of Kentucky.

Kappas Purchase Lots For House

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority has purchased two pieces of property, lots 43 and 44, on Rose St. opposite the UK tennis courts for the location of a new house. The property has been approved by University officials.

The new house, which will be designed in modified colonial style, has been estimated to cost $125,000. It will house from 40 to 48 girls.

John T. Gillig and Associates, architect, met with Frank D. Peterson this week to discuss plans for the new house.

Music Festival Scheduled Here Today And Tomorrow

High school students from all over the state will compete for honors today and tomorrow in the 32nd annual Kentucky State High School Music Festival.

About 700 students are expected to take part in the vocal, piano, and organ sections of the festival. All participants must have achieved a rating of Division I in regional festivals in order to enter the state contest.

The schedule of events call for piano solos in Memorial Hall on Friday morning. Piano duet and duo events will be heard in the University School Auditorium Friday afternoon.

The organ event is being held for the first time this year. Students entered in this event will perform at 7:30 p.m. Friday, in Memorial Hall. After all selections have been played, Arnold Blackburn, professor of organ at the University, will discuss organ techniques with the participants.

The University Choristers will act as the demonstration group for those students entered in the Choral Student Conducting section of the festival. This event will be held at 2 p.m. Friday, in the Fine Arts Building.

Choruses from 60 high schools will perform Saturday. They are scheduled to be heard in the University School Auditorium, Alumni Gymnasium, and the Bluegrass Room of the Student Union Building.

Harvard Professor Discusses Future

By MARNEY BEARD

"If mankind survives the atomic holocaust, the world of tomorrow will be a wonderful place if our understanding of man, and his institutions continues to develop."

These words highlighted the talk by Dr. Samuel A. Stouffer, professor of sociology at Harvard University, given at Memorial Hall last Wednesday night.

Dr. Stouffer's lecture, entitled "Social Science and the World of Tomorrow," was one of the lectures in a series sponsored by Paul G. Blazer.

Social science is still undeveloped in comparison to the physical sciences, Dr. Stouffer said, because of the difficulty of gaining proof in experiments. In order for a theory to be proved, controlled experiments are necessary. It is much harder to control experiments involving social phenomena than physical, he added.

There is a great need for social scientists in the world today, Dr. Stouffer said. He listed four major areas where the need is particularly great. They are in the fields of industry, where sociological concepts are being applied more and more to advertising and personnel work; in government, where economists and statisticians are needed; in public health; and in education, where the major problem is the vast number of people of eligible age who do not go to college.

Audubon Film Scheduled Here

"Great Smokey Skyland" will be the theme for the Audubon Screen Tour series, to be given at 8 p.m. tomorrow night in Memorial Hall.

Dr. G. Harrison Orians, distinguished National Audubon Society speaker, will show color motion pictures of the Great Smokies. These southern highlands are one of the greatest wilderness areas remaining in the United States.

The Audubon Screen Tour series are presented by the Audubon Society of Kentucky, the National Audubon Society, and the UK Department of Zoology, and features natural history lectures. This is the third and final program for the 1955-56 series.

Dr. Orians attended North Central Illinois University and the University of Illinois. He was a ranger naturalist at Yosemite National Park and served on the faculty of the University of Idaho and the University of Illinois. In World War II he taught pre-flight training for the Army Air Corps. He is now a professor of English and director of the summer session at the University of Toledo.

UK students presenting ID cards will be admitted free.

Farm experts estimate that improved pasture can produce about 100 pounds of stock feed at a cost of about 60c.

Guignol Presents 'The Innocents'

The Guignol Theater will present "The Innocents", a psychological mystery thriller, May 8-12. The play is by William Archibald and is based on Henry James' short story "The Turn of the Screw".

The story takes place about 1880 in an old country house in England which is haunted by the spirit of evil.

The cast will include Page Williams as Miss Giddens, Janet Lambert as Mrs. Grose, Nancy Niles in the role of Flora, and Fred Slitter as Miles, her brother. Mary Ann Stevenson and Charles Galoway will also be in the cast.

PHI BETA KAPPA, I LOVE YOU!

Once there was a Chi Omega named Alfreda Pectate who was beautiful and well-formed and wore clothes of the most tasteful cut and smoked the gentlest of all cigarettes - Philip Morris, of course! - and had, in addition to these admirable qualities, a brain so massive and retentive that she used to read the Britannica just for kicks.

Alfreda had one great ambition: to be elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Consequently she was all a-dither when she heard a rumor one night that a man from the Phi Beta Kappa selection board was coming over to the Chi Omega house to interview her. Being all a-dither, Alfreda sat down and lit a Philip Morris, as she always did when she was all a-dither, for gentle Philip Morris, as wise Alfreda knew, is comfort to the troubled, balm to the beset, and a haven to the vexed. But gentle Philip Morris, as Alfreda, with her mighty intellect, was well aware, is not only a cigarette for times of stress and strain, but also the perfect accompaniment to happiness and light. For gentle Philip Morris is sunny and cheery and jolly and merry and yummy! All this Alfreda, with her giant cerebellum, knew.

By and by there came a loud, masculine knock on the door, and Alfreda, composing herself, went to answer it. "Won't you come in?" she said to the man outside. "I am Alfreda Pectate."

"And I am Ed Fester," said the man, entering with a friendly smile. Ed had found that a friendly smile was a great asset in the Venetian blind game, which happened to be Ed's game. He had nothing to do with Phi Beta Kappa; he had come over to see about a new blind for the house mother's bedroom. But, of course, Alfreda knew nothing of this.

"Do sit down," said Alfreda. "Thanks, hey," said Ed. "But I can't stay long." "Of course," said Alfreda and proceeded without delay to demonstrate how wide and comprehensive was her learning. "Deer," she said, "have no gall bladders."

"Deer," she said, "have no Gall bladders."

"Is that so?" said Ed, who until this moment had believed deer had gall bladders.

"Ben Jonson," said Alfreda, "was buried in a sitting position."

"Hmm," said Ed. "Fortnight" is a contraction of "fourteen nights," said Alfreda.

