Rupp's Cats Stalk Louisville Cardinals In First Contest

Kentucky's Wildcats stretched their claws and bared their fangs to fight and their way to the championship of the NCAA and a bid for the Olympic tryouts beginning tomorrow.

The Cats scratched all who stood in their way, to prove themselves one of the best collegiate basketball teams in the country.

In their 58-42 defeat of Baylor University in the NCAA finals Tuesday night in New York, the boys showed real style. But the question now is, can style win the Olympic Trials over experience?

Trials Start Tomorrow

The American Olympic Basketball, tournament, which begins tomorrow, will last through Wednesday and will pit Kentucky against the best the nation has to offer.

The primary purpose of the trials is to select a basketball team to represent the United States in the Fourteenth Olympic, to be held in London, from July 29 to August 14, 1948.

Fourteen men will comprise the American squad, seven from the independent teams and seven from the "collegiate" teams. The exact method of selection still isn't final but will be decided at a meeting of the Olympic committee in New York.

One of the plans that seems to have wide support however, provides for a unit system of five players from the winning team in each division with the balance coming from the runner-ups.

A second suggestion has been to select seven players from the winning teams in each division. The coach of the team winning the most will automatically become the chief selector for the U. S.

Both systems have their merits. The first allows for a wider range of players to be selected. The second handicaps those boys who have won playing together constantly.

The latter allows for smoother teamwork and experienced team play, but it might overlook a player who would do the American team a lot of good.

Negro Denied Admission To University

A Louisville Negro has been refused permission to enter the University because state laws forbid the white and colored races attending school together.

Dr. Maurice P. Seay, dean and registrar of the University, said that he is writing to Lyman Johnson, Louisville Negro school teacher, telling him "the policy of the U. of C. is not to admit Negroes and this policy is in accordance with the Kentucky constitution and statutes."

Johnson's application asked admission to the graduate school to study history in the Summer Session, Dean Seay said. He added that applications for future terms have not been processed.

Bar Examination Bill Dies In Assembly

Two bills of interest to University students died with the adjournment of the Kentucky General Assembly last week.

The proposal to eliminate bar examinations as a pre-requisite to practice of law in the state failed to come out of the Senate after having passed the House. University law students had lobbied for the bill, which was proposed by Dean Alvin Evans.

The other bill, proposing a $600 bonus to Kentucky veterans, also died in the Senate.

Presentation of the Kentuckian beauty queen, a "live portrait" presentation of her royal court, and the selection of a "most popular man" will highlight a dance April 24 sponsored by Omicron Kappa Kappa, junior and senior men's honor and leadership society.

Op. Earle C. Clements has enthusiastically agreed to present the beauty queen at the affair, according to George Barker, ODK president.

Each fraternity will submit one candidate and the Independent organization will submit five candidates for the "most popular man" title. The winner will be chosen by the students attending the dance.

Tickets for the event will be on sale Monday through fraternities. The organization selling the most tickets will receive a sport coat from a prize from Barney Miller's.

Winner of the "most popular man" title will receive a sport coat from the University. Names and pictures of candidates will be published in next week's Kernel.

What's Marshall Plan All About?

When wondering what the Marshall Plan is all about? Here's the facts and figures as compiled by the United Press Washington staff.

Official name—European Recovery Program (ERP).

Where did it start?—Secretary of State George C. Marshall, in a speech at Harvard University on June 5, 1947, suggested that the United States could help Europe recover if Europe itself would formulate a program and promise a maximum campaign of co-operative self help.

What nations in Europe are participating?—Great Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Iceland, Italy, Switzerland, Portugal, Greece, Turkey, Austria, plus the merged Anglo-American zone of Germany and the French zone of Germany. Sixteen nations plus eastern Germany.

Which countries refused to participate?—Soviet Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Rumania and Finland. Which European country was not invited?—France Spain.

How did ERP get started?—After Marshall's speech, the 16 nations met in Paris. They agreed upon a co-operative program of self-help and agreed to establish a fund which would need from the United States. Since then it has been up to the United States to decide what it will do.

Chief Developments

Following are the chief developments in the Marshall calls the most important foreign policy step in American history.

1. Marshall said his suggestion at Harvard on June 5, 1947.

2. British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault took the initiative and invited Soviet Foreign Minister Viacheslav M. Molotov to Paris to consider the American offer.

3. Bevin and Bidault decided to go ahead without Russia. They invited all European countries except Spain to a conference. All except

Atomic Energy Exhibit Will Be Put On Display In Library Next Week

In an exhibit on atomic energy, two of the "most important" and "most spectacular" instruments used in atomic research will be demonstrated Monday and Tuesday in University library's lower lobby.

Sponsored by the library and the Lexington League of Women Voters, in cooperation with the University Physics Shop, the demonstration of the Geiger Counter and the Wilson Cloud Chamber will form the most unique display ever presented in the library, according to Miss Margaret King, University librarian.

The Wilson Cloud Chamber, a duplicate of the one built by the University Physics Shop for the National Atomic energy exhibit now touring the country, is used to "see" atomic events. Never before demonstrated in Kentucky, the chamber was made possible by the discovery of C.P.R. Wilson, of England, who found that the path of an atomic particle through very moist air becomes visible because moisture condenses along the path. Periodic mild explosions expanding the air in the proper conditions and during each expansion alpha rays tracks from a nucleus as a glow. These alpha particles, coming from the nucleus of radium atoms, give evidence of atomic characteristics.

The Geiger Counter, used to "count" atomic energy, is a hollow tube with an insulated wire through its center. An atomic particle passing through the tube initiates a spark which appears as a glow on a flash bulb on the viewing panel.

The two-day demonstration is open to the public.

6698 Register For Record Spring High

A new spring quarter record total of 6,698 students began their term class at the University Wednesday after an undetermined number of late registrants swelled the enrollment figures.

A two-day period of registration and classification activities closed Tuesday afternoon, but late arrivals will be allowed to enter classes any time prior to the deadline tomorrow.

Miss Maple Moore, assistant registrar, said:

The current registration total, which does not include the enrollment of the College of Pharmacy in Louisville, surpasses the highest previous enrollment for a similar period of 6,374, established for the spring quarter last year. Late registration is expected to boost the total somewhat higher, but UK administrators were uncertain how many additional students could be accepted.

Miss Moore had predicted previous to the opening of registration that the spring quarter total would not coincide with that of the other colleges of the University since the school operates on a semester basis. Although fewer students were enrolled this quarter than during the Fall and Winter quarters, the registration process seemed to be more crowded, especially in the gymnasium where students rushed frantically trying to enroll in classes.

One student, Bertha Gifford, a junior in the Arts and Sciences College, reported that she had enrolled this quarter than during the Fall and Winter quarters, the registration process seemed to be more crowded, especially in the gymnasium where students rushed frantically trying to enroll in classes.

Two Win Recognition In Annual Contest

Two University seniors achieved honorable mention in the first annual nation-wide scholarship competition for three-year graduate fellowships conducted by a national beverage manufacturing company. It was announced Thursday by the organization's scholarship board.

Harold E. Paac, Lexington philosophy major, and William A. Pooms, Jr., Louisville senior in the College of Commerce, were cited by the national committee of nationally-prominent educators as "highly superior and promising students."

Among the top three or four per cent of the able group of applicants.

Alpha Gamma Rho Places First In Frat Scholarship

Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity placed first among the 18 campus Greek letter social organizations in the annual national frat scholarship contest. The fraternity achieved an average point standing of 173. It was second in the national Alpha Epsilon AGR's topped all other fraternities, having made a 13 standard deviation in the frat scholarship contest.

Based on the study of scholastic achievement on a total of 1,279 pledges and active members in campus fraternities, the Dean's office reported that the all-fraternity average was 128. The Registrar's office said the all-men's average for the same period approximated 117.

Negro Applies, Is Refused

Lynan Johnson, a Negro school teacher from Louisville, has been refused permission to enter the University because state laws forbid whites and Negroes attending schools together.

If the matter is taken to court there will be no doubt about the outcome. The Supreme Court of the United States has twice decided that "failure to afford educational advantages within the state for all citizens, regardless of race or color, constitutes discrimination in violation of the constitution."

In the Oklahoma and Missouri cases, the Supreme Court held that a state university must admit Negroes desiring graduate, professional, or technical education, or provide equal facilities for them.

Lynan Johnson's case, if taken to court, will result in either his admission to the University of Kentucky or will pave the way for regional institutions to provide Negroes with equal educational opportunities.

Letters To The Editor

10 Suri Ram Road
Delhi, India
17 February 1948
The Kentucky University
U.S.A.

Dear Friends,
We were informed by Miss Elizabeth Pedlar, our Field Secretary for South East Asia, that our Delhi Refugee Students relief center has been adopted by you. I take this opportunity to convey to you, my own and that of other students' and professors, gratitude and appreciation for this gesture of goodwill and sympathy on your part.

Since we migrated from West Punjab to Delhi we had to face untold suffering and hardships. We had lost our homes, our schools and colleges, our books and friends and in many cases, even our parents, during the disturbances. When we came to India, our suffering did not come to an end, for our newly born national government was faced with an unprecedented situation and although they were doing their best, the conditions were such that no immediate relief could be secured.