"What do you know!" said Ed. "Many people think it is forbidden to wash an American flag," said Alfreda. "That is not true. It is perfectly proper to wash an American flag."

"Learn something every day," said Ed. "The smallest fish in the world," said Alfreda, "is the Pandaka Pygma, which is under a half inch when full grown."

"How come they buried that Jonson sitting up?" said Ed. "It's terribly crowded in Westminster Abbey," said Alfreda.

"Oh," said Ed. "Ann Boleyn had six fingers on her left hand," said Alfreda.

"Heavens to Betsy!" said Ed.

"Are there any questions you'd care to ask me?" said Alfreda.

"Just one," said Ed. "How big is your house mother's window?"

A tear ran down Alfreda's cheek. "Well, that's the way it goes," she sighed. "You work and slave and study and then they catch you on a trick question! . . . Oh, well, that's life, I guess."

Forlorn and bereft, she rose and shambled to her bed and fell upon it and wept for several days. But finally she pulled herself together, and today she is with Byrd in the Antarctic.

Student Protest

The married students living at Shawneetown are justifiably upset about the rent that will be charged for the new Cooperstown apartments. Unofficial figures place the amount at between $60 and $70 a month. This is approximately twice as much as the students are now paying at Shawneetown.

The higher rent will drastically affect many of the 184 families living in Shawneetown. Most of them have at least one child, some of them two or three. An added expense of $30 or $35 a month would strain their already thin budgets to the breaking point. Several of them would have to drop out of school.

This is extremely bad, but the story is not altogether one sided. When the old Cooperstown project and Shawneetown were condemned by the State Fire Marshall the University was faced with the problem of either providing housing for the majority of the married students or none of them. Out of the 1,200 married students attending UK only 200 live in Shawneetown. The University made the logical choice and the new project will greatly benefit the 1,000 students who are at present paying high rent out in town.

Because of state and federal building codes the University had to abide by certain minimum standards when they built the apartments. Even if the University wanted to they couldn't build apartments similar to the ones now at Shawneetown. The added construction cost is part of the reason the rent will be higher.

Also state law prohibits using state funds to erect housing for a special group such as University students. The money for the project had to be raised through a bond issue. A set amount must be paid regularly to the bonding company until the debt is resired. This is the other reason why the rent will be higher.

However, the University will charge the students the lowest possible rate. The rent will barely cover the loan payments. The University will definitely not make a profit on the new apartments.

But the University has made one serious mistake. It has done nothing for the Shawneetown residents who cannot afford the higher rent. Legally the University is not responsible for the financial problems of its students, but morally it should see that these financially injured students are cared for.

It seems reasonable to believe that there is some University or state fund that can help these students. It is absolutely unfair and undemocratic that they should be punished for something they had no control over. After all, trying to work their way through college has been their only mistake.

Term Papers

Two weeks ago The Kernel printed an editorial entitled "Idiot Profs." Thus started a long series of protests.

As it was hoped its very title would suggest, the editorial was written as a mildly humorous satire. But it appears that many readers thought the editorial neither humorous nor satiristic.

Letters, one of which is printed in this issue, have poured in. Professors have attacked the editorial in their class rooms. Among other things, The Kernel has been accused of "bad taste."

Whether or not professors assign term papers to their students, The Kernel certainly does not believe them to be idiots. Humorists and cartoonists of late have pictured the college professor as a demented menace, after a fashion of the stereotyped picture of the "dumb, green freshman."

But many persons obviously did not understand that The Kernel was simply using a broad, humorous stereotype of the college professor in the editorial.

While The Kernel apologizes for any misrepresentation or harm done to UK professors, it can not and will not deny that term papers are being over-rated.

Term papers at UK have been misused to the degree that they are indeed a legitimate topic of editorial contention. While some professors assign these tasks in good faith, it has become apparent that many term papers are required for questionable academic reasons.

One can not argue that in some courses a term paper is a beneficial way of "conceiving, evaluating, organizing, and presenting ideas." But one can contend that a term paper should never be assigned if the professor does not tell his students what is expected and what will be accomplished.

No student should be condemned because he doubts the value of the work he is undertaking. Free thought should never be subjected to the ritual of "do or die."

And so it is unfortunate that too many professors at UK require term papers, but never bother to tie in this important work with the education at hand. A term paper in some courses seems incongruous with what what is being taught; possibly this would not be so if the professor outlined his reasons for assigning them.

Then, too, some professors use term papers for their own use. Fortunately this situation is rare, but there should never be the doubt that a student's work is being prostituted for personal gain of the professor. One instructor this year told a student that he was assigning term papers for the express purpose of getting material for future class lectures.

Far too many term papers—which in the full sense of the word should represent research and work done throughout the semester—are never critiqued by the professor. That is why many UK students "put off" term papers to the last minute.

If more professors critiqued term papers students would not only benefit educationally, but would also lose their skepticism of the value of the papers themselves.

Because term papers at UK are being required, in many cases, without thorough instruction beforehand, without being married to the subject taught, and without post-critique, The Kernel believes that they are being over-rated.

And so "Idiot Profs," though a misunderstood editorial, was one that deserved being on an editorial page. The topic was not brought to The Kernel's attention by "persons not interested in becoming educated," but through talk of those who dare to doubt unexplained dogma.

As long as this type of students exist, then The Kernel will voice their opinions.

Blasts Workshop

Dear Sir,

After having read the product of "The Workshop" in last week's Kernel, and realizing through experience the steps that one must take to reach both greek and independent students through Kernel publications, I deem it necessary that I write this letter.

In defense of the newly formed Students Party, I wish to reiterate and refute some comments presented by the "Old Proprietor" and present the real reasons for the formation of the Students Party.

It is an accepted student agreement that the present student government of the UK campus is not what it should be, or could be, and it was this agreement that stimulated the movement and formation of the Students Party. Something must be done to improve our government and give the answer can be found in the platform of the newly formed Students Party. Such a platform could not be presented without student interest and student support; two factors that are not present in the Constitutional United Student Party, as evident when only 1800 votes are cast in an SGA election from a student body of 6500. It is our belief that by forming the third party student interest can be increased. With this stimulation of interest, and not until then, can an improvement of our student government be made with hopes of faculty support.