In these terrible conditions the only agency we found that had exclusively concerned itself with organizing relief for students as such, was the International Student Service.

Approaching the problem in a constructive manner, the ISS made and is still making great efforts in speeding up the educational rehabilitation. The ISS alone collected data and statistics about refugee students; the ISS was the first to organize schools for refugee students, run by the university students; even before the government introduced their scheme for granting loans to refugee students, in a small way.

I would like you to know, how proud we are of ISS and the work it is doing. Mahatma Gandhi, the father of our Nation, had always told the students to devote themselves to constructive work. The ISS to us, seems an organization working in the spirit in which Gandhi ji wanted us to work. We would like the message of ISS, the message of constructive cooperation among students, to be spread all over India, for that is the message which our country needs today; and perhaps by this we shall be doing a little of our part in paying homage to our "Bapu."

I am sure all refugee students who are here feel the same as I do. All of us are very grateful to you for your active sympathy. I would like you to convey to all students you feel free to talk and let them know about your ideas. All you overclassmen and new students, especially, don't feel that you are too new to really know much about campus life here. The your candidates and representatives. That is what student government is for!

Frank Maturo

To Engineering Students:
At the request of many of my friends, I am announcing my candidacy as an Upperclass Representative to the SGA.

I am a non-affiliated candidate with no party connections. I have, however, read the program of the All-Campus Party and fully endorse its purposes and projects.

I believe that one of the initiators of the All-Campus party I am obligated to answer the letter of "Interested Student" He apparently feels that the All-Campus party is only another name for the same kind of party we have seen in the past.

The basic object behind the founding of the new party was to try to transcend social affiliation, and to choose candidates who were capable and sincere in wanting to make SGA of and for the students.

I myself arranged for more than 100 letters to be typed and sent out to students who had been highly recommended by both faculty and other students. They were chosen on sincerity and ability and on no other basis.

minority of socially affiliated students. At this meeting they were acquainted with the objectives and purposes of the new party. The meeting adjourned with the wish that they would all return and take part in the party. An invitation to the open meeting on the following week was printed in the Kernel.

However, the following week, only a very few socially affiliated students were present in a group of more than 120 students. The blame for their failure to nominate candidates lies in their own lack of interest.

I have talked to many sincerely interested members of sororities and fraternities. They told me that they thought we had the only valid basis for selecting SGA candidates, but they felt that as members of these societies and fraternities that they were obligated to remain in their own party.

That is why I feel and believe that the majority of students will see and understand that by taking the initiative, the All-Campus party is opening the way to much better SGA.

Sincerely,
Ellis Puster

Quinn To Discuss Inactive Duty Pay

Information on inactive duty pay, now available for certain reserve groups, will be presented by Lt. Col. James T. Quinn, head of the local Organized Reserve Corps at a meeting of the Reserve Officers' Association Monday.

At the meeting, to be held at 7:30 p.m. in Room 302 of the Armory, a combat film will be shown and officers will be elected.

Fashion Frolics

With spring here and Easter only a few days away, the old question "what am I going to wear?" comes to one's mind. By now you have probably thought the basic part of your Easter outfit and are looking for accessories. If your program is shoes or handbags, it can be easily solved at Baynham's or Brown's Booters.

At BAYNHAM'S you can find the high heel Palazzo sling pump with a 1 1/2 inch platform sole. A frost low pigged or white decorates the front of the shoe. They come in red, green, brown, dark blue and black patent leather. These shoes of baby calf are just the thing to complete your Easter outfit.

The nymph sling pump by Naturalizer can be new or BROWN'S BOTEERIE. "The shoe with the beautiful fall" comes in red or green color. These dressy, high heel shoes will high-light your new suit or dress.

If you have been losing your jewelry or have a hard time keeping all of it together, PHOENIX LUGGAGE SHOP has the perfect answer - a jewel box. The box of genuine leather has a neat tray which automatically raises as you open the lid. It has a lock and key and is lined with velvet. For only $3.95, this handsome jewel box can be yours. Initially will be monogrammed free!

MARTINS has received a shipment of white sports jackets. They are in basket weaver, have pearl buttons, and a pocket spring. The jacket comes either with or without the collar. Your spring pastels will look lovely with a white jacket.

Ruffled petticoats appear to be very popular this year. MEYERS has something new and different, a petticoat and blouse combination of attached tulle which can also be worn as a summer dress. The very feminine blouse and petticoat are trimmed in shiny white lace. They come in delicate pink, blue, and white. The petticoat sells for $7.95 and the accompanying blouse for $9.95.

Speaking of clothes which are different, MITCHELL BAKER SMITH'S has some tailored shirts with four rows of woven rubber straps of the waist to keep one's blouse from pulling out of the skirt. The skirts have a narrow belt of tign suede and a wide pleat in the front. The look is straight. These reasonably priced skirts can be had in black, green, beige, or grey.

Many of our so-called modern styles seem to be repetitions of the clothes worn on grandpa's days or grandpa's grandpa's. The trend in many dress, formal, and coat styles take us back several decades. The victorian collar and pockets of which we speak so many times this spring are typical of the early 1900's.

Approximately 25 scholarships of varying amounts are available for Kentucky high school graduates qualified to enter the University next Fall as freshmen in either agriculture or home economics. L. J. Horlacher, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics announced.

The scholarships will be financed through three grants to the college totaling $8,000 and will carry stipends varying from $150 to $500 for the college year.

Open to young farm men and women of Kentucky who plan to devote their careers to the furtherance of Kentucky agriculture and home economics, the scholarship recipients will be selected by a committee from applicants who have filed their qualifications with the office of the dean of the college not later than July 1.

New Gadget Saves Steps

The traditional "leg man" training of journalists is being reversed at the University and student reporters are "covering" news events without leaving their classrooms.

Although professors of the Journalism Department affirm their faith in the time-honored newspaper tradition of having beginning reporters get the news by making the rounds of various potential sources of information, the department has just purchased a gadget which saves the time such a practice would consume.

Various types of news events, such as interviews and speeches, are recorded on a quarter-inch-wide magnetic sound recording tape and re-played to classes in reporting of public affairs and radio news writing through the use of a portable recorder. Valuable time is saved, and students are given an opportunity to cover certain types of stories and to learn techniques nearly as good as first-hand coverage, Dr. Niel Plummer, head of the department said.

The apparatus is similar to many types of home recorders now on the market and to wire recorders used to a great extent by the news departments of larger newspapers and radio stations at the present time. It operates on the principle of converting voice and other sounds into a magnetic pattern on a narrow cellulose tape, coated on one side with a metallic substance that absorbs the impulses. Play back may be made immediately by simply

Language Conference To Meet On Campus

The University will sponsor a three-day national Foreign Language Conference on April 22-24, it was announced by Dr. Joseph W. D. Skiles, head of the Department of Ancient Languages and director of the conference.

Arrangements for the Conference are being made by a local committee composed of all teachers of foreign languages at the University. Associate directors of the conference will be Dr. Robert Ryland, head of the Department of Romance Languages, and O. E. Bigge, head of the Department of German Language and Literature.

The annual lecture by the University's "Distinguished Professor of the Year" in the College of Arts and Sciences will be presented in connection with the conference. Dr. William S. Webb, veteran head of the University of Kentucky's Physics and Anthropology departments and professor of Archaeology, will address an open meeting of the conference on the subject, "The Prehistory of Kentucky."

WSSF To Cooperate In Food Distribution

CARE packages may be sent to students abroad through the World Student Service Fund, Charles Boggs, chairman of the WSSF Publicity Committee announced. CARE and WSSF cooperate in the distribution of food packages to individual students abroad, and can guarantee that each donation sent to the WSSF and earmarked for CARE will benefit a needy student, Boggs said.

A donation sent to CARE, without being routed through the WSSF, or without a specified receiver, does not necessarily go to student. Funds earmarked for CARE and routed through the WSSF are not considered part of WSSF funds, and no administrative or overhead charge is made for this service.

Running the tape through the machine which converts the pattern back into sound. Reels up to 1225 feet, recording 30 minutes of normal speech, can be used by the machine. The tape may be broken at any point and spliced together again in order to edit the recording and may be used over again by threading it through another "head" which strips off the former pattern.

Milisen To Lecture In Speech Courses Here This Summer

The University will offer two courses on speech defects and their correction during the summer session with a nationally-known clinical speech specialist as guest lecturer. It was announced by Dr. Frank A. Patsch, head of the Department of Psychology.

The appointment of Dr. Robert Milisen, director of the speech and hearing clinic at Indiana University has been approved by the UK board of trustees.

The program will be financed through a contribution of $400 by the Lexington Council of Jewish Women and the University Department of Psychology. It is designed to be of special interest to teachers of the state and students of clinical psychology.

A course entitled "Speech Correction—A Survey" will deal with the nature, causes and treatment of major disorders of speech. In addition some reference will be made to such organic disabilities as deaf, palate, deafness, infantile paralysis in so far as they affect speech.