It is the primary purpose of the Students Party to better SGA, and after contacting interested faculty members, they too realize the something should be done and can be done for improvement. The answer lies in the musty pages of the present student government constitution which was written 18 years ago by a faculty committee appointed by former president Frank L. McVey. This constitution needs to be revamped so our student government may be reorganized. We are facing the dawn of a new administration with a forth coming new president of our school. If we decline this opportunity to improve our student government now, we are missing the chance to start anew with the administration.

Some points of improvement listed in the Student Party are as follows:

1. To improve the student government with a new constitution, voted on by students and written by them.
2. To reorganize the delegation of the assembly, so as to have true student representation, no popularity contests.

3. To integrate the social committee of the SGA and the Student Union Board.

4. To promote the idea of student nominations.

5. To nominate candidates for SGA on the basis of merit, regardless of affiliation, who will stand for the purposes of SGA and not personal gain.

Now that you have some of the facts, let's look back to the comments in "The Workshop" of last week's Kernel. The author states that the newly established Students Party will not be able to add new life to SGA and his advice is, and I quote, "The sooner all starry-eyed junior politicians on campus realize that SGA is a weak, administration dominated organization which exist and are better governing group but as a rubber stamp for University policy, the better off they will be. . . You can be assured that as long as present SGA delegates real-ize the trouble and yet take this attitude toward the Students Party or SGA improvement, the status quo will remain. When student representatives have this little energy, it is time that new lives be added in SGA, to replace the floating dead bit of the present SGA cesspool."

The Students party is interested in any student interested in improving SGA, and not that you represent an organization that will bring more votes by religious or greek affiliation. This foundation is not in the United Students Party or the Constitutional Party, and the Students Party believes that when the independents find what each party stands for, they will think for themselves when they cast their votes in the Spring election.

These last words upon leaving. The editor of "The Workshop" tried to present the argument that some fraternity "favorite sons" could have been a reason for the party revolution. If this was true, the "sons" would have accepted those offers by a clerk committee of the Constitutional Party, to represent them at top positions on their Spring slate, and not try to improve SGA through the third party formation.

Therefore it seems to me that the BARF title was on the right page in last week's Kernel, but possibly over the wrong story.

Defends Profs

Dear Sir:

I have just finished reading your editorial of 13 April 1956 titled "Idiot Profs." This I consider to be one of the most disgusting and saddening pieces of editorial writing ever to appear in a University newspaper. At first glance, one might brush it aside as extremely poor satire, noting only the questionable taste of the Kernel staff for allowing it to appear on the editorial page.

However, in view of the decreasing capacity of the "mass student," conditioned by television, movies, spectator sports and entertainment, for any kind of self-expression and the subsequent "watering down" of the effectiveness of the University system, the ideas expressed by this editorial take on more tragic proportions.

A University exists for the education and not the entertainment of the student. One of the prerequisites for effective learning is active participation by the student in the process, not passive impression. Term papers are one of the only means left for teaching a student how to conceive, evaluate, organize, and present ideas. This ability is a basic requirement for those intending to eventually become educated persons and those who resort to copying term papers are fooling only themselves, least of all the prof.

In view of the aforementioned, my suggestions are as follows:

- (1) That the number of term papers be doubled, a mid-term rough draft of each be submitted, and a senior thesis be required in order to "separate the men from the boys."
- (2) That those persons not interested in becoming educated should leave college for trade school, and certainly should not be allowed to write any more editorials for the Kernel.

In closing I would like to comment on the writers portrait of professors as being "of low mentality," "lucless," "idiotic," possessing "moronic wishes," etc.

This type of banter, if heard over a cup of coffee in the grill from an unadapted freshman might be overlooked, but for expressions of this nature to appear in print and have at least the tacit approval of the Kernel Editor is a display of inexcusable ignorance and bad manners.

Short Stuff

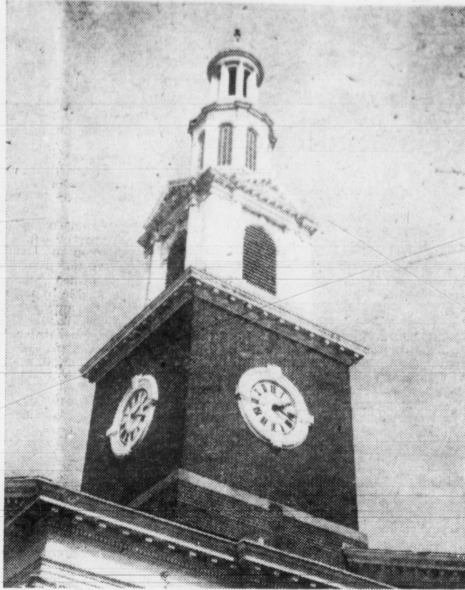

Lances is working on a new scholarship plan. Reportedly the program will amount to non-interest loans to students. If this is the case, the whole idea should be reviewed critically because scholarships are gifts to students for their ability, not repayable grants based strictly on financial need.

The naming of the new UK president has developed into a hoss race comparable to the Kentucky Derby in interest to Kentuckians. In speculating on whom it will be, let's not forget the seriousness of the decision.

A note to seniors: There's only a little more than six weeks of school left. Thank heavens it's nearly over!

Dead Hero Speaks Today Through Carillonic Bells

By BOB ENDICOTT

Listen . . .

Fourteen years after the death of war hero Lt. Alexander Bonnyman, UK students can still hear his deeds extolled in the voice of a 25-bell carillon, which was dedicated to one who sacrificed his life for his country.

On balmy spring days, University of Kentucky students find it difficult to give complete attention to class lectures. But when Lt. Alexander Bonnyman speaks, students find it easy to listen. Even professors stop in their work to listen to Bonnyman's timely statements.

Although Lt. Bonnyman now has a permanent place at UK, he has not always been with the school. He is neither a professor nor a student at UK. He isn't even a native Kentuckian.

Born in Atlanta, Ga., Bonnyman was reared in Tennessee and graduated from Princeton University in 1932.