The second subject to be offered, "Stuttering and its Correction," will be exclusively concerned with the speech defect of stuttering and will provide material on the treatment of the disorder from the point of view of mental hygiene.

Supervised clinical work will be offered students who show an aptitude for it and practical cases will be demonstrated in class. The Jewish Women's Council will cooperate in assigning cases.

Social Center Or Study Hall, What's The UK Library For?

By Dottie Miller

"Some lady wants a Country Gentlemen overnight," said a clerk to the librarian.

This is just one of the many strange things heard at the library. It happened that a woman telephoned and asked if she might borrow an old issue of the magazine for one night. The lad who answered the phone was slightly confused.

The librarians are amazed at the "knowledge" of some of the students especially that of one boy who wanted a copy of "Withering Heights" by "Jane Eyre" and the would be poet who asked for "Leave the Grass" meaning Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass."

One of the debatable questions concerning this building is whether or not it is becoming a place for social get-togethers rather than a place for study. One boy expressed his opinion by saying that the majority of the students are talking to their dates or girl friends. Another said lovers go there to court. Now do they? He backed his statement by saying that even the lights in the reserve room were turned out for a few minutes Wednesday.

Several students seem to have taken advantage of the situation.

There are differences of opinion to why the library is noisy.

Donovan, Sees Old Friends In Germany

President H. L. Donovan, now touring Germany to survey the operation of German Universities for the U. S. Office of Military Government, has met two former University professors and several other educator-friends recently, Mrs. Donovan said.

The two former University professors were Dr. Willem vander Wall, director of the Carnegie Project on special research for two years, and the former Esther Cole, University professor of several years ago.

Other acquaintances met by Dr. Donovan included Dr. Thomas Alexander, formerly with Peabody College, the parents of Mrs. Bart Peak, Jr., and two German professors the president had known before the war. "All of these friends have been very gracious and lovely to him," Mrs. Donovan said.

Dr. Donovan's main occupation at present is gathering information on the educational situation in various towns which he has visited, according to Mrs. Donovan. Having toured Berlin's three military-controlled sections, the president mentioned in his letters to Mrs. Donovan the widespread "deprivation" of that city, but pronounced American living conditions there "comfortable."

Following the custom of present-day European travelers, the president took packages of cigarettes, now much in demand, on the trip for use as tips, it was reported.

After spending the past week touring the Bavarian Alps, Dr. Donovan is this week in Stuttgart, Mrs. Donovan said.

New Army Program To Aid Enlisted Men

A staff officer representing the Second Army commanding general will visit the Military Service department headquarters at an early date to interview applicants for a newly-organized career guidance program, Col. G. T. MacKenzie, head of the department, announced.

The career guidance program is designed to allow an enlisted man in the Regular Army to make the service a career and to advance at regular intervals to an ultimate grade of senior warrant officer, he explained.

Agent: "Why do you want fire insurance on your husband? That won't be any help when your husband passes away."

Study Book Offered Free by Publishers
The Editorial Staff of Funk & Wagnalls Company, publishers of the New College Standard Dictionary, has prepared a Dictionary Study Book to be sent free upon request to teachers, students, or anyone interested in words. The address is 133 East 24th Street, New York, N. Y.

Written in the belief that words are the most important tools man has for his daily life, the booklet covers such subjects as pronunciation, definitions, etymology, history, word-building, grammar, and slang. In an original and interesting way, each subject is presented in two-page lesson form for convenient classroom use.

In a message to students and teachers, the book refers to the testimony of college English professors that not one freshman in 100 entering the colleges and universities in this country today knows the alphabet. The book, therefore, begins with the A-B-C's, and continues in an analysis and study of words designed to stimulate interest and further thought on the part of the reader.

"The thing for you to do," said the doc to the man with frazzled nerves, "is to stop thinking about yourself and busy yourself in your work."

"God," returned the patient, "and me a concrete mixer."

Experimental research results in better Vitamin D source for poultry industry

Fifteen years of work by Du Pont chemists, biochemists, physicists, and engineers behind development of "DELSTEROL"

In 1922, it was shown that vitamin D controls the utilization of calcium and phosphorus in the body, especially in the bones of growing animals. This led to the discovery that leg weakness in chicks, poor production, low hatchability of eggs, and other disturbances were caused by a deficiency of this vitamin.

that year, Du Pont research men—who had been studying the chemistry and biochemistry of vitamin D for almost four years—announced that the provitamin in animal cholesterol was not ergosterol. They showed that the activated provitamin in cholesterol gave a vitamin D much more effective for chicks than that of irradiated ergosterol. This fact was based on many comparative assays of irradiated cholesterol, irradiated ergosterol, and irradiated mixtures of these substances on rats and chicks.

carried this forward by devising a successful commercial process for making 7-dehydrocholesterol and irradiating it to vitamin D₂. Several forms of vitamin D are now manufactured by Du Pont, ranging from oil and dry powder concentrates—used by the poultry trade under the trademark "Delsterol"—to vitamin D₃ crystals of the highest purity.

Today's chickens are healthier, and the average annual egg yield over the last eight years has increased from 134 to 159 per bird. To a considerable degree, this is a result of the fifteen years of research devoted by Du Pont scientists to the development of "Delsterol" "D₂"-activated animal sterol.

Questions College Men ask about working with Du Pont

What are the opportunities in sales?

Separate sales staffs are maintained by each of Du Pont's ten manufacturing departments. Training in chemistry or chemical engineering is a prerequisite for some sales positions, which may be in one of three fields: technical sales, sales development, or direct selling. New employees usually acquire technical background by first working in a control laboratory or in production. All-American Ralph Beard Named "Player Of Year"

Kentucky's impressive junior basketball player, Ralph Beard, was named for the second consecutive time as the college basketball player of the year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches in a poll conducted annually by True Magazine.

Beard, again awarded the most valuable player trophy, was placed on the first team in addition to "Easy Ed" Macaulay of St. Louis U., Kevin O'Shea of Notre Dame, Yale's Tony Lavell and Arnold Ferrin of Utah.

The five-foot, ten-inch junior from Louisville has scored a total of 418 points for the Wildcats this season and was recently named as No. 1 player of the country in a nationwide poll of some 44,000 sports reporters from a field of 178 basketball stars. In this poll, which was conducted by Sports Week, Rapid Ralph garnered a total of 38,784 votes, a little over 2,600 more than Reliable Wah Jones, above, continued his outstanding play in the NCAA meet and is a strong candidate for All American honors this season. Wah scored 42 points in the three tournament games, while limiting his opponents to 13 markers.

Baseball Practice Starts For 16 Game Schedule

By Kent Hollingsworth

Alumni Gymnasium looked like a popcorn stand yesterday, as hot baseball team aspirants whizzed baseballs all over the place on the first day of practice.

There were the usual first day quotes: "Watch this curve," "This is my own knuckle ball," "Here's mud in your eye," "Am I throwing too hard for you?" "I've got a new pitch this year. Fast ball."

Coach Moseley shook his head. With the first game two weeks of such last year first stringers as Ralph Beard, Kenny Rollins, John Stough, Walt Ayr, and Cliff Barker aren't due back from New York for another week.

Bob Hatchett, a two-game winner last year, has been limbering up his arm for a week, prior to official practice. Other lettermen out early were John Crowwate, Gerry Buterman, Jay Cummins, and J. Laudman.

Ralph Beard, shown above, was once again named "Basketball Player of the Year" by the National Coaches Association. Beard was nominated last year for the same honor. The Louisville led scored 40 points in the NCAA tourney while holding his opponents to only 12 tallies.

Tennis Team Courtless As Opener Draws Near

By Kent Hollingsworth

Like King Michael of Rumania, the courtless tennis team of Kentucky wanders around the countryside in search of a court; where they may exercise their powers.

As the asphalt tennis courts are still under construction, and clay courts almost entirely devoted to tennis classes and intramurals, the nine squad members have had to content with banging balls against the walls in the women's gymnasium at odd times.

Starting this week, the team members that have two consecutive vacant hours in the morning will rush out to Woodland Park every day and squeeze in a hurried noon's practice on the all-weather courts there.

Six lettermen are on the nine squad: Danny Dickerson, number one man last year; Tommy Asbury, number two man last year and vastly improved; Juan Ballela, Bob Collins, Elmer Reusch, and Omar Fatum. New men are: Dick Meadows, Paul King, and Dennis Hines.

On the third team in the recent poll of the basketball coaches was Wah Jones, UK's ace forward, Dike Erdleman (Illinois), Vern Gardner (Utah), Slater Martin (Texas), and George Kalfan (Holy Cross). Beard is the only one repeated from last year on the team's first five.

Third Time Lucky For Cats

Tucky's third try for the NCAA national championship proved good last Tuesday night when they beat the Baylor Bears in the finals. In two previous NCAA tries, the UK Cats failed to survive the second round.

The Big Bear's first attempt for the crown was in 1942. After trimming Illinois' famed "White Kids" 66-44, in the opening

Cummins Leaves UK; Joins MSC Spartans

Al Cummins, speedy sophomore guard from Brookville, departed last Tuesday to enroll in Michigan State College. The little basketballer saw action in 17 games this season, scored 13 field goals and six free throws for a total of 32 points. In his freshman year Cummins scored 27 markers in 20 contests. He was used mostly as a sub for Ralph Beard for the Wildcats this season.