After graduation, young Bonnyman worked several years in New Mexico mines; then just before the outbreak of World War II, for his father in Knoxville.

Soon after Pearl Harbor, Bonnyman took the oath to defend his country as a private in the United States Marine Corps. Later, with the island-hopping Marines in the Pacific, Bonnyman rose to the rank of lieutenant by virtue of a battlefield commission. Then came one of the bloodiest campaigns in Marine Corps history—Tarawa.

It was after November 23, 1943 when Bonnyman's family received a War Department telegram. "We regret to inform you . . . Lt. Alexander Bonnyman was dead.

He was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for his courage under enemy fire on an assignment he could have easily ordered to a subordinate. Lt. Bonnyman had given his life during the fierce fighting on a tiny island thousands of miles from the UK campus.

Yet, it can be said that Lt. Alexander Bonnyman had not died.

Often he speaks to Kentucky students in the form of a 25-bell carillon as they traverse to and from classes on the 106-acre campus.

Lt. Bonnyman's dais is within the white clock tower high atop Memorial Hall. In the foyer of the red brick building, a memorial to World War I dead, a bronze plaque reads, "Carillonic Bells Dedicated to the Memory of Lt. Alexander Bonnyman, Jr. who sacrificed his life for his country at Tarawa, November 23, 1943."

Lt. Bonnyman owes his melodic voice to his father, an 1888 engineering graduate of UK. The senior Bonnyman donated the carillon to UK in 1946. The gift was formally dedicated on Founder's Day, February 22, 1947.

During dedication ceremonies, President Herman L. Donovan, in gratitude of Mr. Bonnyman's gift, said, "It is fitting to dedicate these Carillonic Bells, on Founders Day, and to express our appreciation for this gift in memory of his illustrious son, Mr. Bonnyman too, becomes a founder of the University."

From that day forward, Lt. Bonnyman, through his carillon voice, has reminded students and all who visit the campus of the democratic principles for which he stands.

It has been nearly 14 years since the Marines landed on Tarawa. The shifting sands of time have all but obliterated reminders of the last World War, but there remains one to remind those on UK's campus.

Yes, it has been nearly 14 years—but listen—Lt. Alexander Bonnyman is speaking!

The Workshop

Proprietor Answers Charge; Commends Clark, Stylus

By RAY HORNBACK

There appears on this week's editorial page a letter from Charlie McCullough, a member of the newly formed Students Party and an aspirant for the SGA presidential nomination of that party. In mentioning the contents of last week's 'Workshop,' Charlie opposes several points in my evaluation of the present campus political scene. And in doing so, he has managed to come up with a potpourri of jumbled ideologies much too lengthy to discuss in the space allotted here.

Charlie states that he wishes to reiterate and refute several statements made in last week's 'Workshop.' He makes a very weak attempt to do so and then delves into lengthy paragraphs which when boiled down are little more than rah rah propaganda bits for the Students Party.

His plan for revitalizing SGA through the establishment of a new party presents little more than the glorious platforms offered by parties in the past. It appears that the SGA he envisions would be little more than a student council with the faculty and administration completely dominating the group.

SGA's powers are quite limited

now. If Charlie's suggested improvements are realized, I see little hope for a true governing body which would be a sounding board for student opinion.

And finally, Charlie, I need not defend my statement in regard to the real reason for the big party split. I only remind you, as you well know, that the two instrumental groups in the formation of your party had top-notch men ignored when the vice-president's slot was filled by the United Students Party.

Let us have peace! (Charlie . . . I'm afraid you insulted our good friend EFF with your closing comment on BARF.)

Our many tirades aimed at Stylus, campus literary magazine, seem to have been taken to heart by the guiding fathers of the publication. Or at least we've had some effect on the advocates of finer prose, poetry and profanity.

For we've spotted signs on campus which read "Obscene! Profane! Bad Writing! Stylus Rides Again! April 30—25c."

Now that's what I call promotion. Year in and year out, Stylus has had a rather scanty circulation. This year we criticized the English department publication for its obscenity. As a result, their sales showed signs of improving.

Now the Shakespearean scholars are advertising that their publication is obscene, profane and contains bad writing. We predict their sales will boom. And while you may not believe this, we sincerely hope their publication will be the most successful ever. I do believe the literature-laden lads and lassies have some spunk.

One of the Kernel's most outspoken critics, Dr. Thomas D. Clark, has been elected president of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association.

This is quite an honor for the prolific head of the history department, as from all we can gather, he is heading the top historical society in the nation.

The distinguished professor of history is regarded by many as one of the top authorities on the South and the frontier in the nation.

We feel he has been justly rewarded for his many contributions to history and the University. Knowing that Dr. Clark has achieved such a lofty position in the field of history somewhat softens the many verbal blows he has dealt the Kernel in his classroom during past months.

COLONEL of the WEEK

The Stirrup Cup is proud to present as its Colonel of the Week, Christie Vandergriff.

This move is being made solely because Miss Vandergriff has raised a big stink. She claims she has been slighted, as all other members of the Kernel staff have been named Colonel of the Week during the course of the year.

Christie, affectionately known as "Rats," probably has a standing. She is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and we understand she has applied for membership in Sigma Delta Chi.

Miss Vandergriff, a mild mannered young lady, is held in high esteem by all the members of the Kernel staff. Therefore, it is with great pride that the Stirrup Cup invites Miss Vandergriff to enjoy two of its delicious meals.

Page has also served on Panhellenic and Women's Administrative Council and we think she did a great job in all of the Guignol Theater Productions.

Serving as station manager of WBKY is a job in itself as Ann Young has done, besides having been music librarian, traffic manager, producer of UK Roundtable and program director in UK's radio station. Ann is a senior from Dante, Virginia and has a 3.5 standing, being a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, Cwens and Mortar Board. Home Ec To Graduate Seven As Dietitians

The College of Agriculture and Home Economics will graduate seven women in dietitians with a major in institution management on May 28.