UK Sets New Record

The "Cainlucky" Cats broke another cage record. In their three NCAA tournament games, the Bluegrass basketballers poured through a total of 194 points to smash the former mark of 179 tallies set by the Oklahomas A & M Cowpokes in 1945.

By Tom Diskin

Kentucky's Coach Adolph Rupp returned from his recent trip to New York City after reading an Associated Press dispatch on New York's other day, we can hardly blame him. For on March 21, an AP dispatch with a New York City dateline read as follows: "Normally the AAU winner would be automatically installed the favorite to win the Trials. But this year, the mighty Wildcats of Kentucky are expected to be a solid choice."

Now it was easy to see, reading between the lines of the writings of the Kentucky games in the NCAA tourney, that the New York City sportswriters were impressed by the Big Blue team from Lexington, but it rank UK over such a powerhouse as Phillips 66 Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla.

Doubtless the Kentucky cage cats have a good chance to win the Trials, but it definitely places the squad at a disadvantage to be nominated as "the team to beat."

Let's look at this Phillips 66 aggression. During the past season, they have played a total of 66 games, winning all but three. Two of their losses were inflicted by the Oakland Bitters. The Bartlesville Oilers, crown has won the AAU six years in a row and in 1938 sent half a dozen of their players to the Olympics.

The biggest scoring threat against the Wildcats—should they meet—will be seven-footers Bob Kurland, former Oklahoma A & M great. While playing with the Aggies, the blond-headed pivotman racked up 33 points in his freshman year; 444 points as a sophomore; 529 as a junior; and 684 markers in his senior season—for a nice, little total of 1690 points scored in his 118 contests, an average of 14.4 for his college career. As a senior, Kurland's average per game was 20.2 points.

Aiding Kurland is Gerald Tucker.

Work-And-Tour Summer Projects Open To Students

You can go to Europe this summer—with student groups that will tour the continent from tiny towns to important cultural centers—on budgets as low as seven dollars a day, including travel expenses.

That's the sum of an article in Varsity magazine which reports that almost two dozen organizations are now enrolling American students for work-and-tour summer projects.

Typical of these is the American Youth Hostels, which sent more than 225 young men and women across the Atlantic in 1947, and expects to double that number in '48. AYH tours are like tours—rides that cover as much as a thousand miles in as many as five countries.

They are two-part affairs: for one month, the hostellers do reconstruction work, side by side with student tourists from European countries. For the second month, they hit the back-roads of Europe, learning about the countries they visit from the inside out.

The jobs done are far from back-breaking. They include painting, plastering, gardening, and clearing rubble . . . and they are done with ease by campus groups.

Expenses for a trip of this sort are rock-bottom. One for 10, about $300 covers all travel on the continent, food, and lodging. A second fee, ranging from $17 for men to $17 for girls—paid for one-way transportation to Europe by student vessel last year—and will probably do so again this year.

Foremost among organizations doing student tour work are religious organizations, which send interracial, non-sectarian groups to do full-scale rehabilitation in war-battered Europe.

The American Friends Service Committee, for example, sent young men and women to Finland, Italy, Belgium, Holland, and France. These students participated in projects of real value, constructing day nursery, a hospital, and a laundry.

Big Welcome Home Planned By SuKy For Wildcat Cagers

When the winning Wildcats return home, they will be given one of the most enthusiastic welcomes ever accorded a UK athletic team. Since the Olympic finals are Wednesday night, Kentucky's Champion Cats will probably arrive in Lexington on Friday or Saturday, after a day or so of being feasted and feted in Gotham.

A SuKy committee is planning a welcome program to be held at the Union station. The band and cheerleaders will be there to spark the program during which Coach Adolph Rupp will introduce members of the squad.

The team is expected to arrive about 8 o'clock in the morning. The early arrival hour caused the SuKy to cancel plans for a parade from the station to the gymnasium where the ceremony was originally scheduled.

Gov. Earle C. Clements, a former University football player, and Mayor Tom Mooney will be asked to take part in the victory celebration.

Other victory parties are being planned for the Kentucky team. On April 10, the cagers will be guests of the Alumni Association at the annual banquet for the team. Later this spring, SuKy plans a big picnic honoring the new NCAA basketball champs along with UK's football players, winners of the Great Lakes Bowl game played in Cleveland.

A Dozen Players Made Trip Players making the New York trip were Wah Wah Jones, Ralph Beard, Alex Groza, Ken Rollins, Cliff Barker, Dale Harnsfield, Jim Linc, Joe Holland, John Stough, Jim Jordan, Roger Day and Garland Towers.