The girls and the hospitals in which they will do their internship are Betty Chafin and Joan Huffman, Stanford University Hospital, San Francisco, Calif.; Joell Brown, Army Hospital; Barbara Jagers, Veterans Administration Hospital, Houston, Tex.; Eurma Shown, Vanderbilt University Hospital, Nashville, Tenn.; Carol McGinnis, U. S. Public Health Service Hospital, Staten Island, N. Y.; and Carolyn Poitits, Medical College of Virginia, Richmond, Va.

The first courses of institution management were taught at UK in 1923, with the first graduating class in 1925. This year for the first time in 31 years more girls have been interested, and this is one of the largest graduating classes in this field.

The girls made their applications before March 1 to the three hospitals of their choice, which belonged to the American Dietetics Association. Then on April 1 throughout the 48 states girls received their places. The girls were then to notify if they accepted or declined.

The girls will have their internship from July to the middle of September. When they complete their internship the girls then become eligible for membership in the American Dietetics Association.

When a girl completes her internship she will be recognized throughout the U.S. as member of the ADA. The ADA inspects all courses which are taught every few years to see that they are up to standard.

UK To Send 3 To 4-H Camp

Student delegates from Kentucky to the National 4-H Club Camp in Washington, D. C., June 13 to 20.

Three of the students are enrolled in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics at UK. The other student attends Murray State College. They are Emma Jean Hammond, Oldham County; Lois McClure, Graves County; Clyde Allen, Fayette County; and Roger Woeste, Campbell County.

The group will join four members from each of the other 47 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. They will learn about the Federal government, helping interpret 4-H work to the nation's leaders, and in planning for improved club programs.

The students were chosen from their leadership ability in clubs, and communities.

Dairy Career Day On Campus Today

Between 125 and 150 high school seniors are expected to attend the second annual Dairy Career Day on the UK campus today, Dr. T. R. Freeman, head of dairy manufacturing, announced.

Career Day is designed to give high school students interested in dairying an idea of the teaching facilities of the University, to acquaint them with the UK campus, and to point out the possibilities of careers in the dairy industry.

The program is sponsored jointly by the University dairy staff, the UK Dairy Club, and the Kentucky Dairy Industry.

Freeman said the boys have been sponsored by persons or firms in the dairy industry. These sponsors provided transportation and food for the boys and lodging for those that will stay until Saturday.

The program includes a tour of the campus this morning. After lunch, the students will visit the Coliseum and the Athletic Department and tour the Experiment Station Farm.

An honor banquet in the Blue Grass Room of the Student Union Building at 6 p.m. will climax the program.

New Zealand is considering a boast in auto drivers' license fees to provide more funds for road safety.

Dick Walsh (right) discussing carrier equipment which will provide many additional long distance circuits out of Philadelphia.

"There's opportunity in a growing company"

As an Engineer in the Transmission Section of Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, Richard M. Walsh plans for the future.

"Our group's responsibility," says Dick, "is to see that we have sufficient facilities to handle present and future needs. Telephone usage is growing every year, and we keep up with this growth by keeping ahead of it."

"For instance, to meet the increasing demand for communication circuits in our area, we're adding 70,000 new channel miles this year alone, at a cost of $3,500,000. Laying new cable will give us 40,000 of those channel miles, and we'll get the other 30,000 through use of carrier equipment, which lets us send a number of long distance calls on each pair of wires simultaneously.

"Thus, though a cable might have only 300 pairs of wires, we can, with carrier, make it carry over 3000 telephone calls at one time. Using carrier equipment to get extra circuits out of cable—which is expensive to make and lay—is an example of how we engineer to give high-grade service at the lowest possible cost."

"Before I graduated from college I had interviews with twenty-eight companies. Out of all these I chose the telephone company because it had the most to offer in the way of interesting work, training and opportunity. This certainly turned out to be true. In a growing business your opportunities grow, too."

Dick Walsh graduated in 1953 from the University of Delaware with a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering. There are many interesting career opportunities in other Bell Telephone Companies, and in Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer can give you more information about all Bell System Companies.

Mathematicians Meet Here Tomorrow

Mathematicians from all over the state will be on campus tomorrow for the annual meeting of the Kentucky Section of the Mathematical Association of America.

The meeting is divided into a morning session and an afternoon session. Both sessions will be held in Room 111 of McVey Hall.

The morning session will begin at 10 a.m. and last for two hours. There will be seven oral exposes given during this period. Six of them will be given by UK staff members and one will be given by Prof. Walter L. Moore of the University of Louisville.

These exposes will be on technical research papers which will later be printed in mathematical journals.

At the conclusion of the morning session the association will have a luncheon in the old football cafeteria at the Student Union Building. At 1:30 p.m. they will again assemble in Room 111 for a short business meeting and the election of new officers.

After the business meeting Prof. Fred Ficken of the University of Tennessee will deliver the "Invited Hour Address." His address will be on "Singularities of Continuous Vector Fields in the Plane."

Following Prof. Ficken's lecture there will be a tea.

Dr. Vincent Cowling, president of the association, stated that there will be approximately 150 people in attendance at this convention, including visitors from Indiana, Tennessee, Ohio, and other nearby states.

4-H Club Week To Be June 5-9

The annual 4-H Club Week will be held on the University of Kentucky campus during the week of June 5-9. Boyd Wheeler, 4-H public information director, has announced.

About 1,200 4-H Club members from the 120 counties in Kentucky will register June 5. Visitors from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, and Tennessee will also attend the meeting.

The program will include demonstrations on the Kentucky Seed Law and on water management for the boys. Demonstrations on breadmaking and dairy foods will be held for the girls attending the 4-H Week.

A style show will be held Thursday night, June 8, Wheeler said. He added that plans call for each Kentucky county to be represented in the show. The girls will show clothes which they made themselves. The style show will be open to the public.

The five-day meeting will be presided over by the state 4-H officers and during the meeting new officers will be elected.

Wheeler said that Vesper services will be held every night for those who want to attend. Daily tours of the Experimental Farm will also be made, he added.

High school juniors and seniors will have an opportunity to meet representatives from the various colleges of the University in order to acquaint them with someone in the colleges.

Scholarships Offered

Scholarships totaling $5,000 are being offered by UK to Kentucky high school teachers attending the 1956 summer session announced Dean M. M. White of the Arts and Sciences Colleges this week.

The one hundred $50 scholarships, provided for by a grant from the Haggin Fund, are in the fields of English, general science, mathematics, and physics.

The scholarships requirements are that the applicant be a Kentucky teacher of high school or junior high school subjects, and that he teach in the area covered by the scholarship.

The total amount of scholarships include 20 in general science, 20 in physics, 30 in English, and 30 in mathematics.

Applications should be sent to the specific department not later than May 1.

Golfers Try To Avenge Worst Defeat Of Season

By BO GRIFFIN

Kentucky's varsity golf men will try to avenge their worst defeat of the season as they play host to Vanderbilt tomorrow on the Boiling Springs course.

Starting time for the match will be 10 a.m.

In a previous match, the Cats were trounced by the Commodores, 25-1-1/2.

Next week, May 3, 4, 5, the links-men will journey to Athens, Ga. where they will compete in the Southeastern Conference Tournament.

The golfers, coached by Johnny Owens, were expected to be handicapped considerably this year because of inexperience. However, they have won three contests and tied one in their nine matches.

Wins this season have been posted against Union, Xavier, and Marshall. The Cats tied Eastern and lost to Cincinnati, T.P.L., Vanderbilt, Tennessee, and Xavier.

Six matches remain on the link's schedule after the SEC Tournament.

Competition will be against T.P.L., Cincinnati, and the University of Louisville in contests on the Boiling Springs course. Matches with Tennessee, Louisville, and Eastern will be played away.

Air ROTC Being Inspected Today

An inspection team from Air Force ROTC headquarters is visiting the University's ROTC unit.

The team, which arrived yesterday from Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., will conduct inspections through tomorrow. The group has visited air science classes and a review and inspection will be held tomorrow on the parade ground.

The ROTC band will play for the parade.

Freshman Double Header Slates Dawson, Host

By SCOOP WHITE

No-hit Joe Dawson goes against Louisville Manual again, this time in the first game of a doubleheader on Stoll Field this afternoon at 1:30.

Freshman coach J. R. (Abe) Shannon will go with Jim Host in the second game. The Kittens have a 4-1 record going into this twin-bill as the past weekend saw them lose their first game of the year.

Manual captured a 4-3 victory for the Kittens' only loss.

This game was preceded by Dawson's five inning no-hitter against his former teammates. After being the hero in the first tilt, Dawson turned out to be the goat in the nightcap as he failed in his relieving duties of Host, who started the game.

After striking out a batter he gave up a walk, hit a batter and then the next Manual hitter drove a line drive down the left field line and that was the ball game.

The Kittens had another tough encounter last week as they edged Lafayette 2-1. Doug Shively came home in the fifth inning on a sacrifice bunt with the winning run to give the Kittens their victory.

Jim Host gave the General bat- ters only two hits, but the Ken- tucky freshmen earned just three safeties off the Lafayette hurler, Ed Monroe.

In the hitting department for the Kittens, Shively has been one of the leaders. In the Manual series, Shively had three hits in the opener, one in the second game, and against his former Lafayette teammates, he drove in Vince Lococo with a single besides tallying the winning run.

Frank Namath homered against Manual, and Gene Smith collected five hits in the two-game series with the Crimson to give the Kit- tens much needed slugging power.

High Scores Natural In I-M Softball Play

SAE, gunning for its second suc- cessive intramural softball tilt defeated Triangle 13-5 in the op- ing game of the season.

SPE clouted PDT 16-10 and DT squeezed by AGR 7-6 as the thr- run AGR rally fell one short the last inning.

The tight (7) pitching duels con- tinued through Monday's games. SX won over KA 18-9 and PE dumped ZBT 17-9.

Two home runs helped AT down FH 11-5. In a hotly conte- ed game, PKT downed KS 16-9 for another wild battle.

SN, runners up to SAE last ye- downed LXA 6-4 in a tilt play under protest.

The average size American ho- uses about 10,500 board feet lumber, the annual growth on 0. 15 acres of Douglas fir region f- est land.

The intramural office has an- nounced that the fraternity 880 yard relay race will be run at 8:45 p.m., May 4 during the an- nual Spiked Shoe Relays.

Qualifying heats will be run at 4 p.m. May 4 on the Stoll Field track. All teams and their intra- mural managers must be present at this time to be eligible for the race.

Single Point Is Sufficient For Rifle Win

One point was the margin of victory for the University's ROTC rifle team as the sharpshooters won the Kentucky Military Dis- trict Rifle Match, defeating East- ern State College by a score of 905 to 904.

The match was open to all col- leges and universities in Kentucky having an ROTC unit.

Murray and Western State Col- leges also participated in the com- petition, Murray finishing in third place and Western in fourth.

The latest victory was UK's sec- ond consecutive win. The Ken- tucky Military District trophy ro- tates until it has been won by the same team three consecutive times.

The riflemen fired from the prone, standing, kneeling, and sit- ting positions.

Members of the University's team are Marvin Goff, Donald Harmon, Leonard Schlegel, Wesley Sims, and William Lockwood. Goff, with 186 points, was the highest scorer on the team.

Billy Ray Cassady, better known at Kentucky for his basketball ability, is also a member of Harry Lancaster's baseball team. The sophomore outfielder and pinch-hitter was caught by the Kernel camera man last weekend as UK lost another game of the season. The Tamecats were whipped by Auburn in a three-game home stand 25-6, 19-10, 10-5.

Transylvania Plays Host To Diamond Squad Today

Revenge will be in the minds of Kentucky baseballers today as they meet the Transylvania Pioneers on Lyons Fields at 3:00 p.m.

It was just last April 10 that the Pioneers defeated the Wildcats 7-4 for the first time since 1912. Thus a victory is a must if the Wildcats are to redeem themselves.

Cocher Harry Lancaster has nominated his lanky left-hander, Phil Grawemeyer to bring the Cats victory number two of the season, as against 16 losses.

In his last time out Cookie was riding high on a 6-0 lead against Auburn, but then it happened. Grawemeyer became wild and the Wildcat defense went to shreds. When the game was over the Cats had lost 25-6.