Head Coach Adolph Rupp, Assistant Coach Harry Lancaster, Trainer Bud Berger, Sports Publicist Roy Stedman, Team Manager Hummy Yesslin, Scout Buddy Parker and Statistician George Kukulj accompanied the squad to the big town for the meet.

Leading the Cards are Dec Compton, a former Wildcat player, Jack Coleman, Kenny Reeves, Johnny Knopf, and the two Combs brothers.

With huge Alex Groza out of the UK lineup, the Falls City cagers will have a big advantage over the other squads. The Cats have played this season. Unless the unexpected happens, Groza will miss his first game since the 1947-48 campaign for the Lexington Lynx. Either Wah Wah Jones or Joe Holland will take over the pivot position, if Groza is still sidelined come game time.

Other groups, like the Unitarian Service Committee and the Congressional Christian Service Committee, did parallel jobs in Europe. For the students who took part in these missions, expenses averaged from $500 to $600 for the summer. In all cases, they combined work with frequent tours.

Cheerleaders Join Wildcats For Olympics

Four of UK's cheerleaders will leave this afternoon at 4:30 p.m. on the George Washington train bound for New York City and the Olympic Trials, which gets underway on Saturday. The quartet will be on hand Saturday night when the Wildcats meet Louisville to lead the cheers for Kentucky in this and any other games in which Kentucky will play in the meet at Madison Square Garden.

The four making the trip are Janice Stille, Mary Ann McQuaid, Topper Davis and Ben Jackson.

During the NCAA tourney, UK's Joe Kilroy gave the Gotham crowd quite a bang when he led the yelling for 'O' Kating dressed as a "typical" Kentucky hillbilly. He wore no shoes, carried a "cawn likker" jug in one hand and was clad in an old plaid shirt and blue denim pants.

Another big treat the New Yorkers got Tuesday night was seeing Wildcat's Ken Rollins and Jim Linc wearing the blue shirts spelled "KENTUCKY".

UK Track Team Leaves For Relays

Eight members of the UK track team will leave early this afternoon for Lafayette, Indiana, where they will participate in the indoor Purdue Relays Saturday.

Making the trip will be Dorcy Phelps, Ralph Gentlo, Dennis Rice, Johnny Methaus, Tony Dallas, Kirschner, Dick Craven and Clayton Cruise. Phelps, Methaus and Gentlo will all compete in the 60-yard dash. On the 440-yard squad will be Dallas, Methaus, Phelps and Kirschner.

On April 4, the freshman meet will be held here, while five days later the varsity will make their inaugural appearance of the season in a track meet against Marshall College of Huntington, W. Va.

The UK endermen are entered in the Penn Relays to be held April 25 in Philadelphia.

Miami University Secures New Coach

The University of Miami, Florida, secured a new football coach this week when Andy Gustafson signed a contract, succeeding Jack Harding. The Kentucky Wildcat gridder will play Miami on November 23, down in the Sunshine State.

Gustafson, who formerly played football at the University of Pittsburgh, comes to the University of Miami from the U. S. Military Academy, where he was employed as a backfield coach of the Army maulers.

The new mentor also spent several years coaching at Dartmouth University.

Groza Chosen As Tourney's "Most Valuable Player"

Kentucky's 79-inch center, Alex Groza, hit his peak in the 1947-48 basketball season in the NCAA tournament and as a result the 220-pound All-American was named the Most Valuable Player of the meet's last weekday night, after UK had clipped Baylor for the title.

The towering Groza had himself a field day, both offensively and defensively. In the three games that he participated in for the Blue and White of Kentucky.

In the opener, "The Beak," as he is called by his teammates, scored 17 points, while holding West-Budko, claimed by New York writers as "the greatest point-maker Columbia has ever had," to 17 markers. In 22 previous games, Budko had scored a total of 255 tallies.

Friend (consoling), "Never mind, old fellow. You'll forget all about her in a few months and be happy again." "Jilled." "Oh no! I won't. I've bought her too many things on the installment plan."

Sweet young thing: "It's shameful the way you start making passes at me after a half dozen drinks." Student: "What's shameful about that?" "Wasting five drinks."

Wildcat Scoring

First 23 games	NCAA	Total
Groza	385	54	439
Beard	278	40	418
Jones	269	42	312
Hollins	275	19	294

In the all-important clash with powerful Holy Cross, All-American Alex went to town and dropped in 23 points in addition to playing a stellar defensive game, especially Lloyd, a sophomore in the commerce college, copped the heavyweight division championship while Pulliam captured the State featherweight crown.