Two Frats Protest Mural Games

A DTD protest has been upheld in its game with the PSK's. PSK defeated DTD 14-1 Tuesday evening but were charged with using an ineligible player.

Intramural director Bill McCubbin discussed the protest with a representative from both the DTD's and PSK's. Each fraternity gave its side of the argument and McCubbin declared in favor of the DTD's.

In another game played under protest SN won over LXA 6-4.

The protest resulted when LXA had two men on base and were trailing 6-4 in the game. The next LXA batter hit a triple scoring both the runners and apparently tied the game. But the umpire ruled the batter failed to touch second base and declared him out.

The final decision on this protest was not available at press time.

Kuhn, Pack Lead Gridders

An all-American candidate and a hard-working end describe the 1956 Wildcat football co-captains elected this week by the Kentucky football team.

Dave Kuhn and Roger Pack were given the honor of leading next year's grid squad by the vote of the squad's 21 returning lettermen.

Pack, the Cats' regular center for the past two years, looks at next year as his best season since he is being touted as all-American caliber. Before coming to Kentucky, Kuhn played at Louisville, where he gained All-State honors two years and All-American his senior year.

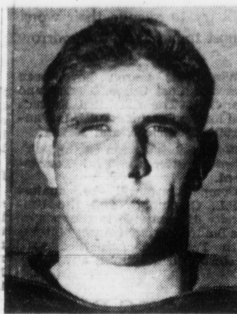

Since he has been playing with the Wildcats, Kuhn has earned three letters and in his sophomore season he placed on the All-SEC sophomore team.

Pack, 6-2, 202-pound end from Jenkins, was considered a second-stringer at the beginning of last season, but due to the injury of Bradley Mills, he was given a starting berth in several key games last fall.

Pack's selection climaxed a three year period of hard work and determination. He has lettered the past two seasons and next fall he will take over All-American Howard Schnellenberger's left end position. At Jenkins High, Pack was an honorable mention All-State selection in 1952.

Wildcat football coach Blanton Collier was "very pleased over the outcome." Kuhn speaking for the co-captains said, "We also know that we'll be leading a good bunch of boys and they will do right if we get the job done."

Aromatic chemicals were not used in flavoring until the end of the 19th century.

Vols Nip UK Cindermen; Mitchell Outshines Majors

Monopolizing the hurdles and dashes, the Kentucky track team made a strong bid, but fell short of nipping Tennessee. Saturday, as the Volunteers topped UK and Sewanee in a triangular meet at the Tiger's home field, 60.1/6 to 55 to 46.5/6.

Standout performances were turned in for second place Kentucky by Billy Mitchell and Ray Blasingame. They tallied a total of 24½ points between them.

Mitchell, the meets high scorer engaged in a bitter battle with Tennessee's great grid star, Johnny Majors, in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Mitchell came out on top in both events by a narrow margin.

He added 2½ extra points by virtue of a second place tie with Jay Bayless in the high jump.

Blasingame, holder of one of two track scholarships awarded by the University, maintained his supremacy over the hurdles, winning the low high fence races from teammates Jim Ingram and Dave Cousins. The San Diego star also placed third in the discus toss.

Tennessee's vaunted miler Ed Murphy, lived up to expectations and circled the course in 4:18.6, a new track record over the Sewanee cinders. Coach Don Cash Seaton scratched UK against Murphy in the mile.

Ray Mills placed first in the high jump, as he flew 5'10" over the bar.

Dayton Matlick remained undefeated in the broad jump with a leap of 21'1", his best distance to date.

Kentucky next faces the Vanderbilt Commodores in a home contest starting at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, on Stoll Field.

Two Cats Averaging Above 300

Two Wildcat baseballers, catcher Jim Morris and leftfielder Lavon Lewis, are hitting over 300 with Morris leading a respectable .382 average.

Lewis is in runner-up position, hitting .318 according to the latest baseball statistics released by UK sports publicist Ken Kuhn.

Morris has appeared in 17 games and has hit safely 21 times in 55 trials at the plate. Lewis, in 15 games, has connected for 14 hits in 44 times at bat. In the fielding department, Lewis has the edge on Morris as he has not committed an error while Morris has a fielding average of .933, committing six errors.

WALKING SUITS — This I have been expecting and a clever idea it is—you who like Bermuda Shorts (let's face it — they're here) will really go for these smart looking suits in Tan or Olive with regular length trousers and a pair of matching, beautifully tailored Bermuda walking shorts—worn with the suit coat and the proper accessories you will make a very natty appearance. Perfect for a weekend of fun when the requirements are a suit for dress and some sporty casual clothes. So, if you are in the market or mood for a new summer outfit—it will repay you handsomely to give this trio a look. DAN TURCHIN—(Commerce Senior) paid me a little visit the other day and he was looking very smooth indeed. I liked the outfit he was wearing a light tan "Palm Beach" suit—brown an tan small figured tie, that matched the band on his dark brown "Milan" straw. While Dan was here he selected himself a new summer suit in the "Panora" weave (also by Palm Beach) and the color scheme is quite interesting—deep brown shot through with black nub effect. He was smart when he chose gold and black jewelry to compliment the tone of this suit.

THE PICCOLINO — At one time was known as a Dance Number (created by Fred Astaire) but times have changed and "The Piccolino" has become a sharp Italian Designed Knit Shirt of the slipover variety with the new square neck—eye catchingly fashioned in stripes—if you want comfort and style—this is it.

I WENT — out of town for the weekend and caps were seen everywhere, from plaids to solids to stripes. Caps give a sport outfit the right casual flair of nonchalance one desires. Try a cap with your sweaters and slacks, sport coats or Ivy league Khaki suits and you will feel as sleek as a colt!

So long for now.

THE KERNEL has received several complaints dealing with UK's Intramural program. Most have been justified. Therefore it's time to raise some stink.

Under the directorship of Bill McCubbin and assistance of Harry Stille the department has lost prestige. Standards necessary for spirited and enthusiastic competition seem to be fading.

Some question has arisen over the methods of selecting or pairing teams for tournaments. The usual and accepted manner is putting all participating teams in one group and drawing their names. This brackets them in an unbiased way. But the IM staff has reported another system. They have grouped teams as they've seen fit. Is this wholly fair?

Another complaint has been made concerning the lackadaisical attitude demonstrated during different sports. Softball, now in tournament play, is a perfect example. First, a five inning game or one-hour limit is too short a time for tourney competition. Secondly, teams aren't given a proper period to warm up. Then there is the condition of the playing field. The infield is nothing but clumps of weeds, grass and dirt. This could, without much effort on I-M's part, be corrected. Playing conditions would be better. So far they haven't budged an inch. Wednesday afternoon The Kernel Sports Staff asked Dr. Don Cash Scaton, head of the Physical Education Department a request that M & O do something about the infield. Maybe they will.

The lighting is a disgrace. But this isn't entirely the fault of I-M. The athletic association has been asked to put lights on the old football practice field. A fine diamond for softball could be developed. Sure, it would cost a little money but the expense would be well worth it. As of now, games played at night on the little cow pasture behind the Student Union are more of a farce than good sports play. And another gripe by many fraternities is the fact that the most of the games aren't being scheduled in the daytime. Dusk and night play takes the cake. One manager for a fraternity softball team said he would ask for either daylight scheduling or none at all if something isn't done to improve the lighting.

All this leads to a final conclusion. If fraternities and independent groups would band together, demand that I-M straighten up a bit and request improvements, then there may be a chance for better athletics on the student side. The way things stand now I-M will sit back, let matters ride until they gallop right out of their past good program.

Journalism School Gives 176 Awards

Dr. Niel Plummer, director of the School of Journalism, has announced that 176 Kentucky High School seniors have won the University of Kentucky's Enoch Grehan and Marguerite McLaughlin awards.

These awards are given for superior records of service in scholastic journalism.

The newspaper award honors the late Prof. Enoch Grehan, founder and head of the University of Kentucky Department of Journalism from 1914 to 1937.

Honored by the yearbook award is Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, one of the first women to teach journalism in the United States. She has been a journalism staff member since 1914.

Santee Seeks Record In Miler Here May 4

Wes Santee, America's greatest miler, will attempt to crack the elusive 4-minute mile barrier in a special "exhibition" mile in connection with the University of Kentucky's annual Spiked Shoe Relays on the night of May 4.

Kentucky Track Coach Don Cash Scaton announced that Santee had confirmed in a telephone conversation his intention of keeping a tentative date made earlier.

The appearance of the American mile champion had been in some doubt since the beginning of a court battle he is waging against the Amateur Athletic Union, which last February slapped a lifetime suspension on him for allegedly accepting excessive expense money.

However, the ex-Kansas cinder ace, who is now a Marine lieutenant, let it be known that he still considers himself an amateur and will participate in the Kentucky meet.

Since Santee became embroiled in the hassle with AAU officials over his amateur standing last spring, collegiate trackmen generally have steered clear of actual competition against him in order to avoid any possible compromise of their own non-professional status.

But some state AAU groups and college leaders have taken the stand that no question is likely to be raised regarding amateurism of collegians competing against Santee unless they later attempt to enter AAU-sponsored or AAU-sanctioned events.

Whether Santee will run alone in a race against time or will have competition for his Kentucky appearance remains an undecided question, Coach Scaton said.

One of the world's fastest humans at the mile distance, Santee has posted a best time of 4:00.5 for the mile which stands as the current American record and is only two and one-half seconds slower than the world standard established by Australia's John Landy.

Santee set his record on April 2, 1955, at the Texas Relays.

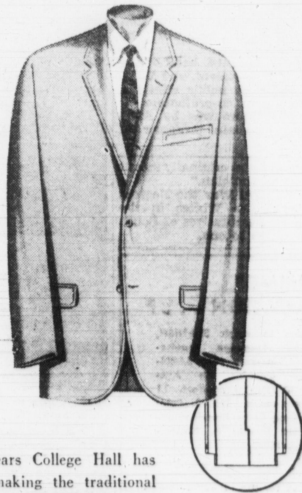

Santee will be the eighth track and field star of national renown to appear in an exhibition role at the Kentucky Spiked Shoe Relays, which are primarily relay races at varying distances for high school performers.

Among previous guest stars were pole vaulter Bob Richards, dashman and hurdler Harrison Dillard and middle distance standout Mal Whitfield.

Film Depicting Campus Life Now Available

A long demanded film on the University is now available in the UK Film Library. The name of the film is "The Golden Key."

The 20 minute film is on life at UK. Its purpose is to present a good example of what college life is like.

The entire production of the movie was done on the campus by the Radio Arts Department in the spring and fall of last year.

Lind Voht, a sophomore majoring in Radio Arts, is the star of the movie. He represents a high school student visiting the UK campus.

While making the film, which lasted off and on for about six months, Lind had to wear the same clothes and hair style so that he would look like he was visiting in just one day.

When warm weather came the radio arts sophomore had to stay out of the sun so that he wouldn't tan during the filming of the picture.

The narrator of the film was Stuart W. Hallock, production supervisor of radio arts. He also helped with the photography.

The art editor was Arch Rainey, art director of the Radio Arts Department. O. Leonard Press, teacher and program supervisor of radio arts, wrote and directed the film as well as helped out with the photography.

Camille H. Halyard, head of the Radio Arts Department, and R. W. Wild, director of public relations, were production co-ordinators.

The music score was by Almo Kiviniemi, associate professor of music.

Math Department Receives $12,000

A $12,000 grant was awarded Tuesday to the UK Department of Mathematics and Astronomy by the Fund for the Advancement of Higher Education, New York City.

The money is to be used for the expansion of an experimental project by the Department of Mathematics and Astronomy toward a more effective utilization of faculty resources.

The Ultimate aim of this project, said Dr. J. C. Eaves, head of the Department, is to determine if new methods of teaching large groups can be developed so that the students will show an increase in learning over those instructed in small units.

Four classes of 100 to 150 students in line with this experiment were conducted by the department in 1955-56. With the addition of the grant, three more classes of this sort will be added in the coming school year, said Dr. Eaves.
